Tuesday, September 27, 1887. The Hartford Courant thinks the Repubicans have a great opportunity. It points ont that in the first year of Cleveland's administration nearly every Democratic poliician was his enemy, nearly every Democratic newspaper was his critic, he received only qualified endorsement from Democratic meetings and conventions. And yet all this time he was growing in strength with the Democratic masses. There was no denying Even if the people did not sympathize with him in his civil service reform professions, they liked to see him snub the political bosses. This increasing popularity enraged the politicians. They could not understand; it he did not consult them enough, he did not turn out the men they asked him to turn out, and put in office their strikers, he went very slow in removals, and yet the people everywhere were satisfied; business men, farmers, the general run of citizens, said, "Cleveland is good enough for us." In political circles, in newspaper offices, it was declared that Cleveland was a failure, and ye he grew in popularity. But there has been a change. As the Courant puts it: The conventions may howl and che newspapers may appland, but it is the sober truth that Cleveland does not stand as well as he did six months ago. He has lost ground as an indeendent, conservative man of good intenhave reluctantly come to the conclusion that he is either insincere or hopelessly dull. The Massachusetts Democrats have stabbed his reputation by endorsing him, and he has lost the respect of honest men everywhere by taking sides with the murdering, thieving political ring in Maryland. This is a very correct and fair statement of the case. And the Courant believes that the Republicans can win by seizing upon give it up.—Omaha World. those great principles of reform which Cleveland and his politicians have betrayed. It says: Principles must come to the front. There must be a civil service, divorced from political chicanery; business cannot afford to be broken up once in four years in order to reward a lot of men who live by political bumming. The revenue laws used intelligent revision. The whole subject of tariff and expenditure needs to be put upon a na tional and sensible basis. The Democratic party has shown itself either incompeten or unwilling to deal with these great ques tions. The way is open for the Republican party to step in and announce a generous national policy, looking to the future and not to the past. And a presidential candidate who is selected because he represents that policy can be elected. This is good sense and good politics. The Republican party, with some real principles to fight for, would be strong, and it would attract to itself very many good citizens of the other parties who are disgusted with the present state of affairs.

EDITORIAL NOTES. Superintendent Horner of the Kansas State silk station thinks that the climate of the West is peculiarly adapted to silk production, and that silk can be made in Kansa and Missouri which will be superior to the imported article. There are now the Standard Oil "trust, he Cattle trust, the Rubber trust, the Salt trust, the Cotton Oil trust, the Chicago Gas trust, etc. And the distrust which the people feel of these great combinations is growing. There is already little reason to doubt to people who are in need of goods in this line. If I succeed in so doing, believing that that the trusts should be overthrown. If I could make no improvement, I will dupli-cate the same for the benefit of future cus they are not the people will suffer from Stenocarpin, the new anæsthetic in which the medical world is interested, is an alkaloid obtained by steeping the leaves of the honey locust, a thorn-bearing tree akin to the acacis, and very common along the southern streams. It is a native tree, and is found on the river bottoms from Pennsylvania to Louisiana and up the Mississippi as far north as Iowa. At present the alkaloid is expensive, but the abundance of the material will soon render it a cheap commodity. The winter leaves of the tree are richest in the substance, yielding about seven and one half grains to ten pounds of leaves, the summer yield being two or three grains less. Like cocaine it is a local anæsthetic. A writer in the Medical Record says: Its anæsthetic effect lasts as long as cocaine; its myropathic effect is greater than that of myropathic effect is greater than the cause of three fourths of the indigestion and consequent leanness prevalent in this countries. It may be safely asserted that seven, if not eight, of every ten young ladies would be of ten or fifteen pounds to their weight. Now in most cases where the want of plumpness is not the result of positive disease call-ing for medical treatment, these extra pounds—beauty pounds they might be called, because they add the finishing touch to beauty—may be easily acquired in a few months by cutting out the following hints With a view of extending French trade to foreign countries, the minister of public education in France gives notice that those who desire to inform themselves of foreign—and particularly oriental—languages, and of the trade customs and legal usages of eastern nations, can do so at the school of languages which has been established in Paris. At this institution thorough instruction is to be given in the branches referred to above by native teachers from China, Japan, Persia, Turkey, Arabia and other countries. myropathic effect is greater than that of atropine, while its paralyzing effect upon the muscles of accommodation is perhaps as great as that of atropine, reaching its maximum effect in six or seven hours and disappearing rapidly thereafter.

