EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY CARRINGTON & CO.,

Thursday Morning, May 5, 1881. CONKLING VS. THE PRESIDENT. The situation at Washington with respect o the nomination of Judge Robertson and the contest which Conkling is making against his confirmation is set forth in a very interesting way by the able and well informed Washington correspondent of the Boston idvertiser. His statements are those of a careful observer who has unusual facilities for arriving at the truth of the matter. We give the substance of them.

Nothing that has ever been written about firmation of Robertson with all his power and all his resources exaggerates his purpose, nothing at all, and the Jews themselves have What has been reported about his purpose to make an attack on the President in open Senate in certain contingencies, by which is meant, probably, if all other means of prerenting Robertson's confirmation fail, there is no reason to believe him incapable of. However Senators may feel regarding the least, before the licensing board takes action merit of the issue which Conkling makes thereon, in Boston in two daily papers, in with the administration, or the administraion makes with Conkling, they are in no hurry to take sides. There have been so a week as the Mayor and Aldermen or Senany similar disagreeable breaks between owerful Senators and the administration hat they would rather avoid another if it is practicable. But outsiders do not see how it scribed in the application, and in two or s possible for the President to withdraw the more places in the neighborhood where nomination of Robertson, after what has been notices are usually posted. The notice shall ning to Kansas, through the Indian Territo said and done, without forfeiting dignity, respect and prestige, and they do not expect full, with the character and class of the li-Conkling to sacrifice any personal feeling for he sake of harmony in the party. This sin- larly the premises whereon the license is to de issue controls the action of a number of enators with regard to every other matter. To prevent the confirmation of Robertson they support whatever policy promises delay, professing to hope the President will see the wisdom of withdrawing it, so as not to force them to an open rupture with the adninistration. They give out, however, that the license shall not be granted. Any license they shall not hesitate to employ every means to defeat the nomination if pressed, and all their conduct since the nomination was sent upon application and proof, by the municihas been dictated by this one motive. Al- pal, district or police court, or trial justice hough Secretary Blaine solemnly declares to within whose jurisdiction the premises are everybody who questions him that he had situated. Notice of the revocation shall be nothing whatever to do with making the ap- given to the licensing board, and the city or pointment, and did not know beforehand that it was to be made, Senator Conkling's which his license cost him, and his court fees friends refuse to believe that it is not his work. But they would not like it any better if they did believe so, for they would consid er it none the less objectionable. The nominee is a man whom Conkling hates with perfect hatred, and whether the nomination was made with or without Blaine's knowledge and concurrence matters little to him. He would oppose Robertson just as strongly if Blaine hated him as he himself does, because he knows that Robertson and he cannot wor together. They are foes instinctively. Therefore it is sufficient ground for prognosticating what course Conkling will take with re gard to any other matter before the Senate to know how its decision, one way or another, would affect the chances of Robertson. Beause he relies on Democratic votes to defeat Robertson, he will take no active part in any contest by which he might personally offend his allies on that side of the chamber. Conkling's friends declare that, they are sure of success whenever the issue comes No doubt some Democrats will support him, hoping by supporting him to divide the Reublican ranks. Ex-Senator Eaton has adised Democrats to side with Conkling for that purpose. The Democrats know well enough that if there is any truth in their preensions that New York was lost to them last year by an understanding between New York Republicans and John Kelly, Conkling and his friends are the Republicans concerned in the dicker. They know also that if there has been any bargain with Mahone Conkling and his friends, one of whom is Gorham, are the chief sinners. Either they are thoroughly insincere in their pretensions of believing there have been such trades, or thoroughly insincere in their professions of virtuous reugnance at such political dealings, else they would repel Conkling's advances with indig-Most of the Democrats, however, feel personally complimented when he recognizes and converses with them in open Sen-wants their aid to secure his personal ends he ommonly gets it. This is probably, on the whole, a fair view of the situation. If it is, Conkling's position is untenable. But if he chooses to carry on the contest there is but one course open to the President. He must defend his rights without regard to the party. If the party can only be saved by allowing Conkling to boss it and the President it is not worth sav-

The extraordinary increase in the receipts of the French railways in 1880 is naturally the subject of sincere rejoicing in France. The augmentation for that year reached no ess than 114,000,000 francs. The progress of the railways during the last four years is worthy of examination. In 1877 the total eccipts were 845,000,000 francs; in 1878, the exhibition year, 905,000,000 francs; in 1879 the increase was less marked; but last year the amount registered was no less than 1,028,000,000 francs. The increasing wealth of France indicates an amount of prosperity which has never been even approached under any other form of government

