What Physicians Say.

It is right that the sick and suffering should listen with their very souls to what the medical profession say of any new aid n their great work. No single agency has yet been found that so surely comes with help to the man r woman whose system is so undertoned that they are a prey to all forebodings of evil, as our Compound Oxygen. Dr. C. H. Thomas, at one time assistant chemist at Harvard university, declares that it "quiets the nervous system, inducing rest and sleep," that means health. Dr. R. F. C. Brown of Warren, R. I., says: "I most heartily indorse it. It has been of much assistance to me in my practice."

EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.
One Dollar per Year, (in Advantable Copies 5 cents.) ustained by this great fact, which is seldom questioned, most business men are cossionally a little sharp in their transac tions, and they don't feel obliged to look after the interests of the other fellow in a trade. But occasionally a man is found whose business career and success do not appear to be founded on the approved and time honored principle of looking out for number one without regard to the interests of number two. Such a man was Roswell Smith, president of the Century Publishing company. It is said of him that h really carried Christian principles into his asiness life. He proved that constant dherence to those principles does not nterfere with, but promotes, the highest occess. He practically repudiated the doctrine embodied in the pagan motte Buy in the cheapest market and sell in the dearest." In all his literary dealings he paid, not the least sum that was necessary to secure the wares, but the sum which, in his judgment, fairly represented the author's proportion of the profits. In one instance he voluntarily paid a literary co-laborer two and a half times the price which the author had himself suggested. He carried the same spirit into all dealings with his employes, and so administered his business that they shared with him in its enlarged and enlarging prosperity He trusted to the honor of his subordinates rather than to pains and penalties. One young man, obtaining employment in his office, and asking for the rules, was told there were none. When the young man could know what was expected of him, he received for answer, "Carry out the principles of the New Testament. When you have understood and fulfilled those you may come to me for something more." It is encouraging that Mr. Smith did business in the way he did, and succeeded so amply. But we do not suppose that his example will find many imitators while competition in trade is as fierce as it is now. And if competition should become any less fierce perhaps some other reason for doing business in a business way would be found. THE COAL TRUST. demen who have set out to control and make more profitable the anthracite coal business are having fair luck. As will be remembered, they started the deal very smoothly so far as the dear public was concerned. They announced that their the cost of producing and transporting coal, and to "equalize" the cost to the connumers. If they happened to make a little oney it was to come through increased acilities in handling, the doing away with niddlemen and their profits and the more direct dealing with the consumer. President McLeod said, among other things: "The experience of this very thing in other directions has shown that the people have been greatly benefited by just such consolidations as we are now considering. The combination now controls 92 per cent, of the anthracite coal trade. It has nade some economies, and it has raised the price of coal materially. The extra profit to the combination on account of his action will probably be at least $10,-000,000 a year, and some say $15,000,000. It is a bold performance, and, considering the state of public feeling, a risky one. Local dealers will, of course, be governed by the combination, and they will have to put up their prices. The people are patient and long suffering, but a rise in the price of coal in order that the coal trust may make ten or fifteen millions will cause a general howl, and it ought to. If there is no law that will reach the trusts a law must be made. If they are allowed to go on as they have peen going on lately they will soon take charge of the people from the cradle to the grave, and if the sugar trust, the coal rust, the rubber trust, and other trusts leave anything ungobbled it will be cheerfully taken by the coffin trust and the un dertakers' trust. It is time to strike some telling blows if we would not be enslaved

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Get a move on you," is the order now There will be May flowers, but there have been few April showers. We all can soon have rubies. Miss Mary E. Burt, of Chicago, who ha recently returned from Greece, says that the common school children of Athens are taught ancient and modern Greek, French and sometimes English. They have no school "readers" such as afflict American children, but as soon as they are able to read they are put at once into the classics of their own literature, so that long before they have reached mature years they are familiar with Homer, Xenophon, Herodotus, Pintarch and the dramatists. Instead of eciting nursery rhymes they learn the best myths of Hellenic literature. It is a cheering fact that the adoption o automatic couplers on freight cars, which do away with the great danger incurred by the brakemen under the old methods of coupling, is becoming more general, and in time there will be few of the old and dan gerous cars left. Every year more and more new cars have the patent safety arrangements, and so there is less and less langer to brakemen, with a smaller per cent, of casualties. One big firm of car builders in Pennsylvania say that since 1889 they have built 7,000 freight cars with automatic complers and only 600 with out, and since March, 1891, they have built one without the safety appliances. The London Times the other day contained an advertisement for an assistant 'capable of teaching the classics as far as Homer and Virgil." Among the answers received was the following: Sir: With eference to the advertisement which was inserted in the Times newspaper a few days since respecting a school-assistant, beg to state that I should be happy to fill that situation: but, as most of my friends reside in London, and not knowing how far Homer and Virgil is from town, I beg to state that I should not like to engage to teach the classics farther than Hammersmith or Turnham Green, or, at the very tmost distance, farther than Brentford.

