THE WEEKLY JOURNAL IS PUBLISHED THURSDAY MORSING

Wednesday, August 28, 1889. SOME COMMON SENSE. Rev. Washington Gladden has written muc that is worth reading, and he has something to say in the current number of the Forum that deserves attention. This is his idea regarding the best way of alleviating the condition of the workingman: Somebody must save noney, and the people who save it will be the capitalists and they will control the organiza tion of industry and receive the larger share of the profits. If the working men will save their money they may be not only sharers of profits, but owners of stock and receivers of dividends. And the workmen can save their noney if they will. It is the only way in which they can permanently and surely improve their condition. Legislative reforms mproved industrial methods, may make the omfort and independence, after all, but the plain old path of steady work and sober saving. If the working people of this country would save, for the next five years, the money that they spend on beer and tobacco and base ball, they could control a pretty large share which they get their living, and they could had the physique he would whip the whole of them; but to play champion games as they are played to day requires the muscles and the endurance of Sullivan. You must not expect a swell to take the slightest interest in the things which interest you. Don't try to amuse him. Don't discuss anything with him as you value his acquaintance. Simply bask in his presence; that is what he likes the best. A swell never discusses except about dogs, horses, dress, wine and women, and then only with his most intimates. He abhors politics. He knows to which party he belongs and that the other party is composed of cads. That is enough. He is a good churchman and has plenty of well ordered plety. CHINESE AND THEIR WAYS. they Know Better Than Any Other

People What Economy Means. [From the North China Herald.] The Chinese are pre- eminently econwhether it be in limiting the number of wants, in preventing waste, or in adjusting forces in such a manner as to make a little onsists of rice, beans, millet, garden vegeables, and fish, with a little meat on high estivals. Wholesome food in abundance nsy be supplied at less than a penny a day for each adult, and even in famine times thousands of persons have been kept alive for months on about a halfpenny a day work and then enjoyed without further both- each. This implies the existence of a high degree of culinary skill in the Chinese, Their modes of preparing food are thorough and various. There is no waste; everything is made to do as much duty as possible. What is left is the veriest trifle. The physical condition of the Chinese dog or oat, who has to live on the leavings of the family, shows this. They are clearly kept on stawarder allowances. The chief ambition in swelldom is to be more tarvation allowances. the Chinese are not extremely fastidious in regard to food; all is fish that comes to their net, and most things come there sooner or later. Certain disturbances of the human if not rigillant and active you may be at the bottom to-morrow.

A first-class swell has merits. He is always well dressed, therefore pleasing to look at. He is always polite, therefore agreeable to chat with. He doesn't know much, but has commonplace talk for everything. If he choose, he can make you believe that you are the one particular object of his affections. He is always making people believe that they are the particular objects of his affections. He is always making people believe that they are the particular objects of his affections. He worth his while, he will entertain you, and you will be entertained delightfully. If not worth his while, he won't see you, though you be large and portly and directly in the line of his vision. To see you at all you must be dressed in some approach to the fashion, but he really can't see things that are disagreeable and not in accord with his notions. The greatest compliment he can pay you is to invite you to a dinner. That puts you on a swell equality at once; an invitation to a ball. which make a rapid blaze and disappear. The business of gathering fuel is committed to children, for one who can do nothing else can at least pick up straws and leaves and weeds. In autumn and winter a vast army of fuel gatherers spread over the land. Boys ascend trees and beat them with clubs to shake all the leaves; the very straws get no time to show which way the wind blows before they are annexed by some colswarm over all the roads of the country. Chinese women carry this minute economy into their dress. Nothing comes amiss to them; if it is not used in one place it is in another, where it appears a thing of beauty. Foreign residents who gave their cast-off clothes to Chinese may be assured the ca-reer of usefulness of these garments is at last about to commence. Chinese wheel-barrows squeak for want of a few drops of oil, but to people who have no nerves the squeak is cheaper than the oil. Similarly dirt is cheaper than hot water, and so, as rule, the people do not wash. The motto, "Cheaper than dirt," which the soap dealer puts in his windows, could not be made intelligible to the Chinese. To them scarcely any tool can be got ready made, it is so much cheaper to buy the parts and put them together for yourself, and as almost everybody takes this view, ready-made tools are not to be got. Two rooms are dimly lighted with a single lamp deftly placed in a hole in the dividing wall. Chinese, in fact, seem to be capable of doing anything by means of almost nothing. They will give you an iron foundry on a minute scale of completeness in a back yard, and will give you an iron foundry on a minute scale of completeness in a back yard, and will make in an hour a cooking range, a strong and perfect draught, out of a pile of mud bricks, lasting indefinitely, operating perfectly, and costing nothing. The old woman who in her last moments hobbled as near as possible to the family graveyard in order to die so as to avoid the expense of coffin heavers was Chinese. coffin bearers was Chinese.

