

The HOWE & STETSON CO.

We're Selling Miles of NEW LACES.

With the amount of laces we're selling every day, we could put a beautiful fringe around the New Haven Green, about three rows deep. And we could change the trimming everyday. That means a great quantity of laces; but we're selling a great quantity—selling them because New Haven folks have learned that we are the Lace Headquarters of this city.

All Lace Records Are Going "Kerchunk".

We're breaking them continually. Every day we show a new record figure. Shows that we have lace prestige. And we have. We deserve it. We buy nothing haphazard. We're particularly particular about laces, and choose with all the discrimination and insight at our command. We carefully study the lace situations with the best experts in the land; and we profit by their valuable experience. So when we say a certain lace is "IT", you may depend upon it. We're now showing and selling the laces that are "IT". The following items indicate three such laces, and three others that are especially "IT" because they're greatly reduced in prices as Souvenir Spring Lace Bargains.

Three Examples of Howe & Stetson Lace Values:

Table with 3 columns: Lace Type (All-overs, Net, Venice, Baby Irish, French Irish, Japanese embroidery, batiste in figures and Normandy), Price Range (50c to $6 a Yd.), and Description (A large assortment of very handsome Dress Nets, in sprig, ring and polka dot effects. Colors are white, ecru and black. Double widths. Prices range from 75c to $2.25 Yd.).

Three Special Lots of Laces at Special Prices:

Table with 3 columns: Lot Description (An assortment of French, round Mesh and fancy, German and English Torchons, in Edgings and Insertions; also Point de Paris and Point d'Esprit), Price (Worth 12c to 25c Yd. Now 10c a Yd.), and Lot Description (Another big lot of laces in all widths and styles, including French, Round Mesh and Fancy Vals. There are also some Linen and Cotton Torchon Edgings in this lot. These are Worth 7c to 12 1/2c yd. Now 5c a Yd.).

no disposition to force unpleasant issues, nor to strain the cordial relations between the races here in this city, but we cannot compromise our manhood. To you who have never felt the humiliation of proscription, it may seem that we are laying undue emphasis on an insignificant matter; your rights are seldom violated; you are not sensitive about them. If you do not appreciate our point of view, it is because you lack our experience. It is becoming clearer every day that colored men, even here in New England, have got to begin to be sensitive about their rights; indeed, they must begin to be insistent in their demand that their rights be not violated. Therefore, when you adopt as the policy of the central association the very principles we are fighting, you necessarily make any further affiliation with you impossible.

In other words, the Goffe street Branch Y. M. C. A., by vote of the board of managers and its members, and with the unqualified approval of the best colored people of this city, has decided to discontinue its relationship as a branch of the Central Y. M. C. A. of New Haven. We would therefore thank you to communicate our decision to the board of directors, so that as soon as possible all needed steps may be taken to separate the interests of the branch and the central association. Yours in Christian Brotherhood, JOHN A. HAGAN, EDWARD F. GOIN, I. NAPOLEON PORTER, A. CLAYTON POWELL, Committee.

Of the Goffe street branch committee two members are ministers. Rev. Edward F. Goin is pastor of the Dixwell avenue Congregational church, and Rev. A. Clayton Powell is pastor of the Emanuel Baptist church.

PROMOTIONS IN FOOT GUARDS.

Corporal Brainard Raised to Non-Commissioned Staff. At a meeting of the Governor's Foot Guard at their armory on Whiting street last night the following promotions were made: Corporal W. S. Brainard to the non-commissioned staff with the rank of drill sergeant; Second Corporal M. C. Goodrich, to be first corporal; Lance Corporal A. P. Allen to be second corporal; Second Lance Corporal J. B. Martin, to be first lance corporal, and Private H. K. Lines to be second lance corporal. All the other business was of a routine nature.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Cannot Attend New Haven Veterans' Big Bazar.

Washington, March 12.—Congressman Sperry has received from the president's secretary a letter declining the invitation of the veterans of New Haven to attend their bazar next month. The letter is in part as follows: "The president greatly appreciates the kind invitation extended to him by the Grand Army and Spanish War veterans but regrets he cannot send an acceptance, as it is out of the question for him to leave Washington at this time. He is not making any engagement whatever away from here at present. The president would be glad to have you convey to the veterans his cordial thanks for their courtesy."

IS MORE COMFORTABLE. Harvey P. Hemingway, the well known and venerable citizen, formerly of Hemingwaytown, Fair Haven, who has been confined at the home of his son on Grand avenue, for the past five months with a chronic trouble, is resting more comfortably than for some time past.

TO LEAVE FOR CHESTER, PA. Richard Story, for many years in the grocery business in this city and who some years ago retired, having accumulated a small fortune, is preparing to remove about April 1 to Chester, Pa., where he will reside with his brother George Story, formerly of this city, who is a prominent and successful business man there and who has been a resident there for the last eighteen years. Mr. Story's circle of friends will regret to lose him from this city, and their best wishes will accompany him to his Pennsylvania home. His brother George will be remembered as for years of the firm of Sutton & Story, of lower Chapel street.

