THREE CONTESTS LIVEN PRIMARIES

making a total of votes cast 299, the largest number in years in the Ninth ward.

Alderman J. Edmund Miller and his friends had put a second ticket in the field in the Sixth and the voting was very heavy. Up to the last half hour the Miller ticket was ahead, but at the end the box was stormed and the anti-Miller ticket polled 116 votes to his 95.

The battle royal was waged in the Fifth ward, where the friends of Thomas H. Molloy were trying to save the ward from him in the senatorial controversy, and Edward Keating, the deposed deputy registrar, and other interests were trying to send a John H. Courtney delegation to the convention and make his nomination unanimous.

As there was but one ticket in the Third and Fourth wards, which with the Fifth comprise the Tenth senatorial district, Mr. Courtney with his campaign manager, former Senator James McGann, and the latter's lieutenant, Peter J. McNeerney of the Second ward, arrived early on the scene and helped Mr. Keating send in the anti-Molloy ticket.

Against this imposing galaxy, alone and unaided went Dennis J. McCuen of the Thirteenth ward, who had come down to help his old friend, Tom Molloy.

"We are going to trim you, Dennis," said Mr. McNeerney. "Look out, Peter, you have been smelling cocaine again," was the reply, and the contest began.

It wasn't long before there was trouble. A young man came up to the polls to cast a ballot and was stopped by Mr. Keating, who said he had no right to take part in the primaries. Mr. McCuen took exception to Mr. Keating's stand and asked the young man if he was enrolled. When the reply was in the affirmative Mr. McCuen then asked him if he had voted for the last democratic candidate for governor.

"Don't answer him," said Mr. McCuen. "Go ahead and vote as long as you are sworn in." So the young man voted, and that was one of Mr. Molloy's plurality of large. After the balloting was over each side claimed a victory and watched the votes counted. When the result was announced Mr. McCuen and the new registrar, Antonio D. Stephano, sped post haste to Mr. Molloy and informed him of the victory.

Outside of these three contests the voting was very tame. The convention to choose delegates to the Hartford state convention will be held to-night in Heublein's banquet hall, the congressional to-morrow night; the probate Friday night and the justice of the peace Saturday night.

In the various wards yesterday 1,599 votes were cast for the ticket and 1,428 votes were cast for Mr. Allen. The lists of delegates by wards follow:

PICKED OFF LIVE WIRE IN MID-AIR

 The position in which he was placed, McQueeney, noting the trying position of Reynolds, grasped a rope and climbed to his aid. He tied the rope about the latter's legs, thereby strengthening the position of Reynolds and Jackson on the pole.
 In the meantime, Superintendent of Malls, Pierce M. Maher, having been apprised of the disaster, had telephoned to the hospital for an ambulance. He also notified Engine Co. 12, which quickly responded with the combination chemical. This, however, was useless, so Police Sergeant Doherty, who happened to be on the scene, telephoned to Fire Marshal Gladwin, who ordered the Olive street aerial hook and ladder out. The driver of the hook and ladder came down Chapel street, turning into Gregson street, but owing to the condition of Center street, he was unable to pass at this point. The driver quickly backed the apparatus out and drove down Church street, turning into Center, where the three horses pulling the heavy truck tramped over the permanent foundation which had just been laid in preparation of the wooden block pavement that is to be placed in the street.
 The aerial ladder was speedily placed in a position adjacent to the pole, where McQueeney, who was on the pole, having been sent up to snap the telephone wires, in order to give the ladder a free field, fastened it to the pole. Jackson, who in the meantime had recovered consciousness, with the aid of Foreman Reynolds and Lineman McQueeney, succeeded in reaching the ladder, by which he descended to the street, where he was placed in the ambulance and taken to the hospital. James Conough of the Office street company guided him down the ladder to insure safety.
 Considerable credit is due to the local police for the orderly manner in which the crowd was held in restraint. A very large number of people jammed both Gregson and Center streets to witness the spectacular rescue work and in every available window in the neighborhood from which a view of the work could be obtained people were noticed viewing the rescue.

 The scene is one that will long be remembered by all who witnessed it, for many of the spectators present expected every moment to see Jackson fall to the pavement.
 Jackson is a slightly built young man about twenty-three years old, five feet, nine or ten inches in height and weighs between 140 and 150 pounds. He hails from Belle Island, Maryland, resides at 645 Chapel street and has been with the Illuminating Co. over a year. He is painfully burned about the hands and abdomen and it will be some time before they heal slowly. At the New Haven hospital he was reported as resting very comfortably last evening.
 James Reynolds, the foreman of the crew, lives at 58 Duggett street and has been with the Lighting Co. for four or five years. It is to him that Jackson really owes his life, for were it not for his fearless bravery and active presence of mind, the accident might have proven fatal.
 The other members of the crew, all of whom assisted in the rescue work, were Thomas McQueeney of 218 Franklin street, George Dileo of 125 Meadow street, and Thomas Cosgrove of 174 Franklin street.
 Superintendent Parker of the Illuminating company thought the accident due to carelessness on the part of Jackson, who not realizing the power in the wires, came in contact with them with the intended result. When asked regarding the voltage in the wires he was unable to give out any accurate statement, but the approximate voltage as estimated by several electricians was between 750 and 1,250 volts.
 Among those who witnessed the rescue work were Mayor James B. Martin and Police Commissioner Arthur N. Dean.

 oars and bringing the boat up near Crawley and Evans, helped them aboard. Then the women were beyond help. Weighted down by their water-soaked clothes and chilled through by the cold water, they had been unable to keep themselves afloat. Some of them had grabbed the person nearest them by the neck, and in some instances they had gone down together, clasped in each others arms. The three men in the tender found they were almost as incapable of giving assistance in their boat as they had been in the water. The wind was too high and the sea too rough for them to handle the small boat.
 The upset, however, had been seen from Eagle Island, not far from the accident, and as soon as possible a sloop was sent out to pick up the survivors. Of the rest of the party but two were in sight and the boat was headed for them. They were Little Kellogg and Miss Evans. They were unconscious and although the rescuers worked vigorously over them, all efforts to restore life failed.

