FLANNELS.

Some time ago we announced that we had been large buyers of Flannels at the great Auction Sale held in New York, and that in due season we would place them on sale. Could the manufacturers have foreseen the turn the market would take, we think there would have been no auction sale. Wool has advanced, is advancing, and wil still more advance. Flannels have advanced. But having said we would give our customers the advantage of our purchase we mean to do it. This week, next week and all through September, we shall offer Flannels at prices it would simply be impossible to make if we had Leigh & Prindle, to purchase now.

J. N. ADAM & CO.

BLANKETS.

We also made large purchases of Blankets early in the season, and before the boom boomed, and these we shall be able to sell cheap. Some of the lots are now being delivered, and thrifty housekeepers will do well to look at some we shall show this week-Blankets that will be Blankets all the days of their life and not wash cloths the year after next.

NEW GOODS.

Our Summer Sale ended and inventory over, new goods will be constantly added in every department-Hosiery, and Gloves, and Underwear, and Laces, and Dress Goods, etc. Our purpose is to show a stock of goods which will be to the liking of our customers and to their profit as well as ours.

For Members of the Board: THOMAS O'BRIEN. H. H. STRONG, PHILO S. BENNETT. CHARLES E. GRAVES

Saturday, September 19, 1885.

Our readers may be tired of reading who he able and astute young superintendent of the New Haven Board of Education thinks about managing the Board, but we think i pest to still further call attention to some of is ideas, in order that the people of this city may reslize what his plans are and may also realize what the citizens' school ticket

It will be remembered that the young man admitted that a superintendent cannot, as a rule, nominate his personal friends or those who are known to favor his pet schemes. Please mark the words "as a rule" and "are known." But what does he intend to do after he gets a Board that suits him? Hear him: "There are two sides to the relation we are considering. The first view presents the superintendent as a subordinate, acting under instructions, and executing the wish of superiors. The second reveals him as leader, having a well-defined policy, and losing no opportunity of persuading the Board to embrace his views, so that the hopes and ideals which he cherishes are at length assimilated by them and become the guiding principle of their action. Here two elements in the superinendency-strict subordination and recgnized leadership—are not only essential ut are entirely consistent with each other The plans of a superintendent should reach orward through a series of years and aim at definite results. Frank statements made to the Board regarding the scope of that plan, with explanations as to the difficulties to be overcome, supplemented by private inter-views wherein objections are squarely met and advice is gratefully received, will go far oward establishing that confidence which oard needs to have in its executive officer.' This is plausible, like most that the young man says and writes. But he has "revealed" imself as having too much confidence in the "second view." It is to be hoped that he may soon feel inclined to pay more attention to the "first view." He will find, sooner or later, that there is a strong prejudice in New Haven against too much of the "second view." EBITORIAL NOTES The Hartford Telegram is early in suggest ing that Hon. William W. Eaton would make a good candidate for governor, but here is more truth than poetry in the sug-

A Viennese paper contains an advertisemen which runs as follows: "My name is Frederick. I am as poor as I am ugly and if anything can exceed my stupidity it is my disagreeable character. In spite of these disadvantages I aspire to marry. Is there any lady who will have me!" Dear sir, plenty of hose interested in them. It does not now ook as if there would be very strong opposition to the citizens' ticket. But it can do no narm if those directly interested in the schools help its election. It is important to hem that the members of the Board should be trustworthy and intelligent gentlemen. A South Carolina justice is enjoying boom. He has decided that stealing water-pelons from the vine is no larceny. He rules hat under the common law the taking of anything constituting a part of the freehold is not larceny, and that the special statute for the protection of growing crops speaks only of cotton, rice and other grains, and says othing of fruit or melons. Some horses are worth something. Hernit, owned by the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, has had a miraculous career. He was purchased for 1,000 guineas. He won $65,775 in stakes. His services have been worth $15,000 a year for fourteen years in fees, and his yearlings have brought $139,550 for the last three years. It would be putting the figure too low to say that he has hitherto been worth at least £80,000

exclusive of bets) to the owner. roposed to build a stable on his land, but was opposed by the neighbors, who complained that such a building would be an bjectionable nulsance in the vicinity. The rascible builder persisted in his undertaking until opposition became too serious and he is now waiting the conclusion. Meanwhile he nas pested a query in front of his premises "Which will you have, a fine brick stable and house or a big black fence?"

