

CHAS. H. NORTHPROP COMMITTS SUICIDE

Ex-Treasurer of Newtown, Under Indictment for Embezzlement of Town Funds, Hangs Himself.

A GRADUATE OF YALE '90

Body Found in Hall of Residence by Young Son Returning Home from School—Trial Near at Hand.

Newtown, May 26.—Charles H. Northrop, former town treasurer, who has been under indictment for embezzlement of the town funds, took his own life today by hanging. His body was found by his young son shortly after 3 o'clock suspended from the banister of the second floor of his home.

The family was moving from the old home to a new house and Mr. Northrop was alone in the old residence. When his son returned from school in the afternoon he went upstairs and there saw the body of his father. A trouser strap had been attached to the banister and around Northrop's neck. The badly frightened boy ran into the street, screaming at the top of his voice. This attracted the attention of A. F. Nettleton of the Newtown Savings bank, and the Rev. James H. George, an Episcopal clergyman, who hastened to the house. Mrs. Northrop and other members of the family were notified, as was Medical Examiner W. H. Kiernan. The body was cut down and it was found that life had been extinct for half an hour.

Mr. Northrop was 49 years old and had been a resident of this town throughout his life. He was a member of a well-known family, his father having served in the state senate and held other political positions. Northrop was a graduate of the Yale law school in the class of 1890. He practiced law for some time, and then was chosen secretary and treasurer of the Newtown Savings bank. Being interested in politics and a democrat, he became affiliated in the same political interests as those of State Senator M. J. Houlihan.

He served as a member of the board of education, then as assessor, and was later elected town treasurer, which position he held for eight years. It was the investigation into the conduct of the affairs as town treasurer that led to his arrest on charges of embezzlement. He was also a member of the last constitutional convention.

His trial was to have come up at the present session of the criminal superior court in Bridgeport. He is survived by his father, C. P. Northrop; a brother, John J. Northrop, who is a member of the board of education; a sister, Miss Hattie Northrop; also by his widow and one son, ten years old, and a daughter, who was a student at Smith college at the time of her father's arrest. The amount of Northrop's alleged embezzlement from the town of Newtown was $4,000.

VIADUCT WORK SOON

Construction of Concrete Trolley Way Planned for Next Month.

Work on the construction of the viaduct which the New Haven road is to build for the purpose of carrying its trolley cars from the corner of State and Chapel streets to the railroad station in order to do away with the track in State street below Chapel will almost certainly be commenced within a few weeks now. The work could not be started until the tracks in the cut had been shifted, but the men have been at work upon this for about two weeks now and the work is going on well. When the signal system has been re-arranged according to these tracks it is planned to commence on the construction of the viaduct.

The work will be started at the Crown street bridge. The viaduct will be built of reinforced concrete in harmony with the bridge work in that section of the cut. It is planned to have double tracks all the way down. The viaduct will end at Water street, where the cars will come out into New Union avenue, where tracks have been laid and wires strung some time ago. The viaduct will be a series of concrete arches and at the intersection of the street which crosses the cut the cars will cross the streets. The viaduct will be right in the rear of the buildings along the west side of the cut.

KELLY FOR ENGINE 4

New Lieutenant Assigned to Conlan's Position.

Six assignments of firemen were announced by the fire department yesterday afternoon, among which was included the assigning of Joseph E. Kelly, the newly-appointed lieutenant, to engine company 4 in St. John street. The appointment of Lieutenant Kelly was made a week ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lieutenant Conlan in the explosion on the night of May 2. J. P. Finnerty, who was appointed a hoseman to fill the vacancy in the ranks of hosemen due to the promotion of Kelly, has been assigned to engine 6, and the following transfers were included in the shift: Roseman L. S. Higerty, engine 3 to engine 4; Roseman C. J. Shugrue, engine 3 to truck 2; and Roseman J. Sweeney, truck 2 to engine 1.

North Attleboro, Mass., May 26.—Charles E. Bancroft, receiver of the Jewett National bank of this town, which closed its doors after the mysterious death of its cashier, Frederick E. Sargent on December 13 last year, announced to-night that he would pay 30 per cent dividend to depositors early in July. This will bring the total of dividends already paid up to 30 per cent.

EVELYN STICKS TO THAW

Abandons Suit for Annulment of Marriage—His Relatives Back of First Action.

New York, May 26.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, through her counsel to-day withdrew the suit which she instituted some time ago for the annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw. This motion for withdrawal was sanctioned by Judge Devoe, and the case was declared discontinued without costs to either party to the suit. Immediately following the dismissal of the action, Daniel O'Reilly, personal counsel for Mrs. Thaw, issued a formal statement in which he declared that Mrs. Thaw had been an unwilling party to the proceeding from the first. It was only because of pressure on the part of her husband's relatives that she had any part in such a proceeding, said Mr. O'Reilly, and that she withdrew the action because she believes her husband's present position demands her loyalty, and that it would not serve any good purpose to prove at a time when he was attempting to gain his liberty that he was insane when he married her.

Mr. O'Reilly was quoted to-day as saying that there had been no reconciliation between Harry K. Thaw and his wife, and that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw wanted none. He added that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw thought she had a right to some financial recompense for the sacrifice she had made in Thaw's behalf.

EIGHT YEARS' FAILURE

John Warner Rearrested After That Time for Non-Support.

A non-support case that has been hanging fire some eight years or more will come up in the city court this morning. John J. Warner of no particular residence was arrested by Detective Dorman yesterday afternoon in Centerville after a considerable search and he will be the principal in the case. He is charged with failure to do anything for the support of his wife and two children one ten and the other eight years of age. Warner was arrested in July, 1900, on the same charge and had the case against him nolleed under the understanding that he would henceforth take care of his family. He disappeared and it is said in his wanderings he had been not only over this country but for a time in Mexico. During the eight years that have elapsed according to the complaint of the wife he has done nothing towards supporting either her or the children. Recently he returned to these parts and the information was secured by the detectives. He was found on the farm of a man in Centerville where he was working as a teamster. Warner is 33 years of age.

BOGUS MONEY ABOUT

City and Savin Rock Business Men Taken in With Bad Half Dollars.

The joy of the Savin Rock concession holders over the fine weather, big crowds and correspondingly large receipts on Sunday was somewhat chilled yesterday when after visits by United States Secret Service men they learned that during the rush of the day they had had a large number of counterfeit half dollars passed on them. When the news was noised around there was a general scramble for the cash boxes to learn which if any of the half dollars in the tills were "queer" and the result is said to have caused much chagrin owing to the number found.

SECRET SERVICE MEN HERE

Have Been Around Town for Several Days Trying to Get Line on Counterfeiters.

Because of the crowd the counterfeiters had an easy time getting rid of the bad money as in the rush no time was had by any of the booth cashiers to take more than a look at the amount of the piece handed them. As a result it is stated that a large number of the phony pieces were passed, just how many being beyond estimate as probably hundreds of them were in turn passed out again over the counter in change. For several days past the secret service men, one of them from Philadelphia, have been in this city on the trail of the counterfeiters which they had learned was being spread about pretty generally in this section. On the idea that it was probably being made somewhat hereabouts they have been on a still hunt for the men and not until they got nosing about the rock to see if any of the money had been floated there and were recognized did the fact that they were about get out. It is stated that for a week or two past reports from banks to the effect that there was a large amount of bad half dollars circulating here had been received at the government headquarters with the result that the detectives were sent on to look into the matter.

TWO FINE HORSES

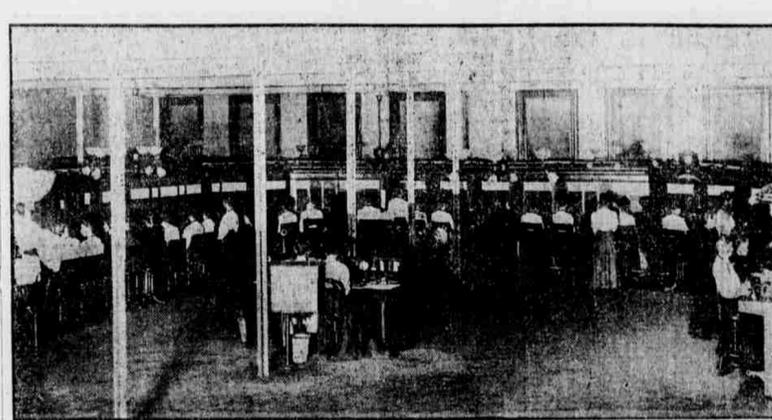

Louis E. Stoddard Adds to His String—Will Arrive To-day.

Louis E. Stoddard yesterday bought in New York of John Sprout, two splendid chestnut mares, trotting bred, standing about 14 1/2. It is expected that the animals will be entered in the coming horse show. They are expected here today.

BROMLEY IN BOSTON.

Major Isaac Bromley, who is at the head of the press department of the New Haven road, is spending a few days in Boston.

GLIMPSE AT THE "HELLO GIRLS"

The above picture shows a section (about two-thirds) of the local telephone switchboard and the ever-busy "Hello Girls." The young women standing are the supervisors and those sitting in the center of the room "Twenty-five," or the telephone information bureau. Their heads are as full of facts as a chestnut is of meat. REACH AGREEMENT ON CURRENCY BILL

Senate and House Conferes Graft a Compromise from Aldrich and Vreeland Measures.

Washington, May 26.—The senate and house conferees on the currency bills held three meetings to-day which did not adjourn until 8:30 o'clock and at the third reached a tentative agreement on which will be based the compromise agreement which the republican members of the conference hope to reach at an adjourned meeting to-morrow. At the conclusion of the final meeting this evening the probability of the reporting of a compromise bill to the two houses of congress was much stronger than at any previous time this session, indeed it was a declared certainty.

PLAN TO CLINCH IT TO-DAY

After Three Meetings Yesterday Prospect of Reporting a Bill to the Present Sessions Appears a Certainty.

The following are the main points of the understanding that has been reached: The reserve provisions in the Vreeland bill, calling for a retention of 25 per cent. in central reserve cities and 15 per cent. in other reserve cities is reduced to a straight ten per cent. reserve without reference to classification of cities. A higher rating is given to state and municipal bonds than to other securities upon which an emergency currency may be taken out by banks. That is to say, state, county and municipal bonds will be valued at not to exceed 90 per cent. of their market value, and all other bonds at not to exceed 70 per cent. of their market value, both without regard as to whether they are offered as securities for additional circulation under the national clearing house plan or under the individual bank-bond security plan.

The amount of circulation issuable upon a commercial paper basis is limited to forty per cent. of the capital of the applicant bank, instead of 100.

President Mellen was in his office at the South station and received United States Chief Deputy Charles Morse who handed him a copy of the bill and subpoena in behalf of all the parties named in the bill, except the Boston and Maine R. R. Arrangements for the service were made by Charles F. Choate, Jr., the counsel for the company.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TROUBLED

Democratic Convention To-day Scene of Spirited Contest.

Concord, N. H., May 26.—Unless diplomatic measures on the part of the leaders of the New Hampshire state democratic committee are able to bring about an unlooked for harmony, the democratic state convention to-morrow, called for the purpose of selecting four delegates at large and four alternates at large to the national democratic convention at Denver is expected to be the scene of a spirited contest. Unlike the other political conventions that have been held in the various New England states this spring, the disputed point will not be the question of endorsing any particular candidate for the presidential nomination but will have to do entirely with the personnel of the state delegation to the Denver convention. The party leaders have decided that the delegates and alternates selected to-morrow shall be sent to Denver without instructions and unpledged to any person's candidacy.

OBJECTS TO EXAM.

George Neal Requests Civil Service Board to Eliminate One.

With his attorneys, Stoddard and Goodhart, George Neal, the searcher of records in the public works department, whom Director Foley discharged last week, appeared before the civil service board yesterday afternoon and requested the board not to hold the examination for a search of records which has been called for June 2. The request is based on the contention that no vacancy exists in that office and that therefore there is no need of an examination.

PART OF FIGHT WITH FOLEY

Board Puts the Matter Up to the Corporation Counsel for an Opinion.

The board decided to ask the corporation counsel for an opinion on the matter. Already four or five applications have been filed with the secretary for this examination. The board felt that as it had been requested to hold an examination it was not its place to determine whether there was a vacancy or not, and that the determination of the legal phase of the question was foreign to the realm of operation of that body. The matter was laid on the table pending the opinion of the corporation counsel. Meanwhile the plans for the examination will continue.

For the examination for police sergeants there are even more candidates than had been expected. About sixty-five or seventy will take the examination. This will be held on June 3 in the boardman school building. Thursday and Friday nights have been set for the applicants to take their physical examination. Saturday night the candidates for substitute firemen are to take their physical examination and as there are about the same number as of the police the doctors will be kept pretty busy.

HEIRS GET $58,292.25

Distribution of Lucetta DeForest Estate Agreed Upon.

The distribution of the estate of the late Lucetta S. DeForest was approved in the probate court yesterday afternoon. By it two portions of the estate will go to the New Haven Trust company to hold in trust for Mary L. Hooper and Edward L. DeForest and the other two portions which have been set out are for Charles S. DeForest and Eugene DeForest who are the distributees of the estate. The estate was distributed amounts to $58,292.25, of which each of the distributees gets one-fourth.

The will of Ella A. Lewis leaving an estate of about $15,000 was also filed yesterday afternoon. The entire life use of the estate is given to the husband. He is also named as executor.

POSTOFFICE ROBBERY

Packerville Office and Postmaster's Home Both Entered.

Packerville, May 26.—The postoffice here was entered by burglars some time early this morning and a small quantity of one cent stamps, post cards and one cent stamped envelopes were taken. Entrance was made by smashing a window. An attempt was also made to enter the home of Thomas J. Brown, the postmaster, who lives about a mile from the office. The men were heard by Mrs. Brown and frightened away. The thieves were evidently acquainted with the fact that Mr. Brown was in the habit of taking the money, two-cent stamps and registered matter home with him nights. There is no clue to the thieves.

