emains for the voters to do theirs. The general excellence of the nomination for town and city offices is well supplemented by the ward tickets which have been placed n the field. Especially is this the case in he number of those who, having served the council, have been promoted nominees for an alderman's hair. In the First ward Mr. George B. Marin has been so prometed, as has John W. Kinney in the Second and Charles W. Blakeslee, jr., in the Tenth. Should President Cleveland die before December 7th, the regidential office would remain in abevance intil that day, the Senate having adjourned without electing a president pro tem. The situation is an awkward one, and it is ime to do something to make such complications impossible. The Democrats are responsible for the fact that nothing has been done. Three years ago the Republican Senate passed a bill vesting the presidential sucession in the Cabinet. This measure was ntended to remedy two very serious defects in the existing laws. It would have guarded against any possible failure in the line of hrough the cabinet. And it would have evented the political transfer of the adminesident and vice-president. Had it beme a law the country would not now be eft without a designated successor to the residency, nor would such successor, after he meeting of Congress, be the Republican resident of the Senate. There would now be a successor in line, and it would be Secreary Bayard, the chief of President Cleveand's constitutional advisers. But the Demeratic house refused to pass this measure or anything else that would answer the purpose. It is to be hoped that the winter will not go

Controller Cannon reports that the nation l bank system has now the widest development it ever had-namely 2,727 banks, 145 new ones having been organized in the last year. In that time only four have failed, a remarkable evidence of the soundness of the system. Notwithstanding this growth in the number of banks, the circulation has declined $15,000,000 during the year and shows good his prophecy. This makes the ninetyeventh time, and a movement is on foot among the habitues of Al. Blodgett's saloon to celebrate the occurrence of their hunlredth arrest, which cannot be far distant. A souvenir programme will be issued; the Montezuma will be thrown open to the boys, and several well known desperate Greasers will be shot on sight. We will be there on other vessels at a distance.

The report made to the State departme by W. T. Van Vredenburgh, M. D., of New York, whe has investigated the causes of the cholera epidemic in Spain during the present year, is instructive. Among personal predisposing causes, he mentions weakened onstitution, and, therefore, weakened re sisting power from any cause whatsoever chiefly due to poverty, insufficient and innu tritious food, lack of personal cleanlines and previous disease. Of those attacked by the disease, the first are the | oor, the weak women and men follow in the order named The mental condition seems to have a predisposing influence, so that fear is assigned s one of the causes of the disease. Under the heading "environment" the doctor men tions the general hygienic condition of duellings; ignorance, carelessness, superstition wells and other sources of water supply, and lastly, the most potent factor in the distrieccupation. In many small towns the only drain is the remnant of a huge brick sewer the upper part of which is entirely open and exposed; and through this sluggishly runs a all their refuse. The English Parliament will be dissolved on the 18th inst. On the 22d the candidates will be nominated and two days later the elections will take place. According to the Conservatives, the return of Mr. Gladstone to power will be disastrous to the interests of England. According to the Liberals, with Lord Salisbury's return England will be on the road to ruin. Both Conservatives and Liberals, "reckoning on the good sense of the nation," are sure to succeed, but as there are six hundred and forty-four members to be elected I shall not be able to tell you before next month under which government we shall be happy. Although everything passed off very quiet

Although everything passed on very quietly at the opening of the French Chamber of Deputies, an incident, insignificant in itself perhaps, occurred which presages great difficulty in forming a government majority.
The moderate Republicans, known now by the name of Opportunists, put forward M.
Scaller the late Gambetta's most intimate Spuller, the late Gambetta's most intimat friend, as a candidate for the vice presidence of the chamber, but he was defeated, the Monarchists and advanced Republicans having coalesced. Of course the Monarchist has but a short time to live. Gambetta is dead, they say; Ferry crushed, Brisson used up and Grevy almost an octogenarian. A last convulsion will be called Clemenceau. and the death sob Floquet. If, however, the Republicans can succeed by mutual concessions in holding together the republic is not in danger. The danger exists indeed and is imminent, but it does not come from the Right; it comes from the Left. As I said ore, the return of two hundred and five a peaceful government; nothing more. It was meant to condemn the famous colonial policy, not to destroy the republic. In a remarkable speech delivered in the Chamber of Deputies on the 30th of last July, M. Cle

