Hack, Express and Truck Licenses.

Headquarrins Police Department.

New Haven, April 19, 1881.

The attention of owners and drivers of Hacks,
Express Wagons and Trucks is called to the following section of city ordinance:
Section 1. No hack or other vehicle, whether on wheels or runners, drawn by animal power shall be used or employed to convey any person from place to place in said city, for hire, and no baggage wagon, express wagon, cart, dray, truck or other vehicle, whether or on wheels or runners, shall be used or employed to convey any baggage, goods, wares, merchandise, freight or materials from place to place in said city, for hire, unless in accordance with these ordinances, nor unless under authority of, and pursuant to, a license for such vehicle, and for each driver thereof, as provided in this ordinance, and in the ordinance concerning licenses and permits. cense for such vehicle, and for each driver thereof, as provided in this ordinance, and in the ordinance concerning licenses and permits.

Sec. 2. The ordinance shall not apply to horse cers, or substitutes therefor on runners, in use by any horse reliroad company on the line of their railroad.

Sec. 3. The Chief of Police of said city shall, upon due application, issue a license, as provided in the ordinance concerning licenses and permits, to the own-dinance concerning licenses and permits, to the owner of any suitable vehicle, to use and employ the same as a hack, cart, dray, truck, baggage wason, express wagon, freight wagon or other vehicle for conveying persons or property from place to place in said city, for hire; classifying such vehicle and designating its use on such license. e on such license. Sec. 4. Said Chief shall in like manner license such use on such license.

Sec. 4. Said Chief shall in like manner license such owner and one or more other men to be the driver of each vehicle, on being sait fied that such persons are discreet, temperate and honest.

Sec. 5. Said Chief may in a like manner grant licenses, on public occasions only, when there is an unusual amount o travel, for a period not exceeding two weeks, to owners and drivers of suitable vehicles, to carry passengers from place to place in said city, for hire, designating on such license the time for which it is granted and the place or places at which such vehicles may stand to wait for passengers, so as best to accommodate the public and least to incommode individuals.

•cc. 6, Such licenses shall be numbered, and the number of each driver shall be the same as that of the vehicle which he is to drive.

Sec. 7. Every such vehicle shall have the number of such license in figures in the Arabic character, of not less than one inch in size, with light figures on a dark ground, or dark figures on a lie-fit ground, at all times fastened or painted on the outside and on each side of the vehicle, in a manner approved by said Chief, and so as to be distinctly seen and easily read by passengers in the street.

Soc. 8. Every vehicle for carrying passengers for hire shall at all times have conspicuously posted on the inside, in a manner approved by said Chief, and so as to be easily seen and read by passengers, a card containing the name of the owner, the number of the license and a tariff of the rates of such vehicle.

Sec. 9. Every such driver shall at all times when employed, or seeking employment for such vehicle.

Sec. 9. Every such driver shall at all times and number, and the number of his license conspicuously on his person, in a manner directed by said Chief; and he shall give, to any one requiring it, his hame and number, and the manner of the owner of the

A grand electric light experiment may be nade in New York city. The Brush company, which has made such an excellent showing in London, has put in a bid for lighting Broadway from the Battery to Forty-second street, and if the proposal is accepted it will light Union Square by a single group of lights. The plans have been drawn for a tower to be 280 feet high, to be constructed of boiler iron, in four foot lengths riveted together. The tower will be four feet in diameter at the base, and one foot at the summit. It will carry six lights of six thousand indle power each, two being placed at each angle of a triangle. This triangle will be so arranged as to slide down oiled ways to the ground every morning, for the purpose of leaning the lamps and replacing the carbons. The company is confident that the illuminaion from the tower will be sufficient to enable one to read a newspaper at a distance of half a mile. In case the first tower shall be accessful another will be placed in Madison

The company asked for an injunction to restrain the strikers from influencing new men coming to the town agains entering the employ of the company, either by moral sussion or by threats, stating that five hundred men were thus kept from em-reparable injury to plaintiff, and the discre-tion of the special term in refusing to con-tinue the injunction was properly exercised. The case will be taken to the Court of Appeals for further hearing, but doubtless th adgment of the lower courts will be afirmed. The principle involved is a very important one to mechanics and employers.

