hers of the advancing host are out, busy and buszy. Soon the air will be full of files. Flies in the house, files in the stores, flies in the meeting house and flies in the victuals. Once more the frequent and ubiquitou fly is being discussed and "cussed." He is charged with being especially dangerous this year on account of the cholers. It is asserted by distinguished Sanitary Scientists that flies are great spreaders of cholera. No quarantine can deal with them and nobody can successfully centend against their infectious flights. We saw the other day how the fleas in a Pennsylvania town had baffled the Board of Health, and now we are told that files are more than a match for all the Boards of Health that ever lived. But, as usual in Sanitary Science, we are not left without hope. A dis tingulahed Sanitary Scientist who has noticed what other distinguished Sanitary Scientists have been saying about flies feels bound to contradict them. He isn't cradle if you wish, and we'll give it to the afraid that cholers will fly through the princess as a souvenir of her visit to Chiand by means of files. He says: My observation has been that little danger is to be apprehended from that source. Flies are natural scavengers, and they are constantly destroying disease germs of one kind or another. It is a curious fact that the year of the greatest cholera epidemic in this country there was a marked scarcity are really a protection against disease Give us more flies, I say! Probably this distinguished sanitarian will be accommodated with flies enough before the summer is over. The discussion in which he has taken such a prominent and optimistic part seems to leave the fly question about where it was before. Plies without cholers are sufficient, but flies with cholers are shocking. As there is no way of telling which of the distinguished Sanitary Scientists has guessed right, let us fly from a dubious discussion to safe grounds. "Darn a fil" is about right, either in a cholera summer or any

During the last fiscal year this tax could be safely used as food for farmproduced a revenue of $67,350,000 (calling stock. The result of his researches, he in-Mr. Goschen had estimated the decrease for last year at $2,000,000, whereas it was in fact only $1,650,600. In 1889, when the reduction to 6d in the pound took effect, the yield of the tax was $63,500,000. Three years later it had risen to $69,000,000—an increase of $5,500,000, and even last year, notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions, it was still $3,500,000 greater than in 1889. And it is interesting to note that in spite of depression in the cotton and iron trades, the startling failure of the Barings and the heavy losses of British investors in Argentine and other foreign se vestors in Argentine and other foreign se ourities, there was an uninterrupted flow of the great, silent understream of prosperity which kept the incomes of the country well up to those of the year be-

The income tax seems to have worked retty well in England, but those who renember how it worked in this country will not feel sure that a return to it would be the wisset thing that could be done. In a new dress of course you could have one 1867, when we had an noome tax of 5 for spring. There was a feeble effort at LETT holds the Agency for my goods. Not exactly because they were bad taste; that lead the law was notoriously evaded. Had the tax been fully collected probably it would perhaps yield ed not less than $50,000,000 at the 24 per cent. rate, which was the same as the present British rate. But it was not fully collected. Business men found out that i was hard to tell what their incomes were and harder still to tell the government what they were. So there was any amount f concealment, perjury and fraud. Everyody who had an income was glad to see he income tax go, and those who have insomes now will be sorry to see it come back. The traveling salesman of a Grand Rapids furniture manufactory said to Mr. Potter Palmer last week, that his firm wished to supply, without cost, an elegant eradle for the royal baby. On being told that no such guest was expected at the Palmer House, the irrepressible salesman drew out a morning paper and showed the amused proprietor the notice in detail of the suite of rooms that were to be occupied by the Infanta and her suite. Mr. Palmer ook another paper from the news stand, handed it to the drummer, and pointing to pertrait of the Infanta Eulalie, said: "There's your infant; she is thirty years old and has a husband. Judge Bradley of the United States Circuit court on Saturday decided that an employe of the government appointed under the civil service law cannot be dismissed without just cause, and that the courts have the right to pass upon the sufficiency of the cause. In this case the etitioner for reinstatement was a probaioner under the civil service rules, but had not advanced to the position of a regular letter carrier in the classified service, because he had not been employed six months. The defense claimed, on the ground that the petitioner was not a regular letter carrier, that it was not necessary that any reason should be assigned for his removal. Judge Bradley did not allow the grounds of the defense, but gave the respondents notice that they might, if possible, show cause for the removal of the letter carrier.

