IT'S ALL OVER AT HEADQUARTERS

Claims of the Rival Chairmen Show Election of Both Taft and Bryan by Big Majorities.

CANDIDATES STILL AT IT

Hitchcock Says, "Our Fight Is Won;" Mack Declares Only Corrupt Use of Money Can Defeat His Orator.

New York, Nov. 1.—At both republican and democratic headquarters in this city today it was announced that the work of the respective organizations in the campaign of 1908 was at an end.

While the national chairman believes that all has been done that can be done to elect their chiefs, the candidates themselves will continue to be at it until practically the last minute.

Mr. Bryan intends to put in the day campaigning in northwestern Kansas and will be at Lincoln for a home-coming demonstration in the evening.

At republican headquarters in the Metropolitan tower today it was stated that Chairman Mack's estimate, 233 votes for Mr. Bryan had been expected in view of the same claims made earlier in the campaign.

BEATEN AFTER PARTY

Young Man Accused by Friends of Repudiating Them.

Because he repudiated two friends of his who claimed he had invited them to a party Saturday night, William Maher of 208 Humphrey street was attacked by the friends from ambush last night on a body horse on his way home.

He was attacked by two young men who appeared at a Halloween party Saturday night and told the girls, whose quest he was that he had invited them there also.

He denied the invitation when the girls asked him about it and the two strangers were turned away. To get even they laid for him and after he had escaped them once set upon him and beat him. He reported the case to police headquarters but no arrests were made.

MUSICIANS GATHER

Members of New Haven Symphony Orchestra Celebrate Fifteenth Anniversary.

Many members of the New Haven Symphony orchestra celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of the orchestra with an informal banquet at Steiner's Athenaeum last evening.

At a dinner in the Metropolitan tower today it was stated that Chairman Mack's estimate, 233 votes for Mr. Bryan had been expected in view of the same claims made earlier in the campaign.

ANOTHER BLUFF, SAYS RODENBACH

Kenealy Sends Out Long Statement on Alleged Illegal Ballots and Is Challenged.

Another attempt by Chairman Michael Kenealy of the state central committee to frighten the republican voters was made last night when he issued a statement from Hartford alleging that some grave errors were made by the committee representing the anti-Lilly republicans in sending out ballots to voters all over the Connecticut.

The latest action of Chairman Kenealy, I consider, and I believe every thinking republican considers, entirely a bluff. It simply shows to what extent the state central committee is alarmed over the situation in Connecticut and reveals the desperate state of affairs existing among them.

TO OPPOSE VIADUCT PLANS

Railroad Committee to Report Against New Haven Road Unless Some Changes Are Made.

This evening is the regularly appointed time for the monthly meeting of the board of aldermen and as no step was taken to postpone it an account of election even a meeting will be held, although it is doubtful if there will be very much business transacted.

At a dinner in the Metropolitan tower today it was stated that Chairman Mack's estimate, 233 votes for Mr. Bryan had been expected in view of the same claims made earlier in the campaign.

Observations at United States weather bureau stations, taken at 5 p. m. yesterday, seventy-fifth meridian time.

It is a campaign sheet devoted to the election of George L. Lilley for governor. It contains an article with reference to Labor's candidate for representative, William F. Costello, which is neither authorized by him or endorsed by the New Haven Trades Council.

When seen last night Chief Cowles expressed very deep indignation at this affair which he characterized as the "most outrageous thing he had ever seen."

ELECTION FORECAST

Situation as Seen by Party Managers in Doubtful States and Others.

Colorado.

Denver, Nov. 1.—The political situation in Colorado to-night remains practically the same as forecasted last night.

Delaware.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 1.—Both the republicans and democrats are claiming this state for their respective presidential candidates.

Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Except for conferences among political leaders of both parties, there was little doing in a political way in Indiana today.

Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Illinois is ours, in the assertion of both republican and democratic leaders to-night.

Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1.—The Sunday before election was an unusually quiet one throughout Kentucky.

Massachusetts.

