DELIVERED BY CARRIERS IN THE CITY, 15

Our esteemed contemporary the Register hinks that even the President's best friends must admit that the circumstances have made his position in the Benton-Stone matter an extremely embarrassing one. It also thinks that the case calls for heroic action, and says: "All things considered, the best way out of the dilema seems to be the susension of Benten, for if what we hear of nim is true, he deserves little mercy at the ands of an administration whose conspicuus principles he strictly opposes."

As Benton has been suspended once and sinstated, it is not probable that he will be aspended again soon. But it is interesting to find the Democratic Register condemning the absurdity, to give it a mild name, of the President's action in this matter. Here is an fort! Great Watterson! Why, the papers xtract from one of Benton's speeches: I say that in Belgium there is one saloon to every ten families."—Omaha World. extract from one of Benton's speeches: I don't agree with President Cleveland in everything. I don't believe in his civil-service humbuggery. I do believe in genuine civilservice reform, but I don't want men under me to work every conceivable dodge to defeat me and my party at the next election. But he believes it, and he is a man with iron nerves. I don't agree with Mr. Cleveland on the silver question. He never has been west of Buffalo, and has not any more idea of the great West and its vast material resources than the mere schoel-boy who learns it from atudying geography. He will be ideas on finance, from the gold bugs. gets his ideas on finance from the gold bugs of Wall street, who once demoralized silver of the West like vampires. That's where

Mr. Cleveland gets his ideas of finance. It will be remembered that the President turned Stone out on account of his "nnfriendliness toward the administration which he pretends to serve and of which he nominally forms a pact " Stone made but two speeches, and proved that his official duties were in no way neglected. In his speeches he alluded to the President only in a respectful and rather complimentary way. But being a Republican, he was declared guilty of 'pernicious activity" in politics and discharged. It is not surprising that even some of the Democratic newspapers are criticising

Attorney-General Cassidy of Peunsylvania makes a strong indictment against the coal combination when he says: The combination, by hindering competition, has restricted the development of the State. It has advanced prices both for coal and for transportation artificially to an unjust extent. By restricting production and by advancing prices it has crippled vast industries and seriously injured the prosperity of the State. By ordering the suspension of mining it has caused large numbers of workmen to remain idle a considerable part of the year.

Mr. Dudley, the chemist, has succeeded in selecting chemicals which will purify the water before it is run into the locomotive boilers and thus save much expense. Another special object to be secured in using pure water will be the running of trains at long distances at a more regular speed with a less quantity of fuel.

ONE OF THE MAD KING'S PALACES Description of the One In Which He

Never Hecelved a Guest. [From a Washington Letter.] very interesting private letter, written t a Washington lady by a former resident of this city, who has been traveling in Europe, dated at "Obernais bei Meran in the Tyrel," October 23, describes the last of the four palaces built by the late mad King Ludwig, of Bavaria. The authorities have opened the four palaces to the public at a charge cents a ticket, and have thus realized $100. 000, and with it are paying Ludwig's debts. The Chinese palace, at which the king never received a guest, and which even his own mother had never seen until after his death, copies the style of that built by Louis XIV, at Versailles, and the mad king seems to at versalites, and the mad king seems to have taken the extravagant French monarch as his model. The entrance hall is a minia-ture copy of the entrance to the grand opera in Paris, the walls encrusted with fine mar-bles and ceilings superbly frescoed. By means of a grand staircase of white marble a series of sumptuously decorated and furnished rooms are approached.

The first is hung with maroon velvet, embroidered in gold, trimmed with a knotted gold fringe; the curtains, portieres and upholstery of the heavily gilded chairs is all of this velvet and in the walls superb paintings in gilt frames form panels. room is of turquoise blue porcelain, put to gether with gilt bronze and having a pedes tal of blue porcela in. There are also red and gold room, a green and gold one and a throne room of purple and gold.