FINANCIERS NOW HEAR ESTIMATES
 incinerator could be built he said the board of health had not completed plans for the disposal but could probably find a way if it was only to be for one year. The doctor told of a new offer made for the erection of a 200 ton a day plant here at a cost of $175,000, which would transform the power obtained into electricity that would light 1,500 electric lights of 2,000 candle power each and so save the city its lighting bill. The estimator figured that the garbage would be equivalent to the use of a ton of coal per hour.
 Dr. Maher remarked that it was of no use to have medical advisers on the board of health and then pay no attention to their opinions but simply pass out whatever money was thought good for them, and hold them responsible for all trouble.
 The other members of the board sustained Dr. Maher's sentiments briefly. Prof. Brewer urged the garbage plant strongly and inveighed against the present method of disposition.
 Assistant Town Clerk Thomas Cox appeared for Whitaker's department; Corporation Counsel Rogers, Colonel Callahan, Superintendent Frohlich, John Gilson and Jacinto Casarego for their departments.
 To-night the board will grant the following hearings: At 7, civil service board; 7:05, supervisor of steam boilers; 7:10, patriotic celebrations; 7:15, harbor commission; 7:20, board of education; 8, department of public works.

BALLOONISTS NEAR DEATH IN NIAGARA

Anchor and Rip Cord Fail to Work, But Bag Catches on Barn at Gorge's Edge.

PILOT IS BADLY INJURED

All Ballast Thrown Out to Avoid Niagara Falls—Balloon Drags Along Ground for a Quarter Mile.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Fearing a storm on Lake Ontario, the crew on board the racing balloon Ville Dieppe tried to descend at Niagara Falls to-day. The rip cord failed to work properly and as a result the three persons in the basket got a bad shaking up and narrowly escaped death in the whirlpool rapids. Captain A. F. Mueller, in charge of the balloon, suffered the most. He was taken to a hospital to-night and may be internally injured. With Captain Mueller were Perry Gregory, 15 years old, and Gerald Gregory, 18 years old, sons of C. F. Gregory of Chicago, secretary of the American Federation of Aerial Clubs.

The Ville Dieppe left Columbus, Ohio, at 8:30 o'clock, last night. The journey through the air was uneventful until 9 o'clock this morning when it ran into troublesome air currents on Lake Erie and dropped to within 250 feet of the lake's surface. Ballast was thrown out and the big bag shot up to 8,000 feet. It was young Gregory's first trip and he became very sick at the high altitude.

When the balloon was above Niagara Falls it was practically without ballast and was dipping dangerously close to the ground. A storm was blowing up and Capt. Mueller decided to make a landing. He tried to release the gas with the rip cord, but it failed to work properly with the result that the bag with a capacity of 87,000 feet dragged along for 1,000 feet. An anchor was thrown out. It caught in a clump of trees and snapped from the balloon which rose and fell alternately, severely jolting the occupants of the car.

The basket dragged over the railroad tracks, struck a barn and finally landed at the Devil's Hole, 200 feet from the gorge. Two of Gerald Gregory's teeth were knocked out and his head was cut. Perry Gregory was unconscious when taken from the basket. His left ankle was sprained and his body bruised.

COUNTESS VERY ILL

Szechenyi's Wife Gives Birth to Child Prematurely.

Vienna, Sept. 1.—A despatch received here from Budapest states that Countess Szechenyi is seriously ill, following her accouchement of a still-born child, but according to the latest reports the immediate danger is past although she will be confined to bed. It is feared, for a long time. It appears that the countess started a few days ago on an automobile tour with her husband, when she suddenly became ill. She was conveyed home to Ungvar castle and as speedily as possible doctors were summoned from Budapest. The countess' mother, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, has been requested by cable to come to Budapest.

SUFFOCATED IN HOLD.

Four Sailors Succumb to Fumes of Burning Pitch.

Boston, Sept. 1.—Succumbing to the deadly fumes of burning pitch and oakum deep down in the forenoon of the British bark Puritan as she lay at anchor in President Roads today, four seamen were suffocated and a fifth was partly overcome and was rescued by shipmates. The dead were: Peter E. Olsen, Carl Morsen, Peterson Beck, George Sunblade. The injured, William Roberts.

The fire, which caused only slight damage, is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. This afternoon Capt. Chapman sent Seaman Olsen down into the forenoon to stow away a sail. When the man failed to return to the deck after some time had elapsed, three other men were sent down to investigate. Finally Captain Chapman ordered the mate and two men to find out what the trouble was. Lying near the foot of the ladder they almost stumbled over the bodies of the four seamen who had come down before them.

GALE SWEEPS BRITAIN

Channel Boat Service Suspended in Face of Seventy-Mile Wind.

London, Sept. 1.—Late to-night the gale which has prevailed all over the English channel for the past twenty-four hours showed little sign of abating. Much damage was done ashore as well as on the sea. The wind at times blew at the rate of seventy miles an hour, which is almost unprecedented at this time of the year. Never before has it been necessary in the summer to suspend the boat service between Folkestone and Dover, and the midday service to Calais.

POLICE LESS POSITIVE

Admit Boardwalk Shooting Might Have Been for Robbery.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 1.—There were further indications to-day of a complete standstill in the police investigation into the shooting of Charles B. Roberts of Baltimore on the board walk six days ago. Chief of Police Woodruff said to-day that W. S. G. Williams of Baltimore, husband of the woman who was with Roberts at the time of the attack, had been eliminated. The chief further stated that he believed it would be two weeks or more before developments might be expected. Roberts continues to improve, and there are strong chances for his recovery.

His Arrest Precipitated Recent Bloody Riots in Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Earl Hallam to-day signed a statement that George Henderson is not the negro who assaulted her on the night of August 14. A warrant is reported to have been sworn out for the arrest of another negro, named Ralph Boston. It was the assault charged against Richardson, followed by his arrest and removal to Bloomington, Ill., that precipitated the recent bloody race riot.