The people of Indiana, it is said, intend to nforce the law, recently enacted in that State, forbidding any telephone company to harge more than $36 a year for the use of a telephone. Under this law twenty oriminal uits have been brought in Evansville against the local company. The American Bell com-pany will probably be asked by its representtives in that city to reduce its rents. The entire cost of a set of telephone instruments s only $3.42, but the Bell company charges grown to be quite an important and prosperous industry. The oil seems to find a readier market in foreign countries than in the United States. During the seven months ending August 1 the exports were 4,462,962 galions, valued at $1,828,771, against 2,219,-562 gallons, valued at $978,926, for the coresponding time in 1884. The production. however, is keeping up with the demand and new processes of crushing the seed enable producers to get a better yield. The seed, which a few years ago was counted as valueless to planters, now sells for $10 to $12 per ton and the oil is worth from 30 to 33 cents ne square, one year, $40; two squares, one year, per gallon. After the oil is expressed the dry remainder is of value as food for cattle.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin says that Brigham Young, jr., and his agents are busy perfecting arrangements for Mormon colonization in Mexico, and that, too, within the zone where foreigners are cohibited from acquiring real estate. They ease lands for ninety-nine years and introluce a clause by which the lands are to be reeased to the assignees or their heirs at the expiration of the lease for a trifling sum. Had they selected land in Mexico beyond the sone they could have secured better land and etter terms, and the inference is that they lesire to erect a territory of their own between Mexico and the United States whereby they may, in the event of the American purhase of the northern States of Mexico, have location outrivalling that of Salt Lake. The report of the Commissioner of Police for London shows that on December 31, 1884, the authorized strength of the force was twenty-five superintendents, 637 inspectors, ,067 sergeants and 11,151 constables, makng a total of 12,880. Forty-six miles of new treets and squares were brought under poice protection during the year. The average proportion per 1,000 of the estimated population of persons apprehended for lrunkenness and disorderly conduct from 860 to 1870 was 5,576; from 1870 to 1880 it ncreased to 7,156, and the average for the past five years has been 5,491. who supplied him with the "trustworthy ac-count of Pain's assassination," had to go to the Russian embassy in Paris to ask protec-tion in case the English residents should at-tempt to murder him. M. Rochefort is, I am afraid, making terrible fools of his friends. He is also making a poor return for the consideration shown to him and Pain when they took refuge in Australia on their escape from New Caledonia and the British rench republic.

M. de Blowitz, the Paris correspondent of the Times, is more than ever exclusively pre-occupied with high affairs of State. With a slight touch of his the statesmen of Europe slight touch of his the statesmen of Europe are going over like ninepins. Having made short work of Prinee von Bismarck, it was not likely that he would take two bites at Senor Canovas, the Spanish prime minister. It is all his fault, it appears, that the anti-German agitation in Spain has swollen to such proportions that it threatens the very existence of the monarchy. If M. de Blowitz had only been in Madrid he could have nipped the whole affair in the bud and seen his young friend and protege King Alfonso out of trouble and danger. Would it not be possible to send for M. de Blowitz even now! Monarchs and statesmen who are patronized by this gentleman ought to enjoy life quietly. When they are in trouble they know whom to spply to. If they won't it is their own fault and they must not expect any sympathy from us.

A traveling correspondent yesterday deplored, in the columns of the Pall Mall Gazette, that the English people had given nothing—"no assistance, no sympathy or kindness"—to their cholera-stricken fellow-creatures in Spain. The reproach is not altogether just, for the English people of one diocese at least (that of Winchester, to wit) have just been enjoined by their bishop to give the Spaniards their prayers. As there is nothing of which English people are more liberal, there can be no doubt that the bishop's injunction will be largely followed. The bishop's form of prayer is not particularly calculated to please the Spaniards, for in it they are referred to as "these miserable sinners."

