Senator Stanford's bill to provide the ernment with means of supplying the ountry with enough money is compr ive. It provides for the creation of bureau of the Treasury department to be called the land loan bureau, with a chief and a deputy with salaries of $6,000 and $5,000 respectively, and as many subor officers as may be needed to conduct the loan business, which will be a good many, and pretty high-priced men if ine care is to be taken to examine titles and estimate the value of land offered as ecurity for loans. The treasurer of the United States is directed to cause $100,-000,000 in greenbacks to be printed, and ench additional amounts from time to time as shall be necessary to meet the reuirements of this act." Just what hese amounts may be Mr. Stanford does ot estimate, and no man can es-Every person who is a citizen of the Inited States or has declared his intention to become one and who owns agricultural and may borrow from the loan bureau at per cent., for not more than twenty years, to the extent of one-half the asessed value of his land. It is a big thing to be a senator of the United States and have the opportunity of ffering such a bill as this. WILL THEY TRY AGAIN? In its decision the Supreme court said If the relator shall hereafter, by an y a new one, allege that he received a vernor on the 4th day of November, 1890, and it shall also appear from the facts therein stated that the general assembly without the power to make any declaraion in respect to the election for goveror, a case would be presented of which tion." This gave the disappointed Demorate a chance to say that the decision did not really settle anything and that Judge Morris has a way yet to prove his election. Will he try to do it? We have not yet heard that he and his counsel have lecided what to do. If they do decide to mend the case and go on with it there will be another very interesting proceeding, and perhaps two or three months nore of suspense. But in deciding on their course they will have a good many hings to think of. Some of them are thus put by a prominent lawyer: Judge Morris is invited to bring another complaint, and prove, not his apparent majoripody could cope with the problems of the ctual majority of the votes cast in the ast election, the time for the preservation of the ballots having passed long ago? And now, having been told that the face of the returns is not final, and a previous declar-ation of the court having made the "for" ballots legal, where is his case? Besides. if he is to bring another suit, against whom will he bring it? Governor Bulkeley is governor, says the court, until his success sor is declared elected. Perhaps the Democrats, after carefully thinking, will prefer to "appeal to the cople" rather than make any further appeal to the courts. They may not have any better success with the people than they have had in court, but they are good EDITORIAL NOTES Oh the snow, the sloppy snow!

He can kiss an elder ly lady's hand without looking a fool, and he will take the trouble to talk to and draw out the shyest school-girl of seven-teen. It must be allowed that the Ger-man girl is better off in society than her English or American cousin. Instead of an equal share in the conversation.

But to return to manners and the reverse side of the medal. When the Eng. lishman finds himself on familiar terms German society his ideas respecting Te tonic politeness undergo a change, rather he discovers that fine manners rather he discovers that fine manners do not invariably prove the possession of good breeding. For example, at a party where English strangers are present, it is the commonest things for the guests to discuss English politics, habits and customs with a candor only equaled by

If any one resents these flowery compliments the most unfeigned surprise is evinced by the rest of the company. It is so kind, so charitable of them, they consider, to tell the ignorant foreigner of his little faults and failings. The only way for an Englishman to hold his own in such society is to turn the conversation upon the subject of India nis own in such society is to turn the conversation upon the subject of India and the English colonies, with an occasional allusion to the superiority of our navy. This has the instant effect of reducing the German, if not to silence, at least to a more subdued and respectful frame of mind.

Must Further Walt. HARTFORD, Jan. 6. 1892 .- [Special.]-The members of the general assembly convened at the capitol again this morning and once more began the adjourning business which has become so popular during the past year with this august body. Things were quite lively during the morning, between the talk concerning the liability of doing some business and the party caucusses. The house met at 1 o'clock, but immediately adjourned until 3 p. m. to await the action of the senate. which were to convene a half hour later. At 1:30 the senators came slowly in from the lieutenant gov ernor's room where they had been engaged in caucus, and rumors of an impending in caucus, and rumors of an impending adjournment sine die spread quickly around the senate chamber, but they were not realized. Senator Reed called the senate to order and presided. Upon the prayer being finished Senator Clark (rep.) of the Twenty-first, and the leader of that minority, arose and moved that as the supreme court had decided who was the present governor and as he and his constituents were anxious to do business.

convened at 8 p.m. in the hall of the house speaker Laylin of the house was selected chairman. He made a felicitous speech. Every republican assemblyman was present except Mr. Jackson. A conflict took place over the question of admitting the Chile is equivalent to a defeat of the measurement. onblic but a motion was finally adopted lirecting the sergeant-at-arms to clear the galleries. The vast audience hissed this action loudly and it was only with much difficulty that the sergeant-at-arms performed his task. The first division took place on a resolution of the Foraker men for a secret ballot. The Sherman forces moved a substitute providing for an open ballot by roll call. A lively debate followed. Representative Griffin of the Foraker forces insisted that secret ballot was necessary to protect men from intimidation and coercion 'The only argument against a secret balot," said he, "is the desire that he who lares to vote as his conscience and his convictions dictate may be exposed to the

FOR ALL!