The state bedorom is of Gobelin tapestr and gold. The bed is on a dais and the bed on it Cupids in full relief the size of bables, made of carved wood gilded with nineteen-earst gold. Small crescent shaped windows, with glass panes, temper the light of the larger windows, to prevent the glare so much gold would produce. In every room are two or more immense chandeliers, each holding three hundred and fifty candles. The king's badsent is described with larger leavily black. bedroom is decorated with lapis lazuli, blue and gold. On the Gobelin tapestry forming a canopy over the bed is depicted the cruci-fixion and above it a white dove. From the center of the gilt foot-board arises a pedestal on which rests the large ball of lapis lazuli which held the night-lamp. The approach to the royal couch was guarded by a gilt fence across the room. The toilet articles of Sevres china are in blue and gold and the dressing glass is draped by a point lace veil, which falls to the floor on either side, held

This chamber Ludwig used by twenty nights. Adjoining it on one side is a dres-ing room copied from Marie Antoinette' and a bathroom on the other elaborate frescoed with mermaids and sea nymphs Twice a day he used a large swimming bath of white marble, thirty feet in diameter and six feet deep. The smoking room is hung with white satin embroidered with baskets fect secrecy would be raised and that the existence of the order, as well as its aims and purposes, could be made known to the world without fear of retarding the work under way. We differed with him, because at that time had our employers known that we were organizing, every one of us would have been discharged on eight.

"There is no doubt in my mind of what I tell you being true," he said, 'because the source from which my knowledge comes is infallible." We then knew that he had been consoliting the spirits and silently acquiesced of spirits and silently acquiesced.

The grand salon, or hall of glass, contains consoliting the spirits and silently acquiesced. The grand salon, or hall of glass, contains chandeliers and candelabra holding twenty-five hundred candles, which are reflected many times in the mirrors. INITED STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES A practice of more than thirty years, and fra-quent visits to the Patent Office has given him a smilliarity with every department of, and mode of proceeding at, the Patent Office, which, together with the fact that he now visits Washington semi-with the fact that he now visits Washington semimonthly to give his personal attention to the intereats of his elients, warrants him in the assertion that no office in this country is able to offer the same facilities to Inventors in securing their inventions by Letter Patent—and particularly to those whose applications have been rejected—an examination of which he will make free of charge.

Good Samaritams' Temperance Meeting—A Large Andlence—Interesting Meeting.

Every seat was occupied at the meeting of the Good Samaritans last night at $17 Chapel street. After singing by the audience Chaplain Moore invoked the divine blessing upon the assemblage. William H. Conklin, after making brief remarks, introduced as the speaker of the evening Major William A. Lincoln. Mr. Lincoln's address was replete with words of wisdom, and the sudience listened to it with the closest attention, frequently manifesting their approval by hearty approach. national and race prejudices and unite all men on one common platform of brotherhood. Whether the time is coming when all Christians would be united under one name and one platform of faith was a subject beyond the speaker's ken; a mystery which he would not attempt to solve, but it was probable that the day was coming when all Christian sects of whatever name would be substantially one in the spirit of Christ. The time was coming when wars shall pease and the white winged angel of peace shall drive away war from the nations of the earth. The speaker eloquently spoke of the late achievements in aid of civilization and Christianity in "the dark continent," plause. Mr. Purefoy followed in a short adpropriate recitation which pleased the au-dience. At the close of the meeting a num-of persons signed the total abstinence pledge. Christianity in "the dark continent, adding that the day was almost here when christianity in the dark continent, adding that the day was almost here when "Ethiopa should stretch out her hands unto God." So also in India; so also in our broad land the despised, the wronged, the oppressed, were coming to feel the brightness of the sun of righteousness illumining their lives, and were coming to hear the glad tidings of the gospel of peace and to feel the benign influence of the true Christian spirit. So Christianity was slowly but surely beating down the barriers of tyranny and of race prejudice, and opening the way to joy and peace to the poor, the oppressed and the downtrodden of all nations. There was "a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at its flood, leads on to fortune." This the speaker vividly illustrated, and in telling words pictured briefly the life and rise to glory and undying fame of our own Cincinnatus, General Grant. The speaker drew a lesson also from the life of Napoleon III and from the procrastination of the officers of the fated ship Central America by which all on board met a watery grave in who is well known in musical circles in New

