Wooster Square Baptist church last evening when the pastor, Rev. Dr. Stiffer delivered a sermon on Ingersollism. There was a large audience present, which included many from other denominations. About the sacred desk were the flowers and plants, which spoke of the Easter feeling, and which adorned the church at the morning service when the pasor preached a sermon specially to the children of the church, who were gathered together for the occasion. The text last evenng was upon the words in 1st Corinthians, 2d, 14th: "The natural man receiveth not the things of the spirit of God, for they are oolishness unto him; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." He opened by saying that a lunatic once rushed at the main pillar of a church edifice to pull down the church, as he stated. The audience were in consternation until a cool headed man exclaimed, "Let him try it." So when the grass should be green over Ingersoll's forgotten grave the church of God would flourish. Infidelity was as old as the gospel. The speaker referred to the atthe church: of the efforts of Hume and Voltaire, who broke their keen lances against the jasper walls of the church. controverted? Why did not God make the passage clear? The speaker cited the different constructions given to the Constitution as to State rights and the Supreme Court benches whose business it was to make clear the law. Even simple contracts are differently interpreted. He spoke of the different views entertained of Abraham Lincoln at the South and the North to show that the heart must be in securative. to show that the heart must be in sympathy with the Bible to see its scope and drift. But let a man study its pages with his heart inclined to the truth. Jefferson Davis was not worth while to follow Ingersoil's utter-ances in detail. Take a few as a sample.

He says the God of the Bible upholds slave-ry, the killing of women and babes, polyga-my, etc. Now the Bible nowhere upholds ry, the killing of women and babes, polygamy, etc. Now the Bible nowhere upholds slavery nor Solomon's seven hundred wives. Was God to blame for giving a correct history of Bible times? Slavery existed and the Bible records it. Is history to blame for the evils it chronicles? But the Bible condemned slavery. Moses found slavery existing and made laws to regulate, not to sanction it. Should God banish the evil doers? Nay he is long suffering. Do we suppress poly. Nay he is long suffering. Do we suppress polygamy in Utah? No, because of the suffering it would entail to make so many women and children homeless. Christ especially teaches that polygamy is a sin. Ucl. At the Wesley chapel on Davenport avenue Bev. Mr. Goodsell preached his first sermon, basing his remarks on 2nd Corinthians, 3rd chapter, 1st verse. There was no special Easter service at this church. At the Sunday school in the afternoon Mr. Goodsell made a brief address and then proceeded to the West Chapel street M. E. church, where he presched a most acceptable sarroon from Buck, the newly appointed pastor, was present and was greeted by a large audience, the words found in Jeremiah, 1st chapter, 7th verse. He will minister to both of the hurches named, and it is safe to say that the were handsomely decorated with flowers and plants, in front of the pulpit being a very handsome floral cross of bright roses and other flowers. port avenue observed Easter day yesterday in an appropriate manner. An elegant floral pillar, on the top of which was a crown surmounted by a cross, was placed in front of the chancel. Other floral decorations were vice in the morning, and in the afternoon the rector, Rev. Mr. Babcock, preached a sermon appropriate to the day. Special services commemorative of Easter Sunday were held yesterday in all the Catho-ic churches, and at the last mass sermons were preached appropriate to the festival.

The music was generally of a superior order, the choirs having practiced faithfully and incessantly during Lent. At the Church of the Sacred Heart solemn vespers were celebrated

Before the sermon the pastor spoke in present to day unmyriads of burning candles gave out a per-fect blaze of light. The candles were arour Methodist system of itinerancy. When the appointments were read in Conference on form of starred crowns, and underneath the cross that surmounts the tabernacle was another illumination in the form of a crown, charge, I was never more surprised in my life, as I had received no intimation that I crown of eternal triumph and never ending patiently the rigors of the cross. Father Coleman was the celebrant and the choice Goodwin, her voice blending most beautiful in the mass in the morning.

The Easter concert given by the Congregational Sunday school last evening was a very interesting one, and the church was crowded by the parents and friends. The concert was opened by the singing of an anquaintance. Mr. Buck then delivered a very siding at the organ. The pastor made an apropriste prayer followed by reading selec tions from Matthew, 28th chapter, After inging by the choir came responsive readings by the school, under the leadership of festival, the following order being observed: Mr. Edward Reynolds. A class of young ladies trimmed the cross in the same manner. The recitations by the different members of the school were all well rendered. They were given by Masters Ellsworth Nettleton, Charles Burnett, Miss Etta Kittle and several others. The recitation of Miss Alice Ross, a little miss of six years, was well done and elicited much praise. The choir sang several appropriate selecons in a very pleasing manner, and the large audience was well pleased with the services, which reflected much credit upon the teachers for their careful and efficient services. Mr. Gilbert fitted for college at the Hart-ford High school, and graduated from Yale in the class of 1878, bearing with him the uni-versal respect of classmates and teachers. There is the same patient endurance and uncomplaining submission on the part of the sufferer; the same tender care and trembling solicitude on the part of parents and sisters. Beautiful and sweetly Christian were the declining days. He knew whom he trusted, he knew whither he was going; and he went calmly and without fear. A

The Latest Mystery.