TWO NEW DIRECTORS. The board of managers of the Edwin Bancroft Fouts boys' club held their regular monthly meeting at their rooms on Chapel street yesterday afternoon. The regular routine business was gone through with and two new members were added to the board of directors. The new members are Frederick M. Adler and Captain Jeremiah Donovan. This brings the number of directors up to 23, and more will be added until the number reaches 25. There was a good attendance of directors yesterday.

TROUBLE IN Y. M. C. A.

COLORED MEMBERS WANT USE OF GYM AND BATHS.

Directors Deny This Privilege and It Looks as If There Must be a Parting of the Ways—Letters From Both Sides Which Are Self-Explanatory.

The Y. M. C. A. is in fear of losing their colored membership. The members of the Goffe street branch, which is carried on in the interests of the colored people, are denied the use of the gymnasium and baths at the main institution, and hence the trouble. Letters from both sides, which are self-explanatory, follow:

CENTRAL DIRECTORS' LETTER.

The letter of the Central Y. M. C. A. to the colored branch follows: New Haven, Conn., Jan. 26, 1906. My Dear Sir:

While the board of the Central Y. M. C. A. of this city does not see its way clear to admit to full membership colored young men, it is a distinctly friendly body and is conscientiously acting in what it conceives to be the best interests of its members.

Careful consideration of the matter, at two special meetings, and a considerable canvass among representative members of the association, make it very apparent that a change of policy along this line would greatly disrupt the work of the association.

We regret that your people have presented an ultimatum and assert that they should have all or nothing, for upon all points except admitting colored young men to full membership, we are sure we can meet your desires.

1. The fullest autonomy under competent management would be granted the Goffe street branch.

2. Liberal financial support would be accorded to a worthy work.

3. The privilege to solicit funds can easily be arranged in conference, so that no unpleasant complications may arise.

believe it can do a valuable work and should have the hearty support of this colored people.

We might further say that if the present committee of our board is in whole or in part, not acceptable to your people, any change along this line will be gladly made.

In short, in spite of the adverse position taken to a portion of your request, we would gladly grant even that if convinced that it was right and best for us to do it. Yours very truly, (Signed) L. T. SNOW, WALTER R. DOWNS, Committee.

COLORED COMMITTEE'S REPLY.

The reply of the Goffe street colored branch was as follows: New Haven, Conn., Feb. 21, 1906. Messrs. Levi T. Snow and Walter R. Downs, Committee Representing the Board of Directors, Central Y. M. C. A.

Dear Sirs We regret exceedingly that the board of directors have recently decided not to admit colored men to full and unrestricted membership in the Central Y. M. C. A. This decision makes the position of those charged with the carrying on the work of the Goffe street branch Y. M. C. A. doubly embarrassing. In the first place this self respecting colored folk of the community to whom they must principally make appeals, refuse to support a work under such conditions, fostered by the central association, mainly for the purpose of keeping colored young men from the larger privileges of the central association. And in the second place, they cannot continue the work of the branch in face of this action, without, tacitly at least, endorsing the decision of the board, the result of which is to draw the color line in the association.

This committee which recently represented this branch before your board, tried to make our attitude clear on this matter. Let it be understood permit us briefly to again recur to the main point emphasized by them, viz.: A branch association having been organized and duly equipped to carry on special work among colored young men of this city, it is to be hoped that colored young men who wish to join a Y. M. C. A. would avail themselves of its advantages; but if there be colored young men who wish the superior advantages of the central association, they should have the untrammelled right to avail themselves of those superior advantages on an equal footing with any other young men. This should be so in the first place, because the Y. M. C. A. is a public institution, and second, because it is a Christian institution, and thirdly, because its advantages have been provided by the charity of this community, to promote the well-being of the young manhood of this city, whose need is not racial. Did those who solicited say to the donors of your beautiful building, and its magnificent appointments, that the work carried on should be exclusively for the benefit of the white young men of New Haven? In your report to our committee, you say that you are forced to take the stand against admitting colored young men to unlimited membership, out of deference to the wishes of the majority of your members; in other words, out of deference to their race prejudice. We cannot, of course, as self respecting colored men, subscribe to any such policy. We wish to emphasize by repeating: It is not from any desire to stampede the central association with a colored membership that we refuse to abide by your decision, but because we cannot endorse even tacitly any action tending to encourage race discrimination here in this New England commonwealth. It is the principle, and that only, for which we contend.

We are obliged in sheer defense of our own self-respect to put ourselves on record in opposition to the policy which you recently adopted. We have

IN AND ABOUT THE COURTS

MRS. REEVES SUES FOR DIVORCE AND $10,000 ALIMONY.

Also Claims $5,000 More for Alienation of Her Husband's Affections—Supreme Court Decisions—Many Wills Filed in Probate Court—Cases Before the Bankruptcy and City Courts.

Following the evidence gathered by her on Saturday night, and which resulted in the arrest of her husband, E. A. Reeves, and a Miss Lina Leach, for improper conduct, they having been found in a room at 1610 Chapel street by Detective Ward, Mrs. Reeves yesterday brought a suit, through Attorneys Bernard E. and Edward W. Lynch, for an absolute divorce from Reeves, with alimony of $10,000, and claiming the custody of the two minor children.

