his great work in person. But this could not be done without Mrs. Weldon's sanction, and a barrister wrote to this lady proposing that M. Gounod should come over and per-sonally conduct the performance, and pray-ing that she would allow him to do so without taking any steps under the judgment ob-tained by her against him. But it appears that Mrs. Weldon is not at all anxious to see that Mrs. Weldon is not at all anxious to see the great maestro again except in the hands of the police and she feels very indignant. In answer to the barrister's letter she wrote: "I am astonished at your impudence. Cer-tainly not. I will not allow M. Gounod to set foot on English soil. If he dare to do so I will have him immediately arrested." Her

Majesty, who, it is said, is a great admirer of Gounod, will regret for the time that she is a inske a stand against her terrible female sub-ject. Unless she relents M. Gounod will not come. Mrs. Weldon, I believe, has been often badly treated, and she is now taking her nnings. She is, as you see, no respecter of persons and getting perhaps a trifle inconvenient.

Editor Stead, of the Pall Mall Gazette, was released from Holloway jail on Monday last, and was welcomed back to liberty by a crowded and enthusiastic meeting in Exeter Hall on the same evening. One of the many admirable sides of the English character is complete forgetfulness and forgiveness for past offences when they have been paid for. At the time of Editor Stead's trial nearly the whole of the London press abused him and considered the verdict a just one. Some papers went so far as to say it was not se-

that he had anything to do with the passing of the criminal law amendment bill, now says: "Mr. Stead is an enthusiast, and en and the other papers who pitched so hard and unmercifully into Mr. Stead at the time and unmercitally into Mr. Stead at the time of his revelations and prosecution had been willing to acknowledge his good motives, Mr. Stead would not have been sent to jail, for there is no doubt that the indignation exci-

What eccentricities there are in the com-non law justice of England, to be sure! Mr. Stead comes out of jail after undergoing a

A PLAN FOR ARBITRATION. Section 22 of the platform of the Knigh Labor reads as follows: "To persuad mployers to agree to arbitrate all differ nces which may arise between them and their employes, in order that the bonds of sympathy between them may be strengthened, and that strikes may be rendered unecessary." have a chance to see the workings of arbitration on a large scale in Massachusetts. At the last session of the Massachusetts legislature a bill was introduced to provide for the ppointment of a State board of arbitration o mediate between employers and worknen. It was favorably considered by the House, and sent to the Senate, which rejected it in the last hours of the session. Durng the autumn both political parties inlorsed the leading principles of industrial arbitration, and when the governor came to prepare his inaugural address he took similar ground and suggest d a scheme for the ppointment of commissioners. In January Mr. Mosely of Newburyport introduced a bill based on the English model of enforcea ole findings, and now the Knights of Labor, acting through their friends in both houses, nave presented a bill, drawn up by Mr. Charles G. Fall, which they state will be acceptable to them. It provides for a board of

The Boston Advertiser says of it: The bill is carefully drafted. It omits the high- a ly objectionable provisions giving the force of law to the commissioners' recommendations, and meets the approval of the chief of the bureau of labor statistics, who has made industrial arbitration a topic of careful study. The friends of the bill state that they ave carefully weighed the proposal to have special local arbitrators named for each case requiring settlement, and have come to the Nine other counties have each only one license town. In eight other counties the liceuse towns number two each. Charleston is credited or discredited with 305 of the 535 bars in the State. At this rate, the liquor traffic will in time be driven on to the Charleston barbor bar.

The new boycott at Galveston is not as opular as the other one was. Only one siness firm is ostentatiously complying with it, and a number of the leading firms reply to the formal demand to stop doing susiness with the boycotted Mallory Steamship company with a distinct refusal. It is serted that the last boycotting of the Mailorys—the one bafore the fire—cost Galveston a half million of dollars.

They don't name matters in the great West. Thus a Kansas paper says: The Rev. Boggs, who has been preaching to the Presbyterians of this place, threw up his position in disgust last week. He said he hadn't eaten a square meal since he came into the town, and if he can't get a better church he to be satisfied with the Indian secretaryship will go into the book canvassing business. The members of the Democratic State committee-nine in number-have been questioned concerning the matter and their replies are interesting. Four are opposed to the law, but only two favor its repeal. It says that the emigration of the negroes is small compared with the white emigration; for every negro who leaves five or more whites go. As for the cause "it is the same spirit that carries thousands of New Englanders westward every year; the spirit of adventure, which has risen in the negro with freedom, the desire to get much higher on the matrimonial market. However, I do not think that the Bulgarian heaper or better lands than he has been cultivating. If the emigration westward, but within the same lines of latitude, is any evidence of oppression or of serious dissatis-faction on the part of the negroes, it might with equal reason be deemed proof that the white peeple of Vermont and Massachusetts stood that he basks in the substitute shead by the presence of one who is as devoted and possibly a good deal more entertaining than any wife would be, especially if coming from a German house. The person in ques-tion is a beautiful French lady, whose figure are driven from home by oppression."

