We have doubled the capacity of our Store for a purpose.

During the past two years makers of Boots and Shoes have so improved the style and quality of medium and low-priced work that it is possible to fit intelligent and particular people at half the cost necessary six years ago. needed room to sell "the million" and have got it.

The Feature of Our New Business will be large Job Lots bought for cash, well selected, and sold at a small advance from cost. We do not go to manufacturers of cheap shoes for these goods; they are almost invariably job lots from reputable makers, and through them we intend to make our store known throughout the State as "the Shoe Store of Connecticut." Our enlargement is inaugurated by a Special Sale of 2,000 pairs, to which we call attention through the local notice column of this paper.

N. B.-This change will not interferfere in the least with our Fine Trade-goods of our own make-or that we control. We shall do more than ever in Fine Shoes, but we notice our most valued customers are not adverse to a low-priced shoe for their own or children's wear, if it has fit and merit. Just this we intend to give.

It is our intention to MAKE GARMENTS TO ORDER precisely as desired by purchasers, at as LOW a price as the same quality of material, trimmings and workmanship can be produced in READY-MADE CLOTHING, and, as one of the largest manufacturers of Clothing in New England, we do not hesitate to say that owing to the fact that there are no two men of exactly the same proportions, it is impossible to produce READY-MADE CLOTHING that will fit properly more than one man out of one hundred. This being the fact, we propose in the future to make this, THE CUSTOM BRA CH of our business, the leading feature for all will acknowledge that a well-fitting suit of clothes, cut from even an inferior cloth, as far preferable to a poor-fitting, awkward-looking garment cut from fine fabric.

We shall make Suits from $12 upwards, Pantaloons from $3.50 upwards, Spring Overcoats from $9 upwards. Good-fitting, well-made and well-trimmed garments guaranteed. Square-dealing is the leading char-

St. Augustine, Florida-Its Streets, Hotels and Other Points of Interest Or ange Growing-Jacksonville and Fer-

The Florida House, at St. Augustine, kept by Harvey Reamer, a well-known Connecti cut man, had one room vacant, and that good one, and it was allotted to the weary after a sail on the St. John's of two hours, and a ride on the railroad of fourteen miles, at fourteen cents a mile, through the wilds of Florida. A rest and a good dinner prepared the minds for a carriage ride to view the wonders of the city. First, most of the streets are about sixteen feet wide. The Florida House fronts on two of them. The Magnolia House, nearly opposite, is on a street of equal width. Each can accommodate from one to two hundred greets. late from one to two hundred guests. The St. Augustine fronts on the plaza, a square of about two acres. In the plaza is an old Spanish monument and the old market, as well as a monument to confederate soldiers. well as a monument to confederate soldiers. The gates to me are novel. One cannot go in and out without opening or shutting. If left open nothing can get in without shutting, and vice versa. The St. Augustine Hotel is situated with its long, broad galleries overlooking the harbor, the beach and the ocean. The old Spanish fort is within a very short distance. The sea wall, of perhaps a mile or so, is a frequented resort. Boarding houses are all over the city. Very many people spend the winter in them and the hotels. The houses are mostly very quaint, the galleries projecting over the walks, and in one instance low enough to come in contact with our carriage top. A number of handsome modern houses have been erected and are occupied by New Yorkers for winter resorts. occupied by New Yorkers for winter resorts. Flowers in full bloom are showing themselves, although the past winter has been disastrous to their life. The weather to-day is such that fires are made on the lower floor, while we up stairs are writing and lounging with windows wide open.

