necessaries no the bits We ought to know by this time that low enough prices will sell anything at any time, but we confess we did not think so many books could be sold at this time of year.

We wish to say just a word or two more about it. The thing will swing along now without advertising, because people have got to speaking about it. What we want to say is this: The booksellers have met our advertised prices on two or three books, as we expected they would. That is what the peo ple want, isn't it? As yet, however, it doesn't amount to any- Houses, thing-not to one book in hundred. So far the benefit of competition can only be got by buying here. By the way, we omitted to say in our last adv that the stock of books now put in is many times larger and more varied than we ever showed at Christmas time-we think at least six times as large The sale continues this week.

Saturday, May 16, 1885. The Philadelphia board of education ha begun an experiment the working of which will be watched with interest in all the ci ties of the country. This is the manus training school, of which Lieutenant Robert Crawford of the United States navy has been hosen director. Lieutenant Crawford is well fitted for his position, having been an nstructor in the same department at the naval academy at Annapolis, and also at the Spring Garden Institute in Philadelphia William L. Sayer, who is principal of one of the grammar schools of Philadelphia, has een chosen principal of the new school. The plan of work in the new school ha een made public. Daily sessions will be held, lasting from 9 s. m. to 2:30 p. m. with a half hour intermission at neon. Two ours daily are devoted to study and recitaion, one hour to drawing and two hours to shop practice. Boys are admitted from the twelfth grade of the grammar schools on the certificate of the principal that they have finished the studies of that grade and wish to be promoted to the manual training school, ments. The number of pupils promoted is necessarily limited, but all the grammar chools are treated alike—that is, the numper from any school will be the pro rata of the number that pass the examination to the whole number that can be received. The studies are about the same as those pursued

The shop work to be done in this school neludes carpentry and joinery wood extrying, wood turning, pattern making, forging welding, tempering, soldering, brazing, mold ing, casting, bench work and fitting, turning, drilling, planing, screw cutting, etc. study of the steam engine, including proper nagement and care of engines and boilers one work and masonry. Instruction will also be given in the properties of materials such as wood, iron, brass, clays, stone, wool

This looks like a very sensible and practi cal plan. It is evident that if manual training is to become a part of a "common school education" it will have to be given in some such way as is proposed in Philadelphia. But little that is useful can be accomplished in the grammar schools.

He says further: The colored man, if he can furnish such goods as they use, is well patronized by the best class of whites, but the best colored trade goes to the whites, as it does everywhere. While whites, they are ostracised with emphasis in spectable hotel, restaurant, saloon, baroom or soda fountain is open to them, no natter how wealthy or refined they may be. What is strange, however, about this impending war is that it seems that the Russian and English armies cannot meet. The Rus sians can go to Herat in a few days from where they are, and it would take the English several months to reach them there. No English rule, say the St. Petersburg newspapers. My opinion is that they care as much about the matter as a lamb cares whether is to be eaten roast or boiled.

Judging from this state of affairs, the Pall Mall Gazette, which is almost branded as a traitor by the Jingoes of the land for trying to bring the English to their senses, seems to speak soundly when it says: "We are bullying away as if we had twenty thousand men negroes can join it, nor will they work in a at Herat, and yet we dare not dispatch a single official to that city lest his throat should be cut by the people whom he would be sent to defend. According to a leading St. Petersburg paper, John Bull had better let Russia follow her own sweet will undisturbed, for the dy namiters are only waiting for his attention to be diverted to blow up the whole of London. No less charming is the following extract from the Globe: "The Emperor Alexander may have the power to capture Herat, but may have the power to capture herat, but the eventual cost of the enterprise might ea-sily be the rain of his empire, the downfall of his dynasty, and not improbably his own assausination by the hand of the Nemesis who, in Russia, stands behind the gorgeous splendors of the imperial throne." At the reception of M. de Lesseps at the French academy last week, the French enjoyed one of those intellectual feasts in which they delight so much. The occasion was an exceptionally interesting one, because the speeches were both made by exceptional men, M. de Desseps and M. Ernest Kenan being undoubtedly the two greatest living Frenchmen after the unapproachable Victor Hugo. All the aristoc racy of talent had crowded to the little building to witness the reception of the valiant and evergreen veteran, who looked, in spite of his eighty years, as healthy and

