Thursday, April 17, 1890. Mr. Joseph Francis, who has had to wait ntil he is 89 years old for a suitable recognition by the United States government of his services, has done some very remarkable and useful things. He was, it is said, the first to apply air-tubes to life-saving applinces and the first to make practicable use of iron in the manufacture of vessels of any kind. In 1838 Mr. Francis invented the lifecar by which to land people safely from a wreck and in 1842 produced a corrugated metallic life-car with space for four adults. Its usefulness was strikingly illustrated when the British ship Ayrahire was wrecked off Squan beach in a violent winter storm. Of the 201 persons on board 200 were safely landed by means of the life-car.

Although Mr. Francis has been without especial honor in his own country, he has received medals and decorations from numerous European governments and sovereigns, including the knighthood of the order of St. Stanislaus, a diamond-studded gold snuff box valued at 17,500 francs from Napoleon III, diplomas from the European Shipwreck Society of All Nation, and was designated "Benefactor" by the Imperial Royal European society. The recognition by his own government was in pursuance of an act passed by congress in March, 1887, thanking him for his "life-long services to humanity" beth."—Fliegende Blatter.

Better late than never. A NEEDED REFORM. The bill for the relief of the Supreme court of the United States which has passed the ouse is intended to withdraw all original he same in the district courts; to add two more judges to each circuit who shall sit with he present circuit judge; and to give the circuit courts final and conclusive jurisdiction in all cases in which jurisdiction is acquired by the district courts by reason of the tizenship of the parties only. Thus the sircuit courts would be made simple appellate courts, original jurisdition being held only in the matter of issuing certain remedia writs. These judges must sit on every case, and should one or two of the circuit judges be absent, judges of the district court who did not have part in the trial of the case in question can be called in. Such a change would of course greatly reduce the number of cases which would reach the Supreme court and would save litigants much time and money. But, as the Springfield Republican pertinently asks: How will the proposition to out off all-right of appeal to the Supreme court to so large a class of litigants fit in with the constitutional provision on which the federal judiciary based! The jurisdiction of this court extends to such cases by the terms of the fundamen tal law. Can the right of appeal be cut away without constitutional amendment! Congress has before assumed the right to exclude from the jurisdiction of the United States courts such cases where the amount in controversy is less than $2,000. But it has not before assumed the power to limit the right of appeal after jurisdiction has once been assumed. EDITORIAL NOTES. Don't pray for rain just yet. We shall

AN OPEN LETTER Senator Jones' Silver Bill.

NEW HAVEN, April 7, 1890. Some days ago you sent me the bill introduced by Senator Jones, providing for the compulsory purchase of $4,500,000 worth of silver a month, and lodging it in the govern-other, our different sentiments on almost ment vaults and issuing silver certificates on it at the market price not exceeding one dollar for every three hundred and seventy-one and one-fourth grains of pure silver, and all the gold bullion that may be offered at a price not exceeding one dollar for 23 23 23 100 grains ment vaults and issuing silver certificates on payment for such purchases of gold.

If it does not seem to help, you can easily

Many believe this statement in spite of the notorious fact of every one's daily experience to the contrary—that seventy-five cents worth of silver bullion, stamped as a legal tender, is worth no more than it was before it was stamped. We all know under present conditions it is worth twenty-five cents more in every market in this country. It is worth within a small fraction of twenty-five cents more in every market in this world to which a ship goes. It certainly is so in every port and market of western Europe. A gentleman of this city not long ago put that same preposterous statement to me as an extinguisher. I replied: My dear sir, we will put this matter to a very quick, decisive test. "You say our silver dollar is only a contract of the contract of the tract for such a special service. In awarding damages to the shipper the Iowa court holds that a carrier is bound to adapt the mode of carriage to the character of the shipment and the climate, but that the company could have collected beyond the ordinary freight charges all necessary outlays to insure the safe carriage of the goods.

Mrs. Van Starploff, wife of the American consul at Bremen, has just contributed to the walls of the American legion at Berlin a picture which, besides its merits as a work of art, has peculiar value and significance as an amusing allegory of an historical transaction in which Mr. Phelps played a prominent part. On a palette, dobbed skilfully along the borders with patches of

In gaining value from the legal tender function it follows the same law that governs all manufacture. A boot is worth more than all manufacture. A boot is worth more than the ealf skin—a coat than the wool of which it is made. The coin is worth more than the bullion in a greater degree than the boot or the coat is worth more than the bullion in a greater degree than the boot or the coat is worth more than the calf skin or the wool. For the latter once manufactured, is never again worth quite so much for other purposes as before.