In addition to the suit for a divorce against her husband, Mrs. Reeves also brought an action for the alienation of the husband's affections against Miss Leach, claiming $5,000 as the amount of damages. The papers in both cases were given to Deputy Sheriff Higgins for service.

Sheriff Higgins served garnishee papers yesterday on the Reeves-Kingsbury company, of this city, and the Reeves Manufacturing company, of Milford.

Mrs. Reeves states that, through her attorney, Mr. Lynch, she has warned Miss Leach against meeting her husband at various times.

In the city court yesterday morning neither Mr. Reeves nor Miss Leach appeared and Attorney George E. Hall asked for a continuance until tomorrow, which Judge Tyner granted. Mrs. Reeves was present, however, apparently expecting that the couple would be on hand.

Miss Leach resides with her widowed mother in Ansonia and it is said that Mrs. Leach is broken-hearted over the news of her daughter's arrest. The young girl has always borne a good reputation and has mingled in very good society in Ansonia. Mr. Reeves is reported to own property and real estate to the value of $30,000.

Reeves is the president of the Reeves Manufacturing company, which recently removed from this city to Milford. Miss Leach, when arrested Saturday, gave the name of Clara Jones and her business as a saleswoman residing in Branford.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The opinion of the supreme court of errors affecting the case of Thomas Wallace, of Ansonia, who was fined $7.50 in the common pleas court January 24, 1905, in connection with a raid made by the police upon a saloon conducted by Thomas McKeen in the clock town, was received by Clerk Birely yesterday. Wallace was one of the men who were found in the place at the time of the raid. John Doyle, Frederick Rogers and others were also convicted at the same time of similar offenses as a result of this raid.

The most interesting part of the opinion is that the supreme court says that the jury has a right to use a magnifying glass in its inspection of the evidence.

At the trial of the case, which was one for the violation of the Sunday liquor law, Prosecutor Woodruff presented photographs of McKeen's place. These photos the jury took with it when it required. The subsequent use of a magnifying glass was made one of the reasons for appeal to the supreme court of errors.

The opinion is by Justice Hammersley, who says that a jury may use a hand magnifying glass in the discretion of the court.

SUES FOR COMMISSION.

A suit returned to the common pleas court is that of William S. Clarke, of Milford, against the New Haven Automobile company. It is a suit to recover $250 alleged to be due as commission for the sale of automobiles while plaintiff was acting as salesman for the defendant company.

From a military post out West comes the story of a lady who frankly admits that she was once a coffee drunkard. "For twenty years I drank coffee, although I knew that it was harmful to me. I suffered from periodical nervous headaches which the physician said were caused by the use of coffee. I was, indeed, a confirmed coffee drunkard."

"I suffered so intensely from headaches as to require the services of a nurse. I could find no tablets or powder that would give me any permanent relief, and I was compelled to just let the headaches take their course. Each attack used to last for a day or two."

"After I married and had the cares of a family I found I was becoming a nervous wreck, and the strain became unendurable. Something had to be done, and I concluded to try Postum Food Coffee, giving up the old kind altogether."

"I made it rich and strong, according to directions, and drank it with plenty of good cream. It proved to be delicious. It took several days for the coffee poison to work out of my system, but I persisted and won out, and great was my reward! Renewed energy and vigor came to me, and I improved so that my neighbors observed and remarked upon it."

"During all the year that I have used Postum I have not had a single headache, proof conclusive that my old agonies came from coffee alone. I can do all the work I want with perfect ease and freedom from exhausting fatigue, and am a strong, healthy woman, for which blessed change Postum and right living get the credit." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The menu was as follows: Grape fruit, celery, potato chips, chicken salad, cheese straws, rye bread, biscuit, coffee, tea, ice cream, cake, salted nuts and candy. Young were appointed appraisers.

WIDOW APPOINTED EXECUTRIX.

Mrs. Ely, widow of the late Dr. John Slade Ely, qualified as executrix of her husband's estate in the probate court yesterday. As all the property is left to Mrs. Ely only a nominal bond was required by the court. Christian E. JUDGE'S DECISION IN THE BULL CASE.

Judge Jacob B. Ullman, of the common pleas court, yesterday handed down a decision in which he refuses to set aside the verdict in the suit of Benjamin Hull, of Wallingford, against John D. Douglas. The case will now go to the supreme court of errors.

CHARGES AGAINST ATTORNEY DURANT.

Charges alleging unprofessional conduct in the trial of the Lathrop divorce case are said to have been brought against Attorney Harold R. Durant by Colonel Burpee, who has had a running political fight with Mr. Durant since the last legislature. The grievance committee of the New Haven County bar held a secret meeting in Waterbury Saturday and heard Colonel Burpee's evidence.

BANKRUPTCY COURT.

Three cases of bankruptcy were considered by Referee Newton in the bankruptcy court yesterday.

The first one was on the O. C. Coggins estate. Mr. Coggins worked at Winchester's and when he went into bankruptcy he had no assets except some stock in the Bonita Mining company, which, it was thought, was worthless, as what the company was or where it was the court was unable to ascertain. The creditors now, however, seem to think that the stock may have some value, so they ask that a trustee be appointed.