Gilbert and Sullivan's Satire of th " Esthetes." Gilbert and Sullivan's 'entirely new an original asthetic opera," entitled "Patience or Bunthorne's Bride," was produced in in the New York Herald The opera opens with a scene representing close to an ancient castle, where "rapturous maidens" dressed in esthetic draperies, playing lutes and mando-lins, sing in the last stage of despair, all their love being concentrated on a male sethete, Reginald Bunthorne, played by Mr. George Grossmith, jr. A troop of dragoons come on the scene of their former heart conquests, Wendell Phillips gets the following bit of commendation from the solid old Boston Advertiser: "No prominent public man of the have reached, as one character says, that transcendentalism of delirium, that acute ac transcendentalism of delirium, that acute accentuation of supremest ecstacy, which the earthly might easily mistake for indigestion, but which is aesthetic transfiguration. "Love in the minds of the rapturous is the embodiment of purity, the abstraction of refinement, the idealization of utter selfishness." It is scarcely possible in a cable dispatch to follow the details of the plot. It is enough to say that the colonel, major and lieutenant of the regiment determine in the second act to become esthetes with their warriors in to become sesthetes with their warriors in order to win back their lost loves. One of the conundrums pu forth last week in London was Gilbert's new rhyme for "totally." This is the solution :

Mr. Gilbert's receipt for making a heavy dragoon is the following:— If you want a receipt for that popular mystery Known to the world as a heavy dragoon, Take all the remarkable people in history, Hattle them off to a popular tune.

The consequence was he lost totally, And married a girl in the corps de bally.

Hattle them off to a popular tune.

The pluck of Lord Nelson on board of the Victory, Genius of Bismarck devising a plan;
The hunor of Fleiding, which sounds conrtadictor, Coolness of Paget about to trepsn.
The science of Julien, the eminent musico, Wit of Macaulay, who wrote of Queen Anne.
The pathos of Paddy as rendered by Boucicault, Style of the Bishop of S.-dor and Man;
The dash of a d'Orssy, divested of quackery;
Narrative powers of Dickens and Thackersy, Victor Emmanuel, Peak hunting Peveril, Toomas Aquinus and Doctor Sacheverell,
Tupper and Tenuyson, Daniel Defoe,
Anthony Trollope and M. Guizot;
Take of these elements all that is fusible,
Melt them all down in a piphin or crucible,
Set them to simmer and take off the scum,
And a heavy dragoon is the residum.

OFFICE 400 STATE STREET.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—The first public exhibition of the Keely engine was given this evening, in the presence of a large body of New York men. Among others present were J. Nelson Tappan, City Chamberlain of New York; Thomas Rowland, of the Continental Iron Works; George H. Peebedge, F. R. York; Thomas Rowland, of the Continental Iron Works; George H. Peabody, E. F. Searls, General John Carrier, secretary of the American Wrecking company; J. J. Smith, Edward W. Denny and others. A private showing was given a few days ago before Major Conway, United States ordnance department; Commander Gorringe, United States navy; Mr. Blanchard, vice president Erie railway; Commodore Kane, New York Yacht club; President Sayre, of the Lehigh Valley railroad; E. J. Randall, Erie railway, and twenty others. Gorringe frankly declared that Mr. Keely had thoroughly removed the strong prejudices which he had

and appears bona fide."

To-night's exhibition was a very extended one. The two parts of the "motor," called the "generator" and the "engine," stand in the "generator" and the "engine, stand in separate rooms on the second floor of a building on Twentieth street, in the vicinity of Girard College. Without expressing any opinion whatever regarding the scientific principles alleged to be involved, a simple narrative of the evening's occurrences may be set down as follows: se set down as follows:

CURIOUS EXPERIMENTS.

