"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtis maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourlabed frame."—Civil Bervice Gazette.

MR. HILL'S TESTIMONY. Not a little crossness was stirred up dur ing the continuance of the cross examina tion of Mr. Hill last evening, but the end was finally reached without bloodshed And it is especially to be noted that the counsel for the defense did not succeed in letting Mr. Hill's blood. As on the other occasion when he was on the stand, he showed that he knew very clearly what h had and had not done, and that he had very good reasons for what he had done. Mr. Hill's testimony showed that he had not been engaged in political work agains the commissioners or to make himself 'solid." He gave Mr. Maloney some very sound advice. He admitted that he thought the commissioners should be re moved. He made it clear that he did not act wrongly in the matter of the celebrated and highly important Elm street catch basin. He wove in another of Commissioner Atwater's carts, and he asserted that twenty-four hundred dollars of the expense of the Boulevard sewer should properly be charged to the campaign expenses of the Big Four. He showed that he hadn't squandered the city's time and that he had taken but one of the desire for advancement in the invacation for several years. As political shouters say, "Hill is all interest in many matters, and it has Scarfs usually retailed at binations in colors, bought depriving the city of his ability and his experience. He was entitled to bet-Gent's Kid Gloves, the Monday price only 25c a ter treatment than he has had, and it is evident that he has conducted himself with dignity and discretion in the very trying situation in which he has been Now the question is, will the Big Four testify in their own behalf? If they do they are likely to have an unpleasant ex perionce and strengthen the case agains themselves, and if they don't their silence will count strongly against them. THE ANTI-CHINESE BILL. has passed the house by a vote of 179 to 43, is a very severe measure. It prohi ts the entrance into the United States o Chinese persons, whether subjects of the or otherwise unless they come here as ministers or other diplomatic representatives or agents of the Chinese government. Chinamen now residing in the United States who may leave the country are forbidden to re-enter it. Any Chinese person who the provisions of this new exclusion act is to be tried for the offence, and if the court pronounces that he is not lawfully in the United States, he is to be imprisoned in a penitentiary for a term of not more than five years, and at the expiration of his sentence is to be returned to the country from which he came. When it is reme abered that the Repubican minority of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs declared that the bill is "in conflict with the treaties existing between the Empire of China and the United States, to which the faith of the United States is pledged," its true character is plain. It was voted for by the Democrats of the house in order to catch "the labor vote." They expect to put it through the senate and to bulldoze President Harrison into signing it: Perhaps, however, the senate will have more regard for the and shook his head. He was an honest pledges of the United States than the house has had, and President Harrison certainly will. The matter is a difficult one to deal with, and nobody favors Chinese coolie immigration. Probably the renewal of the present law, with such changes as may be required to put a stop to the evasions practiced on the Canadian border, would be sufficient to prevent any injurious immigration from China.

South American justice isn't any more eliable than justice in some other countries. Two prisoners, Francisco Briones lambos and Victor Higuers, were impliated in a murder at Guara. The Guayaquil court, being unable to fix the relative guilt of either, passed the following senence: "They shall draw lots, and the one favored by chance shall not be executed and shall have his sentence commuted to that of imprisonment for life, which sentence he shall serve in the prison of the capital of the republic, after being resent at the execution of the other mur-

An interesting comment upon the dream of the Social Democrats and their "ideal state of the future" has been found in an inpublished work of Leibnitz, the great German philosopher. "If all persons," writes the thinker, "were obliged to live at public expense, under the guidance and control of directors-for instance, eating in common eating houses-it would be difficult to find men who would carry on the business of distribution with necessary industry and in the proper way. As a rule, men do not know how to use their places of power. It would be still more difficult, however, to treat the individual with proper justice; for each person believes that he alone understands every thing best. For this reason, in considers tion of the human character, it is better to give men liberty and allow them to take care of themselves. In that way the community is freed from the heavy burdens of caring for the individual. As a matter of course, measures must be taken to make it difficult for one to destroy himself and his property, and to insure "e encouragement

