The BEHR Piano is so superbly complete in every attribute that it assumes the position unquestioned of an ideal instrument. It is a revelation in its way and marks the taking of a forward stride in plano making that was not deemed passible until the appearance of this instrument of extraordinary attributes. The BEHR lifts the plane occupied by the absolutely perfect plano to its own level, and that level is far beyond what it was a few years ago. To buy a Plano before becoming familiar with the wondrous beauty and power of the BEHR fastrument's tones, the rare symmetry of its proportions, the case and precision of its action and the great advantages of its wonderful patented improvements, would be to commit a grave error.

Monday, August 19, 1889. Russia is important as a wheat growing surprising that she is not gaining in these espects as she might. Consul General Way ormation concerning Russian wheat and the grain-producing plains of the empire are ring opponent, with only 81 votes, was desaturally divisible into two belts stretching clared elected. All the elected candidate across the country from Poland far into were counted out in this way. lberia-the black lands of 190,000 square niles, as fertile as any to be found in the world, devoid of stone, needing no fertilizing and producing huge crops year after year; and the arable steppes of 260,000 quare miles, without forests, which can be ertilized to advantage and which are said to semble our western prairies. But little of this land is utilized. The peasants are crushed beneath the burdens imposed by the government. They must buy their lands rom the government on a system of annual payments, and care seems to be taken that hey shall never quite pay for them. They lack transportation facilities, for railroads here have been built for military purpose and not for grain carriage. Then, by requirinto selling his grain to agents of the government at sweeping reductions of price. The government exports this and converts it into

No wonder the wheat lands of Russia are not utilized as they would be under a different policy. And it is probably a good thing for this country that they are not. HIGH LICENSE. The high license law has been in operation n Massachusetts but three months, but it has already done wonders. Facts concerning its working in sixteen cities have been collected. As a general rule the police authorities testify that the license holders are carefully obeying the law in such matters as prompt closing, Sunday sales and sales to minors and drunken easy to keep an effective watch on the saloons. Police Commissioner Whiting of Boston besays: "I hear it praised everywhere by prosibitionists and clergymen who were not lisposed favorably toward it at first. The aloon keepers are still on their good behavior and obey the law perfectly, as a rule. Boston has to take the drunkenness of several other cities and towns, acting as a sewer for them, so you cannot tell much by our figures of arrests." L. Edwin Dudley, secretary of the Law and Order league, says: Our agents all over the State report a most gratifying over the State report a most gratifying hange in the way the law is obeyed. They nave followed drunken men, in many cases, all over town in their efforts to get more iquor, and it is always refused. After three months of trial we find most of the places which were refused licenses either closed or devoted to the sale of other commodities The provision of the law which requires our saloons to make no sales of liquor between the hours of 11 p. m. and 6 a. m. is observed as never before. It is now almost impossible to find a saloon open after 11 p. m., and our streets become quiet and peaceful at a much earlier hour than those of other cities. It is mpossible to find a saloon open in all Boston on Sunday. The great reduction of the traffic is doing great good. Doubtless as the law has a longer trial the reports will be still more encouraging. High icense is the most effective way of dealing with "Rum" that has yet been found. Russia is ruled by a despot, but they know how to make hens lay there. In one year Russia exported to England the large number of 1,088,000,000 eggs, which sold for 29,265, adopted a provision making the verdict of three-fourths of a jury sufficient in all civil cases. California and Louisiana have similar provisions, and they work well. A patriotic correspondent of the Chicago News bewails the general prevalence among the business men of that town of the nasty his property to his wife. It is also stated that the offense "is not a bailable one," and that he is in jail awaiting trial. He was walking with his wife when arrested. She

