J. N. Adam & Co.

We have doubled the capacity of our Store for a purpose.

Boots and Shoes have so improved the style and quality of medium and low-priced work that it is possible to fit intelligent and particular people at half the cost necessary six years ago. We needed room to sell "the million" and have got it.

The Feature of Our New Business will be large Job Lots bought for cash, well selected, and sold at a small advance from cost. We do not go to manufacturers of cheap shoes for these goods; they are almost invariably job lots from reputable makers, and through them we intend to make our store known throughout the State as "the Shoe Store of Connecticut."

Our enlargement is inaugurated by a Special Sale of 2.000 pairs, to which we call attention through the local notice column of this paper.

N. B.-This change will not interferere in the least with our Fine Trade-goods of our own make-or that we control. We shall do more than ever in Fine Shoes, but we notice our most valued customers are not adverse to a low-priced shoe for their own or children's wear, if it has fit and merit. Just this we intend to give.

It is our intention to MAKE GARMENTS TO ORDER precisely as desired by purchasers, at as LOW a price as the same quality of material, trimmings and workmanship can be produced in READY-MADE CLOTHING, and, as one of the largest manufacturers of Clothing in New England, we do not hesitate to say that owing to the fact that there are no two men of exactly the same proportions, it is impossible to produce READY-MADE CLOTHING that will fit properly more than one man out of one hundred. This being the fact, we propose in the future to make this, THE CUSTOM BRANCH of one business, the leading feature; for all will acknowledge that a well-fitting suit of clothes, out from even an inferior cloth, as far preferable to a poor-fitting, awkward-looking garment cut from fine fabric.

We shall make Suits from $12 upwards, Pantaloons from $3.50 upwards, Spring Overcoats from $9 upwards. Good-fitting, well-made and well-trimmed garments guaranteed. Square-dealing is the leading char-

EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY CARRINGTON & CO.,

Monday Morning, March 7, 1881.

The new Cabinet does not contain as man nen with reputations for "greatness" as and insults to foreign sovereigns and ambae some Cabinets have, but it seems well calculated to do able and judicious work. whose appointment will be most criticised is James G. Blaine, Secretary of State. Few of our public men are better known than Mr. Blaine. He is 51 years old and was born in Pennsylvania. After completing his studies he taught for some time, and in 1858 became connected with a newspaper in Augusta, Maine. In 1857 he was elected to the State Legislature, where he sat for five years, du ring two of which he served as Speaker. In 1862 he was elected to Congress, to which he was regularly re-elected until 1876, when he chosen to the Senate in place of ex-Senator Lot M. Morrill. In December, 1869, he was elected Speaker of the Forty-first Congress, was re-elected in 1871 and 1873, and was defeated in 1875 by his Democratic competitor, Michael C. Kerr, the Democrats having a clear majority in that House. He was brilliantly successful as a Speaker. As an orator and legislator he was one of the notable figures of Congress long before he secame its presiding officer, and began to be mentioned as a possible President soon after his first election to the Speaker ship. At Cincinnati in 1876 he narrowly failed of the Republican nomination, and at Chicago in 1880 was the leading candidate until almost the last moment, when his followers threw their votes for General Garture largely Democratic." field, thus securing his nomination. Mr. Blaine is "a born leader of men," and has an About a hundred of President Hayes' nom imposing personal presence. Some fear that in his anxiety to make his career in the Cabiuet brilliant he will forget to be safe, but there is no good ground for such fear. The Secretary of the Treasury, William Windom, of Minnesota, was one of those whom it was thought the lightning might possibly strike at Chicago. Mr. Windom "is nearly 54 years old, and was born in Ohio. He studied law, and in 1855 settled in Winona, Minnesota, which has ever since been his home. In 1858 he was elected to Congress as a Republican, and stayed there ten years, giving especial attention to the problems of interstate com merce, cheap transportation and the advancement of agricultural interests. He was appointed Senator in July, 1870, to fill the unexpired term of Daniel S. Norton : was elected for the full term of 1871-77 and re-elected for the term expiring in 1883. It is not generally known that Mr. Windon has any special fitness to succeed John Sherman, and he comes from a region where soundness on financial questions has not been conspicuous. But with Mr. Garfield as the United Str sires to, as we have no idea that he does