waiting your reply, I am, sir, &c. The Cry of the Dreamer. I am tired of planning and toiling
In the crowded hives of men:
Heart-weary of building and spoiling,
And spoiling and building again.
And I long for the dear old river,
Where I dreamed my youth away,
For a dreamer lives forever,
And a toiler dies in a day.

I am sick of the showy seeming
Of a life that is half a lie;
Of the faces lined with scheming
In the throng that hurries by.
From the sleepless thoughts' endeavor
I would go where the children play;
For a dreamer lives forever,
And a thinker dies in a dsy.

I can feel no pride but pity
For the burd-ns the rich endure;
There is nothing sweet in the city
But the patient lives or the poor.
Oh, the little hands too skillful,
And the child-mind choked with weed
The daughter's heart grown willful,
And the father's heart that bleeds:

No, no: from the street's rude bustle, From trophies of mart and stage, I would fly to the woods' low rustle And the meadow's kindly page. Let me dream as of old by the river, And be loved for the dream alway;
For a dreamer lives forever,

think lying was played out in the Pacific slope press until he encountered the following item: "A couple of weeks ago a Mono county farmer had two thousand barrels of poporn in a barn. The barn caught fire and the air was filled with dense showers o opeorn. This extraordinary exhibition caused an old mare in the adjoining field to think that winter was at hand. So she ay down under three feet of popcorn and roze to death."

"Eureka!" he murmured, "the country safe." Afterward followed, in quick succession, the veritable accounts that during the past week have enlivened the monotony of the county crop reports, and divided the honors of public attention with the grasshopper of the San Joaquin and the San Jose scale. There was the Winters woman, whose turkeys got drunk on brandied cherries thrown out to waste, and who, thinking them dead, placked these misguided birds, as many another boozy bird has been plucked, and was filled with horror some time later to see them, recovered from their spree, walking

During the rebellion which occurred in reland in 1798, or in may be in 1803, Kilkenny was garrisoned by a troop of Hesbarracks by tying two cats together by their tails and throwing them across a clothes line to fight. The officers, hearing of this cruel practice, resolved to stop it. As he entered the room one of the troopers, seizing a sword, cut the tails in two as the animals bung across the line. two as the animals nung across the line. The two cats escaped, minus their tails, through the open window, and when the officer inunired the meaning of the two bleeding tails being left in the room he was coolly told that two cats had been fighting, and had devoured each other all but the tails.

[From the Engineering and Mining Journal.] River Bar Washing.—This work is generally performed by women alone. February is the dryest month of the year, and during it the rivers are very low, and beaches and bars are then exposed which during the rest of the year are covered by two to four feet of water, with a current of five feet per second.

When a good paying bar is found the news travels quickly, and women come from miles around to work it. The only tools used are the bates for washing, cachos for gathering, and almocafre for loosening the gravel. The scene presented is oftentimes very animated. Babies are placed in baskets under the shade of some gigantic pichinde. The older children play about The women too old to work tend the fire and roast plantains for the noonday meal.

Yingling in the meantime had been tearing paper and trying to ignite a match, but it was damp and would only splutter. Benchoff was deriding him when suddenly a great ball of fire illuminated space. Yingling had succeeded in igniting his match and was emptying a roman candle into the tree.

The first ball struck a branch and burst and the second hit the coon "plumb-center." Its fur caught fire, and with a yell it came rolling down among the angry dogs. The third ball revealed two more coons in the tree, and Benchoff's rifed forpoped one, while Yingling, with the last ball in the candle, hit the limb on which the third coon clung with pitiful terror, and it lost its hold and tumbled into the mouths of the waiting dogs.

They got six more coons that night with a club-foot. The taller one was all humilmouths of the waiting dogs.

SITE FOR RAILROAD OFFICES on Columbus Avenue-The N. Y., N. Willimantic-The Poetic Halo Cast About Managers - Nothing New is New England Affairs.