A final hearing was held on the estate of J. Steinhmann, a former Naugatuck baker. It is expected that the estate may possibly declare a dividend of 20 per cent.

There was also a first hearing yesterday afternoon on the estate of Mary Dann.

BEFORE THE CITY COURT.

In the city court yesterday morning Elijah Troxler, charged with non-support, had his case continued till March 19.

James P. Morgan, alias Rodney, who was brought here from New York on Saturday by Detective Donnelly for the thefts from students, will be tried on March 17.

Joseph Lerpoete was discharged and Joseph Burns was fined $5 for theft of rope from a boat at Canal dock.

Thomas Conlan of 182 Franklin street, charged with non-support, will be tried March 26.

The proprietors of the disorderly houses which were raided by the police Saturday night pleaded guilty yesterday and were fined as follows: Otto Stankey, 7 Prindle alley, $25; Annie Stankey, 450; Mary Williams, 14 Prindle alley, $75. The case of Mary Moran, of 16 Prindle alley, was continued until to-morrow.

A New Jersey woman of fifty swore in court that, with a married life of twenty-seven years to her credit, she never had, to her knowledge, been kissed.

Beatrice Sacchi, a professor at Mantua and the holder of a doctor's degree, is the first woman to vote in Italy. It seems that there is no law there to prevent a woman from voting. Miss Sacchi discovered this and went to the polls and voted.

First Lieutenant Walter H. Johnson, of the Eighth Infantry, now on his way to the Philippines, was rejected when first he applied for a commission, the surgeons finding that he had six toes on each foot. On learning that he would be accepted with ten toes he had the extra two amputated, applied again and was accepted.

The wireless methods of communication are making more rapid progress in Germany than elsewhere. A new station has been established at Oberschonweide which will place Berlin and Dresden in communication over a distance of 111 miles. Several other stations already exist. There are reports of a project for installing at Nordreich a wireless system of long-distance telephoning.

The Supreme court of Oregon has just decided that the proprietor of a theater may make such rules as he sees fit concerning the admission of people, and that this freedom of choice extends to the exclusion of a negro who has bought a ticket. But where the house has sold a ticket to a negro a contract exists, and if the purchaser is excluded this contract is broken and the ticket holder may recover its value and the amount of damages sustained by reason of the breach of contract. In this case, however, there can be no recovery of damages incident to injured feelings.

The Kentucky house of representatives has passed, by unanimous vote, a bill providing for an annual accounting and distribution by all insurance companies doing business in the State. If this bill becomes a law an accounting of profit or surplus will be made to policyholders on or before the third anniversary of the policy; after that accounting and distribution annually will be the rule. When a policy has been in force four years the holder may choose between using his share of surplus in the purchase of additional insurance and reducing premiums.

Judge Henry S. Barker, of the Kentucky court of appeals, in giving his decision last week in a suit for libel against a daily newspaper, said this: An independent press does more day by day to crush out crime and restrain criminals than all of the organized and paid constabulary of the State. The searchlight of its investigation into the conduct of public officials is more dreaded by the corrupt and the vicious than all of the sanctions of the penal law; and as an upholder and sustainer of an enlightened public opinion it constitutes a large part of the foundation of civil liberty. Those whose faith is sufficiently optimistic to indulge a hope for the permanency of our institutions and civilization must rest it in large part, at least, upon a confidence in the quickening influence of an untrammelled press upon the public conscience.

A clergyman who was holding a children's service at a Continental winter resort, had occasion to catechise his hearers on the parable of the unjust steward. "What is a steward?" he asked. A little boy, who had arrived from England a few days before, held up his hand. "He is a man, sir," he replied, with a reminiscent look on his face, "who brings you a basin."—Kansas City Independent.

Wary One (Jovially)—"Fine morning, judge?" The judge (genially)—"Yes, indeed—ten and costs."—Cleveland Leader.

HORSES' NOSES.

Perhaps when a man isn't busy reforming the world or himself he might profitably spend a little time in looking at horses' noses. Anyhow, there is a man in New York who thinks that horses' noses are highly indicative of horses' dispositions. A horse with a prominent nose has, he says, courage and stubbornness in equal proportion; consequently, he makes a first-class balker. Noses of the pancake variety indicate meekness. A nose that is wide between the eyes denotes trustworthiness. A generally vicious temperament accompanies the nose that narrows at the top. Horses that run away, bite their neighbors, and kick the dashboard into flinders have that type of nose. A horse with broad, daring nostrils is a high liver; also he is lazy. The thin, sensitive nostrils belong to racers and high-class carriage horses. Fire department horses usually have the aristocratic nasal lines. Deep horizontal ridges in a horse's nose indicate humility, and even solemnity.

Why not? Human noses are thought to be indicative of something or other, and perhaps horses' noses are.

THE LATEST.

