Epps's Cocoa. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govers the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cooos, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately havored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicieus use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished trame."—Civil Service Gazette.

The Bridgeport Boiler Works, Bridgeport, Conn., have lately received an order for one of their one hundred horse power Lowe Boilers with all improvements, from a large concern who had put in one of these boilers of seventy-five horse power has a concern the had put in one of these boilers of seventy-five horse power one of the best expert power and employed one of the best expert of one of tagainst the records of its several public and other expert tests, and also to ascertain the facts in regard to any derogatory statements against it before adopting it exclusively, and found their test, and boiler, exceeded the previous records, and the best results ever obtained and the derogatory statements false. Therefore they adopted the Lowe Boiler with all improvements and replaced their two kinds of leading Water Tube Boilers with two seventy-two inch Lowe Boilers and now order the fourth boiler as above, after several years' experience with the first. The first Lowe Boiler made has done over twenty-four years' work without any cost for repairs, and is still in use under the presure it started with and carries as good an inspector's certificate. Hundreds of Lowe boilers have as good a pro rata record. The users have from one to tor's certificate. Hundreds of Lowers have from as good a pro rata record. The users have from one to thirty of these boilers, and from one to twenty-four years' experience, with fewer cases of unsatisfactory results from causes over which

In view of what Woman has managed lo lately it seems a little late to say that she is "only a woman" so far as her brain

a concerned. But Sir James Crichton

Browne has something to say concerning this which is well worth attention. He was for many years at the head of a large luna-

being made for the comparative poverty

of female blood in corpuscles-yet that the arteries, that is to say, supplying the anterior portions of the brain, the seat of the intellect, are larger in the male, while those which supply the posterio

portions, the seat of the emotions

and the passions, are larger in the female.

He concludes that the male and female brain are organs broadly distinguished from each other, and inferentially, adapted to different kinds of work. And he be lieves that the acquisition of a masculine education by young women is as a rule attended by serious drawbacks, the work actually involving grave dangers to health, both prospective and immediate. He adduces the results of his inquiries as to the physical condition of the pupils at a school whose aim was to offer girls a course of instruc tion substantially indentical with that of a high-grade school for boys. It seems that out of 187 girls belonging to the middle and upper classes, well fed and clad and cared for, and ranging from ten to seven teen years of age, as many as 137 com-plained of headaches.

Those who are advocating irrigation to reclaim some of the barren lands of the West can find much encouragement in the reports that come from the great desert region of northern Africa. A Charleston judge desides that soap is a medicine within the neaning of the Sunday law. That law dates and committees of detailed accounts permits the sale of drugs and medicines of all money received and expended. Any on Sunday. The keeper of a drug store was arraigned for selling a cake of soap. He was discharged by the court on the ground that soap was a medicine, and therefore its sale on Sunday was lawful. similar sworn accounts. In addition to Here is the reasoning of Judge Pringle: giving the amount received, the name of It can hardly be thought ridiculous to say that under certain circumstances a cake of soap may be regarded as a medicine. There are certain kinds of soap which are as distinctly and absolutely medicinal as it is possible for anything to be. Not to mention others, the world-renowned carbolic acid soap and cuticura soap are as much medicinal as calomel or castor oil. And it has been said by very high and reverend authority that cleanliness is next to godliness. So that to fine a man for selling an article which is so conducive to that clean-

A recent work by the distinguished French medical authority, M.L. Landouzy on the ravages of tuberculosis is attracting sworn returns. The courts are given full much attention in the literary and scientific equity powers to compel the filing of circles of Paris. Dr. Landouzy, who is a member of the Academy of Medicine and tion of defective returns, on petition of a a professor in the Laennec hospital, believes that this insidious disease is one of the most potent agents in the depopulation of the country that is the cause of so much anxiety. He says: "It is worth while proclaiming far and wide that in France hardly anything is attempted to put men on their guard against tuberculosis contagion, that everything yet remains to be done, and that in the matter of tuberculosis preven tion veterinary science is further advanced than the science of medicine as applied to men. It must be frank State. If we ever have a legislature that ly owned that tuberculosis is conta gious, but it should be clearly stated why and how the contagion spreads. The public should be as well informed in the matter of consumption as it already is as to scarlet fever, typhoid fever, or hydrophobia. . . . To hereditary tuberculosis, so interesting for the specialists, must be assigned only a small portion of the tuberculosis which decimates babyhood. But what is the use of saying this if nothing is done to avoid contagion! Babies, in particular, should be carefully isolated from all chance of contagion." Two thousand children less than two years old die annual-Randouzy maintains may be controlled if not conquered, by sanitary regulation and a rigid system of quarantine, which,

