OAK HALL. ON THIS DAY,

THURSDAY, JUNE 2d, 1881,

And will Continue during the Balance of the Season Spring has Left Us and Summer Now Comes

And with it we hope such weather that will cause a general laying aside of old garments, and putting on of new. All business men admit the backwardness of the season has caused a general depressing influence upon trade, and therefore many are caught with too many goods on hand at the present time. We have decided to commence our Special and Extraordinary Sale, and give the People a Grand Benefit, rather than wait till it fearful to contemplate the making of the end of the season, as customary with us. It is fearful to contemplate the making of such reductions upon new goods, but the scalpel is wielded by a dextrous hand and must do its work.

Throughout Every Department we are showing Rare Bargains, which will be appreciated by all who are good judges.

No Deception Practiced at Oak Hall. We do not mark up our Price Tickets and then mark them down again to make bogus REDUCTIONS and gull the public; but transact our business in an honest way, and which REDUCTIONS and gulf the public; but transact our business in an honest way, and which is conceded by all who become our patrons. Among our numerous bargains to which we would call your attention, we have a great variety of MEN'S BUSINESS SUITS at fabulously low prices, many of them at less than the cost to manufacture. Please read this advertisement all through, and come and let us show you, whether you intend to purchase or not. It is a pleasure with us to show our goods, and by doing so we may induce you to invest a few stamps in exchange for value received.

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL TUNNEL Little has been heard lately on this side the ater concerning the tunnel which sagacious pitalists and daring engineers are intending o drive under the English channel, but this ack of information is not due to any lack of onfidence in the scheme or any check to its progress. On the contrary everything is oing on "swimmingly," so to speak. The trial driftway has advanced three hundred yards, and already a large rise is recorded in the shares of English and French railroads connecting with the proposed tunnel, and it is said that so-called "Parts" or thousandths of the tunnel charter, franchises and concession have sold at 80,000 francs each. These 'Parts," numbering one thousand, are mostly held by a syndicate of the Rothschilds and their friends, who seem to be sanguine of the final success of the great enterprise. Thus far the indications are certainly encouraging The engineer encounters nothing but gray chalk, which the borer readily enters. The cutting apparatus is driven by compressed air, and alices off chalk to the depth of quarter of an inch with each revolution, which occupies half a minute. There is no trouble from water, and the net result of day's work of ten hours is about twenty-five feet. This is at the rate of a mile in 211 days. The work in the full-sized tunnel will necessarily proceed more slowly than in the driftway, which is only seven feet in diameter. The completion of the tunnel between England and France will require many years of labor and an enormous outlay under the most favorable circumstances. At present it can be said that the project is feasible if the chalk continues ail the way beneath the Channel. The plan is to descend gradually from the French coast, following the natural dip of the chalk deposit until a depth of 200 feet below the average bed of the (hannel is reached; then to run a level toward the English coast, making an easy ascent to an outlet on that side. The progress of this great work will watched with much interest all over the world. If it succeeds it will be an important factor in the commercial and social relations between England and France, and will be a rare triumph of engineering skill. It will also prevent a great deal of sea sickness.

> The electric division of the Patent office at I Washington has been a busy place since the the telephone began. There have already been issued 250 patents relating to telephones and 175 relating to the electric light, and there are now about 350 applications pending for the electric light patents, and a large number for telephones.