Always something interesting in New Haven. Now it is the discussion between what is called the Central Y. M. C. A. and the Goffe street branch Y. M. C. A. The Central Y. M. C. A. is white and the Goffe street branch Y. M. C. A. is colored. The Central Y. M. C. A. has delicately told the Goffe street branch Y. M. C. A. that colored young men cannot be admitted to full membership in the Central Y. M. C. A. We have read the correspondence carefully, and we are particularly struck with the following remarks made by the colored writers: "But if there be colored young men who wish the superior advantages of the Central association they should have the untrammelled right to avail themselves of those superior advantages on an equal footing with any other young men. This should be so, in the first place, because the Y. M. C. A. is a public institution, and, secondly, because it is a Christian institution, and, thirdly, because its advantages have been provided by the charity of this community to promote the well-being of the young manhood of this city, whose need is not racial." The colored writers seem to have the best of the argument, if there is any argument. But we don't suppose there is. The situation will delight the Baltimore Sun, which keeps a sharp lookout for incidents that indicate the presence of the color line and race prejudice in good old Christian New England.

CIVILIZED AND CHRISTIAN.

This is a civilized and a Christian country, and it is sending many missionaries to countries that are not civilized or Christian. But we notice that the practice of transferring dying patients from one hospital to another was soundly denounced in a set of resolutions which were adopted by the Board of Coroners of Manhattan. They mention the case of Mrs. Jeanne Cheno, of No. 142 West Thirtieth street, who died in an ambulance of the New York hospital while being taken to Bellevue. After protesting against "the inhuman action of the superintendents of certain hospitals," who send dying patients to charitable institutions "to keep down the death rate of their institutions," the resolutions say: Resolved, That this is in violation of all principles of justice and humanity, and meets with our disapproval; that we not only object, but protest, and ask that all persons in charge of hospitals take measures at once and instruct the physicians in charge of patients not to remove them to other hospitals when conditions are such as to endanger the lives of the patients; it is further Resolved, That if this matter is disregarded this board will take stringent measures to bring the violators to justice.

We used to read that the Indians left people to die, and now we read that the palefaces move people around so that they won't die where their death will affect statistics unpleasantly. Hurrah for progress!

IRRIGATION IN INDIA.

Some interesting information concerning the irrigation system of India was furnished, in compact form, the other evening, in a paper read in London before the British Society of Arts by Mr. R. B. Buckley. He said that the canals which carry the water aggregate 12,000 miles in length, and are supplemented by about 30,000 miles of distributary channels. The majority of these works have been constructed by the British government during the last sixty years. The canals, with one or two exceptions, were constructed primarily for irrigation, the chief object being the improvement of the crops, and they were laid out to command the lands which required irrigation and not with a view to navigation. In some cases, however, the main canals can be used for navigation as well as irrigation. After dealing exhaustively with the financial aspect of the case, Mr. Buckley said it certainly seemed unjust that, while railroad companies readily obtained free land and a government guarantee on their capital, navigation companies got neither, and also found it hard to induce the government to spend anything on improving the waterways. In all countries except England and India, large sums were being spent on improvements to internal navigation. He was glad, however, that the question of the improvement of the navigable waterways of India was now receiving some attention from the government. Lord Curzon, on leaving India, said that he always had been disposed to think that the claims of inland navigation in India deserved more sympathy at the hands of the government than they received, and he had intended to adopt a more liberal policy toward them.

Our Flat.

There's always something doing in our cosy little flat. And we're never down with ennui, you can bet your life on that. Or course, it's kind of quiet in the little hours of night.

But when the daylight comes it's loud enough all right, all right. 'Tis then the doors begin to slam and the kids begin to yell. And there ain't much chance of sleeping, and I feel like saying—well!

And just about the time I turn for one more snooze I hear the man that lives downstairs a-wrestling with his shoes. A big, hoarse gong goes off before it's light enough to see. And soon I hear a voice next door a-hollering: "Marle!" The kids begin to holler and the doors begin to slam.

And there ain't much chance of sleeping, and I feel like saying—fudge!

Sometimes they get so mixed that I can hardly tell. If it's the pesky kids that slam or the pesky doors that yell. There's just a howling hodge-podge of a dozen kinds of noise. A wild, old whooping jamboree of Marle and doors and boys.

There's always something doing in our cosy little flat. And we're never down with ennui, you can bet your life on that. —American Magazine.

REASONABLE.

"Don't you think it would be a good idea for you to make another speech?" "What for?" asked Senator Sorghum. "If I don't make a speech people will think I know more than I care to say. If I do they are liable to think I want to talk, whether I know anything or not."—Washington Star.

Just once, after he had been on the stand continuously for many hours, the great financier lost his temper, and retorted with an angry answer. "I'm afraid you forget that you are a gentleman," observed counsel. The rebuke struck home. The witness winced visibly. But he was not unwilling to justify himself. "Where one is called on to forget so many things, all at once, one becomes confused, you know," he stammered.—Life.

NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

New Rings, Brooches, Scarf Pins and Ornaments.

A spiral ring evidently intended to almost if not quite, cover one phalanx is composed of a diamond band ornamented with a good sized diamond and a square cut emerald on either end.

A charming brooch is in the shape of a pave diamond shell, holding a perfectly round, white pearl.