Once in Persia reigned a king Who upon his signet ring Graved a maxim true and wise, Which, if held before his eyes, Gave him counsel, at a glance, Fit for every change and chance, Solemn words, and these are they: "Even this shall pass away." Trains of camels through the sand Brought him gems from Samarcand; Fleets of galleys through the seas Brought him pearls to match with these But he counted not as gain Treasures of the mine or main; "What is wealth!" the king would say, "Even this shall pass away." In the revels of his court,
At the zenith of his sport,
When the palms of all his guests
Burned with clapping at his jests,
He, amid his figs and wine,

Polsonous Waste in the Body. [From the Popular Science Monthly.] In fever the tissue rapidly wastes, and great quantities of waste poison are poured into the blood. These poisons affect the nerves, and are the cause of quickened respiration, and often of quickened circulation, which are necessary in order to get the excess of poison oxidized; when, therefore, unconsciousness supervenes, we may say pretty confidently that the rapid circulation and the rapid breathing have not been sufficient to oxidize and neutralize the mass of poison which is being carried to the brain. So, again, in pneumo nia the quickened breathing shows both the effort of nature to make up for the loss of that part of the lung which is ineffective, and also the stimulus which the effective, and also the stimulus which the increased waste poison in the body (increased owing to diminished lung capacity, and therefore diminished oxygen) exerts upon the respiratory machinery. So, again, when less blood is carried to the lungs, owing to the artery which leads from the heart to the lungs being partially blocked with a clot, the same effect is produced. Probably a somewhat similar condition arises after hard work, either in old age or in a feeble state of health. The tissue, not being in the firm condition of tissue, not being in the firm condition of the tissue of a vigorous person accus-tomed to daily work, breaks down in large quantities, while at the same time the circulatory and respiratory machinery are no longer at their best, and therefore the oxi-dation is imperfect. On the next day the infirmed man is poisoned by the unusual quantity of waste in the system, and feels quantity of waste in the system, and feels discomfort in many parts of his body or limbs. So, also, the discomfort acutely felt by some persons during east winds probably arises from the poison that ought to have been got rid of by the skin, but owing to the closing of the pores, has been thrown back into the system.

DON'T MARRY AT SEA. Ceremonie Performed by Sea Captains Illegal. [From the San Francisco Call.] "The silly ninnies who run off to sea in ugboats to be married will some day be brought to grief in a way they least expect," was the remark made by a prominent lawyer yesterday, who was discuss ing with a friend the question of the legality of such marriages. "Under the laws of this state," he added, "such marriages are not recognized as valid. Unless the parties have a marriage license in due form and the ceremony is performed by a regular preacher of the gospel, or by some civil magistrate authorized by the law to solemnize marrisges, the contract is no good.

The people who live together after being married by the captain of a vessel are simply concubines, and the issue of such alliances are illegitimate. If either of the parties were to marry in a regular way some other affinity neither could be convicted of bigamy."

An old sea captain was asked what he thought about the matter. He replied that while it has been a practice from time immemorial for captains to assume the right to marry couples at sea, he was fully convinced that no such authority had ever been conferred upon sea captains, still less upon navigators of steam tugs and other coastwise sailing craft.