Allegheny county, Penn., has nearly com leted the payment of losses caused by the Pittsburg riots in 1877. Thus far claims ting to about $2,750,000 have been liquidated, and bonds to the amount of $2,650,000 have been issued. It is thought that $45,000 will cover all the unsettled claims.
The law provides that claimants must sue and get a verdict before they can recover, but in nearly every instance a compromise has been effected and the commissioners have agreed to a formal verdict for 75 per cent. of the loss sustained. In this sensible way expensive litigation has been avoided, and losss by the riots have received prompt recomcense instead of being compelled to wait

Owing to an announcement that certain easide hotels have issued orders to prevent Iebrews from being guests, a bill has been vent discriminations by hotel keepers again st any class of people on account of race, creed or color. It applies also to theatres, restaurants and public conveyances. The Hebreu Leader says: "As for the Jewish people, this matter does not trouble them in the least and they are making no fuss about it. All the talk comes from outsiders, who are wasting a great deal of needless and unsought sympathy. The Hebrew population can easily spend their money in the manner that is most pleasing to them, and they experience no difficulty in finding people who are ready and glad to take it. Let no mistake be made here. It is time this senseless chatter about the resolution of Conkling to fight the conpractical part of the matter amounts to just > no complaint whatever to make." A bill concerning applications for liquo licenses which has passed both branches of the Massachusetts Legislature provides that applications shall be published ten days, at other cities and towns in such newspapers printed therein not less frequently than once lectmen may designate, or, if there is no such newspaper published in the town, the notice shall be posted on the premises degive the name of the applicant in cense applied for, and shall describe particube exercised. Any owner or occupant of real estate adjoining the premises described in the application for a license by a common victualler to sell liquor to be drunk on the premises may notify the licensing board in writing that he objects to the granting the license, and if any such objection is made granted without the publication of notice, or after objection as above, shall be revoked town shall refund to the licensee the sum

The ride from Montgomery to Mobile requires about eight hours, and it is a dusty and hot trip when the sun shines as it did in their hands. These emblems of affection the day of our trip. There is nothing to interest the eye but pines, pines, and not a ling place of the departed. few magnolias. There are no villages on the oute except now and then lumber trading and rosin manufacturing places. Mobile is not a lively business city as once it was, nevertheless the aggregate is considerable. Cot-ton, the staple, is what brings business at all to the city. A new railroad is projected for the chief avenue, is about 150 feet in width and ten or more miles in length. On each side are many costly residences surrounded by evergreens, flowers and magnolias. Magnolia Cemetery is full of beautiful flowers. about seven miles out. The trip costs 15 cents and is a beautiful one. On arrival you behold a second Coney Island on I ake Pouchartrain. Remain as long as you will; enjoy the cool breeze; partake of fish or other provender to the satisfaction of your appetite. to outdo the other, and are well patronized in this warm season, which is a long one and they are supposed to pay at the low rates. Sundays especially are they said to be full. From Canal street, near St. Charles also, start perhaps twenty lines of street cars, going everywhere for five cents. These cars are drawn by one mule. Every one on entering deposits his nickel. No conductor is neces-sary, as evading fares is unknown in New Orsary, as evading fares is unknown in New Orleans. The score of cemeteries, most of them about three miles out, on Canal street, are visited by all strangers. They are objects of great interest. The burials almost universally are made in vaults built above ground. Some elegant and costly monuments are to be seen. The grounds are all decorated beautifully with flowers, magnolias and evergreens. A car ride through St. Charles street, Prytania Camp, or Magazine street, or to Carrollton, pays well, as on all these may be seen magnolias from twenty to fifty feet high in full blossom and the most elegant door yards and gardens full of roses and other flowers to delight the eye. One gentleman from Convecticut whom I know well has been so fascinated that he has made purchases to the amount of thirty thousand dollars in city houses and a plantition. purchases to the amount of thirty thousand dollars in city houses and a plantation within a short distance. City property is selling at auction daily that is rented from twelve to wenty per cent. of the sale price.

New Orleans has not changed much for New Orleans has not changed much for twenty years, but the appearances now are that the city is going to look up. Railroads are projected hither and thither to regain and retain the former pressige of the city. A new road has just now been unished to Texas which we expect to try on this trip, it being a continuous line to San Antonio and in continuous line to San Antonio ection with the great system of roads runew Orleans is the largest cotton market i the world. Every bale leaves, as commis sions, insurance, drayage and for compressing at least five to six dollars in the city. On compress" we saw, which cost forty or fifty ousand dollars, had the power of four mil lion, four hundred thousand pounds pressure, reducing the original size of a bale of orter two-thirds, thus enabling the storage of three times the quantity in a given ship that otherwise could be accomplished. The bed of this "compress" weighed eight tons, and had been once broken by the power, although it was eight feet in thick ness. A steamer from up river has been for days unloading at the levee its enormous freight of nine thousand, two hundred and twenty-six bales, which are to go through the ompressing process.