The most elegant place in the city is owned and occupied by a widow. It was the home of a resident who died of grief for his wife, who offered herself a ransom in a prison while he could transact business. She died, while he could transact business. She died, and he grieved and died. By his will the property was to be sold for the benefit of colored people of St. John's county, reserv-ing a corner lot for the use of one slave. He is believed to be 113 years old. I saw him walking with a cane and heard him speak in as strong a voice as my own. Being a little doubtful the driver informed me that his grandmother lived to 108 years of age. The present owner of the place has made every effort to purchase the lot of the negro, but he will not part with it. "Massa Smith." he will not part with it. "Massa Smith built me the cottage and gave it to me. I want to die in it." The old Spanish cathe-dral is yet unoccupied. It is said St. Augus-tine preached the first sermon preached in in the city in it, 315 years ago. Remains of the old Spanish walls and gates and the winds are to a sailing vessel steam is to a and in Colorado and New Mexico, where an the old spanish wails and gates and the breastworks are yet to be seen. The city on the whole reminds me somewhat of Quebec, but more especially of San Antonio, Texas. The stores are filled with Florida curiosities and relies; photographs of ruins, the forts, the sea wall, the cathedral, palmetto and date trees, etc. A view from the top of the highest building discloses a full view of the ocean, from whence at this moment the wind is in high glee. The climate is splendid undoubtedly; and this city, if of easy access a easonable rates over good railroads, would reasonable rates over good railroads, would become a more popular winter resort. The entire system of southern railroads is being renovated, and will in time reach Florida, and when this is done Florida will become a avorite. Orange groves are being planted that the price will keep up for a long time. One gentleman from New York State whom we met is now on the way to the further part of Florida with his wire, intending to locate, plant and wait. There is no more doubt of the income in time from a well attended, well located orange grove than from a sheep or cattle ranche. Either, how-ever, does better where necessity compels the man to attend to business himself. Patience, capital and diligence are necessary to insure success in anything. Most of those who have succeeded are those who came for a change of climate, or on account of health. Others have not the courage to endure the mouth of the St. John's river, are interesting cities. Each has its good hotels for winter watering places. It was a few years ago the general remark that nothing good to eat could be found in Florida; but now I will make one quotation from a stranger who was seated at a Palatka table. Said he: "This is better than the New Haven House!"

> Florida is a peculiar country. The old buildings of St. Augustine are made of shell rock, quarried opposite the city from the beach. The old cathedral is of such. You rock, quarried opposite the city from the beach. The old cathedral is of such. You can pick out the innumerable shells from the old walls all over the city, compressed by ages, cemented by the surf of myriads of years into stone, which when fastened becomes exceedingly durable, as evinced by the many old walls, the old Spanish fort, the 315 years' old cathedral, and the monuments in the plaza nearly 100 years old.

What higher compliment can be paid to a hotel? Jacksonville has four first-class hotels, holding each from 100 to 300 guests, and there are good boarding houses in every part of the city. At present they are full. The steamers on the St. John's river can be well spoken of in all respects. On the Ocklawa-ha river they are small, but are always filled because of the great interest kept up by the beautiful wildness of the route. The climate beautiful wildness of the route. The climate is so lovely that the March winds are forgot-

About everything eaten here, except fruit and fish, comes from New York—the potatoes, the beef, the flour, etc. Shad are aught and packed in ice by the thousand for the North. They are generally small in size. It is not every place in Florida that can raise fruit. The low lands cannot produce it, and a great deal is low. Scrub palms by the milion can be seen in every place. Pine forests ion can be seen in every place. Pine forests are so far from navigation that they do not always pay to cut. Large tracts of pines are being burnt for clearing lands, and a splendid sight are the fires at night. "Green Cove Springs," "Orange Park" and a host of other places are springing up like magic. "Mandarin," Mrs. Stowe's place, is in sight of all the 600,000 Pins Per Year.

The pins ured in the United States are made by fourteen factories, somewhat scattered as to locality but chiefly in New England. Their annual production for several years past has been about 7,000,000,000 pins. This number has not varied much for some years, the demand being about the same. A few of these 7,000,000,000 are swallowed by children these 7,000,000,000 are swallowed by children a number are bent up in school and placed in vacant and inviting chairs, and some millions get into the cracks of floors, and the rest for the most part are scattered along the byways and highways where they have been dropped from dresses and been left to work their way into the earth. Two years ago the competition among the nine principal com-panies then existing for the manufacture of panies then existing for the manufacture of toilet pins led to such cutting of prices that the business became unprofitable, and the market was flooded with goods. Dealers who were shrewd laid in stock, and families even bought in wholesale quantities for future needs. A year ago a combination was formed of three wire companies, and now all of the needs. A year ago a combination was formed of three wire companies, and now all of the pins made by them are shipped to New York, and handled by the head agency in that city. From their common warehouse they are sent to every part of the country in quantities varying according to the female population. The importation of English pins is small, and the exportation of pins from the United States is confined to Guba, South America and parts of Canada, where, however, but few pins are sent. It is expected that all the members of the church and congregation will be present, and a very inter ting occasion is anticipated.

