RITUALISM A BOAD OF MIND.

Onlinion of President Ellot at Meeting of Congregational Ministers. Boston, Jan. 21.-That ritualism is listinctly a bond on the mind was the opinion expressed to-day by President Charles W. Ellot of Harvard university, speaking before a meeting of Congregational ministers at Pilgrim hall in this city. His subject was "Ecclesiasticism, Ritualism and Creeds." Ritualism, President Ellot held, involves an immense authority which binds and limits the play of the human mind and makes a real limitation to human thought of sacred subjects.

New York, Jan. 21 .- The mayor of Kingston, Jamaica, in his official capacity, to-day appealed to the generosity of the American people on behalf of the earthquake sufferers.

In a cablegram directed to Mayor McClellan, of this city, Mayor Tait, of Kingston, asked for money and building materials, which, he added, were urgently needed. The cablegram, received late in the day, was as follows: 'Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 21, 1907.

Mayor, New York: "On behalf of stricken people I appeal, through you, to generosity of American people for help. Every house destroyed. Money, lumber and building materials most urgently needed. "Tait, Mayor, Acting upon the suggestion of Mayor Taft, Mayor McClellan to-night an nounced, through the press, that he would be glad to receive contributions, which would be forwarded to the proper authorities in Kingston.

Considerable surprise was expressed to-night when the cable to the mayor was shown to those who have been active in soliciting funds for the people of Kingston. The opinion generally voicel was that Mayor Tait's appeal had served to complicate a situation already confusing. In view of the message received in Washington from London to-day and the attitude of Governor Swettenham there was doubt whether any concerted action upon the suggestion of Mayor Talt could be properly taken.

No definite plan of action has been mapped out.

PROBABLY TRIPLE TRAGEDY

MURDER IN VESTIBULE OF A DANBURY SALOON.

Shooting Affray Between Italians Leads to the Murder of One Man and the Perhaps Fatal Injury of Two Others

Danbury, Jan. 21 .- One man is dead and two others are lying in the hospital, probably fatally wounded, as the result of an Italian shooting in the vestibule of a saloon here to-day. Tonight the police are trying to solve the mystery which surrounds the affair and which, they say, gives indications of a Black Hand or Mafia connection.

The dead man is Emilio Frattalone, and the injured are Louis Fennelli, aged twenty-one years, a laborer employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford raffrond, and Tony Lucania, aged about forty-five years, also a railroad laborer. He came here from New York about two weeks ago.

As nearly as the police can learn tonight. Fennelli went to the saloon of into the vestibule, having previously ments after Frattalone had compli lying wounded in the vestibule. was hurried to the hospital, where it his back and, it is believed, passed through one of his lungs. The third man, Lucania, was not found until some time later, and when discovered was over a mile from the scene of the shooting and behind a car barn. He is in a critical condition, the bullet having passed through his liver. Frattalone was a well-known shoe lealer. No reason can be found for the shooting.

New York, Jan. 21 .- Howard Nesbit, Thaw's wife, came here from Pittsburg | made by the state's attorney's office to-day and went to the district attorney's office, where he was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Garvan. It was stated unofficially that young Nesbit might be called as a witness for the prosecution and that his testimony would be in defense of Stanford White's reputation and designed to show that White had been a benefactor to young Nesbit and his mother.

A conference of the relatives of Harry Thaw was held at the office of Clifford W. Hartridge, his lawyer, after the court proceededings to-day. There were present Harry Thaw's mother, Mrs. William Thaw, his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw; his sisters, Mrs. George L. Carnegie and the Countess of Yarmoutih, and his brother, Edward Thaw. Democrats Likely to Renew Efforts for Amendment of Joint Rule So That Minority May be Represented on Four of the Important Committees-Ballot Box to be Opened This Afternoon in the Homan-States Contest.

Hartford, Jan. 21 .- The general as-embly will reconvene to-morrow noon, and it is expected that Governor Woodruff will send a message to it dealing with the state's representation at the Jamestown exposition. An effort will be made to induce members to introduce bills promptly so that the session will be three days this week instead of two. In the senate the presence of Senator Judson will probably mean a renewal of the efforts of the democrats to secure an amendment to the joint rule so that the minority may be represented on four of the important committees. Several of the republicans will help the democrats, it is thought. In the house a big batch of bills, to include some of the important ones which have been looked for, will be introduced.

In the afternoon the senate committee on contested seats will open the ballot box from the Fourth ward in New Haven to count the votes in the Homan-States contest, That Mr. States will be unseated there seems no question, but all the committee can do will be to report back to the senate its findings. Before Mr. Homan is seated, apparently the committee will have to assign a hearing on the protest of Mr. Fox against Mr. Homan's eligibility. This may mean delay. Should in the end a new election have to be ordered, the call for a special election will probably have to be through the governor. The house committee contested seats also will begin hearing the Cromwell and Bridgeport contests. County meetings will be held, and those from Fairfield and New Haven may thresh out the matter of county commissioners.