Judge Dyer of Illinois has under conside vation some interesting questions of law. A suit was brought in the United States dia trict court to recover $10,000, the amount of a paid up life insurance policy. The insured committed suicide. The plea of the company was that death was intentional and not caused by accident, and that the company was not liable for damages. The plaintiff pleaded insanity as the cause which led the pleaded insanity as the cause which led the pleaded insanity as the cause which led the deceased to kill himself and that he was not responsible for his acts. In his charge to the jury Judge Dyer instructed them to find according to the facts shown by the evidence, but devised a special form of verdict that the point of law might be left for decision by the point of law might be left for decision by the bench. The decision of the jury was that the deceased "committed suicide by hanging the deceased "committed maker which is named Gold, and the prince escaped with only the loss of a handful of hair—which I should add he would be very pleased to recover at present.

BOARD OF EDUCATION Committee on Schools, They Having Withdrawn the Proposed Rule in Regard to the Matter-Other Bust-All the members of the Board of Educa tion were present at the regular meeting of the Board held last evening and which proved to be the most interesting meeting

Mr. Plunkett, of the Committee on Schools, said that the latter committee desired to withdraw the proposed rule in regard to the lischarging of teachers after a certain time. Mr. Plunkett continued: "The committee ask to withdraw the proposed rule, as it was sleighing on Whalley avenue. Among the not the desire of the committee to ask favors

Mr. O'Brien-I move the committee be given power to withdraw that proposed rule. Mr. Strong-I second Mr. O'Brien's mo-

Mr. Strong-Mr. Plunkett, where did that roposed rule originate? Mr. Plunkett-The proposed rule originatd among the members of the committee. Here Mr. Plunkett insinuated that the Committee on School Buildings did not always report all their doings to the Board. Mr. Bennett-I would like to know what the Building committee have been doing that the Board has not heard of.

Mr. Strong of that committee-We might have done one or two minor things when it was necessary-like fixing a furnace or something-without the knowledge at the time of the Board, but we always intend to lay every- record was: thing before them.

Mr. Bennett—I should like to inquire if Superintendent Dutton did not recommend that rule in regard to teachers.

Mr. Plunkett—No. It originated among he members of the committee, as I said be-Mr. Graves-I think there has been a little apprehension as to how this matter came up before the Board. I think the matter came up in discussing the discharge of one teacher, and that led to this proposed rule. It strikes me, however, that that power specified in the proposed rule should not be acted upon by the superintendent or the commit-tee without bringing the matter before the Board to see if they would sanction it.

Mr. Zunder—I am glad that the committee are going to withdraw the proposed rule, as it is of so little importance; but I think it could have been a good thing for the pupil Mr. O'Brien-I don't agree with Mr. Zun er in saying that the matter is of very little ortance. It is of great importance and uld be done by the Board, as the work is done now altogether too much by commit-tees. All the work of the committees should ome before the Board, whether it was of lit le or great importance.

Mr. Graves—I think I have a voice as a member of the Board in all matters as any committee, and I say all matters should be brought before the Board after being investigated by the committee, and if the Board didn't favor it it should not be done. Mr. Zunder-Does not the Committee Finance draw money without asking the

Mr. Welch-We have always done so when t has been necessary, as that has been the inderstanding. Mr. Welch—It has been moved and seconded that the Committee on Schools be given leave to withdraw the proposed rule in regard to teachers. All in favor say aye.

The motion passed by a unanimous vote, and that matter was ended for some time to ome.
Mr. Plunkett—I would call the attention of the Board to rule seventeen in the school manual. The first year I was a member of this Board I was in favor of all business being done by was as follows: "As far as practicable all business shall be presented to the Board and referred to the appropriate standing commit-tee before action by the Board." Now, I would amend that rule by striking out the first four words and having it read as follows 'All business shall be presented to the Board and referred to the appropriate standing committee before action by the Board, and no business shall be performed by any com-mittee until such business has been reported to the Board and referred by them to the ommittee with power to act."

This amendment was tabled to be taken up at the next meeting.

The resignations of the following named teachers were accepted:

Miss Alice Merriman of the Orchard street school, Miss M. E. Daggett of Cedar street school and Miss Cassie E. Hutchinson of the Welch school, A letter was received from the physician attending Miss Ellen F. Penney, asking for two months leave of absence, which was granted. The recommendations of the Committee chools to assign Miss Marie E. Shanley room 3 Welch school, and Miss Gertrude E. Hall as assistant teacher in room 12 Dwight school were tabled. Mr. Plunkett-The Committee on Schools recommend that the rule in regard to vaccination be amended so as to read, "Or present a certificate from a physician or parent statno that vaccination in their case would not

The use of the High School hall was ranted the members of the senior class for he school reception. A petition from the members of the senior class was received asking that Carll's Opera House be the place named for the holding of the graduating exercises.