The Secretary of the Interior, Samuel Kirkwood, is the oldest member of the new lministration, being sixty-eight years old. ame "an Ohio man," which enviable rank he held for twenty years, practising law during the last twelve years, and taking a promnent part in politics. In 1855 he settled i Johnson county, Iowa, and in the following rear he was chosen State Senator, was elect ed Governor in 1859 and again in 1861, being one of that remarkable group of "War Gov ernors" to whom was due so much of the glory of the suppression of the rebellion. In 1863 he declined the offered mission to Denmark, succeeded James Harlan as United ants States Senator for the period 1866-67, was again chosen Governor in 1875, and resigned that office in January, 1877, on his second election to the United States Senate for the period ending in 1883. Mr. Kirkwood in hought to resemble Abraham Lincoln in some respects, and is credited with possessing a great deal of common sense, all of which he will need in administering the affairs of the Interior department. Robert T. Lincoln, the Secretary of War, is the eldest and the only surviving son of Abraham Lincoln. He is 37 years old and has acquired an enviable reputation as a good citizen and a successful lawyer in Chicago, where he has lived since his father was a assinated. He was an ardent Grant man no one, and everybody will be glad to see The Secretary of the Navy, Judge William H. Hunt, is a native of South Carolina, but has lived most of his life in Louisiana. He is a graduate of Yale, and has been very sucessful as a lawyer, a teacher of law and a udge in the Court of Claims. He doubtless knows as much about naval affairs as most of those who have preceded him. An appointment which meets with general and hearty approval is that of Thomas L. James to be Postmaster General. Mr. James is a native of New York and is fifty year old. In early life he was a journalist, active in political matters and in the support of the imperance and abolition causes. Since 1861 he has held various government offices in New York city, and in 1872 was appointed ostmaster of the city by General Grant. His administration of the New York postof fice has been such as to win him great favor rom all brought in contact with him or his work. He has shown great executive ability, mfailing and helpful courtesy, and remarks

ble attention to detail. No one in the country knows what the postal service needs beter than he, and the belief is general and well founded that it will be much improved under his administration. It is said that the star route contractors are much distressed ver his appointment, which is a good omen. Wayne McVeagh, of Pennsylvania, the ttorney General, is about 48 years old. He is looked upon as the representative in the Cabinet of the reform element in the Republican party. He graduated from Yale in that "famous class" which some of the other classes dislike to hear any more about. He ver and politician. He was Minister to Constantinople in 1872-3, and was talked of for ecretary of the Interior in 1875. In March,

The New York Herald has acknowledged that it has been bought by Jay Gould for three cents, and now the Journal of Common of Othello when she saw him loading up his old navy revolver. "No, not this seemed at the ripe old age of 75 years. He was an old and highly esteemed citizen.

The new French press law is the most liblirected against the press, and substitute when actually followed by the commission of he crime, the encouragement of insubord nation in the army or navy, seditious cries

A law on the subject of libel is me with great favor in the western States. It passed the Wisconsin legislature without opposition, and is now pending in the legisla-latures of Illinois and Missouri. It provides that "when a newspaper shall, upon the information of the falsity of an article appear ing in its columns, publish a correction or retraction in two successive numbers, it shall not be liable in a civil suit except for actual damages sustained by the plaintiff."

Mr. Frank M. Bemis contradicts Senate Vest's assertion that no Democratic legisla ure ever passed a prohibitory liquor law "Maine and Vermont are the only States that new have asstringent prohibitory liquor laws as when the Republican party same into power. Maine passed the law first in 1846; then followed the more stringent one of June 2, 1851. Both times the State egislature was overwhelmingly Democratic inderson and Hubbard were the Democratic lovernors who signed the prohibitory bills. He instances further: "Vermont passed the law Nov. 23, 1852, Fairbanks, Democratic Sovernor, signing the bill; Massachusetts May 22, 1852, Gov. Boutwell. Democrat Rhode Island, March 7, 1852, Gov. Allen Democrat, Legislature same ; Michigan, Feb 12, 1853, Gov. McCleland, Democrat, legisla-nations were allowed to lapse by the failure of the Senate to act upon them, and President Garfield will have to make nominations for these places. Among the more important of the lapsed nominations are the following Stanley Matthews, to be a justice of the Supreme Court; E. C. Billings, to be United States circuit judge for the fifth circuit; Elliott F. Shepard, to be district attorney for the southern district of New York; John Jacobus, to be United States marshal for the southern district of New York; William Faxon, to be postmaster at Hartford; W. H. Haskell, to be postmaster at Albany, and W. H. Daniels to be collector of customs at Buffalo. The Hartford Courant says that President Garfield will, without doubt, renominate Mr. Faxon at an early day for the postoffice in that city, but in nost of the cases where Mr. Hayes made ominations during the last few weeks of his erm, new nominations are probable.