When the visitors, almost completely fill-When the visitors, almost completely filling the front room, had been seated, they saw before them an odd looking machine, built of steel, that shone like a mirror. The only description possible to give, without an illustration to accompany it, is that it is wholly unlike any other collection of globes and tubes that has ever been exhibited. The first act that has ever been exhibited. The first act was to remove every cock and tube estensibly to show that the apparatus was empty. Lights were placed underneath it, and the visitors were invited to look into and through the various chambers. All the plugs and attachments having been replaced, one of the company drew a glass of water from the hydrant and poured the contents into half a dozen funnel topped tubes, and in exactly twenty-nine seconds a force was generated sufficient to raise a six-foot lever (one inch fulcrum), upon which were hung 700 pounds of iron. The pressure was asserted to be 15,000 pounds to the square inch. The vapor said to create this pressure was then stored in a steel cylinder about thirty inches long and five inches thick, through the centre of which is stretched a piece of piano wire. The vapor thus confined was then further "vivified" by external vibrations of great energy obtained from a tuning fork of immense size. This done, a long tube, of very constricted orifice, was attached to this steel chamber to form the connection with the engine in the rear room. Thither, then, all the visitors moved. The engine is called a "compound" one, which is explained to mean that "it can be worked with equal effect by positive or "necetive energy." After a a "compound" one, which is explained to mean that "it can be worked with equal effect by positive or negative energy." After a few cocks had been opened the "sirophone" contained in one of the drums began to roar, and the shaft carrying a belt wheel began to revolve with great velocity. The whirring sound (much resembling the rising of a flock of quail) gradually became regular and harof quail) gradually became regular and harmonious, and the engine settled down to a reg-ular speed of about sixty revolutions a minute. some curious experiments were then made to exhibit what was denominated "vibra-tory energy." The revolutions of the engine were increased or diminished at will by Mr. an iron disc or a gigant ing fork, or drawing a bow over a tightly stretched steel wire. The change from the negative to the positive "energy" was made, sulting in an almost instanta of the engine. This reversal, Mr. Keely de-clared, could be made at the very highest velocity without breaking anything. A brake, specially made with wooden lining, was then applied to the belt wheel with a leverage of five feet, and the weight of two of the heaviest of the party, but no perceptible diminution in the speed resulted. Many other strange experiments with the vapor gun and other appliances of the alleged in-vention were given, after which the party separated.

The experiments lasted three hours and were in every way successful. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Keely on motion of Mr. Tappan. The party returned to New York on the midnight train.

The German Private Soldier.

His Training-Lessons in Self-Restrain -Punishments. [From the London News ] The soldier's education commences from he moment when he sets foot in barracks.
As he is a mere boy, and might feel cock-awhoop about his uniform, he is not allowed to go and swagger about the town alone Dur-ing six weeks he remains in charge of a gefreite, who acts as his monitor. The gefreite is either a corporal or an old soldier—that is, one who has served at least two years, and is known for his steadiness. Four recruits are put under him, and he is required to instruct them in regimental customs, etiquette, rules; to show them how their cots are to be made up, to point out and name the officers to them—in fact to do them all the friendly offices possible. When the day's duties are ver the gefreite generally takes his pupils out for a walk in the town, warns them of what places they must avoid, tells them where they may go, teaches them how to walk, whom to salute, &c., and prevents them from squandering their money. His services are given quite gratuitously. They are a token of the confidence which his superiors place in him, and he must not accept so much as a glass of beer in remuneration for them. All these rovisions are most wise, and the necessity for them will be readily understood. Germany is a poor country, and it is hard enough for persons of the lower classes to see their sons compelled to serve in the army without their having to feel that these boys will learn oldiers walking about the street must have been struck with their invariably good conduct, their gentleness, civility and sobriety. Such a thing as a drunken soldier is no more to be met with than a drunken clergyman. Night brawling, riots in houses of ill-fame, ruffianly impertinences to women—things common enough in some armies—meet with no indulgence at all at the hands of German officers and sergeants. The French officer fancies he has no business to supervise the morals of his men; he would, indeed, be attached at the his prother officers if he atlaughed at by his brother officers if he at-tempted to do so, and improper intimacies with the other sex are regarded by him as the nost venial of peccadilloes. The consequence s that in the streets round every French barracks teem a whole population of loose wo-men, who are the soldier's ruin, driving him to drink, extort money from his friends on false pretenses, break rules, and sometimes steal. There is nothing of this kind in connection with German barracks. A German oldier who is known to have contracted blamsoldier who is known to have contracted blam-able intimacies is pulled up short by his ser-geant before the mischief can go very far. If the lad is not to be cured of his folly, very strong measures will be taken with him, and perhaps he will be sent off to a garrison hun-dreds of miles away. In sum, the object of German officers is to place themselves toward their men in loco parentis, in order that when the soldier returns to his home his friends may be able to say that he has vastly improved n every respect. The veneration for theu ni-form is inculcated with such care that a reform is inclinated with such care that a re-cruit becomes penetrated with it almost at once, and dismissal from the army is account-ed a mortal disgrace which leaves the delin-quent no option but to go away from his country. Thieves, deserters, mutineers, in-corrigible drunkards are sentenced to stiff terms of imprisonment, but are never per-mitted to serve again when their terms of punishment have expired; nor is any lad who has been sentenced to imprisonment by the civil courts before the age of 17 allowed to enter the army. The recruit who joins must have a blameless record, besides being sound of wind and limb. As to this, it must be re-marked that the medical examination of intended recruits takes place before the con-scription, not after it, as in France; and the doctors are very particular in passing none

