

TAFT SAYS HE'S TO BE ELECTED

Greatly Cheered by Evidence of People's Interest as Seen in Campaign Tour.

13 SPEECHES YESTERDAY

Declares His Labor Decisions Form the Magna Charta of Trades Unionism, and Nails a Lid.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 1.—"I am going to be elected." This statement made tonight by William H. Taft sums up in a word what the candidate thinks of the effect of his speech-making tour thus far. The belief is based, Mr. Taft explained, on the manner of his reception in status thus far traversed in which there was reported to be defections among the republican ranks, as to the national ticket, Mr. Taft now believes that there is no reason to doubt but that the republican party will hold its own, and should this prove the case, Mr. Taft says there is no doubt that he will get the electoral vote of Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska—the states as to which the disaffection was supposed to exist.

"I have been in real touch with the people," continued Mr. Taft. "They have come to see me and hear me in numbers far beyond my anticipation, and what seems of even more importance they have responded to what I have had to say in a way that I could feel their sympathy. The desire of my audiences today to get in personal contact with me has been marked and shows more than a passing interest."

Thirteen speeches were made by the candidate today in a swing around the southeastern part of Nebraska and terminating at Omaha tonight, were two big meetings, one for the benefit of the stockyards employes in South Omaha, the other in the Auditorium. Throughout the day the crowds were larger than usual at the short stops. At Chebe, Beatrice, Table Rock and Nebraska City, the voice of the candidate was entirely inadequate to reach the limit of the crowds. At several of the stops Mr. Taft left his car and spoke from a platform. At practically every station the local band was in attendance and the cheers which greeted the candidate upon his arrival and departure came with a vim.

"Throughout the day Mr. Taft confined his speech to planning administration and contrasting them with republican rule. As he has done during his two days in Nebraska, he did not fail to pay his respects to Bryan whenever he spoke. On several occasions he delivered his labor speech and declared to be a lie the statement that he had ever declared that one dollar a day was enough for any laboring man."

He said, "Some ordinary cheap, common law has devoted himself to the business of running around the country and saying that I am in favor of paying a laboring man a dollar a day, and that I have said that is enough. Anybody that says I ever made that remark is a liar and the man who believes him is a fool."

In his South Omaha speech, Mr. Taft, after reviewing the labor decisions he had rendered, made the following interesting conclusion:

"That is not all. I laid down the rule that labor not only had the right to unite but that it ought to unite in order to meet capital on a level, that they had a right to appoint officers, that they had a right to raise funds with which to sustain strikes, that strikes could not be enforced, that men had the right to leave the employ of their employers in concert if they chose; that they had the right to appoint officers who would direct them what they should do; that they had the right to withdraw from association with those with whom they had controversies; that they had the right to induce all their competitors, all their fellow union men to withdraw from such association; but that they did not have the right to injure property of their employers, or declare a secondary boycott against them."

"Those decisions I claim have been the magna charta of trades unionism ever since. The railroad orders used that decision in a case before Judge Adams against the Gould roads, in which an injunction issued forbidding them to follow the directions of their chiefs. They went into the court and cited my case and Judge Adams withdrew his injunction. The same thing happened down in Cincinnati under Judge Thompson, in a similar case with respect to the Typographical union."

"I have not decided all my cases in labor businesses. I have had also to run up against corporations. As one of the court I wrote the opinion in the first important anti-trust case that was decided, and it laid down the principles upon which all the anti-trust prosecutions are now conducted."

"I agree that injunctions have been issued which have been much too broad and the reason why they have been issued without notice and the judges has not sufficiently considered it; therefore, I have been in favor of requiring that no injunction should issue without notice, but the republican convention did not desire to do so far, but said if you put into mandatory statute the best present statutes and so define the few cases were temporary injunctions may issue without notice and require that where a temporary injunction is issued without notice it shall not have effect for more than 48 hours, so that a man may have a hearing within 48 hours, then the abuse of which they complain, and of which they rightly complain, because some injunctions have been issued temporarily without notice and the time for hearing has been fixed

ANSWERS TAFT'S QUERY

Is Opposed to Plan Because "It Would Be Impossible to Make Com- plete Publication Until After Election."

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 1.—Declaring that every disinterested voter knows that large contributions have been used to secure mortgages upon officials, William J. Bryan tonight issued at Fairview, a statement criticizing the adoption by William H. Taft, his Republican opponent for president, of President Roosevelt's announced view on the subject of the publicity of campaign contributions. Mr. Taft, says Mr. Bryan, "makes the same charge the president does—the astounding charge that the voters are so liable to be misled that the knowledge as to the amounts and sources of campaign contributions must be kept from them." The democratic nominee then adds: "I insist that this is an insult to the intelligence of the voters, and it does little credit to Mr. Taft's judgment of the man to whom he is making his appeal."

DR. MANN NOW BISHOP

Boston Pastor Elected New Head of Washington Diocese.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Dr. Alexander Mann, of Trinity Episcopal church, Boston, Mass., was tonight elected bishop of the Protestant diocese of Washington on the seventh ballot. Bishop Brent, of the Philippines, had twice declined the honor after being elected. The vacancy was caused by the death of Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee.

ELKINS SUIT IS OFF

Breach of Promise Affair Closed as Far as Actress Is Concerned.

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 1.—State Senator Fred C. Blain, and William E. Baker, attorneys for Blaine Elkins and his mother, Senator Stephen E. Elkins in the breach of promise suit brought against Blaine Elkins by Miss Ada Louise Lonsdale, of New York, today authorized the following statement:

"Letters from the plaintiff to Judge Dayton and the press show conclusively she did not want the suit brought and that the affidavit, without prejudice in such a case, so widely published, was procured according to her statement by misrepresentation. The letters are as follows:

"To Judge A. G. Dayton,
"Phillip, W. Va."

I see by today's paper that suit has been brought against Blaine Elkins by Jesse Epstein, I am awfully sorry that this has come up in court because it was contrary to my wishes and I don't want anything done in the matter. Please stop the suit. I hate this notoriety and my lawyers should have consulted me before they gave out this to the newspapers and signed suit. I am awfully sorry and if there is any more newspaper talk I wish to be properly placed before my friends and the public in general and wish it understood by everyone that it was not my instruction to have anything like this occur.

"Very sincerely,
"ADA LOUISE LONSDALE."

"To the Press, September 26, 1908.
"I regret extremely that there has been this notoriety in the papers. From the beginning I misunderstood and we had things misrepresented to me by the lawyers I consulted. Concerning the impression they conveyed to me I was induced to make the affidavit that I did. I am sorry for the publicity caused by their airing this matter before the public. As far as I am concerned the incident is closed."

"ADA LOUISE LONSDALE."

"Comment is not needed to show what the purpose of the suit is and the procuring and publishing of the affidavit means the proscrape was filed on the twenty-fourth of September. Service of summons was made on the 25th, three days after one of the attorneys in West Virginia told the clerk of the court that this suit would be dismissed."

Local attorney for Miss Lonsdale, who claim that she dropped the suit only after settlement was made, say that they will file a claim for an attorney's item.

WATCHMAN LEADS SPRINT

Citizen Chases Guardian of the Peace —Hold It Twice.

Early this morning James Fahy of 133 Wooster street, had an exciting experience while crossing the Wooster Avenue bridge, over the railroad tracks just off State street. Mr. Fahy was crossing the bridge on his way home when a man suddenly appeared out of the darkness. He thought it was a hold-up man and exclaimed "What are you doing here?" and with that grabbed at the stranger. The stranger said nothing but ducked and ran down to State street. Fahy ran after him and caught the man at State and Chapel streets. There the explanation was offered that the man was a watchman but became frightened when he met Fahy on the bridge and accordingly ran.

Later Fahy was again held up in Olive street and another foot race resulted. Fahy claims that there are no lights on the Wooster bridge and as there is an "L" in the bridge the spot is an ideal one for a hold-up.

FORAKER ASKS FOR A HEARING

Wants His Case Decided in the Courts If He Has Done Anything Contrary to Law.

FOLLOWED LEGAL ETHICS

His Employment by Standard Oil No More Heinous Than Services Rendered by Him for Other "Trusts."