Rev. Dr. Goodsell preached a powerful sermon vesterday morning from the text Pealms 90, 12: "So teach us to remember our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." The sermon was deeply impressive and was felt the more in view of the recent sad death by accident of Mr. Scott, long connected with this church. The vocal music at the church morning and evening was Last Sad Rites-The Cornet Band At An Escort.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCHES. Bishop Williams confirmed seven appli-cants at St. Thomas' Episcopal church yes-terday morning. He preached from the 25th chapter of Matthew, 31st and 32d On and about the casket were many beautiful fioral pieces, among which were a handsome pillew from the members of the East Haven Cornet band, which organization the deceased was very much interested in, and deceased was very much interested in, and whose interests he had promoted since he took up his residence in the town; a sickle from the clerks in Mr. Dodge's store and other designs. The Cornet band acted as an escort to the cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Clark officiated at the house and at the grave. He spoke feelingly of the deceased, of his many good qualities and traits of character. The pallbearers were William Robbins, L. F. Richmond, S. Bradley, Louis H. Stevens. The interment was in the old cemetery at East Haven. The evening lecture upon the subject of "Money for the Home" was based on the text, "The love of money is the root of all evil." It was the sixth of Dr. Twitchell's evil." It was the sixth of Dr. Twitchell's lectures upon "The Home." The subject proved a fertile one and brought out many lessons of practical value. Upon the unequal distribution of money he said: 'If all the money of the world were divided equally among its citizens every industry would fall prostrate and the greatest shock possible to conceive would follow, and yet it is probable The many people who attended the last ad rites yesterday and saw the clods of and rites yesterday and saw the clods of earth as they were thrown on the coffin knew that the grave had closed over all that was mortal of one who was always a man of high honor, and whose personal traits drew around him numerous friends, and will have feelings of deep regret over the loss sustained. that in a few weeks or perhaps months you would find the greater part of the money sgain in the hands of its would find the greater part of the money again in the hands of its former owners. The possession of money in itself involves no evil; it is the dishonest acquisition which the love of money leads to that brings the curse," It was shown that small but steady savings, not inconsistent with generosity, on a small salary, would in time place the frugal saver beyond the reach of want. The importance of spending something for books, rather than useless and de-Active Recruiting in Admiral Foote thing for books, rather than useless and de moralizing luxuries, was emphasized. Don't There was a very large attendance at the let your anxiety to get the means choke the appetite for healthy mental growth to be obtained through books. The growth of character and soul, which is involved evening, although there was nothing of speacter and soul, which is involved in generous giving to worthy objects, was most strongly put. Every man should have a church home and do his best to upbuild that cial interest to attract the comrades. Two new recruits were mustered into the post and there were several propositions for memberhome. He who goes from church to church and belongs to none is a religious tramp. He was attired in the height of fashion. His clothes fitted him as though he had been melted and poured into them. But why that soowl on his classic forehead and the agonizing expression on his countenance? He had ng expression on his countenance! He had on an ill-fitting shirt and it worried him so that the pleasure of the evening was entirely destroyed. In the future he will buy his shirts at C. W. Wilson & Co.'s, No. 880 Chapel st., where a perfect fit and fine workmanship are guaranteed every time. d13tf Augur's Good pictures and pieces of fine statuary add much to the attractiveness and cheerful less of our houses, elevates and refines the tastes of its occupants, and will make our children sweeter and better. Our schools, too, should have pictures and statuary, so that they may exert their silent influence upon the children. It will help to make these places more cheerful more attractive, and impress beautiful images upon their minds and remain there forever. No other minds and remain there forever. No other ornament or work of art will decorate a room, whether parlor, library, dining room, or public hall, better than an appropriate piece of sculpture. Mr. Augur has deveted one of his show windows for a display of these beautiful and attractive works of art.

We make a special offering of satin and leather fans, plain and hand-painted, with ivory, pearl and natural wood sticks. We can please any taste or suit any purse. Holiday goods, at Stone's.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many sovere cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and euriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure. "I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Befere 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. Balcox, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. 1. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Avenue from Borby Avenue to Whalley Avenue. Whalley Avenue.

To the honorable Court of Common Council of the city of New Haven:

The Board of Compensation, to whom was referred the order of said court bearing date the 10th day of September, A.D. 1886, directing the assensment and determination by this Board of all damages or benefits accruing to all parties interested by the layout of Elisworth avenue from Derby avenue to Whalley avenue, as the same was adopted by said court, hereby respectfully report:

That we caused reasonable notice to be given to all persons interested in the proposed public improvement is all respects pursuant to the provisions of the charter of said city to appear before us and be heard in reference thereto; and we fully heard at the time and place specified in said notice all persons who appeared before us.