A caution to wives is contained in a decision made last week in the Circuit Court of al. The plaintiff claimed that she was the owner of 150 bonds of the Memphis and Little Rock railroad and of fifty bonds of the Carolina Central railroad; that some person caused his death in about ten minutes.

Night Editor. to her unknown and without her authority placed these bonds in the hands of the deendants as security for the notes of Nathan Matthews, a brother of Edward Matthews, the husband of the complainant, amountin to $250,000. The opinion finds that the bonds were put by the complainant into the custody and possession of her husband and son, and were so much the property of the husband that he could use them as he did, and the opinion holds that the only relief to which the complainant is entitled is to redeem by paying the loan made by the defend-

An interesting trial of a new stenographic nachine was made in the French Chamber of Deputies the other morning in the presence of M. Gambetta and a number of other officials and members. The mechanism, which s an Italian invention, is worked by a kind of keyboard similar to that of a piano, and the stenographic signs are automatically printed on a continuous ribbon of paper The signs registered of course represent sounds, irrespective of spelling, and the machine can be used by a person unacquainted with the language spoken. The daughter of the inventor worked the machine succe fully, taking down a speech read at average speed in Italian, and one read in French by M. Gambetta, she being ignorant of the latter language. A comparison between the speed of the machine and that of the shorthand writers of the Chamber proved favorable to the former. Further experiment will be made with a view to a possible adoption of the apparatus, which is already in use in the Italian Chambers. At the meeting of the National Republican Committee in Washington Saturday, the subommittee, consisting of Messrs. George C. Gorham, Edward McPherson and William E. Chandler, which had been appointed by Secretary Dorsey to consider and report plans of representation in national conventions, submitted a majority and a minority report. The majority report, which was submitted by Messrs. Chandler and McPherson, proposed that hereafter national conventions shall be omposed of four delegates at large from sach State, two from each Congressional distriet, one for each Republican Senator and one district delegate for each Republican member of Congress, provided that the dis-trict delegates should be chosen by the voters member of Congress, provided that the district delegates should be chosen by the voters of their respective districts and at conventions held in the districts. Mr. Gorham's minority report recommended that the national convention of 1884 should consist of a number of delegates from each State equal reverse which tissue papers are inspected of late of a most marvellous variety and beauty of color. With a happy stroke of inventive fancy, she determined to give a number of delegates from each State equal number of delegates from each State equal to twice the number of Senators and Representatives in Congress, and that the Republicans of each State should direct the manner of the legal to the delegater. The idea was at once recognized as a happy one, and the result was a success so complete as to surprise even the originator of the delegater. A Pleasant Affair.