We have a large and fine display of ar
ing not to dishonest; true to friend and fair to foe; just to the wask as well as to the strong, he asks only for right, and submits to no wrong. Loyal to the protection of the rights of labor, without unjustly disturbing the rights of property, which are mutually interdependent, he believes that when the muscle of toil or the hand of patriotism to our country in her trying ordeal for perpetuating existence has rendered a dollar's worth of services that hand should receive as compensation therefor a dollar with a hundred cents worth of purchasing power. [Prolonged applause.] Vote for him; for in that sublime act you honor your constituents, and serve your country and your God." [Prolonged applause.] Representative Griffin of Lucas nominated Joseph B. Foraker, and his speech was frequently interrupted with enthusiastic applause. "In the summer of 1862," he said, "when the life of the nation was trembling in the balance, a lad of sixteen, said, "when the life of the nation was trembling in the balance, a lad of sixteen, born and bred upon a farm, willingly and gladly, full of hope and patriotism, offered his life, if need be, his best service upon the altar of his country. He enlisted as a private soldier. He went to the front and when a redoubt or a battery was to be stormed with youthful vigor and impetuosity he was with the foremost. [Applause.] During the entire war he served as a private soldier." [Cheers.] After reviewing ex-Governor Foraker's ofafter reviewing ex-Governor Foraker's of-ficial record the speaker concluded: "The man whom I name is one of those gallant men who never deserted a friend or turned the state of Ohio and the nation."

Representative Dicks of Hamilton nominated Secretary Foster, but there was slight disposition to hear the gentleman, ment during the roll call, and as doubtful men recorded themselves they were warm-ly applanded by the faction with which they voted.

The result was: John Sherman 53, J. B. Foraker 38, Charles Foster 1, William McKinley, jr., 1, and amid tremendous ap-planse Mr. Sherman was declared the nommade ananimous. Later Mesers. Sherman and Foraker appeared before the caucus and were greeted with loud cheers. Mr. Sherman returned thanks for the honor, and spoke in complimentary terms of Mr.

Foraker. The latter made a brief address full of good feeling.
The caucus then adjourned. Senate Confirmations.

Discussion of Senator Stewart's Bill for the Free Coinage of Gold and Silver Bullion-Work of the House

Washington, Jan. 6. - After some paper had been presented and some bills intro duced and referred the vice president laid before the senate three messages from the president transmitting agreements made by commissioners with the Indians of Colville reservation, in Washington, with the Wichita and affiliated bands of Indians in Oklohoma and with the Tonakaw Indians in Oklohoma. They were read and referred.

Mr. Stewart's bill for the free coinage gold and silver bullion was then taken up and Mr. Morrill addressed the senate, Mr. Morrill spoke for about an hour and Senators Teller, Dolph and Stewar made remarks on the bill. No action was taken on the bill, and after a short executive session the senate out of respect to the memory of the late Representative Gamble of South Dakota, adjourned till to-morrow.

The speaker laid before the house the enate resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to transport contributions for the relief of the suffering poor in Russia. After some parliamentary skirmishing the heuse proceeded to consider the resolution as in committee of the whole. as in committee of the whole.

Mr. Holman moved to strike out the appropriation clause. He could see no reason why the United States should charter a ship to transport provisions contributed by her citizens to the sufferers in Russia. The Russian government was amply able

Gallatin Pounded to Pieces Off the Massachusetts Coast — One Man Killed and Washed Overboard. MANCHESTER, Mass., Jan. 6.—The United States revenue steamer Gallatin was wrecked off Manchester at 11:15 this morning. The Gallatin started from Kittery, Me., this morning bound across the bay to Provincetown, with two officers short. At 8:50 she passed the Salvages in course south. The patent log was set at 9:55 and the weather became thick and soon it began to snow. The course of the vessel was then changed, convictions dictate may be exposed to the intending to make Gloucester for a har-bulldozer. [Applause.] The right of bor. At this time they took in part of the secret ballot is one of the greatest pre-rogatives of a free people and that right is rigidly protected at the polls by every law to set at defiance the will of those constituents. [Great applause.] Surely we are not ashamed to vote our honest convictions, and no man should favor this substitute, except those who love darkness better than light because their deeds are dark. [Applause.]