The question is being agitated of passing a federal or state law imposing severe ing a federal or state law imposing severe penalties upon masters of tugboat, yachts and other vessels attempting to solemnize shore or any other distance Pure Air and the Functions of Life. [From th Popular Science Monthly.] Exercise, as well as pure sir, helps us in our constant struggle against the poison that we manufacture within ourselves. It does this by driving the blood charged with oxygen, by means of the pressure of the muscles called into play, more thoroughly through the tissue; and thus it would quicken the breaking down of dead dissue into its safe and final waste prolucts (water, carbonic acid, and urea), and horten the period during which the dead sene was passing through various dangerous forms which it temporarily assumes. From this fact we may infer that the man of sedentary life, above all others, equires pure sir.

In truth, pure air and exercise are equal forces acting in the same direction. They both get rid of waste, and with it of the poisons in the system which are depressing various organs. We need not, therefore, be surprised when we are told by Sir John D. Galton that after barracks were better ventilated that the rations of the men had to be increased; or by "the ramen had to be increased; or by "the pa-thetic story" of certain seamstresses whose work room was ventilated, and who then begged that the old state of things might begged that the old state of things migut be restored, as their appetites had increased beyond their earnings. Sir D. Galton gives another experience, illustrating the depressive effect of these poisons upon the functions of life. A New York medical man rather cruelly shut up some flies with-out food, some in foul air, others in pure air; the pure air being constantly changed To his surprise, the flies in the pure sir died first, these dying from simple starvation; while the flies in the foul air died from poison, and with the tissue of their bodies unexhausted, indicating how the functions of life were carried on to the last where oxygen was available, but had been slowed and depressed by the presence of the poifon, so that life was actually maintained longer in the foul than in the nurs air.

Feathered Novelties in the Parks of San Francisco. [From the San Francisco Chronicle.] In default of the completion of the new lake in Golden Gate Park and the consequent dearth of real good fish stories the air and water fowl are doing their best to supply the deficiency. The latest yarn current is one that puts the laugh on the park commissioners in a very funny way. It is said that a letter came from Sacramento setting forth the charms of a beautiful blue swan, and so persuasively was it worded that the commissioners met the owner half way and purchased the bird. Then came the sequel. The blue swan was turned loose in the duck pond inclo ure near the Haight street entrance to the park, and was the cynosure of all eyes, the envy of all the feathered tribe therein as-sembled. But when the beautiful blue swan took to the water its azure hues wer more.

A RARE WORK OF ART Be Exhibited in a Most Worthy Cause, the Ladies' Seamen's Friend Society, at United Church Chapel This Week-A Splendid Picture-Mr. Fellowes also to Contribute Picture for the Grant Monument

Mr. F. Wayland Fellowes gave a private view yesterday to a number of invited guests of his new and splendid picture, entitled; "The Postillion; or An Admiring Sweetheart in Every Block." This is one of the masterpleces of this conscientious, painstaking and gifted artist, and well sustains the high reputation he has won in previous efforts. Mr. Fellowes has devoted all his spare time for several months to this beautiful painting. It depicts a scene in a Bavarian city, representing a government postillion riding on his mail cart, one hand holding the reins, while with the other he has just taken from his lips his postillion's horn, and he is gasing upward to note the effect of his blast, in bringing to the window some fair face that has touched his fancy. Our postillion is a gallant—that is easy to observe—and is a handsome fellow, a blond, with bold and a handsome fellow, a blond, with bold and curling moustache and a face that impresses the fair sex very favorably. He is dressed in the regulation uniform of the postillion—white trousers, red vest, blue coat, black beaver hat surmounted by an erect long plume of blue and white. The whole figure stands out clear and distinct without the aid of strong outlines of demarcation. Behind in the background extends the city street lined on each side by the old-time public buildings, old houses such as are seen in the Bavarian cities. The whole effect is very fine and the sky and atmosphere effects are most happily blended. The picture will certainly be Attractive to the Ladies. In its brilliant but carefully subdued and harmonized coloring, in the sunny, nandsome face of the postillion, the picure cannot fail to attract the popular eye. Mr. Fellowe's pictures have usually been of a grave and serious cast, but this one is all sunshine. The face of the postillion is in a double light, the one side a reflected light, the other the direct light. The shadowing of the face is perfect. It is softened and transparent, a difficult effect to produce in painting. The plume on the leather hat gives to the picture a dash that is extremely effective. Of course the whole picture is whole picture is