The Navajos, Their Ambitions and Grievances. ndence of the New York Sun.] They are a superior race of Indians, enerally healthy, strong and full of an ndomitable courage. They are quick to take offense and will brook no trespass upon what they ecusider their rights. A Navajo buck will march single handed into fort and will state his grievance and make his demands for what he knows are his rights, regardless of the display of armed forces all about him. The Navajos have never been conquered in battles with therefore. when a other tribes of the southwest. The southern Utes hate them heartily and fear them. too. Were a war to break out, the Utes would be of incalculable service to the

with the soldiers against their foes and In the Navajo war of 1859-60 these In lians learned a severe lesson. Under the eadership of Kit Carson, the famous scout, the troops burned the cornfields of the natives, sacked their villages and drove them into the barren fastnesses of the hills, where they were finally starved into subjection. General Sherman or suffered much from home sickness. They begged and implored to be returned to their accustomed haunts, and this request was awful punishment of the former war, counsel constantly for peace and civil pro-cesses in cases of treaty violations or per-sonal wrongs. Peace Chief Ganamuncio and War Chief Manuelito, both men of common sense and sterling qualities, friendly toward the whites. From mercenary motives the Navajor dread a contest at arms. They have acquired great herds of sheep and cattle, they cultivate the land which they hold in any cattle, and they continue and the same cattle.

they cultivate the land which they hold in severalty, and they are fairly prosperous and contented. They have within the toundaries of their reservation some silver and gold mines, said to be fabulously rich properties. No white man has sever penetrated the secrets of this unknown mineral wealth and lived to tell of it. The reservation is patroiced by several hundred Indian police amounted by the secret and Jian police appointed by the agent, and these native officers do not hesitate to strip a man of his clothing, confiscate his goods and turn him back stark naked if found on the reservation without a proper per-mit from the agent at the post. As a re-sult the whites do not get into the reserva-tion in any great numbers.

Along the borders of the reservation in Farmington, Aztec, La Plata and Monten-ma valleys many whites Farmington, Aztec, La Piata and Montezuma valleys many whites, among whom are quite a sprinkling of Mormons, have settled and are cultivating lands as fertile and prolific as a Utoplan heart could wish. Fruits of the most superior quality are raised in such abundance that a profit of twenty-five hundred dollars an ears is no unusual thing. It is a constant source of irritation to the Navajos to see these living waters pre-empted and the whites prosper so rapidly, while just across the line they do not gain so fast. They fear that the gradual settlement of the land about them means an overflow at no great future day upon their reservation, and it is in anticipation of this that they have for years been preparing for a conflict and final contest with the whites.

For years they have been laying up supplies of ammunition, which they bury in plies of ammunition, which they bury in secret places in the hills and passes of the secret places in the hills and passes of the mountains. They own the best of re-peating rifles and plenty of guns. Should a war come they could be starved and ex-terminated, but could be scarcely other-wise conquered. In all these troubles that arise there is blame on both sides. There are mean whites who are constantly trying to sell whiskey to the Indians, and a drunken Indian is always a reckiess, fighting terror. The Indian police often arrest these peddlers of firewater and turn them over to the authorities, but the them over to the authorities, but the scamps generally escape by the payment of

The chief source of trouble arises from a renegade Iodian named Costiana, a sort of Iehmselite in the tribe, who seems to be constantly traveling about the reservation, a seed of discord, sowing himself everywhere. Black Horse and Manuelito-Chito are his able lieutenants, and they have quite a following of reckless, daredevil young bucks of the tribs. Not only do they cause trouble on the reservation, but off the reservation among the settlers of the vellevs they make incursions, and but off the reservation among the settlers of the valleys they make incursions, and their visits are decidedly obnoxious. They will suddenly appear at a ranch-house and demand something to eat. If all they want to gorge their stomachs with is not forthcoming there is trouble. They steal sheep, kill cows whenever they want fresh beef, and when a ranchman has a horse which one of these renegades fancies it must be traded to the buck at the best bargain possible or it will be stolen. It is these repeated incursions of the band of renegades under Costlans that causes the renegades under Costlans that causes the settlers oftentimes to take the law into with them.

A story is often told which illustrates the Navajo's opinion of a cowboy. One time a Navajo appeared before General Miles and saked for a brass cannon. The general, surprised at such a request, asked: "What earthly use have you for a cannon! Do you want to kill off a few soldiers!" tion, have the idea that they are great fighters, and they believe that they could whip all the rest of the world.

