REFUSES TO INDICT EXCISE VIOLATORS

Jersey Grand Jury Disobeys Court's Instructions to Put Lid on Atlantic City.

FORT MAY CALL ON TROOPS

Attorney-General's Office Says Gov- ernor Has Authority to Carry Out Threat Made Yes- terday.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 27.—The action of Governor Fort in issuing a proclamation to the people of New Jersey threatening to send troops into this famous resort to enforce the state liquor laws unless the people of Atlantic City obey the law caused a sensation today among the residents and the thousands of summer visitors. Close on the heels of the governor's proclamation another sensation was sprung at May's Landing, the county seat of Atlantic county, when the grand jury absolutely refused to obey the instructions of the court to return indictments against excise violators. Justice Thomas W. Trenchard, who had been requested by Governor Fort to sit with the county judge was so incensed at the action of the grand jury that he instantly discharged it with a severe reprimand.

What the result of the governor's proclamation will be remains to be seen, but it is freely predicted that it will be much more difficult to purchase liquor in this seaside resort next Sunday than on any other Sabbath in the history of the town. Some of those who have been prominent in the present trouble believe the governor has no authority to send soldiers into the county unless the sheriff admits he is powerless to enforce the laws of the state. They point out that there is no rioting, that the whole town is orderly and that business is proceeding as usual. Assistant Attorney General Gaskill, who is here assisting County Prosecutor Goldsberg in the excise cases, says the governor can call out the troops although it is an unusual proceeding. The governor's power to declare martial law, he says, cannot be questioned.

Prominent officials and all the hotel men who wield great influence in the city decline to publicly discuss the new turn of affairs. Some of the smaller hotel men and saloon keepers say they do not know what they will do next Sunday, but will be guided by what the mayor and the sheriff say. The situation is in the control of these two officials, they say, and if they send out word to close they will do so. It is claimed by county officials and the hotel men that 95 per cent. of the people of Atlantic City are in favor of an open Sunday.

The break between the county court and the grand jury is receiving more attention than the proclamation of the governor. The controversy between the court and the grand jury started a week ago. Prior to that the state excise commission spent several days here investigating the excise question. At the hearings of the commission Mayor Stoy, Sheriff Johnson and others practically told the investigators that they would not enforce the excise laws because the sentiment of the people was against them. It also brought out that the grand jury of the county refused to bring indictments for the same reason. The evidence was so startling that it was immediately laid before the governor, who requested Justice Trenchard to sit with Judge Higbee in Atlantic county and take charge of the matter. The grand jury was summoned last week and brought in indictments against two alleged gamblers and adjourned until today without considering any excise cases. A hotel majority campaign is being conducted to do with bringing about the present situation. Mayor Stoy is a candidate for re-election.

The Rev. E. D. Boone, a member of the State's Crime Association, said: "There'll be bloodshed in Atlantic City yet. If this thing keeps up, it's not such a joke as some people seem to think."

CONDUCTOR LYNCH BURIED

(Special to the Journal-Courier.)
Hartford, Aug. 27.—James J. Lynch, the trolley conductor, who met death on his car in an accident on Windsor avenue Monday night, was buried here today with impressive ceremonies. Friends of the deceased were out in large numbers while a large delegation of brother trolley men and members of Company H, First Infantry, C. N. G., of which Mr. Lynch was a member, were present and marched in their respective bodies from the funeral services and to the grave at Mt. St. Benedict cemetery. WILHELMINA'S HEALTH

Dutchmen to Be Made Joyful Soon by Palace Announcement.

Amsterdam, Aug. 27.—Conflicting statements have been current concerning the health of the queen, and the Telegram this morning says: "It is learned that Queen Wilhelmina's health is good, and it is probable that a communication shortly will be made which will cause public joy."
Three additional lives were lost today, two negroes being drowned at Saluda and one negro drowned at Laurens. A conservative estimate of the damage wrought by the floods in the loss of public bridges throughout the state is $1,000,000.

THIEVES ON TROLLEYS

Pickpockets Busy at Cheshire and Southington.

(Special to the Journal-Courier.)
Cheshire, Aug. 27.—Many complaints have been made here because of pickpockets on the cars near Cheshire and Southington. Two or three people have had money stolen from them in the past week, and a warning has been sent out. During the big Sunday rush on the Cheshire and Middale lines there is a fine opportunity for crooks to get close to people's pockets on the crowded cars. Last Sunday a Southington man was standing in a crowd at Cheshire waiting for a car, and as soon as he got aboard he discovered that his purse with $10 had gone. Then he remembered that a man had brushed up against him pretty roughly.

DROPS DEAD AFTER WALK

Young Arthur Pawling, of Greenwich, Falls at Mother's Feet.

Greenwich, Aug. 27.—After taking a short walk this forenoon, Arthur Pawling, the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pawling of Quaker Ridge, stumbled into the house and fell dead at his mother's feet. Medical Examiner Clarke, who was called, said that death was due to acute dilatation of the heart brought on by the walk and by the weakness of the heart caused by the young man's recent illness from tonsillitis.

DEPOSIT GUARANTY

Bryan Tells Topeka That the Majority of Kansas Banks Favor It.

A SUCCESS IN OKLAHOMA

Many National Banks Apply for State Charters—His Pos- sible Savings.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 27.—Before an audience which filled the auditorium to overflowing, W. J. Bryan, democratic candidate for president, tonight spoke on the subject of guaranty of bank deposits. Previously he had delivered three other addresses, two from the veranda of the hotel and one at Garfield park, where he attended a picnic by the Knights of Pythias. His theme before the Pythians was "Fraternities." A great crowd greeted Mr. Bryan at the station when he arrived, and at the hotel.

In view of the action of the Kansas republican state council having endorsed the guaranty of bank deposits Mr. Bryan made some remarks supplementary to his prepared speech on that subject. He took up the advantages of the guaranty system and then answered the objections made to it by Mr. Taft and others. He began by asking why the depositor should be left uninsured when the national government demanded security of any bank with which it deposited money. He pointed out that the choice was between the postal savings bank and the guaranty plan and accused Mr. Taft of favoring an unnecessary extension of the sphere of government in advocating the postal savings bank instead of the guaranty bank. Mr. Bryan preferred the guaranty bank proposition, which would slow the banks to attend to the banking business and yet compel them to give their depositors necessary security. When he had concluded his prepared speech, Mr. Bryan said:

"I asked Mr. Breidenbach, a banker of Kansas City to make inquiry among the bankers of Kansas and ascertain

REILLY NOT A CANDIDATE

Trades Council Man Withdraws Name for Registrars.

The following letter concerning the attitude of Joseph J. Reilly of the New Haven Trades-Council regarding his position on the question of the registrarship of vital statistics is self-explanatory:
"New Haven, Conn., Aug. 27, 1908.
"As my name has been mentioned as a candidate for the office of registrar of vital statistics through the public press and as the New Haven Trades-Council has, without any solicitation on my part, seen fit to endorse me as a candidate for that position, I wish to take this opportunity to thank the council for their endorsement, and also my many friends throughout the city for their kindly feelings towards me, but wish to withdraw my name as an aspirant for that position."
"JOSEPH J. REILLY."

MILLIONS LOST BY FLOOD

Carolina Rivers Continue to Rise and Railroads Are Tied Up.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 27.—The rivers throughout South Carolina continued to rise today as a result of Wednesday's rains in the upper part of the state and the added loss in private and public property will run up into the millions. The estimated loss in the neighborhood of Columbia alone done by today's high water is more than $200,000. The railroads are almost completely tied up on the Southern's Charlotte line being the only road north of Columbia in operation. Notice has been served by practically every road in the state that perishable freight will not be accepted for shipments to points north of Columbia.

Three additional lives were lost today, two negroes being drowned at Saluda and one negro drowned at Laurens. A conservative estimate of the damage wrought by the floods in the loss of public bridges throughout the state is $1,000,000.

TALK GARBAGE AT FULL LENGTH

Board of Health Members Given Chance to Explain Their So- lution of Problem to Finance Board.

MILLER AND MAHER TILT

Alderman Differs as to Capacity of Plant Needed, and Thinks Fig- ures Too High—No Ac- tion Taken.

In the longest afternoon session of the board of finance held this summer, which that of yesterday easily was, the board of health was given a lengthy hearing on the garbage problem and their plans for the remedy of the situation. Dr. Maher, president of the board of health, made a strong plea for the improvement of conditions in the garbage situation of the city. He spoke of the great agitation of this summer and the number of complaints which have been made each meeting of the board of health and stated that these were not new things, although the public agitation made. It looked as if things were worse this summer than ever before. He called attention to the fact that the board of health has been asking for about ten years for a sufficient appropriation to provide a proper collection of garbage but had failed to get any.