CORPORAL BEERS MODEL SOLDIER

Grays' Officer Wins Gold Medal as Best-Drilled Man in the Second Regiment.

The event of the season in local military circles occurred last evening when the annual dress parade and prize drill of the Second Regiment was held at the Meadow street armory. The gold medal awarded the best drilled man in the regiment was won by Corporal Carl E. Beers of Company E, the Grays, after a keen competition.

INSPECTION BY GOVERNOR

Notable Gathering of Military Men at Annual Regimental Drill Held in Armory Last Night.

In all respects last night's event will go down in Second Regiment history as the most successful and brilliant of the many annual events. Gold lace and brass buttons were very much in evidence and of the official assemblage but one was attired in civilian clothes that one being the commander-in-chief of all the military and naval forces of this state, Gov. Rollin S. Woodruff, who wore conventional evening dress. Revell was sounded shortly after 8 o'clock and the different companies began to form ranks on the armory floor. They stood at rest for several moments when the Second Regiment band which was stationed in the north corner of the armory struck up "Hail to the Chief" and Gov. Woodruff and Col. James Geddes of the Second came in, followed in double file by the governor's staff, and the military guests of the evening, forming a party of about forty. Among the guests present were representatives of the state military and naval branches.

In the moving about of the members of the reviewing party, the instruments of the representatives of the different branches of the service, produced an effect that was striking here an officer with the blue of the infantry predominating, there one with the red.

FOLLOWED ORIGINAL PLANS

City Engineer Kelly Says St. John Street Widening Was Never Planned as Straight.

When the special committee which was appointed to act on the petition of Alderman-at-Large J. Edmund Miller meets on Friday evening to investigate into the reason why the retaining wall which the courts have decided the city must build at the Humphrey street extension was not foreseen by the department, and why the widening of St. John street was not executed on a straight line, Mr. Kelly is expected to be on hand to explain the matter. Regarding the latter proposition, Mr. Kelly stated yesterday afternoon that the widening had been carried out in accordance with the original layout as it had been submitted, and he declared that the city had adopted all that could be had at the time under the circumstances. He said that, while he did not feel that he should explain in detail the situation until called upon to do so by the committee, he could say that the present widening was along the lines which were originally proposed, and which have been in contemplation at each of the several times, in the course of the past twenty-odd years, that the matter has come up for agitation, and that it had never been understood that the widening would be on a straight line from the corner of St. John and old Artizan streets.

YALE WRESTLER VICTOR

Dole Wins Try-Out for Olympic Contest.

New York, May 26.—Wrestlers from Yale, Princeton and Cornell as well as representatives of athletic clubs took part in the tryouts at catch-as-catch-can style at the Savage Institute to-night in order to qualify for the Olympic team.

YALE WRESTLER VICTOR

Dole Wins Try-Out for Olympic Contest.

Lee J. Talbot, of Cornell, and the Irish-American A. C., defeated G. W. Smith of the German-American A. C. of this city. This was the only bout in the heavyweight division. In the middleweight division, Herman Geris, German-American A. C., won from his clubmate, Joseph Sente. In the final bout of the class up to 133 pounds, G. S. Dole of Yale, won from Henry J. Spanjer, National Turnverein, Newark. Dole also won the final bout in the 147-pound class.

George M. Mehnert, National Turnverein, Newark, the survivor in the 112-pound class.

Although these men won out, it does not follow that they will be chosen to represent America at the Olympic contests as the selection of competitors is left solely to the discretion of the American committee.

YOUNG MAN DROWNS

Bernard O'Rourke, 19, Gets Beyond Depth and Sinks in West River.

After a vain attempt to save him had been made by his two companions with whom he was in bathing in West River early last evening, Bernard O'Rourke, a 19-year-old youth living with his brother at 489 Washington avenue was drowned. The accident happened near the New York railroad trestle over West river about 7 o'clock and an hour afterward the body was recovered by Harry Nicholson of 39 Morris street, who with a number of others was in a searching party.

FOUGHT OFF HIS RESCUERS

Struggles Took Companion Down Twice Before He Let Go to Save Himself.

Immediately after his supper young O'Rourke and two other youths named Jensen and Rubins went to the river for a swim. While his companions departed in the deep water about the bridge O'Rourke who couldn't swim contented himself with bathing in the shallow spots on the West Haven side of the river. The river at that point because of its bend and the swift running water has many deep holes in it and the boy stepped into one of them and disappeared. His two mates, at once made valiant attempts to rescue him and Jensen nearly succeeded and would have but for the struggles of the drowning boy.

When he sank both boys made for him and Jensen succeeded in getting him by the arm and was towing him ashore. In his efforts to save himself O'Rourke struggled so hard that twice he pulled Jensen under water with him and before Rubins could come to their assistance Jensen was forced to let go his hold and O'Rourke sank to rise no more. The other boys immediately spread an alarm and a party was soon made up to search for the body. When it was found Medical Examiner Barnett of Orange was called and he gave a verdict of accidental drowning and a permit to remove the body. The river at the time was at full tide with the water exceptionally high. Its banks are all a soft mud and it is the opinion of the medical examiner that O'Rourke's feet slipped from under him as he waded and he held into one of the numerous holes.

The boy was an orphan and was born in Ireland where he leaves two sisters. After the death of his parents about two years ago he came to this country and has since been living with his brother.

The drowning of O'Rourke was the first of this year's swimming fatalities in or about this city. The place where it occurred has been the scene of many other like accidents, but is still one of the favorite swimming pools of the young men and boys of the western section of the city.

WEATHER RECORD.

Forty-five Yale Men Chosen Tap Day Initiated Last Night.

Last night the initiation of the fifteen men chosen by the Yale senior society of Skull and Bones took place at the house on High street. The usual picturesque manner of a shabby hand dragging the candidates into the house was employed, and the fifteen came up one by one.

The other two societies, Scroll and Key and Wolf's Head, also took in the men who were chosen on tap day.

LADIES NAMED IN BIG CONTEST

Interest Continues to Grow, and Several from Every District Are Already Entered.

CANVASSING FOR BALLOTS

Stuffing the Ballot Box Permitted, and There Is Plenty of Time for a Winner to Start.

A number of young ladies whose names appear in the appended list have entered the Journal-Courier contest for trips to Washington, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and New York. The bell has tolled and it may be truly said "they are off, off to win in a friendly race for the trip of all trips, of a party who will afford courtesies and considerations that money cannot buy but distinction and influence will win.

The friendly contest has just begun and is open for any eligible young lady to enter and no one knows who may enter the contest at any minute with a few thousand votes as a starter. The votes are to be gotten, and it is the votes that will make the winners. If you do not get them others will. It is easy, so easy that you are surprised after you have been initiated into the art of vote-getting and isn't it fascinating? It is if you have started, and it becomes more charming as you see your scores shoot skyward.

The balloting is now in order. Votes can be cast for the candidates who have been nominated. A ballot box is in a prominent place in the Journal-Courier office for the reception of the votes.

The first count of the ballots will be made Friday evening. The polls will be open until 5 p. m. daily, and the standing of the candidates will appear in each succeeding day's paper. The changes in the standing of the various candidates will be watched with great interest during the contest. The daily vote exhibit is so arranged to show exactly the number of votes polled each day for each and all contestants. All special coupons are recorded in a consecutively numbered ledger that corresponds with the numbers of receipts issued.

Coupons clipped from the paper should be cut on border lines, thus making them uniform in size, which greatly facilitates the counting. It is necessary to write the names of candidates on each individual coupon.

The territory from which the candidates may secure their votes is not bounded. The votes are awaiting for the contestants to discover them. Vote early and often. Stuffing the ballot box is permitted and there is no limit on the score. The coupons will appear daily on the second page of the paper.

Get your friends busy with their shears and start the coupons flying toward the ballot box. Secure special ballots on subscription. The following table shows the number of votes that are given with three, six and twelve month subscriptions. Watch the date limit on both the single and the special ballots and cast all the votes that you can accumulate now. Special ballots issued with paid in advance subscriptions are good for the following number of votes:

Table with columns: Daily By Carrier, Amount, Votes. Rows: Three months ($1.50, 150), Six months ($3.00, 400), Twelve months ($6.00, 1000). Also Daily by Mail (Outside of New Haven) with similar rows.

A meeting of the senior class was held yesterday morning at the Boardman session room. President Fowler of the N. H. S. Alumni association addressed the students and urged them to become members of the alumni after their graduation. He told them of the numerous advantages gained by membership, and the great assistance rendered the school by so doing. President Chamberlain, Mr. Cowles, Miss Vera Bartholomew and Miss Marion Rice of the senior class also made some interesting remarks concerning the advisability of joining the alumni.

The Kappa Mu Sigma sorority of the high school will give a tea to the girls of the junior and senior classes on Friday, May 29, from 3 to 6 o'clock at the home of Miss Ruth Flynn, 175 Orchard street. The members of the Theta Sigma will be entertained by the Kappa Mu Sigma during the evening.

The School circle, in accordance with its usual custom, will present the incoming class of 1912 with a Freshman Handbook. The editorial staff for this publication has been appointed entirely from the junior class and is as follows: Editor-in-chief, John J. Keane; associates, Miss Irmagardie Schneider, Miss Elida Barnes; business manager, Victor E. Nettleton; associate, Elbridge Pierce.

The Handbook, which is a source of general interest to the freshmen, will be issued early in September, and the staff is already hard at work upon it, as this task is by no means a small one. This book is of great assistance to the new classes, as it acquaints them with the different associations of the school and with the faculty. The freshmen are also urged to try for the various prizes, debating societies and athletic teams, which the handbook explains fully.

MICHIGAN DOWN THE WAYS.

First of the "All-Big-Gun" Battleships Successfully Launched.

Camden, N. J., May 26.—The great steel hull of the battleship Michigan was launched today at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company at South Camden. The Michigan is a sister ship of the South Carolina, under construction at the Cramps' shipyard on the Philadelphia side of the Delaware. The launching was successful. Miss Carol Barnes Newberry of Detroit, daughter of Assistant Secretary Newberry, named the battleship, which is 50 per cent. completed, and will be turned over in about another year.

Following the launching the invited guests were entertained at luncheon by the officials of the company. Following custom, toasts were drunk to the President of the United States, the secretary, and assistant secretary of the navy, the young lady who named the vessel, and a "good luck" toast to the battleship itself. The new vessel is known as an "all-big-gun" battleship, as it will carry eight twelve-inch breech-loading rifles.

CITY HALL ALTERATIONS GROW.

In looking up the city year book for 1909 Controller Rowe yesterday discovered some interesting facts. He was looking up the grand list for that year and though he did not find it in the year book of 1906 he found out that the site on which city hall stands today was purchased for $25,000. It is a lot 105 by 190 feet. Today the property is worth $1,500 a foot, which would mean a lot valued at about $130,000, showing the great increase in value of the property in the central part of this city during the past 45 years.

ADVOCATE ALLIANCE
France Favors Union With Britain if Her Army Is Reorganized.
NAVY OF LITTLE VALUE
Cordial Relations Evidenced by British Greeting to French President.

Paris, May 26.—The speeches exchanged in London between President Fallieres and King Edward have attracted much attention from the French press and the Temps this afternoon says it considers the time to be ripe for the substitution of an Anglo-French alliance instead of the present entente, provided that the British army be radically reorganized in order to render it capable of energetic action on the continent, otherwise, the paper says, the benefits of the alliance would be one-sided and in favor of England, and consequently inadvisable.

The Temps recognizes that the cordial relations between France and Great Britain as manifested yesterday, are likely, in the event of a crisis to breed identity of interests, but it thinks it dangerous to rely upon moral understandings. "Forced to choose between Germany and Great Britain," the Temps declares, "France chooses Great Britain. We can with dignity live on correct terms with Germany, but the past forbids us going further. As for the future, Germany only wants what we cannot grant, namely, the admission of German funds to the Paris bourse. On the other hand the greatest objection to a British alliance has disappeared with the reconciliation of our ally, Russia, with Great Britain."

"From the English standpoint this alliance is desirable. England throughout her history always has felt the necessity of a continental alliance and continental support. The French army would be of inestimable value to Great Britain in the event of war, but would British support be equally advantageous to us? British naval victories would not drive a single cannon from our frontier. It would be different if the British army was completely reorganized so as to render it capable of a powerful land diversion. In other words, if Great Britain became for France a second Russia."

"The day upon which Great Britain discarding Mr. Haliburn's insufficient plan, gives the country a modern army, the day upon which Great Britain remembers Napoleon fell at Waterloo and not at Trafalgar, that day all far-seeing Frenchmen will become partisans of the British alliance, the purpose of which would be to compete and enlarge that system of Pacific defence which did not result from the Franco-Russian alliance of 1891."

"To those who either express surprise," the Temps concludes, "that military considerations weigh so heavily in this argument, we observe that the value of diplomatic combinations for peace is measured by their efficacy in war."

of the artillery here the maroon of the medical branch, and there the dark blue of the navy.

As soon as the reviewing party reached the reviewing stand, the regiment was arranged for inspection.

There are but five companies, the Blues, the Sarafids, the Light Guard, the Greys and the City Fusils in this city and to have two battalions, or half a regiment it was necessary to make six companies out of the five on the floor. Lieutenant Thomas of the Blues, was put in command of the extra company. Major Ernest L.

Isbell commanded one battalion, and Major Norton the other. The regiment was arranged in an open square, four companies forming one side, and one company at right angles at each end. The colors were in the center. Governor Woodruff, accompanied by Colonel Geddes, then inspected the troops. After the inspection, the troops headed by the band, in company formation, passed in review before the governor.