To Speak French You Must KNOW French —to Play Intricate Music You Need NOT Know Music.

The Pianola Piano

Made only by the AEOLIAN COMPANY.

When an accomplished musician renders a musical work he tries to interpret it just as the composer intended.

According as he is successful depends his reputation as a player.

The PIANOLA PIANO has the reputation amongst finished musicians of producing a musical composition just as the composer intended.

This is the function of the Metrostyle—a part of the PIANOLA.

More than this, the Themodist perforation automatically selects and accents the theme or air.

Thus the PIANOLA PIANO renders the most difficult or the simple composition as if human fingers were directing the interpretation—expert fingers.

In this it stands alone amongst player-pianos—it plays with feeling, not like a mere machine. A child can play the works of the masters—it's so simple.

Prospects point to an early start in the theatrical business both in and out of New York. Usually Labor day is the time for raising the first curtains, but already many theaters are under way and many more will get into line this week. John Drew's new play will be "Jack Straw," a comedy in which Charles Hawley has been acting in London. Mr. Drew will open in the Empire theater, New York, September 14. Miss Ethel Barrymore is now rehearsing "Lady Frederick" in which she will open at the Hudson theater, New York, early in November. Some of the popular stage idols will appear in the following plays: William Gillette in "Samson" written by Henri Bernstein, author of "The Thief"; "Fluffy Ruffles" with Hattie Williams; Joseph Coyne and Alexander Carlisle in "The Mollusc"; Louis Gunning in "The Baron of Berghoz," a comic opera by Gustav Luders; Eddy Foy in "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway"; Carlotta Nilsson in "Diana of Dobson's"; Blanche Bates in "The Fighting Hope," and Arnold Daly in "Regeneration."

A NOVEL PHILOSOPHY.

Our attention has been called to the following editorial injunction in the columns of the esteemed Waterbury American, which in carefully perusing that interesting publication we overlooked: "Nobody in his senses now doubts the triumphant nomination of George L. Lilley for governor by the Republican state convention. That being the case, it is time to drop the offensive attacks upon him by members of his own party, except those who propose to vote against him and to carry their offensive opposition into the campaign for election, as they have in the canvass for the nomination."

This is interesting aside from the admission that there are members of Mr. Lilley's political party, who have made attacks upon his eligibility. We had supposed that the only opponents he had came from the opposite party, at least that has been the contention of his supporters. That there are Republicans who resent his candidacy, and who have said so, suggests that our Waterbury contemporary has failed to catch the full significance of their attitude of mind. As we understand them their opposition to his nomination has been only an incident. Their real purpose has been to keep him out of the office himself. There has been a pro-Woodruff sentiment expressed at the primaries, and there has been a pro-Lake sentiment expressed there, but the basis of the whole movement has been to save the state of Connecticut the discredit which would surely follow the nomination of Mr. Lilley by the machine and his possible election as a result of Mr. Taft's commanding personality.

So intense has this feeling become, especially in centers of population where the votes lie, that it is impossible to cease from criticisms and interpretations which the American mistake for "attacks." Unless the convention hears the voice of the people and nominates another in Mr. Lilley's place, that gentleman will stand, if nominated, as the product of machine methods, put forth in the most offensive manner possible and for reasons sure to be known later on, should an election follow the nomination. Not only has the machine, with the arts known to it by long and uninterrupted experience, worked for the achievement of a selfish program, arranged months and months ago, but they have been equally diligent and successful in, in part, concealing from the Republican voters of the state the recorded reasons why the Lilley temperament is not fitted for the sober duties of governor. If Mr. Lilley becomes the nominee of the Republican convention, it will be because the machine has dictated his nomination and not because there is a popular demand anywhere for his election.

It is inconceivable that under these conditions the opponents of Mr. Lilley in his own party, or in any other political party, should keep still. They are more likely to speak out in louder terms when it actually becomes a fact that he is within reach of the governorship. It is one of the remarkable phases of the Republican leadership in the state of Connecticut today that it cannot see and realize the impudent character of the Lilley candidacy. Never specifically prepared for an office of the dignified character of governor, his claims have rested entirely upon his close relations with the machine and upon the fact that he is a good mixer. Today he stands as one completely discredited by the most honorable legislative body in the country, if not in the world, on the one hand, and, on the other hand, as one whose views upon state matters are wholly unknown. If he has convictions upon the subject of public utilities, of the purchase of state supplies, of uniform control of public institutions, of general as opposed to special legislation, of limited franchise rights or of the various other improvements in government, which Governor Woodruff has stood for with such acclaim except at the primary polls, they are not known to his constituents. It is impossible for the friends and supporters of Mr. Lilley to expect that the voters of Connecticut are to overlook, if he is nominated, those chapters in his political career which tell with mighty emphasis of his temperamental unfitness for high office, in order to dwell, in imagination, upon chapters which have not yet been written. There is every prospect that the voters will be given ample opportunity this fall to know Mr. Lilley before the popular polls are closed, the plea of the Waterbury American to the contrary notwithstanding.

"THE HERO BUSINESS."

President Roosevelt's latest activities are no less Rooseveltian. From the problem of ameliorating conditions on the farms he has turned to give the Rooseveltian "glad hand" to the victorious American athletes on their return from the Olympic games. Walking abreast and whistling "There'll be a Hot Time" they marched up Sagamore Hill Monday and then marched down again, like the proverbial king of France! But, before they went, the president had something to say to them. "You fellows have won a place for all time," he said. "But," he added with a characteristic reference to himself, "I feel like giving you the advice I gave to my regiment when it was disbanded: Remember that you are heroes for ten days, but when that time is up, drop the hero business and go to work." Fifteen or twenty years from now I should not like to meet some seedy individual and be told that he won at the Olympic games of 1908 and had done nothing since.