The postillion's head seems to be an immense distance from the far away sky of the upper background. The horn, which shows in its delineation very decidedly the work of the master artist, rests gracefully and naturally in the hand. That, too, does not rest against the coat, but stands out distinctly from the vesture in the back-In finish and in detail Mr. Fellowes

The buttonholes of the coat are worn and threadbare. The picture was recently exhibited at the Century club in New York by Mr. Fellowes. It attracted most favorable no tice there and among many passing commendations were

"How that scene carries me back to m rambles in Bavaria!" A distinguished New York critic says: "The pose and detail are certainly artistic in the extreme and the coloring most harmonious." It is a view of the sea as seen in a hazy morning such as are often seen in June. No trees or cliffs break into the evenness and solitude of the seashore. In the morning Hon. William C. Case and William H. Ely conducted the case vancing Phillips to second. Powers was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. McGlone, the next man, made the hit above referred to, on which all three came home and McGlone reaching second. McCaffrey and Clarkson were then easily disposed of. It was a pitchers' battle for three innings, but in the fourth New Haven had Clarkson's curves and batted out four runs. From this on New Haven had things all her own way. Troy added one more to her score in the ninth on errors by Hlansfield and Shannon.

The game abounded in brilliant plays. Donnelly's record on third has not been equalled in this or any other city this season. He had nine chances and accepted all of them. lew mayen narror.

Miss Fanny Fern Falk, a recent graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory, has returned to er home, No. 454 Eim street. Miss Falk, during the past season in the city of Boston, achieved Lady Macbeth and Juliet, and also in comedy.

Dr. Leslie R. Keeley, the discoverer of the cure for drunkenness, arrived in this city at noon yesterday. In company with Dr. Keeley were the following gentlemen: Major Samuel E. Moore of Pittaburg, Pa. Dr. Tonner of the Oak Crest institute and formerly of the United States marine hospital corps, Mr. Persons, superintendent of the White Plains institute, Mr. Dodd, Dr. Vandenburg, medical superintendent of New York state, and Colonel Nate A Reid of Chicago, a brother of Opie P.Reid. The party came from New York on the 12 o'clock express, was met at the depot by the managers of the West Haven institute and driven directly to Savin Rock. On Wednesday morning Dr. Keeley sails for Europe to establish gold cure depots there.

Alderman Frank H. Chatfield of this city, state gold cure depots there.

Alderman Frank H. Chatfield of this city, state organizer for the Order of the World, was in town yesterday. For the past year Mr. Chatfield has been hard at work organizing for this order and has met with remarkable success, having secured a strong lodge composed of representative men in each place visited by him. The May number of the Fraternal News, published in Hartford, has an entire page devoted to the interests of the order, also a very complimentary sketch of the work accomplished by the organizer, together with an excellent likeness. At the present time Mr. Chatfield is at work in Hartford, where he will soon have a lodge of over fifty. He returns to the Capitol city to-day, having taken a few days' vacation to welcome home his family, who have lately returned from Nassau, Bahamas, after an absence of six months.

Entertainments. The Dessauer Opera company will perform the on for the benefit of Grace hospital. There will b a new "Mikado," which will be rendered by Mr Joseph C. Criddle. With this exception the cas sentations. On Friday night of this week the company will appear at the Broadway theater, Norwich, and it is just possible that the citizens of Middletown will have the pleasure of hearing it on June 2, as negotiations to that end are being considered by Mr. Wall. On the 20th of this month the new opera house will be opened in that city by the Choral Union society, to be followed by Miss Justine Ingersoll's organization. Seats will be on sale at Steinert's all day and at night at the Hyperion.

"Miss Helyett," a musical comedy, will be played Saturday evening, May 21. The music is by the noted comic opera composer, Edmond Audran. The text is by David Belasco, daspted from the French.