Society in Berlin. Apparently the one object of all Berlin estivities is to create a dazzling effect; and this object is achieved with a vengeance. To those accustomed to an ordinary allowance of illumination in a ball-room, to dimly lighted supper-rooms, and to the comparative obscurity of cosey nooks and corners and conservatories or on the stairs, a function here of any sort is simple tordepartment building of the world's fair is comparative obscurity of cosey nooks and ture: for whether it be a ball, a "soirce," a dinner or a modest supper, and however a dinner or a modest supper, and however many or few the guests may be, the same fierce searching light is turned on from sat down beside my lawyer. I took it for fierce searching light is turned on from the walls and ceiling alike in every possible direction. How the young bloods in their array of gold and silver have the bare-facedness to carry on a more or less vigorous flirtation within a general circle of limelight is a marvel, and speaks well of limelight is a marvel, and speaks well for their boldness, as, moreover, they have to do so under the eyes of the dowagers seated on a raised platform which is placed for the purpose in the ball-room of every well-conditioned establishment. A good many persons in the most select circles here appear to be sick and tired of the doubtful pleasure derivable from attending the official festivities; for the other our big men who don't like to be interviewed.

Pardridge, the Chicago speculator who has just made a million or two by going short of wheat, says he doesn't think a college education is necessary for success in business. When his turn comes to plundered he may discover that a lack of such education doesn't insure success in business.

in particular, loves to discuss the topics of the day over a mug of beer—less, perhaps, for the purpose of exchanging ideas or of forming an opinion than to hear himself speak and to expound his views. One would think there is little harm in that, especially as everybody talks on such occa-sions simultaneously, and no one is al-lowed to go away uncontradicted; but now these innocent wool-gatherings have been practically put a stop to by the action of the "powers that be." It is a well-known fact that secret emissaries and spies are to be found in every beer-room; and consebe found in every beer-room; and conse quently each guest eyes the other with suspicion. In many restaurants the ha-bitues have their own corners or places re-served for them; they know each other and would feel tolerably safe; but the moment a stranger happens to stray into the room the conversation, or rather the Babel of voices, abruptly ceases, and every eye is fixed with a stare—such a stare as only Barlianes con. is fixed with a stare—such a stare as only Berliners can command—upon the probably quite innocent individual. That the fears which inspire such rudeness are not groundless is amply proved by sundry and various convictions for less-majests, Beamtenbeleidigung—i. e., insulting officials; though the latter were not present, and probably would never have heard of the dire offence but for the spy in Berlin named "Spitzl." In fact "Spitzla" abound at present; even in the clubs one is not safe from them. The very waiters may prove to be informers—common or otherwise. Under these circumstances life is really not worth living; and it can hardly be a matter of surprise that many of the great nobles, and those of lesser degree, who are in the habit of spending the season in Berlin, and who formerly looked upon this capital as a perfect El Dorado, have preferred to rusticate in the despised provinces. Japanese Fashionable Game o Cards. [From the London Times.] The last number of the 'Transactions o he Asiatic Society of Japan' contains an nteresting paper by Major-General Palmer, R. E., describing a Japanese game of cards, which is said to be "the universal rage" in Japan. It is called hana-awasee., "pairing or matching of flowers, and, after having been confined for nearly two centuries to the lower orders, who played it in secret, it has now come to exercise an extraordinary fascination in all classes of society, and General Palmer expresses the conviction that it is entitled to high place among games of cards. It is played with forty-eight cards, com posed of twelve suits of four cards each These suits are named and decorated after the several kinds of flowers, etc., usually associated by the Japanese with the months of the year—such as (pine (January), plum (February), cherry (March), maple (October), willow (November.) There are certain recognized colors and styles, but outside these the artist is free to decorate the arrivate to his fancy as he deer makes the birds in the branches, flying wild geese and the like. "The dealer shuffles and the sitter on his right cuts, the deal going round from right to left; four consecutive cards are given to each person, and the next three are turned up on the table; then three more again turned up—thus exhausting, with six sitters, the whole pack. Each player in turn has to declare whether he will play on an elaborate system, which General Palmer explains. The object in playing is to use some card in the player's hand to pair with one on the table, and the game not bought for the occasion, but are regular stock goods that must go to make room for new Spring and Summer geods. We haven't room to specify all the bargains we have, but will have them displayed in our store at No. 854 Chapel street, on goes on until the whole of the cards in the pack are paired and captured. The system of counting also seems highly complicated, and General Palmer's tables and calculations show that he is quite correct in describing the game as "bristling with difficulties." He says, however, that it embodies the features of all first-class games of cards, and demands long training, a good memory, good judgment, skill in calculating chances and great readiness in counting. The element of chance enters into it about to the same extent as in the counting. The element of counting in the same extent as in the best western games. [From the Cheyenne Leader.] Speaking of lawyers' court-room quar rels and the friendliness which they afterwards display outside the court-room, I am always reminded of the experience of S. F. Nuckolls, a groceryman here in the early days and the first delegate to Congress from the territory. There existed a very bitter feud between Nuckolle and another man, and the matter got into court. One of the men retained A. J. Poppleton and the other J. M. Woolworth, both of Omaha, and now two of the biggest lawyers in Nebrasks. Each client instructed his lawyer to rake the other party to the suit over the coals in the liveliest possible manner. Nuckolls in telling the story said:

"When my lawyer got up I settled comfortably back in my seat ready to enjoy myself thoroughly. As the lawyer warmed to his work he gave my opponent such a tongue-lashing that he seemed to flay him alive. When the lawyer sat down I alive, when the lawyer sat down I alive. thought it was proven to the satisfaction of everyone that the other fellow was the meanest skunk that ever infested the me as the meanest scoundrel this side of Jericho, and I sneaked out of the courtwell-conditioned establishment. oners of the board of public works was sumed in the councilmanic chamber last vening, and although there was not as arge an attendance present as usual there was much interest manifested in the proseedings. Several very interesting points were developed during the cross-examination of ex-City Engineer Hill, and at the onclusion of his examination he was warmly congratulated by Judge Stoddard, who told him that never in all his legal ex erience had he met a witness who under similar circumstances had proved himself o strong. The attorneys for the defense endeavored in every conceivable way to break the direct testimony of the witness, but in no instance were they successful, Mr. Hill standing the ordeal most success-The proceedings were enlivened by the usual number of objections and personal spats between the counsel, some of which were of a rather warm and excited nature.

When the board first convened there were but nine aldermen in their places, they being Newton, Sonnenberg, Moran, Doody, Bromley, Chatfield, Johnson, Callahan and Connor, less than a quorum. After a delay of about twenty minutes a sufficient number of aldermen put in an appearance to make up the quorum and appearance to make up the quorum and he hearing proceeded.

The proceedings last evening comme with the cross-examination of ex-City Engineer Hill. The examination was conducted by Attorney Dailey. The first part was in reference to the Mechanic and Canner streets sewer. During the course of the cross-examination Ms. Hill said: "A sewer contractor takes the contract to do all the mason work and driving piles, etc., but the city does the filling. The contractor sub-lets the contract for driving the piles; for this sewer, I think, to Charles R. Waterhouse. I desired to change the original of any reputation that I know of that does not do some consultory work, just, for example, as the corporation counsel is paid by the city, but is not prevented from taking outside cases.

"Well, don't bring the corporation counsel into it," said Mr. Doollitle.

"Well, take the state attorney or city attorney for example," replied Judge Stoddard. [Laughter.]

Mr. Hill: "I have taken but one vacation for several years, and then went on specification and put on caps. The caps were to be placed on the piles crossways. The caps were twelve inches wide and four inches thick. I never saw a sewer of this size built on this plan, but on some plans very similar to it. There was a pile foundation to hold up this sewer and also a bed of artificial rock which was specially specified in the contract. Mr. O'Brien did not say to me that he would not go on and build the sewer for the city without the city paid him for it by the week. I do not recollect that he tion for several years, and then went on special permission from the board of pubspecial permission from the board of public works to Europe to attend as a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers a meeting of the civil engineers of the world. This was about six years ago."