The silver coins are worth just as much as the bullion itself for every other purposes than for money. Coinage into full legal tender dollars is equivalent to the invention of some great, new, highly profitable infinite use in the arts, which no one doubts would. Ordinary manufactured silver could be used in only a few directions. Coined money can be used in every direction. Mr. Windom says he thinks unlimited coinage of silver dollars would reduce the value and price of silver bullion! Unfortunately he fails to show any reason for so extraordinary a belief.

The coins can rest in the vaults of the government as securely as silver bars, and certificates can be issued on them whenever they are returned to the government. The certificates can then be easily made a legal tender for all purposes, and one-third more in amount can be issued on them and be equally as safe; yes, more safe than the smaller amount on the silver bars.

For the government to put up bullion in For the government to put up bullion its vaults, or to allow it to go to its mar goods.

These certificates provided for in this bil are to pass from hand to hand as money They ought to be made a legal tender for all purposes. All devices issued by the government and intended to be used as money ought not to be bastard money, but response.

International Journalism.—Hip Lung (of Chinese paper at Peking)—"Here's a report of a most awful storm in the United States. issued. There is no provision in this bill for any certificates to be issued on the redeeming dollars when they get round again as dollars into the treasury. This will work them at last round into the treasury in large amounts without any provision other than now exists for issuing certificates on silver dollars. Is this to be left to the option of the treasury department? I do not think it ought to be so left.

But all this only skims the surface of this It is primarily and in substance a British question—a question of American subordination of American interests by an American can congress to the craft and greed of Brit-ish capitalists and their trade domination of the world. This is the pith of the question. It began in the gold payments of Great Britain in 1816, after a considerable use by private contracts before this; it was held in private contracts before this; it was held in check by the daring skill and comprehensive policy of Napoleon I in offering to take in exchange gold or silver each for the other at a fixed rate. Without any Napoleon, but only rage and humiliation at their defeat, the French gave up this open offer, not as Secretary Windom says, because the ratio could not be maintained, but because they would not maintain it. The ratio remained perfect till after the withdrawal of that open offer. I intended here to point out how it had been put through our congress by British in-doctor, two of 'em, and never less than three fingers."—New York Weekly.

A city paper says "bad roads are the cause for the searcity of eggs." If hens are not going to lay eggs when the roads are bad it is about time Main street was being paved with asphalt blocks. It is a queer idea, though, for hens to boycott bad roads by stopping laying eggs.—Norristown Herald.

Willie (to older sister)—"Say, Irene, you get me cookie on the sly, or I'll give you dead away." Older sister—"What do you mean, Willie!" "Do you s'pose I don't know Mr. Hankinson was here last night?" "Well, what of it!" "What of it! Nothin', only I put a hunk of gum on that extra chair in the parlor before he came, and it's still there this morning. That's all."—Chicago Tribune.

A Radical Change.—Knessout Hauley (the tramp)—"Say, neighbor, gimme a dime, will yer! I want to buy a brindle elephant with only a limited amount, say $4,500,000 of silver a month (and you ought never to buy an ounce), you will drive every onnee of sur-plus silver to England to be paid for in her manufactured goods. You pay men a boun-ty to trade with England rather than with us. The lunacy of all this is past finding out.

It surely is not work in which republican statesmen can win their brightest laurels.

Yours, Joseph Sheldon.

not exceeding one dollar for 23 23-100 grains of pure gold, and issue gold certificates in payment for such purchases of gold. I then said I would give you my opinion of it. Your attention is given by necessity to many subjects of great and absorbing interest. My studies have been directed to certain parts of political economy, and on them my opinion may be of service to you.

Glesmann of Vienna made a bequest of one thousand florius, which were to be invested, and when the sum had grown to a certain amount by the addition of interest it was to be used in providing for the children of persons who had died in an epidemie. Upon the proposition of a town councilor it has been decided to regard the influence as an epidemie and to grant ten florius a month to every child whose father had died of influence and uring the peat winter. It will be for the mayor to consider the applicants' elaims.