Animal heads are always popular as scarf pins, and one of the most attractive is a deer's head and antlers entirely in diamonds.

The heavy effect is seen in a small gold mesh purse, which is handsomely ornamented with beautifully chased frame and finished at the bottom with pendant pearls. The purse is suspended by a heavy chain attached to a pretty ring, which is designed to slip over the gloved finger.

A gold spoon for the baby has the top of the loop handle handsomely chased.

Some very large stones are seen in long chains which are connected with heavy gold links. On the other hand some extremely light charms are shown.

A unique little ornament, which is more or less expensive, is a diamond torch displaying a ruby or diamond flame.

Very artistic and beautiful are new designs in the thinnest of translucent enamels which appear on the surface to be threaded and edged with gold. The rich, harmonious coloring in delicately shaded effects, together with the motifs employed, are delightfully novel in the results attained. Costly corsage ornaments exploit natural forms, sometimes with leaves veined with diamond dust, or perhaps a spray of leaves and flowers tied with diamond ribbon.

Among the motifs displayed in this manner is a group of morning glories a bunch of bluebells and especially bell shaped flowers, also leaves with berries. A charming berry design is simulated by a bunch of smooth, pink pearls depending from diamond veined leaves, grouped gracefully above the swaying stems. Also in a similar style are some very charming pendants, attached to a neck chain formed of slender and rather long beads, matching the general tone of the green leaves and closely connected by links of rich, yellow gold.

"I'll be glad to get back to Atlanta," he said to no one in particular. For the next six months I expect to hear no man say, "How long will it take?" Up here that is the universal query. Just keep your ears open and you will hear it 50 times a day. If a man stops to preface his shoes shined he invariably prefaces the job by asking the boy how long it will take. In barber shops many customers even go so far as to eliminate the usual morning greeting. They simply say, "How long will it take?" and when they leave their parting word is not "Goodby," but a complaint about the slowness of the barber.

"The man who lunches down town is no exception. Even an order of a cup of coffee and a sandwich necessitates the popping of that all-important question, 'How long will it take?'"

You hear it in drug stores at the prescription counter and in the telephone booth. In banks, in hotels, in offices and on the street people put that question for no apparent reason. They simply meet and stare at each other for a minute; then one makes some remark

SPRING OPENING.

HAMILTON'S THE MECCA FOR ALL LATEST CREATIONS.

Beautiful Display of Imported Gowns and Magnificent Ideas in Waists and Other Things Dear to the Feminine Taste.

Spring, spring, lovely spring, in the words of the poet, was ushered in at Hamilton & Co.'s yesterday morning, when this well-known and popular firm submitted for the approval of the public in general the largest and most complete line of imported novelties that it has ever been its lot to show. The floral display around the store was very beautiful and blended artistically with the gowns and dresses which were shown in profusion around the store. The interior of the store has been somewhat altered and improved, while the new east window recently enlarged and beautified was dressed out in lavender and grey, two of the new spring tones, in honor of its first appearance before the public. The effect was such that all who passed stopped to admire. A dainty grey voile, with just a Parasol touch of Alice blue, black and gold, was a rival to the nearest neighbor, a princess gown of lavender rajah, trimmed with exquisite white lace.

In the west window the new shade of cream which Dame Fashion has threatened shall be a dangerous rival to queen white the coming season was shown in its prettiest shade in an embroidered net gown for evening wear. Near by a pure white gown of Irish lace maintained recognition as the prettiest, after claim for summer seasons. White and the cream tones in waists and skirts monopolized the window.

Once inside, it looked as though the rainbow had lost its colorings and that the spring and summer gowns of 1906 had stolen them. All the pretty shades of blues and pinks, the old rose and the coral tints made, indeed, a wild revelry of color.

Among the pretty calling gowns was a heavenly blue voile over a lining of the same shade and trimmed so daintily with blue and gold. Quantities of German Valenciennes lace was used also in trimming, and the proper finishing touch was given in the elaborate Dresden buttons.

Among the coats an ox-blood red rajah for automobiling and an exquisite loaf affair of pale blue broadcloth, trimmed with heavy Irish lace, were marvels of the artists' work.

Then there were the countless number of plain tailored coats, skirts and business suits for every occasion, with the silk and linen waists and petticoats to correspond.

The children's cosy corner, one of the special features of the opening day, was arranged in the east store. Gowns for the little people of every age and for all occasions were there.

For those who missed yesterday's display, as well as for those who, coming once, wish only to come again, the opening will continue this week.

Miss Genevieve Bailey will sing at one of the organ recitals to be given by Mrs. Clara Brainard Forbes of Branford in the Congregational church here late this month.

A pretty wedding of Sunday evening was that of Miss Ray Levine, of this city, and Mr. Max H. Menses, of Boston. The ceremony was performed in the Rose street Synagogue at 6:30 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends. A reception in Colonial Hall on Crown street immediately followed the ceremony, at which two hundred and fifty couples were present. Dancing was a feature and the grand march to the supper table was led by Professor A. Wasserman, Mr. and Mrs. Menses will be "at home" after March 13 at 14 Allen street, Boston, Mass.