Railroad Men's Meeting. The railroad men's meeting in the hall Woolsey block, Meadow street, last night was largely attended, and many participated. The railroad quartette sang. The hall i graced by a large and fine office clock, which the railroad men have received as a gift from the New Haven Clock company through Messrs. Hiram Camp and Edward Stevens, and which is a fine addition to the room.

On Saturday forenoon the jury of inque in the case of Patrick McGlynn, who was killed near the Water street crossing or Thursday evening, met at Coroner Bollman's office. The jury was composed of George L Cummins, foreman, L. M. Taylor, Benjamin Ess, James Keegan, Reuben Rice and W. A. Countryman, After hearing all the evidence obtainable the jury returned a verdict that the death of McGlynn was accidental and no blame could be attached to any of the employes of the Air Line railroad.

Senator Joseph W. Alsop has presented the members of the "Century club," of Mid. dletown, a massive gold plated inkstand. It stands on a base in the center of which is a fountain resting on the talons of an eagle, ornamented with lions' heads in relief and supported on each side by a dragon rampant. On the front of the base is a tray, in the center of which in a raised shield are the letters C. C. in monogram. It is a perfect gem. Ac-companying the inkstand is a paper cutter in the form of a dagger, with a highly orna-mented hilt, gorgeous heads and other an-tique figures. It is a costly present.

Mr. George Smith, one of the horse railroad employes, shows a scar on the side of his neck which was the result of a rather peculiar accident. Some days ago he placed an nkstand of red ink near the stove to thaw out, and after the heat acted upon it there was an explosion almost as loud as the crack was an explosion almost as found as the crack of a pistol, and a piece of the glass struck him in the neck, cutting an ugly gash, which caused the blood to flew freely. At first he thought he was shot, and those who saw him immediately after were sickened at the sight of so much gore, but they felt easier when it was known that a portion of it was red ink.—Hartford Times.

Twenty-six houses, superior in construction and renting at from $300 to $400 each at present prices have been erected in the past six years on York street, between Crown and George, and in the immediate vicinity. They are as follows: One block of three houses by Wm. A. Beers, one of two houses by Mr. Wm. Gay, a block of two by Mr. Hoggson, a single house by the late Mr. Pinney, the builder, another by R. G. Russell, the architect another by Mr. Osterweis, the cigar manufacturer, a block of two by Mr. R. G. Russell, then the Gilbert block on the corner of York and Crown streets of seven houses, then the block recently completed by Mr. Charles Dickerman, (who is soon to return from a trip to Europe,) which is on George street, opposite Webster school, and comprises five houses; also one fronting on York street by the same. The Pinney house probably cost about $18,000. It was bought by Mr. Rogowski for $11,000 or $12,000. Also Major Bissell has added to and improved his esidence, which is in the immediate vicinity. In all considerably over $100,000 has been spent in this locality in the erection of desirable and attractive residences.

The Smallpox. Louisa Bolduc. Matthew's brother died of the same disease two weeks ago. Matthew was about nineteen years old and a steady youth. Louisa had been sick two weeks. She washed the clothes of a child who died of smallpox. Her sister, who is sick with the disease, is improving.

The Harvard club having represented to Yale that their quarters here were not fit for the purpose, Mr. Bigelow came on to make a personal examination. He paid a visit yesterday to the old quarters of Harvard as well as to those of Rale at Gale's ferry and returned to New Haven at 4 o'clock. Harvard is dissatisfied with her quarters this year, but it should be remembered that in 1878 her captain came here two weeks before Yale came and selected quarters, having first choice, and for two years everything was satisfactory, but last year the opinion changed. A Fine Addition to the Sound Steambon The large new iron steamer built for the Norwich line by the Harlan & Hollingsworth ompany, of Wilmington, Del., was success fully launched from their yard at 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon. Captain S. A. An immense concourse of people from all the surrounding country were present. Not an accident occurred. The City of Worcester will at once receive her machinery and joiner work, and be placed upon the line by the first of next June. She is destined to be the staunchest, safest, and most beautiful boat that crosses Long Island Sound.

The Wicked After Death.