Whatever else may be said of Mr. Roosevelt, he has some very creditable ideas athletically. He believes, above all things, that all should indulge in some systematic physical exercise, not only for health's sake, but to enable one to accomplish more for humanity and himself in this all-too-short existence. This latter belief is reflected in the hope that none of the Olympic athletes will let their accomplishments rest where they are. But Mr. Roosevelt is as truly a hero worshipper as a lover of athletics, and when he urges our athletes to "drop the hero business," it comes with a little shock. We can wonder how it will be with him after March fourth.

As president he has been a hero. Any chief executive must be of necessity. Mr. Roosevelt has had the advantage of the members of his regiment. They were heroes for ten days, as he said; he has been a hero as president for nearly eight years. Is it to be expected that he will himself "drop the hero business" when his term as hero is ended? That is questionable. To want to be a hero is in the nature of the man. To-day he is planning an extensive trip into Africa, the details of which he does not hesitate to give to the newspapers and the public, even to his meeting with Dr. Rainsford in the heart of the jungle. When he returns from that, he is planning to keep his name before the public with stories and reminiscences, paid for at unheard of rates and illustrated, no doubt, by pictures taken by Kermit.

Many future occupations for President Roosevelt have been hinted at. The fact that he is comparatively such a young man will undoubtedly make his length of days as ex-president out of the ordinary. He may be a senator, or an insurance company president, or he may take up any one of the score or more of occupations that have been suggested, but it is certain that he will not go into semi-retirement, as have Mr. Cleveland and most of our ex-presidents. It is in the Roosevelt blood, evidenced almost daily in each of his children, to long to be "in the fore" and a hero always. For that reason his advice to the athletes to put aside heroics has not the weight it might.

THE PROSPERITY PLEDGE.

John W. Kern, the democratic nominee for vice-president, has written a letter to D. M. Parry, who was formerly president of the National Association of Manufacturers, asking for his views of what is known as the prosperity pledge being used by certain manufacturers. Mr. Parry replies that he is personally opposed to them and that they will not be placed in the plant controlled by him.

The prosperity pledge is a placard conspicuously posted on the walls of producing plants stating that in event of the defeat of the republican ticket the works will be indefinitely closed down; that in event of the election of the republican ticket plants will at once be put into operation for extensive business undertakings. Says Mr. Kern with truth: "The intent of the placards is obviously to frighten the public, as well as the employees directly affected, into the belief that the success of the democratic party would work injury to business and industrial interests. In other words it is a species of political intimidation." Says Mr. Parry with truth: "I am sure that the great majority of the manufacturers of the country will refrain from the posting of objectionable placards, and that mainly because it would be taking an advantage of the employee. There is the further reason also that most manufacturers run their business in accordance with the demand for their products and not in accordance with the political barometer." While it is well known inconceivable that in this enlightened day and generation this means of intimidating factory or office employees should be resorted to, it is well to remember that the secret ballot law must be attributed to just that interference with the independence of employees. Here in the state of Connecticut the law came from a protest from the shop workers against attempts to compel them to vote as their employers dictated. So clearly was it the right of workers to exercise the same political independence the employers claimed for their exercise, that the general assembly found nothing to quarrel over but the form of the law. The new prosperity pledge movement should be met as Mr. Parry has met it with a forcible repudiation. Mr. Kern's attitude shows what Mr. Bryan's attitude is on the subject, while no one need wonder what Mr. Taft would say if he were asked his opinion.

In the meantime Mr. Kern has performed a useful service in calling attention to the unfairness of the movement. Perhaps from the point of view of practical politics, it might have been a good thing for the democrats to postpone the exposure until later.

TOLSTOY'S SUCCESSOR.

Count Leo Tolstoy, the so-called "torch bearer" in the immortal gloom of monarchical oppression in Russia, is rapidly falling. Having rounded his eightieth birthday last Friday, he lies in a bed, from which the doctors do not expect he will rise, at his ancestral estates near Moscow, racked with rheumatism and gout. The advocate of the cause of liberty, the one notable exception among the nobility of Russia, the passionate lover of humanity, and the trust of patriots, will soon give way to another standard-bearer.

Who that standard-bearer will be is a grave problem. It is questionable if there is another man enlisted in the true cause of liberty in Russia to-day, who is in a position to lead the down-trodden masses effectively as Tolstoy has. Had he been of more plebeian birth, it seems certain that he would have met with a death-sentence long ere this. How great the confidence of the Russian people is in him was shown quite fittingly on his birthday Friday when strict measures had to be resorted to by the Russian officials to prevent the people from organizing an anti-governmental demonstration, which, from their point of view, would have been disastrous in its results.

Tolstoy's fame is well assured because of his literary achievements. As a novelist, as an historian, and as a dramatist, he has glory far beyond that of many great men can attain. But it will be as the reformer, the advocate of human rights in a land where those rights have been little regarded, that his name will redound to posterity. He has known how his countrymen suffered and kicked against the pricks of government. He has known all the indescribable horrors of that vast Siberian wilderness to the east, where thousands of innocent Russians, his countrymen, have lost their lives through starvation, cold or ill-treatment. Yet, in spite of the great danger, in which he placed his own neck, Tolstoy has spared no man, not even the czar himself, with his fearless, bleeding pen. It was only a few weeks ago that he made public a protest addressed to the government, which has been reprinted all over the world, in which he called for mercy and tolerance from the czar, in the name of humanity and God, for his countrymen, who were being butchered like swine, without trial or chance to show their innocence. Yet in spite of all the suffering, the atrocities, and the degradations, Count Tolstoy has kept his estimate of the possibilities of humanity high. He has been the ideal idealist, as he must truly be who would be a reformer and accomplish results.

It now develops that one of the athletes of the American team who was at the Olympic games, Sheppard, was rejected by the police surgeons of New York some time ago because he was "physically unfit." Sounds as if there was some politics behind his rejection, a state machine perhaps.

The Republican national committee instead of wasting too much time on rock-ribbed Vermont and faraway Maine should give a little time to the situation in the state of Connecticut.

One thing is sure, Murphy was not fussed when President Roosevelt grasped him by the hand and called him Mike.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES.