lecturing in France on political topics. I suspected that one day or the other he would be a candidate for Parliament somewhere, but I never thought he would go to the length of coming forward at the next general elections. M. Ollivier has the audacity ral elections. M. Ollivier has the audacity to issue an address to a constituency. This is going a little too far—and a little too soon. He must, indeed, presume a great deal of the forgetfulness of his countrymen to believe that they will not be atmused at seeing the man who, "with a light heart," sent them into the war with Germany, lecturing the republic on "the cruel lot which it is preparing for the people whom all his life he has not ceased to serve and love." M. Emile Ollivier would have done better to follow the advice addressed to him by Prince Bismarck from Versailles: "If I had the misfortune," he said, "to have brought on my country all the evils which you have brought on yours, I would pass the remainder of my life on my knees asking pardon of God for the crime I The manufacture of cotton-seed oil has mees asking pardon of God for the crime had committed."

treat. Madame Judic is making her preparations for an American season. The fortyrations for an American season. The forty-five dresses she is to take with her are, I am told, just now exciting the envy and admiration of Parisian ladies, who daily crowd the salon of Madame Roderigues, the celebrated Paris dressmaker, to have a look at them. The exhibition is to last over a week. Madame Judie is the queen of French comic opera, surpassing in her particular line all her predecessors. Sparkling and sprightly, lovely, brimming over with fun and mischief, she yet never does what so many of her craft do or have done; she never oversteps the do or have done; she never oversteps the bounds of good taste or falls into vulgarity. Her smile is a poem, as we would say A short while ago we saw Adelina Patti heing escorted from the opera house to her hotel by a torchlight procession of twenty thousand people, and last week I told you of the triumphal arches that had been erected the triumphal arches that had been erected along the road from her castle in Wales to a concert room where she was going to sing. The Norwegians are giving a welcome to Madame Nilsson and are in no way behind the English. The entry of the steamer conveying her into the Bergen harbor was the signal for a salute of guns. An enormous crowd had assembled on the quay and followed Madame Nilsson's carriage to the hotel, cheering vociferously and literally covering her with flowers. Her apartments had been filled with floral offerings and looked like bowers. The streets and all the vessels ike bowers. The streets and all the vesse in the harbor were gay with flags. In the evening she was serenaded, and the crowd under her windows cheered her again and again and begged to hear her voice, but the great singer, being fatigued with her voyage excused herself, promising to comply at another time. She had hardly arrived before Mr. Gladstone called and left his card. an Outside View of Our School Que [From the Hartford Telegram.] The people of New Haven are somewhat sgitated over their public school manage gent. The schools of the city are governe by a Board of Education, and there is a gen eral superintendent. It is charged that the superintendent is running the schools to suit his own sweet will, and that he has a majorargued that the superintendent should be boss and at the proper time should be called upon to name the members of the school board. He intended to try his hand at this autocratic business this fall, but the citizens rebelled, met in conclave and nomi-nated a ticket reflecting the public sentiment. nated a ticket reflecting the public sentiment. The superintendent hustled around and endeavored to collect money to boost a ticket of his own, but when the citizens' ticket appeared he made no headway, as no decent taxpayer could find fault with it. The chances are that the citizens' ticket will be elected without opposition. This revolt against ring rule is a good thing for the New Haven schools. For years the Board of Education in New Haven has been a self-perpetuating machine. The Board nominated the ticket and the employes of the school district did the work on election day. This year the citizens have taken a hand, and with such a promise of success that ring rule is doomed.

He had given up the stage on account of his health being utterly broken down. Dr. Flower entirely cured him, and he is to-day enjoying the very best of health, after having filled last season a heavy professional engagement. The two great remedies used in this celebrated cure were Dr. Flower's Liver and Stomach Sanative and Nerve Pills.

A part of each meeting will be such that anyone present may take some part in it and Christian people in that neighborhood or from any part of the city are invited to be present and join in the ser-Police Notes.