M. B. Houghton at the Church of the Messiah-Fine Singing by the Choir. Last evening Rev. M. H. Houghton deivered the fourth in his course of lectures regarding the future punishment of the wicked. His subject last evening was "The chapter and 19th verse—"If in this life only assist. ye have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable." In his opening remarks the peaker said that his present lecture would efer to the state of the wicked after death. The claim is put forth, said the preacher, by Scriptures teach endless misery after death, and I am here to give you the doctrine of this denomination in regard to the matter. I shall enter into the subject somewhat carefully this evening, and before passing to it I Opera House on next Friday evening in the want to stop on the threshold and inquire if there is any ground for the teachings in many of the churches at present. The question arises in this connection as to who are the wicked. One theory is that there are many who are holy that will go on from step to step until they reach the topmost round of the ladder in glory, while there is another class of men and women counted by millions and billions that will go down, down, down to the lowest depths of hell. Now I propose to talk a little common sense to-night, although I have plenty of scripture to support my theory, which I will do in future lectures f need be. Now is it true, as the doctrine of orthodoxy teaches, that the largest majority of men and women this world are to be lost? make men purer and better. I think that the future world is much more beautiful than this, yet we cannot tell how much the conscience will be called upon to suffer for sin in the great beyond. When we come down to a level plane and try to be good, every soul will work out this problem for itself. We shall find at last that Christianity comes not to judge, but to be judged, and we should eventually turn to it is in the days that are to come I believe religion will teach this doctrine. and the women desired to withdraw the complaint, but the police officers would not per mit it.

Some young thieves broke into a car yesterday that was standing on a spur track on Railroad avenue and which was loaded with apples. They filled their pockets with the fruit and then departed. At last accounts they had not been caught.

William Early, who was arrested sometime since for stealing a lap robe, was again arrested last night for stealing a carriage worth $300 from a livery stable on Fair street near Union. Early was discharged from this stable, where he had been employed, on Saturday, and late at night he stole the carriage.

Roundsman Smith and Officer Ahern tracked the carriage to Hill street through the snow, where they found it, and then tracked Early to his home. His shoe fitted the tracks to Possible 10 to 10 t

Government Officially Notified-Telegrams of Condolence.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Early this afternoon considerable excitement was over a rumor that the Emperor of Russia and been assassinated. The first news of the terrible disaster was received by Secretary Blaine and immediately communicated to resident Garfield and the foreign ministers At a later hour the Russian and other foreign ninisters were officially notified by their wn governments. The most profound sorrow is expressed among the foreign ministers in Washington, and also by the members of our own government, from the President lown. At 12:14 p. m. the first news of the lisaster received was as follows:

Sr. Petersburg, March 13.

At 6 p. m. the following cablegram was re-

To Mr. Blaine, Secretary, Washington:
The Emperor of Russia was assassinated this afternoon.

[Signed] White,
Minister to Beriin. Sir Edward Thornton, the British minister was the first to call and personally express to the Russian minister his sorrow on account of the blow sustained by Russia. He stated this evening that he considered the disaster a great misfortune, especially in its general effect. It is understood that the Russian minister has telegraphed to New York for a priest of the Greek Church and will have memorial services at his residence in this was assassinated this (Sunday) afternoon While the Emperor's carriage was proceeding to the Winter Palace, and when within a short distance of it, a bomb was flung into his carriage and instantly a tremendous explosion followed, completely shattering the carriage and causing the wildest confusion. So great was the concussion that the mountd Circassians who were escorting the Emperor were hurled to the ground, as were also while people walking in the vicinity were knocked off their feet. The windows in houses for the distance of three hundred yards were shattered, so great was the force of the explosion. During the excitement which was intense, the Czar and Grand Duke Michael, who accompanied him, were seen escaping through the smoke, when a second bomb fell, exploding close beside them, proving almost instantly fatal. The Emperor's leg was torn clean from his body, while he received other serious injuries. The Circastance was a making to his assistance. received other serious injuries. The Circa sians who were rushing to his assistan sians who were rushing to his assistance when they saw him escaping from the carriage were instantly killed, as were several others near by. Grand Duke Michael was seriously wounded by both explosions. The Czar was immediately taken to Winter Palace, but all medical efforts to revive him proved useless, and he died at half-past three o'clock. Two men supposed to be the assassins have been secured by the police. Intense excitement prevails among the people.

Crowds throng about the Winter Palace and the streets are impassable, and it is only extreme military precautions that prevent riots taking place. Telegrams have been sent to all the foreign courts and to the governors of towns and other places of the sad event. The assassins had one hundred bombs concealed at points along the route that the Emperor's carriage passed to the Winter Palace. The shells were filled with nitro-glycerine. The only word which passed the Emperor's lips while he was dying was "Czarewitch."