Dr. Maher took Springfield, Mass., as a sample of a city where there is a municipal garbage system which does away with most of the nuisance of collection and he read statistics to show that the death rate in Springfield was considerably lower than in New Haven over a considerable number of years. While there are so many factors entering into the death rate that this does not conclusively prove anything, the doctor pointed out that this gave evidence that the death rate in this city is higher than it ought to be.

He then went on to detail the plan of the board of health for remedying the trouble. First of all, he stated, a city collection system was asked. That was the principal request, then if that was granted, they could also obtain the collection of refuse and ashes would be asked for.

Dr. Maher figured that there would be a total of 60,000 tons of garbage, refuse and ashes in this city for one year. Of this he estimates one-fourth will be garbage and this according to the actual statistics of English cities is a high average. Dr. Maher explained that the incinerator appeared to the board of health to be the requisite thing. He then went on to explain the cost of a plant which he and the board had figured on and for which they ask in their appropriations. The first cost of the plant which would be capable of burning about 200 tons of garbage and ashes combined each day, which size the board of health feels is required for the needs of a city the size of New Haven, would be $150,000. To this he adds the costs of a barn and site.

PLAGUE THREATENS BOSTON

White Star Lined from Azores De- tained at Quarantine.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 27.—As a precaution to avoid the possibility of the introduction into this port of bubonic plague, 200 steerage passengers aboard the White Star liner Romanic were detained for an examination at the quarantine station today. Dr. Paul Carson, the local quarantine physician, had been notified that the plague was prevalent at the Azores, one of the stopping places of the Romanic. Most of the steerage passengers are Portuguese.

CHADWICK IN BANKRUPTCY

Husband of Mrs. Cassie Ruined by Endorsing Her Notes.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 27.—Leroy S. Chadwick, husband of Cassie Chadwick who died in the penitentiary, where she was sentenced for colossal frauds, filed a petition in bankruptcy today. His personal debts he places at $1,750 while debts contracted through endorsing notes and checks for his wife he places at about $650,000.

In his personal accounts is a bill for automobile repairs and an unoccupied room at the Waldorf Astoria, New York. Dr. Chadwick says that he has lost $175 to pay these debts with.

LILLEY'S LEAD STILL INCREASES

Carries Middletown, Stratford and Trumbull Easily—Now Claims He Has 312 Delegates.

JUDSON DECLARES STAND

Will Cast Complimentary Vote for Woodruff—Has Never Said He Would Nominat Lake.

By the few caucuses held last night throughout the state Congressman George L. Lilley materially increased his lead in the race for the gubernatorial nomination on the republican ticket, and apparently the only thing which can prevent his nomination in the state convention is a stampede, a thing almost unknown in the history of Connecticut.

One fallacy which the people of the state have been laboring under for some time was overturned last night when Stiles Judson of Stratford was chosen a delegate to the state convention and said that after casting a complimentary vote for Governor Woodruff he would vote for Mr. Lilley for the nomination. For some weeks past it has been published throughout the state that Stiles Judson would nominate Mr. Lake in the convention. Last night he said that he never had been for Mr. Lake for governor in preference to Mr. Lilley. The other delegate from Stratford is Henry P. Stagg, also a Lilley man.

It was generally expected that there would be a lively caucus in Middletown where the younger men were against Mr. Lilley, but the older men got out a larger crowd and won hands down. When the ballots were counted Mr. Lilley had three to every one opposed. The following Lilley men were elected: F. C. Smith, W. W. Wilcox, G. R. Carlson and C. M. Sauer.

At Trumbull there was no contest, two Lilley men being chosen, Charles Coppe and Arthur E. Plumb. These caucuses give Lilley eight more delegates and he now claims 312 while 291 are all that are necessary to get the nomination. An impartial newspaper canvass gives Mr. Lilley 310 and the Lake forces grant that Mr. Lilley has 242.

Everything now looks very rosy for Mr. Lilley to get the nomination, but his managers are apparently reeking with the death rate in Springfield, O. P. for governor I shall vote for Taft, presidential electors and for the state democratic ticket from top to bottom. I think that the honest-minded men of the Abraham Lincoln school will find ways and means to do Lilley out of the governorship."

Other Caucuses.
Plainfield, Aug. 27.—The republicans here tonight elected an unopposed state delegation of four who are said to be Lilley men. They are H. Beecher Brown, T. E. Babcock, W. H. Adams and E. H. Lillbridge.

Stirling, Aug. 27.—As state delegates tonight the republicans elected George C. Spooner and H. Levi Carr, who are both for Lilley.

REVOLUTION IN PATENTS

Foreigners No Longer to Be Protected in Great Britain.

London, Aug. 28.—The year of grace granted to assignees and the new-fangled act expires today, and henceforth foreign patents in this country may be revoked by Great Britain after a reasonable interval, unless the patented article is manufactured or the United Kingdom to an adequate extent.

A great number of foreign firms already have taken sites and started works in Great Britain, many others are making arrangements to do so. These are mainly German and American firms.

Sir Alfred Jones, head of a prominent firm of ship owners, estimates that $130,000,000 will thus be invested here for the manufacture of articles, formerly manufactured abroad, and a prominent expert in patent law thinks that no fewer than 8,000 patents granted to foreigners will come under the new law.

Value of Late Financier's Estate Be- comes Known for First Time.

New York, Aug. 27.—When Surrogate Beckett signed today a transfer tax order, payable to the state, the value of the estate left by Russell Sage became known for the first time—$64,153,800. Mr. Sage died on July 23, 1906.

Of this amount Mr. Sage's share, under the terms of the will, is about $64,000,000. Among twenty-nine other relatives of the financier $50,000 was divided.

The amount the state receives in taxes totals $667,335.01. Mr. Sage payable $635,038.01.

The surrogate, in his order, named the relatives who received $25,000 each, all nephews and nieces, twenty-five in number, and four lesser relations, each of whom received $6,250. The larger bequests pay a tax of $1,250 each; the smaller ones, $312.50 each.

MRS. DOHERTY SUED

Effort Made to Recover Money Loaned from Bronson Library Fund.

(Special to the Journal-Courier.)
Waterbury, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Katherine Buel Doherty, wife of Col. James B. Doherty, has been sued to recover on notes of $5,000, $6,000 and $15,000 loaned to her mother, Mrs. Cornelia A. Buel, from the Bronson Library fund.

The actions are brought to the District court. When Mrs. Buel died her daughter took the property on which a mortgage had been placed as security for the notes and in the suits now pending a foreclosure of the property is asked. Otis S. Northrop, treasurer of the fund, brings the suit in the name of the city of Waterbury. Attorney Henry W. Minor appears for the plaintiff.

VOTE TAKEN ON STRIKE MATTER

Local Trolley Men Secretly On Question of Going Out To Support Provi- dence Men

Result Will Not Be Known Until Announced from National Headquarters—Situa- tion Exaggerated.

Members of the local Trolley men's union held important meetings yesterday afternoon and early this morning at which the men voted secretly on the proposition of a general strike throughout Connecticut, Rhode Island and New York in support of the fifty-four men who it is alleged were discharged in Providence some time ago for belonging to the union.

At the trolley men's headquarters last night nothing would be given out except that a very large vote had been cast. It was particularly noticeable that all the older employees were on hand with hardly an exception and this is taken to mean that radical action will not come without a struggle.

From one union man it was learned that the vote would not be counted in this city but taken away to the national headquarters where it would be announced later. From what could be learned this morning the men are overwhelmingly against striking.

In Bridgeport also the question was voted on last night at a meeting announced as a smoker for the trolley men. There was also a large attendance. The voting will be held on all the lines of the company but not all at the same time. It is stated that the voting was held at Poughkeepsie last Monday and that the proposition of a general sympathetic strike was voted down by a heavy vote.

A prominent trolley man being asked last night what he knew about the union situation in Waterbury with regard to the article recently published recording the dissolution of the union there said he thought it quite likely that the union had disbanded as there had been very little interest shown there of late and he understood the Mutual Aid society had a large membership.

Asked with regard to the statement that it was likely that the Connecticut men would vote to strike to assist the Rhode Island men, he said he thought the situation had been exaggerated. He continued:

"Why, I understand that about only 100 men out of 1,200 or 1,400 have joined the union in Providence and why should we old men in Connecticut risk our standing when so little interest has been shown on their own lines. I understand that the secretary of the Providence union has resigned from the organization and gone back to the foot of the extra list.