Judge Stoddard then explained that Joel Sperry and John H. Leeds and another witness whom he expected to call were not present last evening, and he should like to have the privilege of calling them at a subsequent stage of the proceedings. "That is all we have at present," he said in closing. t by the week. I do not recollect that he ever said to me that the bed was not suf ficient to hold up the sewer. There were several allusions made by the counsel for the defense to a circus and prize fight being now in progress on Chapel street, after which the mayor rapped with his gavel and order was restored.

I have seen this location which I have described within six months, but do not think the piles are bare. There is a granite outlet at the mouth of the sewer running back perhaps eight feet. There is perhaps twenty-five tons piled on top of it and I think the weight will be readily supported indefinitely. There was a change THE DEFENSE NOT READY. The attorney for the "Big Four" at this point spent considerable time consulting among themselves and with their clients in eference to going on with the defense. It was evident that the defense was not ready to go on with their side of the case. Finally Attorney Doolittle arose and stated that the defense had not summoned any witnesses for last evening, as they did not expect to be called upon to go on, and in consequence were not ready. He also claimed that the attorneys on the and I think the weight will be readily supported indefinitely. There was a change made in the foundation. The filling settled to some extent within forty-eight hours after the piles were driven. We expected to fill in again after the settling had finished and in this way secure a strong foundation. I attempted to grade the street in front of Marlin's shop, but was ordered not to do it by Mr. Atwater until I had the authority of the board. I know the order to cease operations came originally from Mr. Atwater, but Mr. States probably sent the written communication to Mr. Dillon. On the Mechanic street sewer I decided that it was not necessary to put in piles. It did other side had given them no notice that Judge Stoddard replied that he had given Attorney Dailey notice of the fact.

After some delay Alderman Sonnenberg moved that the board adjourn until Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and the board so voted. At this meeting it is probable that the remaining witnesses for the pros-ecution will be put on and the side closed, after which the defense will open their was not necessary to put in piles. It did settle some, but not very much. I did not run the sewer down in front of Marlin's shop because after the plans were made they were all submitted to Mr. Cheeseborough and he thought the plan adopted was the better one. The whole thing was talked over by Mr. Fowler, Mr. Cheeseborough and myself and the plan we finally adopted was considered the best. The city paid Mr. Marlin damages for the opening of Canner street and for the extension of Mechanic street. These were land damages. The plan was ordered by

HARTFORD, Conn., April 4th, 1892. to the Republican Electors of the State of Con-

In accordance with the call of the republican national committee, a state convention of delegated representatives of the republican party in each town will be held in Foot Guard hall, Hartford, on Tuesday, the 3d day of May, 1892, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing four delegates-at-large and four alternates to the republican national convention, to be held at Minneapolis, Minn, June 7th, 1892; to appoint a state central committee for the two years ensuing, and to transact any other business proper to come before said convention.

The meeting at 8 o'clock p. m. will be for the presentation of credentials, and for organization. In accordance with the rules of the party the selection of delegates-at-large and alternates to the national convention, the formulation of a party platform and the election of a state central committee will occur on the following day. The district conventions for the selection of district delegates and alternates will be held at 12 o'clock noon on the fourth dey of May, 1892.

At the New York College of Music. Mr. M. Steinert's collection of antique pianos, so valuable and unique, was ex hibited yesterday afternoon at the New York College of Music. A very interesting explanation of their peculiarities was made by Mr. Henderson and they were played by Mr. Steinert in a most successful manner. Mr. E. A. Par sons of this city, assisted and closed the performance with a solo upon a conc Steinway grand piano. A great deal of interest was manifested by the large and cultivated audience present.