Rev. Mr. Whitechoker Presented with a Cane and Finally Shot Under a

A very pleasant affair occurred last evening at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Whitechoker, at the south end. The members of his congregation, desiring to testify their appreciation of his long service and many excellent qualities, assembled early in the evening and the crowd chased him down the street, throwing stones and charters the street, the crowd chased him down the street, throwing stones and shouting to warn people to get out of his way. He received them affably and not suspecting their purpose, turned the corner of Dedham street and rushed up Shawmut avenue, with the yelling crowd behind rapidly increasing but taking care to keep at a comparatively safe distance. On he tore, frothing at the mouth, while his kind-hearted little wife assisted him in making every one at home, and took a diagonal kind-hearted little wife assisted him in making every one at home, and took a diagonal course across Chester square, knocking down a little girl and frightening several ladies, and prepared a collation in which she was aided by the lady members of the society and Deacon Brown, which only increased the excitement and terror, and a teamster at the corner of Washington street attacked him with a dray-pin, aiming a blow at his head but missing, which drew forth the rare conversational powers of the reverend gentleman and this had the effect of checking him momentarily, but he quickly recovered and mentarily, but he quickly recovered and turning back upon the crowd, said it was entirely unexpected and he scarcely consid-ered his humble efforts worthy of so much consideration from his parishioners, where upon there was a general stampede for door upon there was a general stampede for doorways and tree boxes, and a large brick thrown by some one in the crowd struck him in the side and rolled him over, but he appreciated the kindneas deeply and quickly regaining his feet made a savage dash for a small boy and caught him by the shoulder, but was clubbed off by Officer Magenta and said he should always remember the occasion as one of the pleasantest in his long career and started howling and frothing at the mouth for the other side of the street, when Elder Johnson pleasantly interrupted him and presented him with a beautiful gold-headed cane, scattering the crowd and was knocked down scattering the crowd and was knocked down by a cobble-stone inscribed appropriately and elegantly chased down Worcester street, where he took refuge under a stable, panting for breath and happily referring to his many years in the pulpit. Officer Magenta ap-pearance upon the scene was one never to be forgotten by those who participated and fired five shots, one of which took effect in the brute's eye and will be looked back upon with pleasure by both the recipent and the Fashion-"Tissue-Paper Real "society" has nothing to do but to and have nothing to do but enjoy one's self—that is the ideal of a happy life with milions of people who are outside of the charmed circle of "society." But, in fact these persons would be greatly astonished if they knew how very difficult society finds it to be constantly amused. The young lady of fashion suffers from an ennui which her waiting maid never knows. The young swell of the jeunesse doree often finds his swell of the jeunesse doree often hinds his time hang heavy upon his hands. Above all the lady who aspires to lead in fashion, to entertain, to give the tone—this queen of society is often, were the truth known, en-tirely at her wits end to devise some new method of entertaining and amusing the novelty-loving young ladies and the blase ises to be at once novel and amusing, is eagerly welcomed, and its fortunate inventor is hailed as a benefactor. Some of the devices for stirring the languid interest of these triflers have no merit beyond their novelty, but the latest one of which we have heard is distinguished as being not only new, but graceful and pretty as well, and as affording opportunity for the exercise of ingenuity, skill and taste without limit.

Some fashionable lady in le monde ou Pon s'amuse not long since planned and carried

In March, 1877, he was sent to Louisiana as the leading member of the so-called "McVeagh Commission"—composed of Generals Hawley and Harlan, Governor John C. Brown and Judge C. B. Lawrence—to investigate the state of political affairs, and his report was influential in securing the withdrawal of federal recognition from the "carpet-bag" government.

Last year he was one of the organizers of the National Republican League and exerted himself at Chicago against the Camerons and the nomination of General Grant.

Prom the above it will be seen that there is reason to believe that the new Cabinet will treat the matters that come before it vigorously and intelligently. We shall not be surprised if it works quite as satisfactorily and usefully as Cabinets composed mainly of "great" men have.

Fire in Newhallville.

Paper Shot Shell Manufactory Bur

At 9:25 o'clock last evening an alarm of re was given from box 521, corner of Newnall and Division streets. To the call the fire department responded promptly, but and hose carts through the mud, and the aithful horses were nearly tired out before hey reached the scene of conflagration. Chief Hendrick, who balanced himself on a hose cart, was obliged to get off and walk, in tself. He was on hand in time, however, and on reaching the burning building, which proved to be the paper cartridge shell shop near the Northampton Railroad company's track, soon had a stream of water on the burning building, which was effectual so far as it intercepted the spread of the flames. When the hook and ladder company reached the scene they were directed to pull down a shed that connected the burning building with an adjacent barn, and this they did in "double quick" time. Then the chief directed his attention to another wood building in close proximity to the fire, which was kept wet by the single stream and thereby saved The funeral of the late Dr. J. H. Robinfrom burning. The water, which was brought from a long distance, was not sufficient, however, to save the main building and t was entirely destroyed, together with con-iderable machinery, a quantity of stock, engine, boiler, &c. From information gained from Mr. Howard, the senior member of the firm, it was learned that there was a fire under the engine, but that it was "banked." The fire originated in the southwest corner of the building, directly over the boiler, and al- funeral will be attended by representatives of though there was a coating of brick and cement around the boiler, it would appear that | ton Council and other organizations, and by t either ignited from the boiler fire or was the effect of spontaneous combustion. Mr. Howard'said he was in bed and asleep when a oung man stopped at his house on Brewster treet and inquired if anyone was in the shop. He replied that there was not. Then, said It is a febrifuge (used in fevers) and is a the young man, your shop is on fire. As quick as possible he was at the spot and found the statement to be true. Mr. Howard estimates his loss on stock, building and machinery, which was a total loss, at $8,000, on which there was an insurance of $5,000 in the office of Gardner Morse. He said that a short time ago he was offered $4,000 cash for a half interest in the business. South Carolina. Arthur D. Osborne, Esq., clerk of the Su-