The companies were then dismissed and preparations for the prize drill made. Each company is entitled to enter five men in the regimental competition. In most cases the five from each company were the five who held out the longest in the individual company competitions so the cream of the regiment was gathered on the floor for the drill. The judges were: Col. Edward Schultz, inspector general, C. N. G.; Lieut. Evans, U. S. A., the United States recruiting officer in this city, and Col. Fitch of the Coast artillery.

There were representatives of the Sarafids, the Blues, the Greys, the City Guard, the Light Guard, the Meridon, Wallingford companies and Company A of Waterbury. In all there were about 40 men, and they were drilled in two detachments. Major Isbell was drill master of the first squad, and it took considerable time to reduce the number of competitors. Strange to say, Musician Haley who has won the regimental drill medal twice, was one of the first ones to fall by the wayside. The second squad was drilled by Major Norton, and the ranks were depleted rapidly. Those that were left were then drilled by Lieut. Col. McCabe. For errors in executing the manual of arms, all but five were retired. These five Corp. Beers of the Blues, Corp. Beers of the Greys, Sergt. McCormack of the Light Guard and Sergt. J. J. Smith of Company W, Wallingford. Sergt. Smith was the first one retired, then Sergt. McCormack. After the latter had been retired the officer who sent him to the rear came up and informed McCormack, that he had been in error in retiring him. It was too late to put him back in the drill. After a little more work, the judges awarded Corporal Beers the first prize, Corporal Riley, second and Private Phelps, third.

Corp. Beers won the medal last year. After the drill, the regimental drill was given, and again the guardsmen passed in review before the governor. The open square was again formed and to the air "The Star Spangled Banner" the colors were lowered, and shortly after the regiment was dismissed.

Following the drill, the governor, his staff, and the military guests present were the guests of Col. Geddes, his staff and the officers of the second regiment at a luncheon served in the regimental headquarters.

Last evening's drill demonstrated the absolute inadequacy of the Second Regiment armory for such an event. It was hard work to do any maneuvering with half a regiment, and it would be an impossibility to get a full regiment of twelve companies in, to say nothing of drilling.

There were about 5,000 people present at the review, and standing room was at a premium. People stood three or four deep even in the galleries.

GASTON PHILIP JURY SLOW
Futile Attempt to Secure Twelve Men to Try Wealthy Man.
Washington, May 26.—Another day was spent in a futile attempt to secure a jury to sit in the trial in criminal court of Gaston Philip of New York and Washington, accused of the murder of Frank Macaboy, a cabman at the Arlington hotel in this city about a year ago. The second day of the trial witnessed no substantial progress in the matter of securing the twelve men who will determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. The situation is precisely the same as yesterday, the day closing with eleven men in the jury box.

The eleven men now in the box are still open to challenge, but it is confidently believed that the jury will be completed to-morrow. Justice Barnard upon adjourning court to-day announced that another special venire of thirty talesmen would be on hand when court convenes to-morrow.

BISHOPS ELECTED
Choosing of Last of the Eight Greeted With Signs of Relief.
DR. BRISTOL SELECTED
Was McKinley's Pastor and Adviser—Dr. Goodell May Go to Bishop Quayle's Church.

Baltimore, Md., May 26.—The Episcopal election of the Methodist Episcopal general conference of 1908 is now a matter of history, and when announcement was made late today of the selection of the eighth and last bishop very many of the delegates heaved sighs of relief.

The new bishops, in the order of their election, and the number of votes each received on the electing ballot, are as follows:

Rev. Dr. W. F. Anderson, of New York, secretary of the board of education, Freedmen's Aid and Sunday schools, 548 votes.

Rev. Dr. J. L. Nuelson, professor in Nat. Theological seminary, Berea, O., 549 votes.

Rev. Dr. W. A. Quayle, pastor of St. James' church, Chicago, 512 votes.

Rev. Dr. Charles W. Smith, editor of the Pittsburg Christian Advocate, 511 votes.

Rev. Dr. Wilson S. Lewis, president of Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia., 524 votes.

Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Hughes, president of De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind., 511 votes.

Rev. Dr. Robert McIntyre, pastor of the First church, Los Angeles, Cal., 514 votes.

Rev. Dr. Frank M. Bristol, pastor of the Metropolitan church, Washington, D. C., 497 votes.

The last named was the pastor and intimate friend, and often, it is said, adviser, of the late President McKinley.

The bishops-elect will be consecrated at a special service which will be held on Sunday afternoon at the Lyric. The episcopal election out of the way, the conference will now take up the election of a missionary bishop for Mexico, a secretary of the general conference, four publishing agents, thirteen editors, corresponding secretaries of various boards, trustees, a new commission on aggressive evangelism and a number of other officials. The selection of many of these will be a simple matter, as for each of quite a number of the positions there is but one candidate. For more than a score of them, however, lively contests are expected and it is difficult to guess when the elections will have been finished. The windup rush is about to begin and on Thursday the conference will begin to hold regular afternoon business sessions. It is not improbable that on Friday and Saturday there will be night sessions, and the final adjournment will doubtless not be earlier than midnight next Monday night.

One of the rumors of the day is that Rev. Dr. Charles L. Goodell, pastor of Calvary church, New York, will be asked to succeed Dr. D. B. Quayle as pastor of St. James', Chicago.

DID NOT MARRY MME. GOULD
Hoboken Justice of the Peace Denies That He Performed Alleged Ceremony.
New York, May 26.—Justice of the Peace Budenbender stated officially before the board of health in Hoboken to-day that he performed no ceremony for Mme. Gould and Prince Helle de Sagan. The justice had been summoned to appear before the board because of a complaint filed against him setting forth that there was reason to believe he had married Mme. Gould and Prince de Sagan early in April last, and had failed to comply with the provisions of the law requiring that a marriage certificate be filed with the clerk of the health board within thirty days after the ceremony.

Frenchman Unable to Control His Indignation.
Paris, May 26.—A man who gave the name of Ebner to-day attempted to destroy Renouard's allegorical picture "The Trial of Dreyfus" in the salon of the Societe des Beaux Arts. He first vainly tried to rip it with a knife, but the picture was covered with a thick glass, fear having been entertained when it was hung that just such an attempt might be made, and finally wrenched it from the wall and trampled it under foot. The picture was considerably damaged but it can be repaired. Ebner, who was placed under arrest, told the magistrate that he was a nationalist and was unable to control his indignation at the sight of the picture.

DISCORD IN CHURCH

Presbyterian General Assembly Gets Heated Over Administrative Methods.

TOO MUCH CENTRALIZATION

Committee's Report Conceived in a State of Mental Obscurity, Says Delegate.

Kansas City, Mo., May 26.—Discord entered into the proceedings of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America to-day for the first time during the present assembly, while the report of the committee on administrative agencies was under consideration.

It was apparent during the heated session of the report that there is in the general assembly sentiment in favor of reorganizing the administrative agencies of the church by changing the personnel of this important committee although a motion to that effect was defeated.

When these recommendations were submitted to the assembly for action, Dr. Rice V. Hunter of Buffalo took exception to the nature of one section, which he said gave too much power to the twenty-one men composing the committee on administrative agencies, adding the assertion that there is a growing belief in this assembly that "too much power is being centered in the hands of a few men."

He said this committee should be entirely free from any special interest in any board of the church. Several speeches of a conciliatory nature followed, and when Vice Moderator James put the recommendations of the committee to a vote they were adopted. It was believed harmony had been secured but it soon developed that the storm had not yet spent its force.

LONGEST ASSEMBLY ENDS

Providence, R. I., May 26.—The Rhode Island general assembly closed to-night after a record session of seventy-nine days. The longest previous session was that of 1905, of seventy-five days.

OMNIBUS BILL THROUGH

House Passes Seven Measures in One After Resolutions.

Washington, May 26.—The omnibus house bill embracing seven separate measures affecting the navigation laws was considered and passed by the senate to-day, but not without resistance. Senator Newlands made an effort to have the measure amended by inserting therein the bill creating the inland waterways commission. He was met with prompt objection and the senate proceeded to speak in length on the importance of the work of the waterways commission.

Goodwin, Hartford; Simon E. Baldwin, New Haven; Jonathan Trumbull, Norwich; Charles W. Stewart, Bridgeport; Carl Stoeckel, Norfolk; Frank Farnsworth Starr, Middletown; Ellen E. FIGHT ON BISHOP ACCOUNT

Statement in Transfer Company Man Estate Is Opposed.

Another big fight in connection with an estate in the probate court began yesterday at the hearing on the account of the account filed by George H. Bishop of the estate of W. S. Bishop, Richard L. Bishop, Mr. Bishop was the original partner in the firm of Peck & Bishop, and left a very large estate. In 1880 he died, and his son, George, was named as administrator. It seems that in that time no account had been filed, until this year. Now a brother of the administrator opposes the acceptance of his brother's account. The account shows that the administrator has paid out the sum of $5,000. The hearing lasted for three hours yesterday afternoon and was then put over until next Wednesday, at which time it is expected there will be a bitter contest over the account. Ex-Judge Livingston W. Cleveland, E. W. Seymour, Leonard appear for the administrator, and Judge Blydenburgh for the objector.

BIG AUTO EVENT TO-DAY

Many of the Best Cars in City Entered in Shingle Hill Climb.

The first annual hill climbing contest of the Yale University Automobile club is to be held on Shingle Hill, West Haven, this afternoon, and judging from the amount of enthusiasm being taken in the affair the contest will be a most successful one.

The event is to be held under the rules and with the sanction of the American Automobile association, and the committee from the Yale club having the meet in charge, are loud in their praises of the courteous manner in which they have been treated by the selection of West Haven, who readily granted permission for the meet and have given all the assistance possible.

GIVE BUILDING AWAY

Only $2,000 Offered for $20,000 Concreted Structure at Jamestown.

Hartford, May 26.—The Connecticut state building at the Jamestown exposition may be given to the state of Virginia or the town of Jamestown as a memorial of the part this state took in the recent ter-centennial according to the discussion now going on among the state officials and the members of the state commission to the exposition. This action, in line with that of several other states is suggested as a solution of the problem as to what to do with the building which is now of no further use to the state.

CALDWELL LOSING MIND

Witness Wanted in England for Perjury Confined in Asylum.

New York, May 26.—The extradition proceedings in the case of Robert Caldwell, who is wanted in England for perjury alleged to have been committed by him when a witness in the famous Druce case, were to-day further adjourned until July 28 by United States Commissioner Alexander. The long adjournment was due to the receipt of a report from Superintendent Mahon, of the Manhattan State hospital, in which institution Caldwell has been confined for some months, stating that the patient appears to be falling gradually, both mentally and physically. Caldwell, according to the report, is unable to leave his bed.

THE IDEAL THEOLOGY

President of Hartford Seminary Addresses Alumni.

Hartford, May 26.—President William Douglas Mackenzie of the Hartford Theological seminary delivered before the annual banquet of the alumni this evening an address of great moment upon "The Ideal Theology of Seminary," describing the type of seminary which is destined to survive and serve mankind in the generation to come. It will be one of the hand the extreme conservatism which decries scientific investigation as the destruction of all faith, and on the other, the extreme radicalism which holds that scientific criticism has swept away every vestige of supernatural religion.

WEST VIRGINIA BRYAN'S

At all the conventions William J. Bryan was endorsed and the delegates instructed to support him first and last.

PLAY BALL IN FOURTH WARD

Alderman Cunningham Gets Permission from Judge Studley.

Alderman Patrick Cunningham has received permission from Judge John P. Studley, trustee of the C. F. Tuttle estate, for the boys of the Fourth ward to play ball on the lot near the Howard avenue bridge, formerly the site of the coliseum. The police have driven the boys away from there at the request of two of the neighbors, but now with the trustee's permission the great American game will be played in the fields. Incidentally the people who kicked over the baseball are the ones who protested a number of years ago when a bicycle track was laid in that section of the city.

A CHALLENGE

Dr. W. H. Darrow Ready to Discuss Treatment of the Horse.

I issued a challenge in the Toledo Courier some thirty or more years ago, to any veterinary surgeon in the world to discuss the proper methods of doctoring the most useful animal in the world—the horse. It was answered several times, but not in a satisfactory way; therefore I will again issue the challenge, which is done by request of parties very much interested in horses and their treatment. Here is the challenge:

Dr. W. H. Darrow of Plymouth, Mich., late of Gailford, now of New Haven, Conn., has for years claimed the horse as a physiological study, to be vice versa to man or any other animal, and as far as he knows, he stands alone in this assertion, and in opposition to all authority and all published treatises on the subject. He also claims that there is no known living animal of the same nature and habits as the horse and his species.

In consideration of his established views on this subject he issues a challenge through the Courier to any veterinary surgeon in the world to discuss the proper methods through the paper of doctoring this, the most useful of all animals—the horse. All decisions to be made by thoroughly practical physicians, with all technicalities properly explained so that every farmer's boy may understand what he reads.

NORTH CAROLINA VERY DRY

State Goes Prohibition by Majority of Forty Thousand.

Raleigh, N. C., May 26.—North Carolina was carried for state prohibition to-day, by a majority that is estimated at from 40,000 to 42,000. The prohibition ticket has carried 75 out of the 98 counties by majorities approximating 48,500. The anti-prohibition ticket has twenty counties by majorities approximating 5,600. This calculation is partly based on estimates, and the prohibition leaders say it is possible for the prohibition majority to reach fifty thousand. The election passed off very quietly.

CONGRESS BLAMED

Public Printing Office Probers Find No Proof of Actual Fraud.

AUDIT SYSTEM ASSAILED

Congress Held Responsible for Failure to Supervise Office More Closely.

Washington, May 26.—By direction of the joint printing investigation committee of the senate and house there was to-day transmitted to congress the report of the sub-committee which has been investigating affairs in the government printing office, an investigation which resulted in the suspension and subsequent resignation of Public Printer Stillings. After referring to the fact that the committee had recommended the suspension of Mr. Stillings, which, it says, was on account of "the unfortunate state of affairs in connection with the organization and the purchases of the government printing office," the report proceeded:

"Upon the strength of this recommendation the president suspended the public printer. The action taken by the president at the instance of the committee effected a saving of nearly $40,000 through the termination of the audit system contract, which otherwise would have been wastefully expended."