Missing Stamford Man Recognized by Passengers on the Celtic.

Stamford Jan. 21 .- A wireless was received here to-day from Stamford persons on the steamer Celtic, bound for Europe, stating that they had met and fully identified Charles E. Barnes, the former Stamford man who was supposed to have committed suicide on September 20, 1903, by jumping from the steamer Priscilla, while on its way from Fall River to New York. Barnes is a passenger on the Celtic. He boarded the Priscilla on the night if his supposed death, hired a stateroom and left his baggage aboard and then disappeared. No trace of him had been found, and his wife, who is now in Europe, went into mourning for him. Barnes was prominent here socially, and his supposed death was generally mourned. At the time he was manager in New York of a tyewriter concern No reason is given for his disappearance. His accounts were all right, and it was thought that at the time he was taken with a temporary fit of inlouse to-night by the president, Secsanity.

It is stated that Barnes' wife will be communicated with in Europe, and that she will meet the Celtic on its arrival at Naples.

> Washington, Jan. 21.—Few features. of the spectacular were missing from the proceedings of the senate to-day. The Brownsville affair was the subject of controversy, and the day began with the announcement of a compromise resolution which brought both republican and democratic senators together on the basis of ordering an investigation of the facts of the affray without bringing into question the authority of the president to dismiss the negro troops. The resolution was submitted to and approved by the presi> dent at a conference yesterday. When the "harmony" testimonials were all in, Senator Tillman took the floor and delivered a speech in reply to the recent criticism of himself by Senator Spooner. This speech began with a satirical picture of the senate as a minstrel show, which Mr. Tillman later said was his first and last attempt to be "funny," an attempt which at its conclusion brought a stinging denunciation from Senator Carmack in resentment of allusions to him. This was preceded by a serious reply from Senator Spooner on the attitude taken by Mr. Tillman on the race problem, all finally resulting in a session of nearly two hours behind closed doors.

> The secret session was followed by a brief open one in which Mr. Tillman made a profuse apology to Mr. Carmack, to all the senators whom he had brought into his "first essay in the line of humor," and finally to the entire senate. "I very much regret that I ever undertook to be funny, and I will never do so any more." Mr. Tillman then withdrew all he had said in his "funny essay," and said it would not appear in the record.

> This apology was at once accepted by Mr. Carmack, who regretted he had questioned the motives of his friend, and he, too, withdrew words he had uttered in protest. Mr. Foraker made a final attempt to get a vote on his resolution but obje tion was made and the matter will be taken up to-morrow. Mr. Carmack remarked pocularly that there were not more than fifteen or twenty senators desiring to talk, and Mr. feigning seriousness, retorted hotly that the senator need not think the democratic side of the chamber could monopolize the talking, Mr. Carmack explained that he was only trying to be funny, that it was his first attempt and he would never make another. As senators were laughing heartily over this party sally, adjournment was tak-

The fears that Frank Sperry of this city, proprietor of the Knutsford Park hotel, Jamaica, might have been one of the victims of the earthquake at night at the Hyperion was very much Jamaica were set at rest last evening through the efforts of Frank H. company of Philadelphia. Mr. Quinley at once 'phoned the good news to Mr. Sperry's wife at her home on Trumbull street, and also to Mr. Sperry's father, Hon. Joel A. Sperry, head of the firm of Sperry & Barnes.

Mr. Quinley said he had no doubt that Mr. Sperry had cabled word of his safety to his New Haven home and that the message had not arrived owing to the crowds of messages that are waiting transmission. The telegraph company was still receiving no messages except with the proviso that they might be much delayed in sending.

CONSOLIDATION COMING.

Subsidiary Trolley and Steamboat Lines to be Merged With the New Haven Company.

It is stated on high railroad authority that during the present year there will be very extensive consolidation into the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, as the parent company, of many of its subsidiary properties. These will include a large part of the trolley properties and the New England Navigation company, which owns the steamboat property, including the terminals on Long Island sound and at New York city committee appointments in the house are studied the more it will be seen that Speaker Tilson has acted for the cided as the limit for reception of new best interests of the state in making business. But the "hurry acil" is not the selections. The chairmen have been picked out with special reference to their aptitude for the work that will come before them during the session. The committee on appropriations is headed in the house by Albert F. Rockwell of Bristol, a man in the prime of life and one of the most successful business men in the state. He is a native of Woodhull, N. Y., and is the founder and manager of the New Departure company of Bristol, which gives employment to hundreds of hands. It is one of the largest concerns in Bristol and has been developed through the energy and capacity of Mr. Rockwell. As the chairman of the appropriations committee he will make a record to be envied. Edward W. Hooker of Hartford is put at the head of the committee on banks That is an ideal selection, Mr. Hooker having the amplest qualifications for the place. He is identified with large financial interests in Hartford and is a man of ability and strength from every point of view. Charles H. Tibbits of Wallingford is chairman of the committee on education. He is a graduate of Trinity college and will work hand in hand with President Luther, the senate chalrman of the committee. Mr. Tibbits is a native of White Plains, N. Y., but is descended an old Hartford family. His grandfather, Dr. Charles W. Johnson was a distinguished Knights Templar and was at one time eminent grand commander of the Connecticut Grand Commandery, Arthur A. Balley Windsor, who was in the house two years ago with Speaker Tilson, has the chairmanship of the finance commit tee, and Frank Cheney of Manchester, one of the business men of that town will preside as house chairman of the committee on labor. Edward T. Canfield of Thomaston, a lawyer of recognized attainments, heads the house committee on incorporations. E. Hart Fenn, a journalist and Yale man, is chairman of the committee on fisheries and game. That is also an ideal selection by the Speaker, Captain Edward A. Fuller of Suffield has the chairmanship of the insurance committee. He is a man of broad business qualifications and will make the work of the committee thorough and energetic. The chairmanship of the committee on railroads has gone to Charles D. Burnes of Greenwich, and judiclarychairmanship has been awarded to Elmore S. Banks of Fairfield. Mr. Burnes is a lawyer and a native of Berlin. Dr. George H. Knight of Salisbury is chairman of committee on public health and safety. He is a practicing physician and will carry into the chairmanship of the committee great professiona been done. The Governor's executive secretary, Mr. Julin, will not be lonesome from the lack of newspaper men in the gen eral assembly. He is a successful journalist and in the House he will find boon companions in the newspaper men who are members this year Daniel D. Bidwell, of East Hartford, E. Hart Fenn, of Wethersfield, George A. Bartlett of Willimantic and Charles H. Rogers, of East Haddan are the newspaper men who have seats in the House. Senator Francis Atwater of Meriden is of the Meriden Journal and and an able newspaper manager Theodore Bodenwein, the Secretary of State, is the owner and manager two dailles in Eastern Connecticut, The New London Day and the New London Telegraph. It looks as if it pays to be a newspaper man, when the offices come to be awarded. The selection of a journalist for executive secretary is not a new thing with Governors of Connecticut, Governor Charles B. Andrew set the example when he appointed that gifted journalist, Stiles T. Stanton, executive secretary in 1879, Mr. Stanton was one of the most brilliant men in the newspaper field in Connecticcut in his day. He began his newspaper work with Congressman Charles Russell of the Third district in Worcester, Mass. Both have left delightful memories not only in newsnaper life, but in Connecticut politics.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Hyperion Theater.

Lovers of hilarious comedy, tuneful Hyperion to-night and to-morrow night, when the big colored show "Bill Balley's Jubilee," is to play an engagement. The second act gives the whole of a minstrel first part from the rise of the curtain on, and this one feature is well worth the price of admission. The setting for this is one of the most elaborate ever used in a minstrel company, and is called the "Palace of the Creoles."

"THE BLUE MOON." The offering at the Hyperion theater on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, January 25 and 26, will be James T. Powers in the big English musical comedy, "The Blue Moon." This big English importation can be fitly described as an international success inasmuch as that it played for two solid seasons in Ladon to capacity business, and all of this present season here in America crowdd and satisfied houses have been the invariable rule. The play has been Americanized to a certain extent by masterful hands, and the ensemble of the story is unusual, because it is de void of all slap-stick low comedy incongruities. The story is just a clean, pretty tale of the happenings at a British army post in India, a locale which permits of much gorgeousness in cenery and costuming. There are several big song hits among which are numbered, "Don't You Think It Time to Marry," "Why Don't You Take One Little Boy," "That's the Way They Let the Secret Out," and a series of comedy situations by Mr. Powers and Miss Palmer, entitled "Popular Entertainments." A very strong company has been engaged for the production

It is one of the grandest, most interesting and heart rending plays ever placed upon the stage, and it will live forever in the memory of the theatergoing publie. Mr. Martin, the enterprising manager, has taken great pains in staging and producing the original version of Mrs. Stowe's beautiful story, every year trying to outdo the previous. The company this season numbers fifty twenty who will fill out the many pic tures of the play, and introduce many old and new songs, dances and planta-