Pacific. (Boston Transcript.) Atlantic City was pacific.

What Was Said. (Providence Journal.) "Dry up," said the governor of New Jersey in his controversy with the authorities of Atlantic City. And Atlantic City did.

Shall if the Facts Warrant It. (Waterbury Republican.) Col. Osborn thinks that if his abuse has done so much to advance the political fortunes of Lilley, he ought to be appointed on the governor's staff if Lilley is elected. There were some predictions that eventually the colonel would revise his estimate as he did once before in the case of Gov. McLean.

Elevating Influences of Golf. (New York World.) All golfers will be pleased by the tribute to the "scrupulous honesty" of Mr. Rockefeller's golf, paid by a writer in the World's Work. The Standard Oil magnate, it is stated, is adherent to the rules. He never dodges a penalty. He allows himself no relate; every stroke is recorded on his score with accuracy, and he practises no discrimination in improving the lie of his ball.

No Democratic Machine. (Ansonia Sentinel.) That is, the democrats seem inclined to try to find out what is a preference of the majority of their number instead of taking the man who happens to have the greatest pull of the party manipulators and instead of shouting back to the others: "It is none of your business who is nominated; we'll do the nominating, and you must be content with doing the voting." Mr. McNeil's stand is honorable. Mr. Robertson has acted wisely. The two have probably held confab and decided together that if it is stated that such a taken was best for their party in Connecticut, they fact that the two statements came within twenty-four hours of one another indicates concurrence of action. At any rate, the two acted for a common purpose, and the one, also, that neither one of them took occasion to state his gubernatorial preference, leaving that matter to the voters. They have simply and one side to clear the track for the right man. Who he is, remains to be seen. The Meriden Journal says the choice is more than one citizen, however, when it says editorially: "George M. Gunn against George L. Lilley would ensure a lively campaign, and it would be such a one-sided one, either, if the democrats don't nominate Gunn and force him to do his party duty they'll make a serious mistake. It's an opportunity of a lifetime."

Direct Primaries Needed. (Springfield Republican.)

It is safe to say that primary elections instead of caucuses would revolutionize the old form of organization in the republican party of Connecticut, and incidentally drop the present machine oligarchy into a pit so deep that it would never reach the surface again. Consider the republican caucus at Bristol, Ct., on Friday evening last. It was of the boss-venered, old-fashioned sort with 131 voters present. No difficulty was encountered in choosing a full set of Lilley delegates. Apparently the opposition to Mr. Lilley's candidacy was too languid and submissive to raise its head. After the delegates had been chosen, however, some one proposed a test vote of the real preferences of the republicans present and this was the result: Lilley 56, Woodruff 53, Lake 21, Henney 7. The sentiment for the present governor was entirely unregarded. Yet its strength instantly appeared when the appeal was made to the voters themselves. It would not be the result of a primary election but of the present time. It is through the caucus and convention system that the republican machine manages so successfully to re-nominations, often years in advance. A Connecticut correspondent calls attention especially, in this connection, to the "pernicious custom" of sending members of the last state legislature as delegates to the state convention. He writes: "The machine usually names the candidates for the legislature; then the members of the legislature, after a winter's training in the legislature under machine control, and one or two legislative sessions, meet at the caucus before the next biennial campaign, as well in hand, and they go as delegates to the state convention, where machine control is exerted by the nomination of the ticket agreed upon two years before; and the fraction of new delegates elected after the members of the legislature are chosen, are simply the pawns in the game."

Primary elections such as Kansas and Illinois now have would make "legislative reunions" and the entire machinery of control through the members of the legislature and the small town caucuses as futile as a bicycle in an airship.

FATHER, DEAR FATHER.

Father, dear father, come home with me now. The clock on the dashboard strikes one! Don't fuss with the car any longer, pupah. You can't get the old tub to run! The cylinder is cracked and the timer won't work. And mother's been waiting since tea. So tetcher the car to a post, father dear. And come home on the trolley with me now. Come home, come home—ec. Father, dear father, come home with me now. The speed meter clock's striking two! The night is grown colder, the rear tire's flat. And mamma may fret about you. The cam-shaft is twisted, the pumpa out of gear. Perhaps before morning shall dawn, Ma may grow real angry and want a divorce. Come quickly, or she may be gone! Come home, come home—ec. Father, dear father, fly home with me now. The clock's striking three—it's struck out! Don't fool any more with magnets and coil. The wires have grounded, no doubt! The child's plea was answered—the answer was short. Which the night winds repeat as they roam. The gas tank exploded—some noise and some smoke. And father and daughter blew home! We're home, we're home—ec. —Judge.

SAVINGS AND DOINGS.

A shortage of 1,200 school teachers is reported in Oklahoma. The cause is said to be the small salaries of women teachers. The club women declare that if the salaries of the men teachers were made to equal those of the men, the shortage would cease to exist. In the meantime women out of employment are looking to Oklahoma for places during the coming school term.

"Woman's place at the University of Berlin," says "The Edge" of that city, "has already become an important one, although her rights have not yet been fully recognized as such. According to the latest report, 417 women were entered at the largest high school last summer and 723 attended the winter session. Degrees were conferred on twelve; ten in medicine and two in philosophy."

Many excellent voices are raised, according to a communication which Dr. Weiss has made to the French Academie de Medicine, by practicing in too small a room. A public speaker must throw every intonation of his voice a distance of thirty or forty yards, he says, but a student listening in a small room is only able to throw it a yard or two, and the consequence is that the voice, instead of expanding, becomes telescoped.

Governor Hughes is an aristocrat in his correspondence. When he writes a personal note from the governor's chamber at Albany he uses the heaviest type of stationery of a cream white color, double page and 16x7 inches, twice the size the average man has for his personal use. The seal of the state, embossed in gold, is stamped at the head of the paper with a public seal of New York, Executive Chamber, Albany, N. Y. In blue below, and when the recipient gets the letter it resembles an invitation to a fashionable wedding or a summons to a court function."