A dispatch from Berlin says the news of the Emperor's death caused great consternation, and Emperor William was awfully grieved, and requested that its most minute details be made known to him. He also telegraphed his heartfelt sorrow with the impe-

She was carried back to her house utterly prostrated with pain and fright, and it was ten minutes before she began to recover from the shock. Her husband, Benjamin Dutton stood by a lounge on which she was lying and though he was asked for an explanation failed to make any. In the meantime police officers arrived, and when the woman saw them she pointed to her husband and demanded his arrest. She said that he had quarreled with her only a few hours before, and before retiring had threatened to kill her. He went up stairs to sleep and she stretched so frightened was she by the threats of her husband, and she asserts that she had hardly fallen into a light slumber when she awoke to find her husband pouring coal oil over her clothing. Before she could move he set fire to the saturated fabric and then threw the lamp into the street. This part of the woman's story was verified by finding the lamp in the street shattered into pieces. Dutton claimed that his wife wen't to sleep with a lighted coal oil lamp on a chair by the lounge and that in her sleep she threw out her arms and caused the lamp to explode. He furthermore stated that he did what he could to extinguish the flames and to seve his wife's life.

Sr. Louis, March 13.-James Howard, the largest steamboat on the Mississippi river, immediately after its arrival heavily loaded with freight from New Orleans, caught fire and was burned at the foot of Market street at 10:30 this evening. The flames consumed the boat and all the freight. The loss is very heavy. A barge it had in tow while burning became detached from its moorings and became detached from its moorings and flusted down the river, creating a great panic among steamboat men, many of whom commenced to unload. The excitement on the levee was very great. It is not known how the fire originated. The freight and boat are well insured.

WAREFIELD, March 13 .- About 1 o'clock esterday morning fire broke out in what is known as the new chair room of the Wakefield Rattan works, and soon spread to the large four story building used as a basket and large four story building used as a basic and chair room, which was quickly destroyed. The flames spread with great rapidity, and nine buildings, eight storehouses and one small dwelling house, with their contents, were destroyed. Nearly one thousand employes will be thrown out of work. The total loss is $500,000. The insurance amounts to $334,000. The fire originated from spontaneous combustion.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.

Any Fool Can Destroy-Only the Man with Valuable Material Can Save-Reader, Take Warning Before it is Too Late.

The summer of 1880 contributed largely to the records of disaster and death. Stupidity, ignorance an ness can take life; any fool can destroy. But the ability to restore, to crush disease, to make life worth having, is the joint product of nature and education. For this reason Dr. David Kennedy, of Ron-dout, N. Y., has cause to be both proud and thankful that his name is gratefully mentioned by so many whom he has healed or helped. "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" has become a household world. Everybody oner or later, gets sick, and sickness is both wearisome and costly. "Favorite Remedy' steps in at this point. It is not expensive and it is efficient. For all diseases of the Blood, Billous Disorders, Kidney Complaint, Constipation, and the ches and ills which make the domestic life of womer a cross so hard to bear, "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy uss been successfully used by thousands. It will build up a system which has been run down by over-work. It is the thing for the student and literary every mechanic. "Favorite Remedy" is economical, safe and pleasant. Buy it and try it; or, if you need advice as well, write to Dr. Kennedy, who is in active practice as a surgeon and physician at Rondout, N. Y.

Supreme Court Decision The Clerk of the Supreme Court received the following decision on Saturday. In the case of Julia P. B. Bassett et. al. vs. Robert B. Bradley, the court finds no error in judgment complained of. New trial not advised.
Reasons by Judge Carpenter. The case, which was to recover $4,000 on a mortgage note, was tried before Judge Beardsley at the September, 1879, term of the court, when judgment was rendered for the plaintiff to recover $3,213.50 damages and costs. A motion for a new trial was made and allowed with a stay of execution, and the case went to the Supreme Court of Exrors for its advice and counsel on questions of law arising. vice and counsel on questions of law arising thereon. Alling & Hubbard and W. C. Robinson for plaintiffs; J. S. Beach and I. K. Beach for defendants.