The current mysterious statements apsaring from time to time in the newstween the New England and Consolidated railroads have made every movement on the part of either road seem significant. A dispatch from Willimantic yesterday The recent operations of the Colsolidated

Since purchasing the strip of land from the Windham Manufacturing company which will enable them to turing company which will enable them to extend their tracks to within a few hundred extend their tracks to within a few hundred yards of the present passenger station they have been surveying the land along the New York and New England tracks to the depot. The company's depot privileges have cost them $8,000 from the New England per year, and it is rumored that the company will not only erect a spacious freight depot, but also a passenger station which would make the railroad facilities much less inconvenient than they are at present. and also lessen the chances for a union and their stations in that city. A year and a half ago we bought land ad-joining the tracks of the New England year and a half ago we bought land adjoining the tracks of the New England road down as far as Bridge street. We bought then as much land as we could get. Now we have been able to secure some more land, so that instead of having our junctional station a mile and a half away, out in the country, we can have it now down near the Union depot. We have found some inconvenience in using the Union depot and the track of the New England road, as we have wanted to start trains often when they did. We are not intending to build a freight or passenger depot there now.

assenger depot there now. MANAGERS THOUGHT TO BE CRAFTY SCHEM-The tone of the dispatch in question from Willimantic represents the common feeling that the affairs of railroads are conducted in a secretive manner and that good deal more might be said if it could only be found out. Railroad managers have all they can do to attend to their own

They are usually conceived as scheming for the possession of other roads. This is, however, altogether a romantic atmosphere that is cast about their prosy life, with the endless amount of details that must be seen to. Ninety-nine hundredths of the news about the doings of railroad managers in the Boston and New York papers is fictitious. With all that has appeared in the papers about the New England road, nothing has happened in the last half dozon years except the change of managers which takes place about every year.

THE TRACIC MUSE.

mall Boys Try to Force Their Way Into a Meeting of the Young Men's Dramatic Club -" He Became a 'Bum' by Staying Out Late Nights.' There is a club of amateur performers hat meets at a hall on Union street Sun day nights and gives, by amateur performers, a rehash of the plays that come to Sunnell's by young men anxious "to haress their Pegasus to Melpomene." This lub is known as the Schneiders. For some reason there was a split, and last night under the name of the Young Men's Dramatic club the seceders met in a hall in the Courier building. A dense surging crowd of humanity it was that filled the hall and all approaches thereto. No small boys were allowed admittance. There seemed to be hundreds of them aching to get in and sorely disappointed at being kept out. They kicked and pushed and fought and scolded till all was blue, but to no effect. Inside, the room was crowded with young men and women. The stage manager, who had distinguished him-self from the common spectator by turn-ing up his coat collar, said in mixed Ger-man and English: "Take ous de hat. The first scene is a tramp by a boy Harry Boll-man." This clearly was not Harry's man." This clearly was not Harry's debut, for he was greeted with applause as he came on the stage with a step like Booth's, and adopted Marlande Clark's representation of the dream of the Burgher in "The Bell," to a tramp. His acting had a high moral as well as a high sathetic aim because all this ruin that beful the tramp had been mostly worked, he said by staying out late nights and "worksaid, by staying out late nights and "work ing de growler." The next act was by a "sketch team," a Dutchman and a negro. The jokes were mainly plagiarisms from the shows at Bun-nell's last winter, but the audience had evidently only frequented the Hyperion and Proctor's and so they were new to them.

The reporter had to leave at this stage of the proceedings to answer questions of small specimens of humanity who would blow into the office from time to time in quest of some part of his wearing ap-parei that had been lost in the scrimmage in the hallway in the vain attempt to get admitted to the Shakespearian paradise.

Scofield, the newly appointed pastor, preached an excellent sermon on the Lord's Supper, bringing out the theories of its nature and the occasion of its institution, with several appropriate thoughts on the subject. The text was I Cor., 11:26. After having briefly outlined the theories of its nature he swid: Let us now remember the occasion of its being instituted. It was near the close of the eventful life of our Lord. In the past was Bethlehem with its humble manger; the many interesting events of Nazareth, Bethany and Jerusalem. Before him Gethaemane with its fearful agony, but a few hours off. An ignominious death and a cold grave awaits him in the dim twilight of the coming day.