Work of the City Mission. Addresses by Prominent Persons Inter

Done and What is Needed. A meeting of the friends of city mission was held in the Third Congregational church on Church street last evening. Rev. Dr. of the society during the past year. In passing he referred to the work of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, and made the statement that the policemen of late had been vigilant and many violations of the Sunday law had been prosecuted. In this connection he said that ten persons notoriously bad had compliment to the Women's Christian association, whom he thought were doing a noble work. The special work of city missions was then referred to, which, he said, was reaching out after the people who are connected with no church. They were being drawn into the churches one by one. His own personal attention was given to office work one hour each day at 47 Court street, and then looking after those who make application for Christian consolation in hours of distress and caring for those who have no other persons them into the church. Some of the member of the churches are especially adapted to this work and they are doing it successfully. We have work going on all the time all over we have work going on all the time all over the city. Still we need more help. Perhaps we cannot reach all, but cannot we reach the most of them? There are 10,000 people in this city without the Bible, yet we have volateers in the field who are distributing God's word. Over three hundred persons during the past year have been brought to a religious life or towards it.

President Porter was introduced and devoted his time to explaining the relation of the so-called advisory board with the churches. A recent investigation showed that the City Missionary society was not in a very healthy condition. It seemed that all denominations were ready to sustain Rev. Mr. Mossman in his work, and this advisory board came into existence and resolved to sustain Mr. Mossman, who was then in the field. We think there should be a regularly organized city mission-ary society to do this work. If, as has been ted, there are 5,000 souls who are Protestants that are not connected with any church, then it is the duty of the churches to sustain a mission of this kind. There are sections of the city that we know nothing about and made in 24 minutes-down hill most of the we should have some one to look after them. The society seems to be an absolute necessi-Then it is a very happy thing if Protesant churches can unite in this work, and hereby draw more closely to each other. It is a beneficent work and we know that it is necessary in some Christians that they ould be engaged in active work. The City Missionary or any other society that can bring out the younger members in active work among the poor in body and spirit will be a great blessing to the community at large. Here it is that our spiritual and Christian work lies, and if we send ten score of active workers into the field the churches of active workers into the field the churches are made stronger. Yet how many, very many families are neglected by the churches. If the hour of prosperity brings spiritual death and leads to lewdness and open sin, rector after a long occupation of the position, then every one of us has an obligation to de-resigning on account of other demands upon liver these souls from death. There was irreligion in the city apparent on every side, and there was need of evangelization work. I believe in the ultimate triumph of Christiani-ty, but what is between us and that triumph I do not know. The statistics show that the Catholics are much more faithful in attending church than the Protestants. It is also apparentthat about 45 per cent. of the Protestants and residence are on Brown street, came to the city last Wednesday to purchase supplies, and on Church street was seized with a severe pain which prostrated him. Dr. Dennen commenced by showtended address showing the scope and work | ing that there are many many ways by which we come to know God. First by the arangement, adaptation and adjustment seen he said that ten persons notoriously bad had been refused licenses during the past year by the county commissioners after being recommended by the Board of Selectmen. In addition to these, nine notoriously bad persons mended by the Board of Selectmen. In addition to these, nine notoriously bad persons had not applied for licenses and their places of business had been closed. He though the officers of the law should be compelled to do this work and not the citizens. He wanted all his strength to look after these poor souls and help raise them up. The speaker paid a compellment to the Women's Christian assoprogress is impossible. The Christian has the Bible, the example of Christ, his precept and missions and the spiritual life which he one can impart. There were a number of ladies and gentle men proposed for membership. At the Catholic Churches The devotion of the forty hours opened esterday at St. Mary's church. It will be oncluded by a solemn high mass to-morrow morning.