A very singular event, which the credulou will doubtless connect with the recent strange occurrences on Ocean avenue, happened Wednesday evening on the premises of Mr Henry Whipple, on Pequot avenue. The night, it will be remembered, was very stormy, and few who had not urgent business ventured out of doors. At 10 o'clock in the ventured out of doors. At 10 o'clock in the evening, as Mr. Whipple was just about retiring, he heard a strange commotion in the barnyard near his house, and going to the door, saw four men moving back and forth about a horse which had evidently just been driven into the yard. He called out to the men to know what they were doing, and without a word of reply all four of them mounted the horse and drove furiously down the road toward the Pequot House. Mr. the road toward the Pequot House. Mr. Whipple was not able in the darkness to identify the men, but the horse, he thinks, was black in color, with a white face. A sequel quite in keeping with this mysterious procedure was the finding by Messrs. Ockford the pavilion which they are building near the lighthouse, a horse answering the description given by Mr. Whipple lying dead on Eliot's beach with a pistol shot through his head. Spooks, highwaymen, maniacs, or whatever it is, the people of the lower part of the town are naturally much excited over the queer doings which are alleged to have happened in their violetre. pened in that vicinity within the past two or three months.—New London Telegram.

Democratic Criticisms. CHANGE IN THE SITUATION

ANOTHER WEEK OF FILIBUSTERING

The Ex-Secretary's Speech a Leading

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL. ling to Break It-Sherman to Reply to Democratic Attacks-Other Matters. Washington, April 17 .- Among the fee ures of debate in the Senate this week is the expected speech of Sherman. The recent remarks of the ex-Secretary have been pulled to pieces and variously commented on by all the speakers on the Democratic side, and upon his return he can scarcely refrain from answering them. No clearer exposition of the Republican policy in the deadlock can be expected than he gave before, but he may enter more fully into the discussion of the issue of a free ballot and fair count and its bearing on the Virginia campaign. The debate is not likely to be interrupted right away by executive sessions, since the Republican caucus is still only a matter of conjecture, and there is some question as to whether the element anxious for confirmation will prove strong enough to bring about the caucus at all. Mr. Brown, of Georgia, stated to-day that the Democrats see no need of a caucus on their side, even if they had to stay here all sumner. He did not know but that now was as good a time as any for the discussion of some ssues. Neither was there any great disadvantage in continuing the session as a question of inconvenience to the Senstors. There stands the matter; the Republicans committed to a position from which it would seem cowardly to back down, the Democrats submitting to the inevitable with the best of grace For some time past there have been man complaints received by the Treasury department from leading butter dealers in the United States in regard to the export of oleomargarine. In the complaints it is alleged that arge quantities of oleomargarine have been exported from New York and other points, which is being invoiced as butter and consigned to certain foreign dealers by whom it This was caused, it is supposed, by a fainting is sold as butter. Under the existing Eng- spell. The man's condition appears much lish laws to sell oleomargarine by package improved. He now appears sensible of all without being plainly marked as that is going on around him. A slight tap such subjects the dealer to a heavy fine, on the nose while reclining on his cot caused but this statute being evaded by him to smile. The attendant to-day caused English exporters breaking the packages and selling the contents in quantities of less than the original package as butter, it is urged that the only practical remedy is that collectors

With a view of reaching some remedy in the prem-ises the Secretary has referred the whole question to the Attorney General with a resultest that he be informed whether it will be competent for the Treasury department to adopt such regulations as will meet the neces-sities in this particular, or whether legislation will be necessary to effect the desired result. The proceedings of the International Saniary Conference, which recently adjourned tary Conference, which recently adjourned, have all been printed. The resolutions agreed upon, and which have been submitted to the favorable consideration of the governments represented, are as follows:

First—Each government shall have such an organ-zed internal service as will enable it to be regularly nformed of the state of the public health through-at the whole of its territory. Second—Each government shall publish a weekly nelletin of the statistics of mortality in its principal ities and ports, and shall give such bulletins the proper possible publicity. rgest possible publicity.

Third—In the interest of the public health the anitary authorities of the countries represented in a Conference are authorized to communicate discitly with each other in order to keep themselves in.

Sixth—Bills of health shall be delivered at the port of departure by the responsible sanitary agent of the central government. The consul of the country of destination shall have the right to be present at the examination of ships made by the representative of the territ vital government, under such rules as may be laid down by international agreement or treaty. Seventh—Bills of health granted in compliance with international rules shall be issued gratis. Eighth—A temporary and selentific commission shall be created by the mations most directly interested in protecting themselves against yellow feverand by such others as may wish to take part in this arrangement, to be charged with the duty of studying all matters pertaining to the origin, development and propagation of that disease.