Gilmore's band comes May 20. The Schneeloch sisters, the fatmous vocalists of this city, will participate in the concert. sentations. On Friday night of this week th

PROCTOR'S OPERA HOUSE. The musical skit "Love on Wheels" received ts first presentation in New Haven at Proctor last evening. A fairly good audience was pres ent. The play abounds in songs, dar laughable situations. Little can be said of the laughable situations. Little can be said of the plot, as it is just sufficient to bind together harmoniously the many specialties. The engagement continues to-night and to-morrow night, with a Wednesday matinee.

FOREFAUGH'S SHOWS.

The Fall of Nineveh will be an integral component part of the Adam Forepaugh shows upon its visit here on June 1. True it is that small, inferior imitations of the great Particle works have rior imitations of the great Rettig's works have pefore, but this will be the first opportunity t before, but this will be the first opportunity to behold an original, genuine spectacular display by Rettig in all its tremendous dimensions and fairly overwhelming grandeur and splendor. It will truly mark an epoch in the history of local amusements in this city. All the great features and long list of novelties. Among them are the famous Vaidis twin sisters, in their sensational performance upon a double revolving flying trapeze, and a genuine Moorish circus company of thirty-five people, secured for this season for the Adam Forep nugh shows, will be presented entire and unabridged, and together with the Fall of Nineveh will doubtless attract the greatest throng of people to the city that has ever been brought out by a public amusement event.

"Unchi," the Australian with the wonderful head of hair, "Jo-Jo," the Prussian dog-faced boy, and the Howard Durant musical family are the attractions at this place for this week. An unusually strong bill is offered throughout the whole entertainment.

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING

the King's Sons and King's Daughters Held at the First Hap tist Church-Addresses Made-Officers Elected. The third annual meeting of the King's Sons and King's Daughters of New Haven was held last evening at the First Baptist church. A very interesting address was made by Mrs. Seymour, the retiring president, reviewing the work of the past year and giving some useful hints and sug gestions in regard to the general organized work gestions in regard to the general organized work. The state secretary, Mrs. Tracy Peck, reported that between $500 and $700 was realized from the bazar held at the armory for the furnishing and maintenance of the children's ward in the Grace hospital. A condensed report of the work done in this city for charitable purposes by the fifty circles of New Haven was also read. All the charitable organizations of the city have been aided by them. aided by them.

The address of the evening was made by Mrs.
Mary Lowe Dickinson of the central council is New York, who is also a writer of considerable note.

After her address the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Judge Morrow had shaken off Pessara and Raceland, while Longstreet was gradually falling back to the stragglers.

At the last furlong post Russell still had his head in front of Judge Morrow, but Covington's horse was running well within himself, while Russell was laboring hard and receiving punishment. Covington saved considerable ground by hugging the inner rail while making the turn into the homestretch, and when he breasted Russell shortly before reaching the last furlong post, which marked the end of a mile and a furlong, Russell threw back his ears in cowardly fashion and refused to run further. Covington, seeing that he had the race at his mercy, became over-confident and began easing up on the Judge. This performance nearly cost him the race, as Taral, on Pessara, who had been unable to get through the bunch before, came up with a tremendous burst of speed under the most vigorous kind of riding. Covington turned in his saddle and discovered his danger just in time to prevent Taral from stealing the race.

PROVIDENCE, May 16 .- The game or Lincoln field this afternoon between Brown and Yale was easily won by the Brown nine by the score of 7 to 2. The game was one-sided, uninteresting, and the victory, contrary to all previous college games aroused no excitement on the part of the students. The honor of the victory is due almost wholly to Sexton, who pitched a great game. He struck out ten men, allowed but two their base on called balls and Murphy's single in the third was the only hit made by Yale in the nine innings. On the other hand the home team batted Wyckoff freely and were able to hit the ball at the right time. The score.

A NEW TRIAL ORDERED in the Celebrated Hillmon Life Insur

WASHINGTON, May 16. - The Mutual Life, New York Life and Connecticut Life insurance companies to-day succeeded in securing an order from the supreme cour for a new trial in the somewhat celebrated Hillmon life insurance case.