Mr.Plunkett-There never should or never shall be anything of that kind in the hall with my consent. With a crowd of people, however slight the excitement might be, it would cause a panic and the hall would prove a terrible death trap. Many of these people are workingnen and, were the exerises held at Carll's Opera House, one thousand would attend, where only one hundred could be accommodated at the hall, and I favor a place where the public can be accom-

Mr. Harrison, Mr. Zunder, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Strong and Mr. Graves also favored Carll's Opera House and on a motion of Mr. Strong the matter was referred to the Com-mittee on Schools with power to act. A controversy then arose concerning the manner in which the tickets for the graduating exercises were given out and to whom, so

Superintendent Dutton explained for the benefit of the members of the Board that each member of the graduating class had seven tickets each. Each member of the mior class had two seats each, and the third and fourth classes one seat each. The lady teachers in all schools one seat each, and the principals two seats each. The members of the Board about ten seats each and the press six seats each. Superintendent Dutton said that this took up all the good seats. The Board were satisfied with this explana-tion and the distribution of tickets for this ear was referred to the Committee chools with power to act.

Mr. Zunder—Second the motion. Mr. Plunkett—The Committee on Schools and this evening will be the last opportunity to be present at its presentation in this city 4, 5 and 6 of the common schools for one hour in each week, but to hire no extra eacher, the thing to be tried as an experi nent in two or three of the schools at first Mr. Strong-I move the recommendation

Mr. Harrisou—I have a little doubt about ow this thing would work. It is a harmless thing now, but if it should grow into a big thing I should think it might be dangerous. From 65 to 70 per cent. of the children's parents would prefer to teach their children how to sew at home, and I don't believe in

Mr. Strong-I favor the plan for the other 5 per cent. Mr. Dutton-I think it would be understood that it would not be compulsory.

Mr. Zunder, Mr. Plunkett and Mr. Graves were also in favor of the plan, and the recommerdation was passed.

The Committee on School Buildings re-ported that the following bids had been resived for the heating of the new Gregory > Entertainments. CARLL'S OPERA HOUSE.

The Boston Ideals presented "Victor, the Blue Stocking," at this house last evening in the presence of a well filled auditorium. The hape "Victor" is very entertaining and one of the most pleasing operas in the company's repertoire. The music is light and happy with the occasional suggestion of an original air; the libretto so rewritten as to bring out the comedy vein of the cast without degen erating into buffoonery, a somewhat common fault with recent musical texts. W. H. McDonald in the titular role gave very good performance. His appearance was lebonnair his singing distinct and pleans-int, especially his solo in the third act, which by the way is a musical gens.

She has added to the natural composure which manifested itself at her first appearance a manner of charmat her first appearance a manner or charming abandon which is surprising in an artist of so limited an experience, Since her last appearance Miss De Lussan has shown beside histrionic progress a marked improvement in the use of her light yet well cultivated voice. was characterized by a delicacy of treatment and execution rarely witnessed. She has at-tained a position of creditable prominence, and deserves it. And deserves it.

Much Hoped From The New Ministry

A State.

Redress. THE NEW VICEROY OF IRELAND A Scotch Earl Who Is A Warm Personal Friend Of Gladstone-