Fire Commissioners. At the regular meeting of the board ire commissioners last evening the follow ing applications were presented:

Isaac Isaacs, John H. Hope, Fred H. Farrell, Gerald T. Kinsella, Bartholomew Ahern.

The following bills were approved: Miscelianeous, $1,450.83; monthly pay roll, $8,188.40.

Granted special permits to George W. Perry, to erect frame dwelling on Lake Place; John P.

SPARRING EXHIBITION.

fames J. Corbett at Proctor's Opera House—Good Sparring—A Great Suc Proctor's opera house was crowded to its utmost capacity last evening. The program for the evening's entertainment was not carried out as planned, owing to some disappointments. The performance opened with a middleweight sparring match, between Mike Gillespie of Boston and Ike Williams of Bridgeport. The first round opened tamely and some in the audience began to guy, but before the bout ended the guying had turned to hones applause.

The next bout was between lightweights.
Jack McGirr of Boston and Mike Curley of Bridgeport contested for honors.
Then came a fencing bout between Charles Roberts and Herman Schlissell, both of this city.

A sparring bout between Jim Emmons of Buffalo and Bruce Nordary of Stamford came next. It was heartily applauded.

The next was a wrestling match between The next was a wrestling match between Patsy Turbert and P. McQueeney, both of this city. McQueeney won the match and challenged any man in the state to wrestle at his weight catch-as-catch-can.

Another lightweight bout between Jack McGirr of Boston and Harry Lane of Bridgeport came next, and then a rattling bout between Bill Dunn of this city and Ike Williams of Bridgeport. The bout between Dunn and Williams was very scientific.

sented by the Mask and Wig Club of the University of Penusylvania. "Mr. and Mrs. Cleopatra," a clever farce bounding in choruses, solos and fancy dances, will presented at the Hyperion on Monday evening, April 25, by the Mask and Wig club, composed entirely of stu dents of the University of Pennsylvania The entertainment is for the benefit of the Yale home and infirmary. Mrs. W. W. Farnam has interested herself in the undertaking and is lending her aid to make it a success. Twenty society ladies are to be invited to act as patronesses and they will be given a certain number of tickets to dispose of. These tickets will entitle the purchasers to the first choice of seats.

Barn Burned. A barn at 516 Orchard street was d stroyed by fire yesterday morning at about 8 oclock. It belonged to Bernard J. Burns, a truckman. The fire started in the hay loft. The barn was an old affair Police Commissioners.

At the meeting of the board of police commissioners last evening the pay roll, amounting to $6,801.64, and sundry bills were also approved. Other matters were discussed in executive session, but no action was taken. It is understood that the matter of the retirement of a number of the old police officers was under consider