"Discussing the audit system the committee says: "Although no evidence of fraud or positive wrong-doing on the part of the public printer developed, the facts secured indicated great laxity in the procedure of the printing office in relation to the purchase of supplies, particularly purchases in which the audit system was interested and justifies severe criticism in several important particulars."

"The sub-committee has declined to receive bids from companies allied with the persons operating under the contract, and has safe-guarded the award of contracts for paper by recommending the rejection of all bids which seemed open to the slightest suspicion of impropriety."

"The sub-committee earnestly recommends the placing of a limitation in each appropriation bill which will prevent expenditures exceeding the estimates submitted by the public printer. They say that under the present law there is nothing to prevent the public printer from expending for machinery or any other article all of the appropriation intended for other purposes and binding the government. They think this system should be changed."

FINED FOR KEEPING KEG

Woman Used Brewery's Property to Store Pickled Onions.

Mrs. Mary Barber, owner of a little fruit store near the Eagle Brewing company's plant in Waterbury, was before Judge Burpee in the city court of that city, yesterday, charged with wrongful detention of a beer keg belonging to the brewery. The case was brought under a statute making it a misdemeanor to detain any property of another after demand has been made for its return and today's case was the first brought in some time under its provisions. Mrs. Barber was found guilty and was fined $10 without costs.

Thomas H. Hayes, president of the brewery, and Thomas Finnegan, one of its agents, testified that they went to Mrs. Barber's store and found the beer keg, which was built to hold a quarter of a barrel of beer. She had pickled onions in it. The men first asked for pickles, and Mrs. Barber showed them the cucumber pickles. They said they didn't want any pickled cucumbers, but another kind, and both then made a thorough search of the store. Mr. Finnegan finally landed the keg in a corner of the cellar.

Mrs. Barber said she told the two men to take the keg if they wanted to, but they didn't want to, as it was knocked in, disabling the vessel for brewery purposes. Mr. Hayes told her she could pay $2 for it and there wouldn't be any trouble. Mrs. Barber further said that she didn't take the keg, that it was in the cellar of the house when she and her husband bought the place three years ago. Mr. Hayes said that as the result of people taking beer kegs and keeping them from the brewery the latter was out several thousands of dollars every year.

In announcing the fine the court said: "The statute under which this case is brought is very arbitrary. It is dangerous to buy beer, unless you send the bottles back immediately."

HURRY CALL FOR POLICE

Four Extras Go to Oak Street, and All for Nothing.

What was thought would prove a good sized riot in Oak street about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon resulted in the detouring of the central station patrol wagon to that section with a squad of four extra patrolmen only to find that there was no one to be arrested at all. An Italian and a Jew had entered into a controversy which had become so exciting that it attracted a large part of the population of that street. A hurry call was sent for the police as it was thought that trouble was brewing but the dispute was settled and the police returned without acting.

CHILDREN'S FIGHT FATAL

Innocent Bystander the Victim Again.

New London, May 26.—Lyle J. Stockford, aged two, son of Edmund A. Stockford of Groton, received a charge from a shot gun in the upper part of his thigh early this evening and died on his way across the Thames river to the Memorial hospital in this city. The gun was in the hands of an older brother who was fighting for the possession of it with an older sister. The parents were away when the accident happened. Medical Examiner Harry M. Lee, who was notified, gave the verdict of accidental shooting after his examination.

NEW TRUSTEE BOARD

To Look After Insurance Affairs of Locomotive Engineers.

Columbus, O., May 26.—With one exception, an entire new board of trustees will look after the affairs of the insurance department of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for the next two years. The new board was completed today by the election of W. T. Christy, of Algiers, La., and L. F. Welch, of Atlanta, Ga., was the only one of the old members to hold over. The insurance department taking all day long, now on May 28, the warning from a narrow escape from being $360,000 which was on deposit with a Cleveland bank, which failed, took action, instructing the trustees to hereafter insure all bank deposits with bonding companies.

ACCIDENT ON VIADUCT

Express Train at Bridgeport Narrowly Escapes Wreck.

Bridgeport, May 26.—As the 5:03 p. m. train out of Boston, due in New York at 10 p. m., one of the most popular express trains on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was slowing down in the station in this city at 9:50 o'clock tonight, a truck on one of the day coaches broke just as the air brakes were applied. The wheels came off, the end of the car dropped and tore up the ties and the platform for about 100 feet. The passengers in that and the following cars were badly shaken up, but nobody was injured to any extent. The car was cut out and the train proceeded after half an hour's delay. Had the accident occurred a minute sooner the rear half of the train would undoubtedly have gone off the high viaduct over which the road passes through the city.

HOME RULE FOR SCOTLAND

Churchill's Campaign Pledge Bears Quick Fruit.

London, May 26.—Another of the pledges given by Winston Spencer Churchill during his recent electoral campaign in Dundee has borne quick fruit and a "home rule for Scotland" bill was introduced in the house of commons by Duncan Vernon Pirie, a member for North Aberdeen, this afternoon.

Mr. Pirie explained that the main object of this bill was to devolve to a legislative body in Scotland the power to make laws on matters relating exclusively to that country. A. J. Balfour objected strongly, but the house by 257 votes to 192 voted in favor of allowing the bill to go to its first reading.

MUHLFELDERS'

CALLS JEROME GREAT CORRUPTER

Attorney Pierce Arraigns District Attorney in Petition Demanding His Removal.

AN EXAMPLE OF EVIL

His Discrimination Begets Anarchy—Jerome Characteristics Brief as "Hot-Air Argument."

Elizabethtown, N. Y., May 26.—Argument on the charges brought for the removal of District Attorney Jerome, of New York county, from office was made here today before Richard L. Hand, the commissioner appointed by Governor Hughes.

Commissioner Hand decided to hear first Mr. Jerome, who was accompanied here by Assistant District Attorney Garvan, Franklin Pierce, of counsel for the petitioners, the King committee of Metropolitan Street Railway stockholders, submitted a long brief. He will make his oral argument tomorrow. Mr. Jerome will have a chance to reply, and Mr. Pierce will close the argument.

Mr. Jerome, in opening his argument, said it was not difficult to knock over a man of straw when it had once been set up, but a stick ought to have at least some stuffing besides "hot air" before anybody should be called upon to knock it over.

He declared that there is more "hot air" in the 200-page brief submitted by counsel for the petitioners than he had ever seen in that same space, and he criticized what he termed irresponsible editors of yellow journals.

The brief submitted by Franklin Pierce, counsel for the complainants declared that every thoughtful man knows that conditions in New York county are "a hundred times more dangerous to the welfare of society than murder itself and that a greater calamity could not visit the people of New York than the continuation of the evil example and the disgraceful conduct of William Travers Jerome in the office of public prosecutor of New York county."

The brief is a voluminous document of nearly two hundred printed pages in which the charges against the district attorney are reviewed in a most exhaustive way. In addition to that, Mr. Pierce argued that even in the investigation of these charges the district attorney has conducted in a manner warranting his removal from office. He declared that Mr. Jerome all through the examination threatened witnesses with criminal prosecution "and used other methods of that kind."

On the first of the eighteen charges Mr. Pierce takes the ground that the district attorney's failure to investigate and prosecute the alleged "jury-fixing" in the Metropolitan Street Railway case was a case of neglect of duty which was wholly inexcusable. "The extent of the existence of bribery of jurymen, bribery of court officials, tampering with witnesses and controlling by criminal methods the conduct of the whole court," said he, "is of the highest importance, because a universal condition of crime of that sort is in and of itself notice to the district attorney, and its continued prevalence over a long period of time, accompanied by great excesses, makes it easy for him to procure facts showing criminal intent."

Continuing, Mr. Pierce quoted the testimony of Tillinghast, who served as a juror in many cases and who was carried over one term to another on many occasions, and says: "He tells us he received money for every case in which he sat as a juror for the Metropolitan and describes vividly the manner in which it was received.

"But these are not the most serious matters. About every officer in the city court was manipulating jurymen in the interest of the Metropolitan and of attorneys for private parties who could pay them small sums of money." By means of vouchers, printed from the originals which still exist, Mr. Pierce endeavors to show how the attorneys managed a control he clerks of the court.

"When these facts were disclosed to the district attorney," says Mr. Jerome, "if he possessed any of the true spirit of a public prosecutor, he would have gone after the law-breaker. He did nothing of the kind." To show that Mr. Jerome knew of these corrupt conditions the brief gives the story of the attempts of Mr. Julian, who was an employee of the Metropolitan for ten years and instrumental in the alleged bribery of jurymen, to furnish the office of the district attorney with the necessary evidence. "Mr. Smyth is the only assistant in the district attorney's office who pretends to have investigated this matter. He had the evidence of both Tillinghast and Baggs, and he could have at once proceeded before the December, 1905, grand jury, and a hundred corroborating circumstances might have been added. And yet this young man concluded that it was impossible for him to secure sufficient evidence for the commission of one of these crimes.

"Every thoughtful man knows that such conditions are a hundred times more dangerous to the welfare of society than murder itself, but in spite of this," Mr. Pierce declared, "Mr. Jerome regarded such a condition of affairs as scarcely of any serious importance. I may be wrong in my opinion, but I am sure that I submit to your honors that a more dangerous and more dangerous condition of affairs has never been developed than the evidence here shows. Yet Mr. Jerome treats such an opinion as 'mere hifalutin'."

The circumstances attending a hearing before Justice Seabury in the supreme court in which Mr. Jerome withdrew after an argument with the justice, Mr. Pierce declared to show "as discreditable an act as ever done by a public official." Then taking up the testimony of the present hearing regarding certain uncomplimentary remarks which the district attorney is alleged to have made with reference to Justice Seabury the brief continued:

"Yet this district attorney, who has been recent to every official obligation, to every trust confided in him, who went before Judge Seabury on his investigation claiming that he wanted to help him, and then used every effort to obstruct Judge Seabury's investigation, ends up by insulting the judge and leaving the hearing in anger, still persists in vilification of this honorable judge, upon whom he heaps every epithet which he can command. A greater calamity could not visit the people of New York than the continuation of the evil example and the disgraceful conduct of William Travers Jerome in the office of public prosecutor of New York county."

Taking up the case of George W. Perkins in the so-called political contribution case, the brief says:

"It is undisputed that Mr. Jerome would not furnish any evidence to the March grand jury, and we have his own statement that if they had found an indictment against George W. Perkins that he would have refused to sign it.

"Such conduct on the part of the district attorney and his position that he would not sign an indictment of the grand jury, is in and of itself misconduct of a gross character and it affords ample reason for his removal.

"For the purpose of shielding Mr. Perkins from criminal prosecution he instituted a proceeding before Justice Joseph L. Mosk, city magistrate. In that proceeding instead of invoking the admissions of Mr. Perkins before the Armstrong committee to the fact that the matter of these campaign disbursements did not come before the finance committee and was wholly the work of Perkins and President McCall, he prepared evidence directly to the contrary, and placed before the magistrate a statement of Mr. E. D. Randolph, contradicting his statement before the Armstrong committee, and finally as a culmination of this misconduct permitted a letter from Mr. Perkins, declaring his innocent intent in the transaction, to be used as the basis of the whole proceeding.

"The criminal proceeding before Judge Mosk was, so far as the district attorney and the defendant's attorney were concerned, collusive, and there is no doubt about it. At least such a case would have been collusive, but for the official relation in which Mr. Jerome acted.

"The fact that it appeared from the affidavits laid by Mr. Jerome before Justice Mosk that this money (involved in the Perkins case) was devoted, with the knowledge and consent of the finance committee of this corporation, to the purpose of aiding the campaign of Mr. Roosevelt, and the declaration of Mr. Roosevelt's letter as to his innocent intent, were the foundation of the decision of the Appellate courts, and thereby Mr. Jerome has procured a decision which he says controls his action as against all other companies making campaign contributions.

"Is it necessary for me to urge upon your honor that this kind of crime is the most dangerous to public morals, the most dangerous to the political and civic life of our country of any existing? Is it necessary for me to urge upon your honor that Mr. Jerome, in failing to prosecute this class of law-breakers, is falling along a line of duty which endangers the welfare of the state and of the nation? His failure to do his duty is clear and the penalty of removal ought to be visited without hesitation."

TO OPEN BALLOT BOXES.

Hearst Wins Over McClellan in Mayorality Hearing.
New York, May 26.—The boxes containing the ballots cast in the McClellan-Hearst mayorality contest nearly three years ago, which have been the object of litigation since that election day, are to be opened. This was decided by Judge Lambert in the supreme court today when he overruled a motion containing 29 separate objections made by counsel for Mayor McClellan in connection with the recent hearing now in progress.
The recount hearing has been in progress several weeks and is expected to continue through the summer. Nearly 2,000 ballot boxes were used in the election of 1905, and it is possible that all the ballots contained in all these boxes may be canvassed in the presence of the court.

NEWHAVEN IN FORM

Corcoran Pitches Splendidly, While Simmons and Pleiss Play Brilliantly.

BATFEST FOR HARTFORD

Holyoke Smothered—Tuckey Twirls Meriden to Victory, and Ponies Win Easily.

CONNECTICUT LEAGUE STANDING. Hartford 16, Springfield 12, New Haven 10, Meriden 11, New Britain 9, Waterbury 9, Holyoke 9, Bridgeport 6.

GAMES TO-DAY. New Haven at Hartford, New Britain at Springfield, Meriden at Holyoke, Bridgeport at Waterbury.

(Special to the Journal-Courier.) Waterbury, May 26.—George Bone's first day on the New Haven baseball club's bench certainly had an auspicious beginning here to-day when his ball tossers forced the locals to bite the dust of the Redville diamond to the grimy tuns of a shut out.