Prison Director and Never Has Read Prison Directors-A Firm Friend of the Warden-Catholic Clergymen Testify-The Senate and House. HARTFORD, May 23 .- [Special ]-State Prison Director Hewitt was the principal witness before the prison committee this afternoon. Hewitt has been for fourteen years a prison director, a resident of Wethersfield, and in almost constant attendance at the prison, but according to his testimony he knew very little about the institution. In the first place, as shown by his testimony he had never read the statute law of the state concerning the duties of the prison's directors and had very little the prison's directors and had very namedides what they are,

Section 8,340 of the general statutes pro vides that the directors shall make all nec vides that the directors shall make all nec-essary rules for the government of the prison and employment of the prisoners, collectively attend twice in each quarter at the prison, quarterly addit the accounts of the warden, examine at every meeting into the condition of the prison and prisinto the condition of the prison and pris-oners, and report annually to the governor the condition of the prison, which report shall be laid before the general assembly. From Mr. Hewitt's evidence no rules have been made; and collective meetings have not been held as directed by law. Section 3339 provides that the directors shall appoint in writing on the nomination of the warden all subordinate officers, who shall be duly sworn before one of the di-

The testimony was to the effect that the men and officers were appointed directly by the warden, not in writing, and some even were never as much as sworn by the It was also developed that Mr. Hewitt ook Kr. Chamberlain's word for everything, and knew very little about the man-agement of the prison in detail.

A peculiar but no less interesting feature A peculiar but no less interesting feature of the hearing was the wordy arguments between Dr. Jones and Senator Boot over what testimony should be admitted and what should not. There is no doubt in the minds of the spectators that the committee is divided, and is liable at any moment to get into a serious disagreement.

The first witness called was Rev. Father Thomas W. Brodrick of Hartford, a Roman Catholic clergyman. He testified as follows: I am familiar with the state prison matters as regards the Catholic convicts there for the neat ten wears. My convicts there for the past ten years. My Root—I object to the question.

Jones-I withdraw the question. Jones—I withdraw the question.

The witness said that many changes for the better towards the Roman Catholic prisoners had been made in the last eight years under Warden Chamberlain.

Rev. John Lynch of Hartford said: Since May, '88, I have visited the prison once a month regularly, and oftener when my duties called me out there.

I remember Cabill. He was suffering, I think from unick consumption. The prison think, from quick consumption. The pris-oners have power to talk with me privately when I am there I have never heard of any prisoner, well or sick, being ill-treated. I never saw the dungeon that I know of.

I think the sick are properly cared for at the prison, and that the discipline is good.

The understanding about our dead was ents or friends did not, and bury them in the Catholic cemeters, which we always

I believe that I was always sent for when ing our people have been greatly im proved.

I saw Cahili in November, '90. He was in the hospital then; that was the last sick in the hospital then; that was the last sick prisoner I saw there.

I know that people have died there since I have been called, but cannot tell whether I should have been called or not.

I understand that Catholic prisoners are compelled to attend Protestant service or go without their dinner. In my opinion there where proper mean for the treatment of prisoners in the hos for the treatment or prisoners in the nos-pital, whether the slok prisoners had all the benefit of it or not.

I have no knowledge as to what may have transpired in the dungeons.

I was never notified that Collon was When a Catholic died I performed burial service over him, as none to my knowledge are buried at the prison, but turned over to us for burial. over to us for burial.

Ex-Officer Thomas testified; I am a resident of Hartford, and was watchman at the prison from October '89 to September '91. I knew Patrick Fox; he was not unkindly treated to my knowledge. Everything the witness said was in favor of General Chamberlain, and according to his statement the state prison was a splendid place to reside in. I sent to Warden Chamberlain a letter just after I saw the story in the New York World, telling him story in the New York World, telling him the story was false, and laughing at it.

The witness, however, admitted that as a matter of fact he did not know whether a matter of fact he did not know whether the story was true or not. The warden replied to my letter thanking me, but what he said I don't remember. George T. Utley of Hartford testified that he was a teacher in the Sunday school at the prison. I have been there eleven A meeting of the committee on schools of the board of education will be held this evening, when action in reference to the reappointment of H. S. Gulliver as teacher in the High school will be taken.

Frank Kenney, a piano mover for C. M. Loomis' Sens, fell from the loft of the firm's barn last night. His right shoulder was broken, and he was severely cut about the body. He was attended by Dr. Belloss.

The Police Sick Benefit association is already an assured success. Out of the 110 members of the department seventy five have already hecome members of the association.

There have been great improvements at the prison, all due to General Chamberlain. The improvement has been general, the prisoners are better fed, there is better discipline, and a better state of things in every way. In my opinion the treatment of the sick and insane has also improved very much. When Chamberlain first came there I was a little prejudiced against him. I visited the hospital about this time, being under the impression that the sick men in the hospital were not reciving proper food. I took them some dainties such as chicken, etc., and investigated the nospital and found the prisoners were well treated.

I have been in the west end many times

I have been in the west end many times I have been in the west end many times and have seen many prisoners down there. I generally went down with General Chamberlain. I never saw people suffering or neglected in them. The warden has probably told me more about prison matters than any other member of the board.