It is rather surprising to learn that the excess of children born in Massachusette of foreign pore fits of the more of mixed parentage is about 3,000, and is still increasing. The number born of mixed parentage is more than one-fith of the whole, and is, of course, increasing. While the birth rate of the native population is about 18 per 1,000, that of the foreign born as compared with the natives is only one to three. But it is to be remembered that one-fifth of the bearts are of children under one year of age, and one-third of those under five very one's dealy experience to the contrary—that seventy-dwe cent to find the proportion of deaths are of children under one year of age, and one-third of those under five them.

And if it does not seem to help, you can easily discreted counsels you could not be used in four and distinct states of counsels you could not be used in providing gimply for placing the leginning of the contest with Britain, and the would be providing simply for placing the beginning of the contest with Britain, and they when the was before the order for its change was sent out from Great Britain, and obeyed by the congress of the order for its change was sent out from Great Britain, and obeyed by the congress of the united States in 1873.

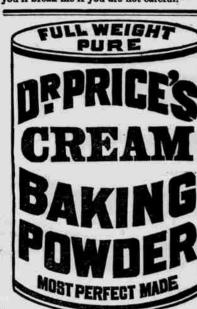

1. It is a preamption however greatly in favor of this bill, that such men as Sanators Aldrich and Hiscock on the basis of its provisions.

But with this presumption we must always remember that the former enators may be in despair of getting you tions an incident which will probably explain to many readers the meaning of something they have probably many times seen without ever thinking to ask for an explanation.

While passing along Dearborn street yesterday I saw a crowd watching the placing in position of some enormous panes of glass in a handsome new building. The glass was the best French plate, and the workmen handled it as carefully as if it were worth something more than a weeks wages. The task of putting it in place was no sooner completed than one of the workmen grabbed a pot of whiting and with a big brush daubed a lot of meaningless marks on it.

I thought it about as silly a thing as a man could do, and with the usual curiosity of a reporter, asked the foreman why he allowed it.

Mr. Leigh motioned that the West Haven railroad company be notified not to lay any tracks on Howard avenue till it recieves a permit from the board. It was also added to this that the directors of the road appear before the board and explain the meaning of these proceedings.

the recent purchase of the great English syndicate.

It is certainly the most important if not the largest deal ever made in southern California and is spoken of here as a very shrewd and far-sighted deal, which must return large profits to the members of the syndicate.

Senator Graham has already been besieged by parties here who wish to buy land in small tracts. There are aside from this purchase about fifty thousand acres of land in this valley which is being formed into irrigation districts by the owners and residents, who propose to issue bonds and build a substantial canal which will convey water from the Bear valley reservoir to this beautiful valley. There has been a large advance sale of seats for the benefit performance to Admiral Foote poet, G. A. R., at the Hyperion this evening, at which the charming young actress, Marie Hubert Frohman, appears in a triple bill. First is King Rene's Daughter, an idyl filled with poetry and pathos. The part of Iolanthe, the blind princess, is one of the most difficult on the English stage. Snow Bound, the next piece, is a pathetic Bret Harte sketch of home life in the Rocky mountains. False Charms, the last piece on the bill, is an exquisite farce of the old French school, more like the celebrated comedies of Moliere than the shallow farce so often played in these days. It is a costumed play, light and airy, sparkling with wit always refined.

Miss Ingersoll's appearance was the signal for the most hearty applause. It was not alone for her graceful rendition of Edwin Arnold's poem and the humorous selections which followed it that the whole theater from parquette to family circle joined in giving her a perfect ovation. All present appreciated the fact that the series of concerts which has given pleasure to so many, were originated and conducted by the lady who stood before them, and that it was her energy, pluck and industry that made all the concerts unequivocal successes. Republican Senators From Montana THE TARIFF SCHEDULES.

> The Bill New in the House-Referred terday-After Deducting the Sum Required to Make Payments to the Sinking Fund the Estimated Surplus Will be $43,678,883 - Sugar and WASHINGTON, April 16.—The reports of the majority and minority of the ways and means committee on the tariff bill were presented to the house this afternoon.