William and James Cowles, sons of Edward who was arrested on complaint of Catherine McDonough, were arrested yesterday. The sons, who assaulted Thomas Mc Donough while he was on the way to court to testify against their father, will also, beside answering for this offense, be called upon to answer for a breach of the peace against George Schmidt, for resisting Officer McCarthy and for drunkenness. William is also charged with breach of the peace against Mrs. McDonough. In addition the father was again arrested for breach of the peace on the boys when they were beating McDonough. Hugh Burns, who was mixed up in the fight, is also charged with breach of the peace and resisting Officer McCarthy. John H. Smith was arrested last night charge of beating his wife.

Michael Butler, aged about 13 years, was arrested yesterday by Detective Reilly, and the charges of theft and insulting a female child preferred against him.

The Edwards Street School House -Removal of the Furnaces. The Board of Education yesterday through their Committee on Schools awarded the contract for heating the Edwards street school house to the New Haven Steam Heating company, of which Mr. George Blake-man is president and general agent. The change is made from furnace to steam heat. the furnace heat not being found satisfactory on cold days, especially on cold or windy days. The furnaces, four in number, have been taken out and will be utilized in part or wholly for the benefit of the school house at Four Corners in the Annex. The steam neating apparatus will be put in at the Edwards street school at an early day. A twenty-five horse-power boiler will be reeach of the rooms and four more in the basement, it being found advisable to warm the basement.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS. An Interview With Mr. Graves. Several correspondents having asked for an expression of Mr. Charles Graves' opinion of school affairs a reporter of the Journal AND COURIER obtained the following from

I have always thought that the indifference often shown by the public in the matter of our school elections was to be deplored. teur, the entries were: F. F. Ives, L. A. Miller, G. B. Buxton, H. E. Bidwell of Meriden, John Meton ef Hartford, R. Chambers of Birmingham, Eng.

Chambers took the lead at the start, with Illston second, Miller third, Ives fourth. These positions the riders held until at the third quarter, when Ives spurted and took the lead, Miller running in second. Coming down the homestretch Miller spurted and passed Ives, winning by half a wheel, with Ives second, Chambers third. When within a few feet of the finish a boy ran in front of sire or intention on the part of the taxpayers or citizens of New Haven to have poor schools instead of good ones—the American citizen everywhere wants and will have good managed, and now that times are dull and taxes heavy let us take more interest and get more of an insight into these matters and see if there are any changes desirable or necessary in any direction. This, as I understand it, is not in any sense acting against the present Board, or any member of it, but simply an inquiry, in which they can and doubtless will cordially unite. As for myself, if I were to go into the Board I should want to go as far as possible judicially minded, without bias or prejudice, with a disposition to examine critically and carefully into school affairs and do what carering into school affairs and do what public interest seemed to require without fear or favor. If I should be elected, I, of course, should feel very grateful for such ex-pression of confidence. If, however, the pression of confidence. If, however, the public do not want me on such terms, I hope they will throw me overboard and put some

I have a boy in the Skinner school, also one in the High school. I should send them there if I had to pay the same tuition as would be charged at a private or select school. I believe in having our children, as far as possible, educated at one common school—the rich and the poor alike; I believe the reciprocal influence of children of all classes thus commingling together in one common school is helpful and beneficial. It gives them broader sympathies, it gives to preciation of our democratic institutions and fits them better to fight the battle of Ameri-can life. I believe it is Emerson who says we send our children to school and pay their teachers to instruct them, but it is from Missionary Meeting.

WORK BEGUN. Shelton's New $25,000 School House Architect Robinson, of this city, sent the working plans for Shelton's new school house yesterday to the Shelton school authorities The work of excavating for the new building has been begun. The building will be of brick and cost about $25,000, and eight rooms will be furpished and occupied at once. It will be two stories high with French roof and there will be ample space on the top floor for four more rooms, and in the basement two more rooms can be made toward Mr. McDonough in that he cheered The building will be larger than at first re The building will be larger than at first required as Shelton's population is quite rapidly increasing. The building will be erected on a large lot owned by the school district fronting both on Coram and Howe avenue. The building will front on Howe avenue. The two front basement rooms will be light and airy as the building will stand on a side hill, the front basement being above ground. The school authorities of Shelton intend to have a model school building and the inhabitants, with a postoffice in their midst and a large graded school building, will feel that their village is becoming a place of considerable importance.

