"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately havored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL

The news of the resignation of Chief-of-Police Bollmann will be a surprise to most ends and rings, retailed at of the people of New Haven, but perhaps 3 times the price we ask nobody ought to be much surprised by anything that happens at the City Hall. Mr. Bollmann has had a difficult place to fill and its natural difficulties have had added to them the difficulties of petty and often mean politics. He has made a good record. He has worked faithfully to increase the efficiency of the Police department. He has, of course, made mistakes, but his intent has been right, and in the main his acts have been judicious. He has been conspicuously honest in a place which offers frequent temptations to turn from the straight path. He has never been accused of any crookedness. He will carry out of office, and to his grave, a painful reminder of his service, as he has never fully recovered, and never will, from the brutal attack made upon him a few

New Haven has reason to hope that Mr. Bollmann's successor will be as faithful, honest and efficient as he has been.

THE OTHER SIDE. Yesterday we called attention to some of the wonderful changes that have taken place in the new South. Of course there is another side to the story. For instance, a correspondent has paid a recent visit to one of the towns in Tennessee that a year ago was the object of very considerable speculative interest in this part of the country. The latter part of April of 1890 a long train of Pullman cars left Boston tilly Flounce, reduced from anction sale of lots of land at what was to $2.75. Wednesday and Thursbea future city of metropolitan import be a future city of metropolitan import ance. At the auction sale that then took place what were considered to be choice ousiness locations sold at prices some of which were as high as $250 per front foot. The sale was attended by more than three thousand people, streets were in process of construction, and if outward indications were to be trusted, there was every evidence of the speedy uprising of a great business center. The correspondent says that while the town had but two houses s year ago it has now a great many, but these are mostly for sale or for rent. There were then no business blocks; now there are several substantial ones, but they are practically all unoccupied. Last year there was no hotel worthy of the name but now there is a new, unfinished hote which was to cost $75,000, but upon which work has ceased from the obvious lack of patronage to follow its completion. Moral: Invest only in the places that ar system has been in use in England. Nothing like having a rich mother. Queen Victoria has made a virtue of necessity and ordered her agents to use $1,-500,000 of her private funds to pay off the debts of the Prince of Wales. She wanted parliament to assume the burden but the government did not dare ask it. The king and queen business isn't popu-lar enough in England to risk straining its popularity. It appears that there can be reform, even in Chicago. The Republican mayor of that GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., city began his two years' term of omce last week by shutting up all the gambling houses of the city. Other mayors have been unable to do this thing, probably because they were under some obligation to the men who control this business. Their nomination and election were partially due to the influences which have made it possible for the gamblers hitherto to defy the law. But Hempstead Washburne came to the office unexpectedly, owing to a dvision among the Democrats, and was untrammeled by pledges or obligation definite or implied.

Disappointed prohibitionists can be found in Iowa. The Cedar Rapids Gazette confesses that it "helped to get the prohibitory law upon the statute-books, but finds that it has caused a worse condition of affairs than existed before," and adds:
"The law is not only enforced, but it is causing damage to the State in various ways, and is building up the most gigantic gang of blackmailers that ever infested any country." Those who still advocate the maintenance of the law are now urging an attempt to secure its enforcement by establishing a State commission for the commission for the stablishing a State commission for the comm

HYDRAULIC MONITORS. The Almost Incredible Force of

One of the most noteworthy features is nany portions of the gold region is the elaborate system of water supply for the use of the hydraulic mines and the tremendous changes which were the result of the two years during which hydraulicking was at its height. So great have been hese changes-hills washed away, valleys filled up, others created-that in many localities the entire landscape has been altered. The old proverb ascribing the power to remove mountains to such as had faith only to the amount of a grain of mustard seed has never been exemplified, but the hydraulic miners have afforded the most ample demonstration of their ability to move mountains in the search of wealth. Lofty mountains have in fact been brought low through no other agency than the pipe line, the monitor and the sluice, and the tremendous power of water never received such an exemplification as in the history of the hydraulic mines of