The majority report begins with a statement of the financial situation, and estimates that the surplus at the end of the present fiscal year will be $92,000,000, and deducting the sum required to make payments to sinking fund the net surplus receipts over expenditures will be $43,678,883. The estimated surplus of the next fiscal year will be $43,569,522, which the aggregate $71,264,414. with the amount of cash now on hand and available, reaching $90,000,000, will justify a reduction of the revenue in the sum contemplated by the bill reported, $60,936,936, and probably more from customs, and say $10,827,878 from Internal revenue, or a tota of $71,264,414. The majority report says or $1,204,414. The majority report says:
The exact effect upon the revenues of the government of the proposed bill is difficult of ascertainment. That there will be a substantial reduction, as we will show, admits

WILL NOT INCREASE THE REVENUES It is not believed that the increase of duties ipon wools and woolen goods and upon glassware will have the effect of increasing the a bounty on raw augar." evenues. That would of course follow if the importations of the last fiscal year were hereafter to be maintained, which, however, a altogether improbable. The result will be hat importations will decrease and there five democratic members of the committee is altogether improbable. The result will be that importations will decrease and therefore the amount of revenue collected from these sources will be diminished. In every case of increased duty except that imposed upon tin plate (which does not go into effect until July 1, 1891), and upon linen fabrics the effect will be to reduce, rather than enlarge the revenues, because importations will fall off. It was the aim of the committee to fix the duties upon that class of manufactured goods. It begins with the following statement Upon the question of collecting such revenue from duties on imported goods as may be case of increased duty except that imposed upon tin plate (which does not go into effect until July 1, 1891), and upon linen fabrics the effect will be to reduce, rather than enlarge the revenues, because importations will fall off. It was the sim of the committee to fix the duties upon that class of manufactured goods and farm products which can be supplied at home so as to discourage the use of like foreign goods and products, and secure to our own people and our own producers the home market, believing that competition among ourselves will secure reasonable prices to tween the two great pelitical parties of the country and this question in its plainest form is directly presented for consideration by the bill reported by the majority. nsumers in the future as it has invariably ne in the past. We seek by the increase ties recommended, not only to maintain to enlarge our own man but to enlarge our own manufacturing plants and check those supplies from abroad which can be prefitably produced at home. The general policy of the bill is to foster and promote American production and diversified of American industry. THE PRESIDENT OUGTED The report quotes the recommendation neerning the tariff in the president's annuage and terms them "sensible and triotic." After a discussion of the administrative features of the bill the report goes over each schedule, noting the proposed changes and discussing the reasons for mak-ing them and estimating the amount of duty in each case that will be affected. In regard to wool the report states that by the pro-posed bill the duties upon first and second class wools are made at 11 and 12 cents a class wools are made at 11 and 12 cents a pound as against 10 and 12 under existing law. On third class wool, ceating 12 cents or less, the duty is raised from 2½ cents a pound to 3½ cents, and upon wools of the third class, costing above 12 cents, the duty recommended is an advance from 5 to 8 cents per pound. There seems to be no doubt, the report says, that with the protection afforded by the increased duties recommended in the bill, the farmers of the United States will be able at an early day to supply substantially all of the home demand, and the great benefit such production will be to the agricultural interproduction will be to the agricultural intests of the country cannot be estimated.