An intelligent and practical builder states it as the result of his experience and observation that mortar in the interior of walls, especially if it be what is called "rich" mortar, is liable never to harden, but to retain its soft consistency even for centuries; but this can only be the case where the interior of the wall is hermetically sealed against the external air, which method both arrests evaporation and shuts off the chemical operation of the atmosphere. The fact has been stated that in England not long ago an architect dug into a stone wall three hundred years old and of considerable thickness and took from between the stones a quantity of mortar as soft as it must have been the day the wall was built, and discoveries of the same character have been made in other places. It is also stated that the possibility of such an occurrence may be tested in a very easy way, namely, by putting some rich ·Winter Underwear. wery easy way, namely, by putting some rich mortar into a glass bottle and hermetically sealing it—the fact being that it will never become any harder than when it was put the same and th

COMMENCES TO-DAY. Races at Hamilton Park - Many o the Trotters Already Here-Promis

of the Meeting Being a Gran

The races at Hamilton Park commence this fternoon. The members of the New Haven Driving Park association have been laboring with great earnestness to make this meeting surpass all others held by this society. This the sixth annual meeting. There are a large number of good horses entered; in fact, the entry list is much larger than heretofore. The class of trotters are of a higher order. Already some of the fast trotters have arrived. Several were here before Sunday and were stabled at S. H. Cruttenden's stables on Union street. They are Westchester Girl, Convoy, Mary C., Issline and Colenel Woods. Five were brought up on the boat from New York last night. Messrs. Hubinger's trotters will be a fine addition to the races. Yesterday afternoon Cruttenden was in receipt of a telegram saying that there would arrive this morning from Boston four to be entered in the pacing class. Most of the horses will be track showing their speed. There were also quite a number of people who were delighted to watch the show. Few horses from New Haven are entered, because this city cannot boast of many trotters. There are in all that are here, however, trotters from all parts of the State and from points outside. The prospects are that the races will be a grand success. There is uncommon interest shown by the public over them. The only drawback, if there is one, will be the weath-er. The track is in excellent condition. It is one of the best half-mile tracks in the

A prominent member of the association said yesterday that they wanted to make the meeting such a success financially that next year they would be able to have a track of their own. The races begin this afterneon at 1:30 o'clock, with the $250 class. It is expected that all the ho:ses which are entered in the arious classes will start. The entries in the

:50 class are as follows: 2:50 class are as follows:

Ice Boy, b.g. C. H. Ogden of Portchester, N. Y.; Mary C., g. m. George W. Simmonds, Bridgeport;
Lady D., ch m. John T. Donovan, Bridgeport; Mischief, b. m. Charles Walker, Port Jefferson, L. T.