And thereupon we do assess and determine that the city of New Haven pay to each of the following named persons, in full of all damages over and above all benefits accruing to them by reason of the proposed public improvement, the sums written opposite their names respectively, to wit:

Mary A Chillingworth, wife of Felix Chillingworth.

The Board of Road Commissioners respectfully report that as ordered by the Court of Common Council they have caused a survey and layout to be made of Elissorth avenue from Derby avenue to Whalley avenue, the lines of which as surveyed and laid out by them are described as follows, viz: The westerly line commences at a point which is the present northwesterly corner of Derby and Ellsworth a enues and extends in a straight line to a point in the southerly line of Whalley avenue, p saing through a point opposite to and twelve and thirty-five one-hundredths feet ($2.50) distant from the southeasterly corner of the stone foundation of the twelling house on the northwesterly corner of hapel street and Ellsworth avenue. Also through point opposite to and thirty and nineteen one-undredths feet (80.19) distant from the southeast-rig corner of the stone foundation of the dwelling buse on the northeasterly corner of Stanley street and Ellsworth avenue of Stanley street and Ellsworth avenue owned by Palicy American con perpendicularly distant from the above de-acribed westerly line.

The said easterly line extended in a straight line passes through a point which is the present north easterly corner of Whalley and North avenues.

The amount of land taken for the said layout of Ellsworth avenue is fully shown upon a map of the same on file in the office of the city engineer dated June 1, 1836, and numbered No. 543.

Constables For Three Months. DETROIT, Dec. 12.-Nearly three months go George Rankin smote in the face his unole, Mr. McKee, her majesty's customs colector, made a dash up the street with the olice of Windsor at his heels and locked imself safely in his house in Sandwich, a Canadian suburb of Montreal. For a few lays and nights, with constables watching every door and window, Rankin seemed to be in a fair way to starve; but when the siege became known it was soon a question where he could put all the food and drink that his friends piled at his door. He has held out ever since. "I will tell you just how it is," he said to night. "You see, my grandmother died in this house on July 22. I was living with her at the time. I had a right to stay in the house for six months after her death.

The affiwhom the priest began an action two days ago for the custody of two little orphan girls whom he had placed in the care of Sachs at the request of their fdying father. It appears that Father Palmer, who also adds the sale of milk to his duties as a priest, compelled the little girls to deliver milk to harrooms. After being frequently ill-treated and abused in the saleons the girls refused to deliver the milk any longer, whereupon the priest chastised one of them severely with a heavy leather strap. It also appeared that the priest has not contributed anything to the support of the children in months and that he refused to allow them to be sent to relatives in Germany unless he was reimbursed in $700, which he said he had expended upon them.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.-George Hillen's liqrance to the Brooklyn bridge, was robbed of $1,200 early this morning by burglars who had concealed themselves in the building before midnight. After the bartenders had gone to bed in a room upstairs the burglars astened them in and then went down stairs and boldly entered the saloon, though the electric lights from the bridge shone through the windows and a bridge policeman was on duty thirty feet away. They got into a shadow, drilled the safe, took out $1,200 and escaped. They mixed and drank several glasses of liquor at the bar during the time they were in the saloon. The robbery is considered one of the most daring on record in this city.

He bought another horse at Dolores, where he represented himself as a railway engineer engaged in the National road's new survey. He paid for this animal $200 and rode off. At the office of the chief of police here they say that the false Mayer has dyed his moustache and even surmise that he has changed the color of his eyes, which must be some new Yankee trick. He has $5,000 in American gold with him besides $20,000 in Mexican bank notes. Some besides extend to the will go to Tampico to embark there on a vessel for Europe or the Stntes. This evening while laboring under an attack of delerium tremens be walked into the police station and was put in a cell to be locked up. Soon afterward a turnkey entered the cell and found Ross with a handkerchief about his neck tight trying to choke himself. After a struggle the handkerchief was taken away from him. He managed to pick a knife from the turnkey's pocket and before he could be prevented stabbed himself in the throat. Lieutenan stabled himself in the throat. Leutenant McDermott and Coroney Sharpe tried to take the knife from him, but he threw them off. McDermott meantime got a poker and used it on Ross' arms, but notwithstanding this the madman succeeded in inflicting eleven wounds on his neck, dying almost immediately. He was about thirty-six years old and upmarried.