While we of the North have been harassed and made ill-tempered by continued bad weather, our southern brethren have been enjoying the most delightful days. The season in the South is said to have been so far unusually pleasant, the only drawback being the want of rain, little having fallen since the early part of April. We would not have begrudged them a few drops from our

The French Canadians who live in Mass chusetts are naturally not pleased at being called "the Chinese of the Eastern States, as they were by Hon. Carroll D. Wright i his recent report of the labor statistics of the State, and an indignation meeting has been held at Marlboro, Mass., where there are about 2,000 French Canadians, who are as essed for about $108,000 worth of property. It is possible that Mr. Wright's charges ha been too comprehensive, but it is a fact that as a class the French Canadians are the most undesirable immigrants that come to the

The Cincinnati board of education has decided to dismiss all female teachers who are married. The Hartford Post makes the following sensible comment on this proceeding 'If, as mothers, they continued as teacher it is possible that their teaching qualitie would be improved. The trouble with many unmarried female teachers is that their interest in teaching is more with reference to personal support during the courtship period than to the education of children; and it is perhaps an open question whether a woma who is already married is not, on the whole quite as well qualified to teach as one who is not married but wants to be."

An invention has just been made by a firm of German gun-manufacturers which prom ises to add very greatly to the power of artillery. Hitherto the fear of premature explo sions during the transport or filling of shells has prevented any large employment of nitro glycerine, and certain other extremely vioent but easily inflammable explosives, for the purpose of charging them. It is claimed for the new invention that it will enable such ubstances to be used without danger. The nterior of the shell is divided into a number of cells, which are to contain substances nonexplosive in themselves, but which, when mbined, form a powerful explosive. The lin, between the suburb of Lichtenfelt and the cadet school, a distance of nine kilometres, or over five miles, is now in regular use for passengers, and is giving great, and, to wit, the discussion of and the examination for passengers, and is giving great, and, to the public, unexpected satisfaction. The rails are of the ordinary railroad pattern, but the gauge is only a single metre. A speed of thirty miles an hour is easily at tainable. Some of the advantages of the employment of electricity as a power are stated as follows: A great saving in the force required to move the train, as there is force required to move the train, as there is now a monopoly, owning all of the water no boiler, water or coal required to be carsources within certain miles of New Haven, and therefore we have no recourse but to ried with it. The cars can be built much lighter, as no dead weight is transported, and are much more easily controlled by the brakes in stopping. The electric engine occupies little space underneath the car, is of cupies little space underneath the car, is of than $1,500,000, and that is all we know.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A Sunday Evening Nuisance. o the Editor of the Journal and Couries: The renewed complaint in regard to newssupplemented by a plea for some relief from excitement concerning the electric light and a similar annoyance in a limited portion of the telephone began. There have already the city's chief thoroughfare. Allusion is made to the company of young men and boys who invariably assemble every pleasant Sabbath evening on the corner of York and Chapel streets under the shadow of the Cal-vary Baptist church. Their noise and rude conduct is a great disturbance and discom-fort to the residents of that neighborhood, as well as to all persons who have occasion to pass that way. Is there no remedy for this

INQUIRER. To the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURSES : For several years I have had the opi hat this country should have at least a shar in the ocean carrying trade, and that at least one line of fast mail steamers under the American flag should run from New York to Liverpool or some other convenient port in Great Britain. Americans probably travel more than any other people, and also export an enormous quantity of merchandise. For means of transport they are almost entirely dependent on foreign nations who give their steamship lines government aid, and who re-turn much benefit to their respective coun-tries. It seems to be conclusively proved that at present an American line of steamers, even if bought in England at the same place where the English buy theirs, could not flourish without a subsidy, for the American line from New York to South America had to be withdrawn on account of British compe-tition. It surely could not have been the Water, City Bonds, Taxes and Men. o the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURIER : We all know that the present is a period o which men get rich, some of them very rich, is evidence of this being (as ex-Judge Blyden-burgh remarked in private conversation a few days ago) "the selfish period." And he added, "All the virtues of man and ministers To win, and come out ahead, is an endorsement, regardless (in most cases) of the means employed and its effect upon those who are crushed or robbed. Character, influence and osition are largely measured by money, and et we remember that "Peter the Hermit," hat modest monk in olden time, by his per-sistent addresses to the people, overslaughed How often we hear nowadays when things go wrong, "Well, what of it? How much can you make by interfering with it? Better mind your own business and make a dollar than bother your head about other people's chemes," etc., etc., until it has become un-ashionable to venture to cross other men's aths to wealth. To a certain extent, there is nothing new in these truisms; men and measures have their day, and the writer well remembers, when he was younger, what was said to the late Sam nel St. John, when he lived at the Tontine, before he purchased the house now owned and occupied by Mr. Sargent. A young man who frequently called upon Mr. St. John was often instructed by him in ways of wisdom, and one avening in this wise: "I am sorry combined, form a powerful explosive. The walls of the cells must therefore be broken up before an explosive charge is formed within the shells; and the inventor proposes to make these partitions of such strength that, while they will withstand ordinary jolting, they will be shattered by the shock to which a projectile is subjected when fired from a gun.