"My personal opinion is that even though our men might possibly vote for a strike for its moral effect if it should come to a show down, very few, especially among the men well up on the list, would risk their positions with so many men out of work and winter coming on. We are receiving fair wages and good treatment and the present hard times would make a strike unadvisable."

INCINERATOR COST

Alderman Committee's Report Asks for $120,000 as Com- plete First Cost.

TO BE READY JULY FIRST

Bond Issue Proposed to Meet Expense of Erection and Operation for Next Year.

The special aldermanic committee which has been considering garbage conditions and striving for some method of betterment has its report completely drawn up now and ready to be presented to the board of aldermen at their next meeting. An incinerator plant will be asked for the first cost of which must be appropriated this fall, will be $120,000. The report gives details of the plant showing that it is proposed to erect an incinerator which will have a capacity of between 60 and 75 tons per day. Added to this cost there is figured $25,000 more for a site and $5,000 for cars and wagons for collection which makes a total of $150,000.

Operating expenses are figured for a period of six months only. The committee hopes to have things hustled along so that the plant can be erected and running by the first of next July so that there will be needed this year operating expenses for the last six months of the year. For two engineers for the half year $1,200 is asked. Employees, the number of whom is not set, are to take up $4,500. A superintendent will cost $750 and incidentals are set down at $2,500. This makes the operating expenses for the six months $9,950 to which must be added horses, drivers and helpers, making a total of $12,000. It is proposed under this plan to hire the horses only as under the present sprinkling system and not to own them as the board of health plan intends. This makes the total first cost of $120,000.

The operating expenses for one year are figured at $12,000 for the plant, $5,100 for repairing and $42,000 for collection which is a total of $69,000. The committee proposes to have the first cost met by a bond issue. It believes that the plant will be large enough to take care of the needs of the city and that it would be in all respects satisfactory and solve the local garbage problem.

WILCOX BOWS TO HUGHES

Chairman of Public Service Commis- sion Predicts His Renomination.

New York, Aug. 27.—William B. Wilcox, chairman of the public service commission, today telegraphed from Fair Haven, Mass., a denial of a story which had been given publicity to the effect that Governor Hughes was willing to withdraw from the quest of the gubernatorial nomination in his favor.

Mr. Wilcox says he is unalterably in favor of the renomination of Governor Hughes and that the story in circulation is entirely without foundation.

"Gov. Hughes is the logical candidate," he added, "and I make the prediction that he will be the nominee of the Saratoga convention."

LOVING CUPS FOR TAFTS

Bill, Mrs. William and Master Charley Get Tokens from Hotel Guests.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 27.—The three hundred and fifty guests of the Homestead hotel to-night presented Judge Taft, Mrs. Taft and Master Charley Taft, each with a silver loving cup as a formal farewell expression of their regard. Speechmaking of a lighter vein, interspersed with music, and followed by a reception in which the candidate and his family, since the hand of every guest, constituted an evening of good fellowship and animation. Judge Taft and Col. John C. McAnery were escorted to the front while "Disix" was played and the colonel in a most happy vein, presented the cup to the candidate and Mr. Taft responded.

Mrs. Taft was next brought forward and received her cup at the hands of Mrs. Luke P. Blackburn. An even dozen little girls in white surrounded Master Charley Taft and made him the loving recipient of a manufacture blushing cup.

ELKS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL ROUND-UP

Many Surprises Sprung by the Committee During the Day on Unsuspecting Members.

BENEDICTS TRIM SINGLES

By Score of 11 to 8 They Show the Younger Men Points of the Game—Boxing and Singing Included in Day's Fun.

The third annual round-up of the local lodge of Elks took place yesterday at Lighthouse Point. The weather, early in the morning, looked as if it might put a damper on the day's fun...

While the music was going on crowds of Elks began arriving at the club house and attiring themselves in the regulation white caps and bamboo canes.

At precisely 11:30 the parade, with the band in the lead, started on its march to the trolleys; down Crown street, to Orange, to Court, to Chapel, to Temple, where three of the big double-trucks of the Connecticut Co. were waiting to convey them to the Lighthouse.

Conspicuous in the parade was "Suckie," who is a little white fox terrier and the property of Charles J. Scully. Yesterday the dog was dressed up in a white canvas coat on which was the inscription, "Third Annual Round-up of the B. P. O. E." and a white cap—just like a regular Elk.

The journey to the scene of the day's festivities was made without accident. Upon arriving at the Point, a light lunch was served by "Billy" Lush at his Lighthouse Point hotel.

The first number on the program for the afternoon was a series of athletic events, the first of which was a 100 yard dash. In this event George Hatfield crossed the line first, followed by Thomas O'Brien and Arthur Papantini.

The second event was also a 100 yard dash, but was open only to fat men. In this event Roscoe Brown proved himself worthy of the name—Constable—by showing his heels to the rest of the entries.

To finish up the day's event John Semon and "Ed" Thomas ran a match race for 100 yards, loser to pay both entrance fees.

Next came the baseball game between the single and married men of the order, in which the latter team won by a score of 11-8.

Kinney who played shortstop for the single men was the mainstay of the team. In the third inning with two men on bases, he landed on Meserole's delivery for a three-bagger and in the last half of the fifth with two men on bases, he again came to bat and drove the ball out into the cornfield for a home run.

For the married men, Constable "Pete" McNeerney well deserves to be called the "Mike Donlin" of the Elks for in the third, with two men on bases, he knocked out a three-bagger and also in the fifth scored another three-bagger with one man on second.

During the game four umpires were used up. "Sam" Hoyt, and "Johnny" Courtney officiating first when the Elks against them became too numerous they vacated in favor of Morris Cahn and "Joe" Mulvey.

Faughan, catcher on the married men and "Ump" Mulvey had many disputes brought on by the latter's decisions. The teams lined up as follows:

- Married Men—Whittaker, 2b; Mendonzo, cf; Faughan, c; Isaacs, 3b; Meserole, p; Thomas, 1b; Rosenthal, lf; J. O'Donnell, ss; Donnelly, rf; Moran, 1b; Dooley, cf; McNeerney, rf.

Score by innings: Married Men 2 0 2 4 3—11 Single Men 0 1 1 1 3—8

While speculation was rife as to what was coming next, the band suddenly started playing and marching toward the dining pavilion at the Point. Arrived there, John Semon, master of ceremonies announced that "Bunay" Ford and "Young Joe Grim," the latter from New York, the former from this city, would go six rounds, Frank Coyle was the referee and had his hands full separating the two.

Following this, everybody repaired to Jean Towouldat, OeNsAgik ETAOItaolu the tables, which had been set in the dining pavilion at the Point. Many other prominent men were notified sitting about the boards; among them being Mayor Martin, John Gilson, David Fitzgerald, John Dooley, Capt. Isaacs of No. 1's house, Health Inspector John J. O'Donnell, Michael Walker, Thomas Flynn, Peter McNeerney, Edward Sisk, and Dr. John Quinn.

Following the after-dinner speeches, a band concert was rendered and then came a social session. In the interim when the band and talk had lulled for a time, John L. Gilson, leader of the Connecticut Taft Glee club would swell forth vocally and the strains of a national anthem would float forth, thrilling the soul of the listener.

Shortly after half-past seven the throng began to grow restless and soon were aboard the trolleys homeward bound. It was voted the best ever despite the fact that the outing was not named properly, for anyone that would have attempted to "Round-up" that herd of antlered animals would have had the time of his life.

FRENCH CABLE CO. FINED $5,000,000

Venezuelan Court Orders It to Pay Castro Damages for Complicity in Revolution.

COMPANY MAY APPEAL

Decision a Duplicate of That Against American Asphalt Company in the Matos Rebellion.

Caracas, Venezuela, Monday, Aug. 24 (via Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 27).—The civil court of first instance today handed down a judgment declaring the French Cable company guilty of complicity in the Matos revolution against President Castro and condemning it to pay damages to the amount of nearly $5,000,000.

The company may appeal from this decision. It is practically a duplication of the decision handed down against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company.

The British minister to Venezuela has been in conference lately with President Castro at Barquisimeto.

For several years Venezuela has been without direct telegraph communication with the outside world. The only way to send a cable dispatch from the republic has been to mail it to some point where the cable touched.

In 1887 the French Cable company obtained a concession for the operation of lines, and continued working until about 1904. There arose, however, many clashes between the company and the Venezuelan government, which ended finally in a complete rupture.

The Matos revolution came to an end in 1903. The New York and Bermudez Asphalt company also was found guilty by the Venezuelan court of aiding this movement.

ON AFFINITY'S TRAIL OFFICERS SLIGHTED

Earle, Out on Bail, Sets Off in Fair Haven East Stirred Over Auto in Pursuit of His Soul-Mate. Treatment of Mack and Cook.