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 1.—That the law should be invoked against him if he has done any wrong, is the conclusion of a statement given by United States Senator Foraker to the Associated Press today. Before making this statement he sums up the various charges that have been made and discusses briefly the legal ethics as to service for various clients. The statement follows:

"The questions in this whole matter in which the public is concerned are: 'Whether I was employed, which was never concealed or denied, and the character of that employment, whether it had any relation to my duties as senator or influenced me in any manner in regard thereto.' 'On all these points I have answered fully in my former published statements. 'I have not until now spoken of the compensation I received, because if the employment was improper it would be no defense to show that it was a small sum, but if on the other hand the employment was proper, the compensation was concealed or denied, and myself solely of that employment, whether it had any relation to my duties as senator or influenced me in any manner in regard thereto. 'On all these points I have answered fully in my former published statements. 'I have not until now spoken of the compensation I received, because if the employment was improper it would be no defense to show that it was a small sum, but if on the other hand the employment was proper, the compensation was concealed or denied, and myself solely of that employment, whether it had any relation to my duties as senator or influenced me in any manner in regard thereto. used to secure mortgages upon officials. The publication of contribution throws a great deal more light upon the influence at work in politics than the publication of contributions shows to whom the party is indebted, and to whom repayment is likely to be made, while the publication of expenditures shows what has been paid out, and disbursements do not create obligations that affect the course of the administration.

"Mr. Taft says that the proper object of a publicity law is to prevent the use of money for bribery and other improper purposes in elections and to enable the law officers of the government and the public to determine whether the contributions made were properly expended for legitimate purposes."

"He makes the same charge that the president does, the astounding charge that the voters are so liable to be misled that the knowledge must be kept from them. I insist that it is an insult to the intelligence of the voters, and it does not add to Mr. Taft's judgment. Mr. Roosevelt may have made his statement thoughtlessly and on the impulse of the moment, but Mr. Taft brings the same indictment against the voters with deliberation and after he has read a criticism of the president's views.

"It is fair to charge therefore, that Mr. Taft is either expecting to receive contributions which would arouse just suspicion among an intelligent people, or contributions which, if known would arouse an unjust suspicion among a people too ignorant to form a correct judgment upon the facts."

MADE $2,419,000 IN SEPTEMBER. Washington, Oct. 1.—The monthly coinage statement issued by the director of the mint to-day shows that during September, 1908, the total coinage executed at the mint was $2,419,309, of which $1,750,000 was gold, $434,000 silver, and $235,309 minor coins.

SUFFRAGISTS MEET

Connecticut Association Spends Day in Thirty-ninth Annual Convention.

REV. ANNA SHAW SPEAKS

Delivers Addresses on Her Work at Afternoon and Evening Sessions—Mrs. Bloor Also Speaks.

The thirty-ninth annual convention of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage Association was held with great success in the Church of the Messiah on Orange street last night, yesterday afternoon and yesterday morning. The evening was mostly given up to the address of the Rev. Anna H. Shaw. She spoke at length on the situation the world over as to the right of woman to vote. She told of the thousands who had marched in London to show their sympathy with the movement.

Her talk last evening was filled with scathing rebukes of man's way of neglecting the power to vote, and she said that she would guarantee that there would be full polls if women could vote.

The following is the substance of her talk last evening: "The votes are now in the hands of the rum sellers and the politicians. The state of affairs would not exist if the class who did the voting were the class who did the praying. It does not pay to have one class do the voting and the other class do the praying."

"I always pay my taxes under protest. I write on the checks, 'Paid under protest to a government that thinks itself just to rob its friends.'" "Why do you want to vote? Is among the questions I am asked. Women ought and need to vote as well as men as women have the same position under the government they should vote as this is claimed to be a republic where all men are born free and equal."

"I have asked two candidates for high offices whether women are part of the people they speak of. One of the men answered that the people were men where only men voted, and men and women where the school elections were open to women. In other words, the women of Connecticut are only a fraction of the people as they vote on school questions here."

The same officers who held their positions last year were re-elected. They are: Elizabeth D. Bacon, president; Annie C. S. Fenner, vice-president-at-large; T. Ellen Burr, recording secretary; Ella B. Kendrick, corresponding secretary, and Mary J. Rogers, treasurer.

The afternoon address by the Rev. Anna Shaw was in part: "The movement abroad is extending, especially in Great Britain. In the London demonstration it was shown. There we expected that it would be an object of ridicule, but it did not prove so. It was very dignified. The spectacle of women walking three miles was very imposing. The enthusiasm that the movement has awakened abroad could well be taken up here."

Mrs. Ella Reeves Bloor, the woman who sent on the Roosevelt committee to investigate the conditions of the beef trust in Chicago, made an address in the afternoon, saying, "My subject is 'How the Haller Will Affect Women in Industry.' Men are the power of influence with their right to vote while women suffer. The evolution in machinery has brought great changes in the occupation of women. They displace the men and are paid less."

"If women would organize and become better educated and more intelligent, they will be able to attain higher fields in political lines. The tendency of these clubs is not to organize, but to talk over the same thing year after year. They should reach out, but not in a patronizing way. They must help women how to get a better education for this work. Only then can the ballot be a benefit and not a bane."

"A quotation from Herbert Spencer covers the thought. It is, 'The time will come when one woman will not be suffered to enjoy without working that which another earns without enjoying.'"

"To show what a place women hold in industry, there is a place in Connecticut where they have a factory that is regulated so that the married women have a later hour for arrival so that they can stay to get the children off to school."

Prior to the calling together of the convention to-day, the secretary had hung upon the walls near the speakers' platform, newspaper clippings from state papers on the suffrage movement, measuring just 126 feet in length. She explained that these represented the comments which had been noticed by her during the year, but undoubtedly, there had been more printed on the subject.

The Equal Rights club of New Haven was represented by the following delegates:

Mrs. William Rhein, Mrs. Leo Herz, Mrs. Kenyon, Mrs. Charles Gay and Mrs. Coles. The Hartford club was represented by Miss Ellen Burr, Mrs. Ella B. Kendrick, Mrs. Jessie M. Burr, Mrs. Katherine C. Daley, Mrs. Hattie C. Lyman, Mrs. Marcella A. West, Mrs. Emma Dawes, Miss Elizabeth M. Rubin, Miss Elfrida L. Rubin, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Bacon, Mrs. B. M. Parsons and Miss Wright.

Reports were made by the New Haven, Hartford, Meriden and Long Ridge clubs. The New Haven club report was read by the secretary, Mrs. H. H. Dykeman.

ernment and before any such legislation by congress or by the federal government against the company was proposed or foreseen and that such employment has never been renewed, although as heretofore shown, again tendered and declined in 1906.

"If I did not have a right to accept that employment, I should probably have been criticized for having been for years employed by the Ohio Traction company on the ground that such employment has no relation to my duties in congress, yet in some way now unforeseen the company may be subjected hereafter to legislation by congress or to federal procedure against it; or perhaps I should be condemned for once representing the General Electric company although that was before I was elected to the senate, or the Cincinnati Telephone company, by which I was employed for many years before and for some time after I was elected to the senate, because it is a branch of the Bell Telephone company, and these companies—the General Electric and the Bell telephone—have now been charged, according to the newspapers, with a violation of the anti-trust laws and are to be civilly and criminally proceeded against by the attorney-general of the United States."

"When I was employed by the Standard Oil company there was no more knowledge or probability of that company's being legislated about by congress or proceeded against in the federal courts, so far as anybody was then aware, than there was and has been as to the other companies at the time when I respectively represented them. If such mere possibilities are to be employment then no member of congress can safely act as attorney in any case and every one should immediately close his eyes and ears."

"No such rule has ever heretofore obtained and there is no reason why any such rule should obtain. All lawyers at least, fully understand that when a professional service has been rendered and has been paid for, all obligation ceases on both sides and that no lawyer is bound by reason of a previous employment to show any favor at any subsequent time as attorney, as public official or otherwise."

"To any one who may have been his client."

"Finally, if I committed any offense against the law let somebody specifically point it out and waive it against me. The courts are open and although they have been severely criticized yet the people have confidence in them and will accept and be satisfied with their judgments. If there be any just basis for this reckless, wholesale defamation and attempted assassination of character let it take tangible, open and fair form of procedure where all interested can appear and be fully heard."

ESTIMATES HELD WITHIN INCOME

reports that have been circulated that this and that were going to be taken out of the estimates and would not be allowed. Until last night, these things were not known for certain.

The taxes this year will come to about $1,750,000, not allowing for abatements or for appeals to the board of relief reducing assessments and taxes. This is based on a property valuation of over 117 millions in the New Haven grand list. If all of the property in New Haven that is exempt from taxation was added to the grand list, the tax total at the present rate would be increased by $381,385. This would be enough to pay the city hall clerks the salary increase asked for, to allow the firemen 25 cents a day more as included in the estimates for the fire department, and to allow for several new fire engines, and new policemen. These matters are what the board of estimates have been so long over. The number of new police asked will have to be cut as small as possible, there will only be two fire engines added, there will not be an incinerator, the clerks and firemen will not get their raise, these and many other things have been rumored as things out by the board, but Mayor Martin said that there have been nothing but guesses vouchsafed on these heads and that no official information has been given out, and that if any members of the board chose to give misleading statements on this head, it was not his fault.

