Thursday Morning, Oct. 5, 1882. STATE REPUBLICAN TICKET

FOR GOVERNOR. WILLIAM H. BULKELEY, of Hartford FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. JOHN D. CANDEE, of Bridgeport. FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

STILES T. STANTON, of Stonington. FOR TREASURER, JULIUS CONVERSE of Stafford. FOR CONTROLLER, FRANK D. SLOAT, of New Haven.

THE BARTFORD CONVENTION. Yesterday was a great day for the young emocrats of Connecticut, and a rather gloomy day for some of the old ones, who had combined their forces to scoure the nomination of Judge Morris. When the workers quite probable that the Democratic leaders who have been in the habit of bossing conecure another victory and that Mr. Morris would be nominated. But the young Demotheir work by nominating Waller on the first rightfully so. He is a good fighter, and has fought for Waller first, last and all the time and against great odds. He is fairly entitled to whatever benefit he can get from his vic-

Mr. Waller will, we suppose, have the united support of his party, though his nomination does not meet the approval of many of the older and more "judicious" Demo crats. He will make the campaign lively, and if there is any enthusiasm in the Democratic party of Connecticut no pains will be spared to evoke it. But how he will wear as candidate remains to be seen. One thing is certain. He will not draw recruits from the Republican ranks, and his "brilliancy" will suffer by comparison with the sound and stable qualifications of the Republican nomi nee for Governor. The Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, ex-Mayor Sumner of Hartford, is young, strong and popular, and deserves a better fate than awaits him. The platform adopted by the convention i, a curiosity, and whoever wrote it must have had a great deal of time. It is nearly a yard of "solid nonpareil" in length, and about half of it is devoted to expounding the Constitution of the United States. It advocates strict economy in the expenditure of public and a tariff for revenue only, with "incidental protection," purifying of the civil service and dent's veto of the River and Harbor bill; deounces the declaration of the Republican platform concerning the temperance question; protests against the "squandering" of public lands in gifts to great railroad corporations; declares that citizens traveling abroad should be protected by the federal government, and that convict labor should not compete unfairly with free labor. Full iberty of opinion as to the application of Democratic principles is also demanded. The oncluding paragraph of this remarkable docament says the life and character of the candidates of a political party ought to be in themselves a statement of its principles. If this is true and the candidates nominated are of the right kind the long and elaborate platform appears to be somewhat superfluous. EDITORIAL NOTES.

Cincinnati furnishes some instruction for the anti vaccinationists. Nearly all the reent victims of smallpox in that city were among the Germans, who, out there, it I said, do not believe in vaccination.

The prohibitionists of Cleveland are deter mined to keep their views before the public. They have hired a number of columns of one of the papers of the city, and their arguments are presented by the best writers they can command. On the editorial page these arguments are regularly and vigorously contro-

then Canada West, there was an immense growth of black walnut, but the farmers cut it all down and used it for firewood and fence rails. To-day walnut timber is worth many times what it was then, and gangs of men find profitable employment in fishing from the Thames river walnut logs that were sunk 30 to 40 years ago. An Ontario exchange advises any farmer who has a piece of swamp land to sow it with walnuts. The nuts will be a valuable crop in time, and in nuts will be a valuable crop in time, and in sun a number of enormous spots, which, on from 18 to 25 years the timber will be of the 17th, were on that portion of the sun great value. The next feature was the presentation o the resolutions, which are extremely lengthy, one of the longest set of resolutions ever adopted by a State convention in this State llence, and is filled out to perfection with ose inimitable delineators of character. They began by affirming substantially "Re- B. Morris, of New Haven, as that most likely those inimitable delineators of character, Press Eldridge and Harvey Collins. In other words they affirmed that the Demo-McIntyre & Heath & Specialty company appeared last evening at Carll's Opera House before a good sized audience, which, judging from their manifestations, were well entertained. The company contains some excellent variety artists, and some features alone of the performance were well worth the price of admission. Mr. Gallagher alluded to the Hubbell assessment. Officeholders must contribute or off go their heads. This being the case the party in power must be turned out. More than that, that same party has enacted a law to crush American industry. I have heard that we want protection to American industry. What does that mean? It means that 5,000 officeholders are appointed to collect excise dues from the people of this country. They can so arrange it that they can keep in power a horde of time-servers. The game that has been played with this internal revenue is a meaner game than ever gambler played to skin his victim. The speaker claimed the government favored monopolies, and that the internal revenue money is being landed into the United States Treasury by wholesale, and these robbers dip their arms into it; that some of the money went to Maine to in fluences the Maine election, and that the Ohio election is to be influenced the same way. but the teller plan prevailed. The convention now settled itself to hear the special talking. Mr. Williams, of Stonington, presented the name of Thomas M. Waller for Governor, a man who was the architect of his own fortune, and who as Mayor of New London and in the Legislature and as a platform speaker had covered himself with onor. Both the Old Guard and the young Democracy would rally around him. Waller's name was warmly applauded. A. N. Baldwin, of New Milford, said he de sired to present the name of an old friend, man of unassuming character, but who ha merits of his own, a true man, who would do credit to the State as well as to himself, if you choose to make him Governor. I take great pleasure in presenting the name of Luzon B. Morris, of New Haven, to the at-

It is a pleasant place to drive to winter or summer, and all orders by telephone will be attended to.

Relief for Railway Sufferers. The Pennsylvania Railroad company always keeps up with the times, and shows its good sense in ordering to be carried on each loco motive on its New Jersey division a supply of lint, bandages and liniment, for immediate use in case of disaster. A wounded traveler, thus relieved by Perry Davis' Pain Killer, which is the best liniment in the world, is almost as well off as if no accident had haporward and vote as their names were called, pened. Considering the frequency of unavoidable accidents, no train and no passenger ought to be without Perry Davis' Pair

The great planetary system was never more thoroughly exemplified than by the centrali cation of trade in New Haven. Where a certain branch of industry is inaugurated and proves a success, others seeing their prosperity soon follow. Consequently, in a short time the barren wastes are covered with immense manufactories sending their products to the furthermost corners of the globe. Thus it has proved with the Dry and Fancy Goods industry of New Haven. A man of small capital, but immense resources, so far as energy and perseverance go starts business in a very small way. His low prices made the croakers croak, and they gave him one month, then two months, then one year, in which to wind up weakness, night sweats, &c., should try his business, pack his valise and return to New York. Thirty years have passed, and still he is with you, occupying the third largest Retail Dry and Fancy Goods store in America. And as the larger planets attract smaller ones, similarly he attracts those who owe their ex istence and life to this great planet; or, to speak more explicitly,

The State Campaign-General Slocum to Run for Congressman-Howard Carroll to Succeed Hepburn-George William Curtis Goes Back on Folger. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.-General Henry W. Slocum this evening sent a letter of acceptance of the Democratic nomination for Congressman-at-large. Judge Charles Andrews this evening sent a letter of acceptance of the Republican nomi-nation for chief judge of the Court of Ap-George William Curtis has written a letter to Secretary William Potts of the New York Civil Service Reform association, in which he repudiates Folger. He says the advice published in Harper's Weekly was not his being written during his absence, and continues:

udge Folger's acility and character are not question, but his nomination is. That ation was procured by combined power of fraud and patronage, and to support it at the polls would be to acquiesce in fraud and patronage as legitimate forces in a nominat-ing convention. Every good citizen is bound to resist to the utmost such a wrong to free institutions, and the only effectual way in which the voters can emancipate themselves from the corrupt and debasing rule of a mathine is to defeat its candidates. This I be-lieve will be done decisively by the Republian voters of New York and Pennsylvania at the election of this autumn. They will see their party defeated rather than fraud and the corruption of patronage triumphant. Events in both States show that no graver poical peril now confron s the country than the complete subjugation of party by unscru-pulous cabals which bribe with public em-ployment and pay their way by filching from the public treasury. This is an evil which will end in violence unless it is conclusively rebuked by the people at the polls. It is stated positively this evening that Howard Carroll, son in law of John Starin, will be nominated by the Republican State committee next Tuesday for Congressman-at large, vice Hepburn declined. Carroll is said to be Folger's choice.