THE MYSTERY OF THE CLAMBAK How a Clever Man Without Consci ence Can Impose on a Picnic crowd. [From the New York Sun.] The clambake is one of the unsolved my eries of our modern civilization. Why pe

the clambake man busy chopping the small ends off of ears of corn and stripping off the outer husks, leaving each ear encased in the delicate green inner leaves smd the slik. Farmers had been bringing in the corn by the wagon load, and at the same time fishermen had delivered a barrel of sea bass and a wagon load of lobsters, and poultry dealers had contributed a few hundred chickens and somaba to the provisions for the day. All wagon toad of loosers, and pointy dealers had contributed a few hundred chickens and squabs to the provisions for the day. All these, in boxes, barrels, and baskets, were piled together under a tree and covered with an old sail.

The clambake man was tall and bony, and looked like a fisherman who had been playing in hard luck. He wore purple overalls and a dirty shirt, with an aged and decrepit tarpaulin hat smashed recklessly upon his head. He chewed tobacco and swore in several languages. After the corn had been fixed and stowed away in champagne baskets under the sail cloth, he got out the sea bass, and cleaning each one with a couple of dexterous jabs of his jackknife, he tossed them to an assistant, who rubbed sail into them, and then wrapped them, three or four together, tight in pieces of muslin, sewing each package up with a few long stitches. The chickens and the squabs were done up in the same kind of bags and stowed away in the same kind of bags and stowed away under the sail. The hard cord wood wa smoked for two hours even the committee began to get impatient, and reminded the clambake man that it was to-day and not tomorrow that the clams were to be eaten. The insinuation thus vaguely conveyed was treated with proper scorn by the master of the feast. He hitched his overalls diedain fully, walked around the smouldering hear two or three times, as if looking to see if it two or three times, as it looking to see it it was done, and then went away and stayed somewhere out of sight for a full hour. When he had thus punished the committee for their presumption he sauntered back and looked at the smoking heap of stones for a while longer. Then he spread out the old sail that had covered the neap before it was fired, and brought water in a bucket to pour over it until it was well soaked. Upon one and he heaped a part of a pile of seawed. Brunnen" around an anchor.

over it until it was well soaked. Upon one end he heaped a part of a pile of seaweed, that had been fragrant in the sun ever since early morning, and scattered handfuls of salt over it. With a pitchfork he mixed the salt thoroughly with the weed, and then sat down to rest awhile. By the time the hungry picnicers had been duly impressed with his deliberation he got up again, and with the pitchfork picked off of the stones the fragments of wood that remained unburned, and afterward with an assistant and brooms. and afterward, with an assistant and brooms swept off all he conveniently could of the ashes, leaving the tops of the stones almost leaving the tops of the stones almos while he did this the waiters attached to while he did this the waters attached to the place had been hunting like good fellows getting out the clams, corn, chickens, and other things, and placing the baskets and boxes containing them in a wide circle around the heap of stones. At sunrise this morning the booming sannon awoke all Milford. Flags were flying gaily in the early morning breezes, bells were winging and ringing merrily in their high, es-covered towers, a hubbub of voice was borne upon the crisp morning air, and the 250th anniversary of the quiet old town was being ushered in amid a scene memoraole in the history of the place.