The silly Bosphore-Egyptien incident is over, amicably settled—and not too soon either. Nubar Pacha will call on the French diplomatic agent in Cairo, and make apologies. The paper will be allowed to reappear immediately. Well and good. As usual, in such matters, the public, both in France and England, had been led by the unnecessary strong language of the press to attribute to the unpleasant affair a degree of importance which facts did not warrant. It was an nounced, a few days ago,' that the French would avail themselves of England's embar-

"This is the smallest watch ever made," the jeweler said, "and the only one of its kind in the world. It took a Geneva watchmaker the better part of two years to fit the parts together so that they would work accurately. It has been exhibited in London and Paris." The works of the watch were so that the itted lengthwise in the holder. pring was an elongated coil of steel fitted to he wheels by a tiny chain, and worked like on old fashioned clock weight. The work were wound by means of a little screw of rold on the under side of the hands. A gol pen was fitted in the holder, and the jewele wrote with it without disturbing the opera ions of the fairy watch.
"What's the price," the customer asked.
"A round $500," replied the jeweler

shipowners, particularly such as are engaged in the coal and ice carrying trade, which is the branch of the coastwise trade in which this convention was vitally interested. A large amount of New Haven capital is invested in vessels engaged in this branch of the carrying trade, and our fleet of threemasters is one of the finest sailing out of any port along the coast. The fact that the vessel tonnage represented in this branch of the carrying trade aggregates over three quarters of a million tons gives an approximate idea of its importance. The convention was very united and harmonious in the object for which the convention was held, viz.: The protection of the interests of one and all, individually and collectively. The New Haven gentlemen present speak in high terms of the courtesy shown by the Bostonians to the visiting representatives. The Board of Trade tendered the free use of their rooms and the inner man was not overlooked, as a very fine dinner served at Deer Island, Boston harbor, attested most satisfactorily. At the convention there were representatives of the coal and ice carrying trade from ports all along the coast from Bangor to Philadelphia. The Boston Advertiser gives the final results of the convention in the following:

The convention of shipowners reassembled in the board of trade parlors yesterday morning, and after roll call the committee reported rooms and the inner man was not overlooked in the board of trade parlors yesterday morn-ing, and after roll call the committee reported through its chaltman. Here through its chairman, Mr. Van Brunt, the following resolution, which was adopted: Whereas, The diversity of interests represented this convention demands unity of action necessitating a permanent organization, therefore by

The officers of this association shall consist of a president, two vice presidents, secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected at the annual meeting; shall serve for one year ex-officio and be members of the executive committee, and also five commissioners whose term of office is hereinafter provided for.

The following names for permanent officers of the national association were presented and elected: President, Charles Lawrence of Philadelphia; vice presidents, Guy C. Ross of Bath, Clarence P. Lovell of Boston; secretary, William F. Humphrey of Boston; treasurer, James A. Van Brunt of New York. The action of Tuesday was reconsidered and the committee continued the presents. tion of the amended resolutions, which wer adopted. These resolutions, the first having been read, were:

Eighth—That the commission be ordered to provide:—That in contracts for carrying coal the rate of freight shall be free of discharge, the shippers shall load vessels in turn, the consignees shall discharge in turn and at a rate not less than 150 tons per day, and the rate of demurrage shall be reduced to six cents per ton of cargo per day; and that this provision shall go into effect upon 30 days notice given by the commission.

After a recess the convention proceeded to relative to the change. Mr Whitmore desires to change the text books in physics and adopt Gage's physics. Also changes in Latin books are contemplated, though none the Hopkins Grammar school and the High school were ready to report, but as there was not a full meeting, the report was postpon until the next meeting. The matter is in undecided state, as nothing has been de finitely arranged. The matter of the union was brought up just twenty years ago, and It was stated that Mr. Sullivan, the truant officer, is in need of help in order that the duties in regard to truants may not be neglected.

The Board then adjourned.

Entertainments. CHAMPAGNE AND OYSTERS A large audience enjoyed "Champagne and Oysters" as served by Robson and Crane at Carll's Opera House last evening.