The board of finance met yesterday afternoon and continued through the evening until nearly 8 o'clock when they adjourned for dinner. They were on the estimates most of this time. Other things accomplished were transfers of funds for departments, and signing bills. One bill was of a note, a voucher for $50,000 sent by the sinking fund commission that that amount be added to the sinking fund as the balance of the $100,000 due the fund.

Transfers ordered were $700 for hiring polling places for the coming election to the police department as that sum was expended for the special election of Registrar of Vital Statistics Allen; $575 for the department of charities and correction for concreting Squimpies; and $1,500 for the department of public works for sprinkling streets and for parks and trees.

LEADERS CLOSER.

Giants Now Lead by Only Two Points—No Change in American.

For an off day in baseball the few games that were played yesterday were of vast importance to the pennant chances of the three leading clubs in the National league race. New York played two games in Philadelphia, and was only able to get an even break, while Chicago defeated the Cincinnati team at the latter's home grounds. The results of these games caused the New Yorks to fall back two points in their percentage and the Chicago club to draw two points closer to New York. This leaves Chicago and Pittsburg tied for second place with New York leading by the narrow margin of two points.

Only the second division teams of the American league played yesterday, the leading teams being on the road. This leaves the standing of the leaders as it was after Wednesday's games.

COLLEGIAN IN PUBLIC LIFE

Taft Best Illustration of the Type. Hughes Tells Columbia Men.

New York, Oct. 1.—Governor Charles E. Hughes made a whirlwind campaign tour of Manhattan and the Bronx late to-day and to-night, following his return from Baltimore earlier in the day. His first meeting was in Earl Hall, on Columbia university campus, at 4 P. M., where the students and their friends gave the governor a genuine college welcome.

Everywhere the governor was received by enthusiastic crowds, while fireworks, red fire, marching clubs and bands of music gave notice of the people of New York that the republican campaign season is in real earnest. At the Columbia university meeting Mr. Hughes told his hearers that in William H. Taft there was furnished the best illustration of the college man in public life.

"He is just the man we need at this time," he said, "when we need not only sincerity but also intelligence to direct the work of progress."

COULD NOT CURE WEEPING ECZEMA

Disease Began over Ear and Spread till Face and Neck were Raw—Itching, Inflammation and Soreness were Terrible—Lasted Over a Year and All Treatments Failed

UNTIL CUTICURA AGAIN PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

"Eczema began over the top of my ear. It cracked and then began to weep. I was treated by several different doctors and tried several things, but they did me no good. At last one side of my face and my neck clear up to my hair were raw. The water ran out of it so that I had to wear medicated castor, and it was so inflamed and sore that I had to put a piece of cloth over my pillow to keep the water from getting on it. I would stain the cloth a sort of yellow. The eczema itched so that it seemed as though I could tear my face all to pieces. The disease began in the fall and I did everything for it until the next winter. Then I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and it was not more than three months before it was all healed up. I still use the Cuticura Resolvent Pills once in a while to cleanse the blood. I am very thankful that I tried Cuticura, and I can recommend it to any one. Miss Ann Pearsons, Northfield, Vt., Dec. 19, '07."

UNKNOWN FOUND DEAD. No Clue of Identity of Man Found on Tracks in Cut. An unknown man, probably a brakeman was found on the railroad tracks near the Grand avenue bridge early yesterday morning. In a pocket was found an envelope addressed "Michael Joseph Egan" and the left arm were tattooed the initials "C. V. A." The remains were taken to Flynn's undertaking rooms and had not been identified at a late hour this afternoon. It is supposed by Medical Examiner Barrett that the man was jolted from the top of a freight during the night and fell between cars under the wheels. Both legs were nearly crushed off. The medical examiner found no clew of his identity up to a late hour last night.

FIRE AT UNION LEAGUE. Fire breaking out in the kitchen of the Union League yesterday morning smoked up the club rooms and threatened the pool room above the kitchen. It was put out before any great damage resulted. The blaze was caused by a spark from an electric motor. It is thought, it was confined to the kitchen wall, but spread up between the partitions so that part of the pool room floor had to be ripped up.

Workman's Skull Crushed. New Britain, Oct. 1.—William Bass of North street, aged 22, had his skull crushed by a black pulley at Lenders, Frary & Clark's this morning, while descending in an elevator. He is at the local hospital in a critical condition. For Manslaughter. Bridgeport, Oct. 1.—Antonio Valotte, of Waterbury, pleaded guilty to manslaughter just before the adjournment of the criminal superior court to-day. Sentence was deferred until to-morrow. The crime was committed in this city, on North Washington avenue, on the afternoon of March 5, when Valotte shot and killed Ernesto Christiano, formerly of Waterbury, as a result of a long continued family quarrel. Eleven Jurors Selected. Bridgeport, Oct. 1.—Eleven jurors had been accepted when court adjourned this afternoon in the trial of Nikola Mikita, of Shelton, charged with murder in the first degree for the killing of Romano Olszewsky by stabbing him in the neck at a christening in Shelton on the night of November 9. A panel of forty takersman had been examined and the sheriff was ordered to summon a new panel of ten men for to-morrow morning. The state had challenged six, the defense sixteen, and seven had been excused for cause by the court. Shalvoy Named. Danbury, Oct. 1.—Hugh C. Shalvoy, secretary of the Danbury Hat Finishers' association, was nominated for senator to-day by the Twenty-fourth district democratic convention. The republican candidate is ex-Mayor Charles S. Peck of this city. Wesleyan Opens. Middletown, Oct. 1.—With exercises in the chapel conducted by Acting President W. N. Rice, Wesleyan university began its collegiate year this morning. Registration is still going on and while figures of the freshman class will not be available for a few days, it is believed that the entering class is somewhat larger than that of last year, and will possibly be over a hundred. Congregationalists Meet. Middletown, Oct. 1.—The 34th annual convention of the auxiliary societies of the Congregational churches of Middlesex county connected with the New Haven branch of the women's board of missions is being held at the Congregational church to-day, with morning and afternoon sessions. The speakers include Miss Alice M. Kyle, field secretary of the board, and Mrs. James D. Eaton, of Mexico. Twenty-fourth Regiment. Middletown, Oct. 1.—The annual reunion of the 24th Regiment, Connecticut volunteers, was held in Grand Army hall here to-day, about 75 members being present. Officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Samuel N. Mansfield, Boston; active president, C. C. Atwell, Durham; first vice-president, Philip Ryan, New Haven; second vice-president, W. H. Watrous, Hartford; third vice-president, Arthur Post, Wallingford; secretary, George N. Moses, New Haven; recorder, The secretary reported six deaths during the past year. BY REV. MR. BERRY. Will Lecture To-night at Calvary Baptist Church. This evening at 8 o'clock there will be an illustrated lecture at Calvary Baptist church given by the Rev. Mr. Berry of Englewood, N. J., field secretary of the McAll association of America. This lecture is given to show the work of the mission in France, carried on in the factory towns of the north, among the perfume makers of the south, in large sea ports like Marseilles, among sailors, in Paris and other cities, through regular evangelistic work, and throughout the waterways of France by means of mission boats. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and get a little idea of French life and the needs of the peasantry. NATURALIZATION HEARING. Judge Platt to Listen to Applications for Citizenship To-morrow. There will be a naturalization hearing tomorrow in the U. S. court room in the postoffice building at which about fifty new voters will be made. United States District Judge James P. Platt will preside and there will also be present a naturalization examiner from Boston. This is the last chance for voters to be made for the coming election of the men that will apply for citizenship there are thirteen from Wallingford, four from Seymour, six from Ansonia, eight from Derby, three from Branford and one each from the following towns: New Haven, Killingworth, Hamden, Washington and this city.

AT LOCAL THEATERS AT THE HYPERION. George V. Hobart, famous as the originator of the "Dinklespiel" and "John Henry" stories, has written the book and lyrics of Marie Cahill's new musical play, "The Boys and Betty," in which the charming comedienne will be seen at the Hyperion tonight and to-morrow. Better known as a writer of farce Mr. Hobart has attempted in the new play a comedy with a serious background and they say he has done it well. He was one of the authors of "Molly Moonshine" in which Miss Cahill starred three seasons ago. "The Warrens of Virginia." What the Civil war meant to many prominent southern families is depicted in the last act of "The Warrens of Virginia," the big Balconce success which will be seen at the Hyperion theatre for three days, beginning Monday, Oct. 5. There is shown the Warren family as hospitably inclined, toward their erstwhile enemies, as they were before the disengagement, but hesitating to invite the stranger to a meal for fear of their inability to provide sufficient food. The predicament of the determined foe and staunch friend, "Buck" Warren, is comical, but through it there runs a vein of pathos impossible of obliteration when it is considered the scarcity that has taken the place of the plenty to which these charming people were accustomed.