TO BATTLE TO-DAY. he State Election in Rhode Island-Several Rallies Last Night by Both Republicans and Democrats-Hon. J. F. Barbour of Connecticut Speak Somewhat at Sea as to the Result. PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 5 .- To-night the last efforts were made to talk over the voter of Rhode Island to the beauties of either tariff reform or protection. The epublicans held rallies in this city at Butler exchange and Music hall, the former being attended by Italians, the latter by colored people. Hon. J. F. Barbour of Connecticut addressed 1,200 republicans in Voonsocket, and the republicans in that city had a grand wind up in the shape of large open air meeting. Ex-Speaker eed held the fort at Newport, and at East Greenwich hisses were evoked at a republican rally when General Charles Wilson of this city asked who it was shot down the sons and brothers in the late war and a voice shouted "democrats." Senator Aldrich spoke at the last meeting. Hon. . P. Dolliver of Iowa spoke at Pawtucket or the republicans.
Regarding to-morrow's election politics prophets are somewhat at sea as to the result. The most reliable claim, coming from the workers who are conversant with the details of affairs, is that there will be no election for the state ticket, the democrats will have a slight plurality up on some of the nominees and the legisle ture will be solidly republican in bot branches. The democrats advanced n claim beyond saying that they will electheir state ticket, but they appear very confident. The mutiplicity of new elements enterin into the present contest are so diversified that calculations based upon preceding elections are not regarded with much faith by the leaders of either party. Congressman Turner of New York before leaving remarked: "We democrats take an immense interest in this fight, and I will tall." nense interest in this fight, and I will tel on what we desire. If the democratic tate tickets should secure a plurality of a housand, even though there were no mority election and the legislatu jority election and the legislature should be republican, we in Washington would be thoroughly satisfied and would consider it a big victory. It would show us that this state, despite the active campaign made by the republicans, will be read to be operated by the Reading. cchange. paign made by the reputational vote for specific your doubt throw its electoral vote for specific your doubt throw its electoral vote for specific your pain who is his Cleveland or some man who is his legatee." In view of this fact, which is a neral one among the democrats, some of the republicans think that their state ticket uld have received more frequent attention than has been given it by some of the out-of-town speakers. HAD FIFTREN ALIASES. Murderer Deeming Placed in the Court Yard of the Jail at Melbourne MELBOURNE, April 5 .- Deeming, vife murderer, was placed in the court yard of the jail here to-day with twenty other prisoners. Here he was indentified by fifty-two persons who had known him under fifteen aliases. As he was returning to his cell through the corridors he became wild with rage, and breaking from his guards, rushed at the identifiers and struck one of them a severe blow. He attempted to hit others, but they eluded him, and finally the infuriated man was averyowered by the overpowered by the guards, who dragged him to his cell. It is evident Deeming believes the game has ended for him, and a close watch is kept to prevent him from killing himself.

PASSENGER COMMISSIONS. Railroads in the East and West for of Commissions to Each Other's CHICAGO, April 5.-It has leaked out here that a combination has been forme or is being formed between the Vanderbil and Pennsylvania lines in the east and th Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Chicago and Northwestern and the Atchison, Topeks and Santa Fe in the west by which hese companies agree to discontinue the payment of commissions to each other's agents. The consideration is a division of the interchange passenger business in accordance with an agreement entered into a few weeks ago, and which means the exclusion, so far as possible, of all other lines from participation in this business. Two secret meetings have been held, one in Pittaburg and it is believed the other in New York. The roads that are to be practically boycotted by this arrangement are the Rock Island, the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City and the Grand Trunk, the Erie, the Baltimore and Ohio and connecting lines in the east. There is anothnecting lines in the east. There is another attempt on the part of the Pennsylvania and Vanderbilt systems to do away with the payment of passenger commissions to ticket agents. The roads outside of the

in Ten days. ALBANY, April 5 .- The Eastern league act here this evening. The delegates present included W. W. Burnham, Providence and Dan Shannon, New Haven. Syracuse and Rochester were admitted to membership, making a ten-club circuit for the ensuing season. The representatives of the two cities sought admission without putting up the $1,000 cash guarantee to play through the season. The eight cities—Buffalo, Albany, Troy, Providence, New Haven, Elmira, Binghamton and Philadelphia, already in the circuit — would not hear to this and Syracuse and Rochester produced the money. President White was given power to prepare a new schedule and it will be ready in ten days. Buffalo and Philadelphia

It was to open at It was announced that there would be twenty contestants from this city, Bridge port and Hartford. The first prize was to be a cake weighing fifteen and one-half pounds, and the second a gold headed cane. A small crowd assembled at the advertised time, but no contestants showed up. After waiting a short time they went to the bor office, but found that closed and the man agers had skipped with the money.