A mission was opened vesterday at St John's church, conducted by the Jesuit fathto care for them, and gradually bringing ers. Father Maguire preached the opening discourse in the morning, and at vespers last evening gave a short explanatory sermon. In an impressive and highly interesting manner he announced the special objects of the mission, and in a discursive way covered a vast amount of doctrinal ground. The prevalent causes that tend to the distraction o Catholics from their religious duties were touched upon in a general way, with a promise of more specific attention in the further services of the mission. The restless activity of humanity that is seen in all things apper taining to worldly advancement was deprecated in its exclusion of the real purpose of life-the salvation of the soul. The intellectual vagaries of the day, and their damaging influence on Christianity and religious fervor received a passing notice and were treated in a manner that showed an ability in the preacher to crush the castellated theories that have taken possession of many minds among the youth of the day, theories that have grown from the infidel teachings of the costrum and the drippings of a too liberal press. Father Maguire held throughout the ttention of the congregation, and there is no doubt that during the two weeks' mission much interest will be taken in his discourses The singing both morning and evening was excellent, Mrs. Craig assisting at the mass and singing in her matchless style. Miss Mallahan and Miss Stack led the singing at vespers, both rendering their solos in an ad mirable manner. Miss Stack, the organist deserves much praise for the efficiency which the choir has attained, which has been mainly due to her untiring exertions. There will be services every morning, afternoon and evening during the mission, which will continue through this and next week.

Rev. M. H. Houghton at the Church of the Messiah yesterday delivered a discourse under the above head from the words, "Let that therefore abide in you which ve have of the existing musical arrangements.

A Praise Service.

At Dwight Place church last evening there was a very interesting praise service and the church was crowded to overflowing and fundamental forms the existing musical arrangements.