In the room made ready at Jerusalem he assembled his disciples to partake with them of the last supper. It was the end and also lessen the chances for a union passenger depot, which is so greatly needed in this city. Time will reveal what is to be done, and in the meantime every effort possible will be used to bear upon the movement of a union depot.

Manager Tuttle was seen by a Courier reporter last night, and after reading the above said: The Air Line division has used the tracks of the New England road for a mile and a half above Willimantic and their stations in that city. A vacar and a half ago we bought land adverse the sessembled his disciples to partake with them of the last supper. It was the end of the old dispensation and the beginning of the new. He substitutes this supper for the Passover, as there was no place in the new religion for that old symbolic rite. Christ in person became the true Passover for evermore.

And now I desire to give expression to a few thoughts that should fill our hearts as we gather about this table to-day.

I. How often do we shudder as we think of the great distance we are from God;

think of the great distance we are from God; he seems far away and our wanderings have separated us far from him. Our spirto return. How we feel and lament this weakness! Dear brethren, if this is our condition in no way can we better bring God near to us in all his preciousness and power, in all his love and mercy, than by a proper partaking of this sacrament. Look upon this feast as something provided by and to be directly received from God. God's greatest gift is his son, and to day as God's greatest gift is his son, and to-day as we partake of the elements of his broken body and shed blood our fellowship will be immediately with the father and with his son, Jesus Christ. "He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life." How near we may come to him. "Having, therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest of the blood of Jesus, by this new and living way let us draw near with new and living way, let us draw near with a true heart." Jesus is the perfect mani-festation of God to us, the completest attestation of his word. There is no other way that you can come so near to God, or God come so near to you, as in this way. Think of it! Jesus as son of God brings

God down to us, as son of man he lifts us up to God. In him all things are joined together in one. Heaven and earth meet in cordial embrace. Truly, Christ is the vine, we are the branches, and our father 2. But, again, as we gather around this table to-day how we are reminded of the vital and constant communion of all saints. The great company of believers on earth, and the greater company of the glorified in heaven. What a communion! Beginning with increase. with righteous Abel and extending through the line of prophets, priests and kings to the day of Jesus, when apostles, martyrs and all members of Christ's spiritual body are united in one sweet and everlasting communion. For a time our fellowship with those dear to us may be broken, but we are all one, and the break is but tran-sient, when we shall be with them again in unbroken communion in our father's of this lot next to the lumber yard there and farthest from the Union depot. We have our men now at work on the plans for the building as your paper has already stated.

And, as with thoughts of Calvary we come to God to-day; may we come just as we are. Do not imagine it possible that we can bring anything as a sort of supplement to this feast. God has provided all that is necessary. Nothing that you may bring will add to its beauty or attractiveness. Dearly, beloved, do you not understand! What I mean is, come to-day as the poor unworthy sinner, saved by Jesus' he poor unworthy sinner, saved by Jesus' the poor unworthy sinner, saved by Jesus' blood. From your heart may you say, "Nothing in my hand I bring." No! No! We can bring nothing! and sometimes it seems as if our very presence must pollute the feast. Filled with a crushing sense of our own unworthiness, yet hearing the cordial invitation of Jesus, may we say:

[Installar without one plea

Just as I am, without one plea, But that thy blood was shed for me, An that thou bid'st me come to thee, Oh, Lamb of God! I come, I come.

5. And as we come we may bring an offering to our God.
Not that we can render any equivalent to God.
Nor does God ask any. We honor him most when we freely accept what he freely gives. But still let us bring an offering. Something that will be acceptable to God. Shall it be an offering of gols? We gave that in our contributions, and God has need now for the gold over which be has placed us as stewards, for he wants to bring this estire world to himself, and your gold may help in this noblest work. But there is something more desired by God than gold, which we may bring, and which if we bring it, the gold will surely come, too. What shall our offering be? Let us go to the great apostle for an answer: "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living secrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." Ah, brethren, here is one offering! Will we make it to-day? Perhaps some may say: "I am such a poor and unworthy creature, surely I should not present myself to God; he would not receive me." Are you willing to come to nim as a penitent, forsaking your sins, and trusting in Jesus? Enough! He waits to receive you. Hear him! The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit. A broken and a contrite heart, O God. Thou with not despise.

