the internal revenue department of the public service. Of the eighty-three Republican collectors sixty-four have already been suc eeded by Democrats. And, as the clerks and deputies of the collectors do not come within the scope of the civil service law, the Republican employes have rapidly given this change has made trouble. One collector in the West got into such a muddle that he had to go and beg a Republican whom he had turned out to help him right matters. And distillers and manufacturers have not been slow to perceive that the new officers and their clerks and deputies are so ignorant as to allow old tricks of evading the tax to be played with success. The Democrats can find nothing to brag about in this state of affairs, and the eagerness with which they have seized the revenue service is instructive. For, as the mugwump Brooklyn Union shrewdly and forcibly points out, they have now become the victims of their own denunciations. The Democrats, even in Washington's time, were in favor of free whisky, and ever since collectors of internal revenue have been called by them "oppressors," 'myrmidons of power," etc., etc. The Union very properly remarks: One would have thought that so soon as the Republican party should have been "dethroned," successors to these oppressors could not have been found. Found? They did not wait to be sought out. On the contrary, the very orators, little and big, who last year wished to tar and feather their predecessors for the infamous business they were engaged in, made application. Several ex-members of Congress who had been elected (so they said) cause they denounced the internal revenue and its collectors became eager candidates to succeed these collectors, and some of them have been successful. Now the embarrassing question is, Are these new collectors 'oppressors"? Some of them are the very nen who denounced the oppression, and are ocal leaders of their party.

The point made by the Union is a good one. It will be interesting to see how the southern Democrats will get along with their Democratic oppressors.

EDITORIAL NOTES. The action of Captain P.H. Dowling of Toledo, who has abandoned the Republican party because of dissatisfaction with the platform adopted by the Ohio Republicans, should not be too harshly judged. the new South is found in its rapidly increasing railroad mileage. The total number of miles of railroad constructed in the United States last year amounted to 3,977, which was a considerable decline from 1882 with its 11,602 miles, and even from 1883 with its 6,800 miles. To this total the South contributed 1,496 miles, or more than one-third. North Carolins, which in 1883 made only 36 miles of new railroad, built 174 miles last year. AT CHAUTAUQUA.

First Love-On the Shores of the Beautiful New York Lake-The Changes in Four Years-Pen Sketches CHAUTAUOUA, New York, Aug. 20.

Four years ago I spent the season at Chan auqua in the capacity of correspondent for one of the Cleveland dailies. Of course I vielded to the seductive influences of the enthusiastic is superfluous, for, I believe, an nherent quality of the genuine Chautauquan is an enthusiasm such as almost borders on effervescence. But I like enthusiastic peo

Four years have elapsed, and during that ime it has been my privilege to wander over the deserts of Egypt, the poppy-blown plains matchless landscapes of Japan, the densely peopled coasts of China, the arid wastes of Arabia and Asia Minor, the ruin-strewn sites of Greece and the Troad, Palestine's sacred but desolate hillsides, the tropical shores of Burmah and the Malay peninsula, together with most of the beaten tracks of conventional Europe. Extensive travel had dulled the keen edge of my old appetite for camp other afternoon-a train which seems especially designed to make Chautauqua accessible to the Ohio public-with a ticket to the great summer school in my pocket. A little after 9 o'clock I was landed in the attractive city of Jamestown, where I put up at a hotel for the night. In the morning I started up the river—or rather the five-mile arm of the lake which connects Jamestown with the lake proper.

It was accordingly with no eager anticipa

My eyes wandered from the writing pad before me. The lovely run which I had so often traveled by beat four years ago had not lost anything by contrast with the fair scenes witnessed in foreign lands. The same the steamer.

But, of course, there was no hanging moss on the tree boughs, there were no palmettoes, or water lettuce, or be or water lettuce, or bonnets, or creases, or pink lilles—elements which are necessary to make the scene thoroughly Floridian.

I was conscious of an awakening interest in the localities which had once been so familiar and so dear to me.