Manager Poll presented Joe Hart's latest "girl act" at his playhouse yeserday afternoon and evening, when the Electric Crickets, a bevy of twelve beauties, appeared in a very preten tious staged number. Their work was well executed, and the blending of colors and the electrical effect were all that could be desired. A well arranged show surrounded this feature and included Thorne and Carleton, duo of jesters, who made things lively when they held the boards; France Piper, Rogers and Delloy, the casting Dunbars in aerial work of an excellen ype; Lillian Tyce and Bassett and Miller made up the bill. But to return to the center of the stage. Miss Shipman simply had the ladies at yesterday's performances gasping for breath. A different gown is entirely beyond the dramatic editor to go into pipe dreams over gowns, and he has sent the editor of the woman's

It isn't the gowns that make the actress, however, and fortunately Gertrude Shipman is as fascinating in her rags in "The Two Orphans." as when melodies, catchy rag time and negro, she fascinates the audience in "swell fun in general will have a treat at the rags" as the Frisky Mrs. Johnson. Her work is all that could be asked for. It is the character of a woman with an unsatisfied love of the world, and yet who in the debt of her womanly strength is willing to sacrifice uer entire life and happiness for a weaker sister, who has fallen.

And she is well supported. Lawrence B. McGill as Mr. Jim Morley is at his best, and that is saying much. William F. Canfield, who was missed from the cast last week, is playing the part of Frank Morley, a husband whose somewhat shallow wife has dishonored him. In this character Mr. Canfield is strong and shows an appreciation of the possibilities of the role. Dorothy Lamb, as Mrs. Frank Morley, the butterfly wife, who, thinking perself lonely, started a flirtation which proved her downfall, portrayed the character excellently. Her costumes are pleasing and deserve mention. It is a part that gives her opportunity for some strong work, and she does nto fall to take advantage of it.

Lucius Fairchild presents another delicious bit of character work as Monsieur Max Dindeau, who as a messenger boy has the professional beaten a mile, his own record being one of having finished nine hours late in the race for a fair lardy's heart.

To overlook the work of Wilbur Symonds as Lord Bertle would be an injustice. He is an exceedingly clever actor, and his work in the short time he has been here has been extremely The play is booked for the entire week and th ushal souvnir matinces will be given Friday and Staur-

'Chinatown Charlle," Dealing With the White-Light District of New York City, Plays to Large Audience. Sensational in the extreme, full of exciting situations, strong in dramatic action and well enlivened with humorous parts, is how one might sum up 'Chinatown Charlie," which played to large house at the New Haven theater last night. If one was to judge the merits of the play by the liberality of applause which the audience bestowed, as well as by the repeated curtain calls, then it must be stamped with the impression of success.

The cast producing A. H. Woods' drama is a very strong one and comprises many well-known stage favorites. Every one of them is thoroughly onversant with the part and character which he or she portrays. are in all seventeen scenes, all realistic and easily recognized. They include Times Square by night, the new Hotel Astor and immediate vicinity, the interior of a woman's athletic club, the Belmont race track and paddock, a telegraph station on Long Island, a the ater, a Chinese opium den, a chop-suey restaurant, "Rat Alley," the secret chamber; an East Side roof garden, the New York city prison, etc., in all of which climaxes occur, some of which nust be termed of the hair-raising kind

But, after all, "Chinatown Charlie" has its moral side also, and it is a play ceptional players. The scenes are if id that appeals to a great many theatergoers. There are parts in it so pathetic that the tears are forced to trickle down the cheeks of the more emotional of the audience, while to those who like excitement and delight to rejoice in the downfall of the villain "Chinatown Charlie" ought surely to please. Several high-class specialties are also introduced into the play by the character actor Harry Field and the Stewart sis-

"The Squaw Man" is a novel built around the play written by Milton Doyle for Mr. Faversham, and now in ts second year's successful run.

As Julie Opp, the author of this new book, which is from the press of the Harpers, was well known in New Haven. She spent much of her early girlgood at Shore Beach, as the guest of Ella Wheeler Wilcox, where her beauty and charm won her many friends. Her story of "The Squaw Man" is a thrilling one of love, romance and adventure. It is told in the true artist's way. There is no hint of the novice in a single paragraph. There are good situations, crisp, sparkling dialogue with a terseness of style that belongs to the master pen rather than that of the amateur. Altogether it is a book to attract the attention of the critics and booklovers alike,

TERRIBLE ITCHING AND SCRATCHING

On Hands, Feet and Face-Caused by Poison Oak and Ivy-Was Unable to Rest Night or Day-Developed Into Eczema, which Affected Whole of System - Suffered 4 Years Without Relief.