The sewerage question has been the great bsorbing question for some time. New Or-sans, which from time immemorial has been drained through its gutters, is to be sewered, and laughable have been the arguments pro and con on the subject. One declared he would leave the city if the sewerage was not would leave the city if the sewerage was not adopted; his son was in college, but he would never allow him to settle in an unsewered city. Another declared he would not remain in a city which was underlaid with drains for the infection of the city. Another thought his vault had been used by his ancestors for fifty years; it was good yet; he wanted nothing better than his fathers had; "Tam the sewers and the doctor," ear 'Tam the sewers and the doctors' car-polique." The club house and fair grounds bolique." The club house and fair grounds are institutions to which a ride in the street cars for five cents pays. The Jockey Club rection I can only mention the fact. The ice manufactories are interesting to visit. We need not go back many years to remember the first cargo of ice sent from the North. A few days since I noticed on the corners of the streets a death notice, which is very common. Somehow I was inclined to read it : i Haven, Conn., (brother-in law of Mr. Wm quite a boy, and thought to attend his funeral, but circumstances prevented. Mr. funeral, but circumstances prevented. Mr. Hotchkiss had been engaged in the iron busness for many years.

On the levee the customary ousiness is going on, from four to eight teamers departing each day at 5 p. m., and nany arriving during each night, teamers are floating palaces. French market is, as formerly, an attraction can hear French, Spanish, English and In-dian, Jew and Gentile, all in one gabble. A fire company going down St. Charles street Sunday noon with its band of music had only passed when a military company with a brass band moved in the opposite direction I questioned, Where are they going? The answer I read in the morning papers, which told of their successes at target firing. The late overflowing of so large a part of the city, I was surprised to find, was not caused by the high water in the Mississippi, b t by onchartrain, causing the waters to be higher than the levees, which were supposed to be high enough for protection, but they proved insufficient. All traces of the flood have disappeared.

Another observation I have made in New Orleans, viz., nearly all the mules driven here have full tails. I have often asked the question why are the tails of mules generally sheared, and have never received a satisfactory answer, but here I see the fact. Mules with tails are a far better looking ani mal than without. I covet a great pair with full caudal appendages. Real estate sells for low prices, but at better paying interest than 4 per cent. I have in my eye at this moment a theatre property which cost one hundred thousand dollars and is in the market for twenty thousand. A prominent corner has just been purchased for a cotton exchange for about one hundred thousand. A funeral at this moment passing reminds me of a custom heretofore noticed,

Eels by the Cart Load.

On Saturday last nine eels were taken out to the city. A new railroad is projected for twenty miles further on to a point where the water is deep for large ships. What the effect will be on the city is a problem. The Eattle House is rated first-class. It is newly furnished, and has new proprietors. The Charges are $3.30 and $4 per day for "transients" The rooms are neatly furnished. Large numbers of regular boarders appear to occupy the fourth and fifth lofts, probably at cheap rates. The delicacies of the season appear to be allowed as private dishes. If the hotel keepers think they cannot afford to supply guests, better so than not at all. Eating not being our foite, but seeking rest here for a few days, we found it to our full satisfaction.

Mobile is not far from the same latitude as where boys pursued and captured them in pire knife company's shop in this place. On faction.

Mobile is not far from the same latitude as Fernandina, Palatka and Jacksonville, Florida. It might become a very attractive city for a winter resort if inducements were sufficiently offered. In Jacksonville perhaps a thousand people are domiciled as guests. Every inducement is held out to make the stranger's life pleasant. A dozen excursions on the beautiful St. John's river daily. Palatka the same. Prices $4 a day and something to show for it. Jacksonville does not appear to me to be the place for the invalid, although it is renowned as such. As an invalid I should prefer Fernandina, Palatka or St. Augustine. Jacksonville has been the most popularly advertised heretofore. Mobile has its attractions, its city advantages and generally beautiful climate. Government street, the chief avenue, is about 150 feet in width and ten or more miles in length. On each the following the same places. It must not be supposed that we have heard of all the captured or escaped eels, but the story will do for one week. Why Boys Want to be Clerks.

Methodists in Conference.

The district stewards of the New Haven district met in the North Methodist church at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The meeting was called to order by Presiding Elder George A. Hubbell. M. B. Scott, of New Haven,

Presiding Elder Hubbell reported that the past year had been an encouraging one for Methodism within this district. He reported that he had traveled 7,000 miles, over 1,300 of which had been by horse power or on home, the vacation being too short to permit foot. It has involved 283 preaching services, attendance upon 272 conferences, and a large favor of making it $2,000.