For thus saith the high and lofty one that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is holy. I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble and to revive the espirit of the humble and to revive the espirit of the malls and post the city of New 5. And as we come we may bring an offer

On a small island just below the city of New York, with open face toward the sea, as if guarding the destiny of the western world, stands the recent gift of France to America, the colosaal statue, "Liberty Enlightening the World." A few month ago, with imposing ceremony, the presentation took place. Wonderful in its magnitude and grand in its beauty, it is worthy its maker and nation and calls forth the gratitude of America.

Silent, like a mighty sentinel, it stands, with one hand pointing to the skies. At night a powerful electric light shoots forth from this hand, and can be seen for miles around, seeming al most to give life to the ponderous form.

But I invite you to a grander sight than this, a sight cheering and life-giving. With the eye of faith only can it be seen. Come, let us view it. On yonder hill, just outside that magnificent city it rises. As the mists of sense and sin melt away you can see it more clearly. It is a cross and on the cross a dying victim. Above it I read, "The Lover of Sinners and the Saviour of Souis." Below surges a raging and maddened crowd, who shout insulting and derisive words at the sufferer. The only answer that he makes is, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do," and then adds, "Come unto me all that are weary and heavy iaonen and I will give you rest." "If any man come unto me I will in no wise cast him out." Old age, furrowed and bent, hearing these words may come and finding it not, may come too, and he will give them rest, and that rest shall be glorious. The vision of the cross will add a nobler purpose to their lives than any other sight could give.

The afflicted and sorrowing may find in him a balm for every wee, and in his presence fully realize that "earth hath no sorrow that heaven cannot heal."

The invitation goes to the end of the earth, and sverywhere humanity, with its varied wants and sufferings, may come and see the dying Christ, who even though he dies, yet still he lives, and is like formal. No over more.

MAY DAY. Ready for Any Disturbance-A Large Arrested in Marsellles-The Bay to Italy Will be Memorable for its Peaceful Character.

Löndon, May 1.-Labor demonstratio were held to-day in most of the large cities of the continent and the variou manufacturing and mining districts. In view of the many outrages perpetrate by anarchists during the past few month and the many threats that have been made to make the day memorable for its disor ders the authorities in all the continents cities adopted stringent precautions to prevent or suppress any outbreak. Thus far advices received here show that in most places the day passed harmlessly, if not quietly. There were assemblies of workmen where speeches of a somewhat inflammatory character were made, but the police were generally on the alert and good order, if it was not absolutely preserved was very easily restored when breaches o

the peace did occur. LARGE GATHERING AT HYDE PARK. London, May 1.-May day was observed a quiet manner. A large procession formed on the Thames embankment and narched to Hyde park, where monste neetings were held. Many speakers ad dressed the crowd. Resolutions were adopted declaring in favor of an eight-hour dayand calling upon parliament to pass an eight-hour bill. There was no disturbance. The Hyde park gathering was the largest demonstration of workingmen ever forganized in this city. The workmen began to assemble on the Thames embankment at 10 o'clock in the morning. Each contingent was headed morning. Each contingent was headed by a band of music and every company of paraders carried banners, while the men he nselves were bedecked with rosette the nselves were bedecked with rosettes and favors. The procession made a bright spectacle and applause was frequent as the toilers marched along in perfect order and military precision. The men occupied nearly three hours in entering Hyde park. The number of persons who took part is variously estimated at from three hundred to five hundred thousand. A large force of mounted and foot police and a contingent of the St. John's Ambulance association were present.

A belt filled with cartridges and several document with cartridges and several documents written in a foreign language, recommending a person whom the police are now tracking, were also found. The police refuse to divulge the name of this individual. It does not appear that any attempt was made to cause an explosion. The bag was taken to an isolated magazine.

Demonstrations were held in Dublin, Manchetter Glassow and most of the leave Manchester, Glasgow and most of the large towns of Great Britain and Ireland. They were modelled after the Hyde park meet-ing, but on a smaller scale. They were attended with no disturbance.

NO DISTURBANCES IN FRANCE. PARIS, May 1.-May day was ushered in with the police on the qui vive and the strongly reinforced garrison of Paris ready for any emergency. Hitherto on May day it has been customary for the workingmen to march to the chamber of deputies and present petitions. Delegates were also sent to the Hotel de Ville for the same purpose. This year, however, the day falling on Sunday the workingmen were debarred from following the usual custom. At an early hour the processionists began to form for their march to the salle favie Only 3,000 men took part in the process

It was feared that at Fourmiesc in the department of the north, which was last year the scene of fatal rioting, there would to-day be further troubles with the workingmen who would seek to avenge the death of their fourteen comrades of last year. There was, however, no trouble, although the socialists, of whom there are very many in the town, held a monster meeting.