TO BE FORGIVEN, HE SAYS THINK THEY DID THE WORK

Ten Minutes' Talk Will Restore Perfect Harmony, But He Is Highly Excited. Say New Haven Patrolmen Butted In and Took Prisoners After Their Capture.

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 27.—After spending two sleepless nights in the jail here on a charge of beating his wife, Ferdinand Piney Earle, he of "affinity" and "soul mate" fame, was released this morning on furnishing $2,000 bail. Immediately upon leaving the jail he began a search for his wife, Mrs. Julia Kutner Earle, whom he married after inducing his first wife to go to France and get a divorce from him.

Earle was surrounded by newspaper correspondents the moment he stepped from the jail, but he stopped only long enough to say: "I am going to find my wife no matter where she is. I know that if I can talk with her for ten minutes she will forgive me and everything will be all right again. This whole trouble has been twisted and I have been misrepresented. I must hurry to find my wife."

Then Earle hired an automobile and ordered the chauffeur to make all haste to his home at Monroe, where he changed his linen and put on fresh clothing, remarking to the chauffeur that he wanted to look presentable when he found his wife. Earle then went by auto to Tuxedo and to board a train for New York. He was in a high state of excitement and said the two days in jail had unsettled his nerves. A few hours later when the chauffeur returned he said Earle had missed his train and had decided to wait for the next one. This train stops at Monroe so the reporters boarded it, but Earle was not at Tuxedo when they arrived there. All efforts to find where he had disappeared were of no avail, but it is believed he has gone to New York.

MAY WIDEN STREET Permanent Paving Commission to Decide on Delay of Pavement.

There will be a special meeting of the permanent paving commission this morning at 11 o'clock to consider the proposition of delaying the paving of Chapel street, between East and State streets. The delay has been asked for by the directors of Public Works Foley and City Engineer Kelly because the board of aldermen has been talking about the widening of this street, and if this is done the city wants the street widened before the paving is done.

The matter of widening the street has been talked over from time to time, and it is being urged by many citizens. The principal reason is because of the very narrow width in some parts. The railroad company needs more room between its tracks, and at the present time it is impossible for teams to hitch on either side of the street and allow trolley cars to pass.

Boston, Aug. 27.—Margaret Daly Vokes, the well-known comedienne, died at her summer home in Lynnfield, Mass., after a long illness of tuberculosis, at the age of 35 years. She was the wife of Harry Vokes, an actor and an engagement at Worcester, and was one of the famous Daly family, which has long been prominent in theatrical affairs. Mrs. Vokes' best known parts are those in which she depicted the "tough" girl and the "country" girl and her specialty was dancing.

ANSONIA. (Special Journal-Courier News Service.)

Ansonia, Aug. 27.—The remains of John Miles, who died at the summer home of his daughter at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, on Monday, were brought to this city today and interred in Pine Grove cemetery. The services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Henry Blatz, Jr., pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. Miles was a former resident of this city.

The funeral of Mrs. Nellie B. Martin, wife of Nelson Martin, was held from her home on Pleasant street this morning, at 9 o'clock and from the Church of the Assumption at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. The program rendered was as follows: March—General Miles. Overture—Land of the Sky. Waltz—Sweetheart Days. Selection—Marrillano. Solo—Stop Making Faces at Me, John Elliott.

WILL CONTEST PETITION

A. O. Brown & Co. Fight Bankruptcy Proceedings Against Them.

New York, Aug. 27.—Announcement of the intention of the firm of A. O. Brown & Co. to contest the petition in bankruptcy filed against the firm in the United States court today by Frank V. Strauss and others, was made to-night by Edward F. Buchanan, a member of the firm. "Upon examination of our books," said Mr. Buchanan, "I find that on Tuesday at noon, we had ready assets considerably in excess of our liabilities. Had it not been for the losses we incurred by the operations of the firms who took it upon themselves to cover our commitments in the open market we would have been all right. We expect to contest the bankruptcy proceedings begun against us and to take legal steps to protest vigorously against the manner in which our business was taken out of our hands Tuesday, and our facilities for fulfilling our contracts destroyed."

MR. ROCKWELL A CATHOLIC

Nephew of Two Former Governors Received Into Church.

Hartford, Aug. 27.—The Catholic Transcript of to-day has the following to say of George L. Rockwell, of Norwalk and Ridgefield: On August 15, the Feast of the Assumption, George Lounsbury Rockwell was received in the Catholic church, and because of his prominence in social and political life throughout the state his reception into the church excited considerable publicity. Mr. Rockwell is the nephew of two former governors of Connecticut—Phineas C. and George Lounsbury; was a vestryman for years in the Episcopal church, and received many honors of the republican party, of which he is the leader in his town. For years this step was anticipated by intimate friends, who could not fail to observe the course of his reading and his inclination to discuss all questions bearing on Catholic teachings and practices. Reserved and studious in disposition, he gave no intimation to casual acquaintances of his changing views, and as a consequence the step he has taken excited no little surprise. Seeking to explain his motives, the state papers give various and, in some instances, ludicrous explanations, whereas the truth is that the step he has taken is the result of years of patient research and study, and affords the example of a man hesitating and fearful of making a mistake, but finally convinced and obliged to yield when reason and conscience claim the mastery.

NEWS OF THE STATE

Hartford, Aug. 27.—A meeting of the committee on the investigation of tenements occupied by colored people of this city was held in the Bushnell park office of the superintendent of parks, Wednesday evening. Reports given from six different wards on an aggregate number of sixty-four tenements investigated showed that although conditions in some vicinities were comparatively good, other quarters for which high rents are paid are wholly unfit for habitation.

When the matter of providing land for the negro tenement houses to be built on was introduced some of the colored members of the committee expressed unfavorable opinions regarding the proposition on the ground that it had the appearance of colonization, which has proved unsatisfactory in other cities.

Freight Cars Sacked.

Willimantic, Aug. 27.—Two freight cars in the yards of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company here were broken open today and merchandise to the value of several hundred dollars taken. From wagon tracks it is supposed that teams were backed up to the cars and loaded with the stolen goods. No trace of the thieves has been secured.

South Norwalk, Aug. 27.—The severe storm of Tuesday night and yesterday caused the total loss of the sloop Marroetta, which went ashore on Compo Beach yesterday. When the vessel grounded and the waves, ten and twelve feet high, began to break over the top, the two young men aboard, Clarence Byxbee and Thomas Wrist, of South Norwalk jumped overboard and swam ashore to the beach.

INSTANTLY KILLED

Sherman T. Merwin, Prominent Milford Farmer, Tripped by Sawmill Belting.

CONCUSSION OF THE BRAIN

Resulted from Fall—Leaves Wife and Two Children to Mourn His Loss.

(Special to the Journal-Courier.) Milford, Aug. 27.—Sherman T. Merwin, a prominent and wealthy Milford farmer, was instantly killed shortly before noon yesterday morning at Pond Point. Mr. Merwin was running a saw-mill, at the time, on the grounds of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission society. The belting slipped and caught his foot, knocking him down. Mr. Merwin was almost instantly killed from concussion of the brain, the back of his head striking the ground.

Mr. Merwin runs a farm on the outskirts of Milford at Pond Point and at the time was doing some work of his own on the grounds. The mission is conducted by the Protestant Episcopal society of New York and is used as a summer camp for the children of the society about 150 camping there every summer.

Mr. Merwin, who was about 45 years of age, was a son of the late Caleb Merwin, who was very well known throughout Milford. He leaves a wife and two children, a boy of five and a girl of three, to mourn his loss. The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2 o'clock from his late residence.

Avegro holds this title in the south. The match was held under the auspices of the American amateur athletic union and was followed by a banquet given in honor of the Olympic champion.

HAD WICKED CONCEALED WEAPON

Charged with carrying a concealed weapon George May, a young man about town, who has been arrested before, was taken into custody last night by Detective Dorman. The weapon was a very peculiar one consisting of a large man's head made of lead at the end of a stick. It was a ferocious looking affair and the police believe it was intended to do some one some genuine damage.

RIPLED SLEEPER FOR $100.

Henry Black, whose color matches his name, was arrested by Policeman Frank Egan and Hunt of the Dixwell avenue station, and will appear in court this morning charged with the theft of $100 from another man named A. Busher. It is alleged that the latter man was asleep and Black came upon him and went through his pockets for the sum named.

LONDON SPOOKS.