In Boston a magistrate has fined six Jewish workingmen ten dollars a piece for "performing secular labor on the Lord's day," and statements are truthful. This provided among other things, that the ballots should "contain nothing but the name or names of the officer or officers to be voted for," though it is not clear whether this was a new or an old provision. There was in the field a citizens' ticket headed by C. H. Spencer. During the balloting even challengers were kept from the polls. This claim, it will be seen, was directly against the language of the ordinance just adopted, but it was justified on the ground that the State law required the name of the office to be on the ballot as well as the name of the candidate. When the point was made that the State law was meant to apply only to State and county elections, municipal elections being governed and wheat exporting country, but it is not by the general law of incorporations, by charters or by ordinances, the election officers peremptorily decided in favor of standing of St. Petersberg gives some interesting in- by the State law. this should be done in fine weather, so that they may dry within three days of outting. If they dry too slowly they are apt to change color, while if they remain too long in the sun they get scorched and bent. Rain, when they are only partially dry, spoils them altogether. An average worker can make four hats of good quality, 12-in., 3-braid, a day; working carclessly and weaving loosely the quantity can be doubled. But in the rush trade, as in the straw braid trade of China, fraudulent practices have crept in and have greatly injured it. The work is hastily and loosely done, and the home market is flooded with inferior and in some cases unsalable goods. At present every hat in Cows often suffer from excessive heat in pasture, for lack of shade, while the absense of water renders them uncomfortable and lessens the profits of their owners. Every wise stockman understands this, and looks alike to the comfort of his animals and the deliver devices the profits of their owners.

Currying, brushing, and an occassional washing of horses pays well at this season, as does their protection from flies. If kept up, clean and sweet stables promote their health. Hurdling stock, though little practised in this country, is quite common in England. The advantage claimed for it is that the land grazed over may be left to grow unchecked for a long time, until its turn comes again. Undoubtedly more stock can be kept on a given area in this way, as, next to soiling, it best insures cropping of the herbage over the entire surface. Hurdling stock on thin and cut glass. In the center of the table grass and feeding extra grain is a good way to increase its fertility, whose droppings are pretty evenly distributed.

Speaking of sheep, remember that they should have access to water, be provided with shade and be given sait frequently. Young pigs intended for early market should have extra care and feed, but others require ttle attention if they have a clover pasture Poultry should be protected from hawks, rats and vermin. Use traps and guns to vanquish the former, as advised last month; and apply plenty of whitewash to the sides and floor of the poultry house, and kerosene to the roosts, if you wish the vermin to vanish.

"Most of the daring and original inven-tions we are going to push are little ideas of my own, dashed off at odd moments while coming down town every morning on the horse car after reading the morning papers. After getting the ideas I jot down the tittle of the invention in a small sealskin book I carry for the purpose, and then try to forgit to as not to weary my brain. Most invertors sit up late at night and fret themselve into a low fever trying to find a way make the invention work. I do not. I limit myself to conceiving the scheme. Thus, yesterday I thought of the 'Auto-matic Seidlitz Powder and Boot Blacking machines,' so constructed that, if a nickel is dropped into the slot, the customer gets a seidliz powder inwardly and an elaborate polish outwardly without delay.

no one ever thought of it before, I turned over to our corps of German mechanics and our patent lawyer, who attend to the few mechanical details incident to getting up the machine. I never bother with wheels, levers, pinions, springs, trunions or rachets. A good German mechanic costing four dollars a day is capable of solving the simple problem of making a machine to do a given class of work and when he has done it the problem of making a machine to do a given class of work, and when he has done it the patent lawyer files an application in my name. It will thus be seen that I follow in the path of the most prominent inventors of the day. My fertility is amazing, even now, when I only have six German mechanics and one lawyer, but after February, when I shall have twenty-two German mechanics and three lawyers, I expect to quadruple my fertility."

Elevators Here and Abroad.

The "lift" is not displayed ostentatiously in the great German houses. It is behind iron doors, to be detected only by inspection, and is moved by clanking chains. The deliberation of the proceeding is its most distinguishing characteristic. The roots of plants are publical up from last year's field, divided into small portions, and replanted in a flooded field, at intervals of about a foot. This is done in September or October. Several loads of light furniture, trunk hests, boxes and barrels packed with nece saries and luxuries were delivered at the cond regiment armory Saturday afternoo for the use of the members of the regimer at Niantic during this week. The membe of the City battalion have more baggage than sual, which indicates that the soldiers will be well fixed for the duties and pleasures of camp life. Indeed, some of the soldier boys will have to build additions to their bunks and tents to let in the Saratoga trunks. The large amount of baggage gave to the rmory an unusual appearance yesterday afernoon. Several large bundles of camp stools that were packed for transportation, lamps and Chinese lanterns for the illumination of the company streets during the evening were among the baggage. On the top of one of the large piles of boxes was considerable length of new pipe similar to gas or water pipe. It was stated that the pipe was to be used to connect the camp with some brewery so that the boys would not have to bring beer to the camp "in baskets." Some of the boxes are marked "Sods," others are marked "Glass. Handle with care," etc., etc.