The young man was somewhat restive under the constant teachings his visits were turned into, and replied: "Yes sir. That remark by Judge Daggett weighed $40,000. If you had made it it would have weighed $300,000, and if I had made it it would have weighed nothing." What followed we will leave out.

that every man who says one word in that little room is criticised and becomes a marked man, no matter which side he may take. Therefore few go there. Everyone who speaks is criticised the next day. Besides it is a subject which cannot be discussed by allowances of five or ten minutes, and the committee having no facts to present (not having ascertained any) are, like the auditors, "all in a bag;" and when they and their auditors get through their public hearings and talkings, they will be like Doctor Jewett's story of the boy the calf run over, who when asked replied, "I hain't nothing to say. I hain't seen no calf."

This "selfish period" dates back a decade or two, and includes to the issuing of $500.000 town bonds for the Air Line railroad. It was got up the same way. A meeting or two was held; a committee was appointed, and they went off in carriages for a day or two, and one of them, one morning just before the town meeting was to be held, wrote up a report, and on that report and some action by the meeting the voting places were opened and 10,000 voters were invited to vote "yes" or "no" as to issuing $500,000 of town bonds. vote "yes" or "no" as to issuing $500,000 of town bonds. And when the votes were first counted they had to take out of the boxes a part of the "yes" votes, for in some wards here were too many in the box for the ward. these circumstances I am willing to take one side of this question—"no" as to purchase—and discuss it, if some one will take the "yes" side, and each be at liberty to write three articles. The Maniac's Love

From the Washington National Republican. He had never seen her or her photograph -had never heard of her; never knew her name—yet for twenty-eight years had he lov-ed her in secret. He was stone blind, and had lost both legs in the battle of Cold Harbor; but, undaunted, he wandered o'er the earth seeking for the idol of his heart. Ten years more passed, and still he sought her; but she knew it not. At last he met her. She was standing in front of her father's house, which was close by the river, watch Post.

The most considerate tramp that has visited Texas this season stopped at a house on Austin avenue yesterday and asked for some dinner. A good square meal was given, including a large cup of coffee. After he had finished his cup of coffee, he leaned back in the chair and said to the kind hearted lady in the house. "I would like to make you a business proposition." "What is it?" "If you loss, which was close by the river, watching the little fishes making fish-balls. She gazed wistfully at him with corns on her feet. His eagle eye fell upon her, but she caught it before it reached the earth. He longed to press her to his bosom, but he could not stir, he was rooted to the ground: and the old man came out of the house and dug him up. But his heart ceased to beat—he was dead. Then she—she whom he adored—approached soft-live and taking his hand, led him to the was ly, and, taking his hand, led him to the water's edge, and, as he gazed upon the beautiful dome of the Capitol. seized him around the waist and flung him far out upon the bosom of the river. be Increased $50,000. The annual convention of the Church for the diocese of Connecticut opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Thon as' church. There was a large attendance of both clergy and laymen despite the heavy rain. The attendance included many laymen of prominence in the State, and there were many distinguished clergymen present. At the morning service Rev. Dr. Jewett of Trinity church, Norwich, Rev. Mr. Bodley of Christ church, New Canaan, Rev. Dr. Olmstead of Branford, and Rev. Dr. Vibbert of Fair Haven, officiated. The choir was augmented for the occasion. The discourse was by Rev. Dr. Powers, of Bridgeport. The sermon was an excellent interpretation of the attitude the church should take in the present day. The Christian religion is indestructible, and though surrounded with dangers cannot be overcome. The condition of the world in this age is just what previous ages have made it. He pleaded for more unity in essentials; for more spirit and less reliance upon form. In the evangelization of mankind the Episcopal Church had a great work to-day, and its methods were being adopted by other denominations. The offertory was for missionaries in the