Boston, Nov. 1.—With the election only a matter of hours, and the republicans conceded to be in command of the situation in Massachusetts, on the national contest interest in Tuesday's battle in this state centered in the size of the vote and Mr. Taft's plurality.

Maine.

Portland, Me., Nov. 1.—With state issues settled at the September elections, Maine shows today only a general interest in the national situation.

Montana.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 1.—That a single vote may decide the election of governor and presidential electors is the belief expressed by many conservative persons throughout the state.

Missouri.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—With the exception of scattering speeches tomorrow night the Missouri campaign is closed.

Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 1.—The campaign in Minnesota will close to-night when Governor Johnson (dem.) will make his closing address in St. Paul.

North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 1.—Leaders of the democratic and the republican parties today claim majorities ranging from 3,000 to 10,000 votes for their respective candidates for governor.

New York.

Reus, N.Y., Nov. 1.—A split of confidence pervades both democratic and republican headquarters to-night.

Ohio.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 1.—There were no developments in the Ohio political situation to-night so far as the national ticket is concerned.

GOMPERS' LAST APPEAL TO LABOR

Says Taft Attempted to Deceive Workingman in Reporting Defection of Associates.

READS SOME TELEGRAMS

Duncan, Morris and Mitchell Say They Endorsed Executive Council's Action and Are Standing by It.

New York, Nov. 1.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made his final appeal to organized labor tonight to support the candidacy of William J. Bryan.

Mr. Gompers read a telegram of similar import from Max Morris, of Denver, Col.

After reading this paragraph Mr. Gompers said:

"Then Mr. Taft mentioned the names of John Mitchell, James Duncan, Max Morris and Daniel J. Keefe as men who were falling away from Mr. Gompers."

"Yesterday I sent a telegram to John Mitchell and to James Duncan. I did not send telegrams to Morris or Keefe. I will now read you the answers:

Quincy, Mass., Oct. 21.—I have not changed in thought, word or deed since our Washington executive meeting when our circular was drawn up and approved by the whole council.

"Your telegram giving what purports to be an extract from a speech made by Taft at Buffalo last night is at hand. His statement as far as relates to me conveys a wrong impression. I am in full sympathy and accord with the policy of the American Federation of Labor as promulgated and outlined by the executive council.

Mr. Gompers read two other telegrams, one from the branch of the American Federation of Labor at Louisville, Ky., and the other from the branch at Fort Wayne.

"The telegrams and peroration were the two striking features of the labor leader's speech. Mr. Gompers was in such great earnest that he implored the enthusiastic audience not to interrupt him with applause, saying: 'I want to appeal to your conscience and your judgment, not to your enthusiasm. The appeal I make to-night I hope will not pass away like an ordinary appeal. I want you to remember what I say not until next Tuesday but until justice has been secured for labor."

Mr. Gompers attacked Judge Taft for what he termed his "unfair and terribly injurious labor injunctions," detailed the campaign that had been conducted to secure recognition at the republican and democratic conventions, endeavored to show that the democratic convention had dealt more fairly than the republicans with the appeal of labor, and ended with the following peroration:

"I appeal to you on this coming Tuesday to go cast your ballots as to express your demand for justice to labor. I appeal to you to go cast your ballots that on the fourth of March next we shall place in the presidential chair the man whom we believe to be the real commoner, that great tribune of American rights, that transcendental American, that magnificent character who will live so long in the minds of American men as liberty shall be a principle of our freedom. I appeal to you for the homes, for the bread, for the destinies of American men, for human virtue. I appeal to you to cast your votes for William Jennings Bryan."

PROHIBITIONISTS HOPE

Expect a Vote Twice as Large as the Greatest Ever Given. Chicago, Nov. 1.—With the assertion that the vote for the prohibition party next Tuesday will be twice as large as the largest ever before cast for the party, Chairman Charles R. Jones announced to-day that the prohibition national committee has been assured an income of $25,000 a year for the next four years with which to carry on its work.

Mr. Jones said that the financial backing for the party had been pledged by 1,000 prominent persons.