The town is a veritable fair ground. Or very side flags and buntings meet the eye. All through the day yesterday workmen wer busy in decorating public buildings, stores and private residences. The depot of the Consolidated railroad is adorned with red, white and blue, and presents a pretty and at white and blue, and presents a pretty and attractive appearance. The fine residence of Edward P. Avery is among the noticeable houses decorated and attracts much attention. Mrs. Nelson Carrington's house, at the end of the green, also looks well with the colors twined about the pillars at the entrance to the porch. Ex-Representative Tomlinson's house, a short distance away, is tastefully trimmed with flags and bunting. Dr. William Andrews has used a good deal of red. white and blue on the front of his Dr. William Andrews has used a good deal of red, white and blue on the front of his house, and the old Tibbals homestead has been made to look very bright under a mass of bunting and flags. F. and E. L. Cornwall have decorated the front of their store until it is almost hidden from view, and G. F. Smith has used the colors liberally. Postmaster Brotherton has almost buried the postoffice block in red, white and blue. The Milford House has been dressed in a variety of colors, and the Milford club has been transformed into a gay appearance.

william Gilbert. The shooting occurred at ten minutes past eight o'clock this morning. The weapon was a 32-calibre revolver. At the Emergency hospital, to which the wounded man was taken, an examination disclosed a very dangerous wound. The bullet entered the back an inch and a quarter below the twelfth rib. Buzzell was visited by his father sud mother, who were frantic with grief, and at their request he was moved to their home at 178 Joun street. He is but eighteen years old and had been employed in the place three weeks. At first it was thought that he had sn even chance to live, but at noon the doctors gave him up.

Gilbert, the man who shot Buzzell, was considered as a sober, industrious, pleasant man. He is twenty-five years old and was formerly employed at the Grand Union Hotel in New York. When seen in his cell yesterday he said: "This was the first serious trouble of my life. Buzzell was hard to get along with. I had had words with him before. This morning he came in intoxicated and we had hard words in the barroom. I was behind the bar. He grabbed a long carving knife which we keep behind the bar to cut up meats with and came for me. As sure as I am standing here he would have stabbed me if he could have reached me. When I saw his intention I jumped over the bar and kicked the knife out of his hand. Then he picked up a mustard bottle and threw it, striking me on the temple. I ran to the bar and pleked up the revolver that usually lies there and fired it, intending merely to frighten him. I had no idea of injuring him. It's a terrible thing."

"Tell me, how is he!" he asked a reporter.

There was a big field of starters as will be seen by the following summary. Geneva, who won the heat, lowered her previous record of 2:25½, to 2:19½. Geneva won the second heats in 2:19½ and 2:19¾.

At the close of the third heat the starting judge announced that the money had been won as follows: Geneva first money, Longford second money, W. K. third money and Dictator Chief fourth money.

Immediately after making the announcement he came down from the judges stand, when he was informed by the Courier representative that a mistake had been made in the award of the fourth money, when he replied that if a mistake had been made it would be corrected to-day. Marksman Maid should have received fourth money if the judge gave correct positions. There was a big field of starters as will be

The special attractions, which were pro-vided were very interesting. Madame Mar-antette exhibited her handsome horse, Wood-lawn, to saddle. This was an admirable exhibition that was seldom or never equalled by a saddle horse. Woodlawn has several gaits, all of which are graceful.