LONDON, Feb. 5 .- The Earl of Aberdeen has been appointed Viceroy of Ireland and Lord Wolverton postmaster general. All the other minor offices in Mr. Gladstone's new cabinet were completed to-day. Lord Aberdeen, the Scotchman who is to be viceroy of the Irish, is only thirty-nine years old and is a member of the celebrated Gordon family which has furnished so many leaders and her weight rates. Steel rails are weak. This is explained, as are the late cabinet were completed to-day. Lord Aberwhich has furnished so many leaders and heroes to Great Britain. He is much more popular in Ireland than Lord Northbrooke, who was until late this afternoon considered as certain to get that office. Aberdeen has een a warm personal friend of Mr. Gladstone. It will be remembered that immediately after Mr. Gladstone's defeat, when he had resigned the premiership and was as near being in disgrace with the people as he ever came to being in his life, and when the leaders of his party were deserting him, Lord Aberdeen conspicuously showed his confidence and friendship by offering the fallen chieftain the use of his splendid residence near London for the rest of the season and went out of his way to give further proofs that he still regarded Mr. Gladstone as the only recognized leader of the Liberals. These marks of loyalty are being recalled now and commented upon, in connection with the announcement of Aberdeen's being made a minister, as showing that the grand old man does not forget his friends. Aberdeen is high commissioner in the Scottish church and president of the Royal Geographical society. Lord Wolverton, who becomes postmaster general, s better known as a banker than as a politician, being a member of the old firm of Mills, Glyn, Currie & Co. He has, however, taken a great deal of interest in political discussions, though generally more influential in club politics, as it is called, than by reason of any activity in the House of Lords. He is regarded as likely to prove an eminent Now that the ministry is complete Mr. Gladstone's formal statement of policy is supposed that this will be forthcoming when the House meets on Monday. The main points of it have doubtless been correctly in Maine, the home of the Plumed Knight, but 69 per cent. of the vote was cast for that popular ticket! It was amusing, Mr. Butler said, for Senators who had not, and in the nature of things outlined in the semi-official extracts the Midlothian manifesto which be presented to-morrow, and which indicates a design to introduce a thoroughly satisfactory Irish land purchase scheme to be followed by more or less excould not, have presidential aspirations to watch the contests going on between some of the Senators on the other side. He had tensive concessions in regard to local self-gov-ernment. Mr. Morley's appointment as chief secretary of Ireland continues to inno doubt Dakota's vote would be a luscious plum for those of the Senators who had the presidential faver. He referred to "our genial friend from Iowa" (Allison), who, he said, had "only got to cross over and shake the bush" and spire confidence in the conciliatory attitude of the new government, and the inquiry which he is to establish as to the condition of the people in that unhappy isle is anticipated to be the first genuine investiwho would bear watching. In the course of his remarks Mr. Butler alluded to the pen-sions paid to Union soldiers and said he had voted to pay millions upon millions of such pensions to the comrades of the Senator gation that has ever been attempted, inasmuch as the element of sympathy will enter into the conclusions to be arrived at. Morley has enough home rule in his theories to be willing to report in favor of fully as great liberty for the people as the circum-stances are found to warrant. Frederom Illinois, while his (Mr. Butler's) com from Illinois, while his (Mr. Butler's) com-rade neither expected nor received a cent, but paid their share of the taxes. He did not complain of this. The comrades of that Senator had been victors; Mr. Butler's com-rades the vanquished and were entitled to no pension. The comrades of the Senator from Illinois were entitled to the thanks and pension. The comrades of the Senator from Illinois were entitled to the thanks and honors of the government. But people had no right to be eternally flaunting their per-formance in the face of the country in order

> The Friday sessions are always short ones and that of to-day proved no exception to the general rule. Three days of continuous work in one week, including the committee meetings, is about all the average legislator will stand and when the fourth day is en-croached upon it must be only for the pur-pose of clearing up the calendar, so that busi ness will be in shape for the following week.
> The country members who live at the points most remote from the Capitol are always anxious to get away as early as possible on Friday, so that they may reach their homes before midnight, some of them having to ride many miles over the hills in open this bitter cold day.

Next week will be a still more busy one than this has been. The committees have their assignments made so that all the time of the afternoons will be occupied, and their Mr. Logan said that almanacs sometimes reports on bills considered will be coming in all the time, giving both houses all the work votes cast in Illinois for several years past, they can attend to during session hours. Some of the committee hearings for next State, the figures for 1876 being 554,066, and for 1884 as much as 672,669. At every presidential election, he said, since such elections had been known in this country, the vote of Illingis had inweek are as follows:
Appropriations—Wednesday, bill regarding standard time; bill regarding class legislation.

Banks—Wednesday, bill amending law re creased over that of the prior election. How was it with South Carolina? That State in 1880 polled 170,956 votes; while with the garding unclaimed deposits in savings banks; bill regarding payment of checks, etc., after death of drawer; bill identification of savings same population, and perhaps an increase in 1884, the vote polled was only 92,862 votes.

1884, the vote polled was only 92,862 votes.

If, therefore, the vote of Illinois had increased by 50,000, and the vote of South Carolina had decreased by 78,000, his (Mr. Legan's) idea was that an explanation was as much due from South Carolina as from Dakota, South Carolina as from Dakota, In conclusion Mr. Logan repeated that whatever pretence may be made as to the reason for excluding Dakota, however Senators may higgle over words—the real reason was that it would have a Republican majority. Men may argue as they please with flimsy pretexts; that was the real source of the difficulty. But the American people had an abiding sense of justice. They know that all the elements of Statehood existed in Dakota; that it had the recessary population and area Haven horse railroad company; resolution incorporating New Haven Investment com-

January 23, 1886.

Dear Sir—We learn that Mr. George M. Clark of the Higganum Manufacturing Co. of Haddam, Conn., will present several bills inimical to the interests of fire insurance companies. His company has had several fires and he has a grievance against insurance companies. There geems to be little fear that any of these bills will become laws, but we write to ask that if any legislation is attempted upon them you will use your influence with your representatives in the legislature to defeat them. They are in spirit opposed to the interests of the companies and agents.

Trusting we may have your active co-operation in case it is needed, we remain,
Very truly,