Ferry ministry by a majority of three hun-dred and fifty-five to sixty-eight on account of the expedition to Tunis, although that expedition had been highly successful from a military point of view. In 1882 the Freycinet ministry was defeated on the vote of credit which it asked in order to enable France to join with England in an armed intervention in Forms. In 1885 the second France to join with England in an armed to-tervention in Egypt. In 1885 the second Ferry ministry was overthrown by a majori-ty of three hundred and six to one hundred and forty nine on account of the Tonquin expeditions. It is not often that a joke comes from the busy county of Lancaster. It appears, however, that a countryman went into a butcher's shop for a sheep's head. The butcher asked whether he wanted a Conservative or a Radical one. Hodge, think-ing of the big loaf, the three acres, the cow and the other blessings promised by Radicalism, chose the latter. Thereupon the butcher took a sheep's head, removed the brains and handed it to the much disointed countryman.

the wit of the British. Here is another instance. At a Conservative meeting a man was seen in the hall hawking about a basket of puppies for sale. "Good Conservative puppies!" he cried; "who'll buy some good Conservative puppies!" A few days afterwards he offered the same puppies at a great Liberal meeting. "Good Liberal puppies!" he went about crying; "who'll buy some excellent Liberal puppies!" "Why, you rascal," said a gentieman to him, "I heard you the other day offering these as Conservative puppies; what do you mean by it!" "Ah! true, yer honor," he returned; "they were blind then, but now their eyes have been opened."

Safety-Stricken Parents. Two juniors at Yale in the Academical de partment, Victor Brush Caldwell and Warren Samuel Yates, both of Omaha, Neb. roommates at Mrs. Winchell's, No. 84 Wall street, decided Wednesday afternoon to spend Thanksgiving day ducking at Stony Creek and stopped for the night at Landlord Killam's hotel on Money Island, one of the Thimble Islands. They arose betimes and armed and equipped set off each in his boat to enjoy the pastime. They were given a friendly word of caution by old boatmen who advised them not to venture far out on the Sound as the wind was blowing freshly from the north and might, if it increased, render their return difficult. When they left the water was in good condition for the sport, air bracing and the sun shining, while the wind boded nothing immediately perilous or hazardous to their undertaking. They had rowed but an hour or so when the wind ncreased and in a short time the waves were white-capped, and those on shore were able o see that the young men were hardly equal to the emergency, and realizing it had attempted to put back to shore. The wind continued to increase and whole number of votes cast the sky grew gray, lowery and threatening, while the boats were apparently at the mercy of the waves and tide and the strength of the occupants was fast abating. It was then seen from shore that Caldwell was endeavoring to communicate with Yates and that he then swerved his boat to the right and was making for Outer Island, a bare inhospitable rock on the outer edge of the Thimbles. Caldwell was the most skilled oarsman apparently, and was able to control his boat, while his companion appeared to be drifting further and further away, despite every exertion. Caldwell's boat reached the island and he jumped out to the land, but his boat escaped him owing to the power of the waves and his somewhat exhausted state. The condition of Yates meanwhile was such as to wring pity from the stoutest-hearted as ie appeared to be completely exhausted, now vringing his hands in anguish and then resoutely plying the oars again. Attempted Suicide. A man named Eberhardt, a piano player by occupation, shot himself four times yesterday noon in the western part of Bridgeport, the bullets lodging in different parts of his body and one settling in his lungs. It is thought he cannot recover. Eberhardt claims that he was shot by a person of whom he gave conflicting descriptions, and also claimed that he had not had a revolver in his possession for six months, but this statement is known to be false. After the shooting Eberhaddt rode in the cars to his ome in West Stratford where he now lies in critical condition.