Some of the soldiers will take shoes of a new kind to the camp. These shoes, which closely resemble congress gaiters, are made of rubber, and being waterproof will be well adapted for use in wet weather.

It shows a section of this part of this city with Quinnipiae river in the foreground, but the view is indistinct and not at all creditable as a Fair Haven sketch. Result of the Week's Work-Breaking Even With Hartford - Saturday's Lost By Poor Judgment-Burdock's Schome-All the News.

Kaven

During the past week the New Havens have layed four games with Hartford, and have seen unable to more than break even with the team from the Capitol City. This was unfortunate, as the New Havens should have won three out of the four. The game on Saturday was a gift to Hartford. The home team outbatted and outfielded the visitors, but they couldn't overcome an obstacle that worked against them during the whole game That barrier was Doran, who, after the hon team had won the game several times would each time present the game to the Hartfords It seemed impossible for him to get the bal over the plate. Four men he gave their base on balls scored. It is a significant fact that, whenever a New Haven pitcher give a batter whenever a New Haven pitcher give a batter his base on balls that man scores; it is also true that New Haven's pitchers are giving many times as many men their bases as any other pitchers in the league, with one or two exceptions. The season has advanced that far when it would seem as if pitchers should have command of the ball.

The necessity of having good control of the not give a New Havener his base on ball not give a New Havener his base on balls, and Horner gave but one. Had Horner given more than this one first base, Hartford would probably have won. He put the ball squarely over the plate and made the Hartfords hit it. The pitching of both Horner and O'Connell in this game deserves more than a passing notice. Horner's feat of allowing but twenty-eight men to come to the bat in nine innings has not been equalled by any pitcher this season in any league. the bat in nine innings has not been equalled by any pitcher this season in any league, large or small. He would make a good man for a major league, as his slow drop ball would fool the batsmen who are accustomed to speedy pitching. In Friday's game he also batted well, making two safe hits out of a total of six made by the whole team. He pitched the day before, when the grounds were in bad condition. Although his pitching did not lose the game, yet he wanted to go in against the Hartfords the next day, being satisfied that he could win the game.

The season is fast drawing to a close; six weeks remain. The race in the Atlantic association is very close, Newark, Worcester and Hartford being almost neck and neck for the pennant. The Coumen predicts that if Baker and Doome hold out Newark will win the flag. Hartford will, however, make a better bid for it than Worcester, and it would not be surprising to see Hartford get there. Worcester has no show as they have but one pitcher, Stafford, that is any way regular in his delivery. Burkett is very wild and has been batted out of the box several times lately. New Haven and Lowell are going to have a hard fight for fourth place. Norwalk will end last; they are not fast enough. will end last; they are not fast enough.

Burdock expects to take seven of the New Haven team on a trip to California this winter, starting the first part of November and returning in February. A tobacco firm do-ing business in New York is at the head of the enterprise, and are to send the team out west as an advertising scheme. Nothing but a verbal contract exists between Burdock and the firm, but Burdock has already com-menced to carry out his part of the agree-ment. The name of the firm is kept a secret for the present. Tom Corooran will not g along, and Fogarty will likely be engaged t fill the position of shortstop.

The story of Saturday's game has already been told.

Two thousand people saw the game.