It was of frequent occurrence that the warden would put a man in the west end to find out if he was shaming There was no regular investigation of the shoeting at the prison as we knew the facts, having been told all about it by General Chamberlain.

their cells or elsewhere an inquest has never been held to my knowledge.

I have talked with a great many of the prisoners privately and have never heard but one complaint for cause, and that was of a man who had been confined but two of a man who had been confined but two weeks, and he told me he did not get enough to eat.

I have never been in the west end when it was so cold as to be uncomfortable, but

Mr. Hewitt testified that the duty of the board of directors was to meet at the prison four times a year, audit the ac-counts and hear the reports of the warden. No general rule governs the board that I knew of, but we are appointed to attend to the running of the state's prison.

I never examined the statutes to see what the duties of a director are. I took some oath in regard to it.
I don't know for how long I was appoint d or when my term expired.

I understand the law reads that the directors shall hold regular meetings every six weeks, but we have not held them. We have held no meeting since January 15 and when one before that one was held I cannot tell. We audit the accounts four times a year but I don't know what the law provides in

I have no recollection of an officer doin assistant visits the prisoners, I having been there perhaps half a dozen times in the last ten years. I never saw Andrews, Brewster or Burke. I have seen Cahill, but I never discussed his treatment while happened.

The warden makes the contracts for boots and shoes, but I never saw any of these contracts, but believe they were signed by the warden because he told me

Professor Wayland may be more familiar with some workings of the prison than I am, as he frequently comes there and stays over Sunday with Warden Chamberlain. I have also stayed over night there, as has Mr. Belden, Mr. Sanford and, I think, rison matters.

This hearing was not finished, the committee who had been in ses-sion from 2 p. m. till 7 feeling a little weary and so telling ex-Gov. Waller when he tried to coax them to sit a little longer. Before the committee took up the Centerville road matter they had had a long hearing over Stamford's charter question, about which a great deal of discussion had about which a great deal of discussion had taken place. The committee is having a busy time. While these matters above spoken of were pending before the committee a number of New Haven gentlemen were anxiously waiting their turn to be heard on another "railroad matter of importance, but had to wait in vain, their case not being reached. There were so many present at the hearing on the Stamford charter matter and awaiting a hearing on other matters, that the committee early on other matters, that the committee early in the afternoon adjourned to the suprem-court room for larger quarters.

Upon application of George E. Brightson, praying that a minerule of Edward and May be proved, allowed and admitted to probate, letters tea amentary may be granted upon this testate tea and deceased, as per application of the more fully appears, it is offered on the Company of the Court of the May A. D. 1893, at ten o'slock in the forenom, and that notice be given of the pendency of said application and the time and place of hearing thereon by publishing the same three times in some newspaper having a circulation in said district.

A. HEATON ROBERTSON, my24 34+

Judge of said Court. Briggs case. Immediately after the opening prayer Dr. Baker, chairman, said:
"I had earnestly hoped that but one report would be presented. But in this I have been disappointed. I presume the failure was inevitable. I take, however, comfort in the label. omfort in the thought that there is so hing better than even unanimity, and that something is fidelity to conscience. It is fidelity to conscience which has com-pelled the majority report and it is fidelity to report. While we speak the truth with all boldness, let us speak it ever in love. Let us resolve that we will frown upon and utterly discountenance any suggestion from whatever quarter it may come of schism in our church. Recalling our ordination vows, let us submit ourselves to one another in the Lord, loyally abiding the decision which shall be reached by our this is the first onstitutional methods. The report was as follows: "In the case of the Presbyterian church the general assembly from the decision and final judgment of the Presbytery of New York rendered January 9, 1893, the New York rendered January 9, 1893, the judicial committee begs leave most respectfully to represent that they find:

(1) That the appellant in this case is the Presbyterian church of the United States, represented by its prosecuting committee appointed by the Presbytery of New York, and as such is entitled to conduct the prosecution until the final issue be resched.