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"A healthy person does not heed statements made by sick people, but if such persons suffer from poisonous weeds, a nedy is anxiously desired. I suffered severely for four years from poison oak and ivy. My condition was serious, as I could not rest night or day and be free from a terrible itching sensation from scratching on my hands between the fingers, my feet and face. I got the best of advice and treatment from six different doctors who were anxious to cure One of the doctors told me that when the poison was cured, eczema (a worse disease) would follow, which became true. My eyesight was affected, and I went to a hospital especially for the eyes and got relief, but eczema got a terrible hold on my system.

"I was about to give up all hope of ever being cured, yet I could not be reconciled to such results, as my health had been good and free from any disease all my life. My age is seventythree years. In my extremity I hap-pened to read of Cuticura Remedies for skin diseases, and wrote you to please send me a supply of the Cuticura Remedies. I was anxious about my condition and desired to evade any spurious imitation. This was in July, 1905, and I was instructed to call on a certain druggist for the Cuticura Remedies. I bought five boxes Cuticura Ointment; also some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Pills as I required them. In four weeks' treatment my face was smooth, and the itching gradually left my hands and feet and I could rest comfortably, for which I am grateful and happy. W. Naval officers who have to do with fendant. the equipment of naval vessels with the appliances of war are much concerned over the lack of mines and mine appurtenances. The mines are used as a protection of the ship against the encroachment of the enemy, and are intended to be thrown out, forming a line beyond which the shins of the enemy may not penetrate without disaster. It is considered necessary to accumulate a supply of these mines for use in time of war, and it is proposed to build them at the rate of five hundred a year for five years. and for advanced bases. They will be especially valuable in the protection of or the approaches to navy yards likely to be penetrated by an enemy. Then, too, they would be useful when a ship they would be likely to be attacked. The mines could be used for offence as well as defence, and are considered absolutely necessary for warfare.

THE SWEITENHAM-QUAKE.

The disturbance that has succeeded serious as the earthquake was, or as serious as some have tried to make it eem. With the present information it looks as if Governor Swettenham had been unduly independent, not to say boundingly bumptious. Perhaps he feels as the London Globe feels. Thus saith the Globe: "The men under Adniral Davis are Americans, with the American disposition to magnify the power and glory of the United States at every turn. It must be intolerable o a British governor to see the British flag stayed upon the bayonets of American marines. It is humiliating o reflect that with the greatest navy in the world not one of our ships was avallable at this critical moment. In the time of her greatest peril Jamalca sees itself protected by a foreign power. This is the greatest humiliation any British colony has endured since Majuba Hill."

Of course this isn't tactful or polite, out if this is the true explanation of Governor Swettenham it isn't going to pay the United States to get mad about it or him. Our representatives have shown their and our good will, and if an English governor resents it we can cheerfully say "It's English, you know," and let It go at that. Perhaps, however, later news may mitigate the situation and we may find Some Senators read some. When that there has been less trouble than we have heard about.

He referred to the wrongs of Spain in massacring hundreds of Chinamen in the Philippine Islands years ago, and of detention of scholars and well-to-do Chinamen when seeking to land in San Francisco. He stated that all of this wrongdoing had hindered the missionary cause in the empire. Mr. Sweet believes that there is really some cause of fear for the yellow peril. China can raise an army of ten million sturdy men, and wee be to that naflon upon whom she ever makes war, said Mr. Sweet. He said that the only hope for the peace of the world in the next few years is that China may be dealt with fairly by the great nations of the earth and that the education and the evangelization of its millions will be the only surety for the peace of the world.

The annual report of St. Francis' R. C. church, which was made public on Sunday, shows that during 1906 the debt on the property was reduced $2,000 and is now $27,000. Since the coming of the present pastor, Rex. Father Baker, ten years ago, this debt has been cut down by $30,000. Upon the death of Rev. Father Mulholland there was a large debt, caused by his rebuilding of the church and the building of the parechial schools, but time has shown that the church is none too big, and the same is true of the school.

Score Was S to 2 but Visitors Lost Goal on Fouls-Bone Unable to Play Which Had Much to Do With Poor Showing Made by the Local Team.

In a slap, bang, rough and tumbl contest in which the first principles of polo were hardly ever observed by heir team New Haven went down to defeat before Bridgeport last night to the tune of 7 to 2. The rink was crowded by the enthusiasts of the game who went expecting to see a hard fought contest, but were hardly disappointed. True, Bone was ordered by his medical adviser not to play, an this to a certain extent accounted for the poor showing made by the local players. Bridgeport had Whippie, who prayed for New Haven in the last eague. He po up a smart game and was responsible for six of the seven goals scored for his side.

There was an entire absence of team playing by both quintels, which after all is the one essential thing which makes a game of polo really worth seeing. The public all over the circuit have shown that they want polo and are willing to support it, and it is up o the managers to get players who can and will playe the game as it ought to be player, and so maintain their confidence and support.

day as follows: "British Embassy, "Washington, January 17, 1907.