Accident to Rev. F. M. Houghton. Rev. F. M. Houghton, of Middletown, who onducted the Universalist services in New Britain Sunday, was riding in his carriage, returning home, in Middletown, with Miss near Stanley quarter the horse was fright ened and in suddenly turning turned the were not injured. The horse ran and was aught.

but on neither point is there any certainty. Silver Weddings. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hendrick celeorated their silver wedding at their residence 4 Martin street, last evening. There was a arge attendance of relatives and friends of the worthy couple, and the presents were elegant and numerous. Among those present of the family were Chief Hendrick, Gen. L. A. Dickinson and wife of Hartford, J. M. D. Hendrick and wife, Major William Hendrick and others. The American band, with which Mr. Hendrick has been connected since its organization, were present in force and discoursed elegant music. During the evening Capt. James Thompson, the bass sented to Mr. Hendrick an elegant swinging silver ice pitcher and gold lined goblets as a of token of appreciation from his comrades of the band. Mr. Hendrick replied briefly and feelingly to the sentiments expressed. A countiful collation was provided for the guests, and the entire affair was of that nembered by all the participants. Enos A. Hale, the popular deputy postmaster, and wife celebrated their silver wedding last evening at their residence, 250 Orchard street. The house was crowded with lady and gentlemen friends of the worthy couple, and the presents were numerous and very elegant. Among these was a splendid silver tea set presented by the postoffice clerks, and an elegant silver ice pitcher, collation were included in the programme It was a most enjoyable occasion to all con

Fair Haven East has its borough election probably this growing and enterprising section will ever have, unless another intervenes between now and next September, when an nexation goes into effect.

A storekeeper estimates that there wer 100 first of May removals this year in Fair Haven, principally between Quinnipiac and Mill rivers.

Unfortunately May has no R in it, but the sale of oysters is unusually large, which is owing to the cool weather. Old residents who admire Hemingway town are gratified to see that the woods and fine shade trees are giving signs of verdure at last. Yesterday's weather, cool but fine, gave an almos perceptible start in the putting forth of the foliage.

The school teachers mostly have remained a straying away far from the sound of the school session call.

commenced. This action of the Senate, however, does not signify that the contest over the election of officers has yet terminated. Some of the Republican Senators openly declare in favor of resuming this fight as soon as the public service shall be relieved of its embarrassment by the confirmation of such nominations as are necessary to fill vacancies. The plan of action ratified by the Republican caucus looks to this end, and the Senate may remain in session all summer yet.

to be considered contested nominations among those already in the hands of the committees, or as to what opposition might be expected to any of them. An hour and a half was consumed in referring nominations, and the Senate then took up Chinese treaties. The first treaty considered was than concerning immigration. home and who live on little abroad, be prevented from swarming to these shores to the detriment and almost ruin of home laborers. Senator Hoar made a speech over an hour long full of defense of the rights of all people to come to these shores. The bird of freedom would shriek to learn that men of any nation were to be denied full privileges to protection under her broad wings. Such a proposition was preposterous and obnoxious to the good sense of all liberty loving people. Mr. Hoar avoided details, but was outspoken and even bitter in his denunciation of the California idea on general principles of liberty and under the spirit of the Constitution. Senator Miller, of California, began or announced a speech and will be heard in reply to Senator Hoar at to-morrow's executive session. A Boy Again.

Pain and sickness bring on old age with fearful rapidity. They make an incessant drain on the vital forces, and the weary steps and faded cheeks of age often come when the enjoyment of life should be at its highest. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" turns this kind of old age into youth again. Headache, pains in the limbs, troubles of the liver, bowels or kidneys vanish before it, and feeble men and women beceme like rollicking school boys and girls once more. GREATER INDUCEMENTS. AND LOWER PRICES

New Haven One Price Clothing Co.

Beyond a question of doubt this sale, both for magnitude and low prices excels all attempts hitherto made in this country.

May 1st,

We take possession of and occupy in connection with our present one, the store numbers 101 CHURCH STREET, at present occupied by J. Johnson & Co., and we are determined f low prices will do it, to close out every dollar's worth of the New Haven One Price Clothing Co.'s stock previous to that date. We have this week consolidated several broken lots of Men's All Wool Suits and marked them $6.50 Per Suit. They formerly sold for $15, $16 and $18, and were marked down to $7.50, $8.50 and $9, but as the lots are broken we have made the above price to close them immediately. Another lot of Men's and Youths' All Wool Suits marked down to $5. The Coat is $2,75

Pants $1.75, Vest 50 cents—the cheapest suits ever shown in Connecticut. About 350 Men's and Youths' Fine Suits, goods made by the Washington, Cowan, Vassal ooro, Schaghticoke, Spring Brook and Globe woolen mills, were manufactured this season from the choicest styles in the market, and have never been sold less than $16, $18, $20, $22, $24. We shall close at prices ranging from $8.50 to $15 per suit. Several hundred pairs of Men's and Youths' Pants marked down to $1, $1.50, $2.50 and $3.50, worth double the price. Boys' and Children's Suits, Parts of Suits and extra Pants marked down to one-half