The holy communion was celebrated by Bishop Williams, assisted by Dr. Deshon of Meriden, and the other clergy in the chancel. In the afternoon, after proceeding to the lection of a secretary, Rev. Mr. Tremaine of this city, being honored with a re-elecion, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Williams delivered his annual address. During the past year he bishop visited churches, chapels, mission and places to the number of 125. In the ourse of these visitations and at other imes he officiated 219 times, preached and delivered confirmation and other addresse 252 times; administered holy communion thirty-four times; baptized two adults and one infant; solemnized four marriages; offi-ciated at six burials and confirmed 1,146 persons. Four persons have been ordained to the diaconsts, eight descons have been ad-vanced to the priesthood, fourteen clergy-men have presented letters dismissory and have been received into the diocese, and thirteen clergymen have received letters dis-missory. During the year there were five deaths among the clergy of the diocese. There are at this time twenty-five candidates r priests and deacons' orders. Three nurches were consecrated during the year and two were reopened.

Referring to the revised edition of the New Testament, the Bishop spoke of the 1812 Strahan edition of the Bible, adopted in 1823 by the General Convention as the standard Bible of the Episcopal Church, a canon being passed providing for the correction of new editions by it, and no other Bible can be legally used in divine service.

Colonel Tubbs permitted the question. The result was a conference between the members and the conclusion that none had formed or expressed an opinion adverse to Colonel Bacon.

Bishop's fund, the fund for the mainteance of the Bishop. One speaker thought it ould be easy, comparatively so, to raise this $50,000. He said the product of the present fund was less than it used to be. The decline in the productiveness of many varieties of investments in the last year or two was known to all. Now the fund must be increased to render an adequate support. The speaker made a strong appeal to the pride of the conference in support of the

Rev. Drs. Judge Advocate Harrison-Certainly. In reply to the customary question as to hether any member of the board had expressed an opinion adverse to the capability of Lieutenant Colonel Bacon as a military officer, Judge Harrison asked if the ques tion was intended to be in effect like the one customarily asked of a candidate for a place on the jury. General Smith said the board should be composed of men who had not expressed an opinion adverse Reference was made to the subject of procuring legislation in favor of a reform in the divorce laws. The Bishop noted the petition presented by Episcopalians of the State to the Legislature in 1868, 1869 and 1870, and of the canons passed by the General Convention on the subject. He called attention to the fact that the annual average of divorces in this State for the fifteen years from 1864.

In the afternoon after t n minutes spent in waiting for Colonel Bacon and the witness, who did not appear, Colonel Bacon being sick, the objection to Major Goodrich was withdrawn, and Major Goodrich stated that he had made no statement as alleged, and was surprised that he should have been charged with making one. Lieutenant Prentice, the secretary of the court, confirmed Major Adjutant General Harmon then stated the this court was ordered chiefly because of in formation and belief contained in a letter he and which lay the fault at Lieutenant Conel Bacon's door. Trouble has existed the Second regiment for some time, and order to, if possible, remedy this trouble ment is a good regiment, but not so good a regiment as it should be, considering the material it has at hand, and that this is a fact is due in great part to the troubles existing among the field officers of the regiment. In common with the Governor, he thought the troubles should be remedied and this court was accordingly ordered. He hoped that the court would make a thorough and patient investigation of the facts in this case and make a full and complete report establishment of an episcopal residence, that the head of the diocese might not be destitute of a place on which to lay his head. All listened with great attention and finally all from the facts may implicate a in any way responsible for the troubles in the regiment. If this investigation should result in implicating anyone beside Colone great attention and finally all great attention and finally all faces gave signs of suppressed merriment and occasionally general laughter was occasioned. The speaker spoke vigorously with a good command of rhetoric and sat down leaving all refreshed by the episode, ready to resume the discussion. Considerable interest was excited to know the name of the speaker.