"Sir: I have the honor to inform you that I have been instructed by his majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs, to express the high appreciation of his majesty's government at the prompt assistance rendered by the United States government in the dispatch of their ships to Jamaica to afford aid to the stricken people of 'I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, sir, "Your most obedient servant, "Esme Howard.

"To Hon, Elihu Root, etc." At the state department to-night it was stated that as far as this government is concerned the matter will be allowed to drop, the government's opinion being that the act of one man In a distant colony and at a time of great distress and mental anguish should not be the means of raising an unpleasant issue with a great and friendly nation.

Officials of the National Red Cross society in this city do not believe that the Jamaican authorities will refuse to accept the supplies which have been sent to the Island. In case the Red Cross supplies are declined, however, it is more than probable that they will be diverted to the famine-stricken people of China.

"If the supplies which were sent by the society on Friday and Saturday last from New York shall be declined, said Miss Mabel Boardman, a member of the executive committee to-day, "it is likely that we will send such of the supplies as are suitable for the relief of China sufferers.'

Miss Boardman added that no further steps would be taken at present in aid of the Jamaican sufferers.

MAY RECALL SWETTENHAM

Under No Conceivable Circumstances Should He Send Such Letter

London, Jan. 21.-The colonial office is still without explanation from Sir Alexander Swettenham, the governor of Jamaica, of the situation which led to the withdrawal of Rear-Admiral Davis warships from Kingston on Saturday, This silence, although irritating to the government, is construed as a good sign that this much regretted affair is capable of amicable adjustment, and will not lead to any disturbance of the friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain,

It is supposed that if Governor Swettenham had any reasonable justification for his extraordinary letter to Rear-Admiral Davis he would not delay in placing his government in possession of the facts; therefore his silence is regarded as a confession of the weakness of his case, or an evidence of compunction at having adopted an inadvisable course. In this light the governor's telegram asking the British government to convey to the government of the United States the thanks of the nation for the assistance rendered by Rear-Admiral Davis assumes and Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey, in forwarding this message to Washington with the thanks of the imperial government, well expresses the feeling of the government and the nation on this sub-

Furthermore, War Secretary Haldane, on behalf of the war office, has taken a quite unusual course, and one indicative of exceptional importance of the occasion, by addressing a dispatch to Becretary Root which indirectly implies censure of the governor of Jamaica. It will thus be seen that practically all the ministers are adopting a highly appreciative and correct attitude toward the United States, and it cannot be doubted but that the incident will be settled, probably by the recall of Governor Swettenham, or, at least, disavowal of his action and apology to Rear-Admiral Davis.

While the foreign office naturally is reluctant, in the absence of fuller information, to pass judgment on the affair, officials of the foreign office do not hesitate in agreeing that under no concelvable circumstances should such a letter as Governor Swettenham's to Rear-Admiral Davis been written, and they declare that even the stress of recent events is no excuse for such language on the part of a government official to an officer of a friendly nation engaged in a work of humanity

Esme Howard, charge d'affaires at the British embassy, to-night called on Acting Secretary of State Bacon and presented a message from Earl Grey, principal secretary of state for Great Britain, regarding the Davis-Swettenham incident. In his message Earl Grey says that he is causing an official inquiry to be made to determine the authenticity of the letter purporting to have been written by Governor Swettenham to Rear Admiral Davis.

THANKS TO DAVIS.

But Further Aid of United States Probably Will Not Be Justified.

London, Jan. 21.-Replying to a telegram from the British charge d'affaires at Washington, reporting that the state department had inquired whether Great Britain desired or was willing to accept further assistance in money or other forms of aid for the Kingston earthquake sufferers, the foreign office to-day replied as follows:

"The offer of the American govern ment to give further aid is gratefully appreciated by his majesty's govern ment. The government of Jamaica has not yet reported his requirements fully, but now that the firse few days are over it appears likely that there will be no justification for further calls on the generosity of the United States. In the meantime his majesty's government has been requested by Sir Alexander Swettenham to convey to the government of the United States cordial thanks for the prompt and powerful assistance which the United States navy under Rear Admiral Davis ren- among the students early this morning. dered to the inhabitants of Kingston in their suffering.'