In this with two down and O'Drain and Fitzpatrick on third and second respectively, Simmons made one of the prettiest steps ever seen on this diamond off Swander's slinging bounder close to first and retired the side. The play deserved all the applause it received.

TUCKEY WINS AGAIN. New Haven's Former Twirler Enables Meriden to Down New Britain.

Meriden, May 26.—Perfect work by Tom Tuckey in the box and gilt-edged support enabled the home team to shut out New Britain in an interesting contest this afternoon. Only one error, and that an excusable one, was made by the Meridians.

Again the second New Haven sacker, Corcoran singled and when Fitzpatrick overthrew to first in a foolish attempt to get him he continued to second. Jerry Connell made a pretty sacrifice, placing Corcoran on the dizzy corner from where Pleiss scored him by a timely single.

PONIES BLANK ORATORS. Beard of Springfield Too Much for Bridgeport.

Bridgeport, May 26.—Beard was the bright star in to-day's game, outshining all others. Besides holding Bridgeport to three scattered hits, he put up an unusual fielding game, and all this in spite of a badly injured ankle in the fifth inning that took away much of his control after that.

HARTFORD POUNDED HODGE. Holyoke Consequently Was Beaten by Score of 11 to 2.

Holyoke batting statistics: Maas, 5; Hirst, 4; Risher, 4; Wilson, 4; O'Drain, 3; Pleiss, 3; Corcoran, 3; Dugan, 3; Zacher, 3; Swander, 3; Bastian, 3; Fitzpatrick, 3; Lachance, 3; Shnel, 3; Lepine, 3; Bronkie, 3; Singleton, 3; Lucia, 3; O'Drain, 3.

this afternoon and won in a walk 11 to 2. An error by Boucher in the second inning with one out spoiled a chance for a double play and five runs followed. In the seventh Noyes put the ball over the left fence for a home run, sending in two runs ahead of him. Wilson was unattainable until the last inning when he let up somewhat.

GIANTS DOWN CUBS. World's Champions Drop Another to McGraw's Eratic Team.

PIRATES DEFEAT BOSTON. Willis in Form—Cincinnati Humbles Brooklyn and Cardinals Shut Out Phillies.

NATIONAL LEAGUE STANDING. Chicago 19, Pittsburgh 15, Philadelphia 16, Cincinnati 15, New York 15, Boston 15, Brooklyn 15, St. Louis 14.

GAMES TO-DAY. New York in Chicago, Brooklyn in Cincinnati, Philadelphia in St. Louis, Boston in Pittsburgh.

Chicago, May 26.—New York won today in a game full of strange mixtures of wild pitching, good fielding and long hitting. Nine of the twenty-one hits were for extra bases, five of them doubles, one triple and three home runs, the visitors getting two-thirds of them.

PHILLIES TAKE ANOTHER. Fromme Allows St. Louis But Four Scattered Hits.

St. Louis, May 26.—Philadelphia was able to secure but four scattered hits off Fromme today and St. Louis won, 2 to 0. The locals first run was made in the fifth inning on a single, a wild throw and a sacrifice. The second score came in the seventh on two singles and a sacrifice.

PHILADELPHIA. Knabe, 2b, 4; Grant, 2b, 3; Titus, rf, 4; Magee, lf, 4; Osborne, cf, 4; Bransfield, 1b, 4; Doolin, ss, 3; Jackisch, c, 3; Sparks, p, 1.

PITTSBURG DOWNS BOSTON. Opportune Hitting and Fielding Too Much for Beaneaters.

Pittsburg, May 26.—Good fielding and hitting at the opportune time gave Pittsburg the second game of the series with Boston today by a score of 5 to 1. Willis was strong throughout the game and kept the hits scattered.

DIAMOND CHIPPINGS. The Journal-Courier prints exclusively the official scores of all at-home and abroad games in which the New Haven team figures. Sets all bets and disputes by this record.

Our general twirler was in rare form yesterday and the team played magnificent baseball behind him.

This afternoon upon Farmington avenue in Hartford town Dugan's pet will take a back seat. No bet? Two to one New Haven. They are going to break that win-or-lose-one habit to-day, Herbat will be on the slab.

"Lefty" Wilhelm will pitch against Springfield to-morrow. George Bone, well knows the southpaw's ability.

The New Haven management has received a letter from former First Base Sam Kennedy, who was manager of the Baltimore team in the Union League that has gone up. Sam wants to come back to New Haven and there is a chance of his coming. He jumped New Haven to play in the out-of-town league and so, of course, will have to be reinstated before playing in organized baseball again. When reinstated New Haven holds Kennedy as he was a member of the team purchased by Mr. Weidenheimer.

Manager A. L. Paige of the New Britain baseball nine returned home yesterday without his two Cubans, Alameda and Cabrera. They failed to come in on the boat expected. He had signed received word that Alameda will sail from Cuba to-morrow, and he has not heard from Cabrera.

Philadelphia, May 26.—Governor Warner of Michigan and a party of distinguished visitors from that state, who were here for the launching of the battleship Michigan, to-day saw Detroit defeat Philadelphia 1 to 0. Plank had the better of a pitcher's battle with Donovan, but the home team could not get a man past second base. Public Will Be Able to Secure Many Good Seats for Game.

MANY IN COVERED STAND. Coincidence of Game With Holiday Not Intentional on Management's Part.

The Yale ticket association has arranged to start a public sale of tickets for the Yale-Princeton game at Yale field, Saturday in the office of the Ticket association in the basement of Turfee hall to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. The public will have an unusual opportunity this year to secure seats and good ones, too, on account of the big addition to the stands which has been built this year. There has always been a cry for more covered seats by the public and the addition this year has been to the covered section so that there are now 4,500 seats under cover at the field which is the largest at any college field in the country and a larger covered stand than at many of the big league baseball parks. Of these covered seats it is estimated that there will be from 500 to 1,000 which will go on the public sale which starts to-morrow morning. The ticket association will allow no more than three seats to a person on the public sale. The entrance to the association's office is from Elm street.

By the accident of the calendar the game this year comes on Memorial day and there has been some criticism of the baseball association in arranging the game for this day. Some years ago it was the regular plan to have the game on Memorial day, but on account of the objection of the G. A. R. the game was set for Saturday instead of Memorial day. There is no intention of the association going back to Memorial day for its game. But this year it happened that Memorial day and Saturday are one and the same and in order to have the game played on the last Saturday possible in the season so as to get in the remainder of the club's games it had to be scheduled for this last Saturday in May which also is Memorial day this year. There is no intention, however, of changing the date from Saturday so that another year the game will not fall on this holiday.

LOCAL CARS ENTERED. University Garage Sends Autos to Park City for Daily Practice.

On Decoration day there will be one of the greatest auto hill climbing contests that will have ever taken place in this section. It will be held at Bridgeport on Sport Hill just outside of the city.

The first car starts up the hill at 8 a. m. There are about fifty cars entered in the contest.

At the University Garage on Olive street the five Knox entries are being taken care of this week. They make daily runs to Bridgeport to practice on the hill and return each evening.

E. T. Hale, the Knox agent, who makes his headquarters at this garage, has one of these cars also entered in the Yale Auto club hill climb, which occurs today in West Haven.

The garage has quite a race appearance in the evening with the five hill climbing cars and the three or four emergency cars that accompanied them from Springfield.

LILLEY AND THE GOVERNORSHIP.

A speculative interest has naturally been aroused in Congressman Lilley's chances with regard to securing the republican nomination for governor, in view of the report submitted to the house of representatives and approved by a majority of its members.

The nomination of Mr. Lilley for governor might or might not offend the house of representatives. Obviously it is none of the business of that legislative body who Connecticut selects for its chief executive.

The Hartford Times says for example: "The committee has made the impression of shutting off inquiry whenever it turned in a direction that seemed to promise results." To offset this possible impulsive impression, the formal report of the committee of investigation which we fear the Times has not read, states expressly that every witness Mr. Lilley asked to have examined was sent for and examined, and that every question he wished put was put.

The Times, still laboring apparently under its failure to read the report of the committee, says: "If he had had full opportunity to pursue the inquiry and had then failed it would have been fair to argue that he would lose influence and credit through the failure." This is exactly what the committee asserts he had the opportunity to do.

Within a very few days The Journal-Courier has taken occasion to criticize two time-worn customs of our national legislative bodies. One was the giving of too much arbitrary power to the speaker of the house of representatives; and the other was the method of railroad certain bills through congress which would not be passed under ordinary circumstances by adding them, as "rider" amendments, to certain bills already before congress which are so desirable that they have it in them to overcome the unpopularity of these amendments.

the inquiry did not proceed as Mr. Lilley and his advisers planned it, thereby disappointing them and giving to others the impression which the Hartford Times lays stress, it is yet to be demonstrated to an impartial mind that Mr. Lilley was actually in any material manner deprived of a chance to prove his case.

It is this situation, and not any distrust of Mr. Lilley as a man, that has provoked and must continue to provoke a speculative concern in his ambition to become a nominee for the governor of Connecticut. It may be as the Times says, that thus far the sentiment of the state "appears to be for rather than against Mr. Lilley." If the report which the committee submitted to congress is accurate in its statement of facts, and it is within easy reach of anybody who wishes to read it, it is to be seriously questioned if any political party could safely nominate him for governor of Connecticut. If, on the other hand, the report is inaccurate and partisan, he should disclose the fact, and then receive that to which he would be manifestly entitled, the most impressive mark of recognition it is within the power of the people of Connecticut to give. It is inconceivable that so impressive a report should be disposed of as lightly as it thus far has been, probably because few have read it. It is either true or untrue. Which is it?

From Providence comes a very interesting letter which has been published and which tells how that city, which has been likened to New Haven in more than one way in the past, selects its principals. For the last six years not one of them has come from outside the city, instead they are selected from a waiting list of those who are competent. "A teacher has some motive for fitting herself thoroughly for her work of teaching," reads the letter. Who can deny it?

YALE'S TIDY BEQUEST.

The result of the probate court ruling in London on the will of Archibald Henry Blount will bring a tidy little sum to the coffers of Old Eli. In spite of the surprise that the big $145,000 bequest to Yale made on every hand and the feeling of certainty in many minds that the testator must have been unbalanced when he made out his will in this way, having many times expressed a dislike of America and Americans and not having had, as far as was known, any knowledge of Yale, it now develops that he not only was well informed as to Yale's work and needs in a general way but that he even went as far as to correspond at great length with the university officials ten years ago about what he intended to do. He even submitted to the latter a draft of his will for approval, the amount to be bequeathed not being included in it. In 1907 he wrote to Yale to state that he was contemplating making the gift during his lifetime but since that time nothing further had been heard from him.

New Haven and The Journal-Courier are so intimately connected with Yale that to criticize almost savors of "looking a gift horse in the mouth." But here seems to be another of the many instances of where a gift during life would have been of far greater value than one made after death. The testator has been unqualifiedly called "the Herefordshire miser" in the cable dispatches. The story goes that, during the latter part of his life, he made himself out to be a very poor man, his appearance was shabby; and he seemed to have no interest in life. How much better it would have been, had he given his money to some worthy institution. It need not necessarily have been Yale. Then he would have had something to hold him to life; he would have received the credit of his generosity while alive and would not have died only to be called a miser, when at heart his purposes were of the most generous.

Yale is to be congratulated upon its new acquisition. The money can be put to good advantage and surely he would not be a New Havener who would sincerely believe that Henry Blount could have selected a better university to be the beneficiary of his will.

Certain conditions in Hartford have made it necessary that in the very near future a new state's attorney will have to be appointed for the county. As a successor to Arthur F. Eggleston, who now holds the office, the name of ex-Mayor Henry, of Hartford, has been suggested. There can be none but Mr. Henry, and the best of hopes for a long and noteworthy career ahead of him, but The Journal-Courier for one believes that there are larger talents ahead of him than may be found in the office of the state's attorney.

mentary proceedings is at hand in connection with the currency legislation. It is said that Representative Barthold's Missouri is so concerned with the failure of congress to pass any legislation on the question of an emergency currency that he has issued an ultimatum to the effect that he, as chairman of the committee on public buildings, will not submit his conference report on the omnibus building bill until financial legislation seems assured. Just what a power this means may not be apparent at first reflection. It should be remembered just what the omnibus bill means to many congressmen. There are 316 members of the house and many senators interested in it. With many of them, if they can take back home with them to their constituents at the close of the congressional session a federal building here, a postoffice there, improved rivers here or a federal contract there, they will help themselves in a political way immensely. The Boston Herald tells this story in a cartoon in which a "rube" congressman is depicted as grabbing packages from a barrel marked "32,000,000 pork barrel." The explanation is: "His yearly grab bag. After the strenuous labors of the session the congressman seeks relaxation and profit for his 'district' and constituents."

best a very intricate and delicate one. Secretary Root realized that fact when he broached the matter on the first day of the recent conference. He did not propose to complicate matters by the establishment of new institutions; he saw no need of any uncertainty as to what lies in the realm of federal sovereignty and what in that of the states; he did recognize the fact that the pressure upon the machinery of the national government is increasing year by year and that whatever that pressure may be lessened, advantage should be taken of the means. The secretary would ask that the states exist in some such relationship to each other as do the nations of the earth, realizing they are in duty bound to perpetuate certain fixed uniform rules in their relations to each other.

It is no easy task to sit down and determine, in a cold-blooded manner, just what our greatest deficiencies are as a nation and as a collection of states. Some would say there is an increasing menace of centralized power in the federal government, coupled with a lack of dignity and constitutional rights in the state governments. In the opinion of President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton, the basic cause for the defects of government are "a loss of vitality in the internal parts—in the state and, in the final analysis, in the individual." Such may very easily be one of the main causes but, coupled with it and magnifying this lack of vitality in the units of the government, is the very important truth that our state legislation has been sadly lacking in uniformity.