AT THE GRAND. Full House Greeted "Wanted by the Police." There was an extraordinarily full house to greet "Wanted by the Police" last night. And its enthusiasm was great and justifiable. "Wanted by the Police" would seem to indicate action and thrilling scenes, and they were not conspicuous by their absence. There were scenes of excitement in confusion, one following the other. The play opens in the old home-stead of Doris Moore, Alfred Kingdon, agent for the estate of Tarbell, his uncle, wants to win the love of Doris, but his methods plainly show the villain he really is. In reality Doris loves Larry West, the brother of Billy West. Billy is the hero, but no one would suspect it when he turns up as a drunkard. But his old love, Adele Moore, Doris' sister, gets him to reform. Then Kingdon gets Doris to come to the city in a vain hope of being able to kidnap her. Tarbell, Kingdon and Marco Mattland, an adventurer, meet her. She had expected to have her sister meet her, and her surprise was not without cause at finding them. A dispute follows, and Kingdon shoots his uncle and shows the revolver in Adele's hand. Billy West then appears, and he and Adele escape in a locomotive. The scene of two flying locomotives—pursuer and pursued—is a very thrilling one. Larry West, who is a policeman on the bicycle corps, is dishonorably discharged for allowing Adele and Billy to escape. Billy, who is an expert telegraphic operator, now comes again to Adele's rescue. Kingdon has got a detective on the trail, but Billy does not send his messages. Finally Kingdon manages to capture Doris in a den of an Italian. Billy appears in disguise and gets a warning confession from Kingdon. But he is overcome and the confession is lost momentarily.

LIFE'S ROAD. Smoothed by Change of Food. Worry is a big load to carry and an unnecessary one. When accompanied by indigestion it certainly is cause for the blues. But the whole trouble may be easily thrown off and life's road be made easy and comfortable by proper eating and the cultivation of good cheer. Hear what a Troy woman says: "Two years ago I made the acquaintance of Grape-Nuts and have used the food once a day and sometimes twice, ever since. At the time I began to use it life was a burden. I was for years afflicted with bilious sick headaches, caused by indigestion, and nothing seemed to relieve me. "The trouble became so severe I had to leave my work for days at a time. "My nerves were in such a state I could not sleep and the doctor said I was on the verge of nervous prostration. I saw an ad. concerning Grape-Nuts and bought a package for trial. "Wheat Grape-Nuts has done for me is certainly marvelous. I can now sleep like a child, am entirely free from the old trouble and have not had a headache in over a year. I feel like a new person. I have recommended it to others. One man I knew ate nothing but Grape-Nuts while working on the ice all winter, and said he never felt better in his life. "There's a Reason." Names given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Road "The Road to Wellville," in pks. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

He is bound and left to be blown up by dynamite, but a young friend saves him. Then they all meet at the old home-stead and the young friend again brings forth the confession. Kingdon gets his reward in the electric chair. To-night and to-morrow night and matinee are the last chances to see this excellent piece. Saturday matinee all are invited on the stage to meet Billy in Mr. Voshburgh. Ladies will be given a souvenir. Between Lightweights. Manager Wilkes of the Grand Opera house last night received a telegram from Hammerstein's theatre in New York city notifying him that the moving pictures of the Gans-Nelson fight for his special use in New Haven. These pictures have been drawing tremendous crowds in New York at Hammerstein's and Manager Wilkes has cancelled a date in order to give New Haveners the benefit of them. They will be shown at the Grand Opera house on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, afternoon and evening. The highest price evenings will be thirty cents and afternoons twenty-five. Seats may be engaged in advance the same as for a regular theatrical performance. The seat sale opens this morning.

AT POLI'S. There will be a three-featured aggregation at Poli's next week with Bert Coote and company in "A Lamb on Wall Street." Those who delight in seeing an absorbing and well written comedy sketch strongly presented, will have their desire gratified by witnessing "A Lamb on Wall Street," as acted by Bert Coote and his capable company. Mr. Coote has been seen in several highly amusing acts in vaudeville, among which "Supper For Two," will be remembered as a particularly entertaining effort. "A Lamb on Wall Street" is his latest sketch, which will be seen here for the first time and which was written jointly by Herbert Hall Winslow and himself. Mr. Coote may be said to stand alone in his peculiar style of depicting humorous situations, and his part in the new sketch is said to give excellent opportunities. As the young member of a firm on Wall street, who is being initiated into the mysteries of stocks, bulls, bears, longs and shorts by his unscrupulous partner, he is said to excite laughter and intense interest by the boshy manner, droppers and consummate shrewdness with which he meets the most trying situations. One of the best, as well as the most humorous scenes, is that where he goes through the form of proposing to his sweetheart for the second time, a procedure which he considers essential, as the young lady has quarrelled with him but a few minutes before and scornfully tendered him her engagement ring. The concluding climax in which he gambles with his dishonest partner for a cheque of $50,000 and everything of value in the pockets of each, is a sensational incident which is said to be a revelation in the art of sketch making. The middle line will be Cassell's Mexican dogs and Dan Burke and his galaxy of school girls will be the added attractions. The olio will be a grand array of acts. Seat sale now open for all week. BASEBALL MEN MEET. Connecticut League Directors to be Guests of Dan O'Neil. The annual meeting of the Connecticut Baseball league directors will be held at Springfield, October 19 and officers will be elected for the coming year at that time. It is expected that President William J. Tracy, of Bristol, will be re-elected as he has given entire satisfaction and has proven a capable official. The directors will be the guests of Manager Dan O'Neil, of the Springfield team.

News of the Death of Rev. Richard Whittingham Received Here. News has been received here of the death of Rev. Richard Whittingham at Alken, Md. The death occurred on September 21. Rev. Mr. Whittingham is well remembered by New Haveners as he formerly was rector of St. John's Episcopal church. He was rector at St. John's for about ten years leaving in 1874. Rev. Mr. Whittingham's brother was bishop of Maryland. Among those who were closely associated with Rev. Mr. Whittingham was Robert A. Beers of Trumbull street who learned of the death of his former rector with much regret. DONT WANT PARK. Think Land on West River is Unsanitary. There will be a remonstrance at the meeting of the committee on sewers and squares this evening against using the land on the West river as a park on the ground that it is unsanitary. Alderman Chandler of the Second ward has presented the petition. If the land is purchased for park purposes it is believed that it would be expensive and that a bond issue might be necessary. Ex-Senator Minotte E. Chatfield said today that in the early eighties when the West river was straightened under special legislation the city was granted the authority to take what land it needed to carry out the improvement which was done for sanitary reasons. Mr. Chatfield claims that the city can take more of the land in the same locality now under the same authority. Many Second ward residents will appear before the alderman committee at the hearing to favor the filling in of the land along the river for the sake of destroying a mosquito breeding ground. TWO POLICE SHIFTS. Chief of Police Cosken announced the transfer yesterday of two more policemen, John R. Roche and Thomas E. Tracey. Both amount to a revoking of previous shifts as Roche, who was sent to Dixwell avenue from Grand avenue in the big January shake-up, goes back to Grand avenue and Tracey, who was sent to the downtown precinct, goes back to Dixwell. ALL PRESENT

Five on Building Lines Committee, But No Action.

All five members of the committee on buildings and building lines met in city hall last night, to consider a series of petitions for new building lines. The committee took no action in any of the cases as in all they intend to go out to the places named to look the ground over before they make any decision for their report.

On one petition, Edward McCarthy, a Congress avenue liquor dealer, disputed the right of the committee to make the proposed changes in building lines from the legal aspect. He claimed that it was not legal for the committee or the board of aldermen to order changes in building lines in any individual case.

FLEET AT MANILA

Arrived Fifty Miles Off Mouth of Harbor at Eight This Morning.

Manila, Oct. 1.—The Atlantic fleet was reported fifty miles off the mouth of the harbor at 8 o'clock this morning and is expected to pass in by Corregidor Island at about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Launches have already gone out to meet the fleet down the coast and accompany it into the harbor.

There will be no formalities in the way of reception attempted to-day outside of the demonstration of the steamers and harbor craft. To-night the ships will be illuminated.

Governor General Smith will pay an official call to Admiral Sperry after the great water parade of to-morrow is over.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS GOOD

September Fell Off But $658,000 from Same Month of Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The monthly comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for the month of September, 1908, there was an excess of expenditures over receipts of $4,532,871, as against a deficit for August of $4,909,152. The receipts for September, however, were $2,600,000 in excess of that for August, and the expenditures $2,700,000 in excess of August.

The customs receipts were $24,946,436, which is an increase during the last 30 days of over $2,000,000 and only $615,000 less than for September, 1907.