OBLIGATIONS TO DAVIS

England Has Other Reasons to Feel Deeply Grateful to Him

London, Jan, 21 .- By a singular coinridence Admiral Davis happens to be an officer to whom England has heretofore has felt the deepest gratitude as his course, while the American member of the international arbitration ourt at Paris upon the sinking of the British fishing vessels in the North Sea by the Russian fleet, practically was decisive in shaping a decision favorable to Great Britain. Some phases of the arbitration were not stated at the time, s they might have proved irritating to Russia. It is known that Davis' staunch than they used to. Not so long ago, it upport of the British contention turn- was the fashion to make all sorts of ed the scales at the decisive moment. His views were accepted by the Austrian admiral, and this, with the vote of the British member, Admiral Baunont, made a majority which deterplaced the character of the final de-

In this the Russian member, Admiral Dubasoff, and the French member, Adniral Fournier, concarred, thus makng the conclusion unanimous. But here is no doubt of the influence of he American, British and Austrian admirals in skaping the character of this ananimity. Baumont was fully aware of this.

One of the phases not generally known is that King Edward, on the onclusion of the court, communicated in invitation, through the British ampassador at Paris, to Admiral Davis to ome to Buckingham palace, where marked honors were to have been shown him. But the desire to avoid anything which might be construed as younding Russia led Admiral Davis not o accept the king's invitation. It was none the less expressive of the feeling of Great Britain toward Admiral Davis, although this feeling is now momentarily overlooked, probably through failure to recognize the Admiral Davis at Jamaica as the same Admiral Davis who turned the scales for Great Britain before the historic international

The tug immediately started ahead, and after picking up the Montana started for Block Island. The barge had labored so heavily that she, too, had sprung aleak. At 2 o'clock this morning just as the Buccaneer steamed inside the breakwater at Block Island, Captain Davis and his crew abandoned the Montana, the water having made so much headway that the barge was in Janger of sinking any moment. For nearly an hour the four en struggled against the elements, before they succeeded in rowing their heat under the lee of the tug. The tug after picking up the men remained on the scene until the barge went down this afternoon, and then steamed for this port.

some rally, St. Paul and Union Pacific

During the slump several stocks touched their lowest figures in this break.

At the start the market had the benefit of a higher range of prices in London and a small amount of foreign buying after several weeks of liquidation. The general sentiment was plainly in favor of a recovery.

To what extent the day's recurrent attacks upon the market were made, by recent operators for the decline, solely for the purpose of giving themselves a chance to "cover" their sales of the past week, is a matter of conjecture.

In the upturn that came with the opening of business prices rose to three points, with even larger gains in several of the specialties. The foremost place was occupied by the members of the Standard Oll group.

At 2:15, shortly after the market began its upward swing from the day's lower level, the ticker reported the sales of a block of 22,600 shares of Reading at prices ranging from 1263-8 up to 127 3-4, then back to 127 1-4.

The short interest was most prominent in some stocks. It was very evident in Reading. One house took about 10,000 shares on the rise to 129 1-2. This was supplied by a room trader who has orders from a Boston house.

Time money rates came down to I and 51-2 per cent. for all periods yesterday. A good deal of money was put out at 5 per cent, and no attempt was made to get 5.3-4 or 6. The whole market was easier. The strength of the Standard Oll issues in London and the rallying power shown by them here impressed the street, which, above all things, watches for this sort of lead.

The Harriman group showed absence of desire to take much stock.

On rumors that the preferred stock dividend would be reduced or passed a general raid on the Inter-Met shares was made. There has been a bull tip around on the common for some time. So there was just before the peg at 50 was pulled out

It is estimated that 30 per cent. of last week's selling was liquidation and 70 per cent, bear operations. The natnral consequence of the liquidation would be to put the market in a better position.

One rumor on the afternoon break' was that the New York Central would suspend improvement work for a year because of the tension in money. The Central could not adopt such a course so far as its terminal work in New York is concerned.

The general decline in all of the tractions represented a belated sort of liquldation

Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke rose 7 points to 95, a new high record, on a few sales. This stock recently has attracted attention by its rapid movements, by a clique presumably.

The quick response of Southern Pacific to the general recovery made the report of an increased dividend next month seem the more plausible.

Announcement was made yesterday that J. P. Morgan & Co. had purchased from the Southern railway $15,000,000 three-year 5 per cent, notes. The announcement was forecast by President Finley's statement last week that large expenditures would be necessary to increase the company's facilities for handling freight and passenger traffic.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES.

Coroner Not Yet Ready in Report in Di Lucia Case.

While Coroner Mix declined last night to talk of his investigation into the shooting of Raffele Petrone Friday night it has been learned that in an all forenoon examination of new witnesses to the murder, Custode Di Lucia, the man arrested by the Meriden police Saturday after escaping from here, was positively identified as the man who fired the fatal shot, the authorities have been baffled as to whether Custode Di Lucia or his brother Lucanio, who is still at large, did the shooting, but yesterday's developments seen to fasten the crime on Custode.

Coroner Mix has ordered him and his father Angelo held without bail pending further inquiry.