Dissensions between John F. Smyth, chair nan of the Republican State committee, and leorge H. Sharpe, chairman of the execuive committee, cause lukewarmness at the Republican headquarters, and delay in organzing the campaign. The Democratic forces are rapidly being organized and a feeling of confidence is apparent at their headquarters. Assignment By a Corset Maker. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Solomon Rosenbluth, ordered—That Commissioners to receive and examine the claims of the Creditors of said Estate be appointed at the Probate Office in New Haven, on the 10th day of October, 1882, at 9 o'clock forenoon; of which all persons in interest will take notice, and appear, if they see cause, and be heard thereon. oce 2t

Fatal Shock-A Workman Killed by Contact with Electric Light Wires. NEW YORE, Oct. 4 .- James Stamters, German in the employ of the Brush Electric Light company, accidentally received a shock from a line which he was adjusting at the corner of Elizabeth and Canal streets this morning and was almost instantly killed. He was at work at the top of a pole, making a new connection for the wire. When he received the shock he did not fall to the ground, but his foot caught in some telegraph wires elow him, and he hung suspended in the air. The foreman and two other line men with whom he was working immediately went to his assistance, and he was lowered to he ground by means of a rope. They carried him to the Elizabeth street station and an ambulance was summoned, but he did not regain consciousness, and when the surgeon arrived he was dead. The current must have passed through the arms and chest. The skin on the palms of both hands was hanging in strips as though it had pression of the man's face even in death was are already burned. There is a scarcity of one of intense agony. The foreman does not water and the engines can do no service. know how to account for the accident, as Stamters had been in the employ of burned the "L" and barn adjoining the resihe company for more than a year, NOVELTIES IN PENNY GOODS and was always considered to be a cautious street, and the main house was badly damman. He knew the danger which is incurred aged by smoke. The loss will reach several in handling wires through which a current is passing, and yesterday morning he had been engaged in readjusting several other "live wires," as they are called. The fore-man had warned him to be careful when he started to ascend the poles. The company had been erecting several new poles in Eliza-b th street, and the men were engaged in changing the wires from the old poles. In order to do this it is necessary in the case of "live wires" to put in what is called a "spare leg," or an extra piece of wire, so that when the original line is cut the circuit may not be broken. The wire had been cut by Stamters before he circuit had been made, and it is supposed that in turning round to get in a proper po-sition to complete his work his foot slipped and he caught the end of the wire he had ust cut without thinking what he was doing. The wire was one which supplied several Broadway stores and furnished electricity for forty lights. The engine by which the current is one of 125 horse power. In cases of this kind death usually results instantaneous-

y, and it is probable that Stamters did not get the full force of the current. PENNSYLVANIA.

The case of Matthew Fagan, of this city who was charged with the theft of a watch and chain from Charles N. Fairchild, a sailor, was tried, Lawyer Twiss appearing for the accused, who pleaded not guilty. The circurstances of the case are that Fairchild was made drunk, and while so he missed his watch. Fagan was the only person who was in his company. Fairchild found himself asleep in a down town lumber yard. The tolen property was never recovered and tes timony was taken which showed that Fair-child had the watch with him while Fagan was trying to get him drunk. The jury found him guilty. Fagan was sentenced to State prison for two years.

annual Meeting-Election of Directors-An Encouraging and Progressive Con-dition of the Institution. The annual meeting of the Young Men's nstitute was held last evening with a very fair attendance, the president, Major T. A. Barnes, in the chair. The following directors were chosen for three years: Earliss P. Arvine, Francis E. Harrison, Robert Baldwin, John D. Shelley, George H. Ford, Samu T. Dutton.

The tellowing resolution was passed, the debt referred to being about $1,200: Resolved. That the thanks of the Young Men's Institute are due and are hereby tendered to the contributors to the fund by which the debt of the Institute has been cancelled during the past year, and its opportunities for usefulness enlarged.

The report of the president, Mr. Barnes congratulates the members that for the first time in many years the Institute is free from debt-the old debt not only paid, but all accrued bills-and a balance left in the treasury of $227.27. This happy result has been brought about by the liberality of a few of our public spirited citizens, whose good work s appropriately acknowledged in the report. With pleasant rooms, an established constituency, and an assured income to provide for the same, the coming year should be one o increasing prosperity. During the year covered by the report there have been three hundred and eight annual and two hundred and ninety-eight semi-annual and quarterly members, an increase of thirtyeight annual and eighteen other mem bers over the previous year.