Haven Plays a Sharp Game-New Ha-

The New Haven ball players turned the bles on their Lowell brethren yesterday. The game was better than that of the day fore, and but for the disastrous second inning the local players would have had no rrors scored against them. New Haven batted hard yesterday, whereas Lowell accom-plished that creditable feat the day before. Eleven put-outs are credited to Lowell's outwith the number of hits made by the home eam, will show the amount of exercise given BITTLES' GREAT LUCK. hard and often was the order of the day for $6.50 a Week Clerk'Steps Into a F the home team, and they made pitcher Sullivan weary to the extent of fourteen hits, with a total of twenty-one bases. Horner pitched three innings for the home team, and was touched up for only three hits. But his arm was lame and Doran finished the game. Lowell found the latter for only four hits during the five innings he pitched, although one of these was a three-bagger. Sullivan was in the box for Lowell and fell a viotim to the home team's heavy batters. He was was in the box for Lowell and tell a violing to the home team's heavy batters. He was splendidly supported behind the bat by Guinnasso, whose catching was one of the features. Shinnick, Lowell's new third baseman, showed up poorly. Dwyer made a great catch in the second. Burdock drove a great catch in the second. Burdock drove a long fly between right and center which Dwyer started for. It seemed impossible to get it, but Dwyer took it on the run in one hand, just reaching it with his arm extended.

Arthur Benson of New York and R. N. Seyms of Hartford, judges; F. G. Whitmore and A. O. Hills of Hartford, timers.

The first race called was the 2:17 class for pacers with seven contestants, which started in the following order: Emma, Doctor M., Ed Annan, Balsora Wilkes, Joe Jefferson, Stanley P. and Allen Maid.

Ed Annan was the favorite of the pool buyers, who invested at the rate of $100 to $200 for the field. Emms won the heat easily with Allen Maid close at the finish. Joe Jefferson was distanced. Flora Temple was drawn.

Second heat—Mr. Martin, who is an able starting judge, gave the word "go" at the second trial. It was evident at the close of the heat that Budd Doble, who was driving the pool favorite, was adopting the same course that he did at Buffalo, which was to lay his horse up during the first few heats. Emma, Doctor M., Allen Maid and Stanley P. were close at the wire in the order named. The other two were far in the rear.

Third heat—Jimmy Golden took the reins behind Doctor M. Balsora Wilkes scored a heat for the Wilkes family of trotters, while Ed Annan was close to the winner at the finish.

Fourth heat. The pool buyers of favorites were so confident that Budd Doble would win the race notwithstanding that he had not won a heat, that they paid $30 for Ed Annan to $31 for the field.

Ed Annan led from the first quarter to the half, where he was passed by Doctor M., who at the last turn lost the lead to Annan who led to the wire its finish.

Firth heat. Ed Annan was the pool favorite was escond at the first quarter which he maintained to the finish, which ended the race.

Lowell released Pitcher Gilliland after the game Monday. It is possible that New Haven will try him. Burdock had an interview with him after yesterday's game. O'Rourke, formerly catcher for New Haven, joined the Hartford team yesterday afternoon. He dined with the local nine at the Selden House yesterday. He will prove a valuable man for Hartford.

R. W. Curtis, secretary of the New Haven Amusement company, has been in New York for two days and had not returned at a late lour last evening. His business is a mys-

Yesterday's New York Sun said that New Haven had signed Herman Pitz of the Elmiras as catcher. Other changes in the team are rumored. It is doubtful if Pitz will be any addition to the team.

The directors of the Amusement Company have been releasing and signing men of late apparently using only their own judgment in so doing. The board is made up largely of amateur ball magnates and the wisdom of all their actions is not apparent. Another good pitcher is needed, yet they are signing catchers. Sanborn was signed sometime since by ers. Sanborn was signed sometime since by one of the directors, but as he is not used at all the reason for carrying him is not apparent to the uninitiated. The team cannot play good ball as long as it stands in con-stant fear of being pulled to pieces. Get another good pitcher and see the boys win.