First Congregational church furnished music. The records are imperfect, but as near as can be calculated 637 persons have been received into the church by baptism and 580 by letter. The church has had eight pastors exclusive of the present one. In 1844 the church passed through severe trials, ow-ing to some of the members adopting the Miller doctrines which were regarded by the church as heresies. Consequently eight the strongest supporters were expelled. A second Baptist church was organized by the disaaffected ones, but it soon disbanded, owing to straightened circumstances, and several returned to their allegiance. In 1874 everal members visiting on the east side ex-pressed their purpose of severing their con-ection from the mother church and estabshing a church in East Bridgeport. Sarrett on every point. The admission of Sharp's testimony before the Senate committee is held to be proper, on the ground that the defendant waived all privilege by voluntarily testifying against himself. On Thursday when counsel appears in court for the final settlement of the order on the decis-ion it will be determined when Sharp will be taken to Sing Sing. It is barely possible that his counsel may seek to obtain a stay of proceedings pending an appeal to the Court of Appeals. A further stay will not be granted, even on physicians' certificates that if he is taken to prison he will die. Sharp was completely prostrated by the news, which was broken to him shortly before three o'clock. Warden Keating would only say that his condition was precarious.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 26.—The special legislative committee on child labor paid a visit to this city to-day. The committee visited the Barnard, Wampanoag, Seconnett, Chace and Laurel Lake mills. They found few children under fourteen years old without certificates. They did find many who claimed to be over fourteen whose claim to such maturity they doubted. They also found a large number of children over fourteen who could not read or write. The proportion of illiterate children over fourteen was much larger here than in other cities which the committee has visited. Members of the committee expressed the opinion that the law in relation to the employment of minors was less strictly enforced here than in other cities but they recarded it. minors was less strictly enforced here than in other cities, but they regarded it as un-usually difficult of enforcement in this city. A Young Girl Mysteriously Disappears SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 26,-State De tective Munyan, of Northampton, has been working for months on the mysterious disappearance of Birdie Danaley of Amherst who has been missing since April 8. The girl was last seen with Carrie Train, a disso lute and stubborn girl, who was soon after unable to escape by the door and as soon as he could break away he lesped from his open window in the second story to the sidewalk, his fall being broken by an awning which he passed through. After his wounds had been dressed he swore out a warrant for Cuminals areast. The latter was allowed his trace was found of her, although Fort river was dragged and the woods searched. Munyan has now secured a confession from Car rie Train that she enticed the Danaley gir away the morning of her disappearance and while they were playing on the river bank knocked her into the stream. She insists however, that it was done accidentally claiming that she was afraid to tell of the drowning for fear that people would she was to blame.

SHOTS ON THE GERMAN FRONTIER

Paris, Sept. 26 .- On Saturday morning standing behind a clump of trees on the Ger- of the freight handlers refused to unload it of the beaters named Bregnon and the third severely wounded a gentleman named Wang-German territory. The sportsmen declare that they heard nothing. The officials on both sides of the frontier are making inquiries into the shooting.

Premier Rouvier conferred with the min ister of foreign affairs and the minister of justice in relation to the frontier shooting incident after the receipt of the official re-Berlin requesting the German government in the interest of the continuation of friendly relations to institute an inquiry into the affair without delay. Count Von Munster, the German ambassador here, in an interview with Foreign Minister Flourens expresse regret at the frontier occurrence and gar assurance that justice would be done by the German government.

The Temps says: "Public opinion is no justified in giving way to a hasty impression regarding the frontier affair. At the same time it is impossible to refrain from reflect-ing that if the series of incidents on the frontier be not stopped it will lead to the belief that Germany is really harboring in tents which her government disayows. I may be that the occurrences are the result of excessive zeal, but it is incumbent upon both governments to prevent such excess by moderating the rigor of their instruction and selecting prudent agents."

Le Paris says: Germany will have to par heavily for the shots fired on the frontier.

Unless Bismarck is bent upon a conflict leading to a general war he will have to give France full satisfaction.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—An official order has been sent to Strasbourg for a detailed report of the frontier affair. Commissaries have gone to ascertain the exact spot where Keeper Bregnon and Officer Wanger were standing when Kaufmann fired. The frontier line where the shooting occurred is very irregular and apt to mislead anyone. Count Herbert Bismarck, secretary of the foreign office, has sent a friendly note to the French embassy suggesting an early commu-nication of the results of the official inquiry and the French minister is authorized to promise ample justice and indemnity if s German official be found responsible. The frontier incident disturbed the Boerse during the first hour of business to-day, caus-ing a fall in prices. Later, however, the opinion that the affair would not affect existing relations with France caused a recovery Still foreign securities closed 1/4 per cen lower. St. Petersburg exchange and rouble