AVERAGE RATE 91.78 PER CENT. In revising the woolen goods schedule so as to afford adequate protection to our woolen manufacturers and wool growers, the committee state that they have continued the system of compound duties which have proved to be so essential in any tariff which protects wool, providing first for a specific compensatory pound or square yard duty equivalent to the duty which would be equivalent to the duty which would be paid on the wool, if imported for the benefit of the wool grower, and an advalorem duty of from 30 to 50 per cent. according to the proportion of labor required in the manufacture of the several classes of goods as a protection to the manufacturer against foreign competition and 10 per cent. additional upon ready made elething for the nal upon ready made clothing for the pro-tection of the clothidg manufacturer. "From the best information we can obtain," the report says, "it is probable that the ncreased rates of duty given to manu-facturers of woolens will reduce certainly not increase the revenue from this source and transfer to this country the manu-facture of from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 woolen goods now made abroad. In mputing the equivalent advalorem duty manufactures of woolens the combination of both the specific duty, which is simpl compensatory for the duty on the wool used, of which the wool grower receives the benefit, and the duty which protects the manufacturers makes the average resultant rate of the woolen goods schedule proposed 91.78 THE SUGAR AND MOLASSES SCHEDULE. After defending its action in increasing the inty on certain kinds of iron and tin plate, the committee goes on to discuss the sugar and molasses schedule. The sugar schedule and molasses schedule. The sugar schedule was only decided on last night. The committee recommend that sugar up to and including No. 16 Dutch standard of colored and molasses be placed on the free list with a duty of 4-10 of 1 per cent. per pound on refined sugar above No. 16, and that a bounty of 2 cents per pound be paid from the treasury for a period of fifteen years for all sugar, polarizing at least 85 per cent., made in this country from beets or sorghum produced in the United States. Discussing the sugar question the commit of augar does not materially affect the price and the duty is therefore a tax which is ommittee of the house and many other price of domestic sugar arising from the duty and it is clear that the duty on sugar and molasses made the cost of the sugar and molasses consumed by the people of this country at least $64,000,000, or about $1 for each man, woman and child in the United States more than it would have been if no such duties had been levied and the domestic product had remained the same. Even on the assumption that with proper encouragement we shall eventually be able to produce all or nearly all the sugar required for the consumption of our people—an assumption which your committee believe to be sustained by many fasts notwithstanding the slow progress thus far made in sugar culture in this country—this encouragement can be given much more economically and effectually by a bounty of two cents per pound involving the expenditure of a little more than $7,000,000 per annum with the present production of sugar in the survey. Several theusand words of the report are devoted to giving reasons for increasing duties on agricultural products. Concerning allk, the committee states that in order to secure this industry as speedily as possible they offer the necessary differential of a bounty of $1 per pound about the equivalent of 20 per cent. of the market value of good silk. A bounty of 7 cents per pound, it is stated is also allowed on cocoons. The committee have recommended changes in the internal revenue laws as follows: Abolishing the tax on dealers in leaf tobacco, manufactured tobacco, manufacturers of tobacco and cigars and peddlers of tobacco, reducing the tax on smoking and manufactured tobacco and snuff from 8 cents to 4 cents per pound. The committee recommend that all provisions of the statues imposing restrictions of any kind whatsoever upon farmers and growers of tobacco in regard to the sale thereof be repealed. This will enable the farmers and planters to sell their tobacco wherever and to whomsoever they please with the same freedom they now dispose of other agricultural preducts. declaring Sanders and Power (the republican claimants) not entitled to seats.

HIDES ON THE FREE LIST.

No reference is made in the report to rav hides, a subject that has given the republican members of the committee considerabl trouble. They decided to put hides on the dutiable list, but changed that decision this morning, and hides will remain on the free list at present. Mr. McKenna of California, a republican member of the ways and means committee, submitted a report dissenting from the sugar schedule of the bill. fourth.

Fifth inning—New Haven scored their only run in this inning. Doyle went out from Calhoun to McBride. Lang was presented with his base and neatly stole second. Hofford got his base on balls. A wild pitch advanced the runners a base. Gilliland flew out to Poole. "Snap" scored on the put out and "Chie" moved to third, but he "died" there, as McKee went out from Calhoun to McBride. New Haven falled to score again.

Yale did not score again until the eixth inning, when they scored two runs. These were all they got during the balance of the game. Calhoun hit safely, McBride rapped out another single and Calhoun took third. Poole went out from Gilliland to Shoeneek and McBride took second on the put out. McClintock then died at first on an easy grounder from Gilliland to Shoeneek and it looked as if Yale would not score after all, but McClung was the right man in the right place and he poked a corking single over Lang's head and Calhoun and McBride tallied. Cushing fouled out to Hofford and the side was out.

All present were much interested in the matter of decorating in a suitable manner the tract of land which the heirs of Mr. Baldwin have bought, and propose to decorate for park purposes. The chairman of the committee, Mr. P. D. H. Allen, submitted a plan drawn by McClunie of Hartford, which provides for a pond and fountain, artistically arranged groups of trees, tennis courts and a summer house to be built on a sightly knoll, commanding a view of not only the park, but much of the village as well. The plan was received with much favor. The report of the committee was unanimously accepted and a permanent committee, consisting of Dr. William P. Sweet, Messrs. Richard Baldwin, P. J. Plumb, J. W. Clark and T. B. McNamara was appointed to carry forward the work. was appointed to carry forward the work. This committee held a meeting on Saturday night and formed the Baldwin Park association.