This is a case of alleged attempt to swindle the insurance companies out of a large amount of money by palming off the body of one man for that of another man on whose life there were large policies. Hillmon had policies aggregating $25,000 on his life in the three companies named and when his death was announced not a great while after the issuance of the policies the companies became suspicious of fraud and refused to pay the amount of the policies to Sallie E. Hillmon. Death, it was asserted, resulted through an accident at Crooked Creek, Kan. After the coroner's inquest the insurance an accident at Crooked Creek, Kan. After the coroner's inquest the insurance companies succeeded in having the body exhumed and contested the suit brought by Mrs. Hillom, setting up the claim that the body was that of a man named Walters. Photographs were submitted to the court of Hillmon and of the corpse. The lower court gave judgment for Mrs. Hillmon and this judgment was to-day reversed on the ground of errors at the trial, particularly the exclusion of certain evi-

H., Hallowell, Waterville, Clark's Mills and Westerly, R. I. In many places the feeling among the granite cutters is that the present state of affairs will not last longer than the present week, but thus far neither manufacturers nor employees are disposed to make any concession whatever. Some firms that have government contracts are permitted to keep part of their men at work. Miss Reynolds changed her selection in the second part and gave in its place "The Flower Scene." from "Ingomar." This talented young elocutionist made a very favorable impression, and showed that she is a student in her profession.

Professor Parsons played in his own artistic manner a selection from Lisat, and also two pieces of his own composition, the "Manurka Arabesque" being especially pleasing.

Miss May Bullivan was heard to advantage, her selections being adapted to her stile and quality, and her reply to an encore with "Love's Philosophy" was still more effective. After her rendition of "Fan Fooling" she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

HIS LUNGS PAINED

And a Very Bad Cough, With Tightness of the Chest, Short Breath-Had Grip Two Years Ago-Had Three Doctors and Was Given Up as Incurable With Consumption—Under Dr. Roth's Treatment He Gets Well-A Well Known Railroad

Man Talks.

Mr. Charles I. Stowell is baggagemaster on the Northampton division of the Consolidated railroad, and he runs into New Haven every day. He lives in Williamsburg, Mass. He is well known among the railroad people.

"I had the grip two years ago and have had a hard time since." said Mr. Stowell. "Suppose my lungs were affected. My cough was very bad, and such tightness across the chest, and a pain right through my lungs; also severe pain under the shoulder blade. I was very short of breath. The least exertion tired me out. My sleep was very poor, for I had severe attacks of asthmathat would make me get up and sleep in a chair night after night to get relief. I would cough hard, but was not able to raise anything and the wheezing was terrible. My stomach also bothered me with belching and raising wind, and I had no appetite. I would havk and spit, and I had a dropping in the throat and ringing in the ears. Eyes were weak and they ached.

"Under Dr. Roth's treatment I began to feel better at once, and can say now that I feel well, and have gained fifteen pounds in weight, and would recommend others to try the treatment."

Mr. Joseph W. Watrous is well known in New Haven, and is proprietor of the Cottage bakery, located at 247 Howard avenue. In a talk with the writer, he said: "Over two years ago I Had the Grip,

The business of the Adams Expres ompany at the east side office has doubled within a short time, and the entire district east of Barnesville bridge is now stations at Lloyd street and Saltonstall avenue, the postoffice and Conway's drug store. Express matter arrives at the Fair Haven depot from east and west four times a day, and residents of Fair Haven can get their express matter quicker than through the New Haven office. John J. Dayton is the popular agent.

Mary Marguerite, infant daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. D. M. James, was baptized at the Second Congregational church on Sunday by Rev. Professor Stevens.

Rev. D. M. James is preaching a series of Sunday evening sermons on "Amusements."