There are, indeed, so many remarkable There are, indeed, so many remarkable facts connected therewith that, were they not abundantly substantiated, one might well be pardoned for receiving their relation with incredulity. One might not believe that a stream of water issning from a nozzle or pipe six inches in diameter, and with no other force but gravity behind it, would have much effect at any considerable distance from the aperture considerable distance from the aperture, yet such an apparently insignificant stream, with a fall behind it of three hundred and seventy-five feet, will carry away a solid boulder weighing a ton or more at a dis-tance of from fifty to one hundred feet, while at a less distance it will toss such a boulder about as a boy would throw a

The velocity and force of such a stream as it issues from the nozzle of the monitor is something terrific. The column of wa-ter is solid—so solid that if one were to andertake to thrust any object into it it would make no more impression than if it were iron instead of liquid. If a crowbar or other heavy object be thrust against the stream it would be snatched from the the stream it would be snatched from the hand and thrown to a great distance as if it were a feather weight, while the man who should firmly grasp an axe an attempt to cut through the stream would undergo an experience that he would remember for many a day.

If a man were to receive the full force

If a man were to receive the full force of such a stream at a distance of a couple of hundred feet, even though the impact be momentary, he would be killed as quickly as though struck by a cannonball. He might escape being mangled, but the breath would be most effectually and suddenly expelled from his body.

At four hundred feet from the mozzle, a six-inch stream with three hundred and seventy-five feet fall, swung momentarily against the trunk of a tree will denude it in a second of the heaviest bark as cleanly as if an axe had been used. Whenever such a stream is turned against a gravel bank it cuts and burrows into it in every bank it cuts and burrows into it in every direction, gouging out great caves, causing thousands of tons of earth to fall, which is in turn quickly disintegrated and washed into the sluices. Boulders so heavy that a man can scarcely lift them are tossed about like chaff, stumps and trunks of trees are thrown to one side like straws, and the work of destruction goes on at a pace that is appalling. If one who has never seen a monitor in operation under full head could imagine the ordinary stream from a fire hose magnified about a thousand time he would be able to form some conception of its power.

purpose, which, they think, "would bring the whole power of the State to bear directly upon the saloon."

Viedomasti of St. Petersburg thinks that monitor that gives the pressure. With from three hundred to four hundred and fifty feet fall the execution dene is tre-mendous. At the monitor the water is mendous. At the monitor the water is conducted into a still smaller pipe with nozzle about one-third the size of the supply pipe, the compression giving it still greater force. The monitor is con-structed something like the ordinary hose any moment become impossible for us to nozzle, but has a ball joint that permits it to swing in any direction. It is balanced with weights, and by means of an ingen-ious device known as a deflector the tre-mendous stream can be turned in any di-rection by the slightest force. Almost the rection by the slightest force. Almost the weight of a finger will suffice to direct the movement.

Easily as it is managed, however, the monitor sometimes becomes uncontrollable, and when this happens a scene of destruction and even death ensues. The struction and even death ensues. The pipe sways to and fro at its own volition, and the stream flies first in one direction and then in another. If the miners are not warned in time to get out of range they may be mowed down as if by the dis-charge of a volley of grape. Sometimes the runaway monitor seems as if manipu-lated by some bloodthirsty monster, and appears to be deliberately turned upon the fleeing men, following them as they fly in every direction and overtaking them be fore they can reach a place of safety. In one case, a sluice tender, hearing an unn-sual noise, raised himself above the edge of the cut in which the sluices ran just in time to receive the full stream square in his face and chest. He was knocked down, thrown into the sluice and washe away. When found his body had not a stitch of clothes upon it, and apparently every bone in it was broken.

When a monitor gets away from control in this manner there are two things that can be done. The water may be shut off at the head-gate, a process involving much delay and perhaps loss, or some brave man may rush in and get to the monitor without being struck by the stream. To do this requires agility and pluck. The stream is liable to box the compass inside of a minute, and its course must be watched and the probable direction noted. Then over the rough surface the man must hasten, careful not to make a misstep, and at the same time ready to flee should the erratic stream betray a tendency to change its course so as to endanger life. There have been many hair-breadth escapes and some thrilling exhibition of bravery under such circumstances as this, and it has been only by the exercise of the greatest coolness and bravery that great loss of property and life has been prevented. A. J. Bowie, of this city, in his work on hydraulic mining, states that the stream from a six-inch nozzle, with four hundred and fifty feet vertical pressure, delivers a blow equal to 588,735 foot pounds per sec-ond, equivalent to 1,070 horse-power. be abundantly prepared to believe almos anything that could be said about the power exerted by such a stream.