The first authentic report of a May day dynamite outrage has been received from Tours. Early this morning a bomb exploded near the Guise barracks. The noise of the explosion was terrific and at first erroneously supposed that the anarchists had attempted to blow up the national powder works. The populace were for a time greatly alarmed. Soldiers at once ran to the spot where the explosion had occurred and found a man lying senseless in a pool of blood. One of his hands had been blown off and he was otherwise bedly injured. badly injured. No doubt is entertained that he is the victim of his own crime. The presence of the Prince of Wales in this city to-day had a great effect in allaying anxiety. The prince had expressed a desire to remain quiet, but when it was represented to him that the knowledge of his presence in the city would have a beneficial effect he assented to let himself be seen in public. He paid a visit to Presi-dent Carnot and the latter returned the visit. The prince and princess start for London to morrow. Only a few more shops than usual were closed here to day. RIOTERS ARRESTED

A large congregation heard mass at St. Peter's this morning. King Humbert at the accustomed hour set forth on his usual daily drive through the streets. He met with a continuous ovation from the populace. Many indoor lectures and meetings marked the day, but those in attendance were orderly. During the evening a rainstorm cleared the streets. In Milan and other places the bulk of the inhabitants regarded socialistic demonstrations with indifference.

At Bologna and Ravenna persistent attempts made to hold out-door labor meetings led to scuffles with the police. At Bologna a detachment of cavalry cleared the streets. NO DISORDER IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, May 1.-No reports of disorder have been received. The social democrats in various places held meetings at which the question of an eight-hour day was disussed. The proceedings were orderly. In Vienna an orderly procession, number-ing ten thousand workingmen, marched to the Prater. The military were held in readliness to suppress disorders, but were not called upon.

BUDA PEST, May 1.—In spite of the po-lice prohibition the workingmen of this city gathered at thirty-two different cen-ters to-day and marched in procession to Mussdorfer park to celebrate the day. What Will be Discussed in the Hou and Senate This Week-The Bill for the Protection of Aliens—An Early Adjournment Desired by the Majority of the House-Appropriation Bills to be Quickly Disposed of.

WASHINGTON, May 1 .- Notwithstanding he time lost in adjournments from Thurs day or Friday of each week until the fol lowing Monday, the senate is disposing of usiness with a rapidity that is in marked contrast with the affairs in the house But two of the regular appropriation bills which passed the latter body remain to be acted upon by the senate. The resoultion in relation to the Choctaw claims may be further debated in the senate to-morrow. When it is out of the way the bill for the protection of aliens will be taken up. The discussion under this head will doubtless touch upon the killing of the Italians at New Orleans and will involve free expression of opinion upon the proper definition of the functions of national and state governments. As the session begins to lengthen the desire of friends of particular measures to advance bills committed to their charge is becoming more marked. These measures are the Bryan free binding twine bill, the Hatch anti-options bill, the sundry civil appropriation bill, in charge of Mr. Holman, and the river and harbor appropriation bill, in charge of Mr. Blanchard. Mr. Bryan's bill has been on the calendar the longest.

one or two more days' consideration and then may come a struggle for precedence between the sundry civil and the river and harbor appropriation bills. ### AN ENGINEER'S EXPERIENCE.

Another Very Striking Case. from a Severe Case of Malaria, Kidney Irritation, Rheumatism and Catarrh, With Deafness and Head nches, After Being Treated On Month with Dr. Roth's Well-Known Treatment.

"When I called on Dr. Roth I was discouraged, for I had suffered a great deal and had begun to give up all hope of being myssif again," said Mr. S. S. Spencer, who lives at 24 Leonard street, New Haven, Coun., and has been engineer for the well-known firm of Strong, Barnes & Hart for the past eighteen years. Mr. Spencer is an old resident and native of New Haven, and his testimony can be relied on. Continuing, he said: "I was all played out."

I HAD SEVERE PAINS

"There was a soreness of the eyeballs and a constant dull headache. My sleep was very restless, and I was troubled with bad dreams. I felt very despondent and gloomy. There was a great deal of pain and irritation of the kidneys. I would take cold very easily. I would hawk and spit a great deal and the phlegm would run down and stick in my throat, and it was hard to get rid of it. MR. S. S. SPENCER, 21 Leonard Street I HAD WHISTLING NOISES IN THE EARS.

and the deafness in my left ear had been quite large for the past eight years.