Prof. Geo. W. Foster, former secretary of the Yale Business college in this city, was married recently in Denver, Col. The Great West, a paper published at Denver, has the following: The wedding of Prof. Geo. W. Foster and Mrs. Lizzie E. Fiske occurred at the Lawrence street M. E. church on the 22d inst at 6.30 p. m. Many friends of both arties assembled to witness the ceremony performed by the Rev. D. H. Moore, D. D. The bride was attired in a brown traveling suit and the groom in the usual black. They were attended by Miss Butler, a sister of the bride, and by Prof. Cady, a partner of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Foster left on the evening train for the East, and will make their home in Stamford, Conn., where Mr. Foster will establish a business college upon the same principles governing the Colorado Business college of Denver. A large number of friends regret their removal from Denver, and will wish them a bright and prosperous Foster will establish a business col

At the temperance meeting last evening four sailors signed the pledge in response to a rousing appeal from Mr. Thrasher. A temperance meeting is held every Sunday evening at the Bethel, at which all are welcome and invited. Every Thursday night a prayer meeting is held. At the George street M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. W. R. Webster, preached a fine scourse last evening, basing his remarks on St. Luke, 13th chapter, and 23d and 24th verses : "Then said one unto Him, Lord are there few that be saved? And He said unto them, strive to enter in at the gate, for many will seek to enter in and shall not be able." The speaker drew a vivid picture of the utterly helpless condition of man without divine aid and the absoclute necessity of cooperating with God in order to obtain salvaion and reach heaven at last. Work was essential. All must strive earnestly, faithfully and continuously, this and nothing less will avail. After the sermon a prayer meeting was held. The extra revival meetings will

"The Inauguration"

Of New Spring Styles for 1881, at the Popular and Attractive Establishment of

Will be an event of the greatest interest to the inhabitants of Connecticut, particularly ladies who appreciate

Rare and Desirable Novelties,

Of which we have this season imported very largely from various marts of the Old World.

We will on Monday, March 7th, display the most SU-PERB, BRILLIANT, NOVEL and ATTRACTIVE Assortments of Silks, Satins, Velvets and Brocade Dress Goods, in splendid colors, elegant new shades and ORIGINAL DESIGNS.

We have the pleasure to announce that we will offer many entirely new fabrics in Dress Materials which have never appeared in this market before, such as Bayonaise Cloth, Transvaal Cashmere and Delaines, Hong Kong Tissue, Lorraine and Fontainbleau Plaids, together with many Novelties for Mourning in entirely new textures, and considered the most desirable goods that can be procured.

In order to place before our patrons the most choice assortments for their selection in our different departments, we have secured through our agents abroad the leading Novelties for the coming season in Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Fringes, Buttons, Passementeries. Novelties in Cloaks, Suits, Dolmans, Ulsters, Havelocks, Gents' Gloves, Gents' Neckwear, Ladies' Gloves, Ladies' Hosiery, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Spring Skirts, &c., &c., which we shall offer at extremely Low Prices.

DR. S. W. FISKE, Where he can be consulted regularly every month from the merning of the 10th until the 20th at 3 p. m.

All who need any counsel or treatment are invited to call. The Doctor has the gift to describe every pain and secret disease at sight, and with his vegetable medicines and healing power combined is enabled to cure all kinds of diseases in a short time. The Doctor has had thirty years' experience has a healer and physician, as thousands can testify to the many satonishing cures he has performed. He makes speedy and rapid cures in nearly every case he undertakes. All curable cases must yield to his mode of treatment. The success of the Doctor astonishes the most distinguished physicians. He curse when all other treatments fall, and the patient is restored to perfect health. The Doctor was born with natural healing and curative power. His magnetic passes give power and strength to the diseased organs, and with the immense numbers that fock to his rooms, scarcely one goes away who does not receive benefit. His prices for treatment and medicine are so reasonable that rich and poor alike can be restored to health.