The coroner refused either to deny or affirm the report that Custode had been identified. "I examined a number of new witnesses to the murder this ferencon and gained considerable new information, but I will not say what it was until I finish my investigation, which will not be for several days," he orime the father, and also the brother, if caught, will be held, charged with siding and abetting the murder.

A RUSH

To Register Dogs Vesterday.

When the town clerk opened his office yesterday there were about fifty dog owners on hand waiting for a chance to register their dogs, fearing that if they did not do so the dogs would be destroyed by the police. The police began yesterday a house to house canvass and will report all dogs that are not registered, and if the law is not obeyed presecutions will follow.

Those who pay now will be compelled to pay another license on May 1.

Conditions Much Confused Again -Buoyant Close.

New York, Jah. 21 .- Conditions in New York, Jah. 21.— Conditions in the stock market were much confused again to-day. The market did not maintain the buoyant show of strength with which it opened and did not even make a good resistance to the renewed selling pressure which developed later. It was inferred that the upshot of prices at the start were due largely to the requirements of uncovered shorts and the higher prices which were caus. and the higher prices which were caused by this buying were taken advantage of to renew the liquidation, as was the cast last week. There was a buoyant rebound at the last again. It was not a surprise that a considerable uncovered short interest should be developed when the downward Ho course of prices was once arrested and a turn upwards affected. It was heped also that the arrest of the rapid decline of prices would fortify the position of long accounts in the market so as to relieve them from the necessity for reducing their commitments, as was obviously the case last week.

The time occuled since the market closed on Saturday in a canvass of the situation found no warrant for the rumors of financial difficulties which were in circulation Saturday and there was an understanding about the stock exchange that some arrangements had been perfected for the stock of the arrangements had been perfected for the protection of a number of accounts which were overhanging last week's Pressed S. With the completion of the buying of this character the action of the market became disappointing again to the hopes of an extended recovery. The nature of the selling in the Interborough-Metropolitan stocks had an intimating effect on sentiment. It was accompanied by rumors that additional capital ledby rumors that additional capital issues were to be forthcoming from this new quarter. On the other hand much attention was affracted by a report that plans were shaping in some of the railroad corporations to mod-Ify their intended outlays for the coming year for extensions and betterments. Money continued to work easier and call loans were made for the most part at 3 per cent, or below. Interest rates on time loans wise continued to decline. The renewal of the liquidation served to revive reports of the necessitous scaling down of some important accounts of long standing and which, it is supposed, were help ed over the end of the year in the hope that the easing of the money market would offer a better chance for liquidation. MENDEL & FREEDMAN SALE THIS WEEK.

The shopping public will have chance this week to realize the truth of the moss-grown adage, "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good," While the winds of the past week, the week of the great A. & R. sale of the Mendel & Freedman store, blew nothing but an abundance of rain, which was disgusting to the managers of this popular store, it resulted in a decision to continue the sale through the present week. Thus the bad weather of the past six days has "blown" the shoppers a chance to take advantage of 1 real articles in bargains for six days

One hundred thousand dollars' worth of merchandise has been obtained for this annual Auction and Remnant sale, and almost that entire amount of goods is still awaiting the shopper's pleasure in the Mendel & Freedman store. Step. right in and look the bargains over. is what the management asks, but it is willing to wager that all who step in will step out well laden down with bar-

Stirring prices are offered in men's furnishings, unequalled bargains in all household articles and in all wearing apparel. In the boys' clothing department prices have been marked way down, while everything in the basement is of course lower still.

If the wet winds will kindly keep out of town for the rest of the week it is expected that this store will be the Mecca of shoppers.

THE GAMBLE-DESMOND COM-

It will well repay all of the ladies of New Haven and vicinity to carefully read the advertisement in to-day's Here.

The Rev. Andrew F. Harty, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church in Deep River, has been transferred by Bishop Tierney to St. Joseph's church on Edwards street, this city. The announcement came as a surprise to Father Harty's congregation, and all his parishioners expressed a feeling of regret at the change. Journal and Courier of the Gamble-ishioners expressed a feeling of regret at the change.

Father Harty went to Deep River about ten years ago, and has had charge of St. Joseph's church, Chester, where the parochial residence is, St. John's in Saybrook, the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows in Essex and St. Michael's church in Higganum. He made many friends there and was highly respected by all denominations.

He will succeed the Rev. M. J. Daily who died about a month ago.

At St. Joseph's church at 10 o'clock this morning there will be held a golemn month's mind mass of requiem for Father Dally. The celebrant will be the Rev. Rev. Rishop Tierney of Hartford. The deacous of honor will be the Rev. T. Fox of Newbown, with the Rev. Robert Early of St. Peter's sub-deacon.