Washington, April 18,-The chief signal officer furnishes the following special bulletin to the Associated Press: The barometer is highest in Florida. The area of low barometer which at yesterday's morning reporwas central in Dakota has moved eastward and is now central in the Mississippi valley. Cloudy weather with rain is reported from lake region, and light rain from the Ohio valley. Westerly winds continue in the Middle Atlantic and New England. The winds in the lake region have shifted to easterly. Southerly winds continue in the south Atlantic and Gulf States. The thermometer has risen decidedly in the past twenty-four hours in the Ohio valley and Tennessee and in the southern portion of the Mississippi valley, and fallen slightly in the extreme northwest. The Mississippi has risen twenty-three inches at Omaha, where it is approaching the danger line. The Mississippi Auction Sale of Real and Personal

When not praying he smoked cigaettes. In the course of the day he offered his services to the government as a spy. Natirally enough he met with a refusal, for he belonged only to the outside circle and could be of little use. Jeliaboff spent his time in dictating page after page about the trial and committing to paper what he would not be allowed to utter in speech. Sophie Pieoffsky wrote to her mother to waste no time or trouble in assuaging the wrath of her father for what had been done. He would never forgive. Kibaltschitisch, the maker of the ombs, and in some respects the most re-parkable figure among the condemned, devoted his last hours to drawing up a memoir on the subject of his specific discoveries, which he addressed to the High Court of Justice. In the document he avowed his deand he made a gift of his inventions to the State, on the condition that all the profit should go to the unelioration of the lot of the children of political criminals.

Coleman Talking About His Deeds. New York, April 17 .- It is asserted by memers of the Irish national party that the mysterious Patrick Coleman, who participated in the 1 lot to blow up the Mansion House, is in reality Pat Moore. The name of Coleman had been assumed in order to mislead the British government. He is in this city at the present time, but is desirous of keeping ecluded. To a friend he (Coleman) asserte to-day that the Irish national party has a network of detectives in London who are con stantly keeping the English police under sureillance. He further stated that his companion, O'Donnell, was in Providence, and Mooney, the third in the plot, was believed to be in Paris awaiting orders. The powder with which the box placed under the Man-sion House was filled was purchased in quar-ter pound lots in order to avert suspicion. Moore, or Coleman as he is called, says the plot to assassinate Gladstone was decided of while he was in hiding and consequently he knows but little about it. He adds that ley by name, has been canvassing this place for some article, and has boarded on Pond street. He retired as usual Friday night, and about 2 o'clock Saturday morning made some remark to his room mate. A little afterwards the latter discovered that he was dead. Appearances indicate that he had been a hard drinking man, but recently signed the pledge, and the theory is that the absence of his accustomed stimulant created a disturble latest Parisian styles, is a teature of this establish ment. Orders promptly attended to. appl 3m. ance of the vital organs which proved fatal. His canvassing book showed that he has lately been in Meriden, Ansonia, Danbury and other neighboring towns. He had upwards of $40 in his possession. The coroner's jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. A brother of the deceased and his wife, living in Newark, have been noti-fied of his death.—Waterbury American.

A horse belonging to W. S. Johnson dropped dead on East Chapel street, Saturday, while a young lady, Miss Etta Sanford, was out driving with it. Its sudden death, it s supposed, was owing to heart disease. The Easter concert given last evening by Congregational church was arranged with great care and passed off very satisfactorily. The pulpit platform was profusely decorated with floral offerings; arranged with taste. In while at the right a large gilt star was sus pended. The entire effort was beautifully was very large, nearly every available seat being occupied. The exercises were opened with an anthem by the choir, Miss Carrie Lake taking the solo in her usual faultless style. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Hart, offered prayer. Followin gwere scripture recitation by the classes interspersed with individual recitations and singing. The scripture and poems were in harmony with the subject-pleasant features of the exercises. Rev. Mr. Hart closed the occasion with remarks well itted to the hour and the day. Rev. Mr. Pardee, of Mystic, has accepted a call to Trinity church, Seymour, Conn.

DAVING OFF THE DEBT OF A CHURCH-SPECIAL

Faster Sunday of 1881 was a day long to b remembered by the members of St. John's church here. It had been looked forward to with pleasant anticipations, which have been fully realized. For a long time the parish has been burdened with a debt of $1,500. A few weeks since the people decided that this debt must be paid off before Easter, and the synopsis given by the rector last evening of the report to be made at the parish meeting to day shows that they have been successful in the undertaking. The church was very handsomely trimmed yesterday with flowers. From the arch of the chancel hung a very pretty basket of flowers, while on ei-ther side running vines were tastefully ar-ranged. From the arches on the sides of the chancel baskets were also suspended. The chancel and platform itself presented a beau-chancel and partiorm need product iful appearance, reminding one of a conservatory in which art had aided nature in producing har handsomest floral trib-accompaniment to the surroundings and oc-casion, the quartette "Lift your glad voices," being particularly fine. Rev. Mr. Lusk preached in the morning from Mark xvi. 5: "And entering into the sepulchre they saw

The Easter offering was very large, but the exact figures have not yet been given. The offerings of the Sunday school during the Lenten season have been $44.12, of which $11.77 was given yesterday.