(2) That the appeal and specifications of error have been filed in due time.
(3) They, therefore, submit resolutions: That the appeal be entertained; that three hours being allotted for such hearing, viz., one and one-half hours to each party, and after hearing from the members of the as-embly shall then vote upon the following resolution:

Resolved, That the appeal from the decision and final judgment of the Presbytery of New York rendered January 9, 1893, be entertained by the general assembly and it is ordered that the case proceed to trial in accordance with the provisions of the book of discipline. The report is signed by the following

The report is signed by the following members of the committee: George D. Baker, chairman; J. T. Duffield, J. S. Hayes, J T. Leftwich, J. T. Maxwell, J.T. Sanders, John Peacock, J. B. Randall, Edward T. Green, Thomas McDongall, Cyrus L. Pershing, William Fulton, George W. Cummings, H. M. Grayton and J. L. Orr. Mr. Baker also presented the following supplemental report. lowing principal resolutions which have influenced them in reaching the con-clusions declared:

First, the book of discipline provided expressly for an appeal directly from the expressly for an appeal directly from the Presbytery to the general assembly. Such appeal is plainly permissable when the gravity of the issue and the circumstances render it advisable. The general assembly of 1892 decided that the gravity of this case and the circumstances were such as to justify an appeal directly from the Presbytery to the general assembly.

Second, In the final decision of the grave issues involved in this case it is derave issues involved in this case it is de-irable that the assembly making such decisirable that the assembly making such decision should as far as practicable be responsible for the church. Should these issues be decided by an assembly on appeal from the synod of New York, the commissioners from the synod, representing more than one-fifth of the entire church, would be debarred by the book of discipline frem sitting, deliberating or voting in the case. Moreover, such necessary exclusion of the synod might work to the disadvantage of the defendant himself. For more than two years the peace of the church has been sadly disturbed by the issue pending in this church. It seems an imperative duty to settle these issues without unnecessary delay.

Mr. McDougall did not sign the supplemental report. The minority report was read by the Rev. J. S. Niccolls, D. D., of St. Louis in substance as follows:

We recommend that the majority report be amended by striking out all that follows, beginning with the recommendation that the appeal be entertained and issued, and substituting the following:

"We find the appeal in order and from the opportunity of a Sunday fair. The concentration of a Sunday fair. The concentration of a Sunday fair. The

"We find the appeal in order and ecommend that the parties be heard in ecordance with the provisions of the We sek this for the following reasons:

we see this for the following reasons:

(1) The majority report, by recommanding that the appeal be entertained and issued, prejudges the case by advising the assembly to do what the book of discipline shall determine after. shall determine after the parties shall have been heard. The language of the book is as follows: The judiciatory may then determine, af-ter hearing the parties whether the appeal shall be entertained."

shall be entertained."

(2) The majority report, in form, pledges the committee in advance to entertain the appeal, the parties not yet being heard; and yet this same committee is entailed to judge the vote in this case as members of the judiciatory.

(3) The majority report is contrary both to the letter and spirit of the book of discipline as stated in rule 99, section 14, chapter 18. The functions of the judicial committee in this case are limited to finding the appeal in order and recommending the method of procedure and it is not its right to recommend to this assembly that the appeal shall be entertained and issued.

This report was signed by Messrs. Meyers, Thompson, Foster, Stebbins and Niccolls.

Nicoolis.

Dr. Nicoolis said the minority did not differ in principles from the majority. They were ready to have the case tried by the assembly. The committee divided upon the meaning of the word "appeal." If the majority report should be adopted the assembly would thereby have practically declared itself upon the case before the parties had been heard. Some time was co-cupied in straightening out the parliamentary situation. Finally the first resolution of the majority report was adopted.

Then a motion to pass the second resolution was offered. Mr. Cutcheon of Da. Then a motion to pass the second resolu-tion was offered. Mr. Cutcheou of De-troit, Mich., moved to strike out the lim-itation of time of debate on the restric-tion. Professor Briggs rose as if to ad-dress the assembly. A buzz of comment moderator engaged in an animated col-loquy upon his rights to be heard at that Professor Briggs yielded to Dr. Craig and resumed his seat. The moderator then said: "I would suggest in the interest of brotherly kindsuggest in the interest of brotherly kindness and peace"

"'Jay justice," exclaimed a voice from the gallery, which was said to be that of Professor Henry Preserved Smith of Cincinnati, who is under condemnation of the Cincinnati Preseytory for teaching similar to that of Professor Briggs.
"You wait," retorted Moderator Oraig sternly, "don't put words into my mouth! I speak for brotherly kindness and peace, which are higher than justice, for out of them come justice."

The moderator said Professor Briggs had just asked the privilege of speaking, but he had insisted that time. There would be a time when Professor Briggs should speak. The moderator then announced that the assembly would be turned into a judicial court of the Lord. He called for a reading of the judicial notice of sppeal, judicial court of the Lord. He called for a reading of the judicial notice of appeal, the appeal and the specifications of the errors alleged. This was done by the stated clerk, the reading occupying more than an hour and a half. The court then adjourned until to-morrow and the general assembly until 9 a. m. to-morrow.