the delegates to the Democratic State convention have arrived, and their visiting friends outnumber them three to one. The chief topic of interest is the contest between the friends of William A. Poucher and Charles F. Tabor for the nomination of their respective candidates for attorney general. Wilson I. Bissell of Buffalo, law partner of President Cleveland, arrived this afternoon President Cleveland, arrived this afternoon with the Buffalo delegation and is making a spirited canvass for Mr. Tabor. He is assisted by Mr. Peter C. Doyle, Editor Fleming of the Buffalo Courier, Assemblyman William F. Sheehan, Committeeman Thomas S. Pratt, law partner of Collector Magone, and Attorney General Dennis O'Brien. Her bert F. Bissell of Buffalo, who is a relative of ex-Mayor William R. Grace, has been indus riously working with the County Democrac elegation to induce that organization to sur port Mr. Tabor, with what result remains to be seen. On the other hand, the canvass of Mr. Poucher is directed by Superintendent of Insurance Robert A. Maxwell and the Albany friends of Judge Rufus W. city have not yet got over talking of the stabbing affray which occurred here the other night, in which Dollie Howe, a variety ac tress, attacked and wounded Vioia May, another representative of the variety stage, in the breast with a knife on account of jealousy. The case was to have come up this morning but Viola suddenly recovered and flew from the city. The prosecuting attorney decided to push the case, although Viola was not here. Dollie thought she would get off when she heard Viola had gone, but she was very downcast when told she would not be redowncast when told she would not be re-leased. There was a large crowd in the City court this morning to hear the case, but it was postponed until Thursday. Dollie is still held under $1,000 bonds.

One result of the hasty departure from town of Miss May and Miss Harris is the summon-ing as witnesses of two men who had been riding in the hack with Viola May on the night of the stabbing. One of these men is a bookkeeper for a prominent mercantile house in Water street, and had aroused Miss Howe's iealousy by his attentions to the May woman. in Water street, and had aroused Miss Howe's jealousy by his attentions to the May woman. The other is a business man and married.

They had tried to beg off from appearing as witnesses on the plea of their respectability and a desire to avoid publicity, but the prosecuting attorney concluded to-day that they had a share in getting the other witnesses out of the way and issued subpœnas requiring their attendance before the court Thursday. Their evidence is expected to establish the fact of the assault made by Miss Howe, as they were eye witnesses of the affair.

Much Work to Do-Their Eastly Filled. There was a strike of thirty Italians at Starin's dock yesterday. There has been more freight than usual to unload of late. work. After some persuasion the dissatisfied ones went to work again. Yesterday morning the ones supposed be the ringleaders were discharged, as the company desire workmen who can be relied upon. This raised the ire of the others, and the consequence was that all the 'longshoremen to the number of about thirty-five went WANTED. out on a strike. The company at once set about and had little trouble in getting a sufficient number so that the unloading of freight could go on and little inconvenience WANTED. be felt by the strike. The company say that they can get plenty of longshoremen in New York, but they much prefer to employ New Haven men. Those who have been regularly WANTED. employed at the Starin dock got to thinking that the company could not do without them and that they could do as they pleased.

Last night several of the Italians who went out told Agent Conklin that they would come back, but they dared not, as the leader had threatened to kill all who returned to work. Four or five, however, of the old hands reenlisted. The Starin was an hour late in leaving on her trip to New York last night. There was some freight which was not loaded, but that was because here was no room for it on the boat, and not on account of the strike. INSULTED ON CHAPEL STREET. oung Ladies Passing Saloon Corners Oftentimes Subjected to Insults by

It was a strong and prob-able story of a man whose passionate im-pulses lead him into unpremeditated crimes of jealous rage, and whose sufferings, bravery and repentance win the sympathy of the audience. The language is feeling, the scenes have stirring climaxes, without any forced or meaningless commotion and the level comprehension is descended to without sacrificing literary merit. Thatcher, Primrose and West's minstrels so well known to New Haven theater goers, will appear at the Hyperion Theater October 5. The Baltimore Sun says: "The new departure of the old favorites is evidently appreciated highly. Nothing could be more becoming or in better taste than the new costumes, which are sufficiently colored to be highly attractive, and are without the least appearance of exaggeration. The programme is full of witty sayings and doings, the majority of which are entirely new. The managers of this troupe have spent much time and money in the perfection of their idea, and, in return, have made a decided hit.