The Royal Engineer Who Was Seared to Death.
After things unseen that London is full of haunted houses. The region from Fleet street to Oxford street is the cockpit of metropolitan spookdom, while the dreary Euston district is haunted by phantoms remaining earthbound after many tragedies. This latest discoverer and explorer in the byways of horrors is Elliott O'Donnell. For the last few years he has focussed his entire attention upon London ghosts, and now he is telling his experiences and professes himself willing to form parties to visit haunted houses. He has spent the night in many residences with ghostly reputation and has had some hair raising adventures by his own account.

There is a house in Berkeley Square that boasts a room in which any one who sleeps there at a certain time of year. The rest of the year the room is like any other well conducted bed chamber, but the rash individual who tempts fate by sleeping in its precincts at the time when the specter is due never lives to tell his friends what really happened. Mr. O'Donnell did not venture to sample the sleeping accommodations of the room. The last person who did was a certain Major Hector Munroe of the Royal Engineers. He was engaged to marry a young girl, Phyllis Denman, who with her mother had lived for some years in the Berkeley Square house. Having heard the old story the major was consumed with a desire to sleep in the haunted room at the critical time, and when the month approached he insisted so strongly that his fiancee and her mother with many misgivings consented and the major came one day to take possession of the room.

Mrs. Denman and her daughter decided that they would not retire at all the first night he slept there; so in another part of the house they sat and tremblingly awaited events. Just before dawn they heard the sharp crack of a revolver and the terrified girl in spite of her mother's entreaties, rushed to the room, only to find the major with the revolver still smoking in his hand quite dead from fright. There are also houses in Berners, Newman and Bryansstone streets which are said to be abodes of ghosts as well as present day suffering humanity. There is a fine mansion in Dean's Yard, Westminster, where the spook takes the shape of a cavalier with a grisly wound in his forehead, and there is an old residence in Jeremy street in which the spectral visitant imitates all noises made by the occupant of a room, even if it is nothing more than the creaking of a chair.—English correspondence of New York Sun.

SOUTHINGTON.

(Special Journal-Courier News Service.) Southington, Conn., Aug. 27.—The republican caucus which was held in town hall last night was not so interesting as was expected. It was believed that the Woodruff element would be there with sufficient numbers to send a delegation instructed to vote for the present governor. Such was not the case. The Lilley faction had complete control and there was no opposition to their four candidates. In Milldale, Marion and Plantsville there was plenty of Woodruff talk, but that is as far as it extended. Very little was done in favor of the lieutenant governor and not even a Lake delegate was proposed. Elijah Rogers of this place is out for the senatorship of this place but whether the local delegation is for him or not will not be given out.

MOTORMEN MAY GO

Trolley Hands on Middletown-Meriden-Berlin Service to Be Superseded.

BERTHS FOR STEAM CAR MEN

Important Change Urged by Brotherhood of Firemen May Soon Be Effective.

A man high in railroad circles says that there will be some big changes made on the Middletown-Berlin and Middletown-Meriden electric branches in the near future, by which the control of these lines would be taken from the Connecticut company and given over to the management of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company. This means in all probability, it is said, that the trolley employes who now run the electric cars on these lines will be ousted and that railroad men will be put in their places. The motormen's places will be filled by men taken from the railroad firemen and conductor's places by railroad brakemen who will be broken in soon for the new places. The wages paid to the new motormen and conductors will be more than those paid to the former crews as they will receive the same wages as they are earning on the steam road. This new move will be most satisfactory to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, who have been trying to gain this point even since steam was abandoned and the operation of trains by electricity on these lines was begun.

Just what the feelings of the trolley men and the railroad company are have not been stated but it is possible that the trolley men in Middletown and Meriden may protest to the railroad company. In addition to the changes to be made on the Middletown-Berlin and Meriden electric branch it was said that the same changes will be made on all other branches where electricity has been substituted for steam. The electric line from East Hartford to Rockville and Meriden on the old Highland division, the line from Central Village to Taft's on the Norwich and Worcester, and the Providence-Fall River line, will all be affected by this change. It is expected to go into effect about Sept. 1.

GUARANTEED BANK DEPOSITS.

Mr. Bryan threw himself into the consideration of the proposal to have the government guarantee bank deposits with something of his old time swing. His intention is, in a few words, that the people who deposit their earnings in the banks do so at an excessive risk; that since the banks have the use of their money and use it to make money for their owners, it is right that steps should be taken to guarantee the depositors against possible dishonesty or bad banking judgment.

As a moral proposition, and it is as a moralist that Mr. Bryan makes his best impression, the assumption on the part of government of a share of the responsibility which attaches to bank administration has an attraction for many people, but it yields badly to a practical investigation. As a moral proposition it is attractive, just as it is attractive to have all of the obligations of life observed. If that could be secured by the co-operating action of government it would have been resorted to years ago. To preach the co-operating interference of government to cure all or any of the particular ills to which society is heir is to weaken human nature where human nature most needs reinforcement. In other words it is a species of molly-coddling against which we have been warned by no lesser an authority upon the usefulness of the strenuous life than Theodore Roosevelt.

We suspect that Mr. Bryan attaches in his own mind to banking the sort of sacred relationship which has grown up in the popular conception of that business, and, instead of recognizing it as a business undertaking, pure and simple, has convinced himself that it calls for other traits of character than those fed on solid commercial food. There are many bankers who themselves have been taught, or have taught themselves, that their business is an enterprise apart by itself from other business enterprises, and that bankers as men are in another business and social scale. Upon no other theory can one satisfactorily explain the proposal to so hitch up the science of government with the banks as to shift the most important phase of bank responsibility. The more practical and less sentimental view is that taken by Mr. Taft who gives it as his judgment that the guaranteeing of bank deposits would put a "premium on reckless banking" and offer an "inducement" to reckless banking.

Under the present by no means highly scientific banking system, a large part of the responsibility so far as bank management is concerned consists in carefully protecting the money of the depositors against wild speculation, careless loans and reckless investment. Not all banks live up to the theoretical conception of their responsibility, but the great majority of them do. There is no evidence to show that the banking business on that account demands extraordinary oversight on the part of the government to the extent that it shall undertake by a form of bank taxation to add its organized power to the integrity of the banks in order to guarantee the depositor. To-day the average bank is automatically restrained from conduct which threatens the solvency of the institution by the realization that the protection of the depositor is its first obligation; that a failure to realize it means disaster, and disaster means retirement from the business. Destroy that powerful restraint by hitching up the government with the banks and the very best possible stimulant to reckless speculation, careless loans and wild investments have been provided.

It is not enough, in other words, to undertake to protect the depositor by governmental interference. Of equal importance is the protection of the banks, as needed institutions, against the excessive freedom of the men in charge of them. To do thoroughly what Mr. Bryan has in mind, and to safeguard the other needs, which the guaranteeing of deposits at once creates, would carry him and his supporters at once to the government ownership of all banks of deposits. As for the Oklahoma experiment, while it may warm the cockles of one's heart to see that lusty youngster of a state butt in where hitherto angels have feared to tread, more than six months' trial of the guaranteeing plan is required to bring conviction to the country at large.

THE STATE POLICE.

The unfortunate occurrence in connection with the activities of the state police at Middletown last Sunday leaves none of its unpleasantness because of what Superintendent Egan has to say about it. It is natural for him to approve the work and methods of his men on every occasion. Did he not do so, it would not be long before he would be quite as unpopular with his subordinates as the latter are daily becoming with the Connecticut public.

It is needless and useless to take exception to the superintendent's statement. It is sufficient to call attention to the frequency of late with which the public has seen fit to harshly criticize the state police and the state police, in its turn, has hastened, with unbecoming alacrity, to offer its explanations. Superintendent Egan's present explanation is a plausible one, but we confess to a disposition to in part question it in view of the recent fracas at Savin Rock and elsewhere, when the state police have seemed to show few of the characteristics of efficient officers of the law. We are being confirmed in the belief that the time is slowly but surely approaching when the usefulness of the state police, as at present constituted, will be seriously called into question by the voters, if not the usefulness of a state police force ideally organized.

Theoretically the existence of Superintendent Egan's men as an organized force is only justified on the ground that they must be held in readiness to deal with local conditions of an unlawful nature whenever local officers find themselves unable to cope with a situation. That being the case, it may be looked upon in the light of a reproach to the local officials every time they call upon the state force. Not only should it be a reproach, in such a case, but an advertisement to the lawless that there is a community where the local officers are not only inefficient, but are willing to admit that inefficiency. Thus, on a theoretical basis, the state police force is illy justified.

In practice the state police force has developed the habit of taking the enforcement of the law into its own hands, not only with objectionable methods, but in communities where they have not been asked to by the local authorities to lend their assistance. It is conceivable that there may be occasions at long intervals when the force will find it necessary to draw its revolvers. It is not conceivable that in almost every raid made there should be instances of shooting and of wounding. The enforcement of the liquor laws, or in fact of any law, is a serious matter; but it is not to be supposed that life must be endangered as often as an attempt at enforcement is made.