SUPT. BOLLMAN RESIGNS. several Surprises at the Meeting of the Police Commissioners Last Evening — Mr. Dillon Also Will Resign—The Sunday Liquor Selling

-No Captaincy Promotions Yet-Officers Commended - No Matres Elected-Other Matters Transacted The question of the Sunday liquor sellng excited some little discussion at the eting last evening of the police comissioners. This arose over a recommen dation made by the superintendent of police that two supernumaries be detailed or Sunday duty on East Rock park. The superintendent said the presence ne officers at the park was most necessar n keeping the place orderly, though only few arrests have been made there. As the finances of the department are low a suggestion was made that two men who have formerly been detailed for Sunday duty about the city in citizens clothes be given the park duty and not make an increase to the force necessary.

Mr. Benton did not like this and said that, while not laying a claim to a higher standard of morality than the rest of the members of the board, yet he did or the members of the board, yet he did wish to have the Sunday liquor selling in this city closed up, and this, he thought, could be done effectually only by these special officers who go out in citizens' dress.

Commissioner Clancy thought the officer in citizen's dress was not so good as in the resular uniform

President Andrews also expressed him-self against the plebeian garments. He called the system a spying one, and thought it was not an honorable way exactly to de-want to have the im ion that we are want to have the impression that we are neglecting our duty in this matter of Sunday liquer selling.

Mr. Clancy made a motion that the Sunday detail be dispensed with for the next two months, but it was lost. The motion to detail the two supernu maries for East Rock park on Sundays wa maries for East Rock park on Sundays was passed.

The suprise of the evening come soon after when the clerk began reading the resignation of Superintendent Bollmann from his official position. It was not thought the superintendent would take this step, though it has been apparent for some time that there has not been the best harmony between the board and himself. He undoubtedly felt the rebuke keenly which was given him some weeks ago for not appearing before the board in uniform. After his resignation had been read he made a few remarks explanatory of his the made a few remarks explanatory of his step. He said that he had been intending for some time to resume the practice of law, and that he would retire with friendly feelings for all the members of the board, and hoped they were reciprocated. His resignation in full is as follows:

His resignation in full is as follows:

New HAVEN, Conn., May 5, 1891.

To the Board of Police Commissioners of the City of New Haven:
Gentlemen—Contemplating a change in the early fall which will necessitate my giving up my present official position. I deem it proper to now acquaint you with my intentions and to give as much notice as I would expect under similar circumstances. I therefore tender herewith my resignation as superintendent of the New Haven police department, this resignation to take effect October 1, 1891. During the time Istill remain in office I shall continue to do my duty, as I know I have always tried to do, and when I shall have left the department 'shall still take the deepest interest in its welfare and progress.

Yours truly,

Yours truly, Charles F. Bollman, Superintendent of Police. They voted to accept the resignation and passed and ordered on file the following resolutions:

Whereas, This board has received with regret the resignation of Charles F. Bollman, superintendent of this department, to take effect October 1, 1891; and,
Whereas, It has been ascertained that no inducement can be offered that would be likely to result in the withdrawal of said resignation, Resolved, That the same is hereby accepted, to take effect according to its terms.

Resolved, That in accepting said resignation this board desire to place on record its regret at the prospective severing of official relations which have at all times been pleasant; its appreciation of the zeal and fidelity with which Superintendent Bollmann has discharged the duties of his office; its commendation of his successful effort to maintain and advance the standard of

The surprises of the evening were not yet ended for the clerk had another resignation to read, and this time from a member of the board, namely, Mr. John H. Dillon, who ascribed his action in so doing to press of business. Mr. Dillon's resignasuperintendent is rather suggestive, as he was the commissioner who was supposed to be most unfriendly to him. His resignation will have to be acted upon by the board of aldermen, but the board of police commissioners ordered their copy on file.

ANOTHER NEW DORMITORY For Yale-To be Erected by the Kingsley Trust Association on College Street-The Plans Drawn.