The great question that is now interesting the residents of Fair Haven East is the question of the proposed electric lights.
There is a feeling among many residents of the borough that the kerosene street lights have been outgrown, and that a few electric lights should be erected as an experiment. This matter is to come up at periment. This matter is to come up at periment. This matter is to come up at the annual borough meeting. The enterprise will meet with some opposition, but the friends of the measure believe they can carry it through. The present five mill tax pays the borough expenses and some surplus, and it is estimated that another half mill would raise revenue sufficient to maintain a dozen electric lights. It is not proposed to light the entire borough at first, but to start off with a small number of lights as start off with a small number of lights a start off with a small number of lights as an expetiment. Lights are needed at the corners of East Grand avenue and Quinniplac, East Grand avenue and Center streets and at the eastern approach of the Quinniplac drawbridge. The other lamps would be placed in Quinniplac and possibly in Center and Prospect streets. When the matter comes up there will be a big meeting, and the consideration of the scheme will be an event of considerable interest.

Two new box cars arrived for the borse

Two new box cars arrived for the horse railroad yesterday. They are numbered 73 and 74 and are first-class cars with the 73 and 74 and are first-class cars with the modern improvements. Many patrons wanted to ride in the open cars yesterday, but others thought it would be well to wait until the warm spell became a sure thing. Most of the open cars are ready to run and can be put on when wanted.

The Y. M. C. A. meetings on Sunday afternoon are increasing in interest. At the last meeting the attendance was the largest at any yet held.

The club, according to the Union, has a big job on its hands, as it proposes to unite the democratic party of this city and state. All good democrate party of this city and state. All good democrate are elizible to membership. It is believed that the initiation fee will be fixed at 75 cents a month. No president has yet been elected.

Alderman Walter Connor is vice president, Attorney P. W. Chase is secretary and Captain T. K. Dunn is treasurer. The governing board will consist of two members from each of the fifteen wards of the city.

The club house has been fitted up in elegant style, with a buffet and all the appurtenances of a first class club house. The social feature will be made prominent.

The New Baven democrats have long felt the want of a club in these parts—such as the Republican league here is to the republican party—and now are imitating the republicans in this respect, hoping to gain political strength by means of the new organization and cement the bonds of union in the party. Cleveland and Hill men are equally welcome.

Death of Mrs. Bronson. There was a score or more bicyclists out peeding on Main street early last evening and lively spurts were had by pairs or in larger numbers. Harry Norton and Ernest Atkinson were coming down Main injured. His new wheel will have to be reinjured. His new wheel will have to be repaired. Atkinson struck the wheel to the wagon, but escaped without injuries. The two boys were not looking ahead, but were stooped over on their wheels pushing for all they were worth. Several of the bystanders shouted a warning which was unheeded. The accident will no doubt prove a valuable lesson to the bicyclists in the future, and they can thank their lucky stars that they escaped as they did.

Mrs. Lusk of North Haven Has Her Horse and Wagon Stolen While Boing Some Shopping—A Daring Mrs. William Lusk of North Haven drove to this city yesterday afternoon to do some shopping. She left her horse and phaeton standing in front of Neely's store on Temple street while she went inside. On coming out the team was missing. She reported the fact to Mr. Kimberly, the popular floorwalker in Mr. Neely's store. He inquired at Nesbit's livery stable, but nothing had been seen of the missing equipage. The police also were notified and a general search was made. It was reported that two boys had been seen driving a ho ree and wagon after the description of the one lost. Mrs. Lusk was obliged to take the train home, leaving instruction that the horse should be taken to Nesbit's livery stable, if found.

The horse was a small black pony with a grayish head. The phaeton was a good one, but not very new.

New York, May 16. In the stock market here to day the bears were inclined to be aggressive, but foreign buying checked the decline in progress and rallied the ptire list. The brokers renewed their attac after the London buying was over and succeeded in making a marked 'Impression' upon Northerr Pacific preferred and Hocking Valley, but the resi of the market was well held and later a substan tial rally occurred, which placed all the leading stocks on a higher level, and the final change show some material gains. The grangers shows considerable strength. The close was quiet, bu firm and steady. Railroad bonds were less animated and showe