President Garfield with their counsel and with their support in both houses. They not only believe in the policy he has indicated, he would probably send to the Senate about three o'clock a list of nominations comprising these of his Cabinet. In making the announcement the President spoke very feelingly, assuring the gentlemen present that it caused him sincere regret to part with their valuable services. Referring to their respective resignations—which have all been tendered—the President hoped that each one would al departments in a general way. The only matter of importance which was brought to matter of importance which was brought to the attention of the meeting was presented by Acting Secretary French, being the re-quest of the national banks recently received at the Treasury department that they may be allowed to redeposit the bonds withdrawn and take out of the Treasury the legal tenders deposited for the retirement of the circula-tion. The subject was discussed to some ex-tent without conclusion.

An attempt will be made by the committee appointed by the Democratic caucus yester-The object of the committee will be to fill the places formerly occupied by outgoing Senators with new members of the body. As there is a large increase in the number of Republican Senators their representation upcreased. Rates of about 5 to 4 will be endeavored to be maintained. It is on the books to make Judge Davis, of Illinois, chairman of the Judiciary committee, the post formerly occupied by ex-Senator Thurman. Senator Bayard, of Delaware, is next in order for promotion, but he thinks Senator Davis, who, while preserving his independence, has generally acted with the Democrats, should have it. Bayard is chairman of the Finance committee. Garland, of Arkansas is next in the line of promotion afkansas, is next in the line of promotion af-ter Bayard on the Judiciary committee, and ter Bayard on the Judiciary committee, and thinks he should be made chairman if Bayard steps out of the way. According to the rules which have invariably guided the Senate in such matters, Garland's claim is considered as good, but as a question of policy a majority of the Democrats believe that Judge Davis should be given the place.

There is a controversy for two places on the Finance committee, made vacant by the expiration of the terms of Kernan and Wallace. The latter has heretofore held the balance of power in the committee between the free trade tendencies of the majority and the protectionist belief of the minority. It was impossible for any movement in the direction of open free trade to be made while Wallace was there. It is suggested that McPherson, of New Jersey, who is an experienced business man and a sound financier, should be given a place on this committee. The general opinion prevails among the Republican Senators that the Democrats will hasten the reorganization of the committees and get away organization of the committees and get away as soon as possible. By delaying until March 18th they lose their majority. The Democratic Senators are reserved on this subject. Outside opinion limits the session to a week.

The immense crowd of people, who this morning were attracted by curiosity rather than devout spirit to the Vermont avenue Christian church, were not disappointed. At first, however, it seemed certain that their attendance was in vain. The hour of 10 had come and throngs of people had not only filled the church, but extended outside into the street and then down to the corner. move away, and those in the edince were wishing that they were outside, when a carriage drove quickly up the street. It contained the President, his wife and mother and Mrs. Rockwell, his sister in-law. The services had begun when the party made their way through the crowd up the steps to the church and took seats in the steps to the church and took seats in their regular pew, which is situated near the pulpit. Their passage up the aisle naturally attracted universal attention, but on the whole there was little disturbance. "I guess the President overslept himself this morning," said a lady near, the reporter, 'just like anybody else." Little or no interruption to the opening services was occasioded, and when these were concluded Chaplain Mullins, U. S. A., preached from the third verse of Jude, his theme being the faith of the Disciples. The President proved an attentive listener to the sermon, which contained no allusion to the inauguration or new administration. City-Only a Few Cases. Meriden is considerably worked up over the smallpox. It is the overshadowing topic, and of course everybody is anxious to some extent. The number of cases is very few, only about half a dozen in all. Three hundred and fifty out of 700 children attending the Corner school were kept at home Friday, and this shows the feeling among parents. The physicians all say that there is no ground for a panic, that the excitement is without adequate cause, but of course people are afraid of smallpox, and many people in Meriden are afraid to go out of doors. The logers boarding house, where Henry Rogers, jr., is quarantined, being sick with the disse, is occupied also by Mrs. George W. Rogers, Mrs. T. T. Mansfield, Ida Bartram, Mary Powers, Frank Pierpont, James Turner William Hale, David McGrath, William Williams and Frank Spaulding. The house is a two-story wooden one, and Mr. Rogers and his nurse are kept up stairs, the others on the first floor. Three special policemen guard the place day and night. The inmates of the house feel quite rebellious against the town William Hale, David McGrath, William Wilhouse feel quite rebellious against the town authorities because for two days neither the city or town sent a physician to see them. After much urging they got a nurse for them. They all got vaccinated and are having a y as Mr. Rogers seems to be getting along. They had a tin peddler from Waterbury mong them, and he "skipped," "ran the uard" and got away.