Internal revenue receipts increased from $19,896,300 in August, to $20,155,148 in September.

HOPE FOR YANKEE

Looks Now That Cruiser Will Be Safely Floated by Sunday.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 1.—Such good progress was made to-day in continuing the leaks in the United States cruiser Yankee, ashore on Spindle Hook that it is the belief of the wrecking crew that with favorable weather an attempt can be made to float her by Sunday with the chances in favor of success. Two new holes in the cruiser's hull were found to-day, but these were repaired. There are also a few small holes in the vicinity of the fire room, a part of the keel at near the stern post has been damaged, and the propeller is bent somewhat. A pumping gear was made to-day and some of the vessel's bulkheads have been found tonight.

Mr. Landon of Guilford, placed in nomination the name of Elias P. Bates of that town and Mr. Collins of Branford, named I. Taylor Linsley of that town. Both of the latter withdrew and on motion the nomination of Charles B. Yale of Wallingford, was made by acclamation.

CHANLER ACCEPTS IT

Willing to Be Governor and Determined to Answer People Alone.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Standing on the broad front porch of the ancestral Chanler home, at Barrytown, Lieut. Gov. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, surrounded by the prominent men of his party from all parts of the state and by a host of his neighbors and friends, today accepted the democratic nomination for governor. The other members of the state ticket also were notified by former Judge Alton B. Parker, who served as permanent chairman of the Rochester convention. In accepting the nomination Mr. Chanler outlined the state policies but briefly, saying he would devote detailed attention to them as the campaign progressed. "Free from all hampering obligations," he declared, "I shall know no master but the people's will and the people's interests."

Peary's Supply Ship Erik Returns With Other Americans, While the Roosevelt Pushes Ahead.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 1.—Having safely transferred a large supply of stores to the Peary Arctic steamer Roosevelt at Etah, West Greenland, the auxiliary steamer Erik arrived back in this port to-day.

After the provisions and coal from the Erik had been taken on board the Roosevelt the latter steamer left Etah on August 18, bound north through Kane basin, Kennedy channel and Robeson strait.

It is the explorer's hope either to enter Polar sea or to reach a point from which he can easily get to Cape Columbia by February next. Then he will make a dash across the ice floe toward the pole. Captain Bartlett states that the Roosevelt was in excellent trim and the crew all well. The ice conditions were favorable and everything promised success.

The Roosevelt has on board three Americans besides Commander Peary, the regular crew of the steamer, thirty-five Eskimos and 550 dogs. The Eskimos, Captain Bartlett said, are eager to assist the explorer. The Roosevelt has on board an ample supply of walrus meat for the dogs.

The Erik started on her return voyage to St. Johns on August 29. In Davis strait the Erik struck an iceberg, which battered her bows above the water line. She made the harbor at Makoff's Landing, where she effected temporary repairs, then proceeded. The remainder of the voyage was without incident. The Erik brought back two New York sportsmen, Leonard and Norton, who went north on the Roosevelt to shoot walrus. Another man named Whittier, with two helpers, decided to remain at Etah all winter studying ethnology among the natives.

CHARLES B. YALE CHOSEN

Wallingford Man Named for Senator by Twelfth District Republicans.

The democratic convention of the Twelfth Senatorial district was held in the Tonline hotel yesterday afternoon. John F. Downey of Wallingford was chosen chairman of the convention and James F. Byrne of East Haven, secretary. The chair appointed Arthur F. Blakeslee of Wallingford, Elias P. Bates of Guilford and I. Taylor Linsley of Branford a committee on credentials.

Said committee reported all the delegates as entitled to seats in the convention, and on motion the temporary roll was adopted and made permanent. A short recess was then taken. After the convention reassembled three names were presented to the convention. Mr. Downey, of Wallingford, nominated Hon. Charles B. Yale, of Wallingford.

Mr. Landon of Guilford, placed in nomination the name of Elias P. Bates of that town and Mr. Collins of Branford, named I. Taylor Linsley of that town. Both of the latter withdrew and on motion the nomination of Charles B. Yale of Wallingford, was made by acclamation.

SUCH A CLAIM ABSURD

Unionist Writes Letter to Chief Willis L. Moore of United States Weather Bureau Making the Declaration.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Declaring that it would be suicidal to labor "for any men or set of men" to deliver the vote of organized labor to any party, President Norman E. McPhail, of the Boston (Mass.) Typographical union, has written a letter to Chief Willis L. Moore of the United States Weather Bureau declaring that the labor vote as a body cannot be delivered. The letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Moore: Your letter of September 22 has just been received and read by me, as I have to-day returned from a tour of some of our New England cities for our organization.

"In reply to the question you ask me, I will state that in my opinion the vote of organized labor in this country as a body, will not, should not, and cannot be delivered to any one party by any man or set of men. To allow such a thing would be suicidal to the labor movement of the country. Members of labor unions, as citizens, have the right and should carefully consider the platforms and promises of the different political parties and should vote as they believe the broadest and best interests of our country lie.

"There can be no objection to this from any source, and it is something which every citizen should do. To claim that any man or set of men, as has been blazoned forth in the newspapers, will deliver the vote of organized labor to any party is absurd, as it is an impossibility.

"Sincerely yours, 'NORMAN E. M'PHAIL'."

PROF. PHELPS' LECTURES

"Elizabethan Drama and Shakespeare" Title of His Winter Course.

A notice of considerable interest to the local instructors about the city is the one that was made public yesterday by Supt. of School Beede in which he announced that, provided a sufficient number elect, Professor Phelps of the university will give a course of twenty lectures during the coming winter.

The lecture will be on the subject, "Elizabethan Drama and Shakespeare" and will be given on Tuesday afternoons with the exception of Symphony days when it will be given on the preceding Monday afternoon.

The lectures are open to the public and a tuition of $5 is charged. The teachers who elect to take the course are not compelled to be in regular attendance but those who wish "Course Certificates" will be given them upon satisfactorily passing an examination in the subjects.

As the opening lecture is given on October 15, it is requested that all who desire to take the course hand their names to the superintendent as quickly after October 5 as possible.

ALLEN DENIES

Did Not Say That He Would Remove Jensen.

In speaking of an article that purported to have come from him, President Allen, of the board of aldermen, said last night that he had not stated to the representative of an afternoon paper that he was going to ask Alderman Jensen to resign from the committee on railroads and bridges. Mr. Allen said that he had not intended to give such an impression, and that he had not made such a statement. He characterized the article that contained the remarks as a "pipe dream."

DENIES REPORT

Secretary Thomas Says Congressman Broussard Won't Speak Here.

Secretary Edwin S. Thomas of the democratic state central committee last night stated that Congressman Broussard was going to be brought to Connecticut to abuse Lilley. He said that his party did not stand for such methods and that, as he had charge of the speakers' department for his state, he wished to be quoted as saying it was not so.

MYSTERIOUS WRIGHT FLEET

Contractor for Fifty Aeroplanes Talks Darkly About His Intentions.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Lazare Weiller, who yesterday announced that he had ordered the construction of fifty aeroplanes on the Wright model, reiterated that statement this evening. He stated that he had made an arrangement with Wilbur Wright whereby the aeroplanes would be constructed from the Wright patents and that an order had actually been placed with a French firm, the name of which, however, he declined to divulge. He declined to disclose the exact purpose in the building of a fleet of aeroplanes, saying "That is my secret."

From what Mr. Weiller said in an interview tonight, it is evident he believes that the aeroplane is destined to have a greater mission in sea than in land warfare. He declared that he approached a port defended by a flotilla of aeroplanes capable of dropping explosives from the air.

NINE MONTHS' FAILURES

Commercial Suspensions for 1908 as Compiled by Dun.

Commercial failures in the United States during nine months ending September 30 were 11,946 in number and $176,677,523 in amount of defaulted indebtedness, according to statistics compiled by R. G. Dun & Co. In the corresponding months of 1907 there were 8,999 failures, and the amount involved was $116,056,578. Manufacturing failures were 2,862 in number and $79,140,431 in amount, against 1,954 similar suspensions last year, with liabilities of $62,783,957. There were 8,639 trading defaults for $72,510,227, against 5,878 failures in this class last year for $39,893,927. Other commercial failures numbered 144 and involved $2,726,885, against 258 for $12,358,484 in 1907. Banking and other fiduciary concerns suspended to the number of 147, with liabilities of $116,108,641, against 29 banking failures for $12,945,669 last year.

BRIDGEPORT AUTOIST UP

John Sherwood, Chain Manufacturer, Ran Over Boy in New York.