The selection of a suitable school is a matter calling for careful consideration by parents who wish to have their daughters well educated and properly trained under home-like and Christian influences. To all such we would recommend an examination of the prospectus and methods, and an inquiry into the general standing and repute of the West End institute, a boarding and day school for young ladies and little girls, conducted by Mrs. S. L. Cady, at 99 Howe street, New Haven, Conn. It will be found in the foremost rank of the seminaries of New England for the past twenty-five years. The studies are classified under four departments, viz: Kindergarten for little girls, Primary department, Intermediate department, and Institute department. The Institute department comprises a four years' course, and diplomas are issued to pupils who honorably complete said course. By special arrangement pupils may also be prepared for entrance to either Vassar, Smith or Wellesley college. Parents interested should send to Mrs. Cady, 99 Howe street, New Haven, Conn., for her prospectus.

French Canadians to Meet in Council. Conn., Sept. 18.—About two unities in the State are ex oted to attend the convention here on September 29. The affair is under the genera supervision of the various St. Jean Baptiste societies. The leading topics discussed will be the progress of French schools and beneficent societies, the desirability of French contains residents becoming naturalized officers, the preservation of the French language and of its orthography of French proper names, etc. Efforts will be made to establish a weekly newspaper here to be printed in French.

A MANIFESTO PROM GLADSTONE Which Is Disappointing To The Friends of Local Government In Ircland.

London, Sept. 18 .- Mr. Gladstone has opened his campaign by issuing to the electors of the county of Midlothian a four column manifesto. In it the ex-Premier defends his foreign policy, while admitting the commission of serious mistakes in the Soudan; says England must get out of Egypt as soon as she can do so honorably; goes in for reform in the land laws and the abolition of primogeniture and entail; mentions that the present drift of things is toward disestablishment, but expresses the opinion that the lay over the triangular outside course for the cups presented by Commodore James church can stand it; thinks the House of Lords should be drydocked for repairs, but Gordon Bennett for schooners and Vice Comwould be sorry to see it broken up; expresses a belief that the Irish question can be set-tled without embittered civil strife and a hope that it will be; and predicts that the name and memory of any man who seeks to stir up such strife between Ireland and England will be consigned to disgrace. It is sup-posed that the ex-Premier intends this for Mr. Parnell.

DUBLIN, Sept. 18.—Mr. Gladstone's mani-festo to the electors of Midlothian was received here with a general feeling of disap-pointment. Some claim that the ex-Premier has taken sides with Mr. Chamberlain, while others hope for more definite information concerning his ideas of local government for Ireland in his future utterances.

London, Sept. 19.—The Daily Telegraph, commenting upon Mr. Gladstone's manifesto, says that what has hitherto been spouted by various Liberals will now sink into oblivion.

A meeting of the New Haven County Bar ssociation was held yesterday afternoon, John W. Alling presiding. The last year's officers, with T. E. Doolittle for president and John W. Alling vice president, were reelected. A motion of Hon. Lynde Harrison to make assignments for such business as ounsel present could agree upon prevailed, and the following cases were put on the list to be assigned for trial: Winchell vs. Coney, Woodruff vs. Hubbard, Wilmot vs. Wilmot and Webb vs. Goodnough. These were all the cases set down for trial next week. The Superior court comes in Tuesday at 2 o'clock, Judge Henry Stoddard on the bench, Judge Sanford not being expected from Europe until October 10th. It is understood that Judge Stoddard shall be the judge for the first week of the court and Judge Torrance for the week following. The bar meeting adjourned to meet one week from yesterday.

In the Probate court yesterday morning George P. Ingersoll and William L. Greene were appointed commissioners on the insolvent estate of James Stewart, the veteran liceman, who died at his home in Fair Haven a few months since.

Judge Shipman has handed down an opinion in the case of Dr. Alvord E. Winchell vs.