A good deal of talk has been recently eated by the new plan of the Scroll and Key society to help Yale out with a new ermitory. The property used by the ociety, corner of College and Wall streets, is owned by the Kingsley Trust associa tion, a company of wealthy men, including millionaire New Yorkers, who are members of the society, and manage the association in the society's interest. Two or three months ago they bought, in addition to the lot on which the society building to the lot on which the society building stands, the house and lot back of it on Wall street, which was owned by Mr. Munson, making a frontage of 160 feet on that street. Besides this they have just purchased through Charles H. Webb the two lots next north the society's land on College street, of President Dawson of the Water company, making a frontage of 160 feet on this street also. They are now intending to erect on the land not in use by the society building a new and handsome dormitory for use by Yale students. THE DRESS REMEARSAL.

I. M. S. Pinafore "Salls the Ocean Blue" at the Hyperion Last Even ing-A Notable Production. Last night the Hyperion was crowded and the cause was the dress rehearsal of H. M. S. Pinafore by the Dessauer Opera ompany, and from the time the orchestra struck up the first jingling bars of the verture until the curtain went down at the end of the second act everybody was all attention. The stage setting was a very fine piece of work, as George Miller's work sually is, and great praise is due him for his careful dressing of the stage. The costumes were very tasty, and the entire and all. It is not our part to criticise the performance. It was only a rehearsal, and that only dress rehearsal, so all were feeling mpany looked well, principals, choruses the only dress rehearsal, so all were feeling their way. Madame Oertel as Buttercup unquestionably is a great success, and her singing was magnificent. Harry Ensign, as Admiral, showed his ability and pleased the audience immensely. Joseph Ross made a very good captain, filling the position to a dot, while his singing was all that could be desired. Miss Sullivan, as Josephine, showed her clear, bright soprano to great advantage, and her duets with Ben Harwood, who played Ralph Rackstraw, were heartily encored. Mr. Harwood is the fortunate possessor of a very sweet tenor voice. The acting of Mr. Nelson, the stage manager, who played Dick Deadeye, was perfection, and the audience was delighted with him. His make-up and specialty work showed the profesup and specialty work showed the profes onal, and there was no hesitation or faisional, and there was no hesitation or fal-tering about him. Miss Martha Schnee-loch played Hebe, and her bright face and graceful acting made a most favor-able impression. Mr. Mead's solo gave an excellent opportunity for displaying a fine baritone voice, and he possesses such a voice, while Mr. Kiylan as bass owns a match for it. Little Charlie Groning as Midshipmite deserves his share of notice, and a prettier little fellow never filled the position. The chorus are good and no

Both parties fought shy of a recount in most places of importance, fearing, as some held, revelation which might further complicate the contest which is pending before the courts to decide if possible who was legally elected governor at the last state election; while it was generally considered that nothing was to be gained on either side by a recount, as such a count would be unofficial anyway. Bridgeport was a center of interest, as there were 126 ballots cast for Merwin there which was disputed by the democrats as illegal and which were thrown out. There the republicans appointed a committee headed by State Committeeman H. R. Parrott, and the democrats appointed one headed by Democratic State Committee-man W. B. Bostwick. NEW BRITAIN, May 5 .- Among the balots recounted to-day there were nine prohibition votes found not counted. The republicans claimed there were eighteen. WATERBURY, May 5.-The ballot boxes were opened this morning. There was no change from the original count made by the moderators before sealing the boxes last fall. At that time forty-four prohibiisst init. At that time forty-tour promotion votes were thrown out in the Second ward because of the word "For."

Stamforn, May 5.—No ballot boxes will be opened in this city to-day. This is due as much to a lack of interest among the politicians of both parties as anything else. Town Clerk Holly said this morning that no one had spoken to him about open-ing the boxes, and he was of the opinion that no such action would be taken in thi MIDDLETOWN, May 5.—The recount of allots to-day did not change the result nnounced last fall. DANBURY, May 5 .- The politicians and others were not in a curious mood to-day, and consequently the ballot boxes remained closed. Town Clerk Booth said no one rith every indication of a crowded house had requested that they be opened and he knew of no good reason why they should. At Middletown yesterday the ballots re-jected last November—were found to have been thrown out for good cause.

At Waterbury the rejected ballots were found not to have been regular.