If you have a country of the mean of the country of the stream of $80,000. This is the feat accomplished within sixteen months by young William Bittles of Fifteenth and Tasker streets, and his streak of fortune now fires the ambition of all Southern Philadelphis. The story was brought to light yesterday by a gorgeous funeral from the Bittles residence. Never was such a rich cortege witnessed in the neighborhood. Four sable horses drew the hearse, resplendent with the waving plumes of mourning. And in the hearse was a casket of the most costly black silk plush, weighed down with massive silver handles stretching its entire length. There were flowers in profusion. It was the remains of Mrs. Bittles thus carried to the grave, a woman tune of More Than $80.000. ittles thus carried to the grave, a wor known through all the neighborhood, who remained in maidenhood until she was 5 years old, and then succumed to the willing years old, and then successed to the wining ways of William Bittles, young man of 26 years. The latter was then a clerk in Walsh's installment house, West Philadelphia, and living in bare comfort, but his spouse, who was Miss Charlotte Mahan, had a bank acbrother, a well-known harness manufac About sixteen months ago Bittes was in troduced to Miss Mahan, and he immediately set about to pay her court. Although the woman was over 50 years old and Bittles not more than half so old, she received his attentions. After a brisk courtship of three weeks they were married and took up their home on Afton street, near Fifteenth. Bittles imme-Afton street, near Fitteenth. Bittles immediately secured a large silver doorplate bearing his name, and placed it upon the front door. He invested in a fast horse, and was a frequent visitor at Point Breeze racing track. Mrs. Bittles placed a portion of her money with Builder McKeever and they went into a building operation on South Fifteenth street. When the houses were finished, which was about a month ago, Mr. Bittles, his wife and the servant girl moved into 1,546, where they seemed to enjoy life in his new home. A week ago Mrs. Bittles fell sick, and she died on Wednesday night. Before her death the husband presented to the wife a will transferring all her property to him. The woman was so weak that she could not write her name, but she was enabled to make her mark in the presence of the atterpress for her mark in the presence of the attorney for her husband. This was at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and at midnight the woman died.

The next feature in this remarkable case was the funeral, which took place yesterday was the funeral. and which was worthy of an $80,000 wife. The order for the affair was placed with Undertaker S. R. Foster, and Bittles said to him: "Now I want four horses to the hearse and you must get this affair up in great style I know she would like to have it done right and I intend to do what she would want."

The casket was a model. It was of cedar, covered with black silk plush, with great silver-plated handles extending along the sides. The remains were attired in a very rich shroud. The room in the house where the body lay was filled with flowers, and the wife body lay was filled with flowers, and the wife had a most gorgeous funeral.

Young Bittle, who is now the talk of the neighborhood, is well known in the southern part of the city. He has been in this country from Ireland only four years. He did not forget his parents in the old country during his reign of prosperity, and sent his father $500, which his wife gave him.

It was stated last night that the relatives of Mrs. Bittles do not intend that the husband shall have undisputed possession of his wife's money, despite her will. They propose to contest the will unless an amicable arrangement shall be reached.

known, are the badly hurt. The building was wrecked.

The explosion occurred as gangs of workmen were changing. The fire department came at once to the scene and a great crowd gathered. Eleven bedies were found, some dead and some writhing in agony. Physicians came hastily and did all in their power. The cause of the explosion is supposed to be low water in the boiler. The building took fire, but the flames were soon extinguished. The boiler was hurled seventy feet and struck on the railroad track, tearing it up for some distance. Coroner Gillette this evening summoned a jury to hold an inquest. At 11:15 the 27-foot class was sent away. Sira crossed first, then Swordfish, Mopsa, Moondyne and Ione. The Ione was in the race only a few minutes when her topmast backstay broke and she hauled out, leaving but four boats to contest. In the 37-foot class the Mopsa and Swordfish kept at it, Mopsa doing the best work coming home but she lost the race to Swordfish by time allowance. The whole race was one of the owance. The whole race was one of the prettiest and most successful of the series.

The races of the Corinthian Yacht club for 30-footers and 27-footers are now finished. The Saracen wins both races in the 30-foot class, and, therefore, the cup.