Entertalnments. NEW HAVEN OPERA HOUSE. The Redmund-Barry company presente 'A Midnight Marriage" at the New Haven Opera House last evening. The author is Charles Osborne, an English dramatist of ome note, the writer of several more or less ecket" now being played by Lawrence Bar-

The play having been reviewed in these olumns at its presentation here last season, detailed account is unnecessary. It is one of those mediaeval pictures which deals one of those mediaeval pictures which deals with the intrigues at the French court during the sixteenth century. There is much to be admired in "A Midnight Marriage," which, beside being a strong and well written drama, presents in an agreeable form the picturesque manners of the chivalrous days when the first Francis and his hated Bourbon rivals held all France in suspense. pense. The events are interesting and in parts exciting and the historical data arranged with dable accuracy. Such plays as this do more towards impressing historical events upon the mind of the student than the thumbing of a score of dry text books, tesid presenting everything in an attractive form so colored as to offer a perfect picture of "ye knight so bold" now only found in the pages of the novelist.

William Redmund, an actor of the romantic and robust school, played the part of Casimir, Comte de Sauglet, with plenty of dash and vigor and in a manly and fin-ished manner. He was Mr. Booth's leading support during the latter's London engagement Mrs. Thomas Barry, who assu the role of Hortense de Guise, is equally well known to the theatrical patrons of the Hub. She has a commanding presence, and though a trifle "steely" at times, gives on the whole an artistic portrayal.

Mr. W. M. Fairbanks gave a good rendition as the valorous but boastful Compte St. Ange. Not so Mr. F. C. Huebner, whose Claude de Guise was slow and artificial. Mr. Rufus Scott played the part of Philippe de Brion fairly though with but little anima tion, the same being true of Miss Aigen in the Duchess. If Francis the First either cted or looked like his representative las night, Mr. Walton, we do not wonder that At the marries that a tree mund and Mrs. Barry will perform Victor Hugo's "Ruy Blas," which is to be represented in all the magnificence of Spanish surroundings. To-night "The Merchant of Venice" will be enacted. In view of the fact that the commany is a good one Shake that the company is a good one, Shake-speare's popular work will no doubt be ably presented and should merit the attention of our play-goers. CARLL'S OPERA HOUSE This evening the talented and famous actor Mr. Joseph Jefferson will appear at this opera house in his well known play "Rip Van Winkle." No doubt a large and appreciative audience will attend.

AMERICAN THEATER. Kenvon & Jerome's consolidation closes it week's engagement at the American Theate to-night. It has been a successful week for a very good show and the patrons of the thes ter will be sorry to see the company go. Thurs day there were two big houses, ROLAND REED

Will appear at Carll's Opera House Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week in "Cheek" and "Humbug," supported by what the Boston press says is a first-class company. Mr. Reed will appear in "Cheek" on Tuesday evening and "Humbug" on Wednesday evening.

BUNNELL'S MUSEUM. Thanksgiving day over 4,500 people a tended the performances given by the Australian variety company at the Museum, the act of Mile. Aimee, the human fly. This af-ternoon and evening will be the last chance to see this excellent company.

NEW HAVEN OPERA HOUSE. Every evening and Wednesday and Satur day afternoons of next week at this house Professor Bristol's "Equine School of Educated Horses, Ponies and Mules" will ap pear. The animals are trained to a wonder-ful degree. Some of the nules show a phe-nomenal ability with their heels and keep the udience in roars of laughter. CARLL'S OPERA HOUSE. John T. Raymond played "Col. Sellers" and "For Congress" at Carll's Opera House last Thursday. Mr. Raymond has many admirers, and the applause accorded to him shows that his humor is calculated to please. He kept the andience in a continuous state of laughter, and many of our local politician are said to have received several "points" It is most remarkable what an excitement there is about the lately discovered Moxie Nerve Food. The apothecaries say its sale is prodigious. If it will recover nervousness and tired out people mentally or physically and make them eat and sleep well; rest them while at work and give such powers of endurance; kill the rum thirst and reform drunkards, as they say it will, it ought to be popular. It puzzles the doctors as to where its power comes from, it is so harmless.