With indignation I noticed that some Jamestown merchants, and even some prohibition zealots, had been doing their best dur-

I met Mr. T. E. Grandin, superintenden of the Red Stack line, on the forward deck, and fell into conversation with him about "The competition has been sharper this season than ever before. Both of the principal lines declared early for a rate of 25 cents on the round trip and $1 for a season ticket, good on any boat every day during the whole three weeks of the assembly. This rate is unprecedented in the history of the lake. In rder to do this we have had to refuse issu ng passes."

"Were there many of these issued in pas "Hundreds. We offered them freely to all

"Hundreds. We offered them freely to all newspaper correspondents and representatives of common carriers. Now nobody is favored, and I have even bought season tickets for the members of my own family."

"I notice some boats with new names and familiar outlines. There goes the Hiawatha, and I noticed the Cincinnati and City of Buffalo a little way back."

"Most of the boats are simply the ones used years ago a little rejuvenated and rechristened. The old four-decked excursion boat Jamestown, the sidewheel steamer Mayville, the two-funneled Moulton, the Vincent and several other old standbys are as they

"How has Chantauqua been patro "There has been an influx of visitors this fall such as exceeds all precedent in the history of Chautauqua. A year ago the Hotel Athenseum had sixty hands and about thirty guests. The hotel is packed now, and two cottages which had been hired in connection with the hotel are also full, making a total of nearly four hundred guests. The same i lake. At many points it is really impossib to get accommodations."

Isn't it curious that this unparalleled pres-perity of Chautauqua and the recent unparal-eled success of the assembly at Lakeside should have attended a season of such ex-reme financial depression? After the usual stops at delightful lake side retreats on the way, the steamer came up alongside of the assembly grounds wharf, and the three or four hundred passengers swarmed across the gang-plank, paid their forty cents apiece, and passed through the gates. I followed leisurely, still only half aroused to the attractions of the place. Pas-sing the $5,500 chime of bells, and the large model of Jerusalem, I entered Palestine Park which is laid on a 'scale of two feet to the nile, in exact representation of the various features of the Holy Land. The park ha evidently not been repaired during the last four years, and seems to be getting a little dilapidated. Past Hebron, Bethlehem, Shiinapidated. Fast Heoron, Bethlenein, Shi-looh, Shekem and Samaria I wandered, till reached a point near the headwaters of the Jordan, where two faultlessly dressed clergy men stood, their hands thrust between the buttons of their severely clerical coats, while ne said to the other, very gravely:
"Here is a serious error. The Plain of E draelon is represented as extending clear to the coast, whereas it is well known that it is a small tract of land, right here,—not ap proaching within fifteen or twenty miles of

"Oh, yes," replied the other, "there are son glaring inaccuracies of that sort, I notice but I suppose those who laid it out did as well as they could with the data which they had t command."

I smiled as I left the dainty divines behind line of the Mediterranean to the valley of the Jordan. Well, Chautanqua would no ards long for the last half of the alphabet nd the other somewhat shorter for the firs slowly, to bump ever and anon against lamp-post. There were the other people stay a week or so, buying a limited ticket. Of course they can't think of going when the week is up, and hence the large amount of ticket selling. I found the mammoth auditorium packed with an audience of 7,000 eople who were listening eagerly to the cords of wisdom from that queen among comen, Mrs. Livermore. The sight of that magnificent audience stirred me still more and when in response to Dr. Vincent's request, "Let the white lilies of Chautauqu bloom for Mrs. Livermore," 7,000 handker hiefs leaped into the air, making the ampl heater resemble a vast field of waving this le-down,—then I could no longer resist th afection that seems to lark in the very a ere. I indiscreetly allowed myself to gro I sat down at' the extreme southeas orner, on the back seat. Whom did I dis over to be my nearest neighbor on the left at Rev. Wilber Davidson, formerly of the When the lecture was over an old colleg-

We started away from the amphitheat but had only gone about ten yards, when are old friend from a town where I used to live came rushing up and accosted me with—
"Hulloa! Well, this is lucky, wouldn't have missed you for anything. Now we won't take no for an answer; you see we are enting it seven of us down in St. Paul' ve, and it's been dreadfully awkward a nes because we did't have an even octett ome right along this minute, dinner's read now, and after dinner we've arranged for a row down towards Remus Point to see if here are any water-lilies left. How lone "Can't stay but three or four days."
"Oh, pshaw," with ineffable contempt
"That isn't worth while coming for. We'v got some grand excursions planned for the ot some grand excursions planned for the eisure of every day during the coming week, f we can manage to find any leisure."

Then I succumbed altogether. There was no use of trying to resist the Chautauqua spirit any longer in the face of such odds.

I have been thus minute in personal exerciproces for the reason that once in a while eriences for the reason that once in a while we are more interested in personal experiences than in reports of lectures, and, for the added reason, to convey some notion as to the atmosphere of resistless enthusiasm that is so eminently characteristic of Chautauqua Such experiences as mine are typical her Doubtless there are some who come he without acquaintances, and, not knowing how to sift out of the multitude of exercises at a hotel for the night. In the morning I arose early, languidly ate my breakfast, languidly boarded the steamer Minnehaha and languidly proceeded to get out my writing pad for the purpose of writing a line or two en voyage. To tell the truth, I did not take a particle of interest in the experience before

It is amusing but tantalizing to witness the adventures of people who set out for some point way at the further end of the grounds. You are sure in the course of any extended search to stumble upon a doze crowds of from one hundred to four thou sand people gathered in some corner having an enjoyable convention of some sort by themselves. It is more than probable that

ONE MORE BROKEN PILLAR. Death Reveals a Costly Betrayal of SYRACUSE, Aug. 25.—Judge Israel S. Spen er, a widely known resident of this city, ourner at Saratoga and at the Fifth Avenue lotel in New York, died very suddenly in his office on the afternoon of March 13. He was estimated to be worth $150,000, and held in trust a large number of estates, the Gates-Brinkerhoff estate of Chittenango, Madison county, being one of them. His only sor died in Paris in 1889 and he left his proper y to his wife, who died very suddenly in New York city last June. Persons who have ately had occasion to ascertain the facts are surprised to find that there is absolutely nothing in his own estate, and that at least $50,000 of the estates held in trust by him $50,000 of the estates held in trust by him cannot be accounted for. About two years before his death Judge Spender converted about $50,000 of choice real estate in this city into money, and this is nowhere to be found. It is supposed that unfortunate ventures in stocks account for the fact that he died poor and a debtor to property which he held in trust. He enjoyed for many years the reputation of being an extremely prudent man and locally he was famous for his supposed skill in all matters pertaining to the making of wills and the closing of estates. He visited Europe and Egypt in 1868, attracting attention on his return by his lecture on Egypt, and gentlemen in this city are aware that before starting out on this trip a careful inventory of his personal property alone netted $100,-THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE A Paralyzed Arm Cured of his personal property alone netted $100,000. this morning of Miss Alice Coates, daughter of James Coates of Providence, of the firm of J. & P. Coates of Scotland, to Mr. Theodore Frelinghuysen, son of the late Secretary of State, was the leading event of the season here. The fact that the baidegroom has recently lost his father prevented any extended preparations, but the arrangements at the use were nevertheless very elaborate. The vedding ceremony took place at the Carey villa occupied by the bride's parents. The floral decorations were magnificent. Every art of the house was beautifully decorated Passing by the apartments on first floor of the cottage decorated throughout in the most artistic way with plant and flower, the guests traversed the ong hall, turned to the right through the Louis XIV parlor and came upon the chief specimen of the florists' art. Opposite the loorway curtained by grapevines was a large bay window, screened by large palms and tropical plants forming a dark rich background for the pink and white floral chime of bells suspended from a deep fringe of pink and white sweet peas. For bell ropes were substituted pink and white satin ribbon, looped back to the lower screens, the whole being flanked by arching palms banked in fancy foliage plants. Around the races. The Bridgeports play an exhibition game with the Hartfords at Hartford to-day. The Capital city nine were to play in Bridgeport esterday, but were prevented by the rain. It is reported that only once in the last five games at Meriden have the gate receipts been sufficient to pay the guarantee to the visiting clubs. Hatfield and Jones of the Hartfords 1883 are in the Newark nine, and Tuckel made his first appearance with them Monday at first base. According to the Southern New England eague rules all games played stand in the ecord, whether any club disbands or stays in. So all the Springfield, Bridgeport and New Haven games count. Were they thrown out, Hartford would get the best of Meriden.

The directors of the Southern New Eng land league held a special meeting at Meriden yesterday afternoon. The object of the rathering was to revise the schedule disrupted by the withdrawal of the Bridgeports and the disbandment of the Springfields. It was thought by some that if the championship could be decided by the middle of September it would excite interest sufficient to overit would excite interest sufficient to over-come any great losses financially. Rittenhouse, who has been pitching for the Brockton, Mass., nine since his release by the New Britains, has been released. Engene Moriarity, late of the Indianapolis and Detroit nines, who was to have signed with the Bridgeroute has cope to the Newports have papers showing when Moriarity ne gotiated with them before his ten days had expired, which gives them the power to blacklist him if they so desire. Frightful Case of a Colored Man Into Resigning As Colonel Of The Uhlans.

London, Aug. 26.—The Daily News' Paris correspondent says that General Salamanca of the Spanish army will return to the decoration of the Prussian red eagle which the German government bestowed upon him. This action will, it is hoped by the military officials of Spain, shame King Alfonso into resigning the honorary coloneley of the Uhlan regiment conferred upon him by the Emperor William. This Alfonso is reported to have already done, but the report lacks confirmation.

Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism.

Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my lives and it has worked a mirsele in my my limbs, and it has worked a mirscle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave.

I was treated by some of the best physicians in Atlanta. They used the old remedies of Mercury and Potash, which brought on rheumatism and impaired my digrestive organs. Every joint in me was swollen and full of pain. When I was given up to die my physicians thought it would be a good time to test the virtues of Swift's Specific. When I commenced taking S. S. S. the physician said I could not live two weeks under the ordinary treatment. He commenced to give me the medicine strictly according to the directions, which I continued for several months. I took nothing else, and commenced to improve from the very first. Soon the rheumatism let me, my appetite became all right, and the ulcers, which the doctor said were the most frightful he had ever seen, began to heal, and by the first of October, 1881, I was a well man again. I am stronger now than I ever was before, and weigh more. S. S. S. has saved me from an early grave.

One of the most fashionable and noable events of the season occurred Thursday afternoon and fevening, the 20th inst., at the Grand nion, the largest hotel in America, and the nost popular in Saratoga. Extraordinary efforts had been made to have this garden party one of the most magnificent affairs, and on a grander scale than any of previous years, and its success was most happily realized by the vast numbers present. To even attempt a full description of its gorgeousness would be as great a task as to convince the minds of some of our New Haven citizens of the elegant appearance of our State House in its present condition.

Here are a full description on Thursday evening.

of the elegant appearance of our State House in its present condition.

The beautiful park of the hotel was decorated in a manner far superior to any of the past seasons. Running upon wires in various directions suspended from the stately elms were numberless Chinese lanterns of various shapes and sizes, while at various points were suspended flags gracefully festooned. E. F. DURAND AS purchased the meat market formerly occupied by G. F. Gerner in the same building with his grocery store and fish market and connected the three stores so that his customers need not go outside for anything in the eating line.

WHY has his business grown from a small beginning to its present dimensions in a little over two years?

BECAUSE he has tried his best to please his customers, kept only reliable goods, attended to his own business, given honest weight and measure, sold goods as cheap as he could and be honest with himself and those who gave him credit, had the same price to everybody. In fact, tried to do to others as he would have others do to him.

He has three stores in one building, keeps six clerks, runs three teams, and it will pay you to give him a call. Telephone connection. $60-$64 STATE STREET. Advice Given