ON THE FIRST BALLOT.

Two interesting announcements were made yesterday, one in Connecticut and the other in New York. The Connecticut announcement was to the effect that enough Connecticut towns had elected Lilley delegates to the Republican state convention to insure the nomination of that gentleman on the first ballot. The New York announcement was made by the political reporter of the New York Sun stationed at the headquarters of the National Republican organization and was to this effect: "The nomination of Lilley for governor of the Nutmeg State cannot, in the judgment of many important Republicans, greatly aid Taft."

Taking the Connecticut statement exactly at its face value and conceding to Congressman Lilley the doubtful honor of the Republican nomination, which surely cannot "greatly aid Taft," the only possible comment that can be made is that the machine has done its work perfectly and is in a position to redeem pledges made over a year and a half ago. For those who admire the road roller process of political conduct, a more impressive object lesson could not well be given. It cannot fail to carry to the thousands of earnest young men, who are either about to cast their first ballot this fall or to cast their second, the plain suggestion that, if they ever hope to serve the state for their immediate locality in public office, they must strike hands with the machine now, and forever afterwards hold their peace. This they must do, or, burning their bridges behind them, give the state their more patriotic service in the form of an independent vote. It is a serious alternative the machine has given young men, who should be taught first of all that they live under a free government and that to protect it is their first obligation.

Says the Sun of the New York Republican machine, which is undertaking to repeat there the Connecticut experiment of eliminating an honest and fearless governor from office: "Barnes Hendricks, Wadsworth and divers other bosslets hold their primaries, carry them against Hughes, arrange to savand then swagger about and boast that the Republicans of New York have spoken. The Republicans of New York not bound to the machine have no use for the bosslets and no patience with them. These little demonstrations of the art of carrying primaries produce no conviction. Every fresh evidence of the resistance of the bosslets to public sentiment, and of their rancor against the governor whom they could not use, stimulates anew the public contempt for them and the public desire to hold their noses to a grindstone. Will the bosslets ever get it into their heads that their opposition is in itself a sufficient certificate of the merits of their enemy?"

Every word of this scathing statement applies to the political situation which has been forced in Connecticut, and which for the most reprehensible of reasons comprehends the elimination of a competent governor from public life "whom they could not use" and the substitution of a man without a state platform, who has botched his congressional job only the more completely to chum in with the machine. It is possible the voters of the state of Connecticut will approve of this unmitigated impertinence and then again it is possible they won't. If they do, it will be a magnificent demonstration of the confidence they feel in and the need they have for William Howard Taft.

AN INCREDIBLE EXPERIENCE.
If the facts are as they have been stated in the newspapers, the experience one Joseph Hazelton of Orange, aged 75, has had with the Consolidated Trolley company is almost past belief. He directed the conductor to let him off at a stated corner which that official did not do. When the conductor refused to take him back he stayed on the car evidently proposing to stay aboard until taken back to his original destination. At Bridgeport he was handed over to the police and in the police court was fined $5.00. Not a little interest attaches to the fact that the man is a cripple.

We should like to see this case carried by some curious minded man with the money to the highest court in the state, in order that it might be ascertained if there is no implied contract between the railroad company and its patrons as to the obligation of the former to land passengers where they wish to be landed. It would seem to the laymen as if there was, though the average man may not care to have it lived up to. Manifestly the conductor is not at liberty to stop where he pleases without regard to the rights of the passenger, which would appear to give the latter some rights in such a predicament as our Orange friend found himself in.

We venture the assertion that in some lands, where free government is unknown, a trolley passenger would not be sooked that amount of money for insisting on his rights. Mr. Hazelton paid high for the carelessness of an employe.

ROOSEVELT ON FARMING.

Mr. Roosevelt executed a coup d'etat Wednesday. In a manner worthy of a hero of San Juan he eluded everybody but the reporters, who must have been tipped off by him in advance, and made all speed for Jordanville, where he took part in the dedication of a library building given that village by his brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson, and incidentally liberated a few new ideas on his latest hobby, the amelioration of the condition of the farmer who doesn't want to be ameliorated.

There can be few to disagree with the president in his desire that the country and country-life may prove increasingly attractive. The problem of the cities is a grave problem and its solution lies in this direction. But when Mr. Roosevelt says that he gets "impatient" with the individual who goes to the city because he can find no attraction in the country it is a mood characteristic of him and one that will hinder, rather than aid, him in his latest undertaking. In his impatience to see country-life more universally appreciated, he has determined to solve the whole question himself, as if it could be solved in a day, and he has appointed a commission to compel the longed-for change. The impression follows that his impatience is born of a wee love of applause for having accomplished things, and a wee feeling of cocksureness. The impression is furthered by his speech at Jordanville, when, in the midst of a dissertation on millionaires and hobo filers, ideal young men, and fresh air in bed-rooms, he came to the subject of the farmer's wife and said: "The hardest-worked individual on the farm is apt to be the mother or wife of the farmer. If you don't applaud that you ought to, I believe in the farmer economizing, but on himself, not his wife. I am dead right on that."

Many of the president's ideas as to the needs of the farmer are excellent but just how he can believe a government commission or official will be able to go to a farmer, who is the essence of independence if anything, and tell him just what work his wife ought to do and what work she ought not to do and escape the gleaming teeth of good Tower, is past all understanding. The farmer's condition is being bettered daily, but it is the farmer himself who has brought it about and it is the farmer who must continue to do so.

HOLLAND AND CASTRO.

There are indications that Dictator Castro, of Venezuela, has overstepped the mark and that he may very soon be forced at least to relinquish his high-handed methods and possibly to hand over the helm of the little so-called republic to others. Not only is there a likelihood that he will have to face the crafty and determined Hollanders in a struggle with arms, but there is now brewing a well-organized revolution among his countrymen who resent him and his methods, a revolution of such proportions that it will test his political strength to the utmost.

Holland is particularly well fitted for giving Castro a good thrashing. There have been any number of world powers in the past that have had their troubles with him, but they have invariably had their hands tied in one way or another in dealing with him. England, France, Germany and Italy are some of the nations that have disagreed with Castro, but they have unanimously failed to obtain satisfaction. Although there would have been general satisfaction had these foreign countries worsted Venezuela and especially Castro, still the United States has been obliged to insist that they limit their advances to the provisions of the Monroe doctrine, which bind us to oppose the taking of a single foot of Venezuelan territory by a foreign power. Our own government has been blocked in its efforts to get restitution from Castro, as a contemporary has expressed it, "by the necessity of avoiding any action that bore the resemblance of bull-dozing Venezuela. Least the traditional fears of the other South American countries would be aroused regarding the designs of the great North American republic upon Latin America."

In the present instance, however, there is nothing to stand in Holland's way. Her controversy with Castro is not of a financial or territorial nature. For that reason there need be no fears that she will take a foot of Venezuelan territory. Consequently the Monroe doctrine does not apply and the United States has given Queen Wilhelmina's government carte blanche to go ahead. Furthermore the Hollanders' past reputation as diplomats and fighters is such as to warrant the expectation that they will come out of the controversy, whether it comes to arms and fighting or not, with flying colors. "You can't beat the Dutch," should be an expression full of meaning to Castro. It would not be remarkable if Dutch tenacity accomplished what England, France, Germany, Italy and the United States have failed to accomplish—the humiliation of Castro. One thing can be depended upon, namely that the Dutch are skilled enough to determine wisely the best means of bringing Castro to the chalk-mark, whether it should be by active war or by the slower process of blockading him into submission.

President Roosevelt had no trouble in concealing his trip to Jordanville, N. Y., Wednesday, which makes us wonder why it has been necessary heretofore to make so much noise over trivial undertakings. He convinces us that the sort of publicity the country has had thrust upon it has been forced and this conviction is strengthened by the comparative quiet at Hot Springs.

It is something of a recommendation when a man who has been as persistently prosecuted by Mr. Jerome as Harry Thaw has been says of the former: "I agree with Mr. Hand's decision in favor of Mr. Jerome, and think that on the whole public opinion will support it."

This has been a strange summer, first very dry, then very wet, first excessively hot, then excessively cold. It is no common happening when one can read in August's newspapers of suffering and even of death from cold and exposure in mid-August.

When the reports come from Atlanta that the city is "all under water," with four to nine feet of the liquid in every store, church and house, there may be grave doubts whether Georgia has really gone "dry" as we have been led to believe.