With the widespread interest shown in the work of suppressing the liquor traffic and the votes taken from the old parties by our presidential nominee, Eugene W. Chafin, we will force the prohibition issue as the dominant question in national politics," said Mr. Jones.

SHELTON.

AT THE HYPERION.

Ivan Abramson brings his Italian Grand Opera Company of 160 artists to the Hyperion to-night and to-morrow, the closing of their successful season in New York two weeks called forth the following complimentary remarks from a well known critic:

"Before the opera managers in thirty-fourth street and on Broadway have thought about shaking out their curtains and dusting up their chairs for the New Year, a grand opera of the 'popular' sort has slipped in for a whole month's stay at this town, has done its duty to the public, and has departed for a winter on the road."

"There was no stealing away in silence, for Manager Ivan Abramson at the American on Saturday night, though it was a case of 'Bravo, bravo!' for the delegation from all these of New York were there—with their voices and while some of their representatives might have been a trifle shy as to dress coats and opera hats, they know how to appreciate the efforts of Mme. Helena as 'Aida,' Mariotti as 'Rhodame,' and the rest of the crowd was not to be quieted until conductor Merila also made his appearance before the footlights in a slow-my-leader farewell."

"The Italian Grand Opera Company may have known more tumultuous awards, but there was no mistaking the genuineness of the applause at the American theater on Saturday night."

"You may appreciate grand opera on a grander scale, but there are others, doubtfully many others, who will be glad to see the opera sign hung out in West Forty-second street again in the Spring."

"ning 'The Smart Set' will open a three days' engagement, during which they will present that superb musical concertino, 'The Black Politician,' with S. H. Dudley in the title role. As a comedian Mr. Dudley has about the best of it with any of those of the present day and his title to 'Southland's Sunny Boy' is without a flaw."

This offering is to be the election day attraction at the Grand and will be given twice to-morrow with no advance in price either afternoon or evening. To-morrow evening the election returns will be read from the stage and the management has arrangements whereby the returns given will be the most accurate obtainable.

The play is produced in three acts. The songs are numerous and catchy. Mr. Dudley is supported by a company of fifty people who are experienced and capable and who contribute no little to the great success of the offering.

Rentz-Santley Co.
The famous Rentz-Santley company will occupy the Grand the last three days of the week with a Saturday matinee. This company is offering two of the richest travesties ever produced. They are 'The Married Widow' and 'The Girl With the Golden Vest,' being on plays that will be immediately recognized from the changed titles. An additional feature is the production of 'The Dance of the Seven Veils,' by Ayesha-Hara, the beautiful Grecian dancer.

AT POLI'S.

There will be three great big specials on the Polli bill this week utilizing no less than 27 performers during the evening.

"Mr. Busybody" is a concentrated extract of musical comedy by Irvin S. Cobb and Sanford Waters.

The musical numbers are bright and catchy, and the girls have plenty of opportunity of displaying their gracefulness in the various musical numbers arranged and they also have an exquisite series of costumes and hat changes that will be of interest to the ladies.

One of the most unique features in vaudeville is the skating act of Isabel Butler and Edward Basset. Both are expert ice skaters, and they make their appearance in natty costumes.

Harry W. Fields and his 'Redpath Napanee' in the musical comedietta, 'Fun in a Schoolroom.' This is one of those condensed musical comedies that have become so popular.

Julie Ring, sister of Blanche Ring, and who is considered one of the handsomest women on the stage, will be seen supported by a capable company in 'The Wrong Room,' a farcical hit of fine favor.

THE PLAY OF THE FUTURE.

Eugene Walter, Author of 'Paid in Full,' Expresses Some of His Ideas.

"The great primitive instinct of man is to fight against want, hunger, need—the instinct of self-preservation. The American has sentiment, plenty of it, the sentiment of the conqueror." Thus does Eugene Walter, author of "Paid in Full," "The Wolf," etc., express his ideas of playwriting in the Theater Magazine for October.

"I wrote 'The Wolf' in six days," he boasted quietly. "The 'Undertow' and 'Paid in Full' each were written in three weeks. I have written an act in an hour and a half."