A Family Smothered by Coal Gas. CHICAGO, Dec. 12 .- The McClure family, other, daughter and son, living at Maple wood, Ill., died from escaping coal gas Saturday night. The mother and daughter retired early, leaving the son, a young man of twenty-one, to attend the stoves. In filling them he forgot to replace the top on one and the escaping gas asphyxiated the trio. They were found by a man who lives in the same house, who knocked at their door about 9 o'clock to-day and getting no response forced the door and was horrified to find three corpses in various positions about the room as if they had been seeking pure air but had been too weak to open the doors and windows

The Kaskine Co. —Dear Sirs—"The first greates successes I had with Kaskine were in chilis and fa ver, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism and liver diseases, and I considered at that time that it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other gesm diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases pecular to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the sightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession. Very truly yours.

John Flood, a young and bright looking boy, who was arrested Friday night for begplying the same vocation, and they were then tenced Flood's companion and warned Flood if he was ever caught again at begging he would be sent before the court. The boy was let go on the condition named. Money was given him to enable him to leave the city, and it was thought he had done so. When arrested Friday night he was poorly clad and had thirty-eight cents in money, which some charitable persons had given him, and two dime novels, a Family Story Paper and other light literature in his pockets. He gave his age as eighteen. His his pockets. He gave his age as eighteen. His his pockets. He gave his age as eighteen. His parents, he said, resided in Massachusetts, and refused to give him shelter, he having behaved himself so badly. He started out some months ago to make his fortune after having stocked up with a quantity of light literature which, he says, encouraged him on his road to wealth. He says he found things went well enough until he became hungry and then he was obliged to resort to begging as the easiest mode of gaining a livelihood. He says he wishes to become a kero like what he has read about in novels. He undowate has read about in novels. He undoubtedly has taken the wrong means. It is another case where bad and pernicious literature has poisoned a young mind. He was sent to jail for sixty days.

THE INVESTIGATION BEGUN. Coroner Mix Takes Testimony Regarding The Manner Plumber Scott Met His Beath. Coroner Mix began his official investigation Saturday afternoon in regard to the manner of the death of M. B. Scott who was fatally injured at the Grand avenue crossing last Friday, and the serious injury of John Lyons. Attorney George D. Watrous was present and took copious notes for use in case the Consolidated road is sued by the relatives of Mr. Scott, and so was George R. Cooley who took the same notes in case Mrs. Scott decides to bring suit through him. James Boyle, who saw the accident, did not hear the engine bell or whistle. The gates, he said, seemed to be all right before the accident.

C. E. Squires, who has charge of the repairing and building of all signals, gates, etc., for the Consolidated road, testified that he was told by the gate tender, John Starkey, that the gate was out of order and beent a man to examine the gates. This man, William Roxbury, found that one of the wires was broken. Three of the sides of the gate would work. The one nearest the pre inct would not.

had some difficulty in getting the gate pole rearest the precinct to work. The other three were all right. I did not notify anyone of the trouble with the gates. I worked the gates as well as I could until the time of the gates as well as I could until the time of the accident. About 8 o'clock I went to the shanty to get some oil. While inside I heard a noise and I ran out. I saw the pay car coming from the north. I ran towards the gates to lower them, but was not quick enough. I saw the first team go past all right, and then saw the other team coming down. It was fifteen or twenty feet from the tracks when I saw it. The horse was be-ing driven quickly. I yelled to the men in the team as loud as I could, but they did not he team as loud as I could, but the seem to heed my warnings.

"I did not hear any whistles and had no information in regard to the pay car coming down that merning. When the car came back to Grand avenue to pay me I had a back to Grand avenue to pay me I had a limit to the seem of the seem of conversation with the engineer. I told him as did not blow his whistle and he said he Edward E. Hall, the engineer, testified: "I blew the whistle at the packing house, the usual place, and rang the bell from the junction to where the accident occurred. When I came near the crossing I heard the conductor shout and put on the air brake. I saw a team, a white horse attached to a wagon, go across the track at Grand avenue. I let the air brake off and supposed that was the team the conductor was yelling at. Then I saw the black horse go past the end of the car and put my air brake on again. The engine was running at the rate of about eight miles an hour. I did rot see the gateman until after the team was the rate of about eight miles an hour. I did not see the gateman until after the team was struck. Then I saw him on the crossing, on the Fair Haven side. I did not see anything in his hand, ne flag nor oil can, nor anything else. It is the custom, when running a pay car, to have signals carried on the train ahead of us to let the men know that we are on the road. No signal was carried to Belle dock, that I know of."