AMERICAN THEATER. The European Enchantresses close a very accessful season at the American heater this evening. The regular matines will be given at 2:30.

The engagement of Katherine Rogers a innell's Museum this week has been a desided success. She is a beautiful actress and her company gives her good support. "Pygmalion and Galatea" will be given for the last time this evening. The Adams sisters in the museum are very attractive and excite much admiration.

THE BOHEMIAN GIRL. This popular opera will be given this afrnoon and evening at Carll's Opera House, The Hartford Post says of the presentation: The audience was demonstrative, applaudng the artists in a hearty manner. To no one was there more merited applause given than to Miss Lizzie C. Gaffney, the 'Arline.'
Her appearance was the signal for prolonged

SHAUN RHUE. The "Shaun Rhue" dfew a good sized auence at the New Haven Opera House last ening. Mr. Joseph Murphy's artistic perecutive committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A vote of thanks was then passed on motion of Mr. Cook, of Philadelphia, to the Boston Board of Trade, to the New England Ship Owners' association, to the shipping men of Boston, to the Boston Towboat company and to the city government of Boston for courtesies received. A resolution was also adopted recommending the formation of organizations everywhere to strengthen the national association. rmance of the dual role of "Shaun Rhue and "Larry Donovan" was received with most emphatic approval by those present. The alternations of wit and pathos were owerfully portrayed. The supporting com-oany is a good one. Miss Belle Melville deserves special mention for her excellent acting. This afternoon and evening "Kerry Gow" will be given. It should be greeted with large audiences.

Mob Swoops Down On a Work-Austin, Tex., May 15 .- This forenoon

Governor Ireland received a telegram from Major Gove, superintendent of the Texas penitentiary, giving information of the most daring and successful outrage ever committed in Texas. Forty State convicts were employed on Clay's farm in Brazos county. Last evening when work was stopped a great mob of armed men surrounded the guards and prisoners and demanded the reease of the latter. The guards refused, whereupon a fight ensued in which the convicts joined with the mob. The conflict resulted in a victory for the attacking party who disappeared with the convicts. There is no definite information as to whether there were any killed or wounded. The outrage is due to the hue and cry against the employment of convict labor outside the penitentiaries. The Gov-ernor has offered a reward for the conviction of any of the leaders in the outrage.

The Opinions of Prominent Citizen

in Regard to the Matter. rial of citizens regarding a free public libra ry held another meeting in the Mayor's office last evening, Alderman States presiding. There were present of the memorialists Professor Hoppin, Professor S. E. Bald win, Mr. Van Name, librarian of Yale college, Captain Charles H. Townshend, Joel A Sperry and Wilbur F. Day. Professor Baldwin in addressing the con mittee referred to the offer of the Young Men's Institute to turn over to the city their library, building and income as a liberal offer. He said that the Maret fund would, offer to the city unconditionally then the State House library could perhaps be added. He thought it would be unwise to establish a library anywhere else than at the State House, as that building can be obtained free of rent. If they had to hire a suitable building it would cost several thou sand dollars a year. He did not think the city should be taxed over $3,000 or $4,000 a city should be taxed over $3,000 or $4,000 a year for the library, with all the extraordinary expenses in view for West river sewer and other improvements that the taxpayers will be called upon to meet.

Professor Hoppin said: My own preferences as a memorialist have been in favor of the State House for a library; but since the offer of the Young Men's Institute my views have somewhat changed. I wish we might obtain this very liberal offer of the Institute. I am not sure but that for the present the rooms of the Institute would be sufficient. Still I think we should look forward to something better in the future. The rooms thing better in the future. The rooms of the Institute are central, and see the two interests come together on this basis if possible. I should be in favor of of a free library.

To a question by Councilman Mansfield Professor Baldwin said he thought the State House a preferable location to that of the Young Men's Institute.

sociation was well enough for the present.

Professor Hoppin said the State House should be torn down. It would cost from $50,000 to $60,000 to put it in condition for ree library purposes.
Professor Baldwin said what he was after was a public library. The place was a secondary consideration. Professor VanName said he wanted to see a free library established. But the Y. M. I. would require enlargement, skylights, etc., for a free library there. The Y. M. I. library books were like regiments after a cam-paign. I think at least $5,000 would have to be expended for new books, exclusive of rental expenses.

Joel A. Sperry gave his views. He wanted a free library, and for economy it would be well to take the State House for it. He was wedded to no location. It would be proper to expend $6,000 or more annually for the library. The taxpayers wanted a free It was voted that the committee 'meet at the Young Men's Institute rooms next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, examine the library and then go to the State House and examine the books gathered there for a Religious Services.

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat continually exuding an offensive mass o bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than eve Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming 'smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood $\sigma$ Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." Charles A. No more, dear brother, shall we see Thy genial, beaming face;
And where thy form was wont to be,
Is now a vacant place.
The welcome kiss, the proffered hand,
That oft our hearts has blest,
Will hence await us in that land
Where now theu art at rest.

At rest, life's toil and grief and care,
Thou hast fore'er laid down,
And gained the joys which those may shar
Who win the victor's crown;
A life well spent, a race well run,
Such was thy record here,
Nor can we doubt but that "well done,"
Ere this has charmed thine ear.

We miss thee in the house of prayer,
We miss thee in thy home
And all along life's pathway where
Thy love and goodness shone:
But brief the years, swift they fly
That bear us to the shore,
Where we must lay life's garments by,
To wear them asvermore.

And yet we need no evil fear,
Though singly we must go;
When he who loves us lingers near,
Death's stream cannot o'erflow.
For did he not rebuke the sea,
With just a "peace be still?"
And death no less than Galilee
Is subject to his will.

And so, dear brother, though we here
Thy face no more behold,
We know that in that upper sphere
Of which the master told,
Within the Father's house above,
In mansions wondrous fair,
Thou'rt resting in the Saviour's love,
And we will seek thee there.
MRS. SERENO B. TODD.

A war-rant had been issued summoning Ganung into court with a minor child which it was alleged he had abwith a minor child which it was alleged he had ab-ducted from his wife, who lives in Fair Haven. It will be remembered that in November last Ganung went to his wife's house with the ostensible purpose of getting a part of the furniture and instead, with the aid of another party, forcibly took both chil-dren from their mother and started to run away, but was overtaken at the Derby depot and arrested. Then followed a compromise between husband and wife, he taking one child and she the other. wife, he taking one child and she the other.

Not satisfied with this arrangement he came to town and forcibly tookaway the other. This is what induced Mr. Doolittle, Mrs. Ganung's attorney, to pray out a writ of habeas corpus. In the afternoon just before court adjourned, Attorney golittle stated to Judge Beardsley that Ganung was expected on the 4 o'clock train from Litchfield rith the child. Heasked for an order committing he child to his mother's custody until the case ard in court Judge Beardsley granted the order an djourned the court till next Tuesday morning a o'clock, when the Ganung case with a few other minor importance will be heard.

of minor importance will be heard.

The farmous Reeves abduction case, which has been written about extensively in the newspapers recently and was settled in Chicago by giving the custody of the child to his mother, led to a divorce case which was heard before Judge Beardsley in the morning. Mrs. Reeves appeared with her father, Dr. Toot, and a few other witnesses. She testified that her lushand had been intolerably cruit to her during her married life. there was material for a young church, which would probably grow and succeed. The Congregational club voted at its last meeting, after hearing the report of the committee, not to identify itself in any way with the new church. However, the people who live in that section are heartily in favor of having a new church in their part of the city and welcome it, and expect that the section will grow and fill the new church. Their claim is that all new churches at the start may draw a few from other churches, but that before long the new church is able to stand on its own basis, and get its support and on its own basis, and get its support and strength from its own legitimate locality. E. M. Clapp, the proprietor of the West Suffield ad Springfield stage route, has taken a four years' ntract to carry the mail from Springfield to eeding Hills.

The social event of the reason occurred on Wednesday evening in the marriage of Dr. Charles M. Wooster and Miss Mattie V. Adams. Nearly two hundred invitations had been sent out, and the assembled oxigany was the most brilliant that had been seen bere for many a day. The bride was attended at the altar by her mother. Miss Edith Cadwell and Miss Lester of Hartford; the groom by Mr. Wayne Clarke, the Rev. Mr. Sexton of Hartford and Mr. Goddard of Brooklyn, N. Y. The bride's dress was white satin trimmed with lace, with pearls for ornaments. The bridal gifts were numerous and elegant. The u hers were ex-Representative Emsign, Fred S. THE NAVY YARD IN NEW LONDON. In this quaint eld city of revolutionary memory and of historic interest one of the questions was for some time as to whether the Navy Yard should go or stay. The Navy Yard is there yet, and for the present seems likely to stay.

But there is another question which has from time to time occupied the attention of some of the New Loadon people. It is a personal one, coming much more nearly home to them than the one about the Navy Yard. It is: "Shall my rheumatism stay or go?"

Yard. It is: "Shall my rheumatism stay or go?"

There is no denying the fact that under the old treatment it has often proved as difficult to drive out rheumatism as to move a navy yard.

One of our correspondents while taking a tour among the apothecaries of New London, found that by their patrons these maladies were no longer regarded as tough and obstinate as formerly, but were giving way to the power of the new medicine, Athlophoros. Several of these apothecaries spoke of a number of cases in which neuralgia and rheumatism had been thoroughly cured by Athlophoros.

Visiting Mr. J. D. T. Strickland, the old established coal dealer and merchant, he found that Mrs. Strickland had been a sufferer from rheumatism. Said Mr. Strickferer from rheumatism. Said Mr. Strick-land: "She had it for several years. Her joints were painful and swollen. I don't know much about Athlophoros, except that she took it and it took her rheumatism away. It is now a year ago and she has had no rheumatism since, except an occa-sional twinge."

sional twinge."

The house of D. G. Stratton was then visited. Mr. Stratton, whom everybody in New London knows, is a traveling salesman for a large New York house. He was away from home, but Mrs. Stratton, received our correspondent very cordially. "Mr. Stratton has no more rheumatism," said she. "He had it long and painfully. For several years he had been troubled with dull and heavy pains and aches, which the doctors told him were rheumatic, and treated him accordingly. But they tic, and treated him accordingly. But they did not succeed in drawing the pains out. did not succeed in drawing the pains out.

About two years ago these pains took the form of a very severe attack of regular sciatica. We heard of Athlophoros and tried it. Much to our astonishment Mr. Stratton's pains began to leave him. The cure was not complete at once, but there was enough relief to show that we were on the

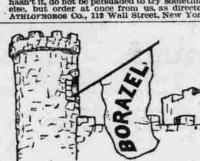

was not complete at once, but there was enough relief to show that we were on the right track. Mr. Stratton felt so much encouraged that he kept on, receiving benefit all the time, until he had taken seven bottles. By this time the pain had left him. Occasionally since that there has been a slight return of the pain, but only slight—nothing like the old pains which for a while laid Mr. Stratton up and prevented him from attending to business. We regard his cure as complete and we give credit entirely to Athlophoros. He is about as usual and is able to attend to all his duties, which require a great deal of traveling and constant active exertion. You may quote us as most thoroughly and heartily believing in Athlophoros."

From New London, our correspondent went to Taunton, Mass., and called one evening at the house of Mr. John S. Sampson on Harrison street. Mr. Sampson said, "My rheumatism took principally the form of sciatica, attacking me from time to time suddenly and with acute pain. It was chiefly in last August that my attacks were the most severe. It may be a curious feature of such attacks that pain. It was chiefly in last August that my attacks were the most severe. It may be a curious feature of such attacks that mine have been more in the dog days than in the spring and fall months when most people have rheumatism. This Athlophoros medicine finished my rheumatism. I had tried other medicines and they failed to cure me. I tried Athlophoros and it knocked the rheumatism out. That is not a very long story, but it is the long and short of it."

"Have you had returns of the rheumatism or the sciatic pain since your cure?"

tism or the sciatic pain since your cure?" "I have not, except in a very slight degree; not enough to be any great inconvenience. But I keep a bottle of Athlophoros in the house, and I know what to do in case I should have any return. I do in case I should have any return. I heartily commend Athlophoros."

If you cannot get Athlophoros of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.