The Kathleen, Shark and Harbinger we disqualified for not going outside the south-east breaker in Monday's race. The Migeast breaker in mondays race. The Mig-non wins the Saracen cup for best record of keel yachts, barring the Saracen. The Swordfish wins the cup for 37-footers. It has been decided that it was no race in the 40-foot class on Saturday, as the Minerva did not finish before sunset. The Chiquita has now won two legs for the Weld cup and

THE CALIFORNIA PRIZE FIGHT lack Demosey and George LaBlanch Enter the Ring-Dempsey Knocked Out In the Thirty-Second Round. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27 .- In point o popular interest the fight between Jack Dempsey and George LaBlanche, which occurred under the auspices of the California Athletic club to-nght, eclipsed all similar ontests ever beheld in this city. There were probably two thousand persons who witnessed the fight between the middleweights, besides those who were fortunate enough to gain admission to the hall. The streets outside were crowded with men and boys eager to catch the slightest word from within in regard to the progress of the fight. The police dapartment of the city was represented by a few men, but there was no attempt on their part to stom the sented by a rew men, but there was no attempt on their part to stop the proceedings. Hiram Cook, of this city, acted as referee. Dempsey's seconds were Denny Costigan and Dave Campbelf and La Blanche's were John Donaldson and Paddy Gorman. Betting for several days past had been in Dempsey's favor, usual odds being 100 to 75. Both principals showed marks of carefu

Both principals showed marks of careful training when they entered the ring to-night.

The master of ceremonies announced that the contest was not for the middleweight championship, as La Blanche weighed 161 pounds and Dempsey 151 pounds. The few preliminaries were arranged as speedily as possible. After the usual handshaking, time was called at 9:35.

First round. The man energed entitled. First round—The men sparred cautiously for a moment, when La Blanche led with his right, but Dempsey avoided the blow by jumping back. Le Blanche again led and caught Dempsey lightly on the wind. A clinch followed. This was repeated as the round closed. Second round—Dampsey opened with ort blow on the marine's chest. A cline

CONSUMPTION In its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine. "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in fiesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicino two or 'irree months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn. to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn. Parien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. followed, during which LaBlanche caught Dempsey in the side. Soon as they broke, Dempsey landed a good right-hander on the marine's jaw. A short clinch followed and the marine slipped to the floor. The round closed with some light in fighting.

Third round—Dempsey reached the marine's neck and received a hard one in the breast in return. In a half minute Dempsey landed a hard one on La Blanche's chin, which caused the latter to stagger a little.
Several lunges were made by each man, but no harm was done.

Fourth round—Dempsey backed away from La Blanche and then got in two light blows on the latter's head, During a clinch which followed Dempsey came near going to contested race, with a good, fair northeast blows on the latter's head, During a clinch which followed Dempsey came near going to the floor. A moment before the round closed Dempsey again landed on the Marine's chin and the latter responded with a vicious rush, forcing Dempsey against the ropes.

Dempsey was knocked out by La Blanch
in the thirty-second round.

The Northern Pacifics and especially the preferred were well held, however, and Atchison was bought for Boston account being more active and stronger than for some time back. The noon prices were generally the lowest of the day and St. Paul, Nerthern Pacific, both common and proferred, Rock Island and Tennessee all became prominent for activity and strength. Rock Island approached within one-eighth per cent. of par again on the reports of large traffic. In the general list there was a slow and gradual appreciation in values lasting until the last hour when there was again a disposition shown to realize upon the early gains when the until the last hour when there was again a disposition shown to realize upon the early gains when the announcement was made that the secretary had accepted the large amount of $5,323,000 bonns and this stopped the selling and the market again became active and strong. The close was generally at about the best prices of the day.

The raitroad bond market was somewhat more active, the sales of all issues being $901,000, of which the Rock Island 5's furnished $235,000. The tone of the dealings was firm to strong almost throughout the entire day and most of the final changes are in the direction of higher figures though the number of issues traded in was small and the trading devoid of feature of special interest.

DR. JOHN L. LYON.

The well known and reliable Botanic and Eclectic Physician ROOM 11, HOADLEY BUILDING Side Entrance 123 Crown Street. Office so arranged that patients see no cue b-Office so arranged that patients see no cue be the doctor.

Who has practiced medicine in this city since 1854 can be consulted at his office.