"Under Dr. Roth's treatment I improved at once; my deafness got better; no more pains; I sleep well. In fact, feel made over, and I must say Dr. Roth's treatment is a success, and advise others to try it."

Mr. Spencer lives at 24 Leonard street in this city, and this statement can be readily verified. MR. JOHN J. GILLESPIE, a well known railroad man, has lived at Woodmont, Conn., for 10 years; had bad time with catarrh; nose and throat would fill up; would hawk and gag and would blow large pieces from nose that znelled bad; ringing and buzzing in the ears; pain over eyes, under shoulder blades and acroes back; would take coid easily. I improved at once, says Mr. Gillespie, under Dr. Roth's treatment.

JOHN J. HYLAND of 91 Chapel street, a bras noulder by trade, had asthma, bronchitis and moulder by trade, had asthma, bronchitis and dyspepsia; had to give up work two years ago; had terible cough, could not sleep without sitting up; attacks of asthma severe; short breath; pains all over body; no smell or taste; terrible sneezing and headaches; no appetite; tried a dozen doctors; no relief; under Dr. Roth's treatment he gets well.

Dr. Edward Roth, the Specialist who brought about the above result, is a gradu ated physician of Bellevue Hospital Medical College, also a graduated druggist and chemist of the New York College of Pharmacy, and prepares all his own medicines from selected drugs, of which he is from experience a judge. His charges in every case are reasonable. He is located permanently at 87 Church street, opposite the poatoffice, where he cures catarrh, as well as all diseases of the nose, throat, lungs, stomach, heart, liver, kidneys, skin and nervous diseases, rheumatism, asthma, bronchitis, consumptien, dyspepsia and deafness. dyspepsia and deafness.

Since the Peck case has been in the courts State Attorney Doolittle has investigated the matter thorough y and satisfied himself that Lane had no connection with the cases of theft, and on Saturday, when Officer Reilly, acting under the orders of the Meriden court officials, called upon him to learn if Peck could go to Meriden as a witness against Lane, the state attorney refused to allow Peck to go and stated that if the case was brought to New Haven he should nolls the same and if necessary he would go to Meriden for the same pu pose. Grand Juror Mueller stated when he discharged the accused that he was satisfied that the young man had nothing to do with the case.

Murphy to Coach the Mott Haves Team-The Candidates Promising. The Mott Haven team is working hard laily under the direction of Captain Wright and Trainer Dole, and a promising lot of candidates is the result. Murphy, trainer of the Detroit A. C., and brother of W. H. Murphy, captain of the Yale baseball team, is expected to be here this week and will probably devote the most of his attention to the runner Mr. Murphy was formerly the Yale athletic trainer, but accepted a flattering position as trainer of the Detroit A. C. Although a good trainer in other lines, he is especially good in the coaching of sprinters. He coached the Yale team which won the Mott Haven cup in 1888. To him is due the success of Sherrill '69, the famous the success of Sherrill '69, the famous sprinter, as he discovered the good qualities latent in him and brought them out to the best advantage. He is considered one of the best trainers in the country and the list of men he has brought out and developed is very large. DEDICATION OF A SYNAGOGUE. Russian Hebrews Trying an Interesting Experiment at Chesterfield-Rev

Dr. Kleeberg of New Haven Will be One of the Speakers. New London, April 30.-There will b an interesting dedication on Sunday, May 8, at Chesterfield, some six miles inlanfrom here on the Colchester turnpike.

Chesterfield is only a cluster of farms rambling over the hills and vales for s mile or two from the postoffice, which serves as its center. As in many other New England agricultural districts most of these farms had been deserted. The young men had left their homes, to seek more remunerative returns in other pur-

Chavim Pankin, a Russian Hebrew bought one of these farms. He sent for his family of twelve. They came on from Kiev, Russia, and early last year they had settled in their new abode. Others followed, and thus began the first settle-ment of a Russian colony, which has not been an expense to the Baron Hirsch fund.
The community, now consisting of 519 individuals, has been self-sustaining from the outset and bids fair to achieve substantial ial prosperity.

On Sunday week the dedication of the synagogue for this community will take place. The amount necessary for the erec-tion and furnishing of this edifice was raised by subscription, mainly contributed in this city, through the efforts of M. Tuska, one of the Baron Hirsch fund trustees. The synagogue stands on a knoll not far from the postoffice. In the rear of it an acre of ground has been set aside for a cenerary.