New York, Oct. 1.—John Sherwood, a chain manufacturer of Bridgeport, Conn., and his chauffeur, Harry Emier, were held in $5,000 bail to-day by Coroner Shady to await the action of the grand jury as a result of the death of seven year old William Dixon, who was run over by the Sherwood automobile on September 11 at Forty-fourth street and Ninth avenue, during the next day.

The men were paroled when first arraigned before the coroner to await the inquest, which was held to-day. The coroner's jury found the men jointly responsible for the death of the lad. At the inquest Charles Beach, a driver, testified that he witnessed the accident and that, at the time, Sherwood was running the machine. The chauffeur was sitting on the first seat with Sherwood, he said.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

Mr. Taft is to be heartily congratulated upon meeting squarely and effectively the absurd challenge made by Mr. Bryan that he defend the position previously taken by President Roosevelt, that all of the essentials of public life can be protected if campaign contributions are accounted for after the election has been held instead of in advance. That such a controversy should have arisen shows of itself the absurdity involved. It goes hand in hand with the ridiculous charge that Mr. Taft, when a temporary resident of Virginia, rode in the private car of some trust magnate, as if he could not do that with propriety and present himself as an honest candidate for office.

It is well to keep in mind the purpose of a publicity law with reference to campaign contributions. That Mr. Taft stands admirably in these words: "The proper object of a publicity law is to prevent the use of money for bribery and other improper purposes in elections and to enable the law officers of the government and the public to determine whether the contributions made were properly expended for legitimate purposes. The requirement that the names and amounts of the persons contributing also should be shown is for the purpose of enabling the public and the prosecuting officers of the government to judge whether subsequent official action has been improperly affected in favor of the contributions by the successful candidate. This can all be accomplished by publication after the election."

A clearer statement of the purpose of the law could not be made, nor one carrying with it greater conviction. In the past money has been given to both political parties in too many instances for the purpose of influencing legislation later on. This accounts more than any other thing for the stubbornness with which tariff reform has been resisted. It also accounts for the subservience of state legislatures to corporation demands. Because these things were so it became necessary to enact legislation removing the temptation to thoughtless action in the halls of legislation. It has never been proved to be necessary to make public contributions before the election was held and for good and sufficient reasons. The mere fact that a given contribution made public in advance of an election might subject its donor and the party receiving it to assault is reason enough to follow the other course. No matter who gives money to a campaign it can secure no special consideration until the wheels of government begin to turn. If it is known who gave the money and in what amounts before the wheels of government begin to turn, every one interested enjoys the opportunity of noting its effect upon government action.

After practical steps have been taken to protect the electorate and the government against every kind of corruption known to human nature, the outcome must be left to the honor of the nation or the state. The constant vilification of money because money has frequently been used as it should not have been is as indefensible as the condemnation of all men because some men have sinned. It is part of the duty of rich men, who are becoming more and more to be understood to be trustees of their wealth, to give to the support of the political party, and the church to which they belong, and to the maintenance of the charitable organizations in their community. It is impossible for the great majority of men to give in useful quantities for these purposes, and since the state shows no disposition to add to its burdens in handling elections, only that additional burden should be put upon men able and willing to give which is likely to minimize temptation both to them and to the political organization profiting by their generosity. The weakness of the position taken by Mr. Bryan lies in the fact that in talking about political contributions and the publicity which should surround them he is theorizing for political purposes and not practically studying ing the question from its substantial point of view.

PERTINENT INQUIRIES.

Says the Norwich Bulletin: "There are no Connecticut congressmen who are condemning Lilley, or ever have."

It would nevertheless be most interesting and enlightening to have all of them or some one of them answer these questions:

First: How can Mr. Lilley's continued inaccuracies of statement under oath be explained?

Second: What is the real story of the forged letters?

Third: Has the alleged forger of Mr. Lilley's name ever been punished in a suitable manner, or has the offense been condoned?

Fourth: Is it true that Lilley was willing to trade and barter if submarine competition could be secured?

SKEPTICISM TO VILIFICATION.

From being merely skeptical of the authenticity of the now famous "Cleveland" letter on the national political situation, Editor-Marsa Henry Waterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has now advanced many gratuitous further plumbing himself upon the apparent success of his personal triumph in bringing the letter into questionable repute before the whole country and probably certain that he can now go farther and prove to the satisfaction of all that his first conjecture in the matter was the right one. Marsa Henry does not hesitate to heap insultation and vilification upon the sincerity of the New York Times, which was the newspaper that printed the article in the first place. In his Kentucky sheet this week he expressed the wish that he might join with such papers as the Springfield Republican and the Houston Post, which, while "refusing to jump at conclusions" and while "refusing to get at the truth of the matter," have paid homage to the good faith of the Times. Says he: "Mr. Debs, and his immediate compatriots, may have been victimized," but they showed themselves very willing "victims." They set out in the campaign under the delusion that the republicans were going to have a picnic. Finally, misled by the state of mind which can so distort the truth and deceive itself, they fell into the trap set by a clumsy rascal whom they should have kicked downstairs."

It is but natural, being such an ardent Brivante, that Col. Waterson should have gone to such extremes to prove inauthentic a letter which undeniably offered such a strong argument in Mr. Taft's behalf. But there is no reason why he should now go so far as to attempt to discredit the Times' sincerity in the matter. No better proof of the Times' honorable position could be had than its present attitude as regards the charges. To the latter it has given every consideration. The Times has laid its case before the public, including its correspondence. It has sounded Mr. Hastings, the executor, and Mr. Carlisle, whom Mr. Hastings has said knew the inside facts, by wire and with reporters, but all to no avail. And, finally, it has placed the whole matter in the hands of District Attorney Jerome for an official probe. What more honorable course could be suggested? It does not substantiate a belief that the Times knew or even suspected there was anything not entirely above-board in the whole affair. Col. Waterson's insinuations are not only unfair, but they are undeserved, uncharitable, and momentary. Says Mr. Jerome: "In calling my attention to this matter the Times assures me, and I believe their assurances, that they have no desire except to ascertain the truth." Evidently the gifted prosecutor does not agree with the southern editor on this point.

Even at this late date it cannot be denied that the much-talked-of article contains many germs of authenticity. Perhaps it is only technically a forgery. At any rate, in the interests of fair play in the political world it is only to be hoped that the truth be known and that before election, in the meantime it may be taken as highly significant that the supporters of Bryan should take such pains to attempt to discredit and refute the reported beliefs of our men of presidential stamp, Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Roosevelt, as regards Mr. Taft's fitness. It is significant, too, that two presidents of opposite parties should be of one opinion as regards the latter for there is little doubt that Mr. Cleveland favored Mr. Taft, Times letter or no Times letter. He said as much in his intimacies.

AN INTELLIGENT CONCESSION.

The New Haven board of assessors cannot be too highly commended for listening favorably to the arguments of representative citizens connected with the chamber of commerce in behalf of a reduced assessment of the property owned by the American Steel and Wire company in Fair Haven east. It is such intelligent concessions as this that go to build up the commercial and industrial spirit of a community and give it life.

The opening of these works means a great deal to the labor of the city and to the families of laborers. It would be a catastrophe if the attitude of the city was such as to encourage the company to keep its mill closed. It was this general position which was brought to the attention of the assessors in a way to command respect. President Warren and Government Woodruff of the chamber of commerce, sensing the conceivable impression to be received by the managers of the company, referred to by a possibly indifferent article of New Haven, voluntarily undertook a heart to heart talk with the city authorities with the result told of in yesterday's issue of The Journal-Courier. The company now has for its consideration the most assertive disposition on the part of the city of New Haven to aid in every legitimate way its development and success. That it will appreciate it there is good reason to believe. The closer in fact the city government of New Haven gets to making of New Haven's prosperity the better will it be for all concerned.

We want in particular to call attention to the effectiveness of the policy adopted by the representatives of the chamber of commerce to secure the result desired. It would have been easy to call the members of the chamber together and induce them to pass resolutions criticizing the act of the assessors, or to do any one of the other conventional things which are too often done in matters of this nature. Instead, however, they called quietly on the assessors, but the situation before them, pointed out the injury that might otherwise be done the wage earners and shopkeepers of the city, and asked for relief. Brass bands are very effective things to keep men marching but in matters involving delicate principles gum shoes are better. We again congratulate the board of assessors upon the intelligent concession it has made.

UNCLE N. D.

In his speech accepting a nomination to congress from the Second district yesterday Mr. Sperry took occasion in an affecting manner to give notice that he will not again be a candidate for congressional honors in a characteristic manner he explained that his object in doing so was to give notice to all interested in order that they might at once begin to outline their political future without thought of his feelings.

The career which Mr. Sperry is now contemplating bringing to a close has not only been an eventful one but it has covered a series of the most striking chapters of American history. He was a fighter by the side of the illustrious Lincoln and was his personal friend. From that day to this he has been in the thick of the fight, ready at all times to vanquish for the faith that is in him but never blind to the rights of others who may have happened to disagree with him.