At Portland a recount yesterday showed that an error of three had been made. Three straight democratic ballots which should have been counted were found. THE NEW HAVEN BALLOT BOXES-NOTHING The republican state central committee was presented as to what the committee advised with reference to any action as re gards recounting the votes of electors at the late state election. It was decided if the democratic party wished to recount the ballots the republican chairmen of the different towns would be present with ounters for the purpose of assisting in ny recount desired.

It was said that at New Haven there was a prospect of such a recount. Mr. James Bishop, the republican chairman, con-sulted with Mr. William Shannon, the democratic chairman. Mr. Shannon said he had no knowledge of such a recount being contemplated. Mr. Dailey of the state central committee, with Mr. Bishop, called upon Town Clerk Brethauer Monlay morning and said the republicans of New Haven did not demand a recounting of the votes. If, however, the democrats desire or wish a recount, the republican party wished to be notified, so that a recounting might be had. Mr. Brethauer informed Mr. Bishop and Mr. Dailey that he had told Mr. John Carney, the democratic member of this district, that he would tryn over the hellott the himself. would turn over the ballots to him yester

After consultation with Mr. Herbert E Benton, the chairman of the republican state central committee, it was ward, through the patriotic energy of Councilman Ryerson and the members of the company feel not a little proud of the gift. The flag is twenty-two feet by fourivered the ballots to Mr. Carney. NO RECOUNT IN NEW HAVEN LIKELY. No notice has yet been given to eith

Mr. Bishop or Dailey and it is now pre sumed no recount will take place. There is a question whether the statute authorizes any town clerk to deliver the ballots to any person even after they are held six months for any purpose other than to de-stroy. The New Haven boxes remain at the city hall unopened and in Town Clerk Brethauer's possession. THE PROHIBITION VOTE.

HARTFORD, May 4. - In none of the towns we the prohibitionists been requested to be present at the recount. A democratic uthority here says: The republicans have maintained since the beginning of the con troversy that the "for" votes which were troversy that the "for" votes which were polled by the temperance advocates must be counted or rejected together, ingeniously disguising the fact that the question of legality relates only to the "for" ballots which were rejected. In towns where objection was raised against the validity of the prohibition votes when the original count was made they were rejected. The issue as affecting the state ticket is connected exclusively with the votes that were thrown out by the moderators on account QUO WARRANTO AGAIN NEXT FRIDAY. The quo warranto proceedings will b esumed in this city Friday. In case the counsel for Bulkeley decide to file an answer instead of carrying the case to the swer instead of carrying the case to the supreme court on demurrer, the litigation can be continued for months. It is not likely that the demurrer policy will be adopted. The defense will take the course that will protract for the longest period the continuance of the case in the superior court. The consel for Judge Morris will have one chance of forcing a hearing on the facts at issue. In one continuance of defending the facts at issue. facts at issue. In one contingency a de-murrer may be filed to the answer made by the defense, forcing the case to the higher the defense, forcing the case to the higher court without delay. But the chance is so small that no practicable reliance can be placed upon it. The usual method will be the filing of a replication to the answer of the defense. This must of necessity involve the taking of testimony. The latitude for the hearing of evidence is in effect unlimited. In this view of the case the supreme court cannot be reached for months.

A RUMPUS IN MERIDEN. MERIDEN, May 5 .- The democratic chair man. H. T. Downs, accompanied by J. C Byxbee and John McWeeny, went to the town hall about 8 o'clock this morning the Connection division, L. A. W., will meet here Thursday evening to make preparations for the proper entertainment of the visitors.

> WHAT WAS THE MOTIVE? The Body of Patrick Cooney Found Been Missing About Two Weeks. The unknown man whose body was norning has been sufficiently well identified as Patrick Cooney, who formerly lived at Branford, but until two weeks ago had resided at Leete's Island and worked at where he also worked some years ago. A rtnight since he went to the funeral of a child named Tooney at Branford and since then he has not been seen or heard from In his pockets were found a gold water and a card of the Stony Creek division of Knights of Labor on which was his name and also that of Secretary Sherlock. Cooney was about thirty-five years old. How he died is a mystery, for it is not thought that he was a man to commit suately had a meeting when the question thought that he was a man to commit suicide; and though he is believed to have had considerable money on his person when last seen, the gold watch found on the body makes it seem unlikely he was murdered for his valuables. On his head was found an abrasion by Medical Examiner Bennett, but this may have been due to beating against rocks in the water. He also gave it as his opinion that the body had not been in the water longer than eighteen or twenty hours. Coroner Mix was summoned and gave a permit to Stahl & Hegel to remove the body to their establishment.