SCORING THE CONSOLIDATED. The Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange Want Legislation Enacted

Bosron, May 23.-At a meeting of the Fruit and Produce Exchange this afteroon the following memorial was read: Whereas, At the recent investigation on the N. Y., N. H. & H. Co. before the rail the N. Y., N. H. & H. Co. before the rallroad committee before the general court it appeared that fruit and other perishable freight intended for delivery at Boston at the N. Y. & N. E. freight yards with their ample terminal facilities have been directed and delivered at the freight yards of the Providence division of the N. Y., N. H. & H. road, where the terminal facilities are entirely inefficient.

And, whereas, the inconvenience, cost and other annoyance to the commercial interests receiving said freight were made sented a number of bills. Among them were nine bearing on the case before the judicial committee (the Briggs case), and these were recommended to be sent to the committee.

The Rev. Charles Booth of New York protested against the obvious attempt to infinence the judicial committee, a sort of trial court, by pouring in upon it the overtures for and against the case which it was considering.

and other annoyance to the commercial interests receiving said freight were made so apparent at the said investigation that the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad then and there recognized the evil by offering to transfer such freight from its road at Readville to the New York and New England for delivery and, whereas, such an arrangement would be satisfactory to your petitioners, but they cannot learn that any steps have been taken to remedy the existing evil which, in a week with the rapid increase of freight business owing to summer business will become intolerable. And, whereas, the said company has in its report expressly found that the com-plaint of your petitioners is well founded plaint or your petitioners is well founded and in the interest of the public service the railroad company should remedy it. And, whereas, in a matter so gravely af-fecting the business interests of Boston your petitioners feel that the recognition of the justice of their complaint is entitled something more than a recommendate Suitable provision is made for exchange of old for new securities. A syndicate has subscribed $15,000,000 to underwrite the new issues. A large amount of money is to be spent in improving the properties. SUNDAY OPENING DISCUSSED.

It Is Probable That the Fair Gates Will be Open on That Day Unless the Board is Enjoined.

CHICAGO, May 23.—The national commission to-day took up the reports of the for all deposits over $100. judiolary committee on the Sunday ques tion. The minority report favored concurrence in the resolution adopted by the local directors revoking the rules forbidding the gates to be opened on Sunday The majority report opposed such action

nodifying the new rule, submitted by the

This decision raised a storm of protests from the opponents of a Sunday fair. The acting president was finally convinced that he had gone too far in deciding that the new rule submitted by the directory must stand. His decision as placed on the record with the approval of the Sunday openers was restricted to a mere statement that the committee had falled to modify the rule by a majority vote. This leaves the matter in the hands of the directory, but the general opinion among the committee is that the garsa will be opened Sunday unless that eral opinion among the committee is the gates will be opened Sunday unless judicial authorities enjoin the board. BAD FOREST FIRES in the Northern Part of the State. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 23.—The worst forest fire for many years has been raging in Staffordville and Union, Conn., for many hours, and still uncontrolled, is sweeping on toward South Willington, sweeping on toward South Willington, leaving a black and smoking waste.

A conservative estimate of the area already burned over is 800 acres, and before the progress of the fire can be stayed many acres more must succumb to the fire king.

The fire was first discovered on land owned by F. W. Pierson, near Stafford-ville, at about 9 o'clock Sunday evening. Unavailing efforts were made to stop the progress of the flames. Last night it was estimated that about 150 men were engaged in this work. All the plans known to woodsmen for cases of this kind, such as digging trenches and kindling back fires, have here there for have been resorted to, but have thus far

The loss is hard to estimate, but by thi fire it will probably be between $5,000 and $15,000 if stopped to day.

STARTLING FACT. Sixteen Per Cent. of Life Insurance Applicants Rejected on Account of Diseased Kidneys.

The Trouble Comes from Lack of Care.

Dr. Lambert, the general medical director of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, N. Y., says: "We reject sixteen per cent of the applica-tions made to us for insurance, and I have saved the entire expense of this medical department by the rejection sione of applicants who had dis-eased kidneys, and who died within two years after I rejected them."

This appalling statement, coming as it does from such high medical authority, should have the attention of our citizens. There is no reason to day why people There is no reason to day why people should allow kidney disease to get such a Nature sends her warning in the slight pain in the back, poor circulation of the blood, sediment in the urine. When any blood, sediment in the urine. When any of these symptoms appear, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy should be taken in small doses at once, and thus drive the poison out of the blood and restore the kidneys to healthy action.

To our knowledge this is the only medicine that surely and effectually cures this almost universal complaint. almost universal complaint.