At Center church chapel on Saturday afternoon a very interesting little entertainment was given by a number of children under the direction of Miss Winifred Smyth. The feature of the programme was a little play arranged from Carroll's "In a Looking Glass." Miss Martha Warren made a very interesting little Queen Alice, and the grown-ups present greatly enjoyed the pretty performance.

A NEW HAVENER'S TRIP.

Of 4,000 or 7,000 Miles—Charles H. Loomis Tells of Pleasant Journey.

Charles H. Loomis, the piano merchant, who returned Saturday from a visit to the Isthmus of Panama and Venezuela, his trip including six thousand miles travel by water, brings back interesting information as to what he saw on the journey. He found all reports at Panama indicating that the government is going right ahead with the canal work; much sanitary work is being done and preparations for housing the laborers. Colon is prospering, a big impetus being given to business there. At Kingston, Jamaica, the steamer took on six hundred laborers for the isthmus, made up of old and young men, women and babies. One of the laborers lost his shoes overboard, which had dropped from the rail into the sea, and the laborer jumped overboard after them. The ship was stopped and the man rescued after much difficulty. On leaving Colon the ship took on one hundred and fifty laborers as "deckers" bound for their homes in the Barbadoes. They looked strong and hearty, but were homesick and tired of systematic labor. Besides they had got together a little money. "If money was always an evidence of wealth the people of the United States of Colombia should be the wealthiest people on earth, because most of them have their hands full of money, and some of the merchants carry money in bundles under their arms. I asked the railroad ticket agent at Colombo the price of a ticket to Barranquilla, a city about seventeen miles distant and return; he told me eighty-five dollars. I gave him one of our United States one dollar bills and he gave me a ticket and fifteen dollars in Colombian bills in change.

FUN AND JOLLITY AMONG THE MEMBERS AND GUESTS.

Ex-Governor Chamberlain Soothes the Rumpant Warriors With the Gentle Strains of the "Old Oaken Bucket"—Major Marigold Entertains Company With Poetic Effusion—Many Prominent Military Men Present.

"Fun, good things to eat and good things to hear were regnant at the fifth annual banquet of Troop A, which was held in the Tontine hotel last night. Landlord White served the following excellent menu:

- Oyster Cocktail a la Ludington
- Celery Salted Almonds Olives
- Mock Turtle
- Fried Smelts Tartare Sauce
- Sweetbread Patties, with Peas
- Fillet of Beef; Mushroom Sauce
- Mashed Potatoes

Advance Guard Punch Cigarettes Philadelphia Capon; Gilet Sauce Neapolitan Ice Cream Fancy Cakes Cheese Crackers Coffee Cigars

After and during the dinner the assembled warriors sang popular tunes like "Wait Till the Sun Shines, Nellie," "Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown," "Tommy," and "Yankee Doodle Boy," to the strains of the Second Regiment band.

Then came the speech-making. Captain Luzerne Ludington acted as toastmaster, and in his opening remarks referred to the new armory upon which work has already begun. He said the armory would be completed in time for work by next September. (Cheers and a tiger.)

A letter of regret was received from Governor Henry Roberts, after which Brigadier-General George M. Cole spoke as a representative of Governor Roberts. He promised to see that the boys get revolvers to increase the efficiency of the cavalry service. This statement received vigorous approval.

Brigadier-General Russell Frost, of South Norwalk, related in a humorous vein some of the vicissitudes of a brigade commander at brigade headquarters at the joint manoeuvres of the regular army and the National Guard at the encampment at Manassas in the summer of 1904. He stated that General Chaffee, General Corbin, General Grant and other officers of the regular army testified that the Connecticut troops set the highest standard in that encampment for efficiency of service.

At this point Captain Ludington proposed three cheers and a tiger for Second Lieutenant Robert J. Woodruff, "the man whom we all love." They were given with a will.

Major John Q. Tilson read a toast from Captain Samuel A. Smoke. He then related the difficulties he had experienced in securing the appropriation from the state for the erection of the new armory.

Ex-Governor Airam Chamberlain was introduced as a man loved and honored by the people of the whole state. He was greeted with a vigorous army cheer from those present. He then sang several verses of "The Old Oaken Bucket," and was joined in the chorus by the members of Troop A. He stated that General Corbin had told him that the Connecticut National Guard were the finest of the nation. He said that while he was governor of the state he had done all he could to improve the service, and that the people should appreciate more fully the value of the National Guard. Millionaires don't smile, but the governor fully appreciates the smiles and good fellowship of the militia. "Good fellowship makes good citizenship," Judge Jacob B. Ullman told several very good stories and commended Troop A upon the new stone armory rising from the ashes of the armory burned a year ago.

STOCK MARKET FEATURES

GOLD COMING BUT NEWS INDIFFERENTLY MET.

Equally indifferent as to Prospects of Coal Strike—Market a Narrow One—Immense Stock of Anthracite Coal on Hand a Reason for the Indifference—Gossip of the Day.

The stock market yesterday made no particular response either to the new feature in the coal-strike question or to the news of coming gold imports.

The market acted a little peculiar in view of these two developments.