It is this particular quality of head and heart, which has endeared him to so many voters of the Second district and led to his election time and time again. His services have been given to the people of the district rather than to a political group of them. He has ignored no constituent who has had business to transact with the departments of government. On this account, and on account of the possession of certain marked characteristics of a gentle nature, he is affectionately known as "Uncle N. D." We congratulate him upon this additional mark of the esteem in which he is held.

BACKING UP OUR PRESIDENTS.

"While" Hearst, whom somebody has called the Katzenjammer Kid of the present national campaign, has been much in the public eye of late, because of the highly sensational letters he has been reading, he has been a much-sought personality. As a newspaper man he cannot have been billed to the notoriety he has been getting. Two weeks ago his independent, since party was in dire danger of sinking into a hibernating quiescence. To-day Mr. Hearst is continually besought wherever he goes, his honored words more or less faithfully trotted down by a string of reporters who dog his tracks. It has all been because of the letters. Whether the latter have benefited the cause of Mr. Bryan or Mr. Taft or even of the Independence party, they have undoubtedly advanced the stock of William Randolph Hearst considerably.

Some of these "honeyed words" have been of worth; others have not. At Denver Wednesday night, however, Mr. Hearst let slip a few wise ideas that were far from clap-trap. Mr. Hearst explained that he had good cause for disliking Mr. Roosevelt personally. He explained that when he was running for governor of New York state, Mr. Roosevelt sent his present mouthpieces, Tweed's former defender (evidently Mr. Root), into New York to say what was false about him and what he claimed Mr. Roosevelt knew to be false. "If ever I have a chance to even things up with Mr. Roosevelt," he concluded, "when he has ceased to be president, I shall do so with peculiar satisfaction. But while Mr. Roosevelt is president of the United States, my attitude towards him is that of any loyal citizen of the United States."

The latter sentence impudently smacks of "Brisbane-ish" oratory, but it is as certainly sound reasoning. Setting aside Mr. Hearst's justification in disliking Roosevelt, the man, and the advisability of revenge as a working principle, whether in political life or in the world in general, and ignoring the question whether Mr. Roosevelt's administration has been good or bad, it is a sound truth, the often lost sight of by us Americans, that we owe to our country as good citizens to be respectful to our chosen officials, whether they are of our own political faith or not. Unless there is unity within, there can be no success either within or without. And it is only a step from citizen-loyalty to congressional loyalty. If it is quite necessary to have the citizens united with a president, it is equally necessary to have a congress in sympathy with him. To be sure a congress too much in sympathy with a chief executive makes him a near-monarch. On the other hand a congress too much out of sympathy with him makes itself the virtual head of a machine-ruler land. A "happy medium" is what is required, and must be had. Those of us, therefore, who are looking forward to a Taft administration cannot put too much emphasis upon the necessity of obtaining a congress with Taft tendencies.

The local papers have contained accounts of a meeting held at city hall at which the mayor conferred with Garbage Contractor Daly and ex-Garbage Contractor Farnham relatives to the matter of furnishing suitable bonds to cover contracts for the removal of the city's garbage another year in case they were selected to undertake the work. These two contractors seem to be the best available for the work, but neither they nor any other contractors are wanted another year, nor will any bonds, no matter how good, necessarily guarantee satisfactory service. There was nothing the matter with the bonds of the contractors this summer. If the board of health refuses to "call" bonds no matter how violated, that fact makes no material difference. What is wanted and the only thing that will do so will be a municipal collection department run by the city.

Now that "Nick" Longworth has likened him to "The Mighty Casey," who so valiantly struck out in the memorable baseball game. It is not to be expected that Mr. Bryan will henceforth take great pleasure in going to the theater to see DeWolf Hopper, whose own personal property, as material for a certain-amount encore, the poem "Casey at the Bat" has long been recognized to be. Perhaps this year Mr. Bryan will vary the monotony and, instead of striking out, may knock a "top-fly" right into the hands of Pitcher Taft of the Republican rah-rah boys.

A prominent French flyer has ordered a flock of fifty Wright aeroplanes. What he is to do with them cannot be imagined. He cannot well establish an alibi. Every establishment and rent them out for so much the afternoon. Even the Wrights have not as yet demonstrated their ability to manipulate their aeroplanes under all circumstances, as is illustrated by the unfortunate accident which resulted in the tragic death of the young American lieutenant.

The story of the group of cantaways just rescued from Christmas Island in the Pacific is phenomenal in many respects. Not only had they good fresh water to drink and material to build acceptable shelters, but they had a large quantity of stores, including American boys should not try and follow suit. The same necessities are not usually to be had in such situations.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES.

As to Stenographers.
(Waterbury Republican.)

Mr. Hartman has had an experience along this line, and so have others. The stenographer and reporter is an institution to relieve the great mass of the drudgery of writing, but it is an institution which also has its drawbacks. The stenographer, if he is not a good one, is sometimes one may be tempted by gold to sell out his master's secrets. There is always danger of a stenographer being related to the wrong party.

Mr. Lilley Endorses Mr. Woodruff.
(Hartford Journal.)

In spite of the attempt of certain republican and near-republican papers in Connecticut to obscure the real issue of the campaign in that state which concerns the unfortunate reputation of a faithful and efficient governor, it is increasingly evident that the people's best asset is the Woodruff record rather than the Lilley record which the republican papers are so anxious to spread being related to the wrong party.

Mr. Lilley Endorses Mr. Woodruff.

is incumbent upon the country to make a vigorous preventive investigation. Of course the computations which he makes represent only a fraction of the total cost of the liability. The chief, the loss of the family disruption and the bright hopes which follow in the wake of consumption cannot be estimated in terms of the treasury department.

CONNECTICUT BOSSES.

Will the Republicans Beat Lilley in Order to Teach a Lesson?
(New York Sun.)

To the Editor of The Sun—Sir: As election day draws near it becomes more and more evident that the republican state ticket in Connecticut is lost and that the bosses themselves are to blame for not heeding the wishes of the manufacturers of the state when they so strongly protested against the nomination of Lilley at New Haven. Wherever one goes in the state the fact is repeated that they cannot stand for Lilley after his record in Washington last winter, and they declare that they are going to support either Taft or the democratic state ticket or just Taft, and in this way they hope to defeat the Waterbury politician.

The democrats have an excellent ticket in the field this year. Judge Robertson is a member of the state, in fact his ancestors were some of the first settlers in New Haven. Lilley is not an outlier, not a member of congress, not educated in Connecticut. Robertson's record as a judge and a public man is above reproach, and the republicans are not afraid to fight him.

Some of the arguments one hears in the small country drug stores and post offices where one gathers to discuss the political questions, the weather and so forth, are as follows:

1. A vote for Lilley means that you take sides with him against the republican house of representatives, which repudiated him after the election last spring and almost expelled him.

2. As Lilley gave to the world the impression that members of congress were going to be gratified if they unfoundedly suborned charges, to support him would mean a vote of confidence in the legislature.

3. That in case of Lilley's election the machine would have such a hold on the state that nothing but a revolution could shake it off.

4. That the democrats have practically endorsed the reform of congress and Woodruff administration in their platform, and Judge Robertson is bound to carry them out.

Not in years have the republicans of the state been so worked up over a nomination as they are over Lilley, and they declare openly that they are going to roll up a big majority for Taft and do as in the power they select the democratic state ticket. In this way they hope to teach the machine a lesson, to impress upon the bosses the fact that the rank and file of the republican party of the state have something to say in regard to the naming of state tickets.

Support Taft and cut Lilley" is the slogan heard in the small towns of Connecticut this fall.

PUMPKIN PIES.

Note—Twenty thousand pumpkin pies are consumed daily in New York city from September to February.

Oh, grand consumption, you are not Taft, you are not Bryan, but you are the glorious golden joy, you are the glorious golden joy, you are the glorious golden joy.

Arise, ye happy appetites!
In this month that is not chewed,
But goes down with a slide,
Arise, arise and take your fill
From pumpkin pies galore!
If twenty thousand more
Stand up and yell for more!

Three times a day fares forth the feast,
And better, three times three,
The measure of such bliss as this
Should be the rule for every one.
All are invited, take a wedge:
One bite, you close your eyes,
And in your mouth you dream you have
The town of Paradise.

Oh, lords and masters of mankind,
A millionaire, you high
To spend your money for our good,
Please pass the pumpkin pie.
Whoever says he is not
In truthfulness or lie,
Pray, be assured, there is no pump
In glorious pumpkin.

Among the latest horticultural products exhibited in England is a rose so dark as to be almost black. Many gardeners are eagerly trying to get a black rose, success in this line means a fortune.