Previous to this the cake had been offered to the one who guessed its exact weight. Christian Streit, brother of Officer Streit, Christian Street, prother of Omeer Seren, guessed sixteen pounds, but neither of them got the cake. Nothing at all was seen of the gold headed cane. It is safe to say that an audience composed of people so well versed in musical matters has not called for the remains. The matter was often given such hearty applause as at second number was a largo for violin, organ and piano and was encored. The baritone solo "Che Nina," by William H. Lee, was an excellent feature of the program. Those who are acquainted with his beautiful baritone voice so full of passion and feeling can understand the wonderful attractiveness of his singing. Both the Andante and Polka Caprier for the flute by Mr. Dessauer were much enjoyed by the audience, as also the violis solos of Mr. Troostwyk. Mr. Lee's sesone solos of Mr. Troostwyk. Mr. Lee's second solo, "Evening Star," a song from Wagner's opera of "Tannhaeuser," was encored, to which he responded by that beautiful song of Massenet, "Good Night." The trios for flute, violin and piano were especially arranged by Messrs. Dessauer and Troostwyk, and won the hearty applause of all who were present. the old poles that have been removed from other streets, principally Washington street, and placing them on Center street. Warden Newton explained that the reasen for placing the short poles was to not interfere with the branches of the trees, which would be the case in using the taller poles. The following petition was presented to the board:

To the Court of Burgesses of the Borough of Washingford:

We, the andersigned, freemen of the borough of Washingford; respectfully petition your honorable body to call a special meeting of the borrough for the purpose of considering and adopting such action as shall be deemed wise in relation to a proposition to exempt from taxation by the borough, for a series of years, the property of Backes Brothers by way of inducement for the re-establishment within the borough of their manufacturing business, recently destroyed by fire.

The concert and readings arranged by Miss Hettle Bradley, the popular soprano at the Grand avenue Congregational church, was given to a large and appreciative audience last evening. The singing of J. H. McKniley, the celebrated tenor of the Collegiste Reformed church, New York, and the work of Mrs. McKnley, the soloplanist, was superb. Miss Lulu Cadwell, the whistling soloist, of Westfield, Mass, also delighted her listeners. Miss Minnie Kay and A. Wetherell Draper, elocutionists, gave their selections in a manner that pleased all, while Professor George Robinson, the organist of the church, was at his best. The performers were heartly pleasing. It was a farewell concert to Miss Bradey before leaving the city, and her singing was rapturously applauded and she responded to the encores. She was in good voice and sang beautifully. It was a great musical treat.

At the City Missions.

There was a large attendance at the praise service Sunday evening at the City mission hall. The program presented was department of the City Missionary associ-ation. Mr. L. F. Arnold is chairman of ation. Mr. L. F. Arnold is chairman of this devartment and Mr. A. E. Lines is its secretary. The program included a variety of vocal and instrumental selections, with two flute solos by Mr. J. Stuart Ripley, who came from New York expressly for this occasion. Mr. Ripley is a nephew of Mr. A. E. Lines of Fair Haven and a very fine musician. His solos Sunday evening were entirely appropriate to the occasion and greatly enjoyed by all present. The accuracy of the piano accompaniment of Miss Fannie Potter of New Haven added greatly to the fine effect of the flute solos, which were rendered by Mr. Ripley without notes. The full orchestra was present, with Mrs. R. B. Hughes as leader. The congregational singing was under direction of Mr. Francis Potter of the United church. Rev. Mr. Mossman, the missionchurch. Rev. Mr. Mossman, the mission-ary pastor, conducted the opening services and near the close of the exercises made a orief address. Mr. C. E. Ewing of the Yale seminary offered prayer and con-ducted a short service in "scripture ducted a short service in "scripture praise." An interesting portion in the exercises was the part taken by many of the audience. The hall services this evening will be in the large hall and led by the Christian Endeavor society of the Dwight Place Congregational church. It is expected that there will be special selections in singing, and that Rev. Dr. Twitchell, the pastor of the church, will be present.

SIX HUNDRED CONVERTED Good Results of Mr. Hammond'

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier.