That it can be within the legitimate scope of a "house of governors" to change matters so that there may be a more perfect uniformity in important matters of state legislation, it is only reasonable to suppose. Regulation of marriage, divorce insurance, corporation management, taxation, real property and a score of other matters that come up with a confusing abundance in every day's news might be mentioned; many more will suggest themselves. All might be considered to advantage at future meetings of the house of governors to the end that order may result where chaos now exists. Meanwhile the conservation of resources is an important enough matter to call for every attention.

The democratic filibustering methods in congress are said to have resulted in the calling of the roll in the house 23 times since the opening of the present session. The result has been fatal to the vocal cords of the reading clerks, two of them having experienced a temporary breakdown. Whether the procedure has resulted fatally in other respects, among them as regards good legislation, remains to be seen when congress adjourns and its doings begin to be summed up.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES.

Waterloo Coming. (New London Telegraph). There was another Bonaparte, you know. Perhaps history will repeat itself in the attack on the New Haven road.

A Great Saving. (Boston Globe). Bills have been passed by congress, the president has signed them, and they have become laws, essentially to be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States. If congress could submit proposed legislation, concerning the constitutionality of which there was reasonable doubt, to the supreme court, how much time, money and energy would be saved?

What Will the Showing Be? (Boston Herald). In 1850, 87 per cent. of the voters in the North Atlantic states voted for a presidential candidate; in 1904, only 72 per cent. plus voted. What will the campaign of 1908 show? With one party running a perpetual claimant for the place, and the other a residuary nominee, it is likely that the record of 1904 will be equalled?

The Responsible Parties. (Waterbury Democrat). In his Jefferson day speech in New York, Woodrow Wilson touched the question of the very root and kernel of the present dangerous social and political situation. He said: "The corporation lawyers of this country know what is going on; the legislators do not. I want to say to all corporation lawyers: If you will save the corporation you will come out from cover and tell the legislators what is needed. You know what is needed, they don't. If you don't you will have the mob at its doors in a decade." The lawyers know, Hughes knows, Hughes knows, Cavanaugh and Dillon know. If these men, and the like of them, will stand for the constitution as it is, as it was, and as it must be, there will be no danger of socialism, plutocracy, imperialism, or other devastating policy, they know what to do. They prepare the business. They expound the law. They are the responsible parties in the present case.

The Subsidy Measure. (Waterbury American). The probability of the passage of the ship subsidy measure was never very great. Coupled with the necessity of cutting down the appropriations somewhere was the honest doubt of many legislators as to the wisdom of attempting to build up the merchant marine by such obviously superficial stimulation. We have been playing with the ship subsidy for many years. It has gained considerable temporary approval with the enthusiasm which President Harrison created, when he floated the flag over the City of New York and the City of Paris, and it comes out for earnest academic argument every time congress convenes, whose object is, far from paralyzing our own, makes new compact with the great English steamship companies. But apparently it can offer no definite and lasting results until it is co-ordinated with a different system of ship registry and a rearrangement of tariff schedules to permit economical ship building in American yards—which is precisely what the subsidy advocates do not desire. Hence the measure's inconsistency and lack of general endorsement.

The Railroad Case. (Waterbury American). Whether the government's attack on the New Haven road is a case of excess and not overwise zeal on the part of Attorney General Bonaparte, or a play to the galleries of the anti-merger shrews of Massachusetts, the attack is regarded as most regrettable and almost intolerable alike by friend and foe of the administration. Technically, it may be possible justified. That is, the Sherman anti-trust law, in its strictest possible interpretation, covers control of a theoretical competitor. But to lay hold of it seems absurd to allege competition in the case of an anti-trust act in the case of little trolley lines scattered in more or less disconnected systems over a state, or in the case of a railroad, like the Boston and Maine, which supplements an existing system by reaching into new territory. The general feeling seems to be that the government cannot possibly cause uneasiness among holders of the New Haven road's securities. The steadiness of the New Haven's stock quotation when the news of the suit was announced, is evidence that the move is regarded as political, more than anything else. This is further evidenced by the fact that in to-day's stamp, caused by new evidence of the administration's readiness further to prosecute railroads, the New Haven stocks advanced and sold their own better than many other railroad securities, although the New Haven was the ostensible object of attack.

SAYINGS AND DOINGS.

It is a common experience among mountain climbers to find butterflies lying frozen on the snow, and so brittle that they break unless they are very carefully handled. Such frozen butterflies, on being taken to warmer climates, recover and fly away. Six species of butterflies were recently found within a few hundred miles of the north pole.

The great ability which the Duke of the Abruzzi has shown in his career as a sailor, and his holiday tasks as an explorer, should not all be ascribed to the indomitable Savoyan blood. Those who have had the best opportunities of judging this young Prince charming are unanimous in saying that he is more the son of his mother than of his father. The late Duchess of Aosta was an exceedingly talented and cultured woman at a time when culture at least did not predominate at any of the European courts.

Under the heading "Printed as Received," a South African journal publishes a report written by a native of a concert given by the Foursmith native choir at the Wesleyan church, Koffyfontein. In his report the contributor says: "Among the choir Miss Nora Mencho was the best singer, and her cheeks were like an apple, her mouth was like a cellar, her eyes were like an owl's at night, her hair was soft and curly, her ears were like starburst flowers, but she looked like a crane, and her name was Jane."

In the kingdom of Prussia servant girls are much sought after as wives. Of the 599,922 spinsters who found husbands in Prussia during the previous year, no fewer than 68,448, or 22 per cent., were domestic servants. From 68,448 there is a big drop to 30,109, which is the number of brides recruited from the millinery and tailoring trades. Factory girls are a bad third in the matter, just over 1-3 per cent. Waitresses can muster only 9,349 brides, or roughly, 3 per cent. At the bottom of the ladder are stenographers and clerks, of whom only 5,258, or less than 2 per cent., succeeded in marrying.

Can you imagine a woman setting up the tea cream sodas for people no even in her set?" "When I produced the ring she reached for her smelling salts." "Well?" "Gave me an awful scare. I thought she had a bottle of acid." "You say I had been drinking?" "Well, you were riding around in a buck with a sailor." "But I had been drinking?" "Well, you were ordering him to go aloft and furl sail!" "What do you think of this no-curve fad?" "I think it is a fine thing. It makes the curves still stiffer and detracts from the attractiveness of the other kind no will!" "I can't start a mining combine on a quire of letter paper and a busted typewriter." FOR BETTER SPIRIT

George S. Fowler Pleads for High School Alumni Association.

SPEAKS TO SENIOR CLASS

Mr. Hackett Upheld—Principal Cushing Talks to Class on Its Opportunity.

Yesterday morning the senior classes of the High school, numbering about two hundred and fifty, were called together by Dr. Cushing. Dr. Cushing spoke generally of the enthusiasm which the class of 1908 has shown in all school activities and after a short talk introduced George S. Fowler, the president of the Alumni association as the speaker of the morning. Mr. Fowler spoke at some length, complimenting the senior class on its play, the dance which was given and the hearty support given the athletic teams of the school. "But," said Mr. Fowler, "while the class spirit in the school is but four years while your membership in the Alumni association is of life tenure. The Alumni association has hardly been representative of the school for the past ten years." The total graduate list of the High school numbers somewhat over four thousand, and Mr. Fowler said that he was forced in facing the situation squarely to say that a selection at which less than 1 per cent. of this number of graduates was present was hardly representative; that this condition could be wholly changed if a system of making the graduating classes serve as feeders to the Alumni association could be established, and that it rested with the senior class of this year to attend the association meeting, entertainment and dance on Friday night and begin a re-organization of the Alumni association which should tend to a strong body for, consistent and persistent effort to better High school conditions along scholastic, athletic and social lines. In speaking of Mr. Hackett's article which appeared in the Teacher's Journal of recent date which was quoted in the Journal-Courier, the speaker said that "Mr. Hackett has faced the present conditions fearlessly and truthfully. It is a fact that society influence has not been all that it should be and the one aim for members of every society should be to place, first, general welfare of the school, second their particular society, and third self. The society system should make for, rather than against a unified and a strong Alumni association." Dr. Cushing pointed out that the class had an opportunity of making a name for itself, and then called upon Henry D. Cowles, president of the School circle; Miss Marion Rice, Grant Blakelee, the captain of the baseball team and President Chamberlain of the senior class. Dr. Cushing certainly made himself asid with the class in devoting the whole of the first period to this reorganization question for the Alumni association. He closed the meeting by telling the class that all seniors would become members of the association by attending the meeting and entertainment on Friday. The Girls' Glee club of the High school will give a part of the entertainment which precedes the dance.

CARPET BOWLING.

Clan Gordon of Hartford and Clan McLeod to Play Friday Night. Clan Gordon, No. 19, O. S. C., of Hartford, will play the first of a series of championship games at carpet bowling with Clan McLeod of this city, Friday evening. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock, and will be played at Clan McLeod's rink, Journal-Courier building. Both teams put forward their strongest players, and a well contested match ought to be the result of the meeting. All those interested in the new game are invited to witness the match.

LEAGUE GAME FOR N. H. H. S.

Local High School Nine Journeys to Park City for Championship Game. Captain Blakelee of the New Haven High school baseball team will have ten players leave on the 1:25 train for Bridgeport, where they will play the Bridgeport High school nine this afternoon at 2 o'clock. This will make the second time that these two teams have met on the diamond this season in a league game, the result of the first one terminating in favor of the local high by the score of 4 to 3 after a closely contested game. Mr. Hackett will accompany the local high players to the Park City, and his presence at the game will be of the utmost assistance to the players. Captain Blakelee, Hollacher, Field, Flanagan, Falvey, Messenger, Grodzke, Starkweather and Burns will be taken on the trip. It has not yet been decided who will cover third base. Starkweather was tried out in place of Grodzke, and may begin the game on this bag. Field, who played well in the Springfield game Saturday, will take Burns' place in left field, while Burns will either play centerfield or go as a substitute.

SIMONSEN DECISION RESERVED.

The hearing on the expense account of Mrs. Severance Simonsen as administratrix of the estate of her mother or was finished in the probate court yesterday afternoon. There has been opposition to the acceptance of the account and allowance of the expenses included on the ground that they are exorbitant. Judge Studley heard the arguments in the case, but reserved his decision.

The positions remained unchanged until the upper turn was reached, when Musgrave sent Tourenne up to the favorite. NAPOLEAN MURAT DUELS.

Descendant of Bonaparte's Field Marshal Fights Two.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—Two duels among three men prominent in Russian society were fought in the outskirts of St. Petersburg today. One of the contestants was seriously wounded.

The men concerned were Prince Napoleon Murat, a descendant of Bonaparte's famous field marshal, and now a captain in the Chevalier Guards, a crack Russian regiment, and two brothers named Plen. Prince Murat's quarrel was with both the brothers, and he elected to fight them in succession. He wounded his two opponents, one of them seriously, but escaped unscathed himself.

Prince Murat's grandmother was an American woman, Caroline Fraser of Bordentown, N. J. She died in Paris in 1879.

CARTRIDGE MAKERS FINED.

Hartford District Court Imposes Maximum Penalty.

Hartford, May 26.—In the United States district court today the grand jury in hearing evidence in the cases of Solomon Susman of Stamford, charged with perjury in connection with a Stamford bankruptcy case of Alfred Hensel of Winsted, charged with taking a letter from the mails and of Joseph M. Giordani and the Union Metallic Cartridge company of Bridgeport in connection with the shipment of cartridges in cement barrels not properly labeled. The grand jury returned three true bills, one against Susman, one against Hensel and the third against the Union Metallic Cartridge company of Bridgeport. The latter defendants were fined $2,000, the maximum penalty.

The district attorney gave notice that if there is a repetition of this offense he will indict the officers of the cartridge company.

NO REORGANIZATION.

Continental Auto Company Retained by New Haveners.

In an article published yesterday in which the Continental Auto company was incidentally mentioned a statement was made which might lead to the inference that the company had recently undergone a reorganization. There has been no reorganization of this company and it has the same officers right along, except that C. E. Johnston has sold out his entire interest in the company and has resigned his position. Mr. Hambrick desired to buy the entire plant but no deal was made. C. A. Moeller is president, H. L. Moeller treasurer and general manager of the company, and R. L. Kautz secretary.

Mr. Johnston has not been connected with the company since February.

MRS. GUNNESS HERE

South Coventry Resident Writes Indiana Governor to That Effect.

AUTHORITIES DENY TALE

"Mysterious Woman in Black" Has Been Swindling Connecticut People.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26.—Through a letter sent to Governor Hanly by Emma C. Kolb, of South Coventry, Conn., the sheriff of Laporte county has obtained a possible clue to the supposed whereabouts of Mrs. Guinness, if the Laporte woman is still alive. The letter which was received at the governor's office, was forwarded at once to the Laporte county sheriff. The Coventry woman wrote at length, describing a mysterious woman in black who has been swindling the people over the eastern part of Connecticut and which she believes is none other than Mrs. Guinness. The writer says she has seen a picture of Mrs. Guinness and that the resemblance between the mysterious swindler and Mrs. Guinness is so striking that she could hardly be mistaken in her conclusions.

South Coventry, May 26.—There have been two women dressed in black who have been canvassing this section of late. One claimed to be taking subscriptions to help a negro parish in Tennessee, and the other had a petition to congress relating to some changes in the pension laws to which she urged signatures of those who had made relatives in the Civil war. Nothing more than a casual interest was taken in either woman.

The woman in black who had a pension petition called at the home of Mr. Kolb, on the Willimantic road on the evening of May 4th, and told a rambling story about her husband being a Grand Army man. The woman talked a good deal but not coherently and finally Mr. Kolb gave her a dollar and she went away. Mrs. Kolb thought the woman had a likeness to the newspaper pictures of Mrs. Guinness, and so wrote to the sheriff of Laporte county, Ind., about the woman. The woman gave the name of Mrs. Rowe and said she had come from California, where her husband had been a miner. Her husband had died, she said, leaving her an income of only $10 a month and she wanted assistance in getting a pension. Her stories, it after appeared differed at different places. Mrs. Kolb said the woman had gold front teeth, and this fact combined with her facial appearance convinced her that the woman was the missing Mrs. Guinness.