He was formarly a index for twenty variance of the speaker.

Judge Harrison said that he said that he statement spoken of was verbal.

If there is any subatantial question whether the nuisance is of a character to call into action your jurisdiction and powers, it would be better to have the question settled by the judgment of a court before you inter-fere. A prosecution (criminal) for maintain-ing a public nuisance is frequently resorted to to determine that question. to determine that question.

If the court should determine this establishment to be a public nuisance your course would be clear, and generally it is best in a manufacturing business, lawful in itself, to wait until the question of nuisance is judicially determined.

The clerk might be instructed to make the proper complaint.

There is nothing stated in your communication to me that would warrant you in prosecuting to abate that establishment as a nuisance; yet it may be of such a character as to require your action.

The rights, and the wrongs particularly, o parried women have long since passed the stage when they can be laughed at. Thirty years ago the dismal story provoked a ghastly nerriment, but Governor Hubbard states the exact truth when he says, "The old common law assumed the subjugation of the wife and stripped her of the better part of her rights of person and nearly all her rights of prop erty. It is a matter of astonishment," says the good Governor, "that Christian nations should have been willing for eighteen centuries to hold the mothers of their race in a ondition of legal servitude. It has been the scandal of jurisprudence." Every thoughtful woman in this country will feel grateful for these stirring and deci The convention of repre

It is reported also that a cow shed near by wed the effects of lightning.

During the storm yesterday afternoon th lightning struck a house corner of Kimberly and Greenwich avenues, in which lived Mr Elkins, an employe of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. Several panes of glass were broken and a knife and fork were sent whizzing out of the hands of one of the inmates. While there was a general shaking up of contents in the house, no one was seriously injured and no great damage done. It is said that the house was "protected" by lightning rods.

Our Guilford correspondent says: "The oyster business continues to attract considerable attention. Fourteen hundred acres off Madison and adjoining the Guilford town line have been located during the past week, supposed to be in the interest of Fair Haver parties. In Guilford harbor and north of Faulkner's Island thirty-two hundred acres have been located, and there is more ground that may be appropriated or secured for the same purpose.

Mr. Lewis, of Meriden, and other par ties have secured a large tract to the west-ward of Faulkner's Island, and it is said that there is a large tract of good oyster ground south of the above named island, in from 15 to 20 fathoms of water, where steam dredging can be practiced.

bills killed by vetoes. A row came near breaking up the conference and the Cornell suggestion was dropped for the purpose of restoring harmony.

The stalwarts to night say they will prove that Bradley's charge against Sessions is true and will show that the money used was procured by the half-breeds in Depew's cause and through the Vanderbilt interest. The stalwarts say they will ask to have subposized both the president and ctahier of the Utica bank; in which Senstor Woodin does his banking to show whether the identical bills paid Bradley were not paid out on a check emanating from the Central road influence. In connection with this the stalwarts to night hint that it is not impossible that they will raise the question whether Sessions did not get $4,000 to use in the transaction and keep $2,000 himself. Conkling is indignant over the report that he will go on the ticket with Depew. To night referring to the report he denied it in the strongest language possible, and said that under no circumstances would he go on a ticket with that creature, as he called Depew, and referred to Depew as the king of the lobby. The half breeds on the other hand say that Conkling has actually made overtures to them to compromise on a ticket made up of himself and Depew, and up of himself and Depew and up of himself and Depew, and up of himself and Depew and up of himself and Dep