How about "Willie" Hearst and his independence party? Haven't heard a "peep" from him in some time, except in the Hearst papers, and usually he is not at a loss for something to say on any subject.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES.

The Middletown Situation. (News Despatch.)
The contest in this city is not so much a fight for either Lilley or Lake but is a contest between the machine forces and the anti-machine. The machine in this city is out for Lilley and hence those opposed to the machine are working for Lake.

Sassy as They Make 'em. (Waterbury Republican.)
New London 1916 voters for Lilley delegates, 200 for Lake, Borrah, the home of Palmer, 2 Lilley delegates.

One more Palmer letter with another $3,000 edition of Osbornese, and the convention will make it unanimous.

The Democratic Party. (Springfield Republican.)
It is clear that all of the small parties wish to see the democratic party annihilated so that they may snatch up as much of the wreckage as possible. This is the hope of Hearst; it is the hope of the socialists; and the prohibitionists would expect to profit in the south especially. If the old democratic party is to die, now may be the fitting time; but who could foresee accurately the character of its successor?

From a Bryan Paper.

(New York World.)
Mr. Taft's subtle and lawyer-like utterances are naturally contrasted with the fiery harangues with which President Roosevelt has made his views and wishes known, and so in some quarters they have been criticized as lacking in force when, in truth, they have been noteworthy chiefly because of their moderation and candor. Both men have shown a capacity to deal gravely and sincerely with difficult problems and in terms befitting aspirants for a high station.

The Governor's Grave Rebuke.

(Stamford Advocate.)
Gov. Woodruff's speech at the Hebron bi-centennial celebration contains many good and excellent and instructive points. Whether he meant it or not some of his remarks implied praise of and deserved rebuke for certain phases of our political life which were never more rampant and obvious in Connecticut than in the playing of "hor position" which has been going on in this state all summer, in connection especially with the gubernatorial and, less obviously and directly, with the national senatorship for which there is soon to be a new election.

Convention Voting.

(Bridgeport Farmer.)
The Hartford Courant is still anxious for a roll call in the coming republican state convention. This is practically an impeachment of the honesty of all delegates classified as for Lilley. There is an evident fear that, unless held to the mark by a roll call, they may turn to Gov. Woodruff or Lieut. Gov. Lake, and really there may exist some ground for the apprehension. We do not understand that many of them are bound by explicit instructions for Lilley. Thus, there is actually no reason why they should vote as they choose, whether on roll call, by ballot or otherwise.

"Doubtless Sincere," Indeed!

(New London Telegraph.)
That little pamphlet which was issued occasionally last year and which died from inanition—it was called Publicity—is recalled in the New Haven Journal-Courier occasionally when Col. Osborn begins to preach on state politics. The colonel has been a long time in the game as played in Connecticut and knows it inside and out, and while his opinions are occasionally exasperating, he puts them out with such very pure motives. Nationally he is with them. His opposition to Lilley's candidacy is doubtless sincere, but however well founded is his opinion it does not meet harmonious objections in any other part of the state.

Connecticut's Problem—Lilley.

(Springfield Union.)
Congressman George W. Lilley of Waterbury is the problem in Connecticut. He is likely to be the republican candidate for governor. The career of Lilley is interesting. He started as a poor boy and finally became the representative of one of the great Chicago packing houses. He has amassed a large fortune. As a member of the legislature he "made good" and was chosen a member of the congress at large. Everyone is familiar with his submarine boat investigation as a result of which he became the laughing stock of congress. Nationally he is politically dead, but in Connecticut he seems to have gained sympathy. The Connecticut republicans are contented that if he had not been chairman of the committee, he could have proved his case. The republicans of Connecticut have a curious custom. By a rule that is almost a law, all the republican members of the legislature and all the defeated republican candidates are elected, unopposed, as delegates to the state convention so that that convention seems to be a mere ratification of a nomination. Long ago Lilley received the support of a great majority of the legislators and he seems to have secured certain of the nomination. His election, however, is decidedly another story. Despite the newspaper defenses, thousands of people believe that Lilley is not qualified, and his election is in doubt.

THE DEVEL.

I am your diabolical friend,
Which gives advice—and, in the end,
You always take it.
Because the counsel I impress
Is your own secret wish, no less—
And just as full of malice,
As I can make it.

I'm popular because I'm gay,
I turn up everywhere, each day.
At tea, at dinner,
At week-ends, when I woo the graces;
At all the swaggar watering-places,
Sometimes I even play the races,
And quit a winner.

But don't think from my sporty tone
That I'm for worldliness alone
And smart society.

A favorite field of my research
Is in some lone some city church
Left by its parish in the lurch—
Vacation plenty!

All things to all men though I be,
What most of all appeals to me
Is my ambition—rather bad—
Is to make good—or rather bad—
As him who gives the hand that's glad,
The hypnotizer and the fad—
The politician.

New York, August 2, 1908.

Messrs. Harvey & Lewis, Chapel St. New Haven, Ct.

For attention: Mr. Meule.

Gentlemen:

I thought it might interest you to know of the test to which a pair of your glasses fitted with the Harvey & Lewis Guard was subjected the other day.

While canoeing on the Passaic river, the writer was upset, and compelled to dive to keep from being caught in the canoe when it went over. I had my eye glasses on at the time, and after diving and swimming down the river for a considerable distance, found them still on my nose as though nothing had happened.

This certainly speaks well for the Harvey & Lewis Guard.

With personal regards, I am, Very truly yours,

The calf first attracted my attention because she had five legs, which, although it is rather uncommon, is not rare enough to create more than passing interest."

ABOUT FLOWER BEDS

Plea for Unconventional Affairs —Charm in Japanese Landscape Gardening.

HINTS ON ARRANGEMENT

Things That May Be Done to Make a Small Plot an Ideal Spot. Practically everybody who owns a small plot of the average suburban size and shape lays out oblong borders and flower beds.

Please don't. If you have nice, straight edges on your border in the front of the house be daring enough to take a spade and give the place a look by two to make curves—and not symmetrical curves, either.

But, the straight outer edges is not the only point about the conventional flower bed that needs correcting. Why should the bed be primly levelled off like a floor and made as flat as a pancake? Did any one ever see a natural garden in the woods that was perfectly flat?

The present fad for Japanese miniature landscape gardening has much to be criticised, and there are many reasons for not liking it particularly. But there is one thing about it that deserves copying in every American garden. It is the charming irregularity of outline, both as regards surface and edges.

WILLIE SMITH IN THE LEAD

Hamilton, Mass., Aug. 27.—By brilliant work in the morning and steady golf in the afternoon, Willie Smith, fresh from the burning sands of Mexico, led the field today at the end of the first 36 holes of the open golf championship at the Myopia Hunt Club.

Many spectacular and grandstand catches have been made, some of which seemed almost impossible. No matter how difficult these catches may have been, they are only snail-slices when compared to Blondy Zacher's beautiful catch in the sixth inning today.

Phil Corcoran, who twirled for the visitors, was invincible and only allowed five scattered hits. He was steady at all times and pitched stronger as the game progressed.

The visitors scored in the third inning, when Corcoran walked, reached second on Corbell's single to center and scored on the play, two-bagger.

HOT PENNANT RACE

Yesterday's Results Add Interest to Great Struggle in National League.

CLUBS DRAW STILL NEARER

Fans in Fever of Excitement—Full Box Scores Wired to Havana.

One of the most exciting races in history for the National League pennant took on added interest yesterday by the drawing still closer together of the clubs in the three-cornered contest.

The New York team, fresh from a clean sweep of the series in Pittsburgh and a run of eight consecutive victories, which had put them in the lead in the race, met with a check in Chicago, where the champions gave them a decisive beating.

Baseball enthusiasts believing that the present series in the two cities will probably have a decisive bearing on the outcome of the pennant race, are worked up to fever heat.

NOT EXCEPTIONAL!

A young man who had stopped for a moment to consider his success and advancement in the future, said: "I'm constantly being paid, paying up some old bill and am only working now for the money I owe others—my pay for weeks to come belongs to someone else—where am I at—where will I come out?"

Hundreds of young men are in the same position. "Oh, well," they say, "never mind, I'll earn more salary very soon. Then I'll pay 'em all and have money left." Such thoughts are very foolish. They are spending their money—over and over—without any return. Simply because they owe their good standing, their good times and good offices to someone else.

The savings account has been the starting point for many a successful career. Start one, young man, today.

PEOPLES BANK AND TRUST CO. 799 CHAPEL STREET. WALL STREET NOTES Market Broadens, Advances to Higher Level, With Trading on Larger Scale.