Deginning of a series of meetings intending to enlighten the community on the importance of the advisory beard and would be glad to receive any great boundless panorama gives and to the domain of thought. The highest function of domain of thought. The highest function of Professor Carter said he did not come as the representative of any society or any board, rents of universal life and move with them rents of universal life and move with them. The progress of our country was referred to in eloquent words, listened to with great in terest. The progress in the domain of sci ence was equally well referred to. The highest thought, however, of this or any time is the thought of man himself. Reason builds forts and breakwaters. Intuition is a proud bird rising up to the shining stars. Reason is a giant felling the forest oaks. Intui tion is an angel. Reason is a king. The one mounts to heaven in the chariot of hope the other seeks the paths of law and fact. Take the recognition of God or divine power. See how it has decked the earth with altars. Their ruins cover the valley of the Indus, the they should be brought into the churches. If we can get hold of them then they will understand how to reach those who were in like position with themselves. The end no feet have trod there have been altars, prayer feet have trod there have been altars, prayer and praise. How this great idea has defined almost every animal. How it has brooded like the deathless fires of the vestal virgin over the cradles and the graves of dynasties and empires. We are but all ding to the universal belief in a power and intelligence superior to our own. It does not matter through what oracle he speaks. His may be the voice of universal nature as it speaks to us in the wild roar of the waves or the W. Wright vs. Levi B. Bradley was on trial. It is an action to recover $45 for writing political verses and other services. The defense is want of liability on the ground that the defendant was non compos mentis. The Christian and infidel recognize some powe and gladly submit to its decrees. The speak er now considered the idea of duty, the recognition by man of the law of obligation Man's idea of duty is older than any book and will live regardless of the fate of creed and ceremonial. I have yet to find a savage race who did not recognize the law of duty in some form. Living for others is one of the essential elements in life; one of the grandest of moral features. We love to think of those who have toiled and suffered for others. The story of Socrates walking April 30; Wales O. Hotchkiss, Mary Knowlton and Laura Main, keeping house of ill young touches the heart. The dying agonies of the man of Nazareth call forth our tears. Man never looks so grandly heroic to his fellow man as when he has risen a victor in the awful struggle of self-conquest. The third and last idea treated by the speaker was that of the future life. breaks like a sun over the dark horizon of history. The barbarian has felt its power tutional law. It is reported that Rev. Edward Everett hope on the other, and crowns the soul with not be satisfied with one world. It is the boast of materialism to enjoy this life. Yet memory will look backward and hope forward, and immortality like a star rises between the fading lines of memory on the one side and the gathering joys of the proported that Rev. Edward Everett hope on the other, and crowns the soul with hope on the other, and crowns the soul with an eternal triumph. God weaves the pledge of a future life like a rainbow over our horizon. In its prismatic hues we see the death-less flowers that bloom in the world's Eden, while under its radiant archway we stand at the gate of heaven and behold the reflected rays as they fall upon the sweet babe in the cradle, and creep tenderly as evening's shad-ows over age as it trembles by a coffin. In the sacred name of these universal truths let us tenderly trust, and for their good let us toil and pray. Grand Opening. J. Johnson & Co., the great clothiers, will open their new and palatial store No. 109 Church street on Wednesday evening, April 27th, with a grand promenade concert by the American band, and in addition there will be twenty thousand beautiful chromos presented to the visitors. All things are not humbugs, nor are all statements lies. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is exactly what it claims to be. Hear a word from Mr. Israel H. Snyder, of Saugerties, N. Y. Han and St. Jos. authorities. The victim was Mrs. Eliza Pope, woman about forty-two years of age and wife of a cook on board of a sailing vessel. The Herald correspondent, after a patient investigation of the case, has elicited this brief history of the case. About 12 o'clock one Michael Gillespie, a peddler, met a brother peddler, James Tracey, near the corner of Hanover street and Jasper Place. They had a drink together, and Tracey said to his friend, "Mike, come up to Mrs. Pope's and I will show you a nice girl from East Boston that I have there." Tracey went up stairs and Gillespie went to put up his horse. The former went to Mrs. Pope's O rooms and stayed there for some time. About an hour afterward his friend came to the door and knocked. He received no answer, and peeping in through the keyhole he saw Tracey sitting on the side of the bed with St. Paul. St. Paul pfd... saw Tracey sitting on the sate of the his arm around a young girl, while on the Texas Pacific. floor lay the stiff and stark corpse of Mrs. Pope, one side of the head beaten into a jelly. He ran away from the door and notified the authorities. The girl turned out to be Mary McManus, eighteen years of age, and a resident of East Boston. She had been stopping with Mrs. Pers. 62, 23, coup. 60 shares N. Y., N. H. & H. RR. Co.

The girl told her story as follows: "The day before yesterday I came over to Boston to visit Mrs. Pope, and at her request stayed over here to keep her company, as I have frequently before done. This afternoon, a few minutes before 1 o'clock, the man Tra-cey came into Mrs. Pope's room and began FL/UR—Unchanged; sales 12,800 barrels. making vulgar proposals to her and seized hold of her. This Mrs. Pope repelled, and he then pushed her around the room. He then threw his arms around me and tried to then threw his arms around me and tried to force me upon a chair. I, however, managed to get out of the room, leaving him and Mrs. Pope in the room; on my return, in a few minutes, I saw Mrs. Pope lying on the floor and Tracey with a stick of wood in his hand, kicking her as she lay insensible; he kept me in the room until the officers came; this is all I know of the case."