In the first inning John Corcoran failing to make a double play when he had a chance. Near the latter part of the game with the score a tie. Doran pitched the ball without looking to see if all the fielders were in position, and in consequence John Corcoran threw a ball out of the diamond just as Doran pitched another one. The two passed in front of Shachern's eyes at the same time, and so blurred the sight that he failed to put up his hands and the ball Doran pitched went over his head. Two runs were scored in consequence. This is a fault that Doran should remedy. He has many times pitched the ball when the fielders were not in position. Hereafter it would be well for Another exhibition of poor umpiring was given by Mr. Kelly Saturday afternoon. It is very evident that his knowledge of base ball is limited. His judgement on balls and strikes is exceedingly erratic, and he often decides too hastily on foul balls. Losers of the game in this city are inclined to think he is hardly connected to see a pumpire in any s hardly competent to act as umpire in any eague.—Communicated.

FAITH IN CHRISTIANITY. Rev. Mr. Mendele's Discourse At Center Church-An Able Exposition of

Rev. Mr. Mendeles, brother-in-law of Charles Whittlesey, the Chapel street druggist, and who is now settled in Boston, addressed a fair sized congregation at the Center church yesterday morning. He took for his text Mark, 9,24. His discourse was an able exposition of faith, its nature and results, abounding in apt quotations from all the books of the New Testament. "Faith is to come. the paramount principle of Christianity," he said. "All things are possible in faith; unbelief, on the other hand, is the mother of all misery in Christian life. And we must foster that disposition of our heart, which is oward the expelling of unbelief. Faith is not something that can be bundled up and laid on the shelf, to be used whenever needed. It is living. It requires all the faculties of the mind and of the soul." By way of means for fostering faith he gave in the latter part of his sermon four practical points:

First—Instead of reading one chapter alay from the Bible as a sort of severe selfimposed duty and soon forget it as some people do, better take a precious verse or a commandment and carry it all day.

2. To keep constantly in mind what faith to prayer meeting; minister to the poor.

A great deal of indignation has been arous

steering:

"North, east, south and west are severally designated by one, two, three and four long blasts. The northern signal, one blast, is used for the northesastern quadrant; the eastern signal, two blasts, for the southeastern quadrant; the southern signal, three blasts, for the southeastern quadrant; the western signal, four blasts, for the northwestern quadrant; the intermediate points on each quadrant are signified by one two and three short blasts. To illustrate: North, one blast; N. N. E., one long and one short blast; N. E., one long and two short blasts; E. N. E. one long and two short blasts; E. N. E. one long and two short blasts; and so on for the other three quadrants. The signals would be indicated by dashes on the compass, so that no reference book would be required. The officer of the deck can with one glance at the compass recognize the course of an approaching vessel and act accordingly."

D. S. GAMBLE

A great deal of indignation has been aroused by the depredations which have been made upen the grounds and property of the park by gangs of toughs and rowdles which have been in the habit of congregating there every Sunday and turning the place into a perfect bediam of confusion, uproar and drunken browling.

They have destroyed tables, fences and other things about the place, and it is said that they do nearly $100 damage there every Sunday. The park is in the town of Hamden. The grounds are not protected by Hamden officials in the least, and those who are interested in the matter think that some action should be taken to stop the work of these rowdles.

That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time men ioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. This dramatic speech broke him up badly; but when she explained that her apprehensions were founded on the fact of an inherited predisposition to consumption in her family, he calined her fears, bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for her, and she is now the incarnation of health. Consumption fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. But it must be taken before the disease is too far advanced in order to be effective. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it will cure, or money paid for it will be refunded.

Eloped and Returned. In the City court before Judge Thompson Saturday morning John Galliver was on trial for beating his wife. During the month of February he made an unenviable reputation by eloping with his wife's eighteen year old sister, a Miss Kirby. He returned to town five or six weeks ago. For a long time his whereabouts were unknown to his friends and he was not seen again until Friday after-noon, when he turned up at the residence of his wife on State street minus Miss Kirby, and met the sarcastic reproaches of his wronged wife with a sang froid which was remarkable. His wife reproached him so much that he struck her in the mouth. He was sentenced to spend the next thirty days in jail and pay $6.34 costs. He appealed under $100 bonds, which were furnished by Christopher Doerschuck.