C. AND N. W. GOES UP Chesapeake and Ohio Strong Following Bond Sale—Harriman Stocks Prominent.

Opening firm, stocks gradually advanced to a higher level, with the Harriman issues leading. Trading was the much larger scale, as indicated by the fact that up to one o'clock the total was 200,000 shares, against 130,000 Wednesday.

Talk on Erie revives with the revival of spirits broken down, first by Lanyon's butting in and then by the failure of a daring bear program to be carried through. It differs little from what has been heard before, but seems to have grown more sturdy. It may be the prospective return of Mr. Morgan which has given new life to the discussion of Erie, or it may be that when Mr. Harriman ends his vacation out west he will come back and take up the Erie question in the same spirit in which he has been reported acting in Union Pacific and Southern Pacific affairs while "roaming the wilds of Oregon."

Chicago and Northwestern made a noteworthy advance, rising two points by early in the afternoon on what was regarded as investment purchases. This stock is closely watched by many, because considered as a good index of investment conditions, as well as of the business outlook. Purchases of it are usually ascribed to certain of the directors and their associates, who are credited with putting much of their surplus money into it when the outlook is good.

Where there was timidity Wednesday and a shyness about trading in anything larger than a 100-share lot, there was aggressiveness yesterday, and no hesitation about dealing in lots of really respectable proportions. Traders seemed to have "shaken it off," commission houses "felt better," and there was something going by the right people. Altogether it made a big and broad market, and even if it appeared that too much was being made of the Harriman stocks, the fact that there was a change from depressing conditions was warmly welcomed.

Chesapeake and Ohio was strong as the result of the announcement by William Salomon & Co. that all of the company's Big Sandy railroad bonds had been sold. In their letter these bankers also emphasized very strongly the excellent financial position of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company and the very conservative policy of its management in spending $3 out of surplus income on the property and for equipment to every dollar distributed in dividends.

STOCK MARKET REVIEW. "Evening Up" Process by Shorts Leads to Higher Prices.

New York, Aug. 27.—Under the influence of a heavy covering movement, induced in large part by an "evening up" process of the shorts concerned in the suspension of A. O. Brown & Co., today's stock market made pronounced progress in the direction of higher prices. Again the leaders were the Harriman issues, Southern Pacific advancing to a new high level, and Union Pacific selling at its highest figure in considerably over a year.

As has been the case right along, no tangible news attended the upward movement of these stocks, but the board room was full of gossip about an increase in the Southern Pacific dividend and talk of better earnings by both roads for July. Encouragement was found in the belief that no more untoward incidents are likely to result from the early weeks' excitement. An excellent impression was created by the news which the new Atchison $17,000,000 bond issue was marketed and by the generally better demand for high class bonds. In speculative circles a more hopeful view of market conditions seemed to be taken. Trading during the first hour was almost as large as for the entire previous day, and such adverse factors as the flood damages in the south and numerous unfavorable railroad returns seemed to call for scant attention. For the month of July fifty-five railroads reported a decrease of 16.5 per cent. in gross. For the second week of this month returns from thirty-six roads show a decrease in gross of 11.2 per cent., and for the third week twelve leading lines fell off 12.6 per cent. The Harriman issues became buoyant in the late session of the market and the entire list participated in the rise. Reading made a net gain of 4 1/8 and Southern Pacific and Union Pacific scored net gains of 3 1/4 and 4 5/8 points, respectively. Trading in the last two issues constituted over 23 per cent. of the day's business, which closed at top prices, despite heavy realizing for profits. In the London markets Americans were strong and some demand for Erie issues was reported from the continent. The demand for money here continues at a standstill, with freer offerings. Foreign exchange advanced smartly on active bidding to cover short contracts, but later lost its early gain.

The general bond market was strong. Total sales par value aggregated $4,410,000, including $1,000,000 in government bonds on call. BERLIN BANK RUN CONTINUES. Berlin, Aug. 27.—The run on the Friedrichsberger bank, in the eastern district of Berlin, which began yesterday afternoon, continued all day today. In spite of the declaration of the directors that the institution is perfectly sound, made last evening, hundreds of small depositors stood in the street all night in order to be on hand when the doors opened.

BANK OFFICERS INDICTED. Grand Jury Acts in Case of Three Failures at Owensboro, Ky.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 27.—The grand jury which has been investigating the failures of the Owensboro Savings bank and Trust company and the Davlos County Bank and Trust company returned indictments against four officials of the banks today.

James M. Parrish, president of the Owensboro Savings Bank and Trust company, was indicted for embezzlement, subornation of perjury, and receiving deposits after the bank was known by him to be insolvent (two indictments).

J. Otis Parrish, cashier, was indicted on the charge of making a false entry on March 31, 1937. T. S. Anderson is indicted on three charges of perjury, embezzlement and accepting deposits after he knew the bank to be insolvent.

STORM SWEEPS SOUTHERN COAST. Commerce and Railway Traffic Centering at Norfolk Paralyzed.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 27.—Increased intensity today marked the stormy weather conditions which have prevailed here unabated since Sunday last, with a total rainfall to date of six and one-half inches. The storm has not only paralyzed commerce and brought untold troubles to the railroads entering Norfolk from the south, but has added increased losses to the already severe damage sustained by farmers to their growing crops.

A northeast storm, except the Virginia, Carolina and Maryland coasts today, with a wind velocity at the Virginia capes of thirty-six miles an hour. All shipping is held in port. The river and streams through eastern and central North Carolina are still rising.

DEFY PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD.

Metropolitan Railway Denies Its Power to Order Traverses.

New York, Aug. 27.—Flatly denying that the public service commission has authority to force joint routes or rates upon the street railway companies, the receivers of the Metropolitan road today caused a sensational turn in the contest which has been in progress for several weeks to compel the railway company to grant transfers from its up and down town lines to a cross town line of another company.

The denial was made in a formal statement at a hearing before the public service commission today, in which the counsel for the receivers objected to the proceedings on the ground that "the commission has no power, authority or jurisdiction to make any order to require surface railroad corporations to establish through routes or joint rates, fares or charges."

Officials of the Metropolitan parried all questions asked them by the commission bearing on the matter of transfers. The issue thus raised is said to effect the very life of the commission.

SENATE TAKES UP CONGO.

All Powers Favor Annexation to Belgium, Says Foreign Minister.

Brussels, Aug. 27.—The Belgian senate today began its consideration of the treaty providing for the annexation of the Congo Independent state to Belgium. M. Schollaert, the premier, urged the speed adoption of the measure. "Belgium's task will be huge and heavy," he said, "and to succeed we must dare. King Leopold has given us a rich and well organized colony which should be accepted gratefully."

Foreign Minister Davignon then sketched the international aspect of the matter. He pointed out that the Congo charter provided responsibility for the Congo debt and said the interest upon the debt could be taken over any time by the passage of a special law. All the powers welcomed annexation, the foreign minister continued.

CHURCH ON WHEELS.

St. Anthony's Chapel to Tour the State Shortly.

Great interest is being manifested by the Catholics of this city concerning the St. Anthony's chapel which will soon come to Connecticut, visiting Hartford and New Haven.

The society has its headquarters in Chicago, and the objects of its work, which are well expressed by its name, are conserved by the car. It can go wherever railroads extend and it is a boon to those localities where there are no Catholic churches and the people have no ministrations.

MUNICIPAL INSURANCE.

Mayor Reilly's Scheme Riddled by Insurance Register.

The Insurance Register, a monthly paper devoted exclusively to fire and life insurance matters, recently devoted considerable space to Mayor T. L. Reilly of Meriden and his scheme for municipal insurance.

The following is an extract from the Register's article: "This good man's brains appear to have been dazzled by his being vested with a little brief authority."

We think that his proposition, if submitted to the Connecticut legislature, would be fiercely opposed by the fire insurance companies; that they would rush to Hartford with a powerful lobby to antagonize it.

But this is only one of the errors into which he has fallen. However, doubtless some of the sane inhabitants of the little burg over whose destinies he presides will recall the $12,000,000 conflagration in Portland, Me., away back in the '80s, the incidents of Chicago and Boston, Jacksonville, Fla., Waterbury, Conn., Paterson, N. J., Rochester, N. Y., Hull and Ottawa, Canada, and Baltimore and San Francisco.

Moved by the memory of the experience of these municipal allies, they will be likely to ask how valuable would have been the guarantee of these cities if they had prior to their baptism of fire, undertaken to pay to their citizens the losses occasioned thereby, how light would be the burden of taxation upon those citizens if they had undertaken honestly and faithfully to meet the obligations assumed, and how much of a boom any of them would be enjoying in this good year 1908, if in mad frenzy, they had made such an insane plunge as Reilly recommends his fellow citizens to make."