The authorities here and in Willimantic take no stock whatever, in the theory that the woman who has been circulating a pension petition in Norwich, Putnam, Killingly and other places is Mrs. Guinness.

PROSPECT TERRACE.

Marvelous Enhancement of Real Estate Values Within a Few Years.

Among the lots sold yesterday at Prospect Terrace was one to a lady resident of West Haven. In conversation with Mr. Williamson (one of the managers) she pointed out three lots, close by worth now up in the thousands, that at one time she could have bought for $25. Every generation, in every growing city, has the same story to tell. The mammoth fortunes of New York in the majority of cases owe their wealth to the marvelous enhancement in real estate values. It proves very conclusively, even as an investment, that the lots being sold by the New England Land Co. offer very tempting inducements and on terms that almost everyone may take advantage of. Their announcement today on page 3 is brief but says enough to show that the company is very liberal in its offers and has the interest of its buyers well protected.

SUCCESS TO HEART DISEASE.

Heart disease is assigned as the cause of the sudden death yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Mary C. Miller of 31 Pond street, who passed away about 4 o'clock. Medical Examiner Bartlett was called and ascertained the cause of death. The deceased was seventy-one years of age and is survived by her husband.

FAIR HAVEN NEWS

Memorial Day Committee Meeting This Afternoon—John O. Rowland on Masonic Home.

John O. Rowland, superintendent of the Masonic home at Wallingford, was in Fair Haven yesterday and was asked how the home was prospering. "We are getting along very well," said the superintendent, "but the house is full. We have eighty-seven at the home and that is all that can be accommodated. 'When is the home to be enlarged?' he was asked. 'Oh, I don't know. That matter has been discussed from time to time, but nothing has yet been done. Oh, I suppose some time the home will be enlarged to about twice its present size. It would take about $25,000 to make the improvements, I suppose. I have no doubt but that the Masons of the state could raise that sum. Undoubtedly the home will be greatly enlarged at some future time, as there is a need in that direction.' Superintendent Rowland is well known in Fair Haven where he has been superintendent of the Masonic home.

Men began yesterday to saw the branches from one of the largest elm trees in Grand avenue preparatory to cutting down the trunk today. This tree is in front of the store of Francis Brothers in Grand avenue, near Clinton and has stood there engaged for 75 years. Workmen were engaged to thin out the dead branches and when they found the trunk very much decayed, it was decided to cut it down. The grateful shade in summer of this fine tree will be much missed. Two other elms in Grand avenue, on the south side have been taken down within a week. These trees were located near Poplar street.

A very pleasant lawn party was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Underhill in Summit street, to which among others invited, were the members of the East Side Social club. The guests were made welcome and were finely entertained.

At the meeting of the Crescent Social club this evening one of the features that will be appreciated will be an oyster supper. A mock trial will entertain the members during the early part of the evening.

After several weeks' illness from typhoid fever Miss Lucy Smith of Chapel street is now improving.

Walter Thompson of Pine street has returned from a visit with friends in Trenton, N. J.

A business meeting of Sylvan circle was held at the home of the president in Grand avenue last evening.

The roadway of Quinipiac drawbridge is to be replanked and a consignment of lumber has been delivered at the bridge to install two layers of hard pine plank.

Rev. Herbert J. Lane, who for several years resided in Fair Haven, will graduate at the Crozier Theological seminary at Chester, Pa., June 3. Mr. Lane, committee on pinocle parties. Several minor committees will also be appointed. At the meeting last evening some plans for the year's work were considered and routine business transacted.

The death of Peter P. Morgan, who resided at State and View streets, occurred at the New Haven hospital yesterday from heart failure. Mr. Morgan formerly resided for many years in Front street. He was thirty-eight years of age and a native of Denmark. Mr. Morgan leaves a widow and two children. Funeral services will be held at the chapel in Fair Haven cemetery on Friday at 2 p. m.

William Rowe of Clifton street, who has been very ill several weeks, was reported as quite low last evening.

Mrs. Keeler, wife of Dr. Keeler of Syracuse, is visiting Mrs. C. E. Bray of Quinipiac avenue. Mrs. Keeler was formerly Miss Bertha Parmelee.

C. J. Molloy, clerk at station A, is ill at his home in Pine street.

There will be memorial exercises in the Montwase Baptist church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Keeler, wife of Dr. Keeler of Syracuse, is visiting Mrs. C. E. Bray of Quinipiac avenue. Mrs. Keeler was formerly Miss Bertha Parmelee.

C. J. Molloy, clerk at station A, is ill at his home in Pine street.

There will be memorial exercises in the Montwase Baptist church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Men began yesterday to saw the branches from one of the largest elm trees in Grand avenue preparatory to cutting down the trunk today. This tree is in front of the store of Francis Brothers in Grand avenue, near Clinton and has stood there engaged for 75 years. Workmen were engaged to thin out the dead branches and when they found the trunk very much decayed, it was decided to cut it down. The grateful shade in summer of this fine tree will be much missed. Two other elms in Grand avenue, on the south side have been taken down within a week. These trees were located near Poplar street.

A very pleasant lawn party was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Underhill in Summit street, to which among others invited, were the members of the East Side Social club. The guests were made welcome and were finely entertained.

At the meeting of the Crescent Social club this evening one of the features that will be appreciated will be an oyster supper. A mock trial will entertain the members during the early part of the evening.

After several weeks' illness from typhoid fever Miss Lucy Smith of Chapel street is now improving.

Walter Thompson of Pine street has returned from a visit with friends in Trenton, N. J.

A business meeting of Sylvan circle

was held at the home of the president in Grand avenue last evening.

The roadway of Quinipiac drawbridge

is to be replanked and a consignment of lumber has been delivered at the bridge to install two layers of hard pine plank.

Rev. Herbert J. Lane, who for several years resided in Fair Haven, will graduate at the Crozier Theological seminary at Chester, Pa., June 3. Mr. Lane, committee on pinocle parties. Several minor committees will also be appointed. At the meeting last evening some plans for the year's work were considered and routine business transacted.

The death of Peter P. Morgan, who resided at State and View streets, occurred at the New Haven hospital yesterday from heart failure. Mr. Morgan formerly resided for many years in Front street. He was thirty-eight years of age and a native of Denmark. Mr. Morgan leaves a widow and two children. Funeral services will be held at the chapel in Fair Haven cemetery on Friday at 2 p. m.

William Rowe of Clifton street, who has been very ill several weeks, was reported as quite low last evening.

ADVISES TEACHERS

Providence Colleague Says to Force Recognition from Supt. Beede.

SHOWS HOW THEY FARE

Writes in Letter That None But Local Persons Get Appointments in Her City.

The appointment of an outside teacher to the principalship of the Webster school district by Superintendent Beede contrary to a large sentiment that the position should be filled from the local teaching staff is causing a great deal of comment in other places than this city. It has even reached the ears of persons outside of the state eliciting much surprise at Mr. Beede's attitude, as the following letter from a school teacher in Providence, R. I., to one of the teachers in this city, will show. The letter points out the fact that in the Rhode Island city the local teachers have by vote of the school board preference for any and all positions, such consideration inspiring them to seek for constant improvement of their faculties that they may be in line for a higher position.

The letter also advises the local teachers to assert themselves and bring about conditions such as exist in Providence. It concludes with the conjecture that Mr. Beede has an eye to his own future interests in appointing outsiders. It is as follows: "Providence always takes teachers from her own ranks for promotions and fills all vacancies from the waiting list. No teacher, to my knowledge, has come in from outside since I have been here (all in ten years). The principals of Vineyard street grammar, Manton avenue grammar, and Messer street grammar have all been taken from the high school here during the last six or seven years. All the critics and principals of discipline schools have been chosen

The blow to the mechanics in the employ of the New Haven road, which The Journal-Courier predicted some time ago, came yesterday when the unions were informed that the road would terminate its agreements with them. CONNECTICUT WAGES

WEEKLY AVERAGE $11.44

New England Pay Below That in Other Sections—Thirteen Industries Analyzed.

A Washington special to the Hartford Times of yesterday says: The census bureau has issued an interesting bulletin on the earnings of wage earners in the United States. This report is based on investigations conducted since 1905, and the country is divided into sections. According to the report New England manufactured more than one-half in value of the boots and shoes, and of the cotton, the woolen and the worsted goods made in the United States; likewise over one-half of the value of products of several other industries of less magnitude, as ammunition, brass and copper rolled, brassware, clocks, plated ware, silver-smithing and silverware, and a very large proportion of the felt hats, jewelry, cutlery and edge tools, rubber and elastic goods.

The average weekly earnings of all wage-earners of New England were considerably lower, and for men a little lower, than for the rest of the United States. In average earnings Connecticut leads. Over two-thirds of the wage earners were men, more than one-fourth women and less than one-thirtieth children. The total number of wage-earners in Connecticut is given as 101,589, ranging from those who make less than $3 per week up to those who make $25 and over. The average is estimated at $10.34 per week. The report says:

"The fifteen selected industries shown for Connecticut average 60.2 per cent. of the number in the specified week shown for all industries in the state. All are purely factory industries and none can be called distinctly rural. The average earnings of $11.44, 13 cents less than for the state. The industry employing the largest number was brass and copper, rolled, the earnings averaging $11.99, or a little more than the general average. Hardware and foundry and machine shop products employed the next largest number, the average earnings in these being respectively $10.76 and $11.45.

DR. TALKS OF FOOD.

Pres. of Board of Health.

DR. TALKS OF FOOD.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food, known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainfully but in that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

"Have you read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

CASE OF MR. PIGOTT

Action of the Connecticut House in Expelling a Legislator.

AN INTERESTING SITUATION

Incident Which Developed Several Years Ago Will Be Remembered by Many.

One of the judges of the supreme court in talking of the idea of expulsion of a member by a legislative body said recently that he could not recall a case of the kind in the history of the general assembly. The practice has not been favored in the state of Connecticut. The case of James F. Pigott, who was a member of the house from New Haven in 1885, was not attended by expulsion. But there were men in the house who were anxious that the course should be taken. Hon. William Edgar Simonds was speaker and it was against him and the appointment of committees that Mr. Pigott's intemperate language was directed on the floor of the house during the session of Thursday, February 5. Mr. Pigott had introduced a resolution requiring the railroad commissioners to obtain and furnish information concerning passes issued to members of the house. In the discussion that took place Mr. Pigott said: "I state without fear of contradiction that the committee of this house was made up in part by an attorney of one of the gigantic railroad corporations in this state." Says the Hartford Times:

Calvin H. Carter of Waterbury was on his feet in an instant and inquired if the language of Mr. Pigott was in order. Speaker Simonds declared that it was out of order, and directed the clerk, Sidney E. Downs, to make record of it.

On motion of Samuel Fribley, of Farmington, Mr. Pigott was required to apologize. Mr. Pigott asked that the apology be deferred until a committee had investigated the truth of the statement which he had made. At this point a motion was carried with only one dissenting vote that Mr. Pigott should be deprived of the privilege of speaking or voting, except by way of excuse, until he had made satisfactory apology.

On Tuesday, February 10, a resolution was adopted, appointing Henry G. Newton of Durham, General Charles M. Joslyn of Hartford, Lucius M. Slade of Bridgeport, Philip Corbin of New Britain and Samuel Fribley of Farmington, a committee to hear and report upon any charges, which any member might make of corrupt or improper influence exercised in the appointment of any member or members of the house upon any committee or committees of the house or of the general assembly.

On Tuesday, February 24, this committee reported that no charges had been made before it. On Tuesday, March 3, Mr. Troup, who was Mr. Pigott's colleague in the house, presented a petition signed by George F. Holcomb et al., citizens of New Haven, in favor of Mr. Pigott. He offered a resolution raising a committee to take the petition into consideration. The resolution was tabled on motion of Mr. Fribley, and the petition was referred to the house members of the Judiciary committee. These were Henry G. Newton, General Charles M. Joslyn, L. M. Slade, Elias M. Steele of Newington, William Wallace Lee of Meriden, James Forbes of New Hartford, Charles Phelps of Rockville, and George M. Gunn of Milford.

A public hearing was given and the committee reported, Friday, March 13, that no reasons were shown why the prayer of the petitioners should be granted. The report was tabled until Tuesday, March 1, when it was taken up, discussed by Representatives Troup and Phelps, Mr. Phelps being in the chair. The previous question was ordered on motion of Mr. Gunn and the petitioners were granted leave to withdraw.

On the same date, Representative Phelan of Bridgeport presented by request the resignation of Mr. Pigott as a member of the house. That body on motion of Mr. Corbin of New Britain refused to receive the communication. On Wednesday, April 22, the resolution relating to passes issued to members and the Pigott petition were indefinitely postponed. At no time, while the action of Mr. Pigott was under consideration by the house, was a deliberate purpose entertained to expel him.

Expulsion would have made his seat vacant as a member from New Haven. The vacancy was not the object sought after. Denial of the privileges of the house was a greater punishment than expulsion.

Mr. Pigott was made a member of congress from the Second district and served two years from 1893.

AT LOCAL THEATERS

HYPERION.

Bargain Matinee To-day of "Jeannine"—Sweet Kitty Next Week.

A bargain matinee will be given this afternoon at the Hyperion theatre, where the Hyperion Stock company is playing "Jeannine," the three-act drama from the French. The best seats may be obtained for ten cents. At the evening performance, the scale of prices range from 10 to 25 cents. Next Monday evening the bill will change, when the three-act comedy, "Sweet Kitty" will be given, which abounds in laughs from beginning to end. The production of "Sweet Kitty" a special scenic production has been built. The new scenes of the company will wear the latest styles in summer creations, and this fact will certainly appeal to the lady patrons of the Hyperion theatre. Popular prices prevail at the evening performance, Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given when the best seats can be obtained for the small sum of ten cents.