The theory is that Tracey, who has been visiting Mrs. Pope, tried to make love to the McManus girl when he went in and that Mrs. Pope resented it, when a row ensued and the two deliberately killed her. The officers are diligently investigating the case, and a crime of the most startling and cold blooded character will be brought to light before they,finish their search. Discourse by Rev. Mr. Livingstone-At the Summerfield church yesterday morning Rev. Mr. Livingstone, the pastor, preached an interesting discourse from the words found in 2d Timothy, 2d chapter, 3d verse, "A good soldier of Jesus Christ." The preacher spoke in substance as follows: The spirit of Christianity is that of aggression. Sin has always opposed the onward march of Christianity, and there has been no progress until the obstacles have been hurled out of her path. Christians live a life of warfare. Therefore it was proper that St. Paul should make frequent reference to the Christian warfare. If the Christian is a soldier of Christ he must be a willing soldier. Every service performed by a true Christian soldier is performed willingly and gladly. He gladly performs the duty in the service of Christ. Just as a soldier fights in the service of Christ must be by a glad and willing heart. It is the heart in the work that makes the work joyous and pleasurable. The student and the merchant go about their work gladly, and it is this kind of work that brings with it success. Therefore it was proper that St. Paul should this kind of work that brings with it success. The reason why so many believers go trudging along rather than skipping along is be-cause their heart is not in their work. The Christian should go to his work as a free man in Christ Jesus. When there is willingness in Christ Jesus. When there is willingness of heart then the pathway becomes one of pleasure and not of duty. Just as the willing soldier who enters the strife is successful, so in the same way is the soldier of Christ successful. The Christian soldier should have a love for his standard. The good soldier always loves his flag and fights for it as an emblem of freedom. So, I say, the best Christians are those who have the greatest love for the banner of Calvary. All of the great heroes will be bright and glorious forever because they had a genuine love for the standard of Jesus Christ. It is the crying need in the church for men and wocrying need in the church for men and wo-men who love the standard and are in earnest in supporting it. Such a one is always ready to respond to every call. Love for the church and love for Christ can do much. It is this love that makes the church strong. Too many are like barks on the wave without a maps are like barks on the wave without a helmsman, or like the butterfly flying hither and thither. Would the Christian mount up as on wings, he must keep his eye on the standard. The good soldier must be faithful to his commander. The loyalty of the Spartage made them are a will of item So the tans made them as a wall of iron. So the good Christian, if he would succeed, must be aithful to his commander. Loyalty to their | does not turn rancid, it contains the finest nead, loyalty to Christ and manful. Steady wheat phosphates in the most assimilable head, loyalty to Christ and manful. Steady adherence is what the church demands and the world also. He who will may be just such a loyal Christian. Loyalty to the Christ often seems as a magnet to draw men into the church. Why should there be disloyalty? You may study all the ponderous books in the world and study throughout all eternity, and you will find no one so perfect as Jesus Christ. The purest and best men who walk the earth to-day are followers of this Christ. He is the only Saviour who has ever walk the earth to-day are followers of this Christ. He is the only Saviour who has ever trod this earth, and the world can hope for deliverance through Him. Just as long as Jesus stands ready and willing to welcome the wanderer, just so long does he demand loyalty. The good soldier must be unflagging in his zeal. True zeal is persevering, that mighty power which continues throughout life itself. Be not discouraged Christian warrior. It demands labor and zeal. The soldier when he returns from the war thinks

United States and Foreign Countries

A PRACTICE of more than fourteen years, and frequent visits to the Fatent Office has given him a familiarity with every department of, and mode of proceeding at, the Patent Office, which, together with the fact that he now visits Washington semi-mouthly to give his personal attention to the interests of his clients, warrants him in the assertion that no office in the country is able to offer the same facilities to Inventors in securing their inventions by Letters Patent—and particularly to those whose applications have been rejected—an examination of which he will make freeof charge.

Preliminary examination, prior to application for patent, made at Patent Office, at a small charge.

His facilities for procuring Patents in Foreign Countries are unequaled.

Riers to more than one thousand clients for whom a has procured Letters Patents.