Mr. Hammond spent last Sunday morn-Calvary church and spoke briefly at the Congregational church. Rev. John C. Collins stated that over six hundred have Collins stated that over six hundred have professed conversion during Mr. Hammond's meetings here. Some churches where he has not been have been blessed by the influence of these services. The attention of people has been turned as never before to the subject of child connever before to the subject of child conversion. The work on that subject has been circulated among the divinity students and others. The tracts and booklets have been widely distributed. While some have doubtless been not truly converted, others doubtless have been so, without the confidence to confess it yet. More than twenty ministers have taken part in Mr. Hammond's services and shown sympathy in them. People that look on such meetings only once or twice may have unfavorable impressions. But others, like Rev. Drs. Twitchell and Vall, say: "The meetings grow upon me.

But others, like Rev. Drs. Twitchell and Vail, say: "The meetings grow upon me, and the more I see of them the better I love them." Mr. Hammond in some meetings takes pain to warn against self-deception, and gives the scriptural evidences of a change of heart, urges all to lead lives of prayer and to study God's word daily. If he returns to New Haven again he will find many glad to welcome him. At one of the meetings Dr. Twitchell expressed his special pleasure and gratitude for the regular attendance and assistance of Rev. Dr. Phelps and his son.

HARTFORD'S NEW MAYOR.

William Waldo Hyde, the successful candidate for mayor, is a congenital democrat. That is about all that can be said against him. He is an ducated gentleman of high character, independint judgment and judicial temperament. Every pody has confidence in him and during the entire anways there was no one found to speak disparagingly of him. He is still under forty years of year but few men grand higher in public setzem.

Judge William K. Townsend of New Haven, the new judge of the United States district court, was in Hartford Tuesday and took the oath of office before Clerk E. E. Marvin. He will go there again on Saturday to confer with Judge Nathaniel Shipman about court matters and proceedings. Captain Patrick Farrell, a vetaran of the late war, was formerly of the Hartford postoffice, from which he was thrown out by the Cleveland administration. He then studied law and began its practice is Washington, D. C., isrgely as a claim agent and in the pension line. To day he is building a $10,000 place in Washington, on Columbia Heights.

years, with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured.—Z. C. Warren, Ruland, Vt.

I suffered from a severe cold in my head for months and could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy nown.—Samuel J. Harris, who rocer, 119 Front street, New York. Wallingford, March 30, 1892.
The petition bears the signatures of seventy-six of our prominent citizens. It was voted to all a special borough meeting to authorize the borrowing of $5,500. The appropriation has already been favorably voted on. The matter of the Backes Brothers exemption from taxes will also be acted upon at said meeting. The meeting will be called in town hall aprill it at $p$ m.

Burgess Bartholomew as a committee on the proposed Cherry street sewer made a favorable report on the matter and stated that: Engineer book with the cost at about $500. The reduction of $100 to constructed that it may in the future be completed from Hall areause, where the proposed sewer will end, to a point near the rubber shop. The property assessment would more than cover the expense of construction. It was voted that a special borough meeting be called to vote an appropriation of $700 to construct the proposed sewer from Hall areause to Quinniplac street. The meeting was called for Monday, April II, from $2 to 8 o'clock p. m.

Burgess Baggins brought up the matter of the board of burgesses, which is the board of health, taking some decided action toward stopping the spread of the scariet fever in the borough. The instructed to notify the committee of the board of burgesses of the facts. Warden Newton and Burgess Bartholomew were appointed a committee to attend to such complaints. Water Commissioner Dickerman appeared before the board and stated that it may be a sufferer sthan any other renedy, and will save upon the proposed before the board, and the prospect that the time of dictory, and it would require an appropriation of $1,000 to cover the same of the facts. Higher Prices-Bears Resist the Advance-Coal Stocks Little Affected by the Illegality of the Reading Combination-Richmond and West Point

The stock market to-day opened with a rush for higher prices, owing to encouraging advices from abroad and foreign buying. The advance, out the coverng of shorts and buying for the long account again forced prices upward. The news of the refusal of the governor of New Jeron fell away materially. Reading, while active, was well supported around 55, and Lackawanna The preferred stock dropped 5 per cent, to 55. The effect of these movements upon the rest of the market was comparatively slight, and hile the early advances were in most case intil late in the day, when some concession were made owing to persistent pressure upon