William Gardner, the firsman, told the same story as the engineer. He said that the whistle was blown and the bell rung.

Elbert Morrell, the conductor, who was riding on the platform when the train approached the crossing, testified that he saw the gates were up and yelled loudly to attract attention.

William Roxbury testified that he examned the gates and found one of them in Henry R. Towne, a painter in the employ of the Consolidated road, was at the junc-tion when the pay car came along. He heard the whistle when the engine was near whistles. He also heard the bell ring.
Cyprian McNeill, George E. Hersey and John H. Eggleston, all employes of the Consolidated road, testified that they heard the whistle and the bell.

There was a little unimportant evidence in the afternoon and the State rested. Mr. Ely then asked for the discharge of his clients on the ground that the State had utterly failed to show that there was any combination between Mr. Wallace and Mr. Opdyke. It doesen't seem that there is any evidence against the accused to argue upon, but if his honor cared to hear them on the arguments they would give them.

UNITED OHURCH. The Banger of Relapse in the Religlous Life-The Enlarged Chapel. The threatening aspect of the weather had no apparent effect on the size of the congregation yesterday. The pastor preached on the danger of relapse in the religious life, taking for his text Matt. xii, 43 to 45 inclusive. Speculate and theorize about evil as we may, its existence is a sad fact, and it is a nobler and higher conception of human ife to look upon evil as something extraneous to it rather than an essential part of our very selves. God made man in his own imvery selves. God made man in his own image. Almost any theory of origin of evil which does not lead to fatalism may be allowed. The aim of Christ in these verses was not to endorse any peculiar view of evil, whether it be a spirit or not, but to show the danger of fickleness and inconstancy in religious matters. In love, commerce or ordinary business affairs such a state shows weakness and indecision, and it is no less reprehensible in religious matters. The cause is not injured so much as we injure ourselves. Our grandfathers may have carried the doctrine of the "perseverance of the saints" too far; nevertheless they rested on a great fundamental truth. It is to those who continue, who endure to the end, who are faithful unto death, who win the prize. The enthusiasm of to-day A few days since the residence of Mr. D.

that the proprietors of Athlophoros have never claimed for it even all its merit would warrant has not a little to do with its won-derful popularity, and the thousands of grateful testimonials received by them show right.

Experience has amply demonstrated that mere outward applications are worthless.

The disease has its seat in the blood, and any remedy to be successful must deal with the obstructive acid which poisons and in-sell other stocks and almost everything on the list suffered a greater or less decline. During the last hour there was a dispection to elose up accounts for the week and the buying to cover short contracts led to a rally of 1 a 3 per cent. in the fancies and of ½ to 1½ in the general list. The strongest stocks near the close were Missouri Pacific, New York & New England, Louisville & Nashville and Lake Shore. The dealings at inservals were attended with considerable excitament and reached a toed with considerable excitement and reached a to-tal for the day of 594,315 shares against 544,960 yes-terday and 485,672 on Thursday. can be consulted at his office.

Dr. Lyon's success in the treatment of all dis eases has been marvelous and his fame has spread throughout the length and breadth of the United States. Being opposed to all mineral and poisonous drugs, he has selected choice and potent remedials from the vegetable kingdom only, and with val-uable roots, barks and herbs is prepared to CURE the most stubborn and intractive disease. Con umption, that bane of our eastern climate, which causes so many to succumb to its ruthless power, i CURED by Dr. Lyon, as many testimonials from unimpeachable witnesses attest. Dyspepsia, the national scourge, which dooms thousands to tor ure and misery, is routed and annihilated by a rem edy discovered by the doctor. In no case yet has this inestimable specific failed of banishing that painful disease. All diseases of the Lungs, Liver and Kidneys, as well as Skin Diseases, and all Impurities of the Blood of whatever name and nature, are radically and permanently cured in surprisingly short time by the doctor's improved method of treatment.

TO FEMALES:

all ladies suffering from any diseases incidental to their sex will find in Dr. Lyon a true friend and skilled physiciah and one who is competent to trea all those diseases and effect permanent cures in the shortest possible time. TO MALES Who are suffering from the errors of youth, los