Peter R. Carll and George E. Coney. This is the case relating to the Carll Opera House legal complications, in which a citizen of this State sues a citizen of this State and one of another jointly. The case was argued Monday in Hartford on a motion to remand to the State court, from which it was claimed to the State court which it was claimed to the State court which it was claimed to the State court which was claimed to the State court which was claimed to the State court which which was claimed to the State court which w it had been improperly removed to the United States court. The original suit was for the foreclosure of a mortgage made by Carll and the equity of redemption which had been sold to Coney. Judge Shipman cites the Connecticut statute in regard to foreclosures passed in 1878, page 314, and also the session laws of 1875, page 30, and states that the question depends entirely up-on them. His opinion is based upon the law of 1878. The opinion states that the com-plainant in order to preserve his legal rights against the maker of the note was compelled to make him a party to the complaint for foreclosure. There is but one cause of action, the mortgage and debt which it se-cured, and the principle is the same as in Ayers vs. Wiswall. The motion to remand O'Neil and Charles Flannigan were before the City court yesterday on a charge of throwing stones at young Robert Dunlap. After hearing the evidence Judge Deming ave the boys a reprimand and then con inued their cases until October 3, with the warning that if they were found guilty of a cond offense he would send them to the

KILLINGWORTH

Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Hen ry Hull. Mr. Henry Hull, of Killingworth, and Miss Rebecca Lynde, of Chester, were married at the Congregational parsonage in Killingworth by the Rev. Ephraim Swift on Sunday, September 13, 1835. The fiftieth anniersary of that event came also on Sunday and was celebrated by the relatives and escendants September 15th. The day dawned bright and beautiful, flooding the hills and valle s with golden light, making the old home cheerful and inviting to four of their seven children who with their children gathered around the hearthstone to congratulate each other that their paents were still there and to cate reflex of the golden light which emanates from every true Christian as life's setting sun nears the horizon. The first born, in her sick chamber where years of suffering have taught her patient endurance, could only think of home and plan her golden meeting with them in one of the "many mansions" above. Two vacant chairs spoke sadly of sons who in the prime of manhood were laid side by side in our cemetery. One was Lieut. H. L. Hull, Company G, Tenth regiment, C. V. Another son, W. A. Hull, now living near his father, belonged to Company C, Twelfth regiment, C. V. Eleven grandchildren "filled the house with glee."

On the bountifully filled table was a pyramid loaf beautifully decorated and names and dates in golden letters; also a large loaf bearing this motto:

"In that far land shall disappear emanates from every true Christian as life's

"In that far land shall disappear The shadows which we follow here." Mr. Hull is eighty-one years of age, has two sisters living, Mrs. Nettleton and Mrs. L'Baron, of Clinton. The latter was with him on this occasion. Mrs. H. is seventy-nine, and of ten brothers and sisters has only one left, the wife of Rev. E. H. Parmelee of Lebanon, who were also present. Lebanon, who was also present.

Mr. Hull's life has been one of public interest and his many friends watch his declining years with sorrow that ere long we must know him no more. Patents for Inventors. UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES'
A practice of more than thirty years, and frequent visits to the Patent Office has given him a familiarity with every department of, and mode of proceeding at, the Patent Office, which, together with the fact that he now visits Washington seminonthly to give his personal attention to the interests of his clients, warrants him in the assertion that no office in this country is able to offer the same facilities to Inventors in securing their inventions by Letter Patent—and particularly to those whose applications have been rejected—an examination of which he will make free of charge.

Prel'uninary examination, prior to application for paten' made at Patent Office, at a small charge.

His facilities for procuring Patents in Foreign Countries are unequaled.

Ds. Lycox—Dear Rir—It is imposettly for one to ruly express my gratitude to you concerning the effect which your medicine has produced upon my system.
I have just finished the medicine you put up for n.
and can truthfully a y that I feel a different being My appetite is very regular and I am not troubled with that dull headache that I once had, and sleep never was so refreehing, as I am not disturbed with dreams. Before I came to you it was difficult for my to confine my thoughts for any length of time to any subject, undoubtedly owing to that complaint, and the contrast is quite noticeable. If I ever know one troubled with that complaint I shall immediately dircet them to you as an effectual means of sunst curfor if it seems to me that I almost ove my life to you, for if the had been allowed to grow upon me the time, could not have been far distant when that incumbla disease (consumption) would have been desply seatedin my system. Pleast would have heen desply seated-