We note the happy recovery of Mr. Os-car Lambert of Jerico, Mo., whose case has been talked of in the papers the world over. Quoting from his letter: "I neglected the first symptoms until I found myself in bed with a complicated disease of the kidneys. No mortal ever suffered more and lived. My physician failed to help me. I then used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. It relieved my kidneys almost immediately, and in a few weeks I was clear of all pain, and entirely cured. I owe my present lease of life to Favorite Remedy."

It is used and recommended for the some to the end of this pleasant way, and find ourselves at another end; the lower end of the "incline," so called.

It may be a very good incline for all we know, but we feel no inclination to ascend it, for it is set at an angle of sixty-five degrees and extends up the mountain.

It is used and recommended for what it accomplishes. Writes Mrs. A. J. F. Man-chester from Providence, R. I.: "I began using Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Rem-edy for kidney disease when doctors falled to re-lieve me. It drove a bad humor out of my blood, cured my kidney trouble, and I am truthful when I say it saved my life."

Wm. Huston, the popular West Shore railroad engineer, came out in an open let-ter stating how he had suffered with kidney disease. Physicians' treatment and the use of various preparations falled to benefit him Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was procured and it made him Favorite Remedy has had more free advertising in the columns of the daily pa-pers than anything we know of, from the fact that it does as is promised,—"cures

CLIMBING THE MOUNTAIN. Partial Description of the Electric Railroad Now Being Built Towards the Top of Wilson's Peak in South-

Regard to the Speed of Cars. PASADENA, Cal., May 13, 1893 .- Since our last unsuccessful attempt to ride on ourro to the top of Mount Wilson we have tried to be content with a lower altitude and have remained quietly at this place albeit at a good elevation above the ocean where we hope before long to voyage and to make a few discoveries.

But edged on and encouraged by one who should have perhaps have been more prudent, we finally concluded to once mor try for the upper regions; not, indeed, for the mountains of our former failure, but one considerably less eminent, one, in fact, of less than a mile in elevation, and one, too, which is provided with modern im-provements not common to most moun-

Warned by our previous unhappy expe rience we leave burros, either tinted or shaded, to those who wish for such inconwenient and dangerous modes of convey-ance, and proceed to make the journey or foot in the good old fashioned way. At first we found the trail not difficult being nothing more or less than the road bed of an electric railroad which is now in course of construction; a piece of engineering of easy grade, but of the mos amszing contours; this part we traverse with pleasure and wonder that mountain climbing should be considered at all tire-it, for it is set at an angle of sixty-five de-grees and extends up the mountain for an apparently interminable distance.

At the foot of this incline the first part of the electric road ends, and from here the cars must be hauled by a cable to the hotel new building about half way to the mountain top. And so we retrace our ste along the ties till we find a narrow for path turning off to one side and twisting itself up the heights. The less said about this part of our journey perhaps the better, and we almos sigh for the blue burro we had before However, every turn brings us higher, and extends the field of vision till we think that perhaps we may soon be able to view the state of Connecticut, and the good people therein. And here we fall in with the son of the famous John Brown of Ossawatto-mie, who lives somewhere in this vicinity, and are much pleased to hear from him that the rest of the trail is comparatively

But though it may be easy enough fo those who are accustomed to it, it is hard enough for us, and we are glad enough when the last zigzag is made and we are at the summit of Lowe's mountain, which is but a hill as compared with the surround-

There will be the great hotel, and here is the top of the incline; we can see its top all right and also about half way down it, but for the balance of it we must have faith, for because the lower half is steeper than upper half we can no more see it than one who stands upon the ridge of a house cof can see the side of the same house. We feel elated enough, little thinkin what is to befall us; here we are really a the top of a mountain; seeming success after most disastrous failure; and here lie the country (and climate) spread out befor us, land is plenty in every direction and there are groups of houses—or perhap beshives. If a real estate man should show up now and offer us a "snap" at two or three hundred dollars a front foot in yonder patch of brown we should be dis-posed to snap him down the apparentl-bottomless incline, and tell him before h started that we could easily help ourselve to such a slice as we wished for.

How much we are pleased with every thing, how the wind blows, how very fine the views. There is the Pscific cosan there we see the islands of said ocean, pre eumably covered with cocoanut trees and savage islanders; or perhaps one of them may be Robinson Crusce's island. Who nows! We decide at once that we will all towards them at the first opportunity, of which more anon.

And then we consider as to whether or not we shall climb to the greater elevations towards which the trail continues. We watch with great interest the ca coming up the incline, loaded with lumber for the hotel, and drawn up by mule power applied to windlass and cable. We power applied to windless and caols. We look with curosity at the train of burros with little kegs lashed to their backs, engaged in bringing water from the nearest spring, and at the electric engine being set in place and intended to supplant the mule

Then discovering all at once that the unis getting low in the west, and remembering that we promised to return in ocd season, we begin to think about But now the car of lumber has arrived t the top, is unloaded, and about to go own for more, it is easily let down by means of a powerful brake applied to the windlass; and we are assured that we can ride down if we choose. It is perfectly safe we are told, and much better than walking.

We don't like the idea of walking very much, for walking down a steep trait is nuch worse than walking up, if that can or rather is there any connecting link be-tween the top and the bottom? We have seen the bottom, and we have also seen the top, but the interval! Still there must be, for things come up from somewhere; so we decide to try it. We seat ourselves on the car, the mules are

For the first part we enjoy the ride; to be sure it is rather poky, and the cable which lengthens out behind us looks wonderfully thin but have a recommended. derfully thin, but have we not been as-sured of safety? So we try to feel happy and to think how much better it is than walking.

Then the speed begins to increase, faster, faster, we go, faster and swifter yet. We are already over the more gentle part of the incline and are at the steepest part; the rails do really reach to the bottom We can now see that they do, but what is beyond the last rail? is the landing soft, or the landing soft, or the landing soft will the brake check our speed is it hard? will the brake check our speed or will it not? Will the car stick to the rails or will it jump into the canon so far below us? We whiz by a workman who has quickly climbed an electric pole; another moment and we are at the end and deeply buried in a bank of send. J. F. B.

Attorney John C. Gallagher in behalf of his client, Mrs. Sylvia Ives of North Haven, has brought suit against William J. Pierpont and his wife, Alvia, both of North Haven, to recover $500, the amount of a note which the defendants gave the plaintiff July 5, 1889, and has long since been due. Deputy Sheriff L. A. Brockett served the papers, attaching two horses, wagon and harness, the property of Hattle M. Pierce of North Haven. Yesterday Attorney Louis Jacobs brought a replevin suit in behalf of Hattle M. Pierce against Mrs. Sylvia Ives claiming $1,000. Deputy Sheriff Sperry served the papers and recovered the property attached. Both suits are returnable to the court of common pleas the first Monday in June. THE SPREYER ESTATE.

Joseph S. Buck presented claims amounting to $1,098 36 for money loaned the deceased, and Mrs. Etizabeth Buck, the wife of Joseph G. Buck, presented claims amounting to $2,018 for board and lodging and services. These claims were opposed by Attorney Charles Bollmann, who appeared for Carrie Spreyer. The hearing was continued until to morrow.

THE SUPREME COURT TO BE INVOKED. The hearing on the application for the removal of H. Sydney Hayden of Windsor as trustee of the trust fund of $4,000 created by the will of Mary A. Townsend for the maintainance of a free bed at the Middletown insane asylum, which i is alleged he has not properly carried out, was to have come up by continuance in the probate court yesterday afternoos. At 2 o'clock the court was notified that a further hearing in the matter would be held in abeyance, as it was now intended to have the supreme court pass upon the construction of the will, and the hearing would not be pressed until the decision of the supreme court was secured.

THE POOL ROOM CASES.

Further Hearing Yesterday—The Evi-dence in and the Court's Decision to be Announced To-day. The pool room cases again come before Judge Cable in the city court for trial yesterday morning. Of the number who were arrested at the time of the raid only Lawrence Meyers, the manager, and Emil Hirsh were on hand when the cases were called. Judge Blydenburgh appeared for the pool room men, and Assistant Attorney Matthewman for the state.

There were six counts to the complaints, which covered a general ground. Mr. Blydenburgh asked that all the counts except the sixth in the complaint be stricken out, but Mr. Matthewman said that he proposed to stand on all the counts and the state had set out all that it intended to preve by the evidence. The court thought that the complaint was properly drawn and Myers and Hirsh both pleaded not guilty.

Sergeant McBride testified to a conversation that he had in the police headquarters when Myers was arrested, which indicated that he was the proprietor of the place.

Then Sergeant Cowles, Officer Edwin Burnham of Westville and Officers Murphy and Gilligan told what they saw in the and Gilligan told what they saw in the place on the afternoon of May 9, the day the room was raided by them, all of them giving evidence enough to show that gaming was in progress at the time they were there.

At the afternoon session Judge Blyden burgh and Assistant City Attorney Mat-thewman made their arguments. Mr. Matthewman presented the case from every point of view and made excellent arguments on every count of the charge Judge Blydenburgh dwelt on the technica points and presented many plausible arguments why his elients should not be found guilty. Judge Cable will announce his decision this morning.