City Court-Criminal Side-Judge Pardee. In this court on Saturday the following business was disposed of: James Grimes, Michael Welch and Richard Gorman, breach of Sunday law, each $40 and $7.38 costs; Daniel Rowe, breach of license law, $50 fine so years of his new medicine called "Favorite Remedy." In this court on Saturday the following and $22.94 costs: Michael McMahon, breach of license law, judgment suspended; James Conboy, same offense, $7 and $7.77 costs Conboy, same offense, $7 and $7.77 costs;
Peter Cashion, breach of license law $7 fine and $8.77 costs; Joachim Stark and Christian Glock, keeping house of ill-fame, bond forfeited; Henry Thompson, visiting house of ill-fame, judgment suspended; Dennis Grady and John Ahern, truancy, nolle; Patrick Gorman, neglect of family, nolle; Edward Cummings, breach of peace, judgment suspended; James Donahoe, breach of the peace, 5 days in jail and $6.93 costs.

City Court Notes. A number of cases which have been on the Agency 289 State street. docket for some time were disposed of on Saturday, in view of the changes in City Court judges which will take place next Wednesday. James Grimes was fined $40 and $7.38 costs, and Michael Welch and Richard Gorman each suffered similar penalties for violation of the Sunday liquor law.

All these judgments were appealed from to the next term of the Superior Court, bonds of $200 being required in each case. Daniel Rowe, of Fair Haven, charged with selling without a license, was fined $50, and his costs amounted to $22.94. Michael Mc-Mahon (one of Prosecuting Officer Dailey's his costs amounted to $22,94. Michael McMahon (one of Prosecuting Officer Dailey's cases) had judgment suspended, he having been charged with a violation of the license law. James Comboy for a similar offense was fined $7 and his costs were $7.38. He took an appeal, as did Peter Cashion, similarly fined for the same kind of breach of law.

Josephin Stark and Christian Glock wafer Joachim Stark and Christian Glock, under bonds for a hearing on the charge of keeping a house of ill-fame, did not appear. Attor-ney Pickett said they had run away. Their bonds were called and forfeited, and it is said

A suit was brought in the Rhode Island Supreme Court in 1875 to set aside the title of the New York and New England railroad to the old Hartford, Providence and Fishkill railroad, under a sale made in 1863. The ase was argued last summer by Abraham Payne and John F. Tobey, of Providence, for the complainants, and William P. Sheffield of Newport, and Simeon E. Baldwin of New Haven, for the defendants, and on Saturday the opinion was handed down, dismissing the suit and affirming the title of the New York and New England road. A similar suit was brought in this State in 1878, but was withdrawn by the plaintiffs before trial.

Teachers in Council. The New Haven Teachers' association held nother meeting Saturday afternoon. L. L. Camp of Dwight and Miss Mallory of Skinner were elected members of the executive ommittee. The "methods of teaching in the primary schools" was illustrated with a class from Miss Phelps' room of the West street school, the exhibition being very satisfactory. Superintendent Parish addressed the association and urged the advantages of the dictionary being used more by teachers. He also drew comparisons between the advantages the children of well-to-do parents had over the children of poor people, and urged that the knowledge of each child should be considered by the teacher. Secretary Northrop, of the State Board of Education, next spoke. He favored the free use of the dictionary and approved of object teaching. He advised that the older scholars should be taught to describe natural scenery, pictures, etc., and referred to the advantage that the vicinity of New Haven afforded fo out-door descriptions, especially of East Rock, the top of which afforded one of the grandest panoramic views in the country.

A frequent visits to the Fatent Office has given him a familiarity with every department of, and mode of proceeding at, the Patent Office, which, together with the fact that he now visits Washington semimonthly to give his personal attention to the interests of his clients, warrants him in the assertion that no office in the country is able to offer the same facilities to Inventors in securing their inventions by Letters Patent—and particularly to those whose applications have been rejected—an examination of which he will

All who need any counsel or treatment are invited to call. The Doctor has the gift to describe every pain and secret disease at sight, and with his vegetable medicine such healing power combined is enabled to cure all kinds of diseases in a short time. The Doctor has had thirty years' experience as a healer and physician, as thousands can testify to the many astonishing cures he has performed. He makes speedy and rapid cures in nearly every case he undertakes. All curable cases must yield to his mode of treatment. The success of the Doctor satonishes the most distinguished physicians. He cures when all other treatment fail, and the patient is restored to perfect health. The Doctor was born with natural healing and curative power. His magnetic passes give power and strength to the diseased organs, and with the lumense numbers that flock to his rooms, scarcely one goes away who does not receive benefit. His prices for treatment and medicine are so reasonable that rich and poor alike can be restored to health.