THE DEAD VICE PRESIDENT. After Lying in State Two Bays the Remains Will Be Interred on Tuesday-An Imposing Funeral in Which Clergymen of All Creeds Are Invited to Take Part.

Indianapolis, Nov. 27 .- All the public buildings here are covered with the emblems f mourning, and flags are displayed at halfnast. Citizens generally are doing everything that suggests itself to make the observance of the death of the Vice President solemn and appropriate. On account of the strain on the nerves of Mrs. Hendricks visitors were excluded from the house last evening, but this morning her parlors were again filled by sympathetic friends. Mrs. Hendricks is almost prostrated to-day from grief and exhaustion and her physicians have given orders that she shall see nobody unless there is an emergency. R. H. Parks, of Chicago, assisted by thing that suggests itself to make the obgency. R. H. Parks, of Chicago, assisted by H. Mueller, of Indianapolis, and F. B. WASHINGTON, November 27.-There is nuch speculation here about the probable chance of the Republican members of the Senate for president pro tem. The expression that Senator Edmunds does not desire the honor of the position is becoming more general. Senator Allison, the Critic says this evening, is authority for the statement that the question of the presidency of the Senate is not likely to be formally considered until next Thursday or Friday evening, when a caucus of Republican Senators will be held. One of the most prominent and conservative Republican Senators said to-day he had no doubt that the presidency of the Senate would go to the West by caucus nomination. "Senator Edmunds can un doubtedly have the presidency of the Senate if he seeks it, but I am certain that he does not. If he is not a candidate Senator Logan is more likely to be chosen than any other Senator. The Republican party has expressed its desire that Senator Logan should reside over the sessions of the Senate and hat fact should have weight with Republican Senators. My judgment would be that Senator Logan will be chosen president pro It was rumored to-day that Senator Logan had opened an active canvass for the presi-dency of the Senate, but this was quite as positively denied. One prominent Senator said: "Neither Senator Edmunds, Sherman or Logan would make anything like a can-wass in his favor. The Senate is a peculiarly

3. Several years ago I vaccinated a person whose health had always been excellent and who had never had any kidney disease. The lymph used was bovine, obtained directly from one of the most reliable propagators in the country. The operation was carefully performed, and was a success as far as relates to his primary object. In about a mouth after vaccination the patient became dropsical. The urine was heavily charged with albumen; the situ was dry; appetite and strength diminished, in short the phenomens of a typical case of acute albuminuris existed. So obvious was the cause of death no post-morten examination was made. Authorities mention animal and zymotic poisons as among the causes producing Bright's disease. They speak of scarlet fever, meades, smallpox, as sometimes begin the cause of albuminuria. If this is so, there is no good reason why vaccination may not occasionally become an etiological factor. In the cause we are considering, the evidence that it was the cause is quite plain. The precise way in which the poison gained an entrance into the system and performed its deadly work, it is impossible to determine. Should Bright's disease arise, even in rare instances, after vaccination the somer the profession find it out the better it will be for suffering humanity."

De I condend alcounty shows that even so

Dr. Loveland clearly shows that even so mple a matter as vaccination is liable to esult in Bright's disease. Indeed, medical authorities state that during the prevalence of smallpox there is albuminuris, and if this so, undoubtedly vaccination, which produces a mild form of the disease, will be attended by some manifestation thereof.

The fact of the matter is, and it is getting to be more and more recognized every day, a very little disturbance of the system will produce deraugement of the kidneys, which, entually, results in Bright's disease. Over work, mental or physical; over anxiety; physical excesses; mental worry; excessive indulgence in certain stimulants and narcotics; irregularities of life and habits; the taking of a cold; changes of season and climate, all have a tendency to affect the system unforcementally and to produce a diseased condiavorably and to produce a diseased condiion of the kidneys.

People labor under a very erroneous im ression who think that such disorders are are, for it is a matter of record that primarily or secondarily they are the cause of a arge percentage of deaths.