Albant, June 14.—The vote for Senator in the joint convention to-day showed little change, the principal candidates for the short term polling votes as follows: Conkling 31, Jacobs 50, Wheeler 23 and Rogers 21. The vote for the long term resulted the same as yesterday's ballot. In explaining his vote for Rogers for the long term Assemblyman Congdon, of Cattaraugus, said that he had from the first voted against Conkling

He also admitted that he said at the probability even of Sitting Bull seeking that time that he could get $5,000 for voting for Depew, and that members had been ofshelter at the fort. The Indians at Woody for Depew, and that members had been of-fered $1,000 not to sign the call; when pinned down he admitted that of his own knowledge he knew of no Senator or member who had been offered or would take money to influence his vote. This admission de Commander Montgomery Sicard was to because so much bribery was going on. One very important fact came out in Mr. Bradley's testimony, and that was in regard to his brief speech when arising to a question of privilege to make the exposure. Both Mr. Sharpe and Mr. Bradley have in previous testimony asserted that they had told everything that was said and done during the interview at the room where Bradley came to the Speaker. Now Bradley says he wrote his speech in that room while the speaker was counting the money. This adds another to the already crowded list of things that happened during that seven minutes. The committee then took a recess in order to be present at the joint convention.

The committee met again at 3 o'clock. Senator Sessions was placed on the stand for cross examination. He said he was what is called a half-breed, although he though the was a full-blooded Republican. He mentioned several offices he had held since 1865. It was Senator Forster who gave witness the rumor that Bradley had connected his name with the charge of bribery. The witness didn't know that his public character had ever been the subject of judicial or legislative day appointed chief of the bureau of ordrequired will, it is believed, effectually check the evil complained of.

General Raum to day announced to the col-lectors of internal revenue that there was no provision for the payment of salaries of store-keepers and gaugers beyond June 20. The amounts advanced for the payment of such salaries will be considered on that basis, ouchers will be rendered up to that date, with a separate account and unreceipted for the balance of the month. A Congressional appropriation for this purpose was much less than the estimate and the expense is compul-sory. Congress will be asked to make a special appropriation to meet this emergency.

The report of the investigating committee in regard to the disbursement of the contin-gent fund is in the hands of Secretary Win-dom. He stated this evening that he had de mentioned several bills in the interest of which he was here at that time. Witness knew Bradley eleven or twelve years. Since Bradley came to the Legislature last January both had been stopping at the same hotel; their families were also stopping there and were intimate. Bradley lift June 8, the day Bradley said witness attempt ed to bribe him. Witness couldn't remamber whether he went to the upper floor in the elevator or by the stairway. Wouldn't be sure whether he went into any other room than Woodin's; might have gone to Barber's room; could hardly remember whether on any particular day he went into either or not. Witness had all along been a Depew man. He any particular day he went into either or not. Witness had all along been a Depew man. He had for two days voted for Miller and Rogers, and since then had voted for Rogers and Depew. He had done all he honestly could to induce members to vote as he was doing, but so far had failed to get a single vote. In the half-breeds caucus on the single vote.

single vote. In the half-breeds caucus on the night of June 8 witness did announce that he thought he could pledge another vote for Depew on the following day. He did not mention Bradley as the man, though he meant him, feeling sure he was sincere in what he had said about changing his vote. He had said that the new vote would be for Depew, not knowing who Bradley would vote for for Conkling's place. When he announced that he thought he could pledge the vote he believed Bradley's change would be the result of what had transpired between them that day and the result of the talk between witness and Bradley. He did not think Bradley's change would be the result of any particular influence witness had exercised over him, but of the fact that Bradley was convinced he was voting against 30 the matter must now be mutually agree between Captains Brandagee and Collins.

At the half-breed caucus to-night some members suggested that the half-breeds should concentrate on Cornell for Conkling's place, when Mr. Sheldon made a fierce speech denouncing Cornell for his recent action in vetoing certain bills, specifying the bills and dwelling especially on the Governor's action in relation to certain items in the supply bill. Wednesday Morning, June 15, 1881. The Bacon Memorial at Akron, Ohio ays: "Thursday, June 2, was a great and otable day in the township of Tallmadge." After describing the procession on the occasion it adds: "Next after the band rode the honored guests of the day—the Rev. Leonard Bacon, D. D., of New Haven, Ct.; the Rev. L. W. Bacon, Norwich, Ct., and two Misses Bacon, daughter and granddaugh ter of the venerable divine first named. These nembers of the Bacon family had come to witness the placing of a memorial stone on the spot where the Rev. David Bacon built his cabin when Tallmadge was literally a howling wilderness."

In describing the spot it says: After a few minutes' delay a farther advance was nade on foot, through a broad pathway where the grain had been prematurely cut lown, into the center of an adjacent wheat field on the land of Thomas Brittain. Here was found the memorial stone, a huge boulder of granite, whose estimated weight is at least five tons. It rested on the very spot where had been discovered the ruins of the chimney in the old Bacon cabin-on a the chimney in the old Bacon cabin—on a little eminence near a spring of most delicious water. The north face of the stone presented to view the following inscription, neatly cut in capitals: "Here the first church in Tallmadge was gathered in the house of Rev. David Bacon, Jan. 22, 1809. June 2, 1881." The formality of "placing" the stone was gone through with by Dr. Leonard Bacon, and by him a few words were spoken touching the identification of the spot, and a prayer was offered. Then, at the suggestion of Mr. I. P. Sperry, who had charge of the exercises, the people returned to the grove and sat before the speakers' platform.

After the opening exercises the Rev. Dr.
Leonard Bacon, of New Haven, whom all were anxious to hear, arose. He told how some seventy-four years ago, in the month of May, a little family set out from Hudson in May, a little family set out from Hudson in this county in a wagon, crossed the Cuyaho-ga river, he could not say where, and finally arrived one nightfall at the spot where now stands the memorial stone. He told of the father, in the vigor of manhood; the mothfather, in the vigor of manhood; the mother, a brare young woman of twenty-four; the wee ones, himself, then aged five, the oldest of them. He traced the experience of that family through the few years of their stay in Tallmadge, laying special stress on the church event commemorated on the stone, and described their departure for Connecticut in 1812. The trials and privations of that family, the heroism and patience of the mother, the struggles and hopes and disappointments of the father—the David who had gathered the first church, the final fruition and rich realization of the plans that once seemed to the first church, the final fruition and rich realization of the plans that once seemed to have reached such disastrous end—all these things are a part of the well known history of Tallmadge: but Dr. Bacon reviewed them with such a peculiar tenderness and pathos, born of intense filial love, that everyone listened as eagerly as if the tale were then for the first time being told. Then the son, the Rev. Leonard W. Bacon of Norwich, son of Dr. Bacon, known far and wide among Christian people through his writings, spoke

Dr. Bacon, known far and wide among Christian people through his writings, spoke briefly but very aptly and with evident emotion. He expressed his keen appreciation of the public interest shown in the doings of his grandsire in this (Tallmadge) township.

Mr. C. C. Bronson, of Tallmadge, read a very interesting paper showing the growth of Congregationalism in that town; and addresses were made by Theodore Bacon of dresses were made by Theodore Bacon of Rochester, the Rev. Dr. Bidwell and others. In the notes by the editor of the Beacon we find the following paragraphs of inter-er of these chronicles that Tallmadge to day furnishes a better example of Connecticut life and manners, pure and undefiled, than does the average Connecticut town. The old commonwealth has absorbed such an imthe spot of land one rod square once oc-cupied by the Bacon cabin has been deeded to the Rev. that of Father Gavazzi at the morning service at the North church. It was profoundly doctrinal and logical also. He read with much feeling from Paul's Epistle to the Romans, the third chapter, saying it was written to his Italian countrymen, the Romans.