There is a difference between the fire departments of London and of New York city. The London department costs 10 cents a year for each inhabitant, while the department of New York costs $1.15 for each New Yorker.

A TESTIMONIAL FOR THE HARVEY & LEWIS GUARD NEW YORK SAFETY STEAM POWER CO.

New York, August 2, 1908. Messrs. Harvey & Lewis, Chapel St., New Haven, Ct.

For attention: Mr. Moulis, Gentlemen:

I thought it might interest you to know of the test to which a pair of your glasses fitted with the Harvey & Lewis Guard was subjected the other day.

While canoeing on the Passaic river, the writer was upset, and compelled to dive to keep from being caught in the canoe when it went over. I had my eye glasses on at the time, and after diving and swimming down the river for a considerable distance found them still on my nose as though nothing had happened.

This certainly speaks well for the Harvey & Lewis Guard. With personal regards, I am, very truly yours, E. KRINNEY HUNT.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Mrs. William Wallace White.

An unusually large circle of friends in New Haven and elsewhere, feel a deep sense of their loss in the heart of Mrs. William W. White, who passed quietly away at her home on Wednesday morning, she had been in ill health for many months and for the last eight weeks had been confined to her bed.

Mrs. White was born in Rhinebeck, N. Y., and was the daughter of Rev. John Black, a Baptist clergyman.

Both her parents were of English birth. Her father died when she was a child, and a few years later she came with her mother to New Haven. After attending school here she took the course in the New Britain Normal school, then taught in the Eaton school a year or more, until her marriage to Mr. White in September, 1857.

Mr. White, for many years connected with the book business in this city, died in 1904. He was of old New Haven stock and for more than forty years was a vestryman of Trinity parish. Six children were born to them, of whom one, Herbert H., a graduate of Yale in the class of 1885, died in 1892, after most fruitful service as a teacher in Nebraska.

Her death, though she was entering "the borderland of old age," seems untimely, so strong in body and so young in spirit she had always been, but the influence of her quiet and beautiful life, in which she seemed to many to embody their ideal of sweetness and strength, will be carried on as they try to follow her.

The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Scoville at half past two o'clock, this (Friday) afternoon, at 347 Humphrey street, her home for more than thirty years.

M. B. Davids.

Mitajah B. Davids, who was for many years a resident in the fifteenth ward and a prominent member of St. Andrew's M. E. church at the Four Corners, died last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Palmer, in Jersey City, while on a visit there.

Robert McKiernan.

Funeral services for the late Robert McKiernan, who died Wednesday night, will be held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Michael Leonard, 184 James street, to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and from St. Patrick's church at 2 o'clock, where a requiem high mass will be celebrated. Interment will be in St. Lawrence cemetery.

Mrs. Axel Gustava.

The funeral of Mrs. Gustava, wife of Axel Johnson, took place from her residence on Fairmount avenue, at 2:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon. Services were held at the Swedish Lutheran church. Mrs. Johnson died on Monday after an illness of about four months. She was a native of Sweden and was 75 years old.

Mrs. George S. Saxton.

Cornelia E. Saxton, wife of George S. Saxton died Monday in Port Jefferson, L. I., aged 82 years and 10 months. Mrs. Saxton was the daughter of Merritt A. Yale of New Haven. She was married November 28, 1856, to George S. Saxton in New Haven, and on the discharge of Mr. Saxton

DEMOCRATS ACROSS BORDER AT PEACE

Massachusetts Ticket Named and Resolutions Adopted Without a Jar in the Proceedings.

THAT'S UNUSUAL FOR THEM

Former Factional Fighting conspicuous by its Absence—Old-Time Leaders Absent, Too.

Boston, Oct. 1.—With scarcely a jar in the harmony of its proceedings the democratic state convention today nominated a state ticket and adopted a set of resolutions, the main planks of which advocated tariff, labor and state administration reforms.

The state ticket chosen was as follows: Governor—James H. Vahey of Watertown.

Lieutenant Governor—Charles J. Barton of Melrose.

Secretary of State—James F. Axtell of Cambridge.

Treasurer and Receiver General—E. W. H. Kanner of Pittsfield.

Auditor—Simeon V. Shaw of Lawrence.

Attorney General—John A. Thayer of Worcester.

The presidential electors at large chosen were Richard Olney of Boston and James E. Cotter of Hyde Park.

Senator Vahey had an opponent the well known labor leader, E. Gerry Brock of Haverhill, who polled a large vote as a candidate for lieutenant governor in 1905 and 1906.

The sentiment of the convention, however, as shown by an informal rising vote, was so strongly in favor of Senator Vahey that Mr. Brock, who was a delegate, asked that the nomination of his opponent be made unanimous.

This action immediately followed and a few minutes later Candidate Vahey appeared in the hall and accepted the nomination for a fourth time for united action by the party leaders.

In connection with the selection of a candidate for lieutenant governor, the name of John Golden of Fall River, president of the United Textile Workers of America, had been favored.

Mr. Golden, however, after the withdrawal of Mr. Brock in the convention, announced that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination. He declared that he felt that it would not be right for one labor man to accept a position on the ticket after the defeat of another, in spite of the recommendation of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor.

The names selected by the committee on the balance of the ticket were then accepted by acclamation. Mr. Golden subsequently took the platform and pledged the support of organized labor to the ticket.

The convention machinery ran with unusual smoothness under the guidance of the American Federation of Labor, of Pittsfield, Temporary Chairman David J. Walsh of Fitzburg and Permanent Chairman Andrew J. Powers of Boston.

The state senate, in terms in the state senate, he was the leading counsel for Charles I. Tucker when the latter was tried and convicted for the murder of Mabel Page.

Gruener Brothers IMPORTERS AND TAILORS NEW HAVEN

896 Chapel St., New Haven House.

As Through A Shop Window

Miss Evans is at the shop of the Arts and Crafts, 1102 Chapel street, where she will give scientific readings of the hand.

Satin hats in nearly all colors, untrimmed, are for sale in some of the millinery shops.

Black velvet buttons now so fashionable come in six sizes and are priced accordingly. They are a very pretty finish for net waists.

Petticoats of a material which is so like silk that the difference can scarcely be told are selling for half the price of silk ones and they wear much better.

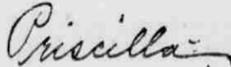

Almost too dainty to carry one would think are the little shopping bags of white leather, yet they are wonderfully durable because they clean nicely. Some of them have tiny watches set in the side.

Nets for the small folk are the tiny glass globes, containing a bit of seafoam, a few shells and two lively gold fish. The whole outfit is to be had for very little money and the food is also inexpensive.

In one shop I saw hand-embroidered waists, unmade, and of sheer batiste, the design in violet leaf outlines the berries, with scalloped edges to the collar and cuff pieces. Some of most exquisite fine material with the famous Appenzell hand embroidery on front, cuffs and collars, are beautiful.

The short choker fashion that now prevails in hats is very fetching in ostrich tips, which are soft and becoming close against the throat. Long satin bows and ends are used as finish and all colors are procurable. Such a purchase is a real investment, for feathers may be done over time and again and last indefinitely.

There is a new powder box to be had in the shops. It is a leather box, which is round like a small edition of a man's collar box, is of soft white kid, lined with white satin. The bottom of the box is a round stiffened disk, the size of a puff, which fills the bag. The bag closes by means of a white silk cord, run through slashes. This is an indescribably dainty affair, and would make the most charming of presents.

DEATHS BY ACCIDENT.

List of Mishaps that Occurred in the State Last Month.

Deaths from trains and from drowning in Connecticut waters totaled 15 each in September, these being the causes of the greater number of violent deaths. The number of suicides was 13, of which eight were by carbolic acid. Of the other fatalities six were by trolley cars, eight were by fire and three each by poison, automobiles and by crabs. There were homicides at New London, Derby and North Lyme, one each, and another which occurred two years ago was brought to light at Darien. Football had one victim during the month.

What is a cold in the head? Nothing to worry about if you treat it with Ely's Cream Balm. Neglected, the cold may grow into catarrh, and the air-passages be so inflamed that you have to fight for every breath. It is true that Ely's Cream Balm masters catarrh, promptly. But you know the old saying about the cure of prevention. Therefore use Cream Balm when the cold in the head shows itself. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 54 Warren street, New York.

"Must Go."

MAYOR A SPORT.

Boxing Allowed in Hartford Again, Thanks to Mr. Hooker.

Hartford, Oct. 1.—Boxing contests are to be resumed in Hartford, the mayor having issued a permit for an exhibition with gloves here next Tuesday night. The last glove fight held in Hartford was that in which Young Corbett won the championship from Terry McGovern. Public opinion was so adverse to this kind of sport that after that contest the authorities refused to issue permits.