Here in New Haven the vaccinating business has taken a new start, and many are onesing and fondling sore arms or wondering whether "it's going to take," A number of cominent gentlemen, while having a leasant chat together after transacting their business, talked of the idea of again having a general vaccinating f public school children in this city, like hat was done six or seven years ago. Then host of children were vaccinated at the public expense, and though there was some opposition to it at first and some suffering, ne general opinion now is that it was a good hing, as the city has been remarkably free from smallpox ever since. The gentlemen all coincided with this view and they thought t would be a good thing to marshal the roung folks, in battle array again at the schools and have them "present arms" to be vaccinated, as was done at that great "vaccination time." The children didn't exactly 'cry for it," but they submitted to it with a omical grace, and some seemed to enjoy it Freight Train-Cars Piled Up-Both Giving Away a Fortune. In an interview given a representative o the New York Sun, Mr. Geo. I. Seney, president of the Metropolitan bank of New York, who has already given away a half a million dollars for good objects, including a large gift to Wesleyan University at Middletown said that he preferred giving away money in his life time because it was a source of pleasure and because so frequently wills are set aside or the purposes of the donor defeated through some unforeseen difficulty.

"Have you found that these gifts lead to appeals to your generosity for other purposes?"

"Others?" Mr. Seney said, "why, applications come to me by the hundred—yes, by the thousand. My life has almost been made a perfect misery to me since the newspapers began to talk about these gifts. Hordes of applicants besiege me, and one unfortunate lunatic has been so persistent and violent that I was obliged to have him arrested. The poor fellow then made an attempt on his own life. Of course it would be impracticable for me to adopt any practice of indiscriminate giving."

"Is there no general principle on which you have made these gifts, which, if published, would tend to reduce the number of ap-you have made these gifts, which, if published, would tend to reduce the number of applicants?"

"Well, I should be almost willing to promise to give another great donation if some one would relieve me of these persistent beggars." Mr. Seney said, laughing, "I may say, however, that nearly all that I have given has been unsolicited, and without any idea on the part of the recipients that they were to get it. There is no end of suggestions that come to me from those who think that they know better than I do myself what objects I should select for my gifts. I wish all these people who are sending begging letters to me every day could know that about all my gifts have been unsolicited. Possibly there may have been one exception in the case of the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium. That was a small affair of $1,500, however. They showed me what they had done, and I said I would give them a check."

"About your gift of $27,000 to Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., Mr. Seney. Is that college your alma mater?"

"Not exactly, as I was not graduated there, but I used to be a student there, and I know what a bother they had to make both ends meet by going down into their pockets every year. I was afraid they would come to grief, and wind up some day for want of funds. So I thought I would just give them enough money to make them easy. They can now be sure of a certain income, that will place their permanence beyond question. I did that for love of the old college; and to make sure they would get it, I gave the money in my lifetime. So many of these gifts never get to their destination after a man dies."

"And the gift to the new hospital in Brooklyn to establish some institutions that shall be as creditable to her as are those of New York. To be sure, we have an Acad.

New York. To be sure, we have an Academy of Music that is, perhaps, as well suited to its purpose as the New York Academy. Artists say the acoustic qualities are better. We have some fine churches and celebrated ministers. We have a fine building occupied by the Historical society. But we are really in need of large institutions, such as the great hospitals of New York. I want to see Brooklyn come forward in this matter. I give to the hospital sixteen lots of ground in Seventh avenue, running from Union to President streets. These lots are worth $40,000. Then I give in cash $200,000. This will make it possible to start the hospital at once.

Tyler, same, discharged; Charles A. Ryan, breach of peace and resistance to officer, judgment suspended; Patrick Gorman, neglecting to support his family, to March 12; Frank Root, breach of peace against Thomas Halloran, judgment suspended.

Probate Court Notes. On Saturday, before Judge York, there was a hearing on objections made by some of the heirs of the late Joseph Fairchild to the probate of his will. It is set up that at the time the will was made the deceased was not in that condition of health to give expression to his real intent.