At thirty-three he has achieved a sudden eminence at which old men of the drama are wistfully regarding him. Could he explain his quick, dazzling success? Clearly he could not. This inability is indicated by a wave of the hand as if brushing away bothersome cobwebs.

"Who can analyze success of any kind?" he asked. "Probably people like 'Paid in Full,' because it is true."

"And the flat-dwellers of New York have gone to see in a play what they live at home?"

"Assuredly. It is among humble surroundings that great tragedies are lived. They don't happen among the so-called smart set. That class is incapable of feeling them. Don't think because I wrote 'Paid in Full' in three weeks that that was the beginning and ending of the play with me. The idea had been growing in my mind for several years. I thought it all out again and again. Finally, when I had it all in my mind in an orderly manner, when I knew exactly what I wanted to say, even to the shortest word of dialogue, I dictated it. I dictated all of my work so, in a sense, I don't write any play, but not until I have the whole play fully in mind, not until I can see mentally each character going through his scenes and business as clearly as if I were at a real performance do I think of putting it on paper. I must feel the speeches my characters are to deliver. I let have worked out orally the sense of values and proportion to its last detail before I can begin. Once I have started my dictation my mind is not easy until I have gone straight ahead and have finished the last line in the play. The real dramatic incidents of everyday life that furnish material for plays happen instantly, they are of short, tense duration. I try to make my plays that way. Perhaps that is why I work at such speed. 'Paid in Full' was evolved from that third act situation in Captain Williams' cabin. A prominent actress told me that her husband, a successful male star, had made her exactly that proposition. He said it would assure a good season for them both. He seems a decent fellow. I like him. He denies the story, of course, I don't know whether it is true, but I wrote the play from it and she came near appearing in it. I disagreed with her manager and the play shifted."

"Paid in Full" was rejected by almost every producing manager in New York. This phase of the play's history its author refers to with a grim smile of unpalatable memory. "All the big managers read the piece. They could not see how it could do otherwise than fail until the morning after it opened. Then they were unanimous in saying there never could have been any ques-

RUNNING FOR REPRESENTATIVE ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Emil Loos, who is a candidate for representative on the Republican ticket is one of the best known German citizens of the state of Connecticut, and a Republican who has always stood by the party to which he belongs. He has been a member of the board of aldermen, and has a record of which anyone might be proud. He has never been owned by the machine, but is a believer that machines are needed to bring out votes for political parties. Mr. Loos, besides having united support from his own party, has legions of friends in the Democratic party who have made known their desire to use pastors.

EMIL LOOS.

Mr. Loos is a contractor at the Marlin Fire Arms Co., and by his service to the city as alderman for several terms, his good reputation, his friends believe, is entitled to advancement and the honor of representing New Haven in the Legislature of 1908.

Pay Your Election Bet With a Stetson Hat.

This is the only store in New Haven selling Stetson's Special at $5. Stetson's Self-Conforming Derby is the lightest weight, dependable Derby Hat made. Will fit any head as comfortable as an old soft hat. Stetson's Soft Hats—$3 to $5—shown in the largest assortment of Stetson styles in the city. The most difficult problem is getting a man to buy the first Stetson. After that he demands a Stetson. The reason is plain—QUALITY—STYLE—PRICE. You can't buy a better hat than a Stetson at any price.

HEBREW DEMOCRATS

Meet to Hear Mayor Reilly, of Meriden, and Several Local Speakers.

SPEAKER CANNON SCORED

Declares That Rockefeller and Carnegie Grew Rich Under Republican Administration.

The Third and Fourth Ward Hebrew Democratic clubs turned out in force to a rally at the Hebrew Institute on George street last night to hear Mayor Thomas L. Reilly, Edwin S. Thomas and others speak on the coming election. The meeting was gotten together at very short notice, only a few knowing of it until last evening. The speakers were notified the morning and afternoon before, and the hall was engaged at a few hours' notice. In spite of the short time for preparation, there was a crowd there that packed the auditorium. They were very enthusiastic. Mayor Reilly spoke of the qualities and prominence of Hebrews in many spheres of life. He then said: "It was hardly worth while for many of you to leave the rule of the czar who has a right to rule by inheritance to come under the rule of another czar who has no right to rule except that given him by the republican party, a man who is the 'Simon Legree' of congress and drives the house of representatives like slaves. He is Uncle Joe Cannon. He censors such laws as he does not want to come before the house and they are never heard from again. Even some from the president are throttled by the speaker."