Representative Taylor warned the caucus that it was by secret ballot that the democrats a few years ago nominated "Coal Oil Payne" for the United States senate and The smokestack rate a few years ago nominated "Coat" of Payne" for the United States senate and wrecked their party and doomed themselves to private life.

Representative McGrew said: "Are we cowards or are we men? Twice has notice been served upon us that the calamity of private life may be our portion if we fail to respond to that side which has had the greatest strength of noise and of threats. It won't do to talk about looking people in the face. We say to them let somebody else look somebody in the face. [Sensation.] We have nothing to hide, but we demand that men be protected against coersion. We object, too, that any one in powerful position in the nation shall cast this shadow upon this assembly to hover over men here and make them do something in accordance with the dictates of their own conscience." [Applause.]

After an hour's impassioned debate the substitute providing for an open ballot was capted by a vote of 47 years to 44 lighting arous storm.

THE UPBISING IN TANGIER. French Fears of Forcible Occupation by the English-The Lives and Property of Europeans Threatener -The Khabyles Have a Grievance Paris, Jan. 6.—The troubles in the Tar gier district of Morocco, and the sending by the British government of the two war ships Grappler and Thunderer, to protect British interests there, have awakened a feeling in some French quarters that England has the intention of adding to her territory by the forcible acquisition of parts of the Sultan of Morocce's dominions. This feeling is not allayed by the reports from Tangier, which state that the British minister has warned the governor that if he cannot guarantee the safety of the city against the rebel tribes, sailors will be landed from the British war ships. This is taken by the alarmists to mean aggressions on the part of the British, and the Siecle to-day demands that the gov-ernment despatch the entire French Med-iterranean squadron to Tangier to pre-vent the British from carrying out any de-signs of an aggressive character that they have formed.

The Matin, in an article on the same subject, says that it is rumored that the French Mediterranean fleet has already been ordered to Tangier.

The revolt of the peacantry in Tangier against the exactions of the Bashaw have assumed great proportions, threatening the lives and property of Europeans. All the tourists have left. Three of them rode in from the interior last evening and can vouch for the fact that seventeen of the Khabyle districts, containing thousands of fighting men, have revolted Early this morning the leaders decided to resist the force that the sultan is sendbeen introduced by Connecticut members ing to support the bashaw. Great anxiety is felt here lest the Khabyles should attack Tangier, hoping to embroil the sultan with the powers. Her majesty's ships the Grappler and Thunderer arrived last night. A s follows: British fleet is now on its way from Cadiz. The consuls have agreed to ask that a large orce or blue jackets be landed for the defense of the city.

Five hundred soldiers of the sultan are approaching Tangier, accompanied by a committee to inquire into the grievance of the Khabyles. Bashaw Sid Mahomed is an arrant coward and locks up himself and soldiers at sunset in the citadel, leaving the town totally unguarded. The peasants have sent reassuring messages. The war-ships are steaming up and down in the offing, preparing to land men at any moment.

It is a matter of little surprise that the tribes should revolt. The sultan of Morocoo is nominally an absolute ruler, but actually his authority is hardly acknowledged by many of the tribes. There is little doubt that the French anxiety regarding British movements in Morocce is due to the former's designs to secure portions of the territory nominally under the sovereignty of the sultan. This is especial-ly the case in regard to the coasis of Tuat, concerning which France and Morocco have been disputing for some time prise at the Kittery navy yard.

SECRETARY BLAINE TAKEN ILL Sudden Attack in His Office-Ascribed to Stomach Trouble-Wild Rumors Afloat Last Evening Con-