Then the pain was less viclent, but it shifted from joint to joint. For weeks I would be totally disabled, either on one side of my body or the other. The pain never left me a moment for eleven years and seven months—that is from March I, 1875, when I was first attacked, to October I, 1886, when I was cired. During these eleven years of intense suffering I tried innumerable prescriptions from various physicians, and tried everything suggested by friends, but if I ever received the least reneat from any medicine taken internally or externally, I am not aware of it. Finally, about the first of September, I made arrangement to go to the other remedy, when I secidentally met an old acquaintance, Mr. King, now of the Lawrence House of this city. He had once been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and, as I supposed, had been cured by a visit to Hot Springs. But when I met him he told me that his visit to the Hot Springs was in vain—he found no relief. On his return from Hot Springs for rheumatism. He tried it and six bottles made a complete cure. Feyth, who has confessed to complicity in the Fairchild robbery, appears to be a garrulous individual and has given away some of the tricks of the trade. He says many safes are placed in stores and offices so that they are at the mercy of the burglar and his tools. Safes should be raised upon blocks and placed in a corner with the door shutting toward the wall. This makes it necessary to move the safe to get at the door with the wedges and jimmy, and being raised on blocks this is a dangerous as well as difficult job. When Fairchild's jewelry store was robbed of $10,000 worth of property the opening of the safe was a matter of about ten minutes.

the well known liveryman who died recently, began in the Probate court before Judge Robertson yesterday morning. In his will the deceased bequeathed to his sister, Mrs. Martha Van Buren of Litchfield wo fifths of his estate, and two-fifths more to Mrs. Andrew Kennedy, wife of Fire Marshal Kennedy of this city. No provision for his wife or Mrs. Addison T. Hall of this city, his daughter, was made by the will, save that the former was given the horse and carriage, and that instructions were given not to charge up moneys given the daughter during his life. The remaining fifth of his property was to be devoted to cemetery purposes. Of course, such a gard by the deceased in the disposal of his property rather nettled his wife and daughter, and the out come was that they decided to oppose the probatin

One of the most interesting features of the will is the care with which the deceased provides for the future of his old and favorite horse Bassett, which he had owned for many years, and to which he had become much attached. He bequeathed it to his wife, provided she wanted it, with the stipulation that it should never be used in the livery business.

Dr. William P. Anderson was the first witness called at the afternoon session of the court. He had known the deceased for five years and had been his physician to some extent. Dr. Anderson did not consider him of sound mind when he saw him last professionally, which was on the 8th of September, 1886, and he did not believe that he could recover his mental capacity by the 18th of September, the time the will was drawn. According to Dr. Anderson's idea Smith was suffering from chronic alcoholism. Dr. Wheeler and Dr. Bissell testified to Smith's hallucinations.

During the summer vacation the rooms of the upper floor of the County court house for the law department of Yale university have been greatly altered in appearance by carpenters and painters. The library, which was formerly in the southwest room, ha been removed to the northeast room, where new and convenient bookcases have been erected to contain the many reports and other law books, while small deaks with a gas jet over each have been arranged in different parts of the room to be used when required. The bookcases have been placed on the north side of the room so as to allow large aisles between them, and these contain the State reports, while a long wall bookcase extends along the south side and contains the English reports and other books. These bookcases are of black walnut handsomely panelled and the books can be easily reached from the single step running at their foot, so doing away with the nuisance of climbing a ladder to reach the books, which had to be done in the old library. A WOMAN'S FISHING.

Yesterday was undoubtedly a good day for fishing, as the wife of a prominent manufacturer of Birmingham succeeded in capturing fourteen pounds of blackfish in front of her cottage on the shore in a few hours. She became so enthusiastic in her sport that when a two pound beauty broke the line and was about to escape, she waded in and, using her skirts for a net, safely landed the fish on the rocks above her. A man under the same circumstances would have lost that fish, and would keep relating the circumstance for a month afterward—Ansonia Sentinel. YOUNG PIRATES ARRESTED.

A visiting clergyman at a south end Sunday school yesterday was expatiating upon the benefits of a temperance life, when he referred to its help in making men strong. "Why." said he, "the strongest man that ever lived never tasted li-quor. Who can tell the name of the strongest man." "John L. Sullivan," came instantly from a little fellow in the infant department, whose face gleamed with pride at being the only member of the school who could answer.

The speaker turned the remark to help his subject by saying that even the great John L. could not engage in his brutal profession without a season of temperance training before each prize fight. The seriousness of the remarks, however, were marred by the innocent reply of the little boy.—Hartford Times.