Miss Wood and Stock.

Miss Marjorie Wood, the charming little English ingenue who is playing with her uncle, Robert Edson, this year in "classmates," is the one actress in a thousand who does not believe that work in a stock company is the best stage training. She has had two summers of the work and will never regret her experience if she can help it.

"The work is entirely too helter-skelter, if I may call it that," she declares. "I had two seasons, one in Hartford, Conn., with the Hunter-Bradford players, and one in Cleveland in 1906, with R. C. Herz and Miss Mary Boland. I enjoyed myself in both towns, particularly in Cleveland, which is a beautiful town and is one of the most beautiful I have ever been in, so you can understand that it is not because I did not have a good time that I don't care for stock work."

"I would advise young people who desire a stage training to join a stock company playing one play, learn it well, and study the players themselves, their ideas, their mannerisms. I've learned more from Uncle Bob—er, I mean Mr. Edson, of course—this year than I could have learned in a lifetime of stocks."

Robert Edson will appear at the Hyperion Decoration day, matinee and night.

NEW HAVEN.

Dibble Moving Pictures and Collins and Jewell.

At the New Haven theatre commencing with the matinee today for three nights and four matinees, Dibble's moving pictures, which gave such universal satisfaction when seen at the theatre recently, will be the attraction, and the prices will suit all pockets, 10c and ten cents. In addition to the pictures, Collins and Jewell, the well known vaudeville act, will appear. There will be no performance Friday night as the G. A. R. have the house for their memorial exercises.

POLIS.

Gymnastics and Country Kids Among The Week's Good Features.

The eight Ylullians, a gymnastic family, is one of the most spectacular of the many acts of the kind seen at this house this season. The troupe comprises eight men and boys. The work is of the rapid fire order and is made very spectacular and it got the hands from last night's audience. The finale was great. This act must be seen to be really appreciated.

There are many good features of the bill this week, every act being a winner.

The Country Kids, ten in number, being a miniature musical comedy, allows for some tuneful song hits that are winners. The comedy of the troupe is excellent. The act is well staged and the comedy is fast and furious. The songs are really tuneful and the "letter" at the end is very good.

The Heaman Trio as the opening act a pace that made the other acts hustle. Their race finish is excellent.

Dora Romeo, who is a talented violinist, has a patriotic selection that won't make many recalls.

Marion and Rial attempt a laborious offering "The Witch's Power," Attwood and Terry in a good game of talk. Rome Mayo and Jollett in a minstrel show, and the electrograph completed the show.

"People at the opera seem to give most of their attention to the society folks." That gives me an idea, I believe we could make money with a libretto of all that is said in the boxes."

AN ERROR CORRECTED.

In yesterday's paper it was stated that "Mr. Hambrick, in company with C. D. Johnson, of the University Garage, spent a couple of days," etc., etc. I wish to call attention to the fact that Mr. Johnson (while formerly manager of this garage) has at present no connection whatever with this garage, and has not had any connection with it since I purchased it last February.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J. McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

NOT A CITIZEN BUT VOTES.

Bridgeport Henchman Refused Naturalization Papers.

Bridgeport, May 26.—Michael J. White of Newtown, one of the chief political supporters of former County Commissioner Michael J. Houlihan was this morning denied citizenship papers by Judge Silas A. Robinson in the superior court, the denial being based on a remonstrance filed by 20 citizens of Newtown. This is said to be the first time in the history of the county that a denial of an application for citizenship paper has been made on a remonstrance. Mr. White, it is said has voted for fourteen years and has also held several town offices. The remonstrance is claimed that his first papers were obtained through fraud.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood.

Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppuration, or running sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating sores or ulcers. For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription": "A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine levator . . . makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system. . . . He continues: 'In the United States we have a medicinal which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent.' Dr. Fyfe further says: 'The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back with leucorrhoea (a tonic weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of lassitude in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (bleeding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmia (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen.'"

If more or less of the above symptoms are present in the female system do not hesitate to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root (Helonias) and the medicinal properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription." Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb, in all catarrhal conditions and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. Easy to take and sure.

BANKING NEEDS OF BUSINESS MEN.

NATIONAL LEAD'S RISE

Over-subscription of Burlington Bonds of Good Effect—Railroad Retrenchment.

There was a fresh upbidding of prices right after the opening, with advances of 1-2 point in some during the first half hour.

London was again a liberal seller of stocks. About 25,000 shares were sold, in addition to Monday's offering of 60,000 shares.

A popular explanation of the rise in National Lead was that it was up in order to help hold American Smelting stock, which has been under pressure for some time.

Missouri Pacific has applied to the Stock Exchange to list $5,000,000 of forty-year 4 per cent. bonds.

The course of Westinghouse manufacturing stock did not convey any impression as to how the new financial scheme is faring.

The rise on the curb of 2-1-2 points in Burlington 4 per cent. bonds which were offered for sale by J. P. Moran & Co., yesterday, and the announcement that the subscription list had been closed within two hours after the close of business, had a decidedly good effect in Wall street.

A sample of what the railroads are doing in cutting expenses is given in the April report of the Chicago and Northwestern, where a decrease of over $1,000,000 in gross was, by economic operation, reduced to a net decrease of less than $50,000.

The New Haven "branch of promise" case, as brokers called it, was declared to be still a wet blanket on the market.

THE JURY DISAGREES

Cannot Reach a Verdict in Shaller Case in Common Pleas Court.

HAMDENITES MUST PAY

Railroad Settles Grays' Suits Out of Court—News of the Probate Court.

Yesterday the jury in the suit of Arnold Shaller of Meriden, against Mrs. Della Farnon, also of the Silver City, which action was tried in the common pleas court, reported that it could not agree. The jury stood nine to three in favor of the plaintiff, it is said. The jury retired last Thursday afternoon, when the case was completed after a two days' trial, and Judge Wolfe excused them until yesterday, upon their stating that they were undecided.

Attorney Fitzgerald & Walsh, representing the defendant and Attorney Mueller and Asher acting for the plaintiff, had hoped that they would come to an agreement today but after they were again given the case, they were unable to reach a decision. The jury retired at 10 o'clock and announced its inability to reach a conclusion at noon.

The suit was over a paint bill of $600.

Sues for Assault.

The cases of Francesco De Natale vs. Danals Zooli and Giuseppe Zooli were on trial yesterday before Judge Bennett in the civil side of the court of common pleas. The actions are for $500 damages against each of the defendants. The plaintiff claims that he was assaulted by the defendants during a picnic at Crescent Park on September 20, 1907. The cases were not finished.

Must Pay Taxes.

As a result of a campaign that has been started by Tax Collector Kenyon of Hamden to make delinquents pay their military tax of $2 to the town, 22 men have been arrested and arraigned in the Hamden town court. Of that number 18 were ordered to pay the tax and in addition settle the costs which range from $5 to $8 a case according to the distance the Hamden police had to travel to bring them in. The alternative to those who would Scholz Estate.

The inventory on the estate of the late Julius Scholz, who conducted a saloon at 253 Campbell avenue, was filed in the probate court yesterday morning and with it was filed an application for the removal of the executrix, Helena Ives, a daughter. The estate totals to $15,722.64, and is divided as follows: Real property, $12,829; personal property, $1,892.54, and choses in action, $100. The bulk of the property is in real estate and the saloon contents. The real estate is given as follows: Campbell avenue, $2,000; $3,500; $4,400 and $3,200; Atwater street, $270, and Giles street, Hamden, $150.

Railroad Settles.

The suit of Clifford E. Champlin against the New Haven road has been settled out of court this week, the most important suit of the lot brought by members of the New Haven Grays against the railroad on account of injuries suffered in the collision at Union City on March 1, 1907. The Champlin suit was for $35,000. The road has settled it by paying a substantial sum. The case was listed for trial yesterday in the superior court and was erased from the docket.

In the accident Champlin was thrown through the front of the car and out onto the tracks. He suffered a broken shoulder and many other injuries. For weeks his life hung in the balance. He now has a crooked arm which cannot be brought back to place. He was the bugler of the Grays. At the time of the accident he lived in Branford. He now resides in New Haven; Judge Tyler was his counsel.

All of the several suits brought by members of the Grays against the railroad have now been settled, except three. The two men who were the most injured have settled their cases, they being Champlin and Russell.

The cases still pending, but which it is believed, will be settled out of court, are the cases of Hopkins, Fitch and Crabb.

Another case listed for trial yesterday and which was settled out of court was the case of Bolser Pitt of Torrington against the New Haven road. It was a suit for $35,000 damages. The plaintiff was injured in the collision between two trains at the Allington switch on September 23, 1907. He suffered injuries which caused a chronic disease.

Attorneys T. H. Russell and McClure were counsel for the plaintiff.

Attorney Louis E. Jacobs yesterday served notice upon the Connecticut Co. that he would pray out an injunction to restrain the trolley cars from going over the switch in front of his house at 259 Chapel street, unless the company does something to lessen the jarring of his house caused by the big double truck cars making the crossover. Attorney Jacobs says that his home has been nearly wrecked by the jarring, that the plaster has fallen down and every time a big car goes over the switch the dishes on the pantry shelves rattle and the lids of the stove are moved. He says that the damage to his residence already done amounts to $2,000 and he has asked the trolley company to make good this loss.

BURIED CITY DISCOVERED.

Lies Beneath University of California and Antelates Columbus. Berkeley, Cal., May 25.—Buried a few feet under the classic soil of the University of California campus lies a city of the stone age, whose massive walls respond to the instruments of the members of the Berkeley Society for Psychological Research and show their well-defined locations, according to the investigation made by Prof. Joseph Verti, president of the local psychological society and other members. The series of investigations to find the lines of the buried city, which antedates by thousands of years the time of Columbus, have been carried on for several months. It is likely that excavation work will be begun at once along scientific lines.

A lorgnette chain of dull silver is set here and there with amethysts cut oblong shape.

Bright colored crotonne is used as a border for a linen parasol. The stick is of white wood.

Among the lovely materials for evening wear is charmeuse crepe, which is as substantial as satin and yet as soft as chiffon.

A quaint parasol of coral linen has a heavily embroidered border of Egyptian design and rich color scheme. The handle is rather unusual, with a sphinx in ivory resting on a block of polished wood suggesting a pyramid.

The little black velvet ribbon worn around the neck is still in good style. An unusually pretty arrangement of this collar finish was noticed recently on a smartly dressed girl. Her velvet ribbon was a little wider than the ordinary narrow band, being fully an inch in width. It was worn at the top of her lingerie collar and just beneath the little frill of lace which came next to her face. It was caught at the side in the front, this wide band of black velvet ribbon with a lovely little silver buckle.

Jet occupies a very conspicuous place among the trimming materials. It is used in long strings made of beads in graduated sizes, and is particularly effective for small hats trimmed with military pompons of cut ostrich or heron, giving a delightfully jaunty air to these otherwise rather sober models. Jet pins in large ball-shape are equally in favor, also agrafes and cabochons made of the lustrous material. Silver, gold and enameled hat ornaments in the shape of pins, buckles, cabochons, etc., are lavishly employed on this season's hats, as are motives made of gold or silver embroidered and apunged in silk in all head shades. Full ruffles of tulle or of two or more colors wound on wire are used as substitutes for alpacas.—Vogue.

D. E. Brewster, one of the inventors of the amusement device "The Ticker," was at Savin Rock, yesterday, looking over that uproarious creation. He made one or two suggestions and several minor changes will be made in the construction which, if such a thing is possible, will improve the "ride of laughs."

OPPOSE D'AMATO'S SALOON.

St. Paul's Church and Y. W. C. A. Against It.

The county commissioners yesterday heard the remonstrance of St. Paul's church and the Young Women's Christian association against the application of Luigi D'Amato, who wants to transfer his license from 59 Collis street to 188 Wooster street. Last year he put in an application for a saloon at Wooster and Olive streets and St. Paul's church then objected and the commissioners sustained the objection.

Among the witnesses for the remonstrants were the Rev. James DeWolf Perry, jr., rector of St. Paul's church; the Rev. Franklin Knight, assistant pastor of the church, and former Postmaster B. R. English. Several women interested in the Y. W. C. A. also testified.

The objection was against the place. The witnesses said there were saloons enough in the locality already.

Attorney Fitzgerald represented the remonstrants and Attorney Howard C. Webb was counsel for the applicant. They had frequent tilts over the testimony.

BLACKMAILER SENT UP.

New London, May 26.—In the superior court this morning, Judge Case sentenced Edward L. Weeks of Versailles to spend not less than two nor more than three years in state prison for blackmailing Mary E. Archer of Versailles. Before sentence was pronounced Weeks addressed the court in his own behalf for about a quarter of an hour, asking leniency on the ground that his punishment would fall more heavily on his wife and daughter than it would on him.

THE EDW. MALLEY CO.

The Metropolitan Store of New Haven.

Haven County Anti-Tuberculosis association at the Gaylord farm sanatorium in Wallingford this afternoon. As is well known the governor is most interested in the anti-tuberculosis movement. Dr. J. P. C. Foster, who is chairman of the anti-tuberculosis commission appointed by the governor, is one of the directors of this association. Gaylord farm is a very beautiful place at this time of year, and the trip to the farm makes a very pleasant half day's outing. The train leaves New Haven at 1 o'clock and there will be carriages at the Wallingford station to transport the party to the sanatorium. The afternoon train leaves Wallingford at 4:13 and arrives in New Haven at 4:45. A large number of New Haven people will go up to the meeting, which promises to be an unusually interesting one. Among those who will probably go from here are Dr. Francis Bacon, Max Adler, Dr. O. T. Osborne, J. Davenport Wheeler and Prof. Irving Fisher.