Dr. Lyon's success in the treatment of all diseases has been marvelous and his fame has spread throughout the length and breadth of the United States: Being opposed to all mineral and poisonous drugs, he has selected choice and potent remedials from the vegetable kingdom only, and with valuable roots, barks and herbs is prepared to CURF, the most stubborn and intractive disease. Consumption, that bane of our eastern climate, which causes so many to succumb to its ruthless power, is CURED by Dr. Lyon, as many testimonials from unimpeachable witnesses attest. Dyspepsia, the national scourge, which dooms thousands to torture and misery, is routed and annihilated by a remedy discovered by the doctor. In no case yet has this inestimable specific failed of banishing the painful disease. All diseases of the Lungs, Liver and Kidneys, as well as Skin Diseases, and all Impurities of the Hood of whatever name and nature, are radically and permanently cured in a surprisingly short time by the doctor's im roved method of treatment.

TO MALES TO MALES

Who are suffering from the errors of youth, los manhood, etc., and find themselves weakened and debilitated, and also those suffering from venereal diseases: Dr. Lyon will prove to you that he Can and WILL CURE YOU. Hundreds of advertisements appear in papers with statements of marvelous cures which TEMPT MANY TO SEND FOR SOME WORTHLESS MEDICINESS WHICH not only FAIL OF AFFORDING THE RELIEF DESIRED, but also BUIN THE PATIENT'S CONSTITUTION. Do not trust yourself to those leeches who prey upon the unfortunate but call at once on the doctor and you will never resert it.

It was exciting and amusing and at times the fun was great. All attempts to decide which club bore off the honors were given up as hopeless, so well did both clubs do. Another amusing event created much sport. A half bushel measure was filled with flour into which were mixed two or three dollars in halves and quarters. Two boys were sein halves and quarters. Two boys were se-lected. The boys taking turns, jubbed their faces into the flour in quest of the silver pleces. They got the money after exertions that tickled the throng, and their faces were a sight to behold. The dinner was served at 3 o'clock. Death of Thomas Collins. Thomas M. NEW HAVEN MUSIC ATSABATOGA nformation Furnished by Treasure ure. Bradley of This City and Mrs. Whitney the Great Boston Contralte

Miss Rettie Bradley, the soprano at Re-Dr. Hart's church in this city, has charmed the guests at the Waverly hotel, Saratoga, the past few weeks with her remarkably sweet and effective voice. Mrs. Whitney, the famous Boston vocalist, is a guest at the Vermont House. Mrs. Whitney called on Miss Bradley Friday evening to hear her sing. Miss Bradley sang several times for Mrs. Whitney, and the latter was gracious enough to render three songs herself. The cosy parlors of the Waverly filled up with people as soon as the music began. Both people as soon as the music began. Both ladies were enthusiastically encored. Mrs.

Sunday Miss Bradley accepted an invitation to sing at the New England Congregational church and treated the large audience of visitors assembled to some essentially New Haven music. For an offertory she sang a composition by Harry Rowe Shelley, and, as a compliment to Prof. E. A. Parsons of New Haven, she rendered his last beauti-ful composition, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The Daily Saratogian of Monday, August 26, 1889, says:

N. E. CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH There was a good audience present yesterday morning, and the interest in the service was very much enhanced by the singing of Miss Bradley of New Haven. The pastor preached the sermon on the subject of "Caristian Joy," from the text, Nehemiah, 3,9-10: "Mourn not nor weep, for the joy of the Lord is your strength." Two Hundred Dollars Not Accounted Charles W. Palmer, connected with G. J Moffatt & Co., the paper bag manufacturer and printers of State street, made the dis overy Tuesday that a young Englishman named Charles Wilkinson, who had been in the employ of the firm for two years, was a defaulter to the amount of about $200, having made collections without accounting fo them. Wilkinson is married and lived with his wife at 343 Quinnipiec street. He was paid by his employer for delivering goods and making small collections. He was addicted to drink, and this fault caused his discharge. Mr. Wilkinson took his wife and