New Trains.

Two new trains are to be put on to-day between New York and Boston. At present the express trains leaving New York and Boston at 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. are so results of the strict of the said:

"What is a church? Is it a building, a society? Is it the kingdom of God? Is it God or his agent? 'Body of Christ' it was called once. Is it Christianity? Is it anything identical with salvation?

"A man who puts his hand behind him and looks right over his neighbor's head or into the pit of his stomach might just as well steal his pocketbook. A woman who will not know other women has sinned as surely against the hopes of her sex self in it is to defeat that very winning purpose for which that charm was given.

"Now a church is men in society, men in rank and company, men in acquaintance, men in solidarity. It is not to interfere with the reserve rights, with the lonely hours, with the closet worship of a human soul, but it is not itself the place for the exercise of any of these privileges. It is organized to bring young men together, to bunch their interests and their gether, to bunch their interests and their prayers and if men and women stand on ceremony of acquaintanceship, or refuse ceremony of acquaintanceship, or refuse acquaintanceship, they defeat its purpose in the very beginning. You know it breaks my heart, you know it injures the church for you to act this way, but you still persist in saying that if anybody wants to keep to themselves it is their privilege. It is sometimes right for you to be alone and reserved, but the church is never the place for it. What is a church? It is an organization in obedience to those high plans of God which can only be executed by the race in solidarity.

God which can only be executed by the race in solidarity.

"The boundary on the hither side is far less clear; faults must be overlooked by all. Unfortunately all the men who are doing just right are outside the church just now and the church carries men and women whose immoralities, whose over-reachings, whose gossipings pass far be-yond the mark of faults. If the evidence yond the mark of faults. If the evidence was straightforward and plain, if it would not gratify the conceit of worse people more than it would gratify the justice of better ones, they would be dealt with publicly by the visible church. As it is we believe it the part of wisdom to leave them to their invisible master, knowing that both they and their pharisaical critice are surely passing onward to a judge who cannot err. Reduce the membership of the church to Jesus Christ himself. Expel from it every man whom anybody thinks church to Jesus Christ himself. Expel from it every man whom anybody thinks is not fit to be a Christian and the people who are outside the church will be outside who are outside the church will be outside still. They would have an excuse for not pulling with Jesus himself.

"I repeat, the day will never come again when it will ever be asserted in theory that the church is identical with Chris-tianity, for history does not repeat itself in exact circles, but the day surely draws nearer when the church shall be practical-ly identified with the kingdom of God." Well! Well! And Rochester was said to be the strongest club in the league.

Manager Mutrie has signed Tommy Esterbrook for his Elmira team, and he didn't have to carry Tommy off to Bermuda to do it—not this time.

E. Harry Decker, who did more to ruin baseball in this city than any other man, is reported as having died in Fiorida in February.

The Troy club of the Eastern league is trying to sign the Union college battery, Sullivan and Lavery.

President White has sent out an official notice to the effect that no manager in the Eastern league shall contract with a player. According to the rules of the legue all players must by signed by the president, and then allotted to the clubs which are in need of players.

Catcher Cahill's Louisville's friends were greative discounted over his release. They claim that he is too valuable a man for the club to do without.

The home team is due to win again this afternoon.

"Jim" Donnelly's work at third Saturday was the feature of the game. Nothing the matter with his arm this year.

Manager Watkins has changed his tune since Friday. Then he claimed his team would take both games. Now he says he don't believe his team will win one.

"Big Lew" Schoenick's batting in Saturday's game was timely, but his fielding was way off. The local team is out for the pennant, and Manager Watkins of Rochester is of the opinion that it will come pretry near winning it.

The batteries this afternoon will probably be Darnbrough and McKeough for Rochester and Gruber or Cassian and Wells for the home team. A large number of the patrons of the game are protesting against calling the games at 4 o'clock, claiming it is too late when the games are finished. Saturday a number left the grounds before the game was finished and said they could not spend the whole evening at a ball game and further that they would stay at home unless the games were commenced earlier. The management might look after this complaint with profit to themselves.

The next special musical service will be held on Sunday evening, May 15, instead of the first Sunday, as heretofore, and on this occasion the anthem will be Saint-Sen's "The Heavens Declare," one of the most masterly works of this composer.