He then went on to speak of what he said was the miserable system of representation that Connecticut had. He declared that there was no reason why the United States senators from this state should not be elected by direct vote.

"Of course Rockefeller and Carnegie are for Taft as it was a republican administration that allowed them to accumulate their vast wealth. There should be an income tax on all such to make them pay the part of the taxes that is their just due. These things are what the democratic party will stand for and will enforce."

Edwin S. Thomas in his talk spoke of the saying so frequently used by Mr. Bryan, "Shall the people rule?" This he said originated in the definition of the word democratic, i. e., rule of the people. He then said that it was about time that the people did rule this country as it was coming to a despotism largely like that of the countries from which the Jewish people had fled.

Jacob Koppelman of Hartford, in his talk said: "Colonel Pope of Hartford in his talk on the political campaign in 1900, remarked that he would close up his factory if Bryan was elected as there would be a tremendous panic in that event. He repeated this about Judge Parker in 1904. Under a republican administration, he has closed up and is in the hands of a receiver. They have given us a war and the greatest panic that the country has ever seen and yet they have the effrontery to say that if they are turned out of office, there will be the return of hard times."

Other speakers on the issues of the day were John Courtney, Patrick Cunningham and Benjamin Slade.

MOURNS LOSS OF MR. HAYNES.

Pastors' Union Adopts Testimonial of Life and Work of Brother.

At the October meeting of the Pastors' union of New Haven a committee was appointed to prepare a testimonial to the life and work of the late Artemas Jean Haynes. Accordingly the following resolutions were drawn up and have been adopted by the union:

Whereas, in the mysterious providence of God, there has been removed from our midst our dear friend and brother, Artemas Jean Haynes, who, the members of the Pastors' union of the city of New Haven, desire to express the high esteem in which he was held among us. We knew him as one firm in his convictions and daring in his utterance yet tolerant and kindly in his spirit toward all men.

We recognize that in the life of our churches and of our city he was a force for deep spirituality, for righteousness and for justice; and that in his death we have suffered an immeasurable loss.

To his church and to his family we would bear expression of the deepest sympathy, and for them raise the prayer that they may have in their bereavement the ministrations of the divine spirit.

GOULD FIGHTS WHITE.

American and Englishman Meet in Tie on Tuxedo Courts.

Tuxedo Park, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Jay Gould amateur court tennis champion of the world, played an exhibition match with John White, professional, of the Racquet and Tennis club, New York, on the court of the Tuxedo Racquet and Tennis club here to-day. The match was a tie, being called on account of darkness after each had won two sets. Gould won the first set, 6-0. The second was not so easy for him, but he finally won it by 6-4. The third set was a fine exhibition of court tennis and White won it, 9-7. The fourth set went to White at 6-4. A large gathering of society people witnessed the match.

ALEXANDER AND WRIGHT.

Brisbane, Australia, Nov. 1.—Fredrick B. Alexander and Beals C. Wright, the American international lawn tennis team who will compete for the Davis cup at Melbourne, arrive here to-day. Both are in good health and are sanguine of taking the cup back to the United States. This cup matches will be decided about the middle of November.

Bishop of Cuba Preaches at Trinity Church on Good of U. S. Unselfishness.

PRELATE IS AN AMERICAN

Went from Atlanta to Island Four Years Ago, But Is Mistaken for Cuban.

Rev. Dr. Knight, Episcopal bishop of Cuba, delivered the sermon yesterday morning in Trinity church. His topic was national and church selfishness.