Vaccination is perfectly right and proper,

Targe percentage of deaths.

Vaccination is perfectly right and proper, for there is no better preventive known to the profession. A very small amount of faccine, if it "takes," affects the whole systems are the small amount. vaccine, if it "takes," affects the whole system. On the contrary, a very small amount of medicine, if it is of the right kind, has an equally powerful effect in the blood when properly administered.

It seems almost like vain repetition to state that pure blood means good health, but it is evident that the belief is popular from the fact that so many so-called remedies are advertised as the best blood nurifiers.

dvertised as the best blood purifiers. Now, in order to purify the blood, a remedy must be alterative, and in considerable measure a diuretic; that is to say, it must have the elements in it that will act upon the blood as purifiers and will promote the ac-tion of the organs which remove the poison from the blood. Unless it has these elements from the blood. Unless it has these elements it is absurd to call it a blood purifier.

The tired feeling; the depressed headaches; the fluttering at the stomach, vertigo; a sense of languor; an indescribable feeling of aneasiness and restlessness, all indicate, not disease necessarily of any one organ, but a torpid and heavy condition of the blood. It is impossible to purify a stream except at its course. It is impossible to keep the blood source. It is impossible to keep the blood rich unless it is purified by the organs which nature has provided for that purpose. We have shown, as we think every journal-ist ought to show to his readers, if able to do so, that the human kidneys are susceptible to the least cause disturbing the natural oprations of the system, and it is also known that these organs are provided by nature to emove the waste and poisonous material of the blood and to wash it out of the system. Who were President Frisbie and Captain This operation seems very simple, but owing Hale of the club, the former winning the to the fact conceded by the medical profes sion generally, until the discovery of Warner's Safe Cure, there was no known reme dy which had any certain power over functional or chronic diseases of the kidneys or over blood impurities consequently blood purification through these organs has been a difficult matter to perform if nature were at all deranged. It is useless to multiply words on this sub-ject because that remedy has a reputation conceded by the most intelligent physicians, of being without exception the most benefireventive of smallpox, and if the sove mentioned is used in connection the operation of vaccination, it is doub an injurious freet will follow. The acturers state that the know, from lo od disorders are extremely prevalent and nt, judging from their own ex-crience, there can possibly be no d grown people alike are subject to it and dess nature is given assistance at the propr time by a special agency such as we have named, persons so afflicted must succumb to he forces which are constantly trying t

TWO BIVAL CITIES.

In the long and at times bitter rivalry between Connecticut's two biggest cities— Hartford and New Haven—honors now seem to be pretty equally divided. Hart-ford has secured the State Capital, one of ford has secured the State Capital, one of the most beautiful in the country, situated in a lovely park, but New Haven has gone ahead in population. In the political rivalry between the two, also New Haven, by her Democratic majority, has succeeded in putting the trim little State on the list of those that voted for President Cleveland. Hartford, however, is just now proud of having had her many charms set forth at length, with plenty of illustrations, in the pages of Hapers' Magazine, and so the struggle goes on. Brains will succeed in putting one or the other city ahead, and just here it may be said that New Haven has an exceptionally brainy bar. But, than an exceptionally brainy bar. But, then, Hartford has more literary people—Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and others. Among the able lawyers of New Haven is Edward A. Anketell, the assistant clerk of the Su-perior Court, who office is No. 10 in the Court House. Mr. Anketell is well known to the legal profession throughout Connec-ticut and has also the reputation of being a favored writer for the press. As such this little story, coming from him under date of September 24, 1885, possesses no slight interest:

Yesterday morning the pain was nearly gone and one more dose completed the cure, so that tomore dose completed the cure, so that to-day my arm is as well as ever." day my arm is as well as ever."

Mr. Anketell was wise in taking such prempt measures to check the pain. Doubtless if Mr. Morris Hobbs, of Hampton, N. H., had known of the existence of Athlopheros, the rheumatism from which he suffered would have been cured with equal speed long ago. Mr. Hobbs thus tells the story of his cure:
