FOR PRESIDENT, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. WHITELAW REID, of New York

Among the well established theories that rum is responsible for most murders. By means of temperance lectures, tempercated into the belief that there is a very close and intimate relation between drink ing and murder. And without doubt the imflammatory inspiration of alcohol, acting on a hot-blooded and ungoverned nature, is responsible for a large proportion of the crimes of violence that come up for adjudication in our courts. But the census returns do not wholly bear out this view. Of 6,378 murderers in prison whose habits could be ascertained, 1,282, or 20 per cent, of the whole, are returned as total abstainers, 3,829 as moderate or occasional drinker and 1,267 as habitual drunkards. This is a remarkably poor showing for the total abstainers. Nobody will pretend that they comprise twenty per cent. of the population, and their addiction to the crime of murder is out of all proportion to their numbers. And further, it is curious t note the prevalence of total abstinence principles among murderers belonging to the gentler sex. Of 393 women in prison tire number, avowed themselves total ab stainers. This is an interesting and rather surprising showing, but there is no argument for rum drinking in the fact that a good many total abstainers commit murder.

A TIN-PLATE TRUIH. There are tin-plate truths as well as tinplate lies. An examination of the prices of tin in Liverpool and the United States during the period of low tariffs shows that the English tin-plate manufacturer controlled absolutely the price of his goods, dictating to the American consumer. The price during these years was lowered or raised in Liverpool at will, and of course the American price had to follow. The McKinley law changed this. The fact that the construction of numbers of plants for the manufacture of tin plate was at once ommenced, and that several were put in peration, opened the eyes of the English nanufacturer. When the McKinley bill assed congress Melyn grade tin was selling n Liverpool at $5.04 per box of 108 pounds The duty of one cent per pound added $1.08 to the cost in New York or Philadelphis, and made the total cost, exclusive of freight, $6.12 per box. The same tin is now selling in Liverpool at $3.60 per box, and the duty at 2 2-10 cents per pound, which amounts to $2.37 and makes th cost in New York or Philadelphia $5 97 per box. The foreign manufacturer has been compelled by the passage of the Mc-Kinley law to reduce the price of his product to so low a rate that with the higher rate of duty the price would be lower than it was under the previous tariff. This is what the Republicans claimed would be the result. This has always been the tactics adopted by the foreign manufacturer, as the first effort to stop the development of any manufactur-

His plan is to add a easpoonful of raw corn starch and a teaspoonful of salt to a tumbler of water and use as much and as often as possible without producing nauses. His explanation of the discovery is interesting. He says it came from noticing in a scientific paper that examination of the bodies of those who had died of cholera, yellow fever or typhoid fever showed a lack of chlorides in the blood. His inference was that the lack of chlorides made it easy for these diseases to get possession. He also considered the fact that cholera is more common in warm weather, that persoiration, inciin warm weather, that perspiration, incichlorides in the form of common salt, chloride of sodium, was naturally indicated as a preventive and a cure.

The moons of Mars were discovered few years ago through the telescope of the Naval Observatory at Washington by Professor Asaph. He will be actively inter Here, girls. A Missouri man ate eleven ested in the observations of that planet and its new-found satellites which will be made in August next by astronomers all over the world. Since the discovery of the moons in 1887 this is the first opportunity afforded for examining them, inasmuch as they are so small as to be perceptible only as close range. Once in every fifteen years Mars reaches its nearest point to the earth. Eight weeks hence it will be within thirty-five million miles of us, whereas its greatest distance is one hun-dred and forty-one million miles. Great interest attaches to the matter because this sister world is so much like our own in respect to its climate and other condi-tions that it may reasonably be supposed to be inhabited.

There are at least twenty moons in the solar system. Saturn alone has eight and Jupiter possesses four, ranging from Europa, just about as large as the orb of terrestrial night, to Ganymede, greatest of all known moons, with a diameter of 3,480 miles, whereas the moon belonging to this world is only 2,160 miles through.

Though our moon is supposed to be dead and cold, similar conditions are not assumed to govern all the satellites of the solar planets. Some of those pertaining to Jupiter are believed to emit light of their own, showing that they are still hot. their own, abowing that they are a crater of the moon volcano called Eudoxus.

Eclipses are every-day affairs on Jupiter.

Three of its satellites are eclipsed at every revolution of that mighty globe, so that a spectator there might witness during the Jovian year forty-five hundred eclipses of moons and about the same number of colliness of the supply moons. moons and about the same number of sclipses of the sun by moons. appears to rise in the west and set in the east, while the other, really circling in the same direction at a speed comparatively slow, rises in the east and sets in the west Thus both moons are seen in the heavens at the same time, going opposite ways.

One of the most remarkable guesses on record was made by Dean Swift, who a century before the moons of Mars were discovered made Gulliver say of the as-tronomers of Laputa: "They have found two satellites which revolve about Mars, whereof the innermost is distant from the planet exactly three diameters of the planet; the former revolves in the space of ten hours and the latter in twenty-one and one-half hours." In fact, the inner moon is ten thousand miles from Mars, whereas—the diameter of the planet being four thousand miles. Gallier's estimated

It is catching. Irish women are beginning to claim that the whole boon of higher education should not be reserved for men. They have organized a petition, signed by 10,000 women, to the Board of Trinity college, praying that the ter-centenary of the college may be marked by the auspicious be-

B. DEXTER HUBBARD RESIGNS. The Young Men's Republican Club ing-No Sign of Discord or Dissen-sion-The Differences of Opinion on Club Administration is Purely Local

Not the first evidence of the faction or lissension that has emanated from demo cratic sources was evident from the meet ng of the Young Men's Republican club last night. A large number were in attendance, and all were enthusiastic for the best interests of the club. The friction at the meeting that had been predicted by local democratic paper was conspicuous b its absence.

Vice President Henry E. Marsh presided, and after the routine business had been transacted directed the secretary to read a letter of resignation that had been submitted to the club. The letter was from B. Dexter Hubbard, the president of the club, who resigned from that position. Mr. Hubbard said that he had presided over the club for about two years. In that time its present home was bought and paid for and the membership of the club had increased doubly. In the present prosperous condition of the club he thought his resignation could receive immediate action.

A viva voce vote was taken on the questions. A viva voce vote was taken on the questions of the board: Mrs. Joel A. Sperry, Mrs. Franklin B. Dexter, Mrs. Tracy Peck, Mrs. E. S. Gaylord, Mrs. F. W. Fellowes, Mrs. E. J. Walker and Mrs. Luman Cowles.

The interior furnishings of the board: Mrs. Joel A. Sperry, Mrs. Franklin B. Dexter, Mrs. Tracy Peck, Mrs. E. H. English, Mrs. F. W. Fellowes, Mrs. E. J. Walker and Mrs. Luman Cowles.

The interior furnishings of the building are complete in every respect. The floors are all of polished white pine and are covered with Kurrachee rugs. The woodwork has all been repainted, while the walls and ceilings have all been painted a light fawn color, which gives the room a most cheerful appearance.

A viva voce vote was taken on the question of accepting the resignation. Several noes were heard, but when the chairman called for a vote again then there was no opposition. F. L. Averill moved a vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Hubbard for the thanks be tendered to Mr. Hubbard for the time and labor he had spent in furthering the interests of the club. James A. John F. Gaffey moved that a committee of fifteen be appointed to bring before the club one or more names as candidate for the vacant office. It was suggested by Mr. Howarth that the executive committee be used as a nucleus for this committee, but used as a nucleus for this committee, but it was generally opposed on the ground that the committee should be thoroughly representative and not an officers' meeting and Mr. Howarth withdrew his suggestion. The chair appointed the following committee, who are to report to the next meeting if possible: F. L. Averill, J. P. Goodhart, M. E. Chatfield, N. M. Parsons, S. M. M. Smith, D. H. Clark, G. M. meetings of the club every Thursday even-ing in the republican newspapers on the day of the meeting, so that all the mem-bers may be fully aware of them.

As the hour was still early several of the members were called on for brief speeches. Captain Minott A. Buttricks made a witty speech, and one full of meat, too. He said that it was not talks on the tariff that were wanted in that room, nor speculations on the way New York or Massachusetts would go in the election, but what Connecticu and more especially New Haven would do on the election day. If the 400 republicans in this city in 1888 that did not vote had been brought to the pollsConnecticut would not have been carried by the democrats by Mrs. H. B. In all political clubs there is a diversity of opinion. That anything of this kind, though, has grown to the proportions of a faction in the club, even, is arrant nonsense. Whatever feeling any member of the club may have had about Mr. Hubbard as an officer is purely local and will in no way endanger the club. The opposing po-litical party very naturally try to make a mountain out of a mole hill. Whatever differences of opinion there may have been these are buried now. THIMBLE ISLAND BREEZES. Hasty Glance at These Beautiful Islands-The People There and Their Doings-Many Cottagers and

Their Boings—Many Cottagers and Xachtsmen.

The great majority of New Haven people do not seem to have recognized fully what a beautiful little group of islands lies about twelve miles east of the city down the coast.

A newspaper man recently visiting the Thimble islands found very faw people from New Haven as compared with the large number of cottagers from other more inland towns, notwithstanding the easy access which is possible to the islands. They form, in fact, a miniature archipel—freshmentr were served, and it was an enfreshmentr were served. They form, in fact, a miniature archipelago, which, the wise ones tell us, consists of three hundred and sixty-five islands and islets at low tide—thus making one for every day of the year. Whether this is as much of a fable as the stories of Cap-tain Kidd's countless treasure which is said tain Kidd's countless treasure which is said to be buried away on some one of the islands it remains for the visitor to decide. But it is altogether a most romantic place, a spot where one enjoys letting thought wander at will and revel in the bright sunshine of these July days, painting in the mind fantastic and romantic pictures of the time when Captain Kidd sailed and sailed, and even further back when the swarthy Indian was the sole possessor. But now the many pretty little harbors are filled with yachts from all parts of the sound and adjacent coasts, swift, arrow-like naphtha lannehes coasts, swift, arrow-like naphtha launches dart hither and thither. All the waters surrounding the islands are alive with canoes, catboats, steam launches, rowboats—in a word, every kind of floating craft known to American summer pleasure-seek-

The islands lie near the shore just off the little village of Stony Creek, about midway between Sachem's Head and Branmidway between Sachem's Head and Branford Point. There are perhaps a dozen islands that are worthy of any note. Pot island is the only one that is open to the public. The steamer Margaret plies between New Haven and this island every day. On this island there is a place carved out of the solid rock something in the form of a punch bowl. A pot of money is said to have been found there.

Money island, lying pert to Pot island.

Money island, lying next to Pot island, has been improved more than any of the other islands. Quite a village of summer cottages has sprung up here and the land has been reclaimed from its native wildhas been reclaimed from its native wildness, as the well-kept lawns and trees attest. On several of the isolated islets and rocks cottages have been built. The shore near the village of Stony Creek as far as Indian Point and Flying Point is lined with cottages and hotels, so that the whole seene bathed in the brilliant sunlight is one of narivaled hearty. Even the light is one of unrivaled beauty. Even the waters of the sound seem bluer here and nature seems to have striven to outdo her-

At this cottage are Professor and Mrs. Jepson, Mr. Harry C. Jepson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jepson and Mr. Carl Foster of Bridgeport and a student in the class of '93 at Dickinson college, Carliele, Pa. Differing Opinions From Various Quarters-From Springfield, Boston York.

New London, Ansonia and New It is rather amusing, says the Springfield Union, to read the diatribes of New York papers against the trolley system of electric propulsion for street cars. We once had some fears of the trolley in Springfield, but we have abandoned them, after ample experience. The equipment of the street lines in this city is so perfect that so far as we recall not a single serious accident has ever occurred which can be ascribed to the trolley per se. Such accidents as have occurred would have hap- The LONG and pened with a cable system or a storage "in Boston several hundred are killed or seriously injured every year," and says that "accidents connected with the trolley system on Boston electric lines are uncommon. Sworn statistics show that in 1891 only fourteen fatal accidents occurred on the West End lines, of which four were on the electric lines and ten on the horse lines. Of 194 other accidents dents 82 were on the electric and 112 on the horse lines. The total number of accidents to passengers was one to 584,629, and the total number of fatalities was one to 8,518,886 passengers. Springfield's street car statistics would make a better showing. A man is in as much danger of being struck by lightning in the middle of a tenacre lot as of being harmed by the trolley in Springfield streets.

The Ansonia Sentinel says: The New London Day is the latest opponent of the trolley system of street car propulsion, and as an argument makes the remarkable assertion: "It has been found dangerous to human life in every city where it has been." That is not so: The trolley system has been in use in Ansonia five years and not only has there been no loss of life, but there has not been a serious accident caused by the trolley wire. THE PIONEER OF PROGRESS olumbus Memory Cherished -National Holiday Will Mark th Close of the Four Hundredth Year of American Life—Exercises in the Schools—Services in the Churches— Cessation from Toll. WASHINGTON, July 21.-The following was issued this afternoon: BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES O AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, By a joint resolution approve June 29, 1892, it was resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, "that the president of the United States be authorized and directed to issue a proclamation recommending to the people the observance of all their ocalities of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America on the twenty-first day of October, 1892, by public demonstration and by suitable exercises in their schools and other places of esembly;"

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison resident of the United States of America president of the United States of America, in pursuance of the aforesaid joint resolution, do hereby appoint Friday, October 21, 1892, the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, as a general holiday for the people of the United States. On that day let the people so far as possible cease from toil and devote themselves to such exercises as may best survess honor to the discoversar and best express honor to the discoverer and their appreciation of the great achieve-ments of four completed centuries of Amer-

Columbus stood in his sge as the pic neer of progress and enligtenment. The system of universal education is in our age the most prominent and salutary feature of the spirit of enlightenment, and it is peculiary appropriate that the schools be made by the people the center of the day's demonstrations. Let the national flag float over every school house in the country and the exercises be such as shall impress upon our youth the patriotic du-ties of American citizenship.

In the churches and in other places of seembly of the people let there be ex-pressions of gratitude to divine providence or the divine care and guidance which has rected our history and abundantly

Inequalities of Assessment of Taxable Property in Hartford.

Hartford, July 21.—The selectmen are discussing the imperfect appraisement of property in this city, the discussion having been brought on by an application for increased funds to pay the expenses of the assessors in viewing the property. The regular appropriation for horse hire for the purpose is $50 a year. The new board sociation will meet with Israel Putnam lodge No. 31, when the officers of East Rock lodge No. 38 will exemplify the new transparency work of the initiatory ceremonies of the order.

Up to this time all those wishing to receive the grand lodge degrees had to go to Boston. As some could not go as far as that they had to go without the degree. It will also give the order, which is already strong, a very great impetus. the purpose is $50 a year. The new board of assessors feel that a larger sum is necessary and applied for it, Assessor Mc-Kone representing the board. The present allowance does not permit a thorough looking up of even the new houses built during the year. It pays for only about five days' driving around the city. More new houses are being built every year than can be properly looked up at that time. It was found that the request of the assessors could not be granted, as a vote was passed in a town meeting held in December, 1880, limiting the amount to be appropriated for this purpose to $50 a year. There has been more building in Hartford during the last five years than there was during the fifteen years preceding, and yet the grand list is no greater than it was five years ago. Mr. McKone said that property which could not be bought for less than $45 a front foot is on the assessors' list for $5 and $6. He spoke of the less than $45 a front foot is on the assess-ors' list for $5 and $6. He spoke of the Brooks property at the corner of Main and Talcott streets, which is on the books at $11,000. He understood that an offer of $50,000 for it had been refused.

It is probable that the October town meeting will be asked by the selectmen to press a resolution appropriating a committee.

AT WASHINGTON.

Over forty thousand veterans have engaged quarters in Washington for encampent week. Although it is now a little over three months before the encampment will be held, yet from the large number that have made arrangements to attend it is evident that the actual attendance will not fall far shart of the predictions that this gathering of Grand Army men will be the largest ever held. The committee of James E. Moore post of Danbury have secured quarters for fifty men, but more than that number from there will probably attend. They are negotiating for mu-sic, but have engaged none thus far. The chances are in favor of the Bethel drum corps accompanying them. RESIDED FOR A TIME IN NEW HAVEN.

George Shiras, jr., of Pennsylvania, who has been appointed a judge of the United States supreme court by President Harrison, was warmly endorsed by all the members of his class at Yale.
