Men's Furnishing Goods

is now replete with all the Latest Novelties in Scarfs, Ties and Bows. In men's Medium and Light Underwear we have splendid value, the Summer Merino Undershirt which we offer at 38c being fully equal to what we have often seen retailed at 50c. This is no exaggeration, but a simple statement of fact. Our 50c Merino Shirt is also uncommonly good quality at the price.

We have a splendid choice of new goods. See the line of children's Fine Cotton Hose in solid colors, (such as dark green, gamel wine, bronze, crushed strawberry, etc.), and silk clocked, full regular make, all sizes from 5 to 8½ at 25c a pair. There is no match for them in New Haven. Then see the other line in solid brown, blue and cardinal, not clocked, but of very superior quality, also at 25c,

In Ladies' and Children's Hosiery

Black Silk Hose, Colored Silk Hose, Embroidered, Fancy Bordered and HEMSTITCHED HANDKERCHIEFS in endless variety of exceedingly pretty new style Silk Taffeta and Lisle Thread Ladies' Gloves,

A superb assortment of new goods. A GREAT BARGAIN!

A large job lot of printed Mull and fine French Zephyr Fichus at 25c each, goods really worth twice and three times the price. It is early for these goods, but such a bargain will not be duplicated at any time. Please do not be misled by the low price on these. New Dress and Cloak Trimmings, Rat-tail Fringes, Crape Bell Fringes, New Gimps, Fouragieres and Ornaments. Jet, Pearl and Steel Buckle Ornaments.

The life of Peter Cooper, who died yesterery on the site of the present Bible House, opposite the Cooper Union. He was very successful in this business, and at the end of three years he was able to buy a glue factory, with all its machinery and buildings, and a lease for twenty-one years of three acres of ground. This factory brought a large revenue to Mr. Cooper, and it may be regarded as the source of his great wealth, since he continued in the same business till the close of his life. After Mr. Cooper got well started in the glue business he made numerous other business ventures on a large scale and with much profit. He was very successful in the iron business. His active mind was often engaged with some invention. and to show how long ago he anticipated many of the inventions that have at-

His financial theories were founded on what is called the 'flat' doctrine, namely, that the govern ment could create money by simply printing it and giving the printed slips of paper arbitrary values. His belief in this theory was undoubtedly genuine. He was also an enthusiastic supporter of the paternal theory of government. He believed that the national government ought to provide for the comfort and prosperity of the whole population so that there should be no more suffering and want. He was sometimes sposed upon, but the next applicant for aid ound him as patient and sympathetic as ever. A grander and more enduring monument than any that can be reared for him is the Cooper Institute. Early in life he had realized the great difficulties encountered by young people in seeking education in art and science. He determined to aid those who should come after him by placing within the reach of any one in his native city the means of getting such education as each person might most need. The building for the Cooper Union was begun in 1855, on its present site at the juncon of Third and Fourth avenues and Eighth street. The first cost-amounting to nore than $600,000—and all the expenses of the Union, which are about $50,000 a year, have been defrayed by Mr. Cooper. Thousands of deserving young men and women have already cause to bless Mr. Cooper for this noble deed, and thousands more will Mr. Cooper was shrewd and careful but honest and open in all his dealings, just, considerate, kind and courteous. He was repected and admired by the people of this ountry, who will long hold his memory in Camping with the Baby. "Bourgeois" sends from Denver to the Angler a bit of fisherman's painting of life at Pine Groqe, on the South Park railroad. In it occurs the following tender piece of wood-sketching: "It was determined that baby and I should tend camp for half an hour or so that afternoon while the three natu deck the tea table. This was no new bus ness to us. The young man, with a pillow a his back, seated in the middle of a blanket, rubbing his face with a teaspoon; I lying prone three feet away, with toes occasional tattoo on the soft sward, my chin in my hands and briar root between my teeth, watching him. There was a bright light in his eye, and his cheeks were rosy, soft as velvet yet firm and cool. MESSIES. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—

My little girl had the diphtheria last April.
with no appetite, and she could not seem to rally from its effects. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA was recommended by a nelghbor. After she had been taking it a few days we noticed a change for the better—she began to eat with a relish. It seemed to take out the poison the disease had left in her blood, the change being very noticeable in her face.
She took it two months and fully regained poison the disease had left in her blood, the change being very noticeable in her face. She took it two months and fully regained her health, much to our delight. We now recommend Hood's Sansaparilla with a great deal of pleasure. Very truly yours, J. R. SMITH, 19 Butterfield Street.

It was stated that the house enroached on the street, but it was in accordnce with a layout as ordered by the town, and hence was no encroachment. Corporation Counsel Driscoll called up the matter of layout of the Hartford and Harlem railroad through the city. His Honor the Mayor inquired if Mr. Driscoll had not had his instructions. Mr. Driscoll answered n the affirmative and said he proposed to ummon witnesses to carry out the wishes of n the affirmative and said he

Mayor Lewis insisted that the chairman o he committee on railroads positively refused o hear any evidence on the location of the Hartford and Harlem railroad, as that was a matter for the railroad commissioners and nobody else.

Attorney Hamilton, who was present, was called upon and stated that he had been before the railroad committee and at the re-quest of Mr. Driscoll he had represented him. He said that the question came up, and after considerable discussion the comnittee stated that they had heard enough and as they had got to have their reports all sociation to be held on Monday evening.

DIAMONDS,

From the Sunday Union, 1st inst.

'Having made himself famous as a Dry Goods Merchant, an artist with the rod and gun, and as patron of equine speed, Malley has rounded his reputation in becoming one of the 'literati' of the city. Not wishing to monopolize the benefits to be derived from this distinction, he has decided to open this avenue to renown to the public. To this end he effers for sale Ten Hundred Volumes of Books richly bound in Cloth and Gilt. The books are the production of some of the most popular authors who treat of history and fiction in the most fascinating manner. Malley would give these books to his patrons if it would not cast a reflection upon their ability to purchase. But he offers them for sale at the nominal price of Twenty-five cents. This must be regarded as the bonanza of the season. Similar remarkable prices are placed upon an immense stock of Note Paper, Envelopes, Pens, Inks, etc. No wonder that business is always driving at Malley's."

There may be a few people who imagine that the finest grades of goods cannot be found in our store. If they will take the time to investigate they will soon see their error, because we sell you One Hundred and Twenty Sheets of Note Paper, good quality, exirs white ruled for FIFTEEN CENTS, or a box containing 24 Sheets of Bronze Decorated Note Paper, in 4 designs, with 24 Envelopes at FIFTEEN CENTS. Don't think we have nothing better. We have all the latest novelties. We have the "Aligator" Paper, the "Polks Dot" Paper, Paper and Envelopes in all the new shades of Tan, Electric Bive, Cadet Bive, Terra Cotta, etc., at prices equally low, according to quality. Fifth center counter from Chapel street.

EDWARD MALLEY & CO.

When we purchased Five Thousand Volumes of Books, treating of History, Fiction, etc., and concluded to sell them at Twenty-five cents, we imagined that the supply would more than meet the demand, but in a few days this great number was nearly exhausted. We have succeeded in purchasing Ten Hundred more of the same and shall continue the low prices, cloth and glit bound. Fourth Center counter from Chapel street.

Dorsey was then read in evidence. By its terms Vaile is made tressurer and Miner sec-retary of the combination and the receipts from the service are to be divided among the partners in a varying proportion. Senator Dorsey had no interest in that partnership so Did you receive a telegram from General Brady while in Missouri? asked Mr. Henkle. I did, answered the witness. He was about to state the contents of his reply when the prosecution objected and after half an hour's cussion the reply was allowed by the art. Witness then stated that he replied court. Witness then stated that he replied that he would put in operation the routes of Miner, Peck and Dorsey. He quarrelled with Dorsey in 1878. Their differences were about certain drafts that had been hypothecated at a bank for indebtedness. Afterwards they divided their route by latitude. Witness took forty and Dorsey and Peck thirty. S. W. Dorsey represented J. W. Dorsey and the drawing took place at Dorsey's house. General Brady, he said, was not in. At 3 o'clock Vaile was turned over to Mr. Bliss for cross-examination, which was in Bliss for cross-examination, which was in progress when the court adjourned. He was closely questioned about his pleas in suits with Rerdell and on his letter to Dorsey in which he says that if a certain suit is allowed to go on the real parties in the firm of Minor, Peck & Co. will be revealed. In regard to the latter he admitted that if he had known what was coming he would never have used this language.

The Committee on Female Suffrage had their last hearing to-day. It is a settled fact that they will report adversely on the numerous bills on this subject that have been in-troduced. Mr. Lockwood, of Bridgeport, thought the action of yesterday a step in advance and did not want it recon-sidered. The motion to reconsider was finally tabled and the order of the day was taken up, being a bill giving the railroad commissioners pow-er to pass upon an application for a new railroad, and determine whether or not it is was heard through Representative Wright, of Branford, who stated that the committee were unanimous in their opinion that there should be additional accommodations, but they did not think it advisable to be confined to any particular piece of property. They thought land could be obtained in the rear of the present court house if desired.

Mr. Troup said there had been some talk to the property and not covertly. Under this bill the first association coming before the railroad commissioners would get a certificate, if any new railroad could get it. Three empeting roads are certainly not for the public convenience and necessity. A second certificate would therefore be refused the first association, which never meant to lay a rail, Mr. Troup said there had been some talk about the city of New Haven buying the and would have a monopoly of the privilege of building a new road, which they could sell out either to the old road or to some dations, and if this was done another site bona fide enterprise. Mr. Simonds, of Canton, acting under the unamimous instruction of the committee, said he offered amendments striking on the special yourset to appeal from the commissioners to the courts.

Mr. Glover, of Fairfield, offered an amendment doing away with the provision that the railroad shall publish in the newspapers notices of any hearing, and the names of all the proposed to be taken. He thought the land proposed to be taken. He thought the provision might prove a troublesome one. The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Simonds said, in response to an inquiry, that in the first place the Railroad committee were opposed to be taken. He thought the provision allowing an appeal to the courts in the bill, but they had done so at the instance of those who feared that the courts in the bill, but they had done so at the instance of those who feared that the courts in the bill, but they had done so at the instance of those who feared that the courts in the bill, but they had done so at the instance of those who feared that the courts in the bill, but they had done so at the instance of those who feared that the commissioners might lean towards the old roads. gone no change of mind as to whether the decision may or may not safely be left in the hands of the commissioners.

Mr. Andrews, of New Britain, did not see any necessity for the law at all; the general railroad law sufficiently covered the ground.

The amendments endorsed by the committee were adopted and Mr. Simonds explained the precise nature of the bill as araended. The railroad commissioners should have the responsibility of determining whether a road is taken from him for the purpose of building it. He thought it a safe measure. He believed the railroad commissioners capable and honorable men, and if they are not, then the State of Connecticut can furnish others who are.

Mr. Robbins, of Wethersfield, wanted to know whether the railroad commissioners capable are to be trusted to decide whether a parallel road was for the interest of the State.

Our citizens are very much exercised over the sad and fatal accident at Main street crossing of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad on Tuesday afternoon last by which young Frankle Powers met his sad and untimely death. The victim of this accident was an unusually bright boy. He was instantly killed. This crossing has long been noted as being a very dangerous one and often our citizens have tried to have it protected in some manner. Express trains rush over the crossing both ways at a very high rate of speed that should not be allowed if the crossing is to remain in its present condition. It is rumored that a town meeting will soon be called, asking the Selectmen to call out the railroad commission-

DINEASES CURED.

One of the greatest discoveries of the age is the new method of treating disease. It is the safest, turnest, quickest, the most natural, agreeable and successful way of being treated in the world, and there is no possible chance of your being injured or poisoned as is the case with drugs. It is having great success wherever it is practiced, and the way the side get well under it is truly wonderful.

Disease of all kinds and of many years standing have been healed in a very short time, even after all other remedies have falled. Thousands have said, who have been side for years, I received more benefit in one week than from all the drugs and medicines I have taken. Others have been healed in a single hour. Ladies will find there is nothing like it to alleviate the suffering and cure the diseases to which their sex is subject. It strikes at the very root of disease and cures it, by removing the cause producing it, when the body will become well and strong just as surely and asturally as the run will shins when the clouds are gene. Come and see us and try the best of all ways to get well, and you will be convinced that the above is true. Dit, S. G. TODD, 114 Olive street, New Haven, Conn.