JURY BRIBERS INDICTED. The Labors of the New Orlean Upon Which the Indictments Were Based - Money Used in the Jury Room-The Grand Jury Fails to Find Indictments Against Those Who Took Part in Lynching the NEW ORLEANS, La., May 5 .- After size weeks' investigation the grand jury completed its labors on the Hennessy case things were expected. Of such we can say that to conceal and thereby attempt to and the killing of Italians at the parish prison, by presenting the following special report at 4:30 o'clock this after-GRAND JURY ROOM, May 5, 1891.

To Hon. Robert Marr, Judge of Criminal District Court of the Parish of Orleans. When this grand jury entered upon its term of service there was pending in sec-tion G, this tribunal, the trial of nine men, indicted for participation in the as-sassination of the late superintendent of police, D. C. Hennessy, on the night of October 5, 1890. The enormity of that crime, executed at the midnight hour, created unusual in-terest throughout the whole country, while in our city, vitally concerned in the administration of justice, as deeply affecting her social, political and material welfare, the sentiment of material welfare, the sentiment of the populace had crystallized into the con-crete form of expression that justice be rendered through the recognized channels of criminal jurisprudence, that the guilty perpetrators, whoever they were, be tried by an impartial jury of American citizens and meat with a righteous conviction. One and meet with a righteous conviction. One fact stood out in awful prominence above and beyond dispute or question by any man—the fact that a crime of unparalleled atrocity had been committed, evidenced by the five terrible death-dealing weapons, the numerous slugs and bullets fired on their errand of human destruction and found mbedded in the fences and houses at the cene, besides the missiles that struck down the solitary man who would never have been marked as the victim had he not filled the responsible position of chief officer of the law. It is not to be wondered that attention should be directed to the trial during the many days of its progress in the selection of jurors, the evidence of witnesses, the arguments of counsel, the charge of the judge and finally concentrated on the twelve men, who by virtue of their solemn oath sat in awful judgment on their fellowmen. The verdict is now of official oath sat in awful judgment on their fellowmen. The verdict is now of official record, bearing date March 13, 1891. We cannot be mistaken in the assertion that the verdict was startling, amazing, a bitter disappointment, shocking to public opinion, provoking the reneated. ion, provoking the repeated accusation that some of the jury had been unfaithful to their oaths. We feel that we do to their oaths. We feel that we do not transcend the limits of our duty not transcend the limits of our duty as the grand inquest to refer to this strong presentation of the case as made by the state through counsel associated in the prosecution—clear, continuous, complete, convincing in the direct testimony and the material circumstances—it appeared more than sufficient to convince the most remailling listence with its truth and ost unwilling listener with its truth and those who ventured a doubt. As the trial for any observer to fail to realize the comments made on every side, touching the action of some members of the jury, when the case should be submitted; charges and speculation abounded, coupled with the well known connection of certain parties of well known connection of certain parties of unenviable authority, as shown by their presence daily in the court room and building, arousing the suspicion that the most subtle, dangerous and powerful in-fluence known to the practice of criminal aw were being exercised in behalf of the defence. These considerations have led us defence. These considerations have led us to investigate the subject embracing all of this attendant condition and incidents. The inquiry has been conducted with the utmost diligence, devoid of fear or partiality, with the single purpose of fastening the guilt on the proper persons and presenting them under indictment to this tribunal