It was a narrow market and prices were inclined to ease off. At the close, however, prices rallied.

The National City bank yesterday engaged in London $1,250,000 gold for shipment to New York. This is the first gold importation from Europe since last September.

It is South African gold, which has lately been reaching the London market in large quantities. Wall street heard that negotiations were going on for further gold shipments to New York.

The fact that gold can now be brought from Europe to this country was taken in the financial district as excellent evidence that the foreign financial interests believe that the Moroccan dispute is about to be settled peacefully.

While prices sagged at the opening, it was on a small volume of business. There was no tumbling out of stocks on what now appears to be a very threatening position of affairs between the operators and the men.

The sterling exchange market was apparently not affected by the announcement of the $1,500,000 gold engagement.

Chicago Union Traction issues advanced sharply on the news of the supreme court's favorable decision.

In the last hour stocks broke rather sharply with Reading leading and other coalers depressed. This was based on fresh advices from the west indicating that there is grave danger of a strike in the bituminous districts.

Reading rallied in the last ten minutes. With Saturday's addition to bank reserves, and with the imports of gold, there was an easier monetary situation.

Rates for both call and time loans declined, and an interesting feature was the increased offerings of money for fixed dates.

The selling of Reading was comparatively large, one firm putting out 25,000 shares. How much of this was short and how much long stock it was difficult to determine.

The chief theory as to the failure of speculators to "acare" over the flat refusal of the anthracite operators to accede to the demands of the United Mine Workers undoubtedly rested in the understanding that the coal companies are now bulkheaded in their position by immense stocks of coal.

The stocks which had been "lipped" last week were suffering from efforts of traders to get out without a loss. These included Atchison, Rock Island and Sugar. It is doubtful if traders made anything out of any of these stocks.

The bulls were predicting that as soon as the "big fellows" start the machinery working a bull market will be in full evidence, coal strike or no coal strike.

Some large commission houses are advising customers not to load up pending strike developments.

Reading behaved in a way to mark the shorts as well as to disturb those operating on the long side of this and other issues. The shorts were afraid that after a fall of 39 points it might be run up sharply. The bears argued that it was not long since Reading was below par.

In very good quarters the opinion is still held that a compromise between the operators and miners will be effected, either through the president's efforts or in some other way.

During most of the day it was merely a traders' market, representing efforts on the part of large and small operators to make "turns" and get out.

ON CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY.

REV. MR. PERRY PREACHES TIMELY SERMON.

Some People Look at City as Place of Opportunity for Fame, Money or Pleasure—Others Look at it as Giving Chance for Church Work—The Type of Those Who Lose Their Life That They May Find it in Interests Around Them.

At St. Paul's church Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. James De Wolf Perry, Jr., preached on the Civic Responsibility of Citizenship before a large congregation. He said in part:

On this second Sunday of Lent we turn our attention from the repentance of a soul to the repentance of a city. It is not accidental, but in keeping with the great commission of the church that this season turns so quickly from the thought of self discipline to civic responsibility. We shall altogether miss the real significance of Christ's influence in the world until we have appreciated the capacity in civic life for spiritual character...

Christianity may make us either good individuals or good citizens. There are plenty of men of high Christian principle whose homes are beautiful in purity, whose lives are free from all dishonor and defilement, yet from whom the city gets no moral help nor influence. They have never lost their life that they may find it in the larger interests around them. They have not learned to find their happiness in the welfare of the city, their delight in her beauty nor their glory in her untarnished character...

ORATORIO SOCIETY.

Enthusiastic Rehearsal Last Night. The first rehearsal of "Arminius" in Woolsey hall by the New Haven Oratorio society, was held last night. Prof. Harry B. Jepson was present, and the chorus had the advantage of a rehearsal with the Newberry organ.

The dress rehearsal Thursday, with soloists and orchestra will be the only rehearsal after last night and it is expected that every member of the society will be present.

Some good seats are still to be had. If last night's rehearsal can be a forecast of the kind of work the chorus will do on Thursday there is little doubt that this will be the most artistically successful concert the oratorio society has ever given.

The three soloists, Campanari, Mme. Gertrude May Stein and Edward Johnson have been hard at work on their parts and have been rehearsing in New York so that all around a perfectly smooth performance of "Arminius" will be the result.

It allays the inflammation and goes straight to the root of the disease. Obstinate old cases have been cured in a few weeks. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros, 55 Warren street, New York.

INGROWING NAILS, CLUB NAILS AND ALL DEFORMITIES AND CONDITIONS OF THE TOE NAILS. CORNS BETWEEN THE TOES AND INFLAMED FEET.

We didn't know any better than to suffer with Sore Feet all these years, and we didn't want to suffer all our lives, so we went to DR. WELCH, 792 CHAPEL STREET, and found a big army of CORN and BUNION GROWERS and BAD TOE NAIL BEARERS, and we didn't find anybody that was hurt a bit, so we waited our turn for the GREAT PAINLESS ONSLAUGHT. At which we found such great relief that we started on the march again and have been beating and pounding and singing the songs of the CHIROPDIST—Relief for the feet.