Dr. Knight is from Atlanta, Ga., and he has only been in Cuba four years as bishop having been a minister in the south before he was called there. He tells an amusing story of mistakes that are frequently made as to his nationality as he is dark in complexion and has black hair. When a speaker at a dinner, someone remarked, "Why, he speaks without any accent."

"The text of the sermon was from St. Luke. It was 'And he said then ye shall surely say unto me this proverb, physician heal thy self; whatsoever ye have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in our own country.'"

"This was to show the Jewish people the narrowness of their policies, and that they should do something for somebody else. Nations recognized this in the past when they sought to divert the attention of the people at home onto disturbances in some other country and entered into foreign wars."

"Our country entered into a foreign war, not for conquest, not to divert attention from the many current problems, but purely for unselfish motives, to help a people weaker and oppressed by tyrants. This was an anomaly in history."

"It was a part of our war with Spain which we entered with such altruism that we became a united people north and south. From a provincial nation in habits and ideas, little regarded by the other nations of the earth, we came to be a great world power."

"There are still problems at home to be solved. The church should be moved to extend its kind offices to people needing light, and by unselfishness, the church will find its own problems carried out in a mysterious way."

Fake Sales of Private Furs. A Timely Tip to Fur Buyers.

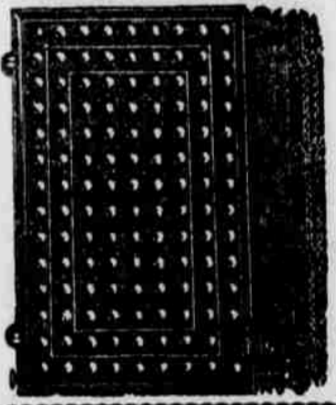

You know, or ought to know, that there are a number of reliable furriers and fur dealers in New Haven. You know, or ought to know, that competition in the fur business keeps prices down. I know that lots of people in this city are being duped by so-called "private sales." I know it because I have seen the furs these parties are selling and know it is not one or two private pieces they have, but a stock of furs to replenish as these are sold. If you want furs, buy them of a local furrier—don't be fooled by "fake ads." I speak for the public good.

"FLAT-FOOT" CAN BE CURED.

A New York surgeon and well known foot specialist, has declared that nearly every man, woman and child in the shoe-wearing world is on the verge of developing a form of flat foot, a malady, commonly known as "broken-down arch."

It is claimed by this eminent surgeon that, owing to the imperfect construction of the majority of shoes worn today, the people of this country will become eventually weak footed, if not actually deformed.

Most shoes that have been worn a few weeks have the uppers bulged over at the inside of the foot the sole worn principally in the heel.

These shoes which are now being worn by thousands throughout the country, are a blessing, the value of which is immeasurable, they are a boon to all sufferers from foot troubles, and a relief and a necessity to all whose business causes them to spend large portions of their time upon their feet.

"Anatomik" shoes are being shown at a special demonstration in the Edward Malley Co. store, in the New Haven, Mr. Lawrence B. Taylor of the Anatomik shoes in the shoe section of the Edw. Malley Co. store.

Mrs. X-John, from the expression of that Mrs. Grumley you were just talking with, she was complaining of one of her numerous ailments. What a queer case she is!

DOING LARGE WORK

HOME OPEN FOR SERVICE

The third semi-annual council of the Christian Army was held at the Connecticut headquarters on Exchange street, this city, last week and very encouraging reports were read of the work of the organization.

During the past six months 6,534 free cooked meals have been given out and employment was also found for 34 women. The shelter gave 2,227 beds free during the time covered in the report.

Financially the income for the period was $99.53 and the expenses $1,067.63 which leaves a deficit of $78.10.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Confidence in Present and Hope for Future Expressed in the Firmness of Tone.

ELECTION ANTICIPATION

Some Unsettling Caused by That Tendency—Railroad Earnings More Favorable.