AT LOCAL THEATERS

"Morning, Noon and Night" To-morrow at Grand—"Faust" at Poli's.

The engagement of "The Ninety and Nine" at the Grand Opera House will be concluded today with performances this afternoon and evening. Never has this famous production met with a more genuinely enthusiastic reception than has been accorded it upon this visit to New Haven.

As a melodrama, "The Ninety and Nine" stands at the head of the list. The scenic effects, produced by the very best electrical and mechanical effects obtainable, are triumphs of modern stage craft. The scene showing the huge engine, built absolutely "Life size," rushing through a screen of fiercest fire, is so realistic as to be always popular with the gods of the gallery and a producer of wonder among the more sedate ones in the pit.

"Morning, Noon and Night."
Joe Welch opening this season in the new musical farce "Morning, Noon and Night" has completed another triumph. This brilliant new musical piece in which Artie Hall and a number of other well known to theatergoers appear, has mapped out for itself a future that promises to eclipse the records of other pieces produced by Mortimer M. Thiese who is responsible for the development of this offering.

"Morning, Noon and Night" opens at the Grand Opera House tomorrow, Thursday night, for the remainder of the week with a matinee on Saturday at the usual popular matinee prices. Seats are now selling.

Preparations are being made by the school board for a record breaking attendance both in the grammar schools throughout the city and in the High School. IN EASTERN LEAGUE

New Haven Will Be Admitted When Last Year's Entrance Fee Is Paid.

Messrs. Hotchkiss & Herman, proprietors of two bowling alleys in this city, are deciding whether or not to join the Eastern league by going into their pockets to pay the $100 due the Interstate league last year. Mr. Herman said last night: "While there is no doubt that the Eastern league would be the biggest drawing card in the bowling line that ever came to this city, and while every lover of the sport would be delighted to have New Haven enter this league, still the principle of paying $100 is what I kick on. I am perfectly willing to pay the Eastern league fee of $50, but when it comes to paying last year's entrance fee of $50 more, then I balk."

At the meeting of the directors of the Eastern league in New York Monday evening Mr. Johnson, who represented the local promoters, was told that New Haven would be admitted to the league on condition that the $50 entrance fee of the Interstate league be paid.

It is believed that the local men, with the true sporting instinct, will decide to pay the $100 before next Monday, the date given them to decide what course they will pursue.

POLI'S.

"Faust" is the offering at Poli's this week and for a spectacular and brilliant electrical display it is splendid.

Albert Lando, the Mephisto of the play, is decidedly original in a part that is not pleasant at the most. He has an original conception of Mephisto and he showed much ability in his interpretation of the character.

The scenic and electrical effects alone are worth the price of admission. Marguerite's cottage and garden were beautifully arranged with flower beds, flowers and electric lights. It is a beautiful sight and called forth a round of applause. The Brockton scene is also great and calls forth approval. The stage pictures are well arranged.

William H. Maloney, as Faust, was acceptable; Miss Claudia Lucas made a pretty Margaret and was showered with applause upon her entrance.

The play is worth seeing and makes another triumph for the Poli stock company in producing so capably such a popular production.

BUILDING FALLING OFF.

Many Permits But Small Sums Are Involved.

While building permits for the present year are in excess in actual number of those of last year the amount of money expended in building which they represent is much smaller. Last month there were issued 79 permits, of which 22 were for brick buildings and the remainder for frame. The total sum represented was $292,715. Of these $94,500 was in brick buildings. There were no large permits taken out. Last year while the number of permits was but 58 the sum involved reached $232,442.

The chief item of building which is lagging this year, mainly it seems because of the hard times, is that of factory and large firms' building. Where last year one local big factory took out permits for the erection of several new buildings totalling $182,300 the same firm has not taken out a single permit this year so far. The same is true in lesser degree of a number of other large firms and while the small permits are continuing about the same the ones which represent large sums are missing.

WINTER'S WORK.
Y. M. C. A. Workers Arranging Plans for Coming Season.

J. Quincy Ames, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is arranging plans for the winter work of the local association. While nearly all the officers of the different departments are at the present time out of the city, all will report here for duty on September 8, when the winter season will start in earnest. The religious worker, Rev. Mr. Kottcamp, is at the present time on his vacation, but he will return in a few days to continue his work.

There will be a new physical director at the Y. M. C. A. this season, Marvin H. Markle of Terre Haute, Ind. He is one of the best known physical directors in the middle west and will be a welcome addition to the staff at the Y. M. C. A. The religious staff is conducting services on the Central Green every Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and they will continue these services until October. There will be a change in the boys' room in the Y. M. C. A. building this season. The room will be on the ground floor instead of on the seventh floor as was the case a year ago.

"Invisible Dust" IN YOUR HOUSE?

The fine, almost invisible dust that works into the fibres of rugs, upholstery, and draperies—that's the dust that makes trouble.

For in addition to the danger from disease germs it contains, there is the faded, worn look on every furnishing.

A thorough cleaning by the Vacuum System will make the home healthful and freshen the appearance of every carpet, rug, portiere and upholstered piece in the house.

A THOROUGH cleaning—taking out ALL the "invisible dust"—can be done ONLY by the VACUUM system.

The cost? A trifle—almost nothing compared with the benefit.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

Montreal, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Fredericton, N. B., says that Arthur Robinson, a New York stock broker, was badly injured on Saturday by an explosion on his gasoline launch. His hands were mangled, his face burned, and the sight of one eye endangered.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 1.—Senator Moon and Representative Demare, Democrats, today introduced a joint resolution asking that the Assembly proceed to the election of United States senator for the short term caused by the death of Senator Allison.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The republican national committee to-day began the distribution of campaign literature from its headquarters in this city. The first documents sent out were Mr. Taft's speech of acceptance, Mr. Sherman's speech of acceptance and Mr. Taft's attitude on the labor question.

TRIED TO FORCE IT.