A QUARREL IN THE JURY ROOM. Each one of the twelve jurors of the rial was summoned and asked to make a tatement. None objected, but all rather welcomed the opportunity. It was a no-table feature of the sworn statements that they primarily sought to justify their ver-dict by attacking the line of evidence pre-sented by the state and attaching much weight to the arguments of counsel for he defence. It was freely admitted by the jurors that remarks had been made in the jury room as early as the first day when testimony was offered and repeated a number of times afterwards and repeated a number of times afterwards "that the state was making a poor case," and was positively repeated at the close of the state's evidence. One quarrel at least was reported, arising from the accusation was reported, arising from the accusation by one juror to another, with the expres-sion "you talk like you were fixed before you came here." They formed no concep-tion of the tension to which the public mind was strung, they were impressed with the deep interest as shown each day by the crowd of spectators in the court It was clearly indicated that the necessity for secrecy was urged, as the several jurors were selected and joined the company of their fellows. It was impressed upon them at various times and finally, before the verdict was rendered, brought forward again, with the injunction to control destroy, were very treated of wideness. trol, destroy every vestige of evidence that they had and leave every thought and that they had and leave every thought and act behind them. Surely the urgence of this was most cunningly devised to con ceal the peculiar events that transpired in the jury room. Careful observers testify with special reference to the marked inattention of the jury as the witnesses submitted their evidence—a conduct most unbecoming and fraught with the gravest consequences when the conduct most unbecoming and fraught with the gravest consequences when the momentous import of the issue is considered. We are led to conclude that the jury undertook to try the case when it was submitted by their own estimate of the value of statements made by parties not called as witnesses. With strange unanimity they dwelt upon what they knew by residing and hereasy of cartain incidents of reading and hearsay of certain incidents of the assassination prior to the trial, and made those the basis of the powerful per-suasion for giving the accused the benefit of the doubt and concluding the delibera-tions in their favor. of the doubt and concluding the delibera-tions in their favor.

We must take occasion to say that it was not expected to obtain any evidence of undue influence from the members of the jury, for those men who were uncorrupted had nothing to reveal, while the others would not make themselves partiothers would not make themselves particeps criminis, yet in their numerous statements, much was obtained having a direct connection with and supported by the great volume of testimony elicited during the course of the inquiry. It is clearly brought out by evidence of the jurors that as affecting three of the accused Politz, Scaffsedi and Monasterio, the jury engaged in the deliberations in their case some four or five hours, attended with intense excitement and on repeated case some four or five hours, attended with intense excitement and on repeated ballots the jury's vote stood six guilty, six not guilty. This is a clearly defined indication of the convictions of the jury as to these accused. It impresses us deeply, as it must everyone to whom the fact is conveyed and forces the conclusion that the evidence was sufficient to justify the jurors who stood resolute and determined for a verdict of guilty, making deeply, as it must everyone to whom the fact is conveyed and forces the conclusion that the evidence was sufficient to justify the jurors who stood resolute and determined for a verdict of guilty, making it well nigh impossible to reach any ether conclusion than a mis-trial. These three accused, named above, were probably the unwilling actors designated by leaders of the conspiracy to execute a villainous part in which they had neither personal motive or interest.

NO INDICTMENT AGAINST THE LYNCHERS In conclusion, dealing with the lynchclue was then taken up. As a rule the talesmen who had been previously marked out were seen when alone or invited away to some secluded and unsuspected place, well designed pretexts guarding the real meaning of the talks, but quickly leading up to the great trial; talesmen were visited at their homes during the evening or early morning, intercepted on their way to the court house, stopped in the corridor of the court, and the vile work was deliberately carried forward in the court room ings at the parish prison, the grand jury jurer and briber seemed to dominate in the courts, paralyzing and rendering powerless the ends of justice. Certainly this was a desperate situation. In the public meeting—general and spontaneous in character as truly indicating an upriaing of the masses—we doubt if any power at the command of the authorities would have been sufficient to overcome its intentions. Evidence is before us from official sources that eleven persons were killed in the attack on the parish prison. In the careful examination as to the citizenship of these men we find that eight of erately carried forward in the court room during the trial. One favorite expression was that 'big money might be made by going on the jury and deing right." There is no possible doubt that such attempts were made by various parties in the service of the defence, entertained by some of the talesmen and scornfully rejected by others. These are facts given on the evidence of talesmen who quickly discerning the true meaning of the men who addressed them, indignantly repelled any attempt to control their line of conduct by these emissaries. In several instances a rebuff was answered that the talk was a joke, but surely a well zenship of these men we find that eight of them were beyond question Amercian cit-izens and another had "declared his inten-

In several instances a rebuff was answered that the talk was a joke, but surely a well directed joke of deep significance, when the leading part is enacted by the counsel of one of the accused participants in the assassination at the time awaiting trial in the parisk prison—now under indictment for attempting to bribe a juror.