New York, Nov. 1.—A spirit of confidence in the present and hopefulness for the future was presented in the financial district last week and found its reflection in the firm undertone of the stock market. The action of that week was the result of the near approach of the national elections, owing to the fact that that event has been looked forward to as marking a definite period of repression and withholding of orders in all departments of industry, which would not be easy to exaggerate the part this feeling has played in the long continued accumulation of stocks and the substantial advance in price which has occurred. So much having been achieved in the adjustment of values to the continued respite it was natural there should be a disposition to pause on the eve of the arrival of the period. There was even perceptible a tendency to anticipate the event by the further step of realizing speculative profits accrued, which caused some unsettling, at times, in the price movement. The stock market gave proof that the effective control in which it is held, and which is believed to be exercised by groups of the wealthiest capitalists in the country was not relinquished. The stocks in which the movements are most influential on the general tone of the market advanced to new high levels for the year. The progress of the recovery in general business was in evidence from various sources and was an influence in maintaining the main undertone of the market. The quarterly statement of the United States Steel company was an effective factor in maintaining this confidence. The increase in tonnage of unfilled orders on hand, though small, shows the decline began from the high water mark of the December quarter of 1906. The increase in the last quarter's earnings obtains additional force from the fact that the gains were at an increasing rate for each successive month of the quarter. The week's advances from the iron and steel trade were of increasing demand from consumers and of growing disposition on the part of the railroads to place orders for equipment. The advancing tendency in the price of copper was traceable to the same causes. Reports of gross earnings of railroads for the later weeks of October show increasingly favorable comparisons with last year, and the year's earnings were at large advances over previous years, the effect of the financial crisis not having yet appeared. Reports of net earnings for September have the advantage of the effective economies in operating cost then enforced, and which compare with the period of forced extravagance in that time last year owing to congestion of traffic, car shortages and other conditions, which made the rate of operating cost very high. The situation in the money market offers undisturbed ease. The movement of currency to the interior for the season seems to have ended. Foreign money markets have been relieved of the strain of the war outlook in the Balkans, but are still affected by the unappreciated demand of Paris for gold. Students of the United States government finances expect an early call on banking depositors for a return of funds to the treasury. The October deficit amounts to a round $10,000,000—the available balance is below the traditional limit of safety and the obligation to redeem the $14,000,000 one year notes put out to relieve the financial crisis last year confronts the government by lenders and borrowers as evidenced by the sagging tendency of time loans.

FAIR HAVEN NEWS Rev. Mr. Tullar Prays for Clean Election—Says President Should Not Interfere—Matters Political.

In several of the churches yesterday, the preachers referred to the coming election in their morning prayer and that God would bless the country in an especial manner the coming week. The topic of the evening sermon by Rev. E. C. Tullar at the East Pearl Street M. E. church was "Make your calling an election sure."

More political matter was distributed to the voters yesterday and those who exercise the franchise will have no lack of ballots from which to choose. There is prospect of a heavy vote in this part of the city. The canvass which started so quietly and which promised to make a campaign with little or no excitement, has been anything but quiet the past week.

With all the election excitement, Halloween was not forgotten. The weather on Saturday night was as good Halloween weather as could be wished and the young people were out early and remained late in celebrating the anniversary.

One of the largest funerals which have taken place in Fair Haven in a long time was that of Mrs. Walter Leigh, attended at her late home, 37 Quinipiac avenue yesterday afternoon. The large residence was crowded to its greatest capacity with relatives and friends.

The Doreas club of the Grand Avenue Congregational church will give an entertainment on Wednesday evening in the Sunday school room of the church. It is entitled "A Japanese Wedding."

At the prayer and conference meeting on Tuesday evening in the Grand Avenue Congregational church the subject will be "Prayer for the Nation's Chosen Leaders."

Herbert S. Nelson, English street, has gone to Searchlight, Nevada where he has secured a position in mining. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nelson will spend the winter in Newark, N. J.

With the temperatures down in the thirties yesterday morning and the cold wind blowing at a fierce rate, the day out of doors was not very pleasant. The cool weather reminded one that winter is almost here, November certainly came in like a lion.

At the fifth anniversary banquet and entertainment held the past week by the woman's auxiliary of the Annex fire department, mention of which has already been made, two handsome gavels were presented to the society, to be used by the president, Mrs. Ida M.