Mrs. Rice had been a remarkable character all her lifetime. Her father could not keep her in the way of other girls. She was odd in manner and method—well-meaning but excentric. Her married life was not happy. For years before her husband died she declined to even eat with him at the family table; nor would she speak to him. She went to church with her husband on Sundays, but would not exchange a word. She prepared her husband's meals, made a sign that the table was ready, and retired to her private room. Mr. Rice tried to conciliate her. He treated her kindly, and frequently brought home baskets of choice fruits. She would not take them from his hands. But they were left on the table or sideboard, and when he returned at evening the fruits were gone. But on the part of his wife there was not the slightest recognition of his kindness. She had no good reason for this course of conduct. Mr. Rice was a kind, patient and good-tempered man, with whom any woman of reasonable methods and temper could have lived happily. But for twenty years Mrs. Rice was no more of a wife of her husband than the boarder of a neighboring street, who had her private room, and occupied it night and day. Into that room neither husband nor relative was permitted to enter.

The $40,000 in bonds found on her lonely premises were evidently the investments and secretions from her father's estate. Mr. Rice Whitehall recently:

Miss Grace Carpenter, of Whitehall, and Charles E. Park, M. D., of New Haven, Conn., were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. Chas. Chick, this week Wednesday. Will Weller, of Muskegon, acted as best man, and Miss Robinson, of the same place, as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives only, and the new-made couple left for Grand Rapids. From thence they go to New Haven, their future home. The groom is a successful professional man and has won a talented and vivacious bride. The Forum joins in congratulations.

The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food. The freight yard of the Consolidated road above Windsor street in Hartford, when the filling is all completed, will be one of the largest ones in New England, holding nearly, if not quite, 1,000 cars. The dirt for the filling has been brought from the clay banks just north of Windsor Locks, where the tracks are being straightened, and the top dressing comes from the Valley road. The filling of the yard is about completed. FORMERLY ADVANCE AGENT FOR BARNUM

Mr. Charles Lloyd, for many years advance agent for P. T. Barnum's show combination, died in Framingham, Mass., on Thursday night, of a disease which baffled the best physicians and surgeons in the country. Two years ago he bumped his head while about his hennery and since then head while about his hennery and since then has suffered more or less with pain. The medical authorities found that he was suffering from a disease of the bone and membranes. Last April Mr. Lloyd was taken suddenly with an epileptic attack, and since then has had six. Not long ago he was taken to Boston and it was decided to give him the last chance, and on Wednesday a piece of his skull was removed. He did not recover from the effects of the operation.

The greatest achievement on a half mile track occurred at Seaside Park last evening; the track being good, the weather fine and all things favorable. Hon. Nathaniel Wheeler started his ch g C. T. L. to beat the fastest record ever made over the track to road wagon or sulky. He handled the ribbons himself, and, by the way, he is a first class amateur, and succeeded in accomplishing a full mile in 2:26 1-4—the fastest mile on record in this or any other country, when we take into consideration the fact that the horse was hitched to a road wagon weighing 197 pounds. There was a large gathering of horse admirers, and everyone seemed to have in hand a stop watch. The time was taken by many watches, among them those of Mr. Ben Lasher, David Trubee, Archie Wheeler, Dan Ferris and Dr. Sage.

David Trubee's b. g., Easten Boy, yesterday, trotted a mile to sulky in 2:2814 and a half hour later repeated the performance in 2:28, showing that he is a horse of endurance and good staying condition.

There are various ways of washing dishes-possibly the above is the worst. If you want your dishes, glassware, silver, &c., perfectly clean and bright, wash them with Pearline. Being a powder it is especially convenient for this work—besides it keeps the dish-rag clean, pure, sweet. Put Pearline in sinks and basins, turn on hot water; it will cleanse the waste pipes. Many women use Pearline for these purposes only; they are only half wise. For the laundry, kitchen and house-cleaning, in fact wherever soap is used, try Pearline-it's better, quicker, and saves labor-it has no equal, no rival. It is as harmless as the finest imported castile soap, Beware of peddled imitations. Pearline is never peddled, but all grocers Manufactured only by JAMES PYLE, New York