that followed the vomiting Miss Blaine who had arrived became somewhat alarmed and asked Dr. Van Reypen if she had not better send for her mother. The physician assured her confidently that there was not the slightest occasion for alarm and that Mr. Blaine would be able to walk home, it necessary, after a little rest. When the secretary left the carriage he walked into the house. One of his sons, realizing that his father's condition was not seri-ous, left soon afterwards for Philadelphia. The president was not notified of the incident until late in the afternoon. He there went to Mr. Blaine's house, but did no see him, as he was asleep. He was in-formed by Miss Blaine, however, that the illness was only temporary and that he would probably be able to return his call to-morrow. All sorts of rumors were aftent to-night in regard to Mr. Blaine's condition. It was reported he had broken down completely, and was in a most critical state. Some and was in a most critical state. Some even asserted that he could not recover. The physicians connected with the case, however, interviewed to-night separately, and each of them, without knowing what the other had said, asserted positively that Mr. Blaine was suffering from indigestion, caused from over eating, and from nothing else. Dr. Hyatt, Mr. Blaine's regular, physician, said he found. Blaine's regular physician, said he found Mr. Blaine in very good condition, the nausea having entirely disap-peared. He expressed the opinion that to-day's attack was partially due to a cold contracted by the secretary two days ago while working for some time in a room with the thermometer down nearly to sixty degrees. This, with hard work and lack of customary exercise due to the bad weather had made him more susceptible weather had made him more students would have been. Dr. Hyatt denied emphatically that there were any symptoms of apoplexy in the case and said he doubted If a person predisposed to apoplexy could have successfully stood the ordeal of vio-lent vomiting through which Mr. Blaine had passed. That fact that Mr. Blaine had rally so completely was satisfactory proof that his physical condition was remarkably good. At midnight it was stated at Mr. Blaine's residence that he was much improved and was resting quietly. BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 6 .- This morning three miles east of Fairmount, W. WORTH A BILLION AND A HALF. Value of Last Year's Cereal Crop The Wheat Product the Largest Ever Grownin Any Country. WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The estimates by states and territories of area, product and value of the principal cereals for 1891 made by the statistician of the departmen of agriculture are given to the press to night. The crops of corn, wheat and cate including all but two or three per cent of the cereal aggregate are reported. The total for corn has only been exceeded once. The wheat product is the largest ever grown in any country, and the yield per acre in the United States is the largest ever reported by the department of agriculture. The total for oats was slight-ly exceeded in 1889. The aggregates are ly exceeded in 1009. The aggregates are as follows:

Corn area, 76,204,515 acres; product, 2,060,154,000 bushels; value, $836,439,228.

Wheat, area 39,910,897 acres; product

611,780,000: value $513,472,711. Oats, area 25,581,861 acres; produc 736,3940,000 bushels; value $232,312,267. 736,3940,000 bushels; value $232,312,267.

The aggregate of all cereals is the largest yet produced and will supply 54 to 55 bushels per unit of population. The wheat supply is the largest ever reported in proportion to population, averaging 9.4 bushels to each person, against 9.2 for the largest previous crop in 1884.

The average value to the farmer is 40.6 cents for corn, 89.3 cents for wheat and 31.46 cents for oats. The value of wheat is greater that any year since 1883, that of

In an interview with Miss Belle Crowell of 64 filliott street, in this city, she said Dr. Roth has made me well When I went to im I was very miserable. I had to give up all york. My nervous spells were very severe and Intense Pain in My Back and sides, and stiffness of the back of the neck and head. I had numbness of the face and lire, and I lost the power of the left hand and side and felt surely that I was going to be totally para-lyzed, for I had kept having these feelings for some time and was very much alarmed at them. I Would Have Dizzy Spells, and so bad that I felt as though I would fall over backwards.

and cold feet all the time. I did not care to get up mornings, I was always so tired, and I had no ambition whatever. I had doctored a great deal with no decided benefit.
I went to Dr. Roth and he told me my troubles were due to diseases of the kidneys and liver. I took his treatment, and to say I am surprised at the result in my case does not express it, for now all my bad feelings are gone and I feel well and am satisfied that Dr. Roth's treatment is the cause of my present good health, and I advise all others that are sick to go to him.

The Stock Market to-day opened active, but at irregular changes, reflecting the continued efforts for a reaction and the taking of profits while London was a considerable seller, though buying orders for that conter sfterward appeared in the market. A general fraction depressio rule were kept below the level of the opening figures until the last hour, when new strengt was infused into the market, and a general acvance wiped out most of the early loses. The close was active and strong, generally at insig-nificant changes for the day. Lake Shore is down 1 per cent.

Railroad bonds were less active at generally advancing prices, though material gains are few. The Richmond and West Point trust fives scored a materi ladvance. The total trans tions were $2,875,000.

Hazel Street Assessment.

To the Honorable Court of Common Council of the City of New Hawen:

The Board of Coungemention to whom was referred the order of said Court, bearing date the 18th day of November, a D., 1898, directing the assessment and determination by this board of all damages and benefits to accrue to all parties interested by the grading of Hazel street, as the same was adopted by said court, breeky respectfully report:

That we have attended to the duty assigned us, that we caused reasonable notice to be given to all persons interested in the said public improvement, in all respects, pursuant to the provisions of the charter of said city, to appear before us and be heard in reference thereto: and we fully heard at the time and place specified in said notice all persons who appeared before us. And thereupon we do assess and determine that the city of New Haven pay to each of the following named presons in full of all damages, over and above all benefits accruing to them by reason of the proposedipublic improvement, the sums written opposite their names respectively.