A Boston lady tried to convince herself that she could get used to coffee, and finally found it was the stronger. She writes: "When a child, being delicate and nervous, I was not allowed coffee. But since reaching womanhood I began its use, and as the habit grew on me, I frequently endeavored to break myself of it, because of its evident bad effects."

"With me the most noticeable effect of drinking coffee was palpitation of the heart. This was at times truly alarming, and my face would flush uncomfortably and maintain its vivid hue for some time. "I argued that my system would soon accustom itself to coffee, and continued to use it, although I had a suspicion that it was affecting my eyesight also. The kidneys early showed the effects of coffee, as I found by leaving it off for a few days, when the trouble abated."

"Finally a friend called my attention to Postum. At first I did not like it, but when made right—boiled 15 minutes until dark and rich—I soon found Postum was just what I wanted. No flushing of the face, no palpitation, no discomfort or inconvenience after drinking it. "Of course all this was not felt in a week or two weeks, but within that time I can truthfully say a marked difference had taken place and a great deal of my nervousness had vanished."

"At present time my health is excellent, due to a continued use of Postum, with a general observance of proper hygiene. Of nothing am I more convinced than that if I had continued drinking coffee I should be to-day little less than a nervous wreck and possibly blind."

"There's a Reason." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

CIGAR MAKERS OPPOSE GOMPERS

His Appeal to Local Union for Funds to Carry on Campaign Turned Down.

PARTY OF NO BENEFIT

Claim Democrats Do Not Endorse Labor Rights—Their Opinion of the Labor Leader.

A special meeting of a committee of the Cigar-makers' union, Local 29, was held in mass hall last night to decide on the communication from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and vice-president of the Cigar-makers' International Union of America, which asked for financial assistance from every trades union in the city. The cigar-makers put their lives on record as not being in favor of Gompers' policies. The following resolutions were passed: "Whereas, C. M. L. U., Local 29, of this city, received a communication from Samuel Gompers, president and executive council of the A. F. of L., requesting the members of all labor organizations not only to work and vote for the democratic party but to also donate funds for the campaign with a view of electing that party's candidates, and all this upon a plea that the democratic party now stands for labor's rights; and

"Whereas, We the members of Local 29, are of the opinion that the platform of above named party is of no more benefit to the maintenance or enhancement of labor's rights than the platform of any other capitalist party, since even the injunction clause of that party which is so highly lauded by Mr. Gompers, is at best ambiguous and is only intended as bait for union men; and

"Whereas, No party, which stands for the rights of capital and the perpetuation of the capitalist system and therefore diametrically opposed to the rights of labor to the full product of their toil, has any just claim to the vote of the workers; and

"Whereas, No union or combination of unions, such as the A. F. of L., or its representatives can consistently endorse or support any political party, unless such party recognizes the right of the worker to the full product of his toil; and

"Whereas, Mr. Samuel Gompers has expended the money of the A. F. of L. in the vain attempt to induce capitalist party conventions to include in their platforms meaningless clauses and phrases and that by what we consider degrading to the working class and its economic organizations, namely, humble supplication, instead of showing the workers a means by which they might command, be it therefore

"Resolved, That we, the members of the C. M. L. U., 29, condemn the action referred to of Mr. Samuel Gompers, the executive council of the A. F. of L., as detrimental to the best interest of labor, and be it further

"Resolved, That we urge all union men to work and vote only for such party that fully recognizes as a fundamental principle the right of labor to all it produces and the abolition of the capitalist system to that end.

"Committee: JOHN VAN VAERENNE, F. W. GRITBE, W. A. SUTTON."

WESTINGHOUSE ADJUSTMENT.

Meeting Put Off Until September 21—Members Out of Town. New York, Sept. 1.—Dispatches received from Pittsburgh to-day said that there would be no meeting of the readjustment committee of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, to hear the report at the creditors' committee, until September 21. As to day was the last day for the acceptance of the proposed readjustment plan by the creditors and shareholders, the news means that nothing will be done for at least three weeks. A number of the members of the readjustment committee are out of town.

Despite this postponement of the proposed readjustment, however, the general feeling in the financial district to-day was that the receiver would be dismissed before the end of the year.

The plan provided for the acceptance of new full paid stock by the mercantile creditors in exchange for their claims, for a pro rata subscription by present shareholders of $8,000,000 new stock for working capital, and for the acceptance by banking debtors of 50 per cent. in convertible 5 per cent. bonds and of 50 per cent. in fifteen year 5 per cent. notes.

ORPHANS HAVE OUTING.

Large Number, in Charge of Mrs. Candee, Go to Double Beach. The annual picnic of the New Haven orphan asylum was held yesterday afternoon at Double Beach in charge of Mrs. Candee. Earlier in the season the orphans had a big time down at Lighthouse Point as the guests of Gen. George H. Ford, and many parties have taken day excursions in connection with the Register fresh air fund, but yesterday's outing is given by the management of the asylum. Over 100 went along.

It was just 1 o'clock when the orphans piled on the special cars provided for them and an hour later they were at the Beach. Wading for the small boys and girls and boating for the larger ones was the first thing in order, after which there were all sorts of games on the lawn in front of the hotel. Jerry Sullivan was the Indian scout and led his pursuers, armed with sticks and staves, a pretty chase through the woods before he was captured. When everyone got rested up from the strenuous time, the support baskets were unpacked and then the children came back home after they had eaten their supper, of course.

ARE NOW AT VIENNA.

Friends in this city have received cards from Frederick D. Meigs who is now at Vienna, Austria. Mr. Meigs states that he and Mrs. Meigs shall not return as soon as they expected as it is his present plan to remain until he becomes stronger.

"Kid" Sherwood was dangerous. He was on the warpath armed with determination from head to foot. For had he not partly lost a game at Hartford Monday on a wild heave? And for this act he was ready to amend. He had made up his mind to even matters up and started to rip and tear up everything around the dizzy corner in great shape at the prairie yesterday.