Another class of talesmen took especial care to deny knowledge of the vile work or showed remarkable deficiency of memory as to what they had told their friends, causing us to conclude that they were silent from fear or had been seen and cautioned about incriminating anyone, till tions" in this court, which act carries with it the renunciation of allegiance to his na It is a noteworthy fact in connection with the uprising that no injury whatever was done to either person or property beyond the one act which seemed to have been the object of the assemblage at the parish prison. We have referred to the large number of citizens participating in this demenstration, estimated by judges at from 6,000 to 8,000, regarded as as nontaneous uprising of the people. The magnitude of this affair makes it a difficult task to fix the guilt upon any number of the participants—in fact, the act seemed to involve the entire people of the parish and city of New Orleans, so profuse in their sympathy and so extended in their connection with the ient from fear or had been seen and cau-tioned about incriminating anyone, till their tongues were silenced as with the hand of death. In this connection we can plainly state that a number of the wit-nesses most emphatically denied having been approached or spoken to about ser-vice on the jury, even after telling it to their friends who had informed us. Yes; there were wrong men from whom better

COLD WEATHER FOR BASE BALL. | FOR THE BENEFIT OF CHURCHES The New Haven Team Defeats The temperature at the Howard avenue grounds yesterday afternoon was someere near the freezing point, or at least it seemed so to both spectators and players. In consequence of the extreme cold only about 300 were present at the grounds, but those that were there remained until the end of the game. The visitors put Taylor in to pitch the first part of the game but he was too easy a mark for the batsmen of the local team and he was retired in the third inning, Fitzgerald going into the box and Tate in to catch, the remainder of the nine being to catch, the remainder of the nine being shifted all around. The game, while devoid of any specially interesting features, was a good exhibition of the national game and as such pleased the small number of spectators present. Clarkson particularly distinguished himself by his work in the box and with the stick, placing two singles and a three bagger to his credit out of four times at bat.

The Providence team will play on the local grounds this afternoon.

May 5.—The following items of interest relate to the affairs of St. John's church, North Haven: Last week the organ builder, who made such thorough repairs in the church organ last summer, speut a day with the organist, Fred Stiles. Together they voiced the pipes and put the instrument in better tune than it has ever been since it has been in use here. It was necessary that two sets of new pipes should have some use before they could be voiced with the rest of the instrument. The music for the coming year will be a quartette and chorus choir, under the charge of the organist. The young Christian Soldiers, to the number of forty, met at the rectory Saturday afternoon and enjoyed an old fashioned English village May-day festival, with May-pole, May-queen and May-day sengs, the whole ending with a procession to the court room in Memorial hall and a fine supper. I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for over ten years; had it very bad; could hardly breath. Some nights I could not sleep and had to walk the floor. I purchased Ely's Cream Balm and am using it freely; it is working a cure surely. I have advised several friends to use it, and with happy results in every case. It is the medicine above all others for catarrh,

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mr Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for own fifty years by millions of mothers for their chi dren while teething, with perfect success. I soothes the child, softens the gums, allays a pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy fo Diarrhosa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty five centra bottle. Its value is incalculable. Es sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

The Opening Firm-The Selling of London Specialties Precipitates a Selling Movement by Local Operators. Railroad bonds were dull, the sales of all is sues being only $985,000, while the tone was generally steady. The final changes are insignificant and the business was widely distributed, the narket developing no feature of interest. Stocks opened firm but quiet, and while a few specialties like Chicago Gas scored material gains, the general market failed to advance more than small fractions beyond the level of first prices Loudon sold its specialties and this precipitated a selling movement by local operators, which soon wiped out the early gains. The afternoon, however, brought with it the anafternoon, however, brought with it the an ment of a further engagement of $1,500, 000 gold for shipment abroad and the selling be-came general, for both sides of the account. The large gold shipments are now being attributed to he manipulation of a powerful bear party as legitimate demand abroad cannot be accounted for. The result of the manipulations is the creation of a large abort interest in the market, wit a considerable borrowing demand for all the a tive stocks in the loan crowd. The selling was vigorous while the afternoon lasted, and material losses were suffered in all the leading shares though the final losses for the day are generally confined to fractional amounts.