To that famous people, after their conquest of all the then known world and subduing remote barbarous nations, was committed the nobler task of spreading the Christian religion far and wide over the subject peoples. He chose for his text and subject, Justification by faith, not by works, but God's free gift. And, he added, not by mere faith. That is the instrument as it were. Salvation comes by real vital belief in Jesus Christ. All the grace, power and the shining characteristics of Christianity have true faith, simple belief, as their source and their rock foundation. He vividly set forth the fallacy of the doctrine of papacy that our own works help to save us. If this be so, then man saves himself and no need of God, no need of any Saviour. Alluding to this important era if the world's history, and the need to have every Christian hear and obey the gospel call, no one can say he has no special call. All around is the cry and the call. Have you not heard? pointing to heaven, he said; I stand here now in this pulpit and give you mans, the third chapter, saying it was writ-

DR. J. L. LYON,

THE old reliable physician, located in New Haven since May, 1854, (27 years), has removed his office from 195 Chapel street to 49 Church street, Room 11. Hoadley Building, opposite Postofiles, up one night of stairs; entrace either at 49 Church street or 67 Crown street. Dr. Lyon will continue as heretofore to treat all diseases of every name and nature, with that marvelous success which long years of experience has given him. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients snatched from the brink of the grave now rejelcing in the perfection of health attest the uncerving skill of Dr. Lyon. He especially invites those whose diseases under other methods of treatment have remained intractive, to call upon him. Visit him and he will at once describe your condition. Perhaps you would have been cured if your physician had understood your case.

If you have tried for health and failed, it is no reason why you should not try again. Health is precious to all, and if he cannot relieve your case he will tell you so. He can refer you to meny, perhaps worse than you are, that were given up by their physicians and friends, who now enjoy good health. He will describe your case so clearly that you will know he perfectly understands your disease. It is something of grest importance to you, although very easily accomplished by him, though no more wonderful than true. It is only the starting point to health for the physician to understand your disease, and then administer the simple remesy to remove that disease. Come, he will do you good. You may be fatthless, he will give you faith by his perfect knowledge of your disease. Come, he will do you good. You may be fatthless, he will give you faith by his perfect knowledge of your disease. Come, he will cure that cough, pain in the head, side and back, remove that cold, sinking or burning at the stomach, stiff joints, rheumatism, gout, fever sores, cancers, sait rheum, crysipelas. DR. J. L. LYON.

Dr. Lyon she sent the following letter, earnestly requesting that it should be published in the hope that it might reach others similarly sifficied:

To all who may be afflicted with that common disease, Communition, or any weakness of the lungs, I would appeal to them to immediately consult Dr. John L. Lyon, of New Haven, Conn., feeling sure that by so doing they may be restored to health. For several years I was troubled with a cough, hemorrhage of the lungs and the usual symptoms of Consumption. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians the country afforded, without deriving any permanent benefit whatever. In the spring of 1863 the disease made such rapid progress that my attending physician and friends gave up all hopes of my recovery. On the 16th of May, 1863, I consulted the above named Doctor. I was at that time reduced to a perfect wreck of my former self, coughing incessantly, and it would seem just on the verge of the grave. After the usual examination, he kindly but plainly informed me as others had done, that my discase was incurable; that I had but a few months to live. Having great counidence in his skill. I insisted upon his treating my case. He did so, and with astonishing success. In twenty days from the time I communed the use of his medicines, my cough was less frequent. I suffered no more from hamorrhage of the lungs, and day by day found the terrifying symptoms of Consumption disappearing, and was gradually regaining health. It was treated by him one year-at the end of that time I can truly say I was restored to perfect health. It is now March, 1865, and no symptoms of the disease are felt. I have reason to feel sure that I shall suffer no return of the disease, and it is not only a pleasure to me, but a duty I feel Fare $1, including Berth. Tickets for the Round Trip. $1.50.