Carrick was the big man on the mound yesterday, proving invincible throughout the contest. The visitors could only pepper the horsehide about the infield for the greater part of the time and this resulted in their being trounced. Hits for Carrick's babes were as scarce as hens' teeth—only three little bingos being secured, two of which Yancey discovered.

In fact the nine local ball-players all excelled, making the exhibition a beautiful one to see, and they just met Schuman's benders for nine safe swats. The strong Hartford twirler found it hard work to fool the local swatters, who went after the pill with a vengeance.

Harry Noyes of the visitors made a brilliant catch in the first inning when he caught Zacher's high foul on the pop. His teammates also performed well, but Justice's heave in the final session made Simmons run to home a sure one.

The final half of the ninth came and the spectators became excited and cheered for a tally. All stood up when the team left the diamond for the bench and with one out Simmons got the hand by his single to right. John Reichman followed suit and put Simmons on third. Haven then sent a hot one to Justice, who made a poor throw to home to catch Simmons, and the Giant easily scored. The score:

Labelle's French dramatist was once asked to support as a candidate for the academy a certain literary mendicant, but hesitated for a long time, and yielded only when he was told that if the ambitious author should fail to be elected he would die of it. Failure, nevertheless, did come, and the following year, when a second vacancy occurred, Labelle's vote was once more solicited in the man's behalf. "No," shouted Labelle in vehement indignation. POOR COTTON REPORT

Borrowing Demand for Stocks Considerably Increased in Last Few Days.

With a somewhat smaller volume of trading, stocks sold off rather abruptly during the first hour, but as not a great deal of long stock came out...

The feature of the day's news was the poor government report on cotton, which showed a greater deterioration than was expected.

London sold about 15,000 shares on balance, mostly United States Steel common, but also some Reading.

The borrowing demand for stocks appears to have been considerably increased in the last several days, though the short account is probably of a more miscellaneous character...

While William A. Read & Co.'s high bid for the $10,000,000 of Philadelphia 4 per cent. bonds was rather a surprise, it was regarded as a very favorable factor...

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Hoyt and Ierardi Formally Sworn in by Judge Mathewson Yesterday.

MORE SERIOUS CHARGE

Congiano Held for Assault With Intent to Kill—Milling Estate Contest Likely.

As yesterday was the first of the month the long threatened shakeup in the police court came off promptly when shortly before the opening of court Judge Mathewson swore in Assistant City Attorney Samuel E. Hoyt as city attorney and Attorney Royce Ierardi, whose appointment was announced some time ago, as assistant attorney. This leaves former City Attorney Ernest Simpson, who is spending his vacation at his old home near Nashville, Tenn., without a job, but that will soon be remedied for he will return in a day or so and will be sworn in on September 8 as associate Judge of the common pleas court to fill the vacancy occasioned by the elevation of Judge Bennett to the superior court, while Judge Roraback will take the place of Judge Hamersley on the supreme court bench. Judge Hamersley, retiring, having reached the statutory age limit.

As all of these appointments were announced some time ago the swearing in of the new police court officials yesterday partook of little more than a mere formality as congratulations had been passed around many months ago.

Interpreters Sworn In.
Along with the swearing in of the new court officials yesterday Judge Mathewson introduced an innovation in the form of a formal swearing in of Interpreter Coleman and Interpreter Nicolari, the two court interpreters. Heretofore these officials have been sworn in by the court clerks at the hearing of each case in which they were called. Hereafter they will be sworn but once a year, and that by Judge Mathewson, unless as it was explained yesterday, the case in which they are to officiate is a very important one, and it is deemed necessary to re-swear them. Judge Mathewson stated that he believed Interpreters Nicolari and Coleman's veracity was such that he could trust them for an entire year. This arrangement will do away with a lot of extra work for the court clerks.

Ierardi Acts Promptly.
Assistant City Attorney Ierardi yesterday morning changed the charge against Pasquale Congiano from breach of the peace to assault with intent to kill Antonio Verdi and continued his case until September 3 under $500 bonds. He is also charged with carrying concealed weapons, on which charge he is held under $200 bonds. The case against Verdi, charged with breach of the peace on Congiano, was nolleed by Judge Tyner. The two Italians were arrested Monday morning when Congiano fired a shot at Verdi, but missed him. It is alleged that he was in the act of continuing his shooting when a spectator grappled with him until Officer Moore arrived and put him under arrest.

Final Account Approved.
Judge Howard Curtis of the superior court has approved the final account which Frederick A. Betts of New Haven, receiver of the defunct National Life association, submitted to him for approval about the middle of July.

The judge finds that after paying the expenses of the receivership Mr. Betts will have sufficient money left to pay a dividend of 7.735 cents on the dollar on allowed claims of $221,582.51.

The judge passed an order that Mr. Betts receive $14,000 for his services as receiver from July 7, 1899.

Other charges in connection with the receivership after payment leave sufficient money to pay the dividend of 7.735 cents on the dollar of the claims allowed.

Fined for Using Axe.
Judge Cook in the Hamden town court Monday afternoon fined Salvatore Zeole and Nichola Stephano $10 with costs of $9.55 each for mutual breach of the peace, and fined Herbert Grove $1 with costs of $11 for general breach of the peace.

According to the testimony in court Zeole struck Stephano with a clothes pole last Sunday night, and Stephano came back at him with an axe. He did not use the axe very freely, but enough so that there was considerable Hearing Continued.

A hearing was scheduled in the probate court yesterday morning on the administration account on the estate of the late George H. Alling of Orange, but the hearing was continued until September 21. David R. Alling is executor of the estate, which amounts to about $52,407.77.

The contest is over the heirs. There are some distant cousins. It is said, who will be barred out owing to Connecticut laws of distribution of estates.

MONTHLY SUMMARY OUT.

The monthly meteorological summary as published by the local forecaster, L. M. Tarr was given out yesterday. According to the summary the mercury was highest on the 14th of the month, when it registered 91 degrees and was lowest on the 29th when it touched 45 degrees.

The total precipitation 8.12 inches during the month was more than it has been since 1885 when .91 inch more was recorded for the thirty-one days.
